§ 5358. Refunding bonds issued.—In any case where the board of drainage commissioners of any drainage district have issued or may issue bonds for the purpose of constructing or completing the drainage works in such district, the payment of which at maturity would in the judgment of the board of drainage commissioners be an unreasonable burden on the owners of the lands in such district assessed for the payment of such bonds and interest, or if it shall appear for other good and substantial reasons that the welfare of the district and the owners of lands therein would be promoted thereby, the board of drainage commissioners shall have the power to refund such bonds, or any part thereof, and issue new bonds equal to the amount of bonds outstanding and unpaid, or any part thereof. The new or refunding bonds shall bear a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent, payable semiannually, and shall be divided into such annual installments not exceeding ten per cent and not less than five per cent of the outstanding bonds so refunded. The new assessments shall be levied and collected with which to pay the principal and interest on the bonds in the manner provided by law. The first installment of principal on the bonds so funded may be made payable at a certain date in the future not exceeding six years from the date of the refunding bonds, and in the meantime annual assessments shall be levied and collected for the payment of the interest. (1917, c. 152, s. 14.)

§ 5359. Drainage bonds received as deposits.— The state treasurer is authorized to receive drainage bonds issued by drainage districts in North Carolina as deposits from banks, insurance companies, and other corporations required by law to make deposits with the state treasurer: Provided, that the attorney general shall have approved the form of such bonds. (1917, c. 152, s. 7.)

§ 5360. Assessment rolls prepared. — The board of drainage commissioners shall immediately prepare the assessment rolls or drainage tax list, giving thereon the names of the owners of land in the district and a brief description of the several tracts of land assessed and the amount of assessment against each tract of land. The first of these assessment rolls shall be due and payable on the first Monday in September following the date of such bonds, and shall provide funds sufficient for the payment of interest on such bonds for one year. The second assessment roll shall make like provision for the payment of the interest for one year. Annual assessment rolls shall thereafter provide funds sufficient to meet the interest for one year on the issue of bonds outstanding. During the year previous to maturity of any annual installment due upon the principal of said bonds there shall be an assessment roll sufficient to provide funds for the payment of both the interest for one year and for the payment of the annual installment due upon the principal of the bonds. Such annual installments shall be made from year to year to provide funds to meet the interest for one year and the annual installment of the principal due upon the bonds outstanding, until the whole principal due upon the outstanding bonds and the interest thereon shall be fully paid. In making up such assessment rolls there shall be included ten per cent additional as provided in section five thousand three hundred and fifty-five. Each of the assessment rolls shall specify the time when collectible and be numbered in their order, and the amounts assessed against the several tracts of land shall be in accordance with the benefits received, as shown by the classification and ratio of assessments made by the viewers. These assessment rolls shall be signed by the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners and by the secretary of the board. There shall be four copies of each of the assessment rolls, one of which shall be filed with the drainage record, one shall be filed with the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners, who shall carefully preserve the same, one shall be preserved by the clerk of the court, without change or mutilation, for the purposes of reference or comparison, and one shall be delivered to the sheriff, or other county tax collector, after the clerk of the superior court has appended thereto an order directing the collection of such assessments, and the assessments, shall thereupon have the force and effect of a judgment as in the case of state and county taxes. If the drainage commission who has assessed the lands of a drainage district prior to March 11th, 1919, shall file the aforesaid four copies of assessment rolls within six months from April 1st, 1919, the filing of such assessment rolls shall have the same legal effect as if filed strictly in accordance with this section immediately after the preparation of such assessment rolls. The state having authorized the creation of drainage districts and having delegated thereto the power to levy a valid tax in furtherance of the public purposes thereof, it is hereby declared that drainage districts heretofore or hereafter organized under existing law or any subsequent amendments thereto are created for a public use and are political subdivisions of the state. (1911, c. 67, s. 12; 1917, c. 152, s. 9; 1919, c. 282, s. 1; 1921, c. 7; 1923, c. 217, s. 8.)

Editor's Note.—The following changes in this section were made by Public Laws 1923, ch. 217, sec. 8. The manner of preparing the assessment rolls, as formerly contained in the first part of this section, was changed and the drainage commissioners are to prepare assessment rolls, giving the names of the owners of the land, a description of the different tracts, and the amount assessed against each tract. The first assessment is to become due on the first Monday in September after the date of the bond issue, and shall provide funds sufficient for the payment of interest on the bonds for one year. The second assessment shall also provide for the payment of interest on the bonds for one year. Thereafter annual assessment shall provide a sufficient fund to meet interest on the bonds for one year; and during the year in which there is an installment of the principal of any bonds due, the assessment shall be sufficient to pay such installment and the interest accuring for that year. The commissioners shall also include in the assessment rolls the ten per cent additional tax above provided for. See 1 N. C. Law Rev. 288.

§ 5360(a). Application of amendatory provisions of certain sections; amendment or reformation of proceedings.—All the provisions of law amendatory of sections 5329, 5333, 5340, 5351, 5354, 5355, 5356 and 5360 shall apply to all drainage districts which shall hereafter be organized and also to all districts where proceedings for the organization thereof have been instituted and are now pending and where the bonds have not been actually issued, sold, and delivered to the purchaser thereof. If it shall be necessary to amend or reform any of the pleadings or orders made by the court or any action taken by the board of drainage commissioners in any drainage proceedings instituted and pending before March 6, 1923, full authority is granted to make any such amendments, to the end that the said drainage proceedings shall conform with the provisions hereof: Provided, that the law amendatory of said sections 5329, 5333, 5340, 5351, 5354, 5355, 5356 and 5360 shall not apply to the county of Hyde. (1923, c. 217, ss. 9. 10.)

§ 5361. Assessment lien; collection; sale of land.—The assessments shall constitute first and paramount lien, second only to state and county taxes, upon the lands assessed for the payment of the bonds and interest thereon as they become due, and shall be collected in the same manner and by the same officers as the state and county taxes are collected. The assessment shall be due and payable on the first Monday in September each year, and if the same shall not be paid in full by the thirty-first day of December following, it shall be the duty of the sheriff or tax collector to sell the lands so delinquent. The sale of lands for failure to pay such assessments shall be made at the courthouse door of the county in which the lands are situated, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and four o'clock in the afternoon of any date except Sunday or another legal holiday, which may be designated by the Board of Drainage Commissioners. After any such sale date has been designated by the Board of Drainage Commissioners, if for any necessary cause the sale cannot be made on that date, the sale may be continued from day to day for not exceeding four days, or the lands may be re-advertised and sold on any day which the Board of Drainage Commissioners may or shall designate during the same hours and without any order being obtained therefor during the same calendar year. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require any order from any court for any sale or resale held hereunder. The existing general tax law in force when sales are made for delinquent assessments shall have application in redeeming lands so sold, and in all other respects, except as to the time of sale of lands, the existing law as to the collection of state and county taxes shall apply to the collection of such drainage assessments. (1911, c. 67, s. 12; 1917, c. 152, s. 9; 1931, c. 273.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the third sentence of the former section and inserted in lieu thereof the third, fourth and fifth sentences above. The original section authorized the sale to be made on the first Monday in February in each year, and if for any cause the sale could not be made on that day, it might be continued from day to day for four days, or readvertised and sold on the first Monday in March, without any order therefor. See 9 N. C. Law Rev. 368.

The Act provides that this amendment shall have effect as if ratified prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine. It further provides that no sale of drainage lands held under the provisions of this section shall be void by reason of the fact that it may not have been held on the day specified in this section prior to this amendment.

Same—Amendment of 1923.—Public Local Laws 1923, c. 88, inapplicable to Franklin, Hyde, Nash and Wilson Counties, amended this section by adding at the end thereof the following:

"If the sheriff or tax collector fail to make sale of any lands on the first Monday in February or March in any year because of the lack of bidders or for any other reason, he may sell same upon the first Monday of any subsequent month in the same year or any succeeding year, after giving notice as required by law. No bid at any sale shall be received unless sufficient in amount to discharge all the drainage assessments and other charges due by the delinquent lands or owner thereof, together with all costs and expenses of sale. If no sufficient bid be received, the board of drainage commissioners of the district shall be deemed the purchaser in its corporate capacity at a sum sufficient to pay all assessments which are due and costs as above stated, and shall be entitled to receive a certificate of purchase and deed in the manner provided by law for purchasers at tax sales. The board of drainage commissioners shall only be required to pay to the sheriff the costs and expenses of sale before receiving a certificate of purchase. The board of drainage commissioners of the district in their corporate capacity shall be in like position and have the same rights and be subject to the same duties as the purchaser of lands at any tax sale under the general law The owner of said lands so sold or any person having an estate therein, or having a lien thereon, may redeem the same in the manner provided by sections eight thousand and thirty-eight (8038) and eight thousand and thirty-nine (8039), Consolidated Statutes, or any amendments thereof; and if the board of drainage commissioners shall have been the purchaser of said lands the amount paid in redemption shall include the sum bid therefor plus the penalty. The board of drainage commissioners shall pay to the sheriff or tax collector the amount representing their bid at the sale of said lands before they shall be entitled to receive a deed therefor, which the sheriff shall pay to the treasurer of the drainage district in the same manner as other funds received by him. The board of drainage commissioners, after acquiring a deed for said lands, may hold the same as an asset of the district and shall be liable for the payment of all drainage assessments and State and county taxes accruing after the sale at which the district was a bidder, and in all respects be deemed the owner of said lands and subject to the same privileges and liabilities as any other landowner, including the right to convey the said lands for a consideration and pay the proceeds of said sale to treasurer of the district, which may be distributed by the drainage commissioners for the benefit of the district in the same manner as other district funds. * * * Except as herein or otherwise modified or amended, the existing general tax law in force when sales of land are made for drainage assessments shall fully apply to the collection of drainage assessments and the sales of lands and in all other respects."

The Act further provided: "If any sheriff or tax collector failed for any reason to collect drainage assessments upon lands in any drainage districts due in one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, or any subsequent years, and further failed to make valid sales of the lands so delinquent in the payment of such assessments, then and in such event the existing sheriff or tax collector is hereby authorized and directed to proceed to collect such unpaid drainage assessments, with interest thereon from the dates when such assessments respectively became due, and in default of payment being made he is further authorized to make sales of such lands as may be in default at any time hereafter, at the times and in the manner authorized by law as amended herein; and the purchaser at said sales shall acquire title to such lands in the manner provided by law. If the sheriff or tax collector in office at the time such assessments were in default has since died or gone out of office, the powers herein given shall be exercised by the existing sheriff or tax collector."

A receiver cannot intervene, in a bank's action against the board, on the ground that he has the right, under this section to collect payments. See Board of Drainage Com'rs v. Lafayette Southside Bank, 27 Fed. (2d) 286.

Assessments Not a Lien Until Due.—The assessments upon lands in a drainage district, are a lien in rem on the lands of the owner, for the payment of the bonds issued by the district in accordance with the statute, the district being a geographical quasi-public corporation, and the benefits annually accruing to the advantage of successive owners, such assessments are due and payable at stated intervals but are not the personal obligation of the owner until they are due, nor, until they fall due, an encumbrance within the intent and meaning of a warranty in a deed. Pate v. Banks, 178 N. C. 139, 100 S. E. 251.

Same—Not a Debt of Owner.—"The lien of the charges for drainage is not a debt of the owner of the land therein, but is a charge solely upon the land and accrues, pari passu with the benefits as they shall accrue thereafter. They are not liens until they successfully fall due, and are presumed to be paid out of the increased productiveness and other benefits as they accrue from time to time." Pate v. Banks, 178 N. C. 139, 141, 100 S. E. 251.

Money from Assessments Is Like Public Money of County.—This and the following sections by its provisions for the collection of assessments within an established drainage district by the same officer and by the same method as State and county taxes are collected, the same to be turned into the county treasury, giving right of action by mandamus to holders of the bonds issued by the district against the district, or its officers, including the tax collector and treasurer, to compel the levy of special assessments upon default in payment of the principal and interest on the bonds, with liability on the bonds of the tax collector or treasurer upon default in the duty assigned to them, impress the moneys derived from the assessments whether the organized district be regarded as a public, quasi-public, or private corporation, as public money of the county, to be kept in the depository designated under the statute for such funds, although the funds in question are devoted to a particular or defined use. Comr's v. Lewis, 174 N. C. 528, 94 S. E. 8.

Due Process of Law Not Denied.—The statute under which a drainage district is formed does not deny the district due process of law by providing for the collection and security of the assessments as other county taxes are collected and kept, etc. Com'rs v. Lewis, 174 N. C. 528, 94 S. E. 8.

Assessments Prior to Mortgage. — The assessments on lands for a bond issue have a prior lien to a mortgage executed thereon prior to the formation of said district. Drainage Commissioners v. Eastern Home, etc., Ass'n, 165 N. C. 697, 703, 81 S. E. 947.

§ 5362. Assessment not collectible out of other property of delinquent.—Only the land assessed in the drainage proceeding shall be liable for drainage tax or assessment, and no other property of the landowner shall or may be sold for said drainage tax or assessment; Provided, that this section shall not apply to any drainage bond sold and delivered prior to the ratification hereof or to any litigation pending at the time of said ratification. (1919, c. 282, s. 2; 1927, c. 139.)

§ 5363. Sheriff in good faith for assessment not liable for irregularity.—The sheriff who executes upon property for the collection of drainage assessments under the provisions of this article shall not be liable either civilly or criminally if he shall sell such property in good faith, even though such sale is irregular or for any cause illegal. (1919, c. 282, s. 4.)

§ 5364. Receipt books prepared.—The clerk of the superior court in each county where one or more drainage districts have been established shall be required to have prepared annually during the month of August a form of receipt, with appropriate stubs attached and properly bound, for the drainage assessments due on each tract of land recited in the assessment rolls. This bound book of tax receipts or bills shall be indorsed "Drainage assessments of the (here give the name of the district) for the county of....., delivered to the sheriff or tax collector as of the first Monday in September, 19.., for collection as required by law," and the same indorsement shall be printed at the top of each tax bill or blank receipt. Each tax bill or blank receipt shall contain a blank space for the name of the owner of the property, the amount of the annual drainage tax, the amount of maintenance tax, if any, and a receipt at the bottom of the same, followed by a blank line for the signature of the tax collector. This bound book of tax bills or receipts, with the blanks duly filled in, shall be delivered to the sheriff or tax collector on the first Monday of September of each year. The necessary cost of printing and binding such book of tax bills or receipts and the filing in of the same shall be a proper charge against such drainage district and shall be paid by the board of drainage commissioners (1917, c. 152, s. 9; 1919, c. 208, s. 2.)

§ 5365. Receipt books where lands in two or more counties.—Where any drainage district which has been established contains lands located in a county or counties other than the county in which the district was established, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the district was established shall have prepared annually during the month of August a form of tax bills or receipts, with appropriate stubs attached, covering all the lands in the drainage district located in such other county or counties, and in the form herein provided for the county in which the district has been established, and have the same substantially bound in book form. He shall also fill in the blanks of such tax receipts ready for the signature of the collection. On a page in such bound book after the tax bills or receipts there shall be appended an order directed to the sheriff or tax collector in the county in which such lands are located, which shall be in substantially the following form: State of North Carolina—County of ..... The Sheriff or Tax Collector of ..... County: This is to certify that the foregoing tax bills or blank receipts embrace the drainage assessments made on certain lands in the county of ....., which are located in and are a part of (here insert the name of the drainage district), which district was established in the county of ..... These assessments are due on the first Monday of September, 19.., and must be paid and collected within the time required by law. You will make monthly settlements of your collections with the treasurer of ..... county, being the county in which the district was established, and in all other respects you will discharge your duties as sheriff or tax collector as required by law. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal, this .... day of ....., 19.....

Clerk Superior Court .....County.

Thereupon such drainage assessments in such county shall have the force and effect of a judgment upon the lands so assessed, as in the case of state and county taxes, and shall in all other respects be as valid assessments as those levied upon lands in the county in which the district was established. The auditor for drainage districts herein authorized shall also examine the records and accounts of the sheriff of such county. In the establishment and administration of the drainage districts the clerk of the superior court, the county treasurer, and the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners shall have jurisdiction over the lands and the collection of drainage assessments in the county or counties other than the county in which the district was established to the same extent as in the county where such district was established: Provided, that in those counties which do not have a county treasurer, then the auditor provided for in this subchapter shall perform the duties required by this section for the county treasurer. (1917, c. 152, s. 11.)

§ 5366. Authority to collect arrears.—If any sheriff or tax collector was authorized to collect drainage assessments in any year prior to 1917, and failed to collect any part of such drainage assessments, and is now out of office, or is still holding the office of sheriff or tax collector, then and in such event such sheriff or tax collector, regardless of the expiration of his term of office, is hereby authorized and directed to proceed to the collection of such unpaid drainage assessments, and in default of payment being made, he is further authorized to make sales of such lands as may be in default at the times and in the manner authorized by law during the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, or one thousand nine hundred and nineteen. (1917, c. 152, s. 9.)

§ 5367. Sheriff to make monthly settlements; penalty.—The sheriff or tax collector shall be required to make settlements with the county treasurer on the first day of each month of all collections of drainage assessments for the preceding month, and to pay over to the treasurer the money so collected, for which the treasurer shall execute an appropriate receipt, to the end that the treasurer may have funds in hand to meet the payments or interest and principal due upon the outstanding bonds as they mature. If any sheriff or tax collector shall fail to comply with the law for the collection of drainage assessments, or in making payments thereof to the treasurer as provided by law, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be subject to a fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and he shall likewise be liable in a civil action for all damages which may accrue either to the board of drainage commissioners or to the holder of the bonds, to either or both of whom a right of action is given. (1911, c. 67, s. 12; 1917, c. 152, s. 9.)

§ 5368. Duty of treasurer to make payment; penalty.—It shall be the duty of the county treasurer, and without any previous order from the board of drainage commissioners, to provide and pay the installments of interest at the time and place as evidenced by the coupons attached to the bonds, and also to pay the annual installments of the principal due on the bonds at the time and place as evidenced by the bonds. The county treasurer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject, upon conviction, to fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, if he shall wilfully fail to make prompt payments of the interest and principal of the bonds, and he shall likewise be liable in a civil action for the damages which may accrue either to the board of drainage commissioners or to the holders of such bonds, to either or both of whom a right of action is hereby given. (1911, c. 67, s. 12.)

Effect of Public Local Act for Robeson County.—Chapter 46, section 1, Public-Local Laws 1917, abolishes the office of County Treasurer of Robeson County and substitutes therefor as designated by the county commissioners, one or more solvent banks or trust companies located in the county of Robeson as a depositary and finanical agent for that county. with provision (sec. 3) that such bank or trust company shall perform the duties of treasurer in disbursement of the county funds; section 4, that the sheriff, as such, or ex officio treasurer, shall turn over all moneys of the county, from whatsoever source derived, whether belonging to the general county fund or otherwise, to the bank or trust company designated: Held, under these and the further pertinent provisions of the act, moneys derived from assessments of a drainage district, being county funds, should be deposited, as the statute directs, with the depository lawfully designated. Comr's v. Lewis, 174 N. C. 528, 94 S. E. 8.

§ 5369. Fees for collection.—The fee allowed the sheriff or tax collector for collecting the drainage tax as hereinbefore prescribed shall be two per cent of the amount collected, and the fee allowed the treasurer for disbursing the revenue obtained from the sale of drainage bonds shall be one per cent of the amount disbursed: Provided, that no fee shall be allowed the sheriff or tax collector or county treasurer for collecting or receiving the revenue obtained from the sale of the bonds hereinbefore provided for, nor for disbursing the revenue raised for paying off such bonds: Provided futher, that in those counties where the sheriff or tax collector and treasurer are on a salary basis, no fees whatever shall be allowed for collecting or disbursing the funds of the drainage district. (1911, c. 67, s. 13.)

Special Provision for Pitt County. — By force of Public Laws 1925, Ch. 271 the last proviso of this section does not apply to Pitt County. Ed. Note.

Construed with Other Sections.—The relevant sections of the various statutes upon the subject of the collection of assessments on lands in drainage districts by sheriffs and tax collectors and their compensation therefor, being in pari materia, should be construed together by the courts in ascertaining the legislative intent. Drainage Comr's v. Davis, 182 N. C. 140, 108 S. E. 506.

Sheriff's Compensation Restricted.—The bringing forward of sec. 13, ch. 67, Public Laws 1911, in this section, providing that 2 per cent shall be allowed sheriffs "for collecting the drainage assessments as hereinbefore prescribed," is a legislative construction of section 13 of the prior law, and was intended to restrict the compensation of the sheriff to 2 per cent of the amount of the assessments in drainage districts collected by him, and not to allow him a commission of 5 per cent as in case of taxes collected for general governmental purposes. Drainage Comr's v. Davis, 182 N. C. 140, 108 S. E. 506.

Compensation of Treasurer.—This section, dealing with the compensation to be allowed the county treasurer for disbursing the revenue obtained from the sale of bonds of drainage district, provides but one compensation for all services, i. e., 2 per cent of the revenue derived from the sale of the drainage bonds, and expressly denies compensation for certain other services mentioned, and if not, then under the doctrine of expressio unius excludio alterius the treasurer is not entitled to compensation by way of commissions on the moneys derived from assessments for maintenance. Drainage Com'rs v. Credle, 182 N. C. 442, 109 S. E. 88.

§ 5370. Conveyance of land; change in assessment roll; procedure.—Status of Land Fixed.—The boundaries of lands as surveyed and mapped, the ownership thereof, and the classification and assessment thereof as appears in the final report and map and upon the assessment roll, shall be and remain as of the time when the district was established and the final report of the board of viewers was approved by the court. No conveyance or devise of land devolution by inheritance after the petition has been filed or the owner thereof has been served with the original summons, either by personal service or by publication shall affect the status or liability of such land as a part of such drainage district, except as herein provided.

2. Conveyance before Final Report.—If the owner of any lands included in such district shall after the filing of the petition, and after being served with the original summons and before the approval of the final report, convey the whole or any part of such lands, or the title thereto shall be otherwise changed, then and in such event the grantor and grantee or new owner, or either, may file a petition in an ancillary proceeding before the clerk of the superior court setting forth the facts, with a description of the lands conveyed either in part or the entire body of land, together with a description of the land excepted and not conveyed. If the grantor or grantee or new owner in whole or in part, file such petition, the other not so joining shall be served with notice of same. The clerk may require the petitioner to attach to the petition a map showing the boundaries of the entire body of land as it appears in the record of the proceedings, and also showing the part conveyed. If the ownership of such land has been changed by devise or inheritance, or any joint ownership has been changed by partition, such new owner may file a petition as herein provided. Such petition shall conclude with a prayer that the grantee or new owner be made a party to the proceeding. The court after a hearing may make the grantee or new owner a party to the drainage proceeding and shall certify to the engineer and viewers a description of the land so conveyed or held by the new owner, with directions to verify the boundaries and to classify the land to the same extent as if the grantee was the original party. Any part of such lands not so conveyed shall be and remain a part of the district.

3. Conveyance after district established.—After the district shall be established, the lands classified, the final report approved, and the assessment roll filed, no conveyance of any land in the district shall effect or change the existing status or liability of such land as to assessment charges or otherwise, except in the manner herein defined. When the title and ownership of any tract of land embraced in the district have been changed or vested in others by grant, device, or inheritance, or by partition between joint owners, subsequent to the establishment of the district, the assessment roll may be amended in the following manner: The grantor and grantee, or the new owners, may file a petition with the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners alleging that the ownership of the land has changed, and the manner thereof, in whole or in part. If the whole body of land as appears in the final report or on the assessment roll has changed ownership, a general description consistent with such final report and map shall be sufficient. If the ownership of the body of land has changed only as to part thereof, the petition shall contain a description of the part thereof claimed by the new owners, and the number of acres and the classifications, or the several classes if it be in more than one class, and also a description of that part of the land the title to which remains in the original owner, with the number of acres and with the classification and the several classes if it contains more than one class of land. The petition shall so describe the land and the number of acres in each class as to that part of which the ownership has changed as to maintain the number of acres originally assessed, and the class or classes in which the same has been assessed, and the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners may require the petitioners to have the lands surveyed, and submit a map if the same shall be necessary.

4. Duty of chairman of drainage commissioners and clerk.—The chairman of the board of drainage commissioners shall present this petition to the clerk of the superior court at any time thereafter, not later than the first Monday in July following. It shall be the duty of the clerk to examine and verify the facts set forth in the petition, and particularly if the number of acres assessed and the classes thereof against the new owners added to the number of acres and the classes assessed against that part of the land, the title to which has not changed, shall equal the total number of acres and the classes so assessed as appear against such entire body of land in the final report and assessment roll. If the clerk shall be so satisfied, he shall enter an order or decree changing the original assessment roll, or the assessment roll as theretofore amended, by adding the name of the new owner with the number of acres assessed in each class, and by amending the number of acres assessed and the classes thereof against the original owner as appears on the original assessment roll or assessment roll as theretofore amended. It shall be the duty of the clerk after such order to make such changes in the assessment roll. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court in making changes in the original assessment roll from time to time to observe and maintain the total number of acres in each class, to the end that the revenue produced from the annual assessment shall not be thereby diminished. The chairman of the board of drainage commissioners, instead of presenting to the clerk of the court each petition of landowners separately, may combine a number of petitions and present the same to the court at one and the same time. The first Monday in July in each year is hereby set apart as a special day on which petitions for changing the assessment roll may be submitted, at which time the clerk shall hear all petitions not theretofore submitted.

5. Failure of chairman of board to act.—If the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners shall fail to act when any petition shall be submitted to him as herein provided, or the chairman or any member of the board shall fail to discharge any duty imposed by this section or any other provision of the general drainage law, it is hereby made the duty of the clerk of the superior court, either independently or upon the request of any landowner in the district, to cite such chairman or member to appear before him upon a certain day and show cause why he should not be removed from office, and unless good cause be shown, it shall be the duty of the clerk to remove the chairman or any member of the board of drainage commissioners and to certify his action, to the end that another member may be elected according to law. If the failure of the chairman or any member of the board of drainage commissioners to discharge such duty shall be wilful, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court.

6. When owner may file petition with clerk.—If the grantor and grantee, or all those claiming to have acquired title to any body of land on the assessment roll and whose assessment will be affected, cannot agree upon joinder in a petition to the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners, or if the said chairman fails within a reasonable time to discharge his duty by presenting the petition to the court, then either party interested in the tract of land as it appears on the assessment roll may file a petition with the clerk of the superior court setting forth the facts as to the change in ownership and title of such land, with the description of the entire tract of land and the number of acres in each class, together with a description of that part of the land as to which the ownership has changed, with the number of acres in each class, and pray the court to order that the assessment roll be amended in accordance with the title and interest of the several owners. At the time of filing the petition a summons shall issue to the other parties interested in the tract of land to show cause, on a day certain, why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. Upon the return day the clerk of the court shall hear all the evidence, find the facts, and enter up a judgment directing the appropriate amendment to the assessment roll. It shall be the duty of the clerk to amend the assessment roll in accordance with his judgment.

7. Effect of change in assessment roll.—No judgment or amendment of the assessment roll shall be valid unless the number of acres and the classes assessed against the original and new owners shall equal the area and classification as contained in the tract of land as it appears on the original assessment roll. This petition may be presented to the court at any time, but the first Monday in July in each year is hereby designated as the day upon which all petitions for amendments to the assessment roll may be submitted. Any amendments to the assessment roll ordered after the last day of August in each year shall not become effective until the first day of September the following year, and the assessment roll as it appears on the first day of September of each year shall constitute the assessment roll to be delivered to the sheriff on the first Monday in September, and he shall collect the drainage assessments as they appear thereon without regard to any changes in title or ownership or any changes in the assessment roll made by the court after thirty-first day of August. All amendments sought to be made to the assessment roll shall have reference to the assessment roll as it appears at the time the amendment is sought, which shall be either the original assessment roll or as amended; but it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court to examine frequently the assessment roll as amended, and before the same shall be further amended, and make certain that the aggregate number of acres in each class as appeared on the original assessment roll shall not be reduced, nor the aggregate annual assessments reduced. Any amendments ordered shall be made on the assessment roll and become due in the following September, and on all subsequent assessment rolls which have not become due or collectible.

8. Clerk to prepare new assessment rolls.—It shall be the duty of the chairman and the secretary of the board of drainage commissioners of the district to render to the clerk of the court any clerical assistance involved in changes in the assessment rolls, but the primary duty and responsibility in making such amendments shall remain with the clerk of the superior court, and he shall be held liable for any error or omission which may work a loss to the district or the bondholders. If such amendments to the assessment rolls shall make necessary the preparation of new assessment rolls, the clerk of the superior court shall be required to prepare such new assessment rolls with the clerical assistance of the chairman and secretary of the board of drainage commissioners, and such new assessment rolls shall be signed by the chairman and secretary of the board of drainage commissioners and by the clerk of the superior court before delivery to the sheriff or tax collector as required upon the original assessment rolls. The original assessment rolls shall be preserved by the clerk of the court among his records for future reference.

9. Number of copies.—In the event it shall be necessary to prepare new assessment rolls, the clerk shall prepare four copies, one copy for the drainage record, another for the sheriff or tax collector, another for the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners, and the other for filing and preserving among the records, and which fourth copy shall never be mutilated or interlined, but shall be preserved in its original form for reference. As to all drainage districts heretofore established, the clerk of the court shall prepare an additional copy of all the original assessment rolls for the several years the lands in such districts are assessed and securely preserve the same, at least until all outstanding bonds of the district shall be paid, to the end that they may always be accessible for reference and comparison. It shall not be necessary hereafter to deliver to the sheriff or tax collector a copy of the assessment roll for the current year in which assessments are due and payable, but the copy provided for him may remain among the records of the clerk of the court for safe keeping and reference by him.

10. Costs determined.—As compensation to the clerk of the court for the performance of duties imposed herein, he shall be paid such sum by the board of drainage commissioners of such drainage district as they may deem fair and adequate, and the same is hereby declared a proper charge against said district, but no additional compensation shall be paid to the clerk in those counties where he receives a salary in lieu of fees. Any costs which may accrue in amendments to the assessment rolls shall be adjudged against the parties in interest, in the discretion of the clerk, and such costs shall be paid before the amendment shall become effective. As to all petitions which shall be filed and submitted to the court on the first Monday in July, no costs shall be paid or adjudged against any party in those counties where the clerk and sheriff receive a salary in lieu of fees.

11. Chairman represents board.—As to all petitions filed with the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners, or as to the discharge of any duty by the chairman required of him under the general drainage law, he shall be presumed to act for the board, and the chairman shall do all things necessary to protect and maintain the interests of the drainage district. If the chairman shall be or become a landowner in the drainage district and may desire an amendment to the assessment rolls, he may file his petition before any other member of the board, or file the same directly with the clerk of the superior court.

12. Application of section.—The provisions of this section shall apply to landowners in districts heretofore established and to drainage proceedings heretofore instituted to the same extent as to drainage proceedings hereafter instituted and established. (1917, c. 152, s. 4; 1919, c. 208, s. 1.)

§ 5371. Warranty in deed runs to purchaser who pays assessment.—Where the land assessed by drainage commissioners under the provisions of this article has been purchased since the making of the assessment by a purchaser for value without notice under a deed of general warranty, and said purchaser pays to the sheriff the amount of said drainage assessment, which is a lien on the land purchased, then such purchaser who pays the said drainage assessment shall have a right of action against the warrantor of his title under the covenant of general warranty contained in his deed for the recovery of the amount paid. (1919, c. 282, s. 3.)

Section Does Not Refer to Future Assessments.—An assessment matured and due, under the decisions, would constitute "a lien on the land purchased," but this section does not refer to future assessments not due at the time the land was purchased. Branch v. Saunders, 195 N. C. 176, 179, 141 S. E. 583.

Consequently, liens on lands within a statutory drainage district for assessment charges for its maintenance and upkeep do not fall within a warranty or covenant against encumbrances contained in a deed until they are due and payable. Branch v. Saunders, 195 N. C. 176, 141 S. E. 583.

§ 5372. Modification of assessments.

1. Relevy.—Where the court has confirmed an assessment for the construction of any public levee, ditch, or drain, and such assessment has been modified by the court of superior jurisdiction, but for some unforseen cause it cannot be collected, the board of drainage commissioners shall have power to change or modify the assessment as originally confirmed to conform to the judgment of the superior court and to cover any deficit that may have been caused by the order of court or unforeseen occurrence. The relevy shall be made for the additional sum required, in the same ratio on the lands benefited as the original assessment was made.

2. Upon sale of land for assessments.—If any person, or any number of persons, claiming to have title to any tract or tracts of land subject to assessment or drainage tax shall fail to pay any annual assessment levied against such lands and the sheriff or tax collector shall be compelled to sell such lands under the law for the purpose of making such collection, the net proceeds of such sale shall be paid to the county treasurer, to be held by him and disbursed for the purpose of paying the current assessment and future annual assessments so far as the proceeds may be sufficient. When the fund in the custody of the treasurer shall be exhausted in the payments of annual assessments against such lands, or there shall not be a sufficient sum to pay the next annual assessment, the county treasurer shall immediately give written notice to that effect to the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners of the district, and also to the clerk of the superior court, whereupon the board of drainage commissioners shall institutue an investigation of such tracts of land to determine the market value, and if they shall find that the market value is not equal to all the future annual assessments to cover its share of installments of principal and interest on the outstanding bonds, they shall proceed, with the approval of the clerk of the superior court, to make new reassessment rolls on all the remaining lands in the district and increase the sum in sufficient sums to equal the deficit thereby created, and such new assessment rolls shall constitute the future assessment rolls until changed according to law, and shall be certified to the tax collector as herein provided in lieu of the former assessment rolls. However, the tract or tracts of land which have been so sold by the tax collector shall continue on the assessment roll in the name of the new owner, but reassessed upon the new basis, and the drainage tax collected at the same time and in the same manner as other lands as long as such lands may have sufficient market value out of which to collect the annual drainage tax, and when such lands shall cease to have such value, or shall be abandoned by the person claiming title thereto, the drainage commissioners may omit the same from the assessment roll with the approval of the clerk of the superior court, but such lands may in the same manner at any time in the future be restored to the assessment rolls.

3. Surplus funds.—If the funds in the hands of the county treasurer at any time arising under this section or in any other manner, shall be greater than is necessary to pay the annual installments of principal and interest, or the annual cost of maintenance of the drainage works, or both, such surplus shall be held by the county treasurer for future disbursement for other purposes as herein provided or subject to the order of the board of drainage commissioners.

Surplus Returned to Owners.—Where a drainage district of a county having assessed the property owners therein for improvements, and when having completed the same there is a surplus in the hands of the county treasurer, the board of drainage commissioners may, upon the exercise of a sound discretion, and in good faith, determine that the fund on hand is not necessary for further disbursements for the benefit of the district, according to the plan adopted, and distribute the same proportionately among those assessed in accordance with law, especially when such owners have thereto agreed. Foil v. Board, 192 N. C. 652, 135 S. E. 781.

Public Local Law Must Be Followed.—Where, under the provisions of statute, a drainage district may loan its money derived from its assessments until required for use in payment of the principal and interest on its bonds maturing serially for a period of 10 years, and the statute provides for a depository for these funds, the drainage commissioners may not contract with a different bank to deposit the funds there, in consideration of such bank buying at par a certain issue of such bonds that could not otherwise have been sold, except below par; nor could the transaction, contemplating a period of 10 years, be construed as a loan to the bank as authorized by the statute, and the transaction is void, regarded either as a deposit of the funds or a loan thereof. Public-Local Laws 1917, ch. 447, sec. 7. Comr's v. Lewis, 174 N. C. 528, 94 S. E. 8.

4. Insufficient funds.—If there shall be any impairment or destruction of the drainage works by any unforeseen cause or occurrence not anticipated, during the period of construction by the contractor, the contractor shall nevertheless repair and complete the works according to the contract and specifications and shall be liable therefor and also his sureties on his bond; but if the contractor shall make default and if there shall be a failure to collect all resulting damages from such contractor and the sureties upon his bond, and it shall thereby be necessary to raise a greater sum of money to complete the drainage works in accordance with the plans, or if for any other unavoidable cause it shall be necessary to raise a greater sum to complete such drainage works, the board of drainage commissioners, having first obtained the approval of the clerk of the superior court, shall prepare new assessment rolls upon all the lands in the district upon the original basis of classification of benefits and increase the same in sufficient sums to equal the deficit thereby created, and the same shall constitute the new assessment rolls until changed accordingly to law, and shall be certified to the tax collector as herein provided.

5. Additional bonds issued.—If for any of the causes hereinbefore recited in this section, or for any other cause, a sum of money greater than the proceeds of sale of the drainage bonds shall become necessary to complete the drainage system, and the board of drainage commissioners shall determine that the amount to be raised is greater than can be realized from the collection of one annual assessment upon the lands in the district without imposing an undue burden upon the lands, or if it is advisable or necessary to raise the money more expeditiously, then and under such conditions additional bonds may be issued in such aggregate sum as may be necessary.

6. Manner of issue.—The proceedings for the issue of such additional bonds shall be substantially as follow: The board of drainage commissioners shall file their petition with the clerk of the superior court, setting forth all the facts which require the expenditure of more money and the issue of additional bonds to complete the drainage system, which shall be accompanied by the recommendation of the drainage engineer who was one of the original viewers, or some other expert drainage engineer selected by the drainage commissioners; whereupon the court shall issue a notice to all the owners of land within the district reciting the substance of the petition and directing each to appear before the court on a day certain, not less than twenty days after the service upon all the parties, and to show cause, if any they have, why the additional bonds should not be authorized, which notice shall be served personally on each such landowner by reading the same, and by leaving a copy, and if the same cannot be personally served, then it shall be served in the manner authorized by law. Any landowner may file an answer denying any material allegation in the petition or setting forth any valid objection to the same before the return day thereof.

Upon the day when the notice is returnable, or on such day as to which the same may have been continued, the court shall proceed to hear the petition and answers. If the court shall find that the allegations of the petition are true, and that the issue of additional bonds is advisable or necessary, the court shall make an appropriate order authorizing and directing the issue of such additional bonds, fixing the amount of such issue, the date of same, the time when the interest and principal shall be payable, and all other matters necessary and appropriate in the premises. Any landowner may appeal from the order of the clerk of the superior court, and on such appeal only the issues raised in the answer shall be considered, and such appeal and the further procedure thereon shall be as prescribed in special proceedings, except as modified by this subchapter.

After the court shall have ordered the additional issue of bonds, the further procedure as to the assessment rolls, the levying and collecting of the drainage taxes, the disbursement of the revenue therefrom for the payment of such bonds and interest thereon, and all further procedure shall be the same as required for the establishment of drainage districts. The additional bonds issued shall not exceed twenty-five per cent of the total amount originally issued. The additional issue of bonds shall bear six per cent interest per annum and may be made payable in ten annual installments, or in lesser number of annual installments as nearly equal as may be, as recommended by the board of drainage commissioners and approved by the court. (1909, c. 442, s. 35; 1911, c. 67, s. 15.)

§ 5373. Subdistricts formed.—Subdistricts may be formed by owners of land in main districts theretofore established in the manner provided for the organization of main districts. Such subdistricts shall have the right to use the ditches or canals of the main districts for outlets. The formation of subdistricts shall not operate to release the lands in any subdistrict from the payment of any assessment or levy made prior to the formation of such subdistricts, nor from any assessment which may thereafter be made for the completion and maintenance of the canals in main districts, or for the payment of the principal and interest on any indebtedness incurred by the main district, nor shall it give the subdistrict any claim on the funds of such main district for its local use. It shall be the duty of the drainage commissioners of the main district to control all matters pertaining to the main district drainage. Drainage commissioners for the subdistricts shall have authority and control over all matters pertaining to drainage within their respective subdistricts, except such work as belongs exclusively to the main district. (1917, c. 152, s. 8.)

§ 5373(a). Bonds for improvement and maintenance; petition.—The board of drainage commissioners for any drainage district heretofore or that may hereafter be formed shall have the right to issue and sell bonds for the maintenance or improvement of their district, if, in the opinion of said board of drainage commissioners that it would be an unreasonable burden on any of the landowners of said district to levy an assessment as provided in section 5349 and amendments thereto, sufficient to do the necessary maintenance or improvement: Provided, that the board of drainage commissioners shall first petition to the clerk of superior court of the county in which their drainage district was formed, setting forth the facts that the canals in their districts are not sufficient to afford proper drainage, and that, in the opinion of the board, the said canals need to be recleaned, widened, deepened, or lengthened, or that additional canals should be cut in certain places, and that the said work will cost more than an average of one dollar ($1.00) per acre for all of the lands in the district, and to raise such an amount by levying one assessment would be an unreasonable burden on a part of the landowners of their district, and they ask the court to allow them to issue and sell bonds for a sufficient amount to do the work which is needed to be done. (1923, c. 231, s. 1.)

§ 5373(b). Viewers; appointment and report.—Immediately after the presentment of such a petition, the clerk shall appoint a board of viewers (of the same qualifications as is required when a drainage district is first formed) to view the said district over, and report to him (not later than twenty days from date appointed) whether or not any or all of the work asked for in the petition should be done, and whether or not the cost of the work which should be done would be an unreasonable burden on any of the landowners if collected by one assessment, or would it be better to allow a bond issue to cover the work. (1923, c. 231, s. 2.)

§ 5373(c). Disallowance of petition; order; reclassification of lands; map and profile.—If the board of viewers do not favor the bond issue it will be the duty of the clerk to not allow same, but the petition may be presented again any time after six months. If the board of viewers report that a bond issue is preferable, the clerk shall order the board of viewers to make a profile, the same as is required when a district is first formed, and if it is the opinion of the board of drainage commissioners that, on account of subdivisions, a new map of the district should accompany the profile, then the clerk shall order the board of viewers to make a new map of the district, showing the present landowners, and to reclassify all land which has been subdivided since the original map was made, which has not heretofore been reclassified. Said map and profile shall show the total acres in each class for each tract, whether it has been subdivided or not, to be the same as was shown on the original map before the lands were subdivided. It shall also be the duty of the board of viewers to change any line between two or more land-owners which can be proven to their satisfaction was not correctly shown on the original map, but the total acres of each class for the two or more tracts combined must be the same as when shown by the original classification. Said map and profile shall be filed with the clerk, together with an estimated cost of the work to be done; they shall be filed with the clerk in the same time and same manner as is required when a district is first formed. (1923, c. 231, s. 3.)

§ 5373(d). Redress to dissatisfied landowners.—Any one owning land which has been reclassified by the board of viewers who is dissatisfied with their classification shall have the same redress as has heretofore been provided where divisions of classification have been made by a petition to the clerk or otherwise. (1923, c. 231, s. 4.)

§ 5373(e). Increase to extinguish debt.—If in the opinion of the board of drainage commissioners it would help the sale of the maintenance or improvement bonds, or they would deem it necessary under the provision of section 5358, they may, with the approval of the clerk of the superior court, add to the amount estimated by the board of viewers a sufficient amount to pay off all outstanding obligations of the district, leaving this their only bond issue. (1923, c. 231, s. 5.)

§ 5373(f). Proceedings as for original bond issue.—The compensation of the board of viewers and their assistants, together with all other expenses in connection with this bond issue, shall be paid in the same manner, the duties and power of the clerk, and the duties and power of the board of drainage commissioners, the bonds shall be advertised and sold, divided into such annual installments, bear such a rate of interest, the landowners shall be given the same notices and the same rights to pay cash, the contract shall be let and supervised, and contractor paid the same, as if this was the original bond issue. (1923, c. 231, s. 6.)

§ 5373(g). No drainage assessments for original object may be levied on property when once paid in full.—Whenever any assessment has been made or may be made by any drainage district formed under the laws of the state of North Carolina upon any lands in said district, either for construction or maintenance of its system of drainage or for any other purpose, and the particular assessment made against any particular piece of property has been paid or shall be hereafter paid in full, then and in that event no other or further assessment may be made upon said land for the purpose of providing money for the purpose for which the original assessment was made. The provisions of the section shall not apply to Mecklenburg county. (1933, c. 504, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1935, chapter 469, section 5, re-enacted this section without change. As to another provision as to reassessments, see § 5373(5).

This section is held not to affect the liability of lands within a drainage district for additional assessments necessary to pay a judgment against the district, rendered prior to the effective date of this section, for improvements theretofore made by the district. Virginia-Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank v. Watt, 207 N. C. 577, 178 S. E. 228.

Art. 8A. Adjustment of Delinquent Assessments

§ 5373(1). Adjustment by board of commissioners authorized.—The board of commissioners of any drainage district may, in connection with the issuance of bonds for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds of the district, and in addition to preparing a new assessment roll, for the payment of principal and interest of such refunding bonds, and when the bonds so refunded constitute all of the bonds of the district for which an assessment has been made against property therein, adjust the uncollected delinquent installments of the assessment made upon property in the district, for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds so refunded and for other purposes authorized by law before said bonds were refunded. The adjustment of such delinquent assessments may include reduction of the principal amount of the delinquent installments, not exceeding fifty per centum thereof, to which reduced installments shall be added interest computed thereon, at a rate not less than the rate of interest of the refunding bonds, from the date of delinquency of said installments to the date of the refunding bonds, and shall include any costs legally incurred for the collection of the same; the date of delinquency shall be deemed to be the first day of December following the date upon which each of said installments became due: Provided, however, all delinquent installments of such assessment shall be adjusted on the same basis and by the same method. (1935, c. 469, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Section 4(a) of chapter 469, Public Laws of 1935, provides for an audit of the affairs of drainage district number two, Pitt county.

of all delinquent installments so adjusted may be extended over a period not exceeding the life of the issue of refunding bonds, but in no event over a period exceeding twenty years. Such extension shall be made by the preparation of assessment rolls, which shall provide for the payment of installments so adjusted in equal annual installments which shall become due annually on September first, in accordance with the original assessment, and shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum from December first following their due date until paid. Such assessment rolls shall be prepared and filed with the sheriff and the clerk of superior court and receipts shall be prepared and the same shall be collected in the same manner as other assessments of the district. (1935, c. 469, s. 2.)

§ 5373(3). Special fund set up; distribution of collections. — The collection of assessments adjusted under this article and of interest accrued under section 5373(2) shall be set aside in a fund and shall be applied as follows: one-third of such collections may be used solely for operating and administrative expenses of the district, but the remaining two-thirds thereof shall be reserved as additional security for the payment of the refunding bonds, or for the purchase and retirement of such refunding bonds, at prices not exceeding par and accrued interest. (1935, c. 469, s. 3.)

§ 5373(4). Approval of adjustments by local government commission.—Any adjustments of delinquent assessments under the provisions of this article shall be effective only upon approval of the local government commission. (1935, c. 469, s. 4.)

§ 5373(5). Amount of assessments limited; reassessments regulated. — The assessments made under this article shall in no instance, and against no piece of property, be greater in amount than that per cent which the per cent assessment authorized by this article bears to the unpaid original assessment upon each piece or tract of property within the district. In no instance, either under this article or any other law, shall any reassessment be made upon any piece of property for the purpose of providing money for the same purpose for which the original assessment was made, when the original assessment upon said property has been paid, or shall be paid prior to such general reassessment, nor to the extent that the original assessment has been paid. (1935, c. 469, s. 4(b).)

Art. 9. Report of Officers

§ 5374. Drainage commissioners to make monthly statement.—It shall be the duty of the commissioners of all drainage districts in the state of North Carolina organized under the provisions of the laws thereof to file with the clerk of the superior court in the county where such district is organized a monthly statement or account during the course of construction of canals for the district, showing the receipts and expenditures of all funds coming into their hands belonging to such drainage district for the period of one month prior to the day on which the same is filed, and also to post a copy of such statement or account at the courthouse door in the county. Thereafter all statements or accounts shall be filed and posted every sixty days. Such statement or account shall be certified by the chairman of the board of commissioners of each drainage district and shall be attested by the secretary thereof, and a copy thereof to be filed and kept as a part of the minutes of the district: Provided, that if the construction of the canal or canals has been concluded and the drainage commissioners have only to maintain the canals, said board of drainage commissioners need not file and post statements of accounts every sixty days, but only the annual report required in section five thousand three hundred and seventy-five shall be required of them. (1917, c. 72, s. 1; 1927, c. 98, s. 6.)

As to this section not applying in case of special local act, see note under section 5381.

Editor's Note.—The proviso at the end of the section was added by Public Laws 1927, ch. 98, sec. 6.

§ 5375. Annual report.—At the end of each fiscal year the board of commissioners of all drainage districts in the state of North Carolina shall file with the clerk of the superior court in the county where the district is organized a verified itemized statement of receipts and expenditures of all funds belonging to the district during the fiscal year just closed, and shall post a copy of same at the courthouse door in the county where the district is organized, and, if there be a newspaper published in the county, shall publish such account therein. (1917, c. 72, s. 2.)

As to this section not applying in case of special local act see note under section 5381.

§ 5376. Penalty for failure.—Any board of commissioners of any drainage district in the state, and each of the members thereof, which shall fail or refuse to file the statements or accounts, and shall fail to post or publish the same as provided in the two preceding sections, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 72, s. 3.)

§ 5377. Auditor appointed. — The board of county commissioners of each county in which one or more drainage districts have been established shall, annually, on the first Monday in May, appoint one of the members of the finance committee of the county, if the county has such finance committee, who shall be designated "Auditor for Drainage District;" but if the county has no finance committee, then the board of county commissioners shall appoint an intelligent and competent person of sufficient experience who shall be designated as the "Auditor for Drainage District." Such auditor shall receive such compensation as shall be agreed upon by the board of county commissioners, to be paid out of the general fund of said district, but not to exceed fifty dollars annually. (1917, c. 152, s. 10; 1919, c. 208, s. 3.)

§ 5378. Duties of the auditor.—The auditor for the drainage district will be required to examine the assessment roll and the records and accounts of the sheriff or tax collector as to the assessment roll which went into his hands on the previous first Monday in September and for all previous years as to which the records and accounts of the sheriff or tax collector have not been audited.

The auditor shall for each of such years make a report as to each drainage district, showing the total amount of drainage assessments due for each year, the amount collected by the sheriff up to the fifteenth day of May of the following year, the names of the owners of land, and a brief description of the lands on which the drainage assessments have not been paid, and the total amount of unpaid drainage assessments, with any further data or information which the auditor may regard as pertinent.

If lands in the district lie in other counties, the auditor for the county in which the district was established shall also examine the records of the sheriff or tax collector for such other counties.

The auditor shall also examine the books of the treasurer of the county for similar years, and he shall report the amount of drainage assessments paid out to the treasurer by the sheriff or tax collector for each year, and the amounts paid out by the treasurer during such years, and for what purposes paid. It shall be the duty of the sheriff and treasurer to permit the auditor to examine their official books and records and to furnish all necessary information, and to assist the auditor in the discharge of his duties.

The auditor shall make a report to the board of county commissioners on or before the first Monday in July following his appointment, and he shall deliver a duplicate of such report to the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners of each drainage district established in the county.

If the sheriff has not collected all of the drainage assessments, or has not paid over all collections to the county treasurer, or if the treasurer has not made disbursements of the drainage funds as required by law, or has not in his hands the funds not so disbursed by him, it shall be the duty of the auditor to so report, and to prepare two certified copies of his report, one of which shall be delivered to the judge holding a term of superior court in the county following the first Monday in July, and a copy to the solicitor of the judicial district in which the county is located, and it shall be the duty of such solicitor to examine carefully such report and to institute such action, civil or criminal, against the sheriff or tax collector or the treasurer, as the facts contained in the report may justify, or as may be required by law. (1917, c. 152, s. 10.)

Art. 10. General Provisions

§ 5379. Construction of drainage law. — The provisions of this subchapter shall be liberally construed to promote the leveeing, ditching, draining, and reclamation of wet and overflowed lands. The collection of the assessment shall not be defeated, where the proper notices have been given, by reason of any defect in the proceedings occurring prior to the order of the court confirming the final report of the viewers; but such order or orders shall be conclusive and final that all prior proceedings were regular and according to law, unless they were appealed from. If on appeal the court shall deem it just and proper to release any person or to modify his assessment or liability, it shall in no manner affect the rights and legality of any person other than the appellant, and the failure to appeal from the order of the court within the time specified shall be a waiver of any illegality in the proceedings, and the remedies provided for in this subchapter shall exclude all other remedies. (1909, c. 442, s. 37.)

Liberal Construction of Chapter.—The drainage laws apply to the whole State, and by the express provision of this section they should be liberally construed to promote the leveeing, ditching, draining, and reclamation of wet and overflowed lands. Board v. Brett Engineering Co., 165 N. C. 37, 80 S. E. 897.

A Necessary Provision.—This provision that the collection of assessments shall not be defeated, etc., is absolutely necessary if the public are to be protected in their purchase of the bonds put upon the market. It is to be presumed that when the Court has rendered such final judgment and the bonds are issued there will be no interference with the collection of the assessments to pay the bondholders, but that all controversies were thrashed out and settled before such final judgment. Banks v. Lane, 171 N. C. 505, 506, 88 S. E. 754.

Formation of District Not Subject to Collateral Attack.—Board of Drainage Com'rs v. Lafayette Southside Bank, 27 Fed. (2d) 286.

§ 5380. Removal of officers. — Any engineer, viewer, superintendent of construction or other person appointed under this act may be removed by the court, upon petition, for corruption, negligence of duties, or other good and satisfactory cause shown. (1909, c. 442, s. 38.)

§ 5381. Local drainage laws not affected. — This subchapter shall not repeal or change any local drainage laws already enacted. (1909, c. 442, s. 38½.)

Special Local Act Not Affected.—Where a special local statute for the formation and operation of a drainage district is complete in itself in all its details, a general law expressing itself applicable to all such drainage districts in the State, adding further duties and making the failure of the commissioners to file certain reports an indictable offense, sections 5374, 5375, will not be construed to apply unless special reference is made to the special local act. State v. Gettys, 181 N. C. 580, 107 S. E. 307.

§ 5382. Punishment for violating law as to drainage districts.—If any person shall violate any of the provisions of law in reference to drainage districts as provided in this chapter, or shall leave any log, brush, trash, or other thing where it is liable to wash into an adjacent stream and obstruct the flow of water or cut any tree so as to fall in a stream, or place any other obstruction in a stream in a drainage district, he shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (Rev., s. 3378; 1905, c. 541, ss. 7, 9.)

CHAPTER 95

EDUCATION

SUBCHAPTER I. THE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

Art. 1. Interpretations

§ 5383. A general and uniform system of schools.—A general and uniform system of public schools shall be provided throughout the state, wherein tuition shall be free of charge to all children of the state between the ages of six and twenty-one years. The length of term of each school shall not be less than six months or one hundred and twenty days, and every man or woman twenty-one years of age or over who has not completed a standard high school course of study, or who desires to study the vocational subjects taught in said school, shall be given equal privileges with every other student in school. (1923, c. 136, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—As the school law was changed by Public Laws 1923 many of the cases prior to that time are made inapplicable to the law as it now is, but some of these prior cases construe the parts of the law that have not been changed, or when changed to such an extent only as not to make inapplicable prior cases. Where such cases were thought to be of help in construing the law they have been annotated hereunder, but cases decided prior to 1923 should be cited with caution and noted carefully as they are not always direct constructions but are included here as a means of aiding in construction only.

The statute, chapter 136, Laws of 1923, is a codification with certain modifications or changes of the then existing school laws of the State upon a county-wide plan of organization designing to make them more harmonious and efficient under a workable system for the counties adopting it. Blue v. Board, 187 N. C. 431, 122 S. E. 19.

For a discussion of the changes made in the school law in 1923 and a resume of the present law, see 1 N. C. Law Rev. 306.

As to act to make effective the constitutional provision for six months school term, see Public Laws 1931, c. 430.

Cited in Cox v. Albemarle Drainage District, 195 N. C. 264, 265, 141 S. E. 885.

§ 5384. Separation of races.—The children of the white race and the children of the colored race shall be taught in separate public schools, but there shall be no discrimination in favor of or to the prejudice of either race. All white children shall be taught in the public schools provided for the white race, and all colored children shall be taught in the public schools provided for the colored race; but no child with negro blood, or what is generally known as Croatan Indian blood, in his veins, shall attend a school for the white race, and no such child shall be considered a white child. The descendants of the Croatan Indians, now living in Robeson, Sampson, and Richmond counties, shall have separate schools for their children. (1923, c. 136, s. 1.)

As to constitutional provision against discrimination, see Art. IX, sec. 2, for further provision for separation, see sec. 5445.

Constitutional.—This section is constitutional and valid. Art. XIV, sec. 8, of the Constitution, relating to marriages between the races, has no application. Johnson v. Board, 166 N. C. 468, 82 S. E. 832.

Croatan Indians.—The Legislature is not prohibited by the Constitution from providing separate schools for Croatan Indians, and an act providing for such schools is valid. See McMillan v. School Committee, 107 N. C. 609, 12 S. E. 330.

The provision in regard to Croatan Indians does not embrace only those residing in Robeson, Sampson and Richmond counties, but Croatan Indians who puts themselves within the limits of the schools, although they may come from other territory. See Goins v. Trustees Indian Training School, 169 N. C. 736, 86 S. E. 629.

But children of negro blood are not entitled to admission into the schools provided for Croatan Indians. See McMillan v. School Committee, 107 N. C. 609, 12 S. E. 330.

Cited in Medlin v. County Board, 167 N. C. 239, 83 S. E. 483.

§ 5385. Schools provided for both races; taxes.—When the school officials are providing schools for one race it shall be a misdemeanor for the officials to fail to provide schools for the other races, and it shall be illegal to levy taxes on the property and polls of one race for schools in a district without levying it on all property and polls for all races within said district. (1923, c. 136, s. 1.)

See note to preceding section.

§ 5386. The school system defined. — The school system of each county shall consist of eleven years or grades, and shall be graded on the basis of a school year of not less than one hundred and sixty days. The first seven years or grades shall be styled the elementary school, and the last four years or grades shall be styled the high school: Provided, the system, for convenience in administration, may be divided into three parts, the elementary school, consisting of the first five or six grades, and a junior and senior high school, embracing the last six or five grades, if better educational advantages may be supplied. (1923, c. 136, s. 2.)

§ 5387. The term "district" defined. — The term "district" as used in law is hereby defined to mean any convenient territorial division or subdivision of a county, created for the purpose of maintaining within its boundaries one or more public schools. It may include an incorporated town or city, or a township, or a part of a township. There shall be five different types or kinds of districts: (1) The non-local tax district, that is, one territorial unit of the county system under the control of the county board of education, but having no special local tax funds for supplementing the general county funds; (2) the local tax district, that is, one territorial unit of the county system under the control of the county board of education, but having in addition to the general county funds a special local tax fund voted by the people, for supplementing the general county fund; (3) the special charter district, that is, a district chartered by the general assembly, the control of which is placed in the hands of a board of trustees or school commissioners whose duties are defined by the general assembly, or a territorial unit whose boundary lines may be coterminous with the boundary lines of an incorporated town or city, but without a special charter, the city charter having authorized the city to maintain a system of schools, and the government of the schools having been delegated to a special board; (4) special school taxing district, that is, a territorial division of a county embracing more than one school district in which special taxes for schools may be voted; and (5) special high school district, that is, a special district, embracing two or more school districts and created for the purpose of giving high school advantages to the children completing the elementary schools in the several districts which compose the special high school district. (1923, c. 136, s. 3.)

Cited in Plott v. Board, 187 N. C. 125, 133, 121 S. E. 190.

§ 5388. Schools classified and defined.—The different types of public schools are classified and defined as follows: (1) A city school system, that is, a system maintained for one hundred and eighty days and employing not less than thirty teachers, and one whole-time superintendent. It shall contain a school system of eleven years, including a standard four-year high school, employing not less than five teachers; (2) A union school, that is, a system maintained for at least one hundred and sixty days, and embracing an elementary school of seven grades, and a high school department containing not less than twenty pupils in average daily attendance; and (3) An elementary school, that is, a district school that embraces a part or all of the seven elementary grades, but without sufficient high school pupils or length of term to become a union school. (1923, c. 136, s. 4.)

§ 5389. Official defined.—The governing board of the county school system shall be styled "The County Board of Education." The governing board of a local-tax district and also of a non-local tax district shall be styled "The District Committee," The name, "The Board of Trustees," as it appears in law, refers to all other governing bodies of special charter districts. And whenever any other name is used in a statute to designate the governing body of a special charter district, the name, "The Board of Trustees," is hereby declared to be its equivalent.

The executive officer of a county system elected by the county board of education, the executive officer of a city school system elected by a board of trustees, and the executive officer of a union school in a special charter district employing as many as twenty teachers, shall be styled "Superintendent." The executive head of all other union schools and of all elementary schools having four or more teachers shall be styled "Principal." (1923, c. 136, s. 5.)

§ 5390. School day and school month defined.—A school day is defined to mean the number of hours each day the public schools are conducted and the time teachers are employed to instruct pupils or to supervise their activities. A school month shall consist of not less than twenty school days. (1923, c. 136, s. 6.)

§ 5391. Part-time classes defined.—The term "part-time classes" is defined to mean the period provided for those pupils who may be able to attend school for only one or more recitations or exercises daily. (1923, c. 136, s. 7.)

§ 5392. A standard high school defined.—A standard high school is defined as a high school that presents the following minimum requirements: A school term of not less than one hundred and sixty days; four years or grades of work beyond the seventh elementary grade; three teachers holding required certificates; not less than forty-five pupils in average daily attendance, a program of studies approved by the state superintendent of public instruction, and such equipment as may be deemed necessary by the state superintendent of public instruction to make the instruction beneficial to pupils: Provided, however, that in schools maintaining a nine months' term, meeting all other requirements, and offering superior instructions, fewer than forty-five pupils in average daily attendance may be considered. (1923, c. 136, s. 8; 1927, c. 40.)

§ 5393. Public school funds defined.—All revenues of the state for the maintenance and support of the public school system of the state shall be divided into three funds, as follows:

(a) The state literary fund—or all funds of the state heretofore derived from the sources enumerated in section four, Article IX of the state constitution, and all funds that may be hereafter so derived, together with any interest that may accrue thereon, shall be a fund separate and distinct from the other funds of the state, to be known as the state literary fund, and shall be loaned by the state board of education to county boards of education, in accordance with law, for the purpose of aiding in the erection and equipment of schoolhouses,

(b) The special building fund—or all funds derived from the sale of state bonds authorized by the general assembly to be sold and loaned by the state board of education to county boards of education for the special purpose of aiding in the erection and equipment of schoolhouses, and designated by the general assembly as a special building fund.

(c) The state public school fund—or all other state funds derived from all other sources in accordance with law, and deposited in the state treasury for the support and maintenance of the public school system and all forfeitures, fines and penalties imposed by the state board of education for the failure of any company or corporation to keep any contract entered into between the state board of education and said company. (1923, c. 136, s. 9.)

SUBCHAPTER II. ADMINISTRATIVE ORGANIZATION

Art. 2. The State Board of Education

§ 5394. Incorporation and general corporate powers.—The governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, superintendent of public instruction, and attorney-general shall constitute the state board of education, and by the name, the state board of education, are created a corporation, with the right to sue and be sued, to have a common seal, to take, hold, and dispose of property, to make contracts and by-laws; and it is vested with all other powers conferred on corporations under the chapter on corporations, so far as such powers are necessary or convenient to the attainment of the object of the board or to the performance of its duties. (C. S., 5384.) (Const., Art. IX, ss. 8, 9, 10; Rev. s., 4030; Code, s. 2503; 1881, c. 200; 1903, c. 567, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1931, c. 437, provides for the standardization of transportation systems for school children and the economical operation of the same.

Applied in Granville County Board v. State Board, 106 N. C. 82, 10 S. E. 1002.

Cited in Board of Education v. Walter, 198 N. C. 325, 328, 151 S. E. 718.

§ 5394 (a). Power to purchase certain lands.—The State Board of Education is authorized to purchase, at public sale, any land or lands upon which it has a mortgage or deed of trust securing the purchase price, or any part thereof, and when any land so sold and purchased by the said Board of Education is a part of a drainage district already constituted, upon which said assessments have been levied for the maintenance thereof, such assessments shall be paid by the said State Board of Education, as if said land had been purchased or owned by an individual. (1924, c. 24.)

§ 5394 (b). Power to adjust debts for purchase price of lands sold.—The State Board of Education is hereby authorized and empowered to settle, compromise or otherwise adjust any indebtedness due it upon the purchase price of any land or property sold by it, or to cancel and surrender the notes, mortgages, trust, deeds or other evidence of indebtedness without payment, when, in the discretion of the said board, it appears that it is proper to do so. Said Board of Education is further authorized and empowered to sell or otherwise dispose of any such notes, mortgages, trust deeds, or other evidence of indebtedness. (1925, c. 220.)

§ 5395. Succeeds to "President and directors of literary fund of North Carolina."—The state board of education shall succeed to all the powers and trusts of the "President and directors of the literary fund of North Carolina," and shall have full power to legislate and make all needful rules and regulations for the government of the public schools and for the management of the state educational fund; but all such acts, rules, and regulations of the board may be altered, amended, or repealed by the general assembly, and when so altered, amended, or repealed shall not be reënacted by the board, and the board shall succeed to and have all the property, powers, rights, privileges, and advantages which in any wise belonged or appertained to the "President and directors of the literary fund in North Carolina," and may, in its own name, assert, use apply, and enforce the same. (C. S. 5385.) (Const., Art. IX, 10; Rev., s. 4033; Code, s. 2506; 1881, c. 200, s. 4; R. C., c. 66; R. S., cc. 66, 67.)

§ 5396. Officers; quorum; meetings; expenses.—Of the board, the govenor shall be president, the superintendent of public instruction shall be secretary, and the treasurer of the state shall be treasurer. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board shall hold its meetings in the executive office, and shall meet at such times as a majority of the members shall appoint; but the govenor may call a meeting at any time. The contingent expenses of the board shall be provided for by the general assembly. (C. S. 5387.) (Const., Art. IX, ss. 9, 12, 13; Rev., s. 4031; Code, s. 2504; 1881, c. 200, s. 2.)

§ 5397. Record of proceedings.—All the proceedings of the board shall be recorded in a well-bound and suitable book, which shall be kept in the office of the superintendent of public instruction. (C. S. 5387.) (Rev., s. 4032; Code, s. 2505; 1881, c. 200, s. 3.)

§ 5398. Reports to general assembly.—The state board of education shall report to the general assembly the manner in which the state literary fund has been applied or invested, with such recommendations for the improvement of the same as to it shall seem expedient. (C. S. 5388.) (Rev., s. 4034; Code, s. 2507; R. C., c. 66, s. 4; 1825, c. 1268, s. 2; 1903, c. 567, s. 1.)

§ 5399. Investments.—The state board of education is authorized to invest in North Carolina four per cent bonds or in other safe interest-bearing securities, the interest on which shall be used as may be directed from time to time by the general assembly for school purposes. (C. S. 5389.) (Rev., s. 4035; 1891, c. 369.)

§ 5400. State treasurer keeps accounts of, and reports to general assembly.—The state treasurer shall keep a fair and regular account of all the receipts and disbursements of the state literary fund, and shall report the same to the general assembly at the same time when he makes his biennial account of the ordinary revenue. (C. S. 5390.) (Rev., s. 4034; Code, s. 2507; R. C., c. 66, s. 4; 1825, c. 1268, s. 2; 1903, c. 567, s. 1.)

§ 5401. Acceptance of federal aid for physical education.—The state board of education is authorized to accept any federal funds that may be appropriated now or hereafter by the federal government for the encouragement of physical education and to make all needful rules and regulations for promoting physical education. (1921, c. 146, s. 14.)

Art. 3. State Superintendent of Public Instruction

§ 5402. Office at capital; copies of papers therein.—The superintendent of public instruction shall keep his office at the seat of government. Copies of his acts and decisions and of all papers kept in his office and authenticated by his signature and official seal shall be of the same force and validity as the original. He shall be furnished with such offices, heat, and stationery as shall be necessary for the efficient discharge of the duties of his office. (C. S. 5391.) (Rev., s. 4089; 1900, c. 525.)

§ 5403. Powers and duties.—The state superintendent of public instruction is empowered and it shall be his duty:

1. Looks after Schools, Reports to Governor.—To look after the school interests of the state, and to report biennially to the governor at least five days previous to each regular session of the general assembly. His report shall give information and statistics of the public schools, and recommend such changes in the school law as shall occur to him.

2. Directs Schools, Enforces and Construes School Law. — To direct the operations of the public schools and enforce the laws and regulations in relation thereto.

3. Receives Evidence as to County Superintendent's Performance of Duties. — To receive evidence as to unfitness or negligence of the county superintendent, and when necessary to report it to the county board of education for action.

4. Sends Circular Letter to School Officers.—To send to each school officer a circular letter enumerating his duties as prescribed in this chapter.

5. Investigates Other School Systems.—To correspond with leading educators in other states, to investigate systems of public schools established in other states, and, as far as practicable, to render the results of educational efforts and experiences available for the information and aid of the legislature and the state board of education.

6. Acquaints Himself with Local Educational Wants, Delivers Lectures, etc.—To acquaint himself with the peculiar educational wants of the several sections of the state, and to take all proper means to supply such wants, by counseling with county boards of education and county superintendents, by lectures before teachers' institutes, and by addresses before public assemblies on subjects relating to public schools and public school work.

7. Travels in Connection with Loan Fund, etc.—To go to any county when necessary for the due execution of the law creating a permanent loan fund for the erection of public schoolhouses. He shall include in his annual reports a full showing of everything done under the provisions of the law creating such permanent loan fund.

8. Signs Requisitions on Auditor.—To sign all requisitions on the auditor for the payment of money out of the state treasury for school purposes.

9. Has Publications Made, etc.— To have the school laws published in pamphlet form and distributed on or before the first day of May of each year; to have printed and distributed such educational bulletins as he shall deem necessary for the professional improvement of teachers and for the cultivation of public sentiment for public education; and to have printed all forms necessary and proper for the purposes of this chapter. (C. S. 5392.) (Rev., ss. 4089, 4090, 4091, 4092; 1900, c. 525; 1901, c. 4, ss. 8, 9; 1903, c. 435, s. 1; 1903. c. 751, ss. 11, 12; 1909, c. 525, s. 2; 1923, c. 198.)

§ 5404. Division of certification of teachers.— There shall be created in the office of the superintendent of public instruction a division of certification of teachers, having a director and such assistants, clerks, and stenographers as may be necessary consistent with the appropriation made for this division. All rules and regulations governing the certification of teachers passed by the state board of examiners and institute conductors, and now in force, shall be continued in full force and effect until amended or repealed by the authority of the state board of education, which is hereby constituted the legal board for certificating or providing for the certification of all teachers after April first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one.

The appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars heretofore made to the state board of examiners is hereby appropriated from the state public school fund, to be applied, or so much as may be deemed necessary, by the state board of education to the division of certification of teachers. (1921, c 146, s. 16.)

§ 5405. Division of negro education.—There shall be annually appropriated from the state public school fund the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, or so much of this amount as may be necessary, to secure better supervision of negro education in all normal schools, training schools, high schools, elementary schools, and teacher training departments in all colleges for negroes over which the state now or hereafter may have any control.

The state board of education is authorized, upon the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction, to employ a director of negro education, and such supervisors, assistants, both clerical and professional, as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this section not inconsistent with the amount of the appropriation, and to define the duties of the same. (1921, c. 146, s. 17.)

§ 5406. Division of publication.—There shall be created in the office of the superintendent of public instruction a division of publication, having a director and such assistants as may be needful to carry out the provisions of this law. The director shall be appointed by the superintendent of public instruction, and the salary and expenses shall be fixed by the state board of education. But all assistants in this division shall be selected by the superintendent of public instruction from the office of the superintendent of public instruction, and shall serve in this capacity without extra compensation.

All publications issued from the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall be edited by the director and no printing shall be authorized until approved by the superintendent of public instruction.

The director of publications, with the approval of the superintendent of public instruction, shall have control of all publications and such other duties as may be assigned him by the superintendent of public instruction. All county or city superintendents and other public school officials receiving publications from the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall be required to keep a record of publications received, the number of each on hand at the close of the year, and whenever it shall appear that the county or city superintendent or other school officials are careless or negligent in using or distributing the publications, bulletins, blanks, etc., received from the office of the superintendent of public instruction, the state superintendent of public instruction shall report the same to the county board of education, which board shall investigate the matter, and the county superintendent shall be required by the board of education to carry out the provisions of this law. The salary and expenses of the director shall be paid out of the state public school fund.

The position of chief clerk in the office of the superintendent of public instruction is abolished, and the duties assigned heretofore to the chief clerk may be distributed by the superintendent of public instruction among the other employees in the office of the superintendent of public instruction: Provided, the superintendent of public instruction is authorized to employ a clerk at a salary not to exceed fifteen hundred dollars a year to perform such duties as may be assigned to him. The salary of said clerk to be fixed by the state board of education, and to be paid out of the state public school fund. (1921, c. 146, s. 18.)

§ 5407. Division of teacher training.—There shall be appropriated annually from the state public school fund the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, or so much of the amount as may be necessary, to pay the salaries and expenses and clerical assistance of a director and not more than four supervisors of teacher training, and such assistance as may be necessary. Said director, supervisors, and assistants shall be appointed and their duties assigned by the superintendent of public instruction, but the salaries and expenses shall be fixed by the state board of education. (1921, c. 146, s. 15.)

§ 5408. Teacher training.—There shall be appropriated from the state public school fund for teacher training, the sum of eighty-five thousand dollars in lieu of the fifty thousand dollars specified in said section, and the state board of education is authorized upon recommendation of the state superintendent of public instruction to use such a part of this amount not otherwise appropriated as may be necessary to provide county summer schools for teachers, teacher training courses for teachers in service, rural supervisors, and such other means as may be necessary to increase the efficiency of the teachers of the state, and to make all needful rules and regulations governing the same: Provided, that not more than one-half the cost of the same as herein provided shall be paid out of the state public school fund except in those counties that draw from the equalizing fund. In all such counties the state board of education may pay not more than three-fourths of the cost out of the state public school fund: Provided further, the state board of education is authorized to use not more than fifteen thousand dollars of the amount set aside herein providing teacher training in negro private or denominational schools. (1921, c. 146, s. 12.)

§ 5409. High school aid.—There shall be appropriated annually from the State public school fund the sum of two hundred twenty-four thousand dollars for the encouragement of vocational education, and for the building of standard high schools in the rural districts, and providing teacher training courses in public high schools. So much of this amount as may be necessary shall be used by the state board for vocational education to meet the federal appropriation under the Smith-Hughes Act for the encouragement of vocational education, and for the rehabilitation of persons injured in industries or otherwise. The state board of education is authorized to spend the remainder in aiding the establishment in rural districts of consolidated schools containing high schools. The preference shall be given first to those counties having no standard high school, and second to those counties having no standard high school in the rural district: Provided, that no part of this fund shall be used in any school unit containing less than five teachers, nor in districts having a special local tax rate voted by the people less than the average rate voted in the state, in addition to the state and county school tax for the six months school term, nor in any districts containing a town of more than one thousand five hundred inhabitants unless the number of children living in the rural districts attending school shall exceed the number attending from within the incorporated limits of said town. (1921, c. 146, s. 13.)

Art. 3(A) Educational Commission

§ 5409(a). Commission created.—An educational commission is hereby created, to be composed of twelve members to be appointed by the Governor. (1925, c. 203, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This statute is reviewed in 4 N. C. Law Rev. 18.

§ 5409(b). Appointment; oath.—The said commission shall be appointed on or about the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, and immediately after they accept such appointment, shall take an oath, to be administered by some person authorized by law to administer oaths, to perform their duties faithfully and to the best of their ability. (1925, c. 203, s. 2.)

§ 5409(c). No compensation; expenses. — The said commission shall serve without compensation, except they may be allowed their actual, railroad or other expense incurred in traveling, and their expenses of sustenance in addition thereto, not to exceed six dollars per day, and their account for such expenses shall be approved by the Budget Bureau and paid out of any funds under the control of the State Board of Education, in the same manner as other administrative expenses of said board are paid. (1925, c. 203, s. 3.)

§ 5409(d). Meeting; organization; clerical assistance.—The said commission shall meet at the call of the Governor in the city of Raleigh, and organize by the election of a chairman and a secretary, and the secretary of this commission need not be a member thereof, and the State Board of Education shall furnish such clerical assistance as may be necessary, the expense thereof to be paid out of any fund under its control. (1925, c. 203, s. 4.)

§ 5409(e). Duties.—The said commission shall have power and shall be charged with the following duties:

(a) To make a complete investigation and survey of the common school system now in use in this State.

(b) To make a complete investigation and survey of the system of higher education now in use in this State.

(c) To make a complete investigation of the State equalizing fund and its administration in the several counties of the State.

(d) To investigate the method of determining the cost of the various phases of the operation of the State educational system, both as to institutions of higher learning, and as to the conduct of high school and grammar school system now in use.

(e) To collect, compile and disseminate educational data and information in order to give the people of the State the complete status of the cost and results of the State's educational activities.

(f) To do or perform any other thing or duty which, in the opinion of the said commission, is proper and necessary, with reference to the relation of the public to the present system of higher and common school education in this State. (1295, c. 203, s. 5.)

§ 5409(f). Policy and purpose of article.—The policy and purpose of this article, and of the commission hereby created shall be constructive and for the purpose of devising a means of informing the public, at a minimum cost, fully in regard to the State's educational problems, and for the purpose of aiding and helping in the conduct of all phases of the common school and higher educational system in North Carolina. (1925, c. 203, s. 6.)

§ 5409(g). Term of office.—The said commission shall continue in office until, in the opinion of the Governor, they have completed the purposes of this article and shall have filed their report. The report of the commission and all information collected shall be transmitted to the General Assembly by the Governor, with such suggestions and recommendations as he may deem necesssary. (1925, c. 203, s. 7.)

§ 5409(g1). Continuance of commission. — The said commission shall continue in office until and including the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, and within such time shall continue the investigations and the collection, calculation and dissemination of educational data and information required of said commission by this act. Upon the termination of said commission on June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, the commission shall make its final report to the Governor and shall turn over all records and data of the commission to the Tax Commission created by an act passed by the General Assembly at its regular session in one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven. It shall be the duty of the Tax Commission to transmit to the next session of the General Assembly such report, records and data with such suggestions and recommendations as the Tax Commission may deem necessary, and it shall be the privilege of the Governor to submit to the General Assembly such suggestions and recommendations as he may deem proper. (1927, c. 184, s. 7.)

§ 5409(h). Who appointed.—The Governor is authorized to appoint as members of said commission such persons as may now be officers or employees of the State, or of any of its institutions, and such officers or employees shall receive their actual expenses as herein provided. (1925, c. 203, s. 8.)

SUBCHAPTER III. DUTIES, POWERS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF COUNTY BOARDS OF EDUCATION

Art. 4. The Board: Its Corporate Powers

§ 5410. How constituted.—The county board of education in each county shall consist either of three members or of five [or seven or nine] members. The counties of Alamance, Bertie, Burke, Chatham, Columbus, Cumberland, Dare, Durham, Franklin, Granville, Guilford, Haywood, Hoke, Jackson, Mecklenburg, Martin, Pamlico, Perquimans, Person, Pitt, Richmond, Rockingham, Rowan, Sampson, Surry, Transylvania, Wake, Wilson and Union shall have five members. All other counties [except Buncombe, Robeson and Wilkes] shall have three members. The members appointed under this law shall qualify by taking the oath of office on or before the first Monday in April, but they shall elect a county superintendent before April fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three. (1923, c. 136, s. 10; 1923, c. 175, s. 1; 1929, cc. 202, 215; 1931, cc. 39, 278, 313, 363.)

Cross Reference.—As to such board being an agency of the State, see § 5489 and the note thereto.

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1929, c. 215, added Macon to the counties having five members, however this Act was repealed by Public Laws 1931, c. 39. Public Laws 1929, c. 202, provided that § 5403 of the Consolidated Statutes be amended by inserting the word "Perquimans." In the rearrangement of the education statute (1923) by the compiler of vol. 3 of the Consolidated Statutes, new § 5410 includes matter in old §§ 5402 and 5403. Question as to effect as adding Perquimans County to § 5410?

Public Laws 1931, c. 278, reduced the membership of the board in Ashe County from five to three. It also increased the membership in Transylvania and Wake Counties from three to five, in Buncombe from five to seven, and in Robeson from five to nine. This Act was amended by c. 313 to increase the board in Wilkes from three to seven. Chapter 363 reduced the membership in Avery from five to three.

Public Laws 1933, c. 208, reduced the members in Wilkes county from seven to three.

Effect of Failure to Qualify on Day Prescribed.—A county board of education is a body politic and corporate, and is authorized to prosecute and defend suits in its own name, and to discharge certain duties imposed by statute, § 5419, and where the members of the board appointed by the General Assembly fail to take the oath of office on the date prescribed by this section, but take the oath on the next succeeding day, their failure to qualify on the day prescribed does not impair the existence of the corporate body, and where they have discharged the statutory duties imposed upon them, and no vacancy has been declared by the State Board of Education, and no proceedings in the nature of quo warranto have been instituted to determine their right to office, the acts of the appointees as members of the board cannot be annulled by a proceeding to restrain the board from purchasing a school site in discharge of its statutory duties. Crabtree v. Board of Education, 199 N. C. 645, 155 S. E. 550.

Cited in Board of Education v. Walter, 198 N. C. 325, 328, 151 S. E. 718.

§ 5411. Term of office. — The term of office shall be for two years, except as may be otherwise provided in the law appointing members of the boards of education by the general assembly. All members of the board of education in the several counties of the state who are now holding office under appointments heretofore made, and whose terms of office do not expire prior to the first Monday in April, 1925, shall continue and remain in office until said first Monday in April, 1925, at which time the terms of office of all such members shall expire: Provided, however, that the terms of office of the members of the board of education heretofore appointed for the counties of Ashe, Chatham, Catawba, Davie, Davidson, Iredell, Cumberland, Macon, Mecklenburg, New Hanover, Pamlico, Pitt, Rowan, Sampson, Stanly, Alleghany, and Carteret shall not be changed or shortened, but shall continue for the full time named in the law or laws appointing same: Provided, further, that in any county for which a full membership of the board of education is appointed by this law the terms of all present members of the board of education for such counties shall expire on the first Monday in April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three. (1923, c. 136, s. 11; 1923, c. 175, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1931, c. 278 as amended appointed certain named persons as members of the several county boards of education and specified their terms of office, etc. The act provided:

"In case of any conflict between the existing term of any member of the board of education of any county and the term of any member appointed by this act, then the present incumbent shall be deemed and held as the legal member of the board of education of the particular county."

The act further provided: "The per diem and mileage of not exceeding five members of the county board of education of the several counties of the State, if the six months State-supported school law is adopted, shall be borne out of the State school fund; for any number in excess of five, out of the county school fund."

See note under § 5452.

Public Laws 1933, c. 421, contains an act similar to that passed in 1931, described in the above Editor's note.

§ 5412. How nominated and elected.—In all the counties of the state there shall be nominated in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four, and biennially thereafter, at the party primaries or conventions, at the same time and in the same manner as that in which other county officers are nominated, a candidate or candidates, by each political party of the state for member or members of the county board of education to take the place of the member or members of said board whose term next expires. The names of the persons so nominated in such counties shall be duly certified by the chairman of the county board of elections, within ten days after their nomination is declared by said county board of elections, to the superintendent of public instruction, who shall transmit the names of all persons so nominated, together with the name of the political party nominating them, to the chairman of the committee on education in the next session of the general assembly within ten days after it convenes. The general assembly shall elect or appoint one or more, from the candidates so nominated, members of the county board of education for such county. Upon failure of the general assembly to elect or appoint members as herein provided, such failure shall constitute a vacancy, which shall be filled by the state board of education. The term of office of each member shall begin on the first Monday of April of the year in which he is elected, and shall continue until his successor is elected and qualified. (C. S. 5404.) (1923, c. 136, s. 12.)

§ 5413. County board of elections to provide for nominations.—The county board of elections, under the direction of the state board of elections, shall make all necessary provisions for such nominations as are herein provided for. (C. S. 5405.) (1923, c. 136, s. 13.)

§ 5414. Members to qualify.—Those persons who shall be elected members of the county board of education by the general assembly must qualify by taking the oath of office on or before the first Monday in April next succeeding their election. A failure to qualify within that time shall constitute a vacancy. Those persons elected or appointed to fill a vacancy must qualify within thirty days after notification thereof. A failure to qualify within that time shall constitute a vacancy. (C. S. 5406.) (1923, c. 136, s. 14.)

Cited in Crabtree v. Board of Education, 199 N. C. 645, 650, 155 S. E. 550.

§ 5415. Vacancies in nominations.—If any candidate shall die, resign, or for any reason become ineligible or disqualified between the date of his nomination and the time for the election by the general assembly of the member or members of the county board of education for the county of such candidate, the vacancy caused thereby may be filled by the action of the county executive committee of the political party of such candidate. (C. S. 5407.) (1923, c. 136, s. 15.)

§ 5416. Vacancies in office.—All vacancies in the membership of the board of education in such counties by death, resignation, or otherwise shall be filled by the action of the county executive committee of the political party of the member causing such vacancy until the meeting of the next regular session of the general assembly, and then for the residue of the unexpired term by that body. If the vacancy to be filled by the general assembly in such cases shall have occurred before the primary or convention held in such county, then in that event nominations for such vacancies shall be made in the manner hereinbefore set out, and such vacancy shall be filled from the candidates nominated to fill such vacancy by the party primaries or convention of such county. All vacancies that are not filled by the county executive committee under the authority herein contained within thirty days from the occurrence of such vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the state board of education. (C. S. 5408; 1931, c. 380.)

Editor's Note. — The Act of 1931 struck out the words "remaining members of said county board of education" formerly appearing in lines four and five of this section and inserted in lieu thereof the words "action of the county executive committee of the political party of the member causing such vacancy."

The Act also repealed paragraph two of this section which had been added by Public Laws 1923, c. 136, s. 16 and was as follows: "In the event that all or a majority of the members of the board die, resign or are removed from office, the vacancies shall be filled at once by the State board of education."

Cited in Board of Education v. Pegram, 197 N. C. 33, 34, 147 S. E. 622.

§ 5417. Eligibility for the office. — No person shall be eligible as a member of the county board of education who is not known to be a man of intelligence, of good moral character, of good business qualifications, and known to be in favor of public education. No person, while actually engaged in teaching in the public schools or engaged in teaching in or conducting a private school in connection with which private school there is in any manner conducted a public school, and no member of a district committee or board of trustees, shall be eligible as a member of the county board of education. (C. S. 5409.) (1923, c. 136, s. 17.)

Constitutional Office.—Under sec. 7, Art. XIV, of the Constitution, one person cannot hold the office of county commissioner and also be a member of the county board of education. State v. Thompson, 122 N. C. 493, 29 S. E. 720.

§ 5418. Organization of the board.—At the first meeting of the new board in April the members of the board shall organize by electing one of its members as chairman for a period of one year or until his successor is elected and qualified. The superintendent of public instruction shall be ex officio secretary to the board. He shall keep the minutes of the meetings of the board, but shall have no vote; Provided, that in the event of a vacancy in the county superintendency the board may elect one of its members to serve temporarily as secretary to the board. (1923, c. 136, s. 18.)

§ 5419. The board a body corporate.—The board of education shall be a body corporate by the name and style of "The Board of Education of ..... County." By that name it shall hold all school property belonging to the county, and it shall be capable of purchasing and holding real and personal property, of building and repairing schoolhouses, of selling and transferring the same for school purposes, and of prosecuting and defending suits for or against the corporation.

All public school property now in the possession of school committees who were bodies corporate prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred, or who became bodies corporate by special act of the general assembly, but who have since ceased to be bodies corporate: and where land or lands were conveyed by deed bearing date prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred, to local trustees for school purposes, and such deed makes no provision for successor trustees to those named in said deed, and all of such trustees are dead; and where such land or lands are not now being used for educational purposes either by the county board of education of the county or the board of trustees of a special charter district wherein same are located the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein such property or such land or lands are located shall convey said property or land or lands to the county board of education, unless same is located in a special charter district. In that event said property or land or lands shall be conveyed to the board of trustees of the special charter district. (1923, c. 136, s. 19.)

§ 5420. Compensation of members. — The board of education may fix the compensation of each member at not to exceed five dollars per diem and five cents a mile to and from the place of meeting. And no member of the board shall receive any compensation for any services rendered except the per diem provided in this section for attending meetings of the board and traveling expenses when attending meetings of the board, or such other traveling expenses as may be incurred while performing duties imposed upon any member by authority of the board. (C. S. 3912.) (1923, c. 136, s. 20.)

§ 5421. Removal for cause.—In case the state superintendent shall have sufficient evidence that any member of the county board of education is not capable of discharging or is not discharging the duties of his office as reguired by law, or is guilty of immoral or disreputable conduct, he shall notify the chairman of the county board of education, who shall call a meeting of the board at once to investigate the charges, and if found to be true, the board shall declare the office vacant. (C. S. 5414, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 21.)

§ 5422. Meetings of the board.—The county board of education shall meet on the first Monday in January, April, July and October. It may elect to hold regular monthly meetings, and to meet in special sessions as often as the school business of the county may require. (C. S. 5410, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 22.)

§ 5423. Powers; suits and actions.—(a) The county board of education shall institute all actions, suits, or proceedings against officers, persons, or corporations, or their sureties, for the recovery, preservation, and application of all moneys or property which may be due to or should be applied to the support and maintenance of the schools, except in case of a breach of his bond by the treasurer of the county school fund, in which case action shall be brought by the county commissioners as is hereinafter provided.

(b) In all actions brought in any court against a county board of education for the purpose of compelling the board to admit any child or children who have been excluded from any school by the order of the board, the order or action of the board shall be presumed to be correct, and the burden of proof shall be on the complaining party to show to the contrary. (C. S. 5417). (1923, c. 136, s. 23.)

Cited in Board v. Board, 192 N. C. 274, 134 S. E. 852.

§ 5424. Power to subpœna and to punish for contempt.—The board shall have power to issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses. Subpœnas may be issued in any and all matters which may lawfully come within the powers of the board, and which in the discretion of the board require investigation; and it shall be the duty of the sheriffs, coroners and constables to serve such subpœnas upon payment of their lawful fees.

The county board of education of each county shall have power to punish for contempt for any disorderly conduct or disturbance tending to disrupt it in the transaction of official business. (C. S. 5418.) (1923, c. 136, s. 24.)

§ 5425. Witness failing to testify, misdemeanor. —Any witness who shall willfully and without legal excuse fail to appear before the county board of education to testify in any matter under investigation by the board shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (C. S. 5419.) (1923, c. 136, s. 25.)

§ 5426. Appeals to board from county officers. —An appeal shall lie from all county school officers to the county board of education, and such appeals shall be regulated by rules to be adopted by the county board of education. (C. S. 5420.) (1923, c. 136, s. 26.)

§ 5427. Superior court to review board's action.—The superior courts of the state may review any action of the county board of education affecting one's character or right to teach. (C. S. 5421.) (1923, c. 136, s. 27.)

Where the county board of education orders the removal of school committeemen, § 5458, who appeal under the provisions of this section, the judgment of the Superior Court judge holding the act of the board of education in removing the committeemen invalid and dismissing the appeal for want of jurisdiction is inconsistent and erroneous. Board of Education v. Anderson, 200 N. C. 57, 156 S. E. 153.

Art. 5. The Direction and Supervision of the School System

§ 5428. To provide for all the children of the county.—It is the duty of the county board of education to provide an adequate school system for the benefit of all the children of the county, as directed by law. The board of education shall so district the county and locate the schools that elementary and high school instruction may be available for all the children of the county. (1923, c. 136, s. 28.)

When Court Will Interfere.—The county board of education is given discretionary powers to direct and supervise the county school system for the benefit of all the children therein, including the duty, among others, of selecting a school site, with which the courts will not interfere in the absence of its abuse. McInnish v. Board, 187 N. C. 494, 122 S. E. 182.

Discretion of Boards.—In the absence of statutory limitations upon the power to perform this duty, discretion is vested in said boards to locate, discontinue, transfer and establish high schools in the districts of their several counties. In the absence of abuse, this discretion cannot be set aside or controlled by the courts. The principle stated and applied in deciding the question presented by the appeal in Newton v. School Committee, 158 N. C. 186, 187, 73 S. E. 886, is well settled. Clark v. McQueen, 195 N. C. 714, 716, 143 S. E. 528.

This section and section 5437 vest in the sound discretion of the board of education of a county the right to transfer an existing school in one district to an adjoining district for the advantage of the residents of the county, and with the fair exercise of this discretion, or in the absence of manifest abuse, the courts will not interfere, or give injunctive relief. Clark v. McQueen, 195 N. C. 714, 143 S. E. 528.

§ 5429. General powers.—All powers and duties conferred and imposed by law respecting public schools, which are not expressly conferred and imposed upon some other officials, are conferred and imposed upon the county board of education. (C. S. 5412.) (1923, c. 136, s. 29.)

Authority to Employ Janitors.—Under the provisions of this section the county board of education is authorized to select and employ janitors for a school building in a local tax district in preference to one appointed by the district school committee for the same position. Wiggins v. Board of Education, 198 N. C. 301, 151 S. E. 730.

Where the county purchasing agent purchases equipment for a school and gives a note for the same signed by him in the name of the school the county is not liable on the note, the purchasing agent having no connection with the county board of education. Keith v. Henderson County, 204 N. C. 21, 167 S. E. 481.

Cited in Wilkinson v. Board of Education, 199 N. C. 669, 155 S. E. 562.

§ 5430. General control.—The county board of education shall have general control and supervision of all matters pertaining to the public schools in their respective counties, and they shall execute the school laws in their respective counties. But whenever duties are assigned to the county board of education in this subchapter it shall not be construed so as to take away from the board of trustees of any special charter district any duties or other powers assigned to said board of trustees by the general assembly. (C. S. 5412, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 30.)

Surrender of Charter by Special District.—See Causey v. Guilford County, 192 N. C. 298, 135 S. E. 40.

§ 5430(a). Fuel for use in schools.—The county board of education in each county and the board of trustees in each special chartered district in North Carolina shall carefully canvass the fuel requirements of each school in their respective county or chartered district and shall determine whether it would be possible, practical and economical to use wood wholly or partly as fuel for heating the school buildings. In making this determination the school board or other governing bodies shall consider the costs of wood in comparison to the cost of coal or other fuels, the suitability of the equipment already installed and the need of establishing a local market for farm products. Each board of education or other governing bodies shall thus determine the amount, quality and size of wood that can be used as fuel in each school and shall receive bids, which shall be recorded in the minutes and compared with the cost of other fuels and when found to be economical the school board shall contract for a supply of standard grade wood of prescribed length and size to be used as fuel in heating the school building, or buildings, for the ensuing year.

The said school authorities shall have the right to reject any and all bids; and they shall further have the right, with a view of distributing the work of supplying fuel to as many persons as practicable, to let contracts with more than one bidder for the year's supply of fuel.

The state board of equalization and the state division of purchase and contract shall coöperate with the said school authorities and promote the use of wood by advising with them relative to the proper form for contracts and the relative costs and heating value of the different fuels.

This section shall not apply to Mecklenburg county. (1933, c. 473, ss. 1-4.)

§ 5431. Determination of method of conducting schools.—The county board of education shall have power and authority to fix and determine the method of conducting the public schools in their respective counties so as to furnish the most advantageous method of education available to the children attending the public schools in several counties of the state. (C. S. 5412.) (1923, c. 136, s. 31.)

Power Discretionary.—The courts may compel the county board of education to act upon discretionary powers conferred on them by the Legislature, but cannot tell them how they must act. Key v. Board, 170 N. C. 123, 86 S. E. 1002.

§ 5432. Fixing time of opening and closing schools.—The time of opening and closing the public schools of the several public school districts of the state, except in special chartered districts, shall be fixed and determined by the county board of education in their respective counties. The board may fix different dates for opening the schools in different townships, but all the schools of each township must open on the same date as nearly as practicable. (C. S. 5412.) (1923, c. 136, s. 32.)

§ 5433. Determination of length of school day.—The length of the school day shall be determined by the county board of education for all public schools under its jurisdiction and by the board of trustees of all other schools: Provided, the minimum time for which teachers shall be employed in the schoolroom or on the school grounds supervising the activities of children shall not be less than six hours. But county boards of education may authorize rural schools in certain seasons of the year, when the agricultural needs of the farm demand it, to be conducted for less than six hours a day: Provided further, it shall be the duty of the county boards of education and boards of trustees, wherever needs are presented, to provide part-time classes for pupils above the compulsory school age and for such other pupils as are unable because of physical defects to attend school for the full time designated for the classes in which they may be enrolled. (1923, c. 136, s. 33.)

§ 5434. Duty to enforce the compulsory school law.—It shall be the duty of teachers, principals, county superintendents of public instruction and attendance officers to enforce the compulsory school law in accordance with the rules and regulations adopted by the state board of education; and if they shall fail to perform their duties in this respect it shall be the duty, of the county board of education to withhold the salary of such a person or to remove such a one from office. Any school official failing to obey the law in regard to compulsory attendance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5759, 5760.) (1923, c. 136, s. 34.)

board of education shall adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary for taking a complete census of the school population and for installing and keeping in the office of the county superintendent in each county of the state a continuous census of the school population. The cost of taking and keeping the census shall be a legitimate item in the budget and shall be paid out of the incidental fund. If any parent, guardian, or other person having the custody of a child, refuses to give any properly authorized census taker, teacher, school principal, or other school official charged with the duty of obtaining the census of the school population of any district, the necessary information to enable such person to obtain an accurate and correct census, or shall knowingly and willfully make any false statement to any person duly authorized to take the school census of any district relative to the age or the mental or physical condition of any child, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not to exceed twenty-five dollars or imprisoned not to exceed thirty days in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 179, s. 16; 1925, c. 95.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925, c. 95, the last sentence of this section was added.

§ 5436. The classification of schools. — The county board of education, on recommendation of the county superintendent, shall have authority to classify the schools of the county and determine the number of grades that each school shall contain, and in what schools high school subjects may be taught. But high school subjects shall not be taught in a school having only one teacher. (1923, c. 136, s. 35.)

§ 5437. The location of high schools.—It is the duty of the county board of education, on recommendation of the county superintendent, to locate high schools in the county or to arrange for high school instruction in special charter districts so as to provide good high school instruction for all the children. Since the cost of good high school instruction is too great to permit the location of small high schools close together, it shall be the duty of the county board, wherever the needs demand it, to locate not more than one standard high school in each township or its equivalent: Provided, it shall be discretionary with county boards of education to continue standard high schools now in existence contrary to the provisions of this section, and to establish such high schools in townships in which city schools are already located. (1923, c. 136, s. 36.)

§ 5438. Number of teachers permitted in each elementary school.—The county board of education, in apportioning the public school fund for the maintenance of a six months school term, is authorized to provide for more than one teacher in the elementary schools, as follows:

In a school where, during the preceding school year, the average number of children attending such school daily was not less than thirty pupils, funds may be apportioned for paying the salaries of two teachers; and in a school where, during the preceding school year, the average number of children attending such school daily was not less than sixty-five pupils, funds may be apportioned for paying the salaries of three teachers; and in schools where, during the preceding school year, the average number of children attending daily was not less than one hundred pupils, funds may be apportioned for paying the salaries of four teachers; and in a school where, during the preceding school year, the average number of children attending such school daily exceeds one hundred pupils, funds may be apportioned for one additional teacher for each thirty-five additional pupils in average daily attendance in the school. (C. S. 5490, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 37.)

§ 5439. Number of teachers permitted in each high school.—The county board of education may provide for teachers in high schools on the following basis:

One whole-time teacher for twenty pupils in average daily attendance; two teachers for thirty pupils in average daily attendance; three teachers for forty-five pupils in average daily attendance; four teachers for seventy pupils in average daily attendance; and after four teachers are employed on this basis one additional teacher may be employed for each additional thirty pupils in average daily attendance. Provided, that for the encouragement of the teaching of vocational subjects, teachers of agriculture and home economics may be in addition to the number of teachers allowed above, if instruction is provided for the people of the community in these vocational subjects. (1923, c. 136, s. 38.)

§ 5440. Subjects taught in the elementary schools. — The county board of education shall provide for the teaching of the following subjects in all elementary schools having seven grades or seven years: Spelling, reading, writing, grammar, language and composition, English, arithmetic, drawing, geography, the history and geography of North Carolina, history of the United States, elements of agriculture, health education, including the nature and effect of alcoholic drinks and narcotics, and fire prevention.

It shall be the duty of the state superintendent of public instruction to prepare a course of study outlining these and other subjects that may be taught in the elementary schools, arranging the subjects by grades and classes, giving directions as to the best methods of teaching them, and including type lessons for the guidance of the teachers. The board of education shall require these subjects in both public and private schools to be taught in the English language, and any teacher or principal who shall refuse to conduct his recitations in the English language shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and may be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 136, s. 39.)

§ 5440(a). Instruction on alcoholism and narcotism.—In addition to health education, which is now required by law to be given in all schools supported in whole or in part by public money, thorough and scientific instruction shall be given in the subject of alcoholism and narcotism.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is hereby authorized and directed to prepare, or cause to be prepared, for the use of all teachers who are required by this section to give instruction on the subject of alcoholism and narcotism, a course of study on health education, which shall embrace suggestions as to methods of instruction, outlines of lesson plans, lists of accurate and scientific source material, suggested adaptations of the work to the needs of the children in the several grades, and shall specify the kind of work to be done in each grade, and the amount of time to be devoted to such instruction. The state textbook commission and the state board of education shall be authorized, directed and empowered to select, approve, and adopt a simple, scientific textbook, which textbook shall be free from political propaganda, and approved by the state board of health and the faculty of the Medical School of the University of North Carolina, on the effects of alcoholism and narcotism on the human system, and/or a different or revised text on 'health' which shall contain chapters giving complete, detailed, and scientific information on the subjects, to be taught as a unit of work every year in the appropriate elementary grade, or grades, of the public schools of North Carolina. Adequate time shall be given to teach the subject efficiently. The work in the subject of alcoholism and narcotism shall be a part of the work required for promotion from one grade to another: Provided also, that provision shall be made in the course of study prepared by the state department of public instruction for teachers, aides and devices for the assistance of teachers in teaching the effects of alcoholism and narcotism on the human system.

In all normal schools, teacher training classes, summer schools for teachers, and other institutions giving instruction preparatory to teaching or to teachers actually in service, adequate time and attention shall be given to the best methods in teaching health education, with special reference to the nature of alcoholism and narcotism.

It shall be the duty of all officers and teachers, principals and superintendents in charge of any school or schools, comprehended within the meaning of this section, to comply with its provisions and any such officer or teacher who shall fail or refuse to comply with the requirements of this section shall be subject to dismissal by the proper authorities. (1929, c. 96, ss. 1-3; 1935, c. 404.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1935 the latter part of the second paragraph of this section specified the number of lessons on alcoholism and narcotism. The section now goes into the subject in much more detail.

§ 5441. Instruction in Americanism. — There shall be taught in the public schools of North Carolina a course of instruction which shall be known as Americanism.

There shall be included in the term "Americanism" the following general items of instruction.

(a) Respect for law and order.

(b) Character and ideals of the founders of our country.

(c) Duties of good citizenship.

(d) Respect for the national anthem and the flag.

(e) A standard of good government.

(f) Constitution of North Carolina.

(g) Constitution of the United States.

The course of instruction in Americanism shall be taught not less than thirty hours during each and every school year and shall not be optional in the grade or grades in which said course is taught. (1923, c. 49, ss. 1-3.)

Cited in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 308.

§ 5442. Americanism; text-book and course of study.—The state board of education shall, as soon as convenient, adopt some suitable and proper text-book which will conform as near as possible and practicable to the carrying out of the general items of instruction as herein contained in section 5441, and the state superintendent shall prepare or have prepared such outline courses of study, and shall distribute the same among the teachers of the state, which will give them proper direction in carrying out the provisions of this law.

The state board of education shall, before the beginning of the next school year, adopt such suitable rules and regulations as may be necessary as to the time, manner, grade or grades in which said course of Americanism shall be taught. (1923, c. 49, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 5443. Kindergartens may be established. — Upon a petition by the board of directors or trustees or school committee of any school district, endorsed by the county board of education, the board of county commissioners, after thirty days notice at the courthouse door and three other public places in the district named, shall order an election to ascertain the will of the people within said district whether there shall be levied in such a district a special annual tax of not more than fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars worth of property and forty-five cents on the poll for the purpose of establishing kindergarten departments in the schools of said district. The election so ordered shall be conducted under the rules and regulations for holding special tax elections in special school districts, as provided in article twenty-four of this chapter.

At such election those who are in favor of the special tax shall vote a ballot on which shall be printed the words "For Kindergartens," and those who are opposed shall vote a ballot on which shall be printed the word, "Against Kindergartens."

If a majority of the qualified voters shall vote in favor of the tax, then it shall be the duty of the board of trustees or directors or school committee of said district to establish and provide for kindergartens for the education of the children in said district of not more than six years of age, and the county commissioners shall annually levy a tax for the support of said kindergarten departments not exceeding the amount specified in the order of election. Said tax shall be collected as all other taxes in the county are collected and shall be paid by the sheriff to the treasurer of the said school district to be used exclusively for providing adequate quarters and for equipment and for the maintenance of said kindergarten department. (1923, c. 136, s. 40.)

Cited in Posey v. Board of Education, 199 N. C. 306, 154 S. E. 393.

§ 5444. County training schools. — The county board of education is authorized, with the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction, to make special appropriations from the county school fund to provide for the county one county training school of not less than eight months for either race in which elementary and high school subjects and vocational subjects of agriculture, home economics, and special industrial subjects and methods of teaching shall be taught. The purpose of the special appropriation to the county training school shall be to provide teachers for the elementary schools for six months. (1923, c. 136, s. 41.)

§ 5445. Board shall provide schools for Indians in certain counties.—It shall be the duty of the county board of education to provide separate schools for Indians as follows:

The persons residing in Robeson and Richmond counties supposed to be descendants of a friendly tribe once residing in the eastern portion of the state, known as Croatan Indians, and who have heretofore been known as "Croatan Indians," or "Indians of Robeson County," and their descendants, shall be known and designated as the "Cherokee Indians of Robeson County"; and the persons residing in Person county supposed to be descendants of a friendly tribe of Indians and "White's Lost Colony," once residing in the eastern portion of this state, and known as "Cubans," and their descendants, shall be known and designated as the "Indians of Person County."

The Indians mentioned above and their descendants shall have separate schools for their children, school committees of their own race and color, and shall be allowed to select teachers of their own choice, subject to the same rules and regulations as are applicable to all teachers in the general school law, and there shall be excluded from such separate schools all children of the negro race to the fourth generation. The County Superintendent in and for Robeson County shall keep in his office a record of schools for the Cherokee Indians of Robeson County, which said record shall disclose the operation of such schools, separate and apart from the record of the operation of schools for the other races. (C. S. 5546, 5547; 1923, c. 136, s. 42; 1931, c. 141.)

See notes to section 5384.

Art. 6. Children at Orphanages

§ 5446. Permitted to attend public schools; expenses.—Children living in and cared for and supported by any institution established or incorporated for the purpose of rearing and caring for orphan children shall be considered legal residents of said district in which the institution is located, and a part or all of said orphan children shall be permitted to attend the public school or schools of said district, and the extra expenses of teaching said children for six months in the public school or schools of said district may be borne as follows:

Three fourths of the extra expense for a term of six months of every year, as a result of the attendance of said children, may be paid out of the State equalizing fund and one-fourth out of the county fund, unless otherwise provided.

Provided further, that the provisions of this section shall be permissive only, and shall not be mandatory. (C. S. 5604.) (1919, c. 301, s. 1; 1927, c. 163, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws 1927, ch. 163, the provision for payment from an "equalizing fund" replaced a provision for payment from the state "public school fund." The last sentence making the section permissive and not mandatory was also added at this time.

Failure of Purpose of Trust.—A trust fund created by will for the purpose of educating through high school a girl inmate of an orphan asylum to be chosen by the board of trustees from time to time does not fall into the residuary clause for failure of the purpose of the trust on the ground that the State educated orphan children through high school without charge under the provisions of this section; since this section makes the payment for the education of the children in orphan asylums permissive only. Humphrey v. Board of Trustees, 203 N. C. 201, 165 S. E. 547.

§ 5447. County board to provide for expense in budget.—The county board of education is hereby authorized to provide in the county school budget for the extra expense that may be incurred by said school as the result of the attendance of said orphan children, and the county superintendent shall set forth, in blanks prepared by the state superintendent of public instruction, the number of such children that may attend, in what grades or classes they will be enrolled, and how many extra teachers will be required as the result of the operation of this article. The salaries of such extra teachers for six months shall be provided for in the county budget as provided in the preceding section. (C. S. 5605.) (1919, c. 301, s. 2.)

§ 5448. After six months, tuition fees may be charged.—The board of trustees in special tax or special chartered districts may charge such tuition fees as may be agreed upon between the authorities of said institution and the board of trustees for the attendance of such orphan children for the remainder of the school term, after the constitutional provision for six months school has been complied with. (C. S. 5606.) (1919, c. 301, s. 3.)

Art. 7. Instruction of Illiterates

§ 5449. School for adult illiterates; appropriation.—The state board of education is authorized to provide rules and regulations for conducting schools to teach adult illiterates, and such schools when provided for shall become a part of the public school system of the state and shall be supported as is provided for other public schools of the state. (C. S. 5607.) (1919, c. 161, s. 1.)

§ 5450. Funds provided.—The county board of education shall, upon direction from the state superintendent of public instruction, provide annually in the county school budget, unless otherwise provided, a sum necessary to teach the adult illiterates in accordance with such rules and regulations, and a like sum shall be appropriated from the state public school fund. (C. S. 5608.) (1919, c. 161, s. 2.)

§ 5451. Expenses of organization and direction.—The state board of education is authorized to use annually a sum not to exceed five thousand dollars of the state public school fund for the organization and direction of said work of teaching illiterates under the direction of the state superintendent of public instruction. (C. S. 5609.) (1919, c. 161, s. 3.)

Art. 8. School Officials Selected by or Responsible to the Board of Education

§ 5452. Election of county superintendent.—The county board of education shall as soon as convenient on or after the first Monday in April, elect a county superintendent of public instruction to serve for a term of two years. The county board of education shall fix the time for the election of the county superintendent and shall give public notice of the same in a paper published or circulating in the county and shall post a notice of the same at the courthouse door at least fifteen days before the date fixed for the election of said superintendent. His term of office shall begin on the first Monday in July. Immediately after the election the chairman of the county board of education shall report the name, address, experience and qualification of the person elected, to the state superintendent of public instruction. (1923, c. 136, s. 43.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1931, c. 452, invalidated elections of county superintendents of schools and district committeemen before April 15, 1931, and validated such elections since said date by county boards of education consisting of or including the members as appointed by Public Laws 1931, c. 278.

Public Laws 1931, c. 363, invalidated the election of a county superintendent by the board of Avery County on April twenty-one, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one.

§ 5453. Limitations of the board in selecting a county superintendent.—The county board of education is authorized to select for the office of county superintendent any practical teacher and administrator who holds or is entitled to hold a superintendent's certificate under the rules and regulations of the state board of education. If any board of education shall elect a person to serve as county superintendent of public instruction who does not qualify, or cannot qualify for the superintendent's certificate before taking the oath of office, the election is null and void, and it shall be the duty of the board of education to elect only a person that can qualify. (C. S. 5425, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 44.)

§ 5454. Office and assistance for superintendent.—The county board of education shall provide an office for the county superintendent, in the courthouse if possible. It shall provide office supplies for the superintendent, such as stationery, stamps and other necessary supplies in the conduct of his business. The county board of education may employ clerical assistance to aid the county superintendent. (C. S. 5424, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 45.)

§ 5455. Removal of county superintendent for cause.—The county board of education is authorized to remove a county superintendent who is guilty of immoral conduct, or shall fail or refuse to perform the duties required of him by law.

In case the state superintendent shall have sufficient evidence at any time that any county superintendent of public instruction is not capable of discharging or is not discharging the duties of his office as required by law, or is guilty of immoral or disreputable conduct, he shall report the matter to the county board of education, which shall hear the evidence in the case; and, if, after careful investigation, it shall find the charges true, it shall declare the office vacant at once and proceed to elect his successor. This section shall not deprive any county superintendent of the right to try his title to office in the courts of the state. (C. S. 5414, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 46.)

§ 5456. Prescribing duties of county superintendent not in conflict with law and constitution.—All acts of the county board of education not in conflict with state law shall be binding on the county superintendent, and it shall be his duty to carry out all rules and regulations of the board. (1923, c. 136, s. 47.)

§ 5457. Election of committeemen of school districts.—The county board of education shall elect three committeemen to serve in each school district, in those districts that hereafter may be created. One shall be elected for one year; one for two years; and one for three years, or until their successors are elected and qualified. Their terms of office shall begin as of April first in the calendar year in which they are elected, and as their terms of office expire their successors shall be elected for a term of three years. It shall be the duty of the county board of education to elect in April of each year, or as soon thereafter as convenient, one committeeman for each district of the county already established, to serve for a term of three years or until the successor is elected and qualified: Provided, the county board of education is authorized to elect in a local tax district a committee composed of five members, two for one year, two for two years and one for three years, or until their successors are elected and qualified: Provided further, the jurisdiction of the county board of education to elect district committeemen shall apply to all school districts in a county except those districts that have special authority from the general assembly to elect committeemen in some other manner. (C. S. 5457, 5458, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 48.)

§ 5458. Removal of committeemen for cause.—In case the county superintendent or any member of the county board of education shall have sufficient evidence at any time that any member of any school committee is not capable of discharging, or is not discharging, the duties of his office, or is guilty of immoral or disreputable conduct, he shall bring the matter to the attention of the county board of education, which shall thoroughly investigate the charges, and shall remove such committeeman and appoint his successor if sufficient evidence shall be produced to warrant his removal and the best interests of the schools demand it. (C. S. 5414.) (1923, c. 136, s. 49.)

As to the Superior Court dismissing an appeal from such removal and at the same time holding it invalid see § 5427 and the note thereto.

§ 5459. Advising with the committee in regard to needs of district.—The county board of education shall advise with the committee of each district before the May budget is prepared, and seek such information as may be helpful in planning the work for the ensuing year, in providing the number and grade of teachers needed, and the amount needed to thoroughly equip the school building or buildings of the district. The county board of education shall keep the committees informed as to the plans and purposes of the board and shall seek in every way possible to secure their coöperation in providing adequate educational opportunities for all the children of the district, for the enforcement of the compulsory school law, for teaching adult illiterates, and for the encouragement of vocational education in the county. (1923, c. 136, s. 50.)

§ 5460. Supervisors or assistant county superintendent.—The county board of education shall have authority to employ an assistant county superintendent or to employ a supervisor or supervisors to aid the county superintendent in supervising the instruction in the elementary and high schools of the county: Provided, that the salary for the same is provided in the budget and approved by the county commissioners. The duties of the supervisor or the assistant county superintendent shall be outlined by the county superintendent of public instruction: Provided further, the supervisor or assistant county superintendent shall not be assigned to regular clerical work in the office of the county superintendent. And no part of the salary of any supervisor or assistant county superintendent shall be paid out of the state public school fund, unless the duties assigned to the same are first approved by the state superintendent of public instruction. (1923, c. 136, s. 51.)

§ 5461. Duty of county board of teachers, supervisors and principals.—The county board of education, upon the recommendation of the county superintendent, shall have full power to make all just and needful rules and regulations governing the conduct of teachers, principals and supervisors, under jurisdiction of the county board of education, the kind of reports they shall make and their duties in the care of school property.

The county board of education shall have power to investigate and pass upon the moral character of any teacher or school official in the public schools of the county, and to dismiss such teacher or school official, if found of bad moral character; also to investigate and pass upon the moral character of any applicant for employment in any public school in the county. Such investigation shall be made after written notice of not less than ten days to the person whose character is to be investigated.

If the superintendent reports to the board that the work of any teacher, principal or supervisor is unsatisfactory, or that either is not observing the rules and regulations of the board of education, the board has full authority at any time during the year, upon notice of ten days, to investigate the charges and, if sustained, to reduce the salary of the teacher, supervisor or principal to the next lower salary in the salary schedule, and finally to discharge the same for failure to perform the duties as prescribed by the board. (C. S. 5412, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 53.)

§ 5462. Providing for training of teachers.—The county board of education is authorized to provide summer schools for the improvement of teachers, subject to the rules and regulations of the state board of education. The board is authorized to provide for the professional growth of the teachers while in service, and to pass rules and regulations requiring teachers to coöperate with the county superintendent for the improvement of instruction in the classroom and for promoting community improvement; and the county board of education shall have authority to provide a smaller salary schedule for those teachers who do not conform to the rules and regulations authorized in this section. (1923, c. 136, s. 54.)

§ 5463. Pay of teachers.—The county board of education shall not authorize the payment of the salary of any teacher or school official for a shorter term than one month, unless he or she is providentially hindered from completing the term.

It is the duty of the county board of education to provide monthly for the prompt payment of all salaries due teachers and other school officials, and to meet other necessary operating expense. (1923, c. 136, s. 55.)

§ 5464. Authority to borrow.—If the taxes for the current year are not collected when the salaries and other necessary operating expenses come due, and the money is not available for meeting the necessary expenses, it shall be the duty of the county board of commissioners to borrow against the amount approved in the budget and to issue short-term notes for the amounts so borrowed. The interest on all such notes shall be provided by the commissioners in addition to the amount approved in the budget unless this item is specifically taken care of in the budget. But if the county board of education shall willfully create a debt that shall in any other way cause the expenses for the year to exceed the amount authorized in the budget, without the approval of the county commissioners, the indebtedness shall not be a valid obligation of the county, and the members of the board responsible for making the debt may be held liable for the same. (1923, c. c. 136, s. 56; 1927, c. 239, s. 18.)

See Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 141 S. E. 744, where it was held, under the facts and circumstances, that county commissioners were liable for a debt created under this section. See notes to § 5516.

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 18, the authority to borrow was changed from the board of education to the board of commissioners.

§ 5465. Salary schedule for teachers.—The state board of education shall adopt a uniform graduated salary schedule for all teachers, principals, supervisors, superintendents and assistant superintendents, based upon duties, training, experience, professional fitness, and continued service in the same school system.

The adopted salary schedule shall be a guide to county boards of education in fixing all salaries of teachers, supervisors, principals and superintendents in the county, and it shall be considered a fair salary schedule to be presented in the budget to the boards of county commissioners.

Every county board of education or the board of trustees of a city school system or of a union school in a special charter district may adopt a different salary schedule, but it likewise shall recognize a difference in salaries based on different duties, training, experience, professional fitness, and continued service in the same school system; but if any county board of education or the board of trustees of any city school system shall fail to adopt such a schedule, the state salary schedule shall automatically be in force, and the difference in salaries suggested shall be maintained. And the county superintendent shall not approve the voucher of any teacher for a salary higher than that provided in the salary schedule, unless by action of the county board of education or of the board of trustees of the city school a higher salary is allowed for special fitness, special duties or under extraordinary circumstances. Whenever a higher salary is thus allowed the minutes of the board shall show what salary is allowed and the reason for the same: Provided, the county board of education, upon the recommendation of the committee of a local tax district may authorize the committee and the superintendent to supplement the salaries of all teachers of the district from funds derived from local taxes, and the minutes of the board shall show what increase is allowed each teacher in each local tax district. (C. S. 5494, as amended and revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 57.)

§ 5466. How school funds shall be disbursed.— School funds under the control of the county board of education as referred to in this section are classified into three groups:

(1) Six months term school fund. Fund appropriated and expended for the constitutional six months school term. The county treasurer shall pay out said funds only on warrants signed by the chairman and secretary of the county board of education, and countersigned by such officer as the county government laws may require.

(2) County-wide extended term school fund. Funds appropriated and expended for the county-wide school term above the constitutional six months term. The county treasurer shall pay out of said funds only on warrants signed by the chairman and secretary of the County Board of Education and countersigned by such officers as the county government laws may require.

(3) Local district funds. Local taxes and other funds belonging to specific districts. The county treasurer shall pay out said funds only on warrants signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the County Board of Education, and countersigned by such officer as the county government laws may require. The County Board of Education shall issue no warrants chargeable against local district funds except in accordance with the adopted district fund budget, which budget shall have been sworn to by the Chairman and Secretary of the local district committee, and approved by the County Board of Education.

All salary warrants for teachers and principals and other regular employees shall be issued only on the basis of written monthly certification, signed by the chairman and secretary of the local district school committee and filed with the County Board of Education, which certification shall specify the length of service rendered by each person and the amount due and payable therefor; and said certification shall further specify that part of the total amount to be charged to the constitutional six months term funds, that part of the total amount to be charged to extended term funds, and that part of the total amount to be charged to district funds, as defined herein: Provided, that the County Board of Education, in case of dispute as to any claim, may in regular or called session finally determine the validity of said claim and order settlement thereof in accordance with their findings. Each warrant drawn in payment of any claim, including salaries or for any other purpose, shall specify the fund to which the warrant is chargeable. If any part of any warrant drawn is chargeable against district funds, the amount charged to local district funds and the district to which said amount is charged shall be specified. In the payment of salary warrants referred to in this section, the County Board of Education may require the teacher's report at the end of each month to be properly attested by the chairman and secretary of the local committee before issuing salary warrant: Provided, that the final report of membership and attendance from any district, whether by a teacher, principal, or superintendent, shall be subscribed and sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths, by such teacher, principal, or superintendent making said report, before the last warrant for salary or salaries in said district may be issued: and provided further, that the county superintendent of schools shall be authorized and directed to attest such signature and oath without fee or charge when so requested: Provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the county board of education from requiring that said warrants be signed by district officials, in addition to the county officials specified therein, if, in the opinion of said board, such procedure is desirable and practicable. (1923, c. 136, ss. 58, 197; 1927, c. 239, ss. 17, 20; 1931, c. 430, s. 17.)

Editor's Note. — This section was changed by the Public Laws 1927, so as to conform to the new budget plan. The Act of 1931 repealed this section and section 5617 and inserted the above in lieu thereof.

Art. 9. Erection, Repair and Equipment of School Buildings

§ 5467. School buildings necessary. — School buildings, properly lighted and equipped with suitable desks for children and tables and chairs for teachers, are necessary in the maintenance of a six-months school term. It shall be the duty of the county board of education to present these needs each year to the county commissioners, together with the cost, and the county commissioners shall be given a reasonable time to provide the funds which they, upon investigation, shall find to be necessary for the proper equipment of the county with buildings suitably equipped, and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to provide the funds for the same. (1923, c. 136, s. 59.)

The mode by which the counties of the State shall effectuate the constitutional mandate to provide for the constitutional six months term of school, Art. IX, sec. 3, is prescribed by this and subsequent statutes. Hickory v. Catawba County, 206 N. C. 165, 173 S. E. 56.

In accordance with the provisions of this section, it is the duty of the county commissioners, upon information being furnished by the county boards of education, to provide the funds necessary for suitable buildings and proper equipment, and such expenses are a county-wide charge. Reeves v. Board of Education, 204 N. C. 74, 167 S. E. 454.

§ 5468. Erection of schoolhouses. — The building of all new schoolhouses and the repairing of all old schoolhouses over which the county board of education has jurisdiction shall be under the control and direction of and by contract with the county board of education. But the board shall not be authorized to invest any money in any new house that is not built in accordance with plans approved by the state superintendent, nor for more money than is made available for its erection. All contracts for buildings shall be in writing, and all buildings shall be inspected, received, and approved by the county superintendent of public instruction before full payment is made therefor: Provided, this section shall not prohibit county boards of education and boards of trustees from having the janitor or any other regular employee to repair the buildings. From any moneys loaned by the State to any one of the several counties for the erection, repair or equipment of school buildings, teacherages and dormitories, the State Board of Education, under such rules as it may deem advisable, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, may retain an amount not to exceed fifteen per cent of said loan until such completed buildings, erected or repaired, in whole or in part, from such loan funds, shall have been approved by such agent as the State Board of Education may designate: Provided, that upon the proper approval of the completed building, the State Treasurer, upon requisition of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, authorized and directed by the State Board of Education, shall pay to the treasurer of the county the remaining part of said loan, together with interest from the date of the loan at a rate not less than three per cent on monthly balances. (C. S., 5415; 1923, c. 136, s. 60; 1925, c. 221.)

As to issuing bonds for building school houses, see sections 5669 et seq.

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925 c. 221, the last part of this section providing for holding and paying money loaned to counties for repair of school buildings, teacherages and dormitories, was added.

Power Discretionary.—The building of a school is a matter vested by the statute in the sound discretion of the county board of education and not to be restrained by the courts, unless in violation of some provision of law, see Rickler v. County Board, 149 N. C. 221, 62 S. E. 902, or unless the committee is influenced by improper motives, or there is misconduct on their part. See Smith v. School Trustees, 141 N. C. 160, 53 S. E. 524. Venable v. School Committee, 149 N. C. 120, 62 S. E. 902, 903.

Providing Electric Lights.—Under the general statutory authority of this article the erection of electric transmission lines to supply school buildings with electric lighting is given to the board of education of a county. Conrad v. Board, 190 N. C. 389, 130 S. E. 53. But contracts for such work are not within the meaning of this section and need not be in writing. Id. Nor need they be approved by the State Superintendent. Id.

§ 5469. How to secure suitable sites. — The county board of education or board of trustees of any special charter district may receive by gift or by purchase suitable sites for schoolhouses or other school buildings. But whenever any such board is unable to obtain a suitable site for a school or school building by gift or purchase, the board shall report to the county superintendent of public instruction, who shall, upon five days notice to the owner or owners of the land, apply to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land is situated for the appointment of three appraisers, who shall lay off by metes and bounds not more than ten acres, and shall assess the value thereof. They shall make a written report of their proceedings, to be signed by them, or by a majority of them, to the clerk within five days of their appointment, who shall enter the same upon the records of the court. The appraisers and officers shall serve without compensation. If the report is confirmed by the clerk, the chairman and the secretary of the board shall issue an order on the treasurer of the county school fund or if a charter district upon the treasurer of such charter district, in favor of the owner of the land thus laid off, and upon the payment, or offer of payment, of this order, the title to such land shall vest in fee simple in the corporation. Any person aggrieved by the action of the appraisers, including the county board of education or the board of trustees of any special charter district, may appeal to the superior court in term, upon giving bond to secure the board against such costs as may be incurred on account of the appeal not being prosecuted with effect. If the lands sought to be condemned hereunder, or any part of said lands, shall be owned by a nonresident of the state, before the clerk shall appoint appraisers therefor, notice to such nonresident owners shall be given of such proceedings to condemn, by publication for thirty days in some newspaper published in the county, and if no newspaper is published in the county, then by posting such notice at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county for the period of thirty days: Provided, where sites have already been acquired and additional adjacent lands are necessary such additional lands may be acquired as in this section provided, which lands, together with the old site, shall not exceed ten acres. (C. S. 5416; 1923, c. 136, s. 61; 1924, c. 121, s. 1; 1929, c. 309, ss. 1, 2.)

As to exercising power of eminent domain, see section 1706 and notes.

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws Ex. Sess. 1924, this section was made applicable to "board of trustees of any special charter district" where formerly it applied only to the county board of education.

The General Assembly amended this section, in March, 1929, by providing that "where sites have already been acquired and additional adjacent lands are necessary, such additional lands may be acquired as in this section provided, which lands, together with the old site, shall not exceed ten acres." Whether the act of 1929 was merely declaratory of the law then existing, or whether it was intended to confer an additional power of condemnation is now wholly immaterial and academic. Board of Education v. Pegram, 197 N. C. 33, 35, 147 S. E. 622.

Construing this section in connection with the former statutes giving the county board of education the power to condemn lands necessary for public school purposes within the limitation of ten acres, it is held, the fact that one of these schools had already acquired a less amount of land did not preclude the county board of education from acquiring by another proceeding sufficient lands to meet the enlarged and necessary requirements of the school for additional lands within the limitation imposed by statute. Board of Education v. Pegram, 197 N. C. 33, 147 S. E. 622.

The meaning of the word "site" as used in the statute is broad enough to embrace such land, not exceeding the statutory limit, as may reasonably be required for the suitable and convenient use of the particular building; and land taken for a playground in conjunction with a school may be as essential as land taken for the schoolhouse itself. 24 R. C. L., 582. See Board v. Forrest, 190 N. C. 753, 756, 130 S. E. 621, which presents an able review of the history of this section.

Right of Appeal.—The board of education does not come within the meaning of the words "party aggrieved" as contemplated by the statute. The right of appeal is open only to the person whose land has been taken. Board v. Forrest, 193 N. C. 519, 137 S. E. 431.

§ 5470: Repealed by Public Acts 1933, c. 494.

§ 5470(a). Sale of school property. — When in the opinion of the board, any schoolhouse, schoolhouse site or other public school property has become unnecessary for public school purposes, it may sell the same at public auction after advertising the said property for the period of time and in like manner as to places and publication in newspapers as now prescribed for sales of real estate under deeds of trust: Provided further, that the sale shall be reported to the office of the clerk of the superior court and remain open for ten (10) days for an increase bid, and if the said bid is increased the property shall be re-advertised in the manner as re-sales under deeds of trusts, and if there is no raised or increased bid within ten (10) days, the chairman and secretary of the board shall execute a deed to the purchaser, and the proceeds shall be paid to the treasurer of the county school fund. (1933, c. 494, s. 2.)

§ 5471. Deeds to property. — All deeds to the county board of education shall be registered and delivered to the clerk of the superior court for safe-keeping, and the secretary of the county board of education shall keep an index, by townships and school districts, of all such deeds in a book for that purpose. (C. S. 5422.) (1923, c. 136, s. 63.)

§ 5472. Board cannot erect or repair building unless site is owned by board.—The county board of education shall make no contract for the erection or repair of any school building unless the site on which it is located is owned by the county board of education, and the deed for the same is properly registered and deposited with clerk of the court. Provided, it shall be lawful for the county board of education to borrow from the State Literary or Special Building Funds for the benefit of special charter districts and to allocate the proceeds of the county school building bonds between special charter and county schools in proportion to the respective needs of the charter schools and the county schools at the time when such county bonds are authorized: Provided further, that the title to the site in any special charter district so aided shall be vested in the board of trustees of the charter district. (C. S. 5450; 1923, c. 136, s. 64; 1925, c. 180, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws, 1925, the last two sentences were added to this section.

Not Applicable to Electric Light Wires. — This section does not apply to the erection of electric light wires. It applies only to sites for school buildings; it does not extend to or include right of ways. Conrad v. Board, 190 N. C. 389, 395, 130 S. E. 53.

§ 5473. Duty of board to keep buildings in repair.—It is the duty of the county board of education to keep all school buildings in good repair, and to that end it should appoint a member of the committee or some other responsible person to care for the property during vacation. All principals and teachers shall be held responsible for the safekeeping of buildings during the school session, and all breakage and damage shall be repaired by those responsible for the same, and if at the end of the session the building or buildings have not been properly cared for by the principal and teachers, the board of education, upon the recommendation of the county superintendent, may reserve enough of the salary belonging to the principal and teachers to repair the damage permitted through the carelessness of the principal and teachers: Provided, principal and teachers shall not be held responsible for damages that they could not have prevented by reasonable supervision in the performance of their duties. (1923, c. 136, s. 65.)

§ 5474. Duty of board of education to provide equipment for school buildings.—It is the duty of the county board of education to provide suitable supplies for school buildings under its jurisdiction, such as window shades, fuel, chalk, erasers, blackboards, and other necessary supplies, and provide standard high schools with reference books, library, maps and equipment for teaching science, and the teachers and principal shall be held responsible for the proper care of the same during the school term. (1923, c. 136, s. 66.)

Cited in Board of Education v. Walter, 198 N. C. 325, 328, 151 S. E. 718.

§ 5475. Sanitary school privies. — The county board of education shall provide upon recommendation of the state board of health, two sanitary privies at each public school, one for boys and one for girls. Sanitary privies shall be considered an essential and necessary part of the equipment of each public school, and may be paid for in the same manner as desks and other essential equipment of the school are paid for, and a failure on the part of the county board of education and county superintendent to make provision for sanitary privies, or a failure on the part of the county commissioners to provide the funds, shall be considered a misdemeanor, and either the county board, the county superintendent, or the county commissioners may be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5753, 5754.) (1923, c. 136, s. 68.)

Specific or special legislative authority is given the county by this section and § 5479, to issue without a vote bonds for sanitary improvements for its schoolhouses necessary for it to maintain, as an administrative unit of the State, the constitutional school term in the county. Taylor v. Board of Education, 206 N. C. 263, 173 S. E. 608.

§ 5476. Type of privies to be installed. — The less expensive pit-type as recommended by the state board of health may be installed in rural districts in connection with the smaller school buildings. But the kind of privy in all buildings shall be sufficient to protect the health and sanitation of the children and the community. (1923, c. 136, s. 69.)

§ 5477. Privies to be kept sanitary. — The county board of education shall require of the committee that the privies shall be kept in a sanitary condition. They shall be governed in this particular by rules and regulations of the state board of health. And the county board of education shall provide a reasonable expense fund wherever necessary to keep the privies in a sanitary condition.

It shall be the duty of the teachers and principals to report the unsanitary condition of the privies to the committee of the district, or the county superintendent. (C. S. 5757, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 70.)

§ 5478. Use of school property. — It shall be the duty of the county board of education and board of trustees to encourage the use of the school buildings for civic or community meetings of all kinds that may be beneficial to the patrons of the community, and the county board of education or the board of trustees has authority to make rules and regulations governing the use of school property. (1923, c. 136, s. 71.)

§ 5479. Providing good water supply.—It shall be the duty of the county board of education to make such provisions as will give the teachers and pupils a good supply of wholesome water for the school term. (1923, c. 136, s. 72.)

See § 5475 and notes.

Art. 10. Creating and Consolidating School Districts

§ 5480. School districts.—The county board of education shall maintain in each county a convenient number of school districts. There may be one district for each elementary school or there may be two or more elementary schools in the same district. There may be one district for both the elementary and high school, or a special high school district may be created embracing two or more school districts. But no special high school district shall be created unless provisions are made for conducting all elementary schools and the high school in the proposed special high school district the same length of term. Whenever a special high school district is created embracing two or more elementary schools the committee, or board of trustees, of the district in which the high school is located shall have the same jurisdiction over the high school that it has over the elementary school.

There may be one district and one school committee for both races, or the races may have separate districts and separate school committees. The county board of education shall consult the convenience and necessities of each race in fixing the boundary line of school districts for each race, and it shall be the duty of the county board of education to record, in a book kept for the purpose, the location of each school district and the boundary lines of each. (1923, c. 136, s. 73.)

As to limitation on power of legislature to change lines of school districts, see Art. II, sec. 29 of the Constitution.

This Article Is Constitutional.—Sparkman v. Board, 187 N. C. 241, 121 S. E. 531, cited and approved in Blue v. Board, 187 N. C. 431, 122 S. E. 19.

When Court Will Intervene.—The courts will not interfere with the control and supervision of the county board of education in the exercise of its statutory discretion given in the formation of school district and their consolidation, or intervene in behalf of any one who supposes himself to be aggrieved by their action therein, except upon a clear showing that it was acting contrary to law, and then they will only restrain its action to the extent necessary to keep it within the law and the rightful exercise of its powers. Davenport v. Board, 183 N. C. 570, 112 S. E. 246.

§ 5481. County-wide plan of organization. — The county board of education shall create no new district nor shall it divide or abolish a district, nor shall it consolidate districts or parts of districts, except in accordance with a county-wide plan of organization, as follows:

1. The county board of education shall present a diagram or map of the county showing the present location of each district, the position of each, the location of roads, streams and other natural barriers, the number of children in each district, the size and condition of each school building in each county. The county board of education shall then prepare a county-wide plan for the organization of all the schools of the county. This plan shall indicate the proposed changes to be made and how districts or parts of districts are proposed to be consolidated so as to work out a more advantageous school system for the entire county.

2. Before adopting the county-wide plan, the county board of education shall call a meeting of all the school committeemen, and the boards of trustees and lay the proposed plan before them for their advice and suggestions. After receiving the advice of the committeemen and trustees, the county board of education shall have authority to adopt a county-wide plan or organization, and no districts or parts of any district, including non-local tax, and special charter districts, hereafter referred to in this article, shall be consolidated or the boundary lines changed, unless the consolidation or the change of boundary lines is in accordance with the adopted county-wide plan of organization: Provided, that in the event the county board of education deems it wise to modify or change the adopted plan, the board shall notify the committeemen and interested patrons and give them a hearing, if they desire to be heard, before any changes shall be made. The meeting required to be held before the adoption of the county-wide plan shall be called, and the notification required to be given of a contemplated modification or change of an adopted plan shall be given by publication once at least ten days before the meeting or the hearing in a newspaper published at the county-seat of a notice addressed to those affected thereby, giving the hour and day and place of the meeting or the hearing and the purpose thereof, and by mailing to or serving of like notice upon all committeemen and trustees.

If no newspaper be published in the county-seat, such notice shall be posted at the courthouse door and at a public place in each township in the county ten days prior to such meeting.

No adoption or amendment of such plan shall be held invalid or ineffectual because of any failure to comply with the requirement hereof as to the mailing or service of notice.

3. The county board of education shall have authority to execute the entire plan or any part of the same, but the county board of education shall have no authority to create a debt for the execution of any part of the proposed plan, unless authorized by law, and if the amount necessary to put into operation all or any part of said plan shall be greater than the amount that may be reasonably expected from the operating and equipment fund for this purpose, the amount shall be guaranteed by the districts affected by the execution of the plan, or if the districts do not guarantee the funds the county board of education shall lay the proposed plan before the county commissioners, together with the estimated amount necessary to put the same into operation, and if the amount necessary to carry out all or any part of the proposed plan shall be approved by the county commissioners, the county board of education shall then have the authority to organize the districts in accordance with the county-wide plan.

4. When the proposed county-wide plan is adopted the county board shall notify the committeemen and boards of trustees as to what part of the plan the board proposes to carry out first and in what order the other parts of the plan will be considered, and the preference shall be given to those districts in which the needs are greatest if the funds for providing the equipment are made available.

5. In the event that any child or children of any district or any part of a district are without adequate school advantages, and these advantages may be improved by transferring said child or children to a school or schools in adjoining districts, the county board shall have authority to make such a transfer. But this shall not empower the county board of education to abolish or divide a district unless such act shall be in harmony with the country-wide plan or organization. The temporary transfer of such child or children may be made until such time as the county-wide plan will provide more advantageously for them. (1923, c. 136, s. 73a; 1924, c. 121, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—At the Ex. Sess. of 1924 the provision as to the methods of giving notice was added at the end of paragraph two of this section. There was a curative provision ratifying certain bond elections passed by the Public Laws of 1927, c. 85.

Effect on Prior Laws.—This section expressly repeals all the former laws, including a provision in a special act providing that the school district therein created shall continue to be an independent school and shall have exclusive control of its public free schools. Causey v. Guilford County, 192 N. C. 298, 299, 135 S. E. 40.

Creation of District Enjoined.—Where it does not appear that the county-wide plan has been adopted, an order for an election which involves the creation of a new district, is in contravention of this section and a judgment injoining such election will be upheld. Howard v. Board, 189 N. C. 675, 127 S. E. 704, 706.

"County Wide Plan."—Where the "county wide plan" has been adopted there is created a "school district" to elections in which § 5639 is applicable, and not a "special school taxing district" to which sec. 5657 would apply. Harrington v. Board, 189 N. C. 572, 127 S. E. 577, 579.

Meeting Held in Advisory Capacity.—The provision as to notice is only for a meeting to be held in an advisory capacity not binding on the board, and when the statute has been complied with before the adoption of plans, the action of the board is final without further notice, when the provisions of the statutes on the subject have been complied with. Causey v. Guilford County, 192 N. C. 298, 135 S. E. 40.

Consolidation Upheld.—Where a county had adopted the county-wide plan or organization for its public schools, and its board of education has consolidated, in good faith, two contiguous school districts with regard to the convenience of those attending the schools of each, and with regard to their better school conveniences and instruction, and at a less cost of maintenance in the consolidation, so much will be upheld in our courts. Parker v. Debnam, 195 N. C. 56, 141 S. E. 535.

Evidence. — Facts found by the lower court that the consolidation of two contingent public school districts was made by the county board of education was under the provisions of this section, are supported by the evidence, and though the evidence is reviewable by the Supreme Court on appeal, the findings and conclusions of law thereon are presumed correct, and the burden is on the appellant to show error. Parker v. Debnam, 195 N. C. 56, 141 S. E. 535.

Maintenance of Elementary Schools.—Under this section and §§ 5483 and 5489 the Constitution requires by mandatory provision that at least one elementary school be maintained in each district. Elliott v. State Board of Equalization, 203 N. C. 749, 166 S. E. 918.

Cited in Sugg v. Debnam, 195 N. C. 23, 24, 141 S. E. 538.

§ 5482. Districts formed of portions of contiguous counties.—School districts may be formed out of portions of contiguous counties by agreement of the county boards of education of the respective counties. In case of the formation of such district, the pro rata part of the public school money due for teaching the children residing in one county shall be apportioned by the county board of education of that county, and paid to the treasurer of the other county in which the schoolhouse is located, to be placed to the credit of the school district so formed. (C. S. 5471.)

In case of a disagreement between the two county boards as to the pro rata part due the county in which the school is located, the evidence shall be laid before the state superintendent, who shall determine from the evidence submitted and from the approved budget for that school, on file in his office, the amount due, and the pro rata part of each county shall be certified to the county board of education of each county, and the county board of education of the county in which the joint school is located may recover by due process of law from the county board of education in the other county the amount due the joint school for the six months term from that county. (1923, c. 136, s. 74.)

§ 5483. Consolidation of schools or school districts.—The county board of education is hereby authorized and empowered to consolidate schools located in the same district and to consolidate school districts, over which the board has full control, whenever and wherever in its judgment the consolidation will better serve the educational interests of the county or any part of it: Provided, existing schools having suitable buildings shall not be abolished until the county board of education has made ample provisions for transferring all children of said school to some other school in the consolidated district. (C. S. 5473.) (1923, c. 136, s. 75.)

As to enlargement of local tax districts, see sections 5646 et seq.

Election Cannot Relate Back to Invalid Consolidation. — Where the consolidation of existing school districts with various rates of taxation attempted under the provisions of § 5646 is invalid, an election thereafter held under the provisions of this section as amended by Laws 1921, ch. 179, section 1, cannot relate back and validate the consolidation and the tax to be levied and bonds to be issued thereunder. Jones v. Board, 187 N. C. 557, 122 S. E. 290.

Consolidation of Districts with Same Tax Rate.—Under the old law, C. S. 5473, school districts, with the same tax rate, could be consolidated by the county board of education, without a vote of the people in the consolidated district. Board v. Bray Bros. Co., 184 N. C. 484, 115 S. E. 47; Paschal v. Johnson, 183 N. C. 129, 131, 110 S. E. 841. The powers conferred under C. S., 5473 have been enlarged and this section, as amended, is brought forward as section 75 of ch. 136, Public Laws 1923. Scroggs v. Board, 189 N. C. 110, 112, 126 S. E. 109.

Consolidation of Tax and Nontax Districts.—It is not necessary to the valid consolidation of nonspecial school tax districts with special school tax districts that it be approved by the voters of the nonspecial school tax districts, when the questions of taxation and bond issues are not involved, and especially so when the consolidation has been made according to the provisions of a Public-Local Law applicable to the county wherein the consolidation has been made. Board v. Bray Bros. Co., 184 N. C. 484, 115 S. E. 47.

Special school-tax districts, organized and exercising governmental functions in the administration of the school laws, are quasi-public corporations subject to the constitutional provisions in restraint of contracting debts for other than necessary purposes, except by the vote of the people of a given district, Const. Art. VII, § 7; and semble, that where an existent tax and nontax district are thereunder consolidated, it would require the submission of the question to those living within the district thus formed, but outside of the district that has theretofore voted the tax as provided in § 5646 for enlargement of local tax districts. Paschal v. Johnson, 183 N. C. 129, 110 S. E. 841; Barnes v. Leonard, 184 N. C. 325, 114 S. E. 325, 398.

The authority given the county board of education to re-district the entire county or part thereof, and to consolidate school districts, etc., was amended by Public Laws of 1921, ch. 179, providing, among other things, for such consolidation of existing districts under a uniform rate of taxation not exceeding the lowest in any one district, meets the requirements of our Constitution, Art. VII, § 7, but to the extent the amendatory statute permits consolidation of local school tax districts with adjacent territory or local schools that have never voted any tax, the provisions of § 5646, must apply so as to permit those living in such proposed new territory to vote separately upon the question of taxing themselves for the purpose. Perry v. Commissioners, 183 N. C. 387, 112 S. E. 6.

Issuance of Bonds.—Where there has been a valid consolidation of local-tax school districts, having an equal tax rate for the purpose, by proper proceedings under the statute the new district may then approve the question of an additional special tax, and where this has been done under the authority of a valid statute, and an issue of bonds properly approved by the voters, such bonds are constitutional and valid. Paschal v. Johnson, 183 N. C. 129, 110 S. E. 841.

§ 5484. Consolidating local tax districts having same rate of local tax.—The county board of education is authorized and empowered to consolidate two or more local tax districts, urban and rural, having the same rate of local tax, into one consolidated school district, upon satisfactory evidence furnished to the board that the convenience and best interests of the residents of the districts require the consolidation, except as provided in section 5487.

Wherever three or more local tax districts having the same rate of tax are contiguous or embrace contiguous area the county board of education is authorized to reduce the number of districts by changing the boundary lines and consolidating districts or portions of districts: Provided, the length of the term is not reduced and the efficiency of the school is not impaired, and that better educational advantages may result to the children of each district as a result of the consolidation. (1923, c. 136, s. 76.)

See notes to preceding section.

§ 5485. Consolidating districts having different local tax rates.—The county board of education is authorized to consolidate local tax districts having different local tax rates, but the local tax rate that may be levied in the consolidated district is the lowest tax rate voted in any of the districts which forms a part of the new consolidated district. (1923, c. 136, s. 77.)

Section Mandatory.—A school district composed of several consolidated districts cannot be maintained half taxing and half not taxing. Under this section the tax must be uniform, not matter if a part of the district wants tax and the other part does not. Bivins v. Board 187 N. C. 769, 122 S. E. 846.

§ 5486. Transferring families from non-local tax to local tax or special charter districts.—The county board of education may transfer from non-local tax territory to local tax or special charter districts an individual family or individual families who reside on real property contiguous to said local tax or special charter districts, upon written petition of the taxpayers of said family or families, and there shall be levied upon the property and poll of each individual so transferred the same tax as is levied upon other property and polls of said district. (C. S. 5478.) (1923, c. 136, s. 78.)

§ 5487. Changing the boundary lines of the special charter districts.—Upon the written petition of the governing body of the special charter district the county board of education is authorized to change the boundary line between special charter districts and local tax districts, and to consolidate local tax districts with a special charter district. But a record shall be made of the petition in the minutes of the governing body of the special charter district, and a record shall be made in the minutes of the county board of education, stating that the petition was received and the request was granted. Then the boundary line shall be changed and the consolidation made and properly recorded, and the new boundary line shall be clearly set forth in the minutes of both boards: Provided, that when the tax rates are not the same, only the lower rate of tax may be levied in the whole territory. (1923, c. 136, s. 79; 1925, c. 150.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925, c. 150, the last sentence providing for the lowest tax rate was added, and a former provision making a change possible only when the tax rate was the same, was omitted.

§ 5488. The funds shall be apportioned so as to encourage consolidation.—The apportionment of the state and county public school fund shall be administered so as to encourage consolidation of districts and the elimination of small schools or small districts, and the state board of education may refuse to apportion any part of the state fund to any school or district having an average daily attendance of less than fifteen pupils or to any new school or district created since January first, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, if the number of districts or the number of separate schools in a county has been increased thereby: Provided, that no district shall be abolished if the geographical conditions are such that the children of the district cannot be annexed to some adjoining district without seriously limiting the educational opportunities of the children of the district. (C. S. 5489.) (1923, c. 136, s. 80.)

§ 5489. Provision for transportation of pupils in consolidated districts.—Upon the consolidation of two or more school districts into one by the county board of education, the said county board is authorized and empowered to make provision for the transportation of pupils in the consolidated district that reside too far from the schoolhouse to attend without transportation.

An amount sufficient to cover the actual expense of such transportation of pupils may be included in the county school budget submitted to the board of county commissioners in May of each year, and when so included and approved by the commissioners it shall be deemed a necessary part of the operating expense of the schools, and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to provide the funds necessary therefor, in accordance with law. But nothing in this section shall prevent the county board of education from arranging with any district committee to pay a reasonable part of this expense.

The cost of trucks and automobiles and all necessary repairs and operating expenses shall be a legitimate item in the budget. (C. S. 5475, amended 1920.) (1923, c. 136, s. 81.)

§ 5490. School trucks and automobiles exempt from taxation. — All trucks or automobiles owned or controlled by the county board of education and used for transporting pupils to school or used by school nurses or home and farm demonstration agents, or county superintendents and supervisors, in the prosecution of their work, shall be exempt from taxation, but all such vehicles shall be duly registered in the office of the secretary of state: Provided, that the secretary of state, upon proper proof being filed with him that any motor vehicle for which license is herein required is owned by the state or any department thereof or by any county, township, city or town, or by any board of education, may collect not exceeding one dollar for the registration and numbering of such motor vehicle. (C. S. 5475.) (1923, c. 136, s. 82.)

Art. 10A. Creation of school districts

§ 5490(a). Manner.—It shall be lawful to create school districts, whether the same be enlargements of existing school districts or not, in the manner provided by this article. (1927, c. 131, s. 1.)

§ 5490(b). Composition of districts. — Such school districts, herein sometimes termed new districts, may comprise any part or all of one or more existing school districts including special charter school districts, which comprised districts and comprised parts of districts are herein sometimes termed component districts or component parts of districts: Provided, however, that no new district shall be created under this article, nor shall any division of an existing school district be made hereunder, except in accordance with a county-wide plan of organization of schools adopted under the provisions of the general law; and provided further, that the total number of school districts in the county shall not be increased thereby; and provided further, that no special charter district or part thereof shall be included in any new school district created under this act unless the governing body thereof, such governing body being in this article termed the Board of Trustees, shall consent thereto by resolution passed and recorded. (1927, c. 131, s. 2.)

§ 5490(c). Creation not effective until uniform tax rate and assumption of debt voted for.—The creation of any such new district may be ordered by the County Board of Education in accordance with such county-wide plan, but no such new district shall be deemed created or in existence unless and until a uniform tax rate and the assumption of existing debt shall be voted as hereinafter required. (1927, c. 131, s. 3.)

§ 5490(d). Call for election on local supplement tax; limit of tax rate. — Upon certification to the Board of County Commissioners, or in case the territory in which the vote is to be taken lies entirely within a city or town, upon certification to the governing body of such city or town such board or body shall call and hold an election for voting a local tax to supplement the funds provided for the maintenance of the minimum school term under the constitution, at which election there shall be submitted to the voters of the entire new district the question of whether a maximum rate of tax, which shall not exceed fifty cents (50c.) on the one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, shall annually be levied upon the entire district: Provided, however, that in lieu of submitting such question to the voters of the entire new district at one election, there may be submitted to the voters of any component district or districts or component part or parts of a district separately or in combination the question of whether there shall be levied annually upon such district, districts, part or parts, a maximum rate of tax at the same rate, not exceeding (50c.) on the one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, which was theretofore voted by any other component district or districts component part or parts of the new district. (1927, c. 131, s. 4.)

§ 5490(e). Elections on: Outstanding debts of component or partially component school districts.—At the same or at another election, the said board or body shall submit to the voters of the entire new district the question of whether the new district shall assume (a) the outstanding debt of every component school district and (b) the outstanding debt of every school district any part of which shall be a component part of the new district, or if any such debt was not incurred for permanent school improvements within the new district, such portion of such debt as the assessed valuation of taxable property in such component part bears to the assessed valuation of taxable property in the indebted district and (c) the outstanding city, town and town-ship debt incurred for permanent school improvements within the new district. The foregoing requirements for debt assumption shall not apply to any debt which a county has assumed or for the payment of which the General Assembly shall not have made other provisions. (1927, c. 131, s. 5.)

§ 5490(f). New registration.—A new registration of qualified voters may be ordered for the elections herein provided, and such registrations and elections shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the general law for the voting of local school taxes, except as herein otherwise provided, and the Australian Ballot Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven shall not apply thereto. (1927, c. 131, s. 6.)

§ 5490(h). Statement of vote on each question; authentication; delivery; record. — Such board or body shall prepare a statement showing the number of votes cast for and against each question submitted and the number of voters registered and declaring the result of the election, which statement shall be signed by a majority of the members of such board or body and delivered to the clerk thereof, who shall record it in the minutes of the board and file the original at his office and publish it once in a newspaper published in the State and circulating within the new district, which newspaper shall be one published in the new district, if one be there published, but otherwise shall be one published in the county, if one be published in the county. (1927, c. 131, s. 8.)

§ 5490(i). Rights of action or defense barred.— No right of action or defense founded upon the invalidity of the election shall be asserted, nor shall the validity of the election be opened to question in any court upon any grounds whatever, except in an action or proceedings commenced within thirty days after publication of such statement. (1927, c. 131, s. 9.)

§ 5490(j). Resolution passed and recorded by county board of education; contingencies. — If at such election or elections a maximum maintenance tax of the same rate shall have received the votes of a majority of the qualified electors in the entire new district, and if the assumption of all the indebtedness as herein required shall have received the votes of a majority of the qualified voters of the entire new district, the County Board of Education shall pass and record upon its minutes a resolution declaring that the new district shall come into existence upon a day to be named in such resolution not later than the first day of the next July. (1927, c. 131, s. 10.)

§ 5490(k). Definition of new district; law applicable.—If the new district shall embrace the whole of any special charter district, or if, embracing the whole of two or more special charter districts, the boards of trustees of such special charter districts shall, by recorded resolutions passed not later than the day upon which the new district shall come into existence as hereinbefore provided, agree upon one of such special charter districts as the district which shall be deemed enlarged, the new district shall be deemed an enlargement of such special charter district and shall be conducted and governed in accordance with the charter thereof and other laws applicable thereto. In all other cases the new district shall be a local tax district. In all new districts created under the terms of this article, the territory added thereto shall be entitled to representation on the governing board of said new district, but in no case shall said governing board be so increased to a total membership in excess of seven. (1927, c. 131, s. 11; 1931, c. 42, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the last sentence to this section.

§ 5490(l). Property vested; conveyance of property; record. — When the new district shall come into existence as hereinabove provided, all school property, real and personal within the same, except property maintained by the county for other than district purposes, the debt for which property has not been assumed by the new district shall automatically pass in the case of a new special charter district to the board of trustees thereof, and in the case of a local tax district, to the County Board of Education for the use of the district, but it shall nevertheless be the duty of all boards and bodies holding any such property to convey the same formally by deed and other proper conveyance and every such deed shall be promptly recorded. (1927, c. 131, s. 12.)

Where under the provisions of this section, several school districts have been included in an enlarged district, and certain property in the former districts is not necessary to be used for school purposes in the enlarged district and the trustees of the enlarged district have not assumed any debt on such property, under the express provisions of this section the title to such property remains in the county board of education. Mitchell v. Board of Education, 201 N. C. 55, 158 S. E. 850.

Cited in Hickory v. Catawba County, 206 N. C. 165, 173, 173 S. E. 56.

§ 5490(m). Creation heretofore attempted validated.—In all cases in which a new school district has been attempted to be created since January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, embracing a part or all of one or more existing school districts, such creation is hereby validated and ratified as of the date upon which such new district began to function as such, provided, such creation was in accordance with the county-wide plan of organization of schools adopted under the provisions of section seventy-three (a), chapter one hundred thirty-six, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, or in which although not in accordance with such county-wide plan, such county-wide plan was thereafter adopted or shall be adopted before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven with which plan such creation shall be in accord: Provided, however, that a majority of the qualified voters of such new district shall have heretofore voted or shall vote before the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight, for such levy of maintenance tax and such assumption of debt as are herein required to be voted for the creation of the new district; and in all such cases all new registrations of voters which were made for the purpose of any such elections made in substantial conformitory with the provisions of article seventeen, chapter one hundred thirty-six, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, are hereby validated and ratified, and all elections held throughout any such new district at which a majority of the voters therein have voted for the issuance of bonds are hereby validated and ratified. (1921, c. 131, s. 13.)

SUBCHAPTER IV. COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT'S POWERS, DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Art. 11. Election, Eligibility and General Duties

§ 5491. Election; term of office.—The county superintendent of public instruction shall be elected by the county board of education as soon as convenient on or after its first meeting in April. He shall hold his office for a term of two years from the date of his election and until his successor is elected and qualified. The county board of education shall provide the county superintendent with an office at the county-seat, and in the county courthouse, if possible. (C. S. 5424, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 83.)

For an act relating to the appointment of county superintendents by boards of education appointed by the legislature of 1933, see Public Laws 1933, c. 202. This act was amended by Public Laws of 1935, c. 144.

Constitutional Office.—The office created by this section is such an office as comes within the provision of Art. XIV, sec. 7, of the Constitution, which prohibits the holding of more than one office by any person. Whitehead v. Pittman, 165 N. C. 89, 80 S. E. 976.

§ 5492. Eligibility.—The County Superintendent shall be a person of good moral character, a college graduate, shall have had two years' successful experience in teaching, or its equivalent, and shall be a person of good business qualifications and executive ability—but this section shall not, in any way, change the requisites for any County Superintendent now eligible for office, but shall apply only to all incoming County Superintendents. No Superintendent shall be eligible to hold the office of County Superintendent who has an open or active infectious state of tuberculosis or any other contagious disease, and before any person is employed as Superintendent he shall secure a certificate from a reputable physician certifying he has not an open or active infectious state of tuberculosis or any other contagious disease. (C. S. 5424; 1923, c. 136, s. 83; 1929, c. 245, s. 18.)

§ 5493. Election reported to state superintendent. — Immediately after the election of the county superintendent of public instruction, the chairman of the county board of education shall report to the state superintendent of public instruction the name, address, experience, and qualifications of the person elected; and the person elected shall report to the state superintendent as soon as he shall have qualified, giving the date of such qualification. (C. S. 5429.) (1923, c. 136, s. 85.)

§ 5494. Not to teach; to reside in county.— Every county superintendent shall reside in the county of which he is superintendent. It shall not be lawful for him to teach a school while the public schools of his county are in session, nor shall he be regularly employed in any other capacity that may limit or interfere with his duties as superintendent. (C. S. 5426, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 86.)

§ 5495. Oath of office.—The county superintendent of public instruction, before entering upon the duties of office, shall take oath for the faithful performance thereof. (C. S. 5427.) (1923, c. 136, s. 87.)

§ 5497. Secretary to county board.—The county superintendent shall be ex officio the secretary of the county board of education. He shall record all proceedings of the board, issue all notices and orders that may be made by the board pertaining to the public schools, schoolhouses, sites, or districts (which notices or orders it shall be the duty of the secretary to serve by mail or by personal delivery, without cost.) He shall also record all school statistics. The records of the board and the county superintendent shall be kept in the office provided for that purpose by the board. (C. S. 5438.) (1923, c. 136, s. 89.)

§ 5498. Removal from office.—The county superintendent may be removed from office by the county board of education, for immoral or disreputable conduct, or for failure to perform the duties required of him by law. (C. S. 5443, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 90.)

§ 5499. Keeping record of all deeds.—All deeds to the county board of education shall be registered and delivered to the clerk of the superior court for safe keeping, and the secretary of the county board shall keep an index by townships and school districts of all such deeds in a book for that purpose. (C. S. 5422.) (1923, c. 136, s. 91.)

§ 5500. Report on condition of school buildings.—It shall be the duty of the county superintendent to inspect all school buildings or have them thoroughly inspected before the opening of school, and report their condition to the committee and to the county board of education, with such recommendations as will make them comfortable and sanitary. (1923, c. 136, s. 93.)

§ 5501. Attending meetings of state and district associations of superintendents. — Unless providentially hindered, the county superintendent shall attend continuously during its session the annual meeting of the state association of county superintendents and the annual meeting of the district association of county superintendents, and the county board of education of his county shall pay out of the county school fund his traveling expenses including board while in attendance upon such meeting. (C. S. 5436.) (1923, c. 136, s. 94.)

§ 5502. Reports to state superintendent.—The county superintendent shall make such reports to the state superintendent as are required by law. The state superintendent of public instruction shall have authority to call on the county superintendent for school statistics and for reports on any phase of the school work or school conditions of the county, and it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to supply the information promptly and accurately. (C. S. 5442, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 95.)

Art. 12. Duty of County Superintendent Toward Committeemen, Teachers and Principals

§ 5503. Notifying committeemen of their duties.—The county superintendent shall notify committees of the rules and regulations of the county board of education and their duties in the school district. He shall notify the committees, before the opening of the school, of the appropriation for teachers' salaries, incidental and building fund, the amount of the local tax fund due each district, the salary schedule in force in the county, the law governing the payment of all district funds, the duties of the committeemen in the care and use of school buildings, and all other duties that may be helpful in conducting the school in each district. (1923, c. 136, s. 97.)

§ 5504. Distributing blanks and books. — It shall be the duty of the county superintendent to distribute to the various school committees and to teachers of his county all blanks, registers, report cards, record books, bulletins, and all other supplies and information furnished by the state superintendent of public instruction, who shall give instruction for proper use of same. (C. S. 5439, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 98.)

§ 5505. Issuance of second or third grade county certificates.—The county superintendent may issue on examination second and third grade certificates to teachers only when it is impracticable for the county officials to secure teachers holding state certificates, but such certificates shall be merely permits to teach and shall be valid only in the county in which they are issued, and shall be valid for only one year, but may be renewed. (C. S. 5646, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 99.)

§ 5506. Keeping record of all teachers.—The county superintendent shall keep a record of all teachers employed in the county, the kind of certificate held by each teacher, the length of service, success as a teacher, and the salary allowed by the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 100.)

§ 5507. Approving selection of all teachers.—No election of a principal, supervisor, teacher, assistant, or supply teacher shall be deemed valid until such election has been approved by the county superintendent. And he shall not approve the election of a teacher for a longer period than one year, and no teacher shall be employed by a committee or approved by a county superintendent who is under eighteen years of age. And no superintendent shall approve the selection of any teacher or principal for a given school year who has willfully broken his or her written contract with some other superintendent for that year: Provided, a teacher shall have the right to resign her position after giving thirty days notice: Provided further, the superintendent shall not approve the selection of a teacher holding a second or third grade certificate unless it is impracticable to secure a resident teacher who holds a higher certificate. (C. S. 5664, 5665, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 101.)

§ 5508. Approving dismissal of teacher.—No teacher shall be dismissed by the committee until charges have been filed in writing with the county superintendent and approved by him: Provided, either the teacher or the committee may appeal to the county board of education. (C. S. 5661, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 102.)

§ 5509. Administering oaths to teachers.—The county superintendent shall have authority to administer oaths to teachers and all subordinate school officials when an oath is required of the same. (C. S. 5434.) (1923, c. 136, s. 103.)

§ 5510. Advising with teachers, principals and supervisors.—The county superintendent shall advise with teachers, principals, and supervisors as to the best methods of instruction, school organization and school government, and to that end he shall keep himself informed as to the progress of education, both in his own county and in other counties, cities, and states. And teachers, principals, and supervisors shall coöperate with him in putting into use the best methods of instruction, school organization and school government. (C. S. 5432, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 104.)

§ 5511. Visiting schools.—The county superintendent shall be required to visit each public school of his county at least twice while the schools are in session. He shall inspect school buildings and grounds in order to advise committeemen and county board of education as to the physical needs of the school, and he shall inform himself of the condition and needs of the several districts of his county. (C. S. 4534.) (1923, c. 136, s. 105.)

§ 5512. Holding teachers' meetings. — The county superintendent shall hold each year such teachers' meetings as in his judgment will improve the efficiency of the instruction in school. He may, with the coöperation of the supervisors or principals, outline reading courses for teachers and organize the teachers into special study groups, and, if necessary, not exceeding three school days may be set apart for this purpose. (C. S. 5435, revised.)

If a superintendent shall fail to advise with his teachers and to provide for the professional growth of his teachers while in service, the state superintendent shall notify the county board of education, and, after due notice, if he shall fail to perform his duties in this respect, either the county board of education may remove him from office or the state board of education may revoke his certificate. (1923, c. 136, s. 106.)

§ 5513. May suspend teachers. — The county superintendent shall have authority to suspend any teacher who shall fail, or who may be incompetent, to give instruction in accordance with the directions of the superintendent, or who shall willfully refuse to coöperate in teachers' meetings: Provided, any teacher who may be suspended by the superintendent may have the right to appear either to the county board of education or to the courts. (C. S. 5432, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 107.)

§ 5514. Director of summer schools. — The county superintendent shall have general direction of the county summer school for teachers of his county: Provided, the county board of education, upon the recommendation of the state superintendent of public instruction, may elect a special director of the county summer school and provide his compensation out of funds appropriated for summer schools. (1923, c. 136, s. 109.)

§ 5515. Illegal to keep in service teacher without a certificate.—It shall be unlawful for any board of trustees or school committee that receives any public school money from the county, state, or district, to keep in service any teacher, superintendent, principal, supervisor, or assistant superintendent that does not hold a certificate in compliance with law.

The county, city or union school superintendent or other officials are forbidden to approve any voucher for salary of any person kept in service in violation of the provisions of this section, and the treasurer of the county, town, or city schools is hereby forbidden to pay out of the school fund the salary of any such person: Provided, that nothing herein shall prevent the employment of temporary substitutes or emergency teachers under such rules as the county board of education may prescribe. (C. S. 5656.) (1923, c. 136, s. 110.)

§ 5516. Contracts with teachers.—No contract entered into between a school committee or board of trustees and a teacher shall be valid until the contract is approved and signed by the superintendent. The contract shall show the salary allowed and such rules and regulations governing teachers in school as the county board of education or board of trustees may direct. No voucher for the salary of a teacher shall be signed by the superintendent unless a copy of the contract has been filed with him. Wherever a teacher has been employed under contract as herein provided, and afterward is reëlected to the same or similar position and no new contract is entered into, the old contract shall be deemed valid. (C. S. 5664, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 111.)

When the board of trustees of a school district recommends public school teachers for the ensuing term of schools to the county superintendent of education, his contracts with teachers so recommended, made in accordance with the provisions of the statute relating thereto becomes a binding obligation upon the county commissioners when approved by it, and is in conformity with the budget of the county board of education, or when it is later approved by the county board of commissioners under the provisions of the statute. Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 141 S. E. 744.

When there is one month for which the teachers of a school district have not been paid in accordance with their contracts of employment, and from the sum total of the approved budget of the board of education there remains a sufficiency to pay them, the board of county commissioners is liable for its payment, the statute not requiring the approval of the county commissioners for each separate item of the school budget. Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 141 S. E. 744.

§ 5517. How teachers shall be paid.—When a teacher is properly elected and contract has been properly signed and deposited as required by law vouchers may be presented each school month to the county superintendent signed by at least two members of the committee. When presented the superintendent shall approve the same by countersigning it, and when presented to the treasurer it shall be promptly paid, and it shall be the duty of the county board of education to provide the funds for the prompt payment of teachers' salaries, and it shall be the duty of the county board of education to provide a convenient means for securing the signature of the members of the committee to the teachers' vouchers.

In all union schools the principal of the school may present monthly pay rolls in duplicate of all teachers, signed by two members of the committee. The superintendent may countersign the pay roll, and when presented to the treasurer he shall issue a check on the county fund for the salary of and payable to each teacher: Provided, the county superintendent shall keep in his office a duplicate of the pay roll approved by him. (C. S. 5664, 5669, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 112.)

Approval of Vouchers.—Mandamus is the proper action to compel a superintendent to approve a teacher's voucher. The claim is not a money demand. If there are any reasons why the vouchers should not be signed they are matters to be heard by the court, but the signing by the superintendent is a mere ministerial duty. Ducker v. Venable, 126 N. C. 447, 35 S. E. 818.

§ 5518. When superintendent may withhold pay of teachers.—The county superintendent may refuse to sign the salary voucher for the pay of any teacher, supervisor or principal who delays or refuses to render such reports as are required by law. But whenever the reports are delivered in accordance with law the vouchers shall be signed and teachers paid. (C. S. 5667, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 113.)

§ 5519. Schools receiving public funds required to report.—All teachers and principals in schools under the control of the county board of education shall be required to make to the county superintendent such reports as the county board of education may direct. But the superintendent of any city school or the superintendent or principal of any union school in a special charter district shall make such reports to the state superintendent of public instruction as are required by him, and a copy of all such reports shall be sent to the county superintendent. (C. S. 5383, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 114.)

§ 5520. Reporting defective children. — It shall be the duty of the superintendent to report through proper legal channels the names and addresses of parents, guardians or custodians of deaf, dumb, blind, and feeble-minded children to the principal of the institution provided for each, and upon the failure of the county superintendent to make such reports he shall be fined five dollars for each child of the class mentioned above not so reported. (C. S. 5567, 5571.) (1923, c. 136, s. 117.)

Art. 13. Duty of County Superintendent in Regard to School Funds

§ 5521. Duty in preparing school budgets. — The county superintendent shall keep the records of his office in such detail and in such an orderly way that the information for the budgets required by law may be prepared promptly, and he shall see that the budgets are prepared promptly and accurately, and he shall so keep the records in his office so that any county official or citizen of the county may, upon request, see what the school in each district is costing, and what the total cost is to the county. It shall be his duty to sign all budgets and to take oath that the information contained therein is correct. (1923, c. 136, s. 118.)

§ 5522. Duty to keep complete record of finances. — The county superintendent shall keep in his office a complete record of the school finances of the county, what is appropriated to each district, and the division of the funds between the county and the city, the amount of loans from state and dates of payment, the amount of bond issues in each district, the rate of interest, date of payment, and he shall so keep his records that the school accounts may be audited with the least expense to insure a complete audit in accordance with law, and if he shall fail to keep the records of the acts of the county board of education so that they may be audited in accordance with law, the county board of education may remove him from office. (1923, c. 136, s. 119.)

§ 5523. Record of local taxes. — The county superintendent shall keep in his office a record of all local tax, special charter and special school taxing districts in his county, the boundaries of each, the number of taxable polls, and the valuation of the taxable property and the special tax rate voted and levied for schools. On or before September first of each year he shall supply the county treasurer with a complete list of all such districts, and the estimated amount of tax to be collected in each district.

The treasurer shall keep a separate account of each such district, and no part of any funds belonging to one district shall be used for any other district, or for any other purpose than to meet the lawful expenses of such district to which the funds collected belong. And no funds derived from local or special taxes shall be paid out by the treasurer except on properly executed order signed by the county superintendent, and if the treasurer shall fail to perform his duties as outlined in this section, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 136, s. 120.)

§ 5524. Record of fines, forfeitures, and penalties.—It shall be the duty of the county superintendent to keep a record of all fines, forfeitures and penalties due the school fund, and to this end all county officials that in any way handle such funds shall on demand report the same to the county superintendent; and he shall see that these funds are deposited with the treasurer and placed to the credit of the school fund. (C. S. 5437, 5497, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 121.)

§ 5525. Disbursement of funds.—It is the duty of the county superintendent to approve and sign all vouchers for the disbursement of all district funds except the funds belonging to special charter districts, for the payment of which special provisions are made by law. And the treasurer shall honor no voucher that is not first approved and signed by the county superintendent or the secretary of the board of education. And no order shall be signed by the county superintendent or the secretary of the board for more money than is apportioned to and raised by local or special taxes in that district for the fiscal year. Nor shall he endorse the order of any teacher who does not produce a certificate as required by law, nor for more money than the salary schedule in force in the county would entitle the teacher to receive.

It shall be the duty of the county superintendent or the secretary of the board to sign all vouchers issued by order of the county board of education and signed by the chairman of the board, and no voucher shall be paid by the treasurer that is not properly signed. (C. S. 5450, 5466, 5656, 5669, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 122.)

When Treasurer's Duty to Honor.—The treasurer of the school fund can not pay out any of the money coming into his hands as such except upon the order of the secretary of the county board of education and approved by the county superintendent. See County Board v. County of Wake, 167 N. C. 114, 116, 83 S. E. 257.

SUBCHAPTER V. SCHOOL COMMITTEES —THEIR DUTIES AND POWERS

Art. 14. In Non-Local Tax Districts

§ 5526. Number and term of office.—There shall be in each non-local tax school district a school committee, consisting of three persons, appointed by the county board of education. The term of office shall be three years or until their successors are elected and qualified, and the members shall be so elected that one shall retire each year. (C. S. 5457, 5458, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 123.)

§ 5527. When elected.—The county board of education at its first meeting in April of each year, or as soon thereafter as convenient, shall appoint one member of the school committee in place of the member whose term has expired. If a vacancy shall occur at any time by death, resignation, or otherwise, the county board shall fill such vacancy. (C. S. 5457, 5460, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 124.)

§ 5528. Eligibility. — Each school committeeman shall be a person of intelligence, of good moral character, and of good business qualifications, and known to be in favor of public education. (C. S. 5461.)

In all Indian schools authorized by law the committeemen may be selected from Indians residing in the district. (C. S. 5547.) (1923, c. 136, s. 125.)

§ 5529. Oath of office.—Each school committeeman before entering on the duties of office shall take oath for the faithful performance thereof, and this oath may be taken before the county superintendent. (C. S. 5433 and 5459.) (1923, c. 136, s. 126.)

§ 5530. Dismissal for cause. — In case the county superintendent shall have evidence at any time that any member of any school committee is not capable of discharging the duties of his office, or is not discharging his duties, he shall bring the matter to the attention of the county board of education, which shall thoroughly investigate the charges, and shall remove such committeeman and appoint his successor, if sufficient evidence shall be produced to warrant his removal and the best interests of the schools demand it. (C. S. 5414.) (1923, c. 136, s. 127.)

§ 5531. Committeemen cannot teach.—No person while serving as a member of any district committee shall be eligible to be elected as a teacher of any public school, or as a member of the county board of education, and should such person be elected to teach in any public school or private school receiving public funds or as a member of the county board of education before resigning as a member of the district committee said election is hereby declared null and void. (C. S. 5663.) (1923, c. 136, s. 128.)

§ 5532. Organization of committee. — The school committee, at their first meeting after the membership has been completed by the county board of education, shall elect from their number a chairman and secretary, and shall keep a record of their proceedings in a book to be kept for that purpose. The name and address of the chairman and secretary shall be reported to the county superintendent and recorded by him. (C. S. 5463.) (1923, c. 136, s. 129.)

§ 5533. How to employ teachers.—The school committee shall have authority to employ teachers only on the recommendation of the county superintendent. The committee shall meet at a convenient time and place for this purpose, and no teacher shall be employed by any committee except at regularly called meetings of such committee. No election of any teacher or assistant teacher shall be deemed valid until such election has been approved by the county superintendent, and no contract for teachers' salaries shall be made during any year to extend beyond the term of a majority of the committee, nor for more money than accrues to the credit of the district for the fiscal year during which the contract is made. (C. S. 5661, 5662, 5664, 5665, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 130.)

Period of Employment.—A school committee under an act regulating common schools (Rev. Code, chapter 66), had no authority to employ a teacher for a period extending beyond the time when their office expires. Taylor v. School Committee, 50 N. C. 98.

Personal Liability of Committeeman.—In Robinson v. Howard, 84 N. C. 152, it was held that a school committeeman was not liable personally on a contract by which he employed a teacher, and that the remedy was by mandamus to compel the payment of the money by the proper officer in the way provided by law. If, though the act is wrongful and malicious, an action will lie against the officer in his personal capacity to recover damages for the wrong committed by him. Spruill v. Davenport, 178 N. C. 364, 365, 100 S. E. 527.

Evidence.—Under the provisions of this section, refusal of the county superintendent to approve the election of a teacher on the ground that he did not have sufficiently high certificates as a teacher and that his election as a teacher would not be for the best interests of the school will not sustain the finding of the trial judge that the refusal of the county superintendent of schools to approve the election was arbitrary, captious and without just cause, and a mandamus to cause his approval is improvidently issued by the lower court. Cody v. Barrett, 200 N. C. 43, 156 S. E. 146.

Cited in Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 215, 141 S. E. 744.

§ 5534. When teachers may be suspended.—The school committee shall have authority to suspend or dismiss teachers who may be guilty of any immoral or disreputable conduct or who may be incompetent to discharge efficiently the duties of a public school teacher or who may be persistently neglectful of such duties, but no teacher shall be dismissed until charges shall have been filed in writing with the county superintendent. And the county superintendent shall give the teacher at least five days notice, in which time he or she shall have the opportunity to appear before the committee of the district in which the teacher is teaching. And after a full and fair hearing the action of the committee, if it has the approval of the county superintendent, shall be final: Provided, the teacher shall be given the right to appeal to the county board of education. (C. S. 5432, 5661.) (1923, c. 136, s. 131.)

Liability of Committee.—It is the duty of the committee of a school district, under the statute, to dismiss a teacher of the public schools therein who has not been legally appointed, according to the statute, and no damages are recoverable against the individual members when in the exercise of this rightful power they act accordingly, whether their motives were bad or otherwise. Spruill v. Davenport, 178 N. C. 364, 100 S. E. 527.

§ 5535. Minimum term for which teacher can be paid.—The committee shall not approve the voucher of a teacher for compensation for a shorter term than one month, unless the teacher is providentially hindered from completing the term. (C. S. 5668.) (1923, c. 136, s. 132.)

§ 5536. How teachers shall be paid.—In paying teachers the committee shall give an order on the treasurer of the county school fund, payable to such teacher, for the full amount due for services rendered. Orders on the treasurer shall be valid when signed by two members of the committee and countersigned by the county superintendent. (C. S. 5450, 5669.)

If a committeeman shall refuse or fail to sign a teacher's voucher or order for salary the county board of education, for good and sufficient reason, may order the voucher paid, and the treasurer shall honor such a voucher if it is signed by the chairman and secretary of the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 133.)

§ 5537. Power to contract with private schools.—In any school district where there may be a private school regularly conducted for at least six months in the year, unless it is a sectarian or denominational school, the school committee with the approval of the county superintendent may contract with the teacher of such private school to give instruction to all pupils of the district between the ages of six and twenty-one years in the branches of learning taught in the public schools, as prescribed by law, without charge to pupils and free tuition. The amount paid such private school for each pupil in the public school branches, based on the average daily attendance, shall not exceed the regular tuition rates in such school for branches of study. (C. S. 5610 and 5615.) (1923, c. 136, s. 135.)

§ 5538. Powers as to school property.—The school committee shall be entrusted with the care and custody of all schoolhouses, schoolhouse sites, grounds, books, apparatus, or other school property in the district, with full power to control same, as they may deem best for the interest of the public schools and the cause of education, not in conflict with the rules and regulations governing school property adopted by the county board of education: Provided, if the committee is unable or shall fail to take due care of the schoolhouse and to protect all property belonging to it, the county board of education may designate some responsible citizen of the district to have special charge of the property during vacation. (C. S. 5464 revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 136.)

Cited in Wiggins v. Board of Education, 198 N. C. 301, 302, 151 S. E. 730.

§ 5539. Powers as to purchase of supplies.—The committee shall have authority to purchase the supplies necessary for conducting the schools and for repairs, to an amount not to exceed in the aggregate the sum apportioned for this purpose by the county board of education in any one year. But nothing in this section shall be so construed as to give school committees the right to make expenditures without the order of the county board. (C. S. 5466.) (1923, c. 136, s. 137.)

§ 5540. Reports to board on schoolhouses and school property.—The school committee shall make such reports to the county board of education as the board may deem necessary. (C. S. 5468, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 138.)

§ 5541. Superintendent and committee to keep records of receipts, expenditures and contracts.—The county superintendent shall keep by districts an itemized statement of all moneys apportioned to such district, the amount received and expended by each committee for each school, and a copy of all contracts made by them with teachers. It is the duty also of the committee to keep up with the funds of the district. It should know what the budget for the district contains, in order to know how much money is available and how it is spent. It is their duty to know the salary schedule and the limitations placed on committeemen in making contracts with teachers. It is illegal for committeemen to employ teachers at a salary higher than that contained in the authorized salary schedule; therefore, when the May budget is submitted it is the duty of each committeeman to examine it carefully to see how much money is allowed for teachers' salaries, and how many and what grade of teachers may be employed with the money allowed in the budget. (C. S. 5438, 5476, 5664, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 139.)

§ 5542. Disbursements of district funds.—Every order for the payment of money for repairs, school furnishing, supplies, or for any purpose whatsoever, the contract or order for which having been given by the school committee, before it shall be a valid voucher for the county treasurer, shall be signed first by at least two members of the school committee, then by the county superintendent. (C. S. 5450.) (1923, c. 136, s. 140.)

§ 5543. Caring for sanitation of school grounds.—The district committeemen are required to keep the school privies in a sanitary condition, and the committee shall be governed in this particular by recommendations of the state board of health.

Failure of the committeemen to keep privies at public schoolhouses in proper sanitary condition or a failure to notify the county board of education of their unsanitary condition shall be considered a misdemeanor and shall subject them severally and personally to fine and imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5757, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 141.)

§ 5544. Providing good water supply.—It is the duty of the school committeemen to see that the schools have good water supply, and wherever a school is without a good water supply it is the duty of the committee to report the condition to the county superintendent before and even after the opening of school, and it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to present the need to the county board of education, and it shall be the duty of the county board of education to make such provision as will give the teachers and children a good supply of wholesome water. (1923, c. 136, s. 142.)

§ 5545. Obeying orders of sanitary committee or board of health.—It shall be the duty of teachers, principals, superintendent, committee, and all other governing boards having authority over the maintenance, support, and conduct of a public school to obey the rules and regulations of the sanitary committee or board of health for the protection of health in the district. (1923, c. 136, s. 143.)

Art. 15. Duties and Powers of Committeemen in Local Tax Districts

§ 5546. How elected.—Committeemen in local tax districts, created by and under the control of the county board of education, shall be elected by the county board of education, and they shall be subject to the same laws and the same rules and regulations of the county board of education as those governing the acts of the committeemen in non-local tax districts, and they shall be subject to such other laws as may hereafter be provided. (C. S. 5514, 5536, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 144.)

§ 5547. Number of committeemen in local tax districts.—The county board of education may in its discretion elect not less than three nor more than five members to serve as committeemen in local tax districts. The term of office of each shall be for three years, but shall be so arranged that a majority of the board shall not retire in any one year, except as a result of death, resignation, or removal for cause. (C. S. 5514, 5536, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 145.)

§ 5548. Joint employment of superintendent or principal by districts in cities and towns.—By and with the consent of the county board of education the governing board of two or more local tax or special charter districts, including any city or town, may, by a majority vote of the committee in each district, employ a superintendent of the public schools of such districts, and he shall perform all the duties of the county superintendent of public instruction as to such districts, and shall make to the county superintendent all reports that may be necessary to enable him to make his reports to the state superintendent: Provided, the teacher so employed shall hold or shall be entitled to hold a superintendent's certificate; and provided further, the combined schools under the jurisdiction of the superintendent employed shall be large enough to rank as a city school or a union school of sufficient size to entitle the authorities to employ a superintendent. If the two districts do not employ as many as twenty teachers, a principal may be employed in the same manner provided in this section for the employment of a superintendent. (C. S. 5431, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 146.)

§ 5549. Money derived from local taxes.—All moneys derived from local taxes shall, upon collection, be placed to the credit of the committee of the district.

The county superintendent shall keep in his office a record of all tax school districts in his county, the boundaries of each, the number of taxable polls, and the valuation of the taxable property and the special tax rate voted and levied for schools. On or before September first of each year he shall supply the committee of the district with the estimated amount of taxes to be collected in the district, and the balance or deficit from the preceding year.

The treasurer shall keep a separate account of each such district, and no part of any funds belonging to the district shall be used for any other district, or for any other purpose than to meet the lawful expenses of the local tax district to which the funds collected belong. And no local tax district funds shall be paid out by the treasurer except on properly executed order signed by the committee and the county superintendent; and if the treasurer shall fail to perform his duties as outlined in this section, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5449, 5514, 5536, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 147.)

§ 5550. Duty of sheriff or tax collector.—It shall be the duty of the sheriff or the tax collector in collecting the taxes of local tax districts to keep the funds of each district separate from all other funds, and when public school funds are deposited with the treasurer, the sheriff or tax collector shall specify which funds belong to local tax districts and to what district the local tax funds belong. (1923, c. 136, s. 148.)

§ 5551. How special tax funds are paid out.—Orders on the treasurer shall be valid when signed by two members of the committee and countersigned by the county superintendent. It shall be illegal for the county superintendent or the county board of education to use any of local tax funds for any purpose except for the support, maintenance, and permanent improvement of the school within the district in which the tax is collected: Provided, that if in the opinion of the local committee and the County Board of Education the schools could be organized on a more economical basis by transferring the pupils in the upper grades to an adjoining local tax district such part of the local taxes accruing in any such local tax district as may be deemed fair may be used in the adjoining district to pay the instructional cost of the children so transferred. (C. S. 5536, 5669, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 150; 1929, c. 225, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1929 added the proviso to this section.

§ 5552. How to determine rate of local tax to be levied in district.—It is the duty of the committee to advise with the county board of education as to the rate of local taxes to be levied in the district, and upon a petition signed by a majority of the school committee of any local tax district and approved by the county board of education, the board of county commissioners shall increase or reduce, according to the desires of the petitioners, the tax levy in said local tax district or special charter district: Provided, the rates shall not be increased beyond the maximum rate voted by the people, nor shall it be reduced below the minimum rate voted. (1923, c. 136, s. 152.)

§ 5553. Committee may provide for transportation of pupils.—Upon the consolidation of two or more local tax districts, the county board of education has the authority to provide transportation for six months out of the general county fund. The cost of transportation for the remainder of the term shall be paid out of the local tax funds: Provided, the trucks may be owned and controlled by the county boards of education. (C. S. 5475, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 153.)

§ 5554. Loans to districts for building schoolhouses.—The county board of education may make loans for the erection of schoolhouses to local tax, special charter or special school taxing districts, but all such loans shall be made upon written petition of a majority of the committee of the local tax or board of trustees of special charter district, and said petition shall authorize the county board of education to deduct a sufficient amount from the local taxes or the county fund due said district to meet the payments as they come due. If the loan is made without a written petition from the committee or the board of trustees, the county board of education shall have no lien upon the local taxes for the repayment of the loan. (C. S. 5675, amended.) (1923, c. 136, s. 156.)

§ 5555. How special charter district may become local tax district.—The authorities of a special charter district may have the charter repealed, and the district may become a local tax district in the following manner: The board of trustees of a special charter school may petition the county board of education to assume full jurisdiction of the special charter district, and the county board of education shall grant the petition. Thereupon, the board of trustees of the special charter school shall convey by deed the title to all school property of whatsoever kind to the county board of education. When the deed is recorded in the name of the county board of education, the special charter is hereby repealed, and the special charter district by that act shall become a local tax district, and shall be governed as all other local tax districts are governed. The term of office of each member of the board of trustees of the special charter school shall expire with the transfer of the property, and a district committee shall be elected in accordance with law by the county board of education.

If the board of trustees of the special charter district shall refuse to act, then one-fourth of the freeholders of a special character district may petition the county board of education for an election to ascertain the will of the people on the question of repealing the charter and becoming a local tax district. If the county board of education shall approve the petition, it shall be presented to the board of county commissioners, which shall call an election of the votes in the special charter district. The laws governing this election shall be the same as the laws governing a local tax election. Those in favor of repealing the charter shall vote a ballot "For repeal of charter," and those against repeal shall vote a ballot "Against repeal of charter." If a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of repeal, the district shall become a local tax district, and the property shall be transferred by the board of trustees to the county board of education.

The provisions of this section shall in no wise affect the authority to levy local taxes theretofore voted by the people of the district, but the same shall remain in full force and effect, notwithstanding the repeal of the charter. Nor, shall the provisions of this section affect the validity of the bonded indebtedness of any special charter or incorporated district. The same shall be and remain a charge upon all the taxable property of said district in as full and ample manner as it was before the repeal of the charter. (1923, c. 136, s. 157.)

As to enlarging Special Charter districts, see section 5646.

In General.—Special charter districts do not as a rule come within the compulsory regulations of the public school authorities unless and until they have surrendered their special charter according to the provisions of this section. Blue v. Board, 187 N. C. 431, 434, 122 S. E. 19.

Liability for Past Indebtedness.—Where a special school district with an existing indebtedness has been included in the creation of a larger district, the formation of the new district without provision therefor in effect retains the indebtedness only on the special district incorporated therein, and is valid under our general statutes on the subject, the old district for the purpose of paying the indebtedness becoming a local tax district. Causey v. Guilford County, 192 N. C. 298, 135 S. E. 40.

SUBCHAPTER VI. TEACHERS AND PRINCIPALS

Art. 16. Their Powers, Duties and Responsibilities

§ 5556. Health certificate required for teachers.—Any person serving as county superintendent, city superintendent, teacher, janitor, or any employee in the public schools of the state shall file in the office of superintendent each year, before assuming his or her duties, a certificate from the county physician, or other reputable physician of the county, certifying that the said person has not an open or active infectious state of tuberculosis, or any other contagious disease.

The county physician shall make the aforesaid certificate on a form supplied by the state superintendent of public instruction, and without charge to the person applying for the certification, and any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5659.) (1923, c. 136, s. 159.)

§ 5557. How to apply for a position.—It is the duty of teachers, in making application for a position to teach, first to file the application with the superintendent, stating the kind and the number of the certificate held, when the certificate expires, experience in teaching, the position last held, and a statement that the applicant has no contageous disease. The application should also state that the applicant, if elected, will not break the contract, without the approval of the superintendent who approved the contract, without giving at least thirty days notice, and that he or she will observe the rules and regulations adopted by the board of trustees or the county board of education under whose jurisdiction he or she is employed to teach. (1923, c. 136, s. 160.)

§ 5558. When teacher may annul contract.—The teacher may, after entering into a written contract, annul the contract by giving the superintendent a written notice of at least thirty days, and the superintendent shall pay for the full time the teacher has taught: Provided, the teacher has taught as much as twenty days. But if the teacher breaks the contract without giving thirty days notice, it shall be the duty of the superintendent to report the name of the teacher to the state superintendent, and the certificate held may either be revoked or reduced to the next lower grade. And no other superintendent shall employ or recommend for employment in any year a teacher who has broken his or her contract for that year. This section shall also apply alike to principals and supervisors. (1923, c. 136, s. 161.)

§ 5559. How teachers are selected.—All teachers shall be employed by the committee or the board of trustees of the district in which they are to teach, but no election is valid in any district without the approval of the superintendent. The election by the committee or board of trustees shall be at a regular meeting of the committee or board of trustees called for that purpose, and when elected the committee or board of trustees shall enter into a written contract with the teacher for the ensuing year. When the contract is signed by the superintendent on the recommendation of the committee or board of trustees, it is a valid contract and the teacher is properly elected. But no teacher under eighteen years of age shall be eligible for election, and no teacher who has willfully broken her written contract can again legally be elected for that year. (C. S. 5645, 5661, 5662, 5664, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 162.)

Cited in Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 215, 141 S. E. 744; Perdue v. Board of Equalization, 205 N. C. 730, 734, 172 S. E. 396.

§ 5560. How teachers may be dismissed.—The school committee or board of trustees, with the approval of the superintendent, may dismiss a teacher for immoral or disreputable conduct in the community or for failure to comply with the provisions of the contract. The superintendent, with the approval of the committee or the board of trustees, has authority, and it is his duty, to dismiss a teacher who may prove himself or herself incompetent or may willfully refuse to discharge the duties of a public school teacher, or who may be persistently neglectful of such duties. Every teacher dismissed for cause shall be reported by the superintendent to the state superintendent, and he shall have authority to revoke the certificate and debar the teacher from teaching in any other county. (C. S. 5432, 5661, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 163.)

§ 5561. Salaries of teachers.—The salaries of all teachers employed in a county shall be fixed by the county board of education on the recommendation of the county superintendent, unless the general assembly has given special authority to some other board to fix the salaries of teachers in special charter districts. But the salary fixed for all teachers must be in accord with the authorized salary schedule. (1923, c. 136, s. 164.)

Cited in Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 215, 141 S. E. 744.

§ 5561(a). Reduction of salaries. — The salary of no teacher engaged solely in teaching in the public schools of the State shall be cut more than ten per cent below the standard salary scale in operation during the year nineteen thirty, nineteen thirty-one, nor more than ten per cent of the salary which was received or should have been received by such teacher during said year, provided, increments accruing for years one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-three, shall not be added as provided in the General School Bill, any act or resolution of this General Assembly to the contrary notwithstanding. (1931, c. 454.)

cially of the children in the first three grades, by providing frequent periods of recreation, to supervise the play activities during recess, and to encourage wholesome exercise for all children; to teach as thoroughly as they are able all branches which they are required to teach; to provide for singing in the school, and so far as possible to give instruction in public school music; to ascertain the cause for non-attendance of pupils, and report all violators of the compulsory school law to the attendance officer in accordance with the rule governing attendance and reports; and to enter actively into the plans of the county superintendent for the professional growth of the teachers of the county. (C. S. 5666, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 165.)

§ 5563. Power to suspend or dismiss pupils.—A teacher in a school having no principal, or the principal of a school, shall have authority to suspend any pupil who willfully and persistently violates the rules of the school or who may be guilty of immoral or disreputable conduct, or who may be a menace to the school. But every suspension for cause shall be reported at once to the attendance officer, who shall investigate the cause and shall deal with the offender in accordance with rules governing the attendance of children in school. (C. S. 5666, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 166.)

§ 5564. Duty to make reports to superintendent.—Every teacher or principal of a school under the jurisdiction of the county board receiving aid from the public school fund shall be required to make such reports as are required by the county board of education, and the county superintendent shall not approve the voucher for the pay of teachers at the end of each month until the monthly reports required are made, and at the end of the year until the final reports are made: Provided, the county superintendent may require teachers to make reports to principals, and principals to make reports to the superintendent. (C. S. 5667, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 167.)

§ 5565. Care of the school building.—It is the duty of the teachers and principals in charge of school buildings to instruct the children in the proper care of public property, and it is their duty to exercise due care in the protection of school property against damage, either by defacement of the walls and doors or breakage on the part of the pupils, and if they shall fail to exercise a reasonable care in the protection of property during the school day, they may be held financially responsible for all such damage, and if the damage is due to carelessness or negligence on the part of the teachers or principal, the superintendent may hold those in charge of the building responsible for the damage, and if it is not repaired before the close of the term a sufficient amount may be deducted from their final vouchers to repair the damage for which they are responsible under the provisions of this section. If any child in school shall carelessly or willfully damage school property, the teacher shall report the damage to the parent, and if he refuses to repair the same, the teacher shall report the offense to the superintendent of public welfare. (1923, c. 136, s. 168.)

§ 5566. Teacher serving as committeeman, member of county board, or county superintendent.—No person while actively engaged in teaching in the public schools or in a private school which receives money from the county school fund shall be permitted to serve as a member of the county board of education or as a member of the school committee, nor shall a teacher be allowed to teach school and at the same time serve as county superintendent. (C. S. 5409, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 169.)

§ 5567. Teachers to make physical examination of children.—Upon receipt of instructions, rules and regulations from the state board of health and from the state superintendent of public instruction, it shall be the duty of every teacher in the public schools to make a physical examination of every child attending the school, and enter on cards and official forms furnished by the state board of health a record of such examination. The examination shall be made at the time directed by the state board of health and the state superintendent of public instruction, but every child shall be examined at least once every three years. The state board of health and the state superintendent of public instruction shall so arrange the work as to cover the entire state once every three years.

The teacher or principal shall transmit the record cards and other blank forms made by him or her to the North Carolina state board of health, and if any teacher or principal fails within sixty days, after receiving the aforesaid forms and requests for examination and report, to make such examination and report as herein provided, the teacher or principal shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisonment at the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5748, 5749.) (1923, c. 136, s. 170.)

§ 5568. Principal of union school.—The principal of a union school shall be the executive officer of the school, and all teachers in both the high school and in the elementary school departments shall be responsible to the principal. He shall have authority, subject to the approval of the county superintendent, to grade and classify the pupils, outline study courses for teachers, and exercise discipline over the pupils of the school. He shall make all reports to the county superintendent, and give suggestions to teachers for the improvement of instruction in school. And it shall be the duty of each teacher in a union school to coöperate with the principal in every way possible to promote good teaching in the school and a progressive community spirit among its patrons. (1923, c. 136, s. 171.)

Art. 17. Certification of Teachers

§ 5569. Requirement as to holding certificates.—All the teachers and principals employed in the public schools of the state or in schools receiving public funds for the maintenance of a six-months school term shall be required to hold certificates in accordance with the law, and no contract for the employment of teacher or principal is valid until the certificate is secured. (1923, c. 136, s. 158.)

§ 5570. Examinations, accrediting, and certificates.—The state board of education shall have entire control of examining, accrediting without examination, and certificating all applicants for the position of teacher, principal, supervisor, superintendent, and assistant superintendent in all public elementary secondary schools of North Carolina, urban and rural. The board shall prescribe rules and regulations for examining, accrediting without examination, and certificating all such applicants for the renewal and extension of certificates and for the issuance of life certificates. (C. S. 5643.) (1917, c. 146, s. 2; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5571. Certificate prerequisite to employment.—No person shall be employed or serve in the public schools as teacher, principal, supervisor, superintendent, or assistant superintendent who shall not be certificated for such position by the state board of education in accordance with the law. (C. S. 5644.) (1917, c. 146, s. 2; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

Cited in Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 215, 141 S. E. 744.

§ 5572. Teacher must be eighteen.—No certificate to teach shall be issued to any person under eighteen years of age. (C. S. 5645.) (Rev., s. 4163.)

Cited in Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 215, 141 S. E. 744.

§ 5573. Second and third grade certificates.—The examination and certification of all applicants for second and third grade certificates shall be under the control of the county superintendent of each county or of the town or city superintendent of each town or city system operated under any special acts or charter. (C. S. 5646.) (1917, c. 146, s. 2.)

§ 5574. Approval of certificates; refusal of approval; appeal and review.—No certificate issued by the board shall be valid until approved and signed by the county superintendent of the county or the city superintendent of the city in which the examination of the holder of said certificate was held, or in the schools of which the holder of said certificate, if issued without examination, applies to teach. Any certificate when so approved by said county or city superintendent shall be of state-wide validity, and in case such county or city superintendent shall refuse to approve and sign any such certificate, he shall notify the state board of education and state in writing the reasons for such refusal. The said board shall have the right, upon appeal by the holder of said certificate, to review and investigate and finally determine the matter. (C. S. 5647.) (1917, c. 146, s. 2; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5575. Certificates heretofore granted; renewals.—All state high school certificates, five-year state elementary certificates, and first grade county certificates in force on March fifth, nineteen hundred and seventeen, shall continue in force until the date of their expiration as stated in each certificate, after which the present holders of such certificates shall be subject to such rules and regulations as the state board of education may adopt in regard to the issuance or renewal, with or without examination of certificates of the same class. (C. S. 5648.) (1917, c. 146, s. 3; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5576. Temporary and permanent certificates to superintendents and assistants.—The state board of education shall issue to all city superintendents, to all county superintendents, and to all assistant superintendents in service on March fifth, nineteen hundred and seventeen, temporary superintendents' or assistant superintendents' certificates without examination, and prescribe rules and regulations for the renewal and extension of the same. In cases of undoubted fitness, competency, and progressive efficiency, evidence of which shall be submitted in writing to said board, it shall issue to all such superintendents and assistant superintendents a permanent certificate without examination, under such rules and regulations as it may adopt. (C. S. 5649.) (1917, c. 146, s. 3; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5577. Questions for examination; lists printed and distributed. — The state board of education shall prepare questions for the examinations authorized under this article, and the state superintendent of public instruction shall cause lists of the questions so prepared to be printed, and shall, before the date of such examination, send in sealed packages, not to be opened until the day of the examination, to each superintendent or other person appointed to conduct said examinations in the various counties or cities of the state, a sufficient number of such lists. (C. S. 5651.) (1917, c. 146, s. 4; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5578. Dates for examinations; special examinations.—The second Tuesday in April, of each year is hereby designated for said examinations, which may be continued from day to day for three successive days, under such rules and regulations as said board may adopt; but no examination shall commence on any other day than the first day of the period mentioned in this section, and no examination shall be held at any other time. The board may in its discretion provide for special examinations to be conducted by such persons as it may appoint. (C. S., 5652; 1917, c. 146, s. 4; 1925, c. 180, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1925 "The second Tuesday in April" replaced a former provision for "The second Tuesday in April, July and October."

§ 5579. Conduct of examinations; transmission of papers.—The examinations shall be conducted by the county superintendent of each county for all applicants in his county, and in cities and towns of two thousand or more inhabitants the examinations for applicants for positions in the schools under their supervision may be conducted by the licensed superintendents of the schools in such cities and towns. All examinations of applicants for superintendents' certificates shall be conducted by the state board of education under such rules and regulations as it may adopt therefor. All examination papers shall be promptly transmitted to the secretary of the state board of education. (C. S., 5653.) (1917, c. 146, s. 4; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5580. Temporary local certificates. — Upon recommendation of the superintendent concerned, said board may grant a temporary certificate or permit, valid in the county or city designated, to any teacher who, at the time of the last preceding examination, was not in the state, or who at such time was prevented by illness from taking the examination, as evidenced by the certificate of a physician. Such temporary certificate or permit, however, shall be valid only from the date of issuance to the date on which the state board of education shall make their report upon applicants at the next succeeding regular examination, and no such temporary certificate or permit shall be renewed. (C. S. 5654.) (1917, c. 146, s. 4; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5581. Assistants to board; stenographer; printing. — The state board of education, when judged by it to be absolutely necessary, may employ competent persons to assist in the reading and grading of examination papers, and shall fix the compensation of such persons not to exceed five dollars a day for the time employed, to be paid upon the requisition of the chairman of the board out of the funds provided under this article. The board is authorized to employ a stenographer at such compensation as it may fix, and to have done as public printing by the state printer all printing necessary for its work. (C. S. 5655.) (1917, c. 146, s. 5.)

§ 5582. Employment of persons without certificate unlawful; appropriations withheld; salaries not paid.—After July first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, it shall be unlawful for any board of trustees or school committee or any public school that receives any public school money from county or state to employ or keep in service any teacher, superintendent, principal, supervisor, or assistant superintendent that does not hold a certificate in compliance with the provisions of the law. Upon notification to the state board of education or to the county board of education that any school committee or board of trustees is employing or keeping in service a teacher, supervisor, principal, superintendent, or assistant superintendent in violation of the provisions of this section, the state board of education shall withhold from such county any and all appropriations from the state treasury for such school, and said county board of education shall withhold from said school any and all appropriations from the county school fund until compliance with the law.

The county, town, or city superintendent or other official is forbidden to approve any voucher for salary for any person employed in violation of the provisions of this section, and the treasurer of the county, town, or city schools is hereby forbidden to pay out of the school fund the salary of any such person: Provided, that nothing herein shall prevent the employment of temporary substitute or emergency teachers under such rules as the state board of education may prescribe. (C. S. 5656.) (1917, c. 146, s. 6; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5583. Classes of first-grade certificates.— There shall be the following classes of first-grade certificates: (1) Superintendents' and assistant superintendents'; (2) High school principals'; (3) High school teachers'; (4) Elementary school teachers'; (5) Elementary supervisors'; and (6) Special. The state board of education may subdivide and shall define in detail the different classes of first-grade certificates, determine the time of their duration and validity, prescribe the standards of scholarship for same, and the rules and regulations for the examination for them and for their issuance, and their renewal or extension. (C. S. 5657.) (1917, c. 146, s. 9; 1921, c. 146, s. 16.)

§ 5584. Misdemeanor to tamper with examination questions.—Any person who purloins, steals, buys, receives, or sells, gives, or offers to buy, give, or sell any examination questions or copies thereof of any examination provided and prepared by law before the date of the examination for which they shall have been prepared, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5658.) (1917, c. 146, s. 10.)

§ 5584(a). Colleges to aid as to certificates. — Each and every college or university of the state is hereby authorized, to aid public school teachers or prospective teachers in securing, raising, or renewing their certificates without restrictions, except as set forth in the rules and regulations of the state board of education, applying alike to all departments, work, and instructors of each and every college or university in this state. (1933, c. 497.)

SUBCHAPTER VII. REVENUE FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Art. 18. How to Estimate Amount Necessary for Six Months Term—Equalization Fund

§ 5585. Duty of county board of education and county commissioners.—It shall be the duty of the county board of education of each county to make a fair estimate in accordance with law of the amount necessary to provide a six months school term, and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county to determine and provide the amount necessary to maintain the school six months in accordance with law. And either the members of the county board of education or the members of the board of county commissioners failing to perform their respective duties shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 136, s. 172.)

§ 5586. The equalizing fund.—There is appropriated annually, from the state public school fund, as may be otherwise provided by law, an amount sufficient to equalize as near as may be the financial burden of supporting a six months school term in the several counties of the state. This fund shall be designated "'The State Equalizing Fund," which shall be apportioned by the state board of education, to counties needing aid, in such a way as to encourage the counties receiving aid to improve their schools by securing sufficient organization, administration, supervision, and well trained teachers. (1923, c. 136, s. 173.)

As to compensation of sheriff, etc., out of fund, see §§ 3921(a), 3921(b). As to state board of equalization and subsequent equalization funds, see Public Laws 1927, c. 256; 1929, c. 245; 1931, cc. 425, 430. And see §§ 5602(a), 5602(b).

In connection with Public Laws 1931, c. 430, see generally, Powell v. Bladen County, 206 N. C. 46, 173 S. E. 50; Perdue v. State Board of Equalization, 205 N. C. 730, 172 S. E. 396.

§ 5587. Equalizing fund certified to counties by June first.—There is appropriated annually from the state public school fund the sum of one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which shall be an equalizing fund to be distributed by the state board of education as hereinafter provided. The state board of education shall certify to each county on or before June first of each year the amount such county shall be entitled to draw from the equalizing fund. (1923, c. 141, s. 1.)

Cited in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 308.

§ 5588. How to ascertain per capita cost.—The state superintendent of public instruction shall calculate the per capita cost of instructing all children in all schools in each county of the state for the six months term of each school year on the basis of the salaries of teachers and principals actually paid: Provided, that in the event the salary or salaries actually paid exceed the state salary schedule, the state board of education shall calculate such salary or salaries on the basis of the state salary schedule. In calculating the average per capita cost, the state board of education shall calculate the per capita cost for the races separately and for the elementary and high schools separately. (1923, c. 141, s. 2.)

§ 5589. Basis of equalizing fund apportionment.—The state board of education shall apportion to each county a definite amount of the equalizing fund to be determined on the following basis: The state superintendent of public instruction shall determine for each county the amount necessary to pay the salaries of all teachers and principals for the school year one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, and for the school year one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, and the average amount for these two years, according to the approved November budget for the six months term. He shall then deduct the gross yield of the legal tax rate of each county for the six months school term from the average amount as determined above, and the difference shall be the amount of the equalizing fund for the salaries of teachers and principals for the years one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, one thousand nine hundred twenty-four and one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, except as otherwise provided in this law; but no county shall receive an amount from the equalizing fund sufficient to raise the average per capita cost of instruction for that county higher than the average per capita cost of the state, except as provided in section 5592: Provided further, that in order to receive the amount as specified in this law each county shall raise, together with the amount it will be entitled to draw from the equalizing fund, an amount which shall equal the total amount of the salaries of the teachers, principals, and superintendents actually paid not in excess of the adopted salary schedule for the six months term for the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three. (1923, c. 141, s. 3.)

§ 5590. Equalizing fund to pay one-half salary of superintendent.—Each county entitled to draw from the equalizing fund shall be paid, in addition to the amount provided in section three, one-half the salary of the county superintendent as fixed by the county board of education, but no county shall receive, in accordance with the provisions of this section, more than one-half the salary in accordance with the state salary schedule. (1923, c. 141, s. 4.)

§ 5591. Aid extended to counties in paying for transportation of pupils.—The state board of education shall have authority to set aside thirty thousand dollars of the state equalizing fund with which to assist the counties in paying the transportation of pupils, and the state board of education shall have authority to make such rules and regulations as it shall deem necessary for determining an average monthly cost per truck of transporting pupils to school: Provided, that not more than one-half the average monthly cost so determined shall be paid out of the funds specified in this section. (1923, c. 141, s. 5.)

See editor's note under § 5394.

§ 5592. Residue of equalizing fund appropriated.—The state board of education is authorized to appropriate the remainder of the equalizing fund, or any part of the same not otherwise appropriated, as follows:

(1) To encourage the more backward counties in improving the grade of teachers employed; and (2) to aid any county in which the actual property values shall fall below the authorized valuation of one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, owing to some disastrous or exceptional industrial or economic reverses. The state board of equalization upon the request of the state board of education shall investigate the cause of the decrease in property values and report the facts to the state board of education, and if the report of the state board of equalization shall show that there has been a reduction in the actual values sufficient to bring the total values of the county below the valuation of one thousand nine hundred twenty-two, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, the state board of education shall have authority to aid said county or counties out of any funds referred to in this section. But if any balances shall remain after complying with the provisions of this section it shall be prorated and added to the salaries of teachers or principals of those counties specified in section 5589. (1923, c. 141, s. 6.)

§ 5593. Equalizing fund to be paid when county has made provisions for part of teachers' salaries.—After the county has made full provisions for its part of the salaries as specified in section 5589, the entire amount of the equalizing fund certified to the county shall be paid. (1923, c. 141, s. 7.)

§ 5594. Balance of equalizing fund carried forward for succeeding year.—If any part of the appropriations from the state public school fund shall not be spent in any one year in accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing said appropriations, the balance shall be carried forward and added to said appropriations for the succeeding year: Provided, any balance from any appropriations may be applied to the equalizing fund and distributed by the state board of education in accordance with the provisions of this law. (1923, c. 141, s. 8.)

§ 5595. The May budget.—The county board of education shall fix a date during the month of May when the school budget for all the schools of the county for the next ensuing year shall be prepared. The county board of education shall notify the board or boards of trustees of the special charter districts to prepare their budget for the six months school term and present the same at the time fixed by the county board of education for preparing the May budget. Said board shall also notify the chairman of the board of county commissioners at least twenty days before the date of meeting that the school budget for the next ensuing year is to be prepared and that the boards of county commissioners or a representative selected by the commissioners is required by law to be present and sit with the county board of education when the May budget is prepared. But if the board of county commissioners or its representative shall fail to attend said meeting after being duly notified, the county board of education shall have authority to proceed and prepare the budget in accordance with the provisions of this article. If for good and sufficient reason the budget is not completed at the time appointed by the county board for preparing the May budget, said board may appoint a later date and notify the board or boards of trustees and the county commissioners of the later date selected. The budget shall be prepared by the county board of education on blanks provided for that purpose, and it shall set forth the total estimated cost of maintaining all the schools of the county for six months, including the special charter districts, and it shall be subscribed and sworn to by the chairman and secretary of the county board of education and presented to the board of county commissioners on or before the first Monday in June. (1923, c. 136, s. 174.)

§ 5596. Contents of the May budget. — The May budget prepared by the county board of education shall provide three separate school funds (a) a current expense fund, (b) a capital outlay fund, and (c) a debt service fund.

(a) The current expense fund shall include (1) Expenses of general control—per diem of board of education, salaries of superintendents, attendance officer, and clerical assistants, travel and communication, office supplies and expense, and other necessary expenses of general control; (2) instructional service—salaries of teachers, principals, and supervisors, and any other necessary items of instruction; (3) operation of school plant—wages of janitors and other employees, fuel, water, light and power, janitors' supplies, expenses for care of grounds, and other necessary expenses of operation; (4) maintenance of plant—upkeep of grounds, repair of buildings, repair and replacement of heating, lighting and plumbing equipment, instructional apparatus, furniture, and other equipment, and other necessary expenses of maintenance; (5) fixed charges—rent, insurance and other necessary fixed charges; (6) auxiliary agencies—replacement of and repair of library books, transportation of pupils, and other necessary auxiliary activities.

(b) The capital outlay fund shall provide for the purchase of sites, the erection of school buildings, including dormitories and teachers' homes, improvement of new school grounds, alteration and addition to buildings, installation of heating, lighting and plumbing, purchase of furniture, including instructional apparatus for new buildings, office equipment, acquisition of trucks and other vehicles for the transportation of pupils and for the better operation and administration of schools, and other necessary capital outlay.

(c) The debt service fund shall provide for the payment of all loans due the State, the interest and principal on bonds, payments to the sinking fund, payment of district indebtedness for schools assumed by the county, apportionment to districts voting bonds or to districts borrowing from the county board of education and all other indebtedness which is payable during the fiscal year for which the budget is prepared. (1923, c. 136, s. 173; 1925, c. 180, s. 5; 1927, c. 239, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 1, this section was amended and reenacted as it now appears. Formerly it provided for (a) "a salary fund," (b) "an operating and equipment fund," and (c) "a fund for the repayment of all notes, loans and bonds."

Cited in Wilkinson v. Board of Education, 199 N. C. 669, 155 S. E. 562; Wiggins v. Board of Education, 198 N. C. 301, 302, 151 S. E. 730; Board of Education v. Walter, 198 N. C. 325, 329, 151 S. E. 718; Hickory v. Catawba County, 206 N. C. 165, 172, 173 S. E. 56.

§ 5597. How to estimate the salary fund.—It shall be the duty of the county board of education, in estimating the amount of the salaries of teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents for the ensuing year in the May budget, to set forth on blanks supplied by the state superintendent of public instruction the actual salary paid each teacher in each district for the previous year, the proposed salaries for the ensuing year, and the number of additional teachers needed in each school. It shall also exhibit the grade of certificate held by each teacher, the average attendance of pupils in each district for the previous year, and such other information as the state superintendent of public instruction may require. The number of teachers for the next ensuing year in each school shall be based on the average attendance of pupils for the previous year, as given below; Provided, that in the case of the enlargement or consolidation of a district, the superintendent shall add to the attendance of said district the number of children transferred who were attending school the previous year. In case of an extraordinary increase in population, the superintendent shall estimate said increase that may attend school for the year and allow the same in estimating the attendance for said school.

(a) In each elementary school, not more than one teacher shall be allowed, except as follows: Wherever the average attendance for the previous year was at least thirty, two teachers may be allowed, but the commissioners may not be compelled to provide the funds for the second teacher, except when the average attendance for the previous year was at least forty. Wherever the average attendance for the previous year was sixty-five, three teachers shall be considered reasonable, and wherever the average attendance for the previous year was one hundred, four teachers shall be considered reasonable. And one additional teacher for every thirty-five additional pupils in average daily attendance for the previous year shall be considered reasonable.

(b) In each high school one whole-time teacher for the high school grades may be allowed for the ensuing year wherever the number of pupils in average attendance for the previous year was twenty; two teachers may be allowed wherever the average attendance was thirty: three teachers may be allowed wherever the average attendance was forty-five; four teachers may be allowed for seventy pupils in average daily attendance; and one additional teacher may be allowed for every thirty additional pupils in average daily attendance.

(c) Wherever the total number of teachers and the total estimated salaries of teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents for the ensuing year are not greater than the total actual salaries paid or authorized by law for the previous year, the amount shall not be considered excessive. Wherever the average attendance for the previous year authorizes an increase in the number of teachers for the ensuing year, and the number provided in the budget is in accordance with the provisions of this section, the amount necessary to supply the needed extra teachers at the average monthly salary paid teachers the previous year shall be deemed reasonable and necessary: Provided, the term "legal salaries for the previous year" shall be construed to mean the salaries for the county six months term in accordance with the adopted salary schedule.

(d) The per diem of the county board of education, the salary of the superintendent of public welfare, and other school officials authorized by law shall be legitimate items of expense in the budget.

The amount of the salaries of teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents for the county schools having been determined, and the amount of the salaries of teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents for special charter districts having been determined in accordance with the provisions of section 5598, the total for the county and the special charter districts shall constitute the total amount of the salaries of teachers, supervisors, principals, and superintendents for the ensuing year, if the amount is approved by the commissioners they shall levy a tax sufficient to produce the amount clear of all fees, commissioners, rebates, losses, and cost of collection. (1923, c. 136, s. 176; 1927, c. 239, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 2, "current expense fund" as now used in this section replaced the words "salary fund" which were formerly used.

§ 5598. How to estimate the salary fund for the special charter or city schools. — The salaries of teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents for special charter districts shall be estimated as follows: The county board of education shall incorporate the budget of the special charter districts in the county budget and allow the actual salary for six months in accordance with the adopted salary schedule for each teacher permitted under section 5597. In all counties where the schools of a special charter district are operated as a part of the county system, and are under the control of the county board of education, and pupils living outside the special charter district are permitted, as the county board of education may direct, to attend free of all tuition charges, the amount of the salary budget of said special charter district shall be estimated in the same way as the budget for any other district school of the county is estimated.

The board of trustees of all special charter districts may petition the board of education to take over the management of the school or schools within the special charter district. When such a petition is presented, the county board of education shall grant the petition, and the school or schools within the district shall be governed as all other schools in local tax districts are governed: Provided, the county board of education shall not have the authority to change the method of electing the board of trustees unless the charter is surrendered and the title to the property is transferred to the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 177; 1925, c. 138, s. 1; 1927, c. 239, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—This section was reenacted by Public Laws 1925, ch. 138 sec. 1, for the provisions prior to this time as enacted by Public Laws 1923, ch. 136, sec. 177, and the changes as made, a comparison is necessary. By amendment Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 3, the words "salaries of teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents" as used herein replaced the words "salary fund" which were formerly used.

§ 5599. How to determine the amount of the current expense fund, the capital outlay fund, and the debt service fund.—All poll taxes, fines, forfeitures, penalties, and all public school revenues of the county not otherwise appropriated shall be placed to the credit of the current expense fund authorized in section 5596, subsection (a), except as otherwise provided. "After the county board of education has determined in accordance with law the total current expense for county schools and the salaries for charter districts and, in addition, has determined the capital outlay and debt service needs for the county schools for the year, the basis of the amounts to be included in the May budget for the special charter districts in addition to salaries shall be arrived at in the following manner:

"(1) From the total current expense fund shall be deducted (a) salaries of teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents and (b) all current expenses for general control. This balance shall be the remainder of the current expense fund for schools other than special charter districts. The county board of education shall allow for current expense, except as otherwise provided herein, the same per capita amount per pupil enrolled for the previous school year to the special charter districts that is allowed to all the other schools of the county.

"(2) From the total capital outlay fund provided for county schools shall be deducted (a) all revenue for capital outlay for a specific district and (b) items financed by long term loans or bonds and all other non-revenue receipts, including the proceeds from the sale of school property. On the basis of the balance thus determined, the county board of education shall allow for capital outlay the same per capita amount per pupil enrolled for the previous school year to the special charter districts that is allowed to all other schools.

"(3) When the county board of education shall have determined the necessary amount to be raised from county funds for debt service for all schools other than special charter districts and local tax districts voting bonds or borrowing from the county board of education in whole or in part for providing suitable building or buildings for said district for the six months school term, said board shall allow for the debt service fund the same per capita amount per pupil enrolled for the previous school year to the special charter districts and to districts voting bonds or borrowing from the county board of education for said building purposes that is allowed to all the other schools of the county: Provided, the amount allowed for any year shall not exceed the actual debt service need of said school districts in any year."

If the amount derived or to be derived from the sources mentioned above in this section is sufficient for these funds the commissioners are authorized to levy an additional tax to meet the actual needs of each fund.

The county board of education, with the approval of the board of commissioners may include in the debt service fund in the budget the indebtedness of all districts, including special charter districts, lawfully incurred in erecting and equipping school buildings necessary for the six months school term, and when such indebtedness is taken over for payment by the county as a whole and the local districts are relieved of their annual payments, then the county funds provided for such purpose shall be deducted from the debt service fund prior to the division of this fund among the schools of the county as provided in this section. (1923, c. 136, s. 178; 1925, c. 180; c. 6; 1927, c. 239, ss. 4, 5.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1925, ch. 180, sec. 6, the last sentence of this section was added. The section again was amended by the Public Laws of 1927, ch. 239, sec. 4. A comparison of the statute as it now reads shows many changes both material and immaterial.

This section in its original form (c. 180, § 6, Public Laws of 1925) was not passed in accordance with the formalities required by § 14, Art. II of the Constitution but c. 239, § 6, Public Laws of 1927, which amended the section was regularly passed and the effect is to ratify and make valid any defect in the prior act for the two acts are construed together as one. Reeves v. Board of Education, 204 N. C. 74, 167 S. E. 454.

Assumption of Payment as County-Wide Obligation.—Where bonds to provide funds for buildings and equipment have been voted by special school districts and by a city constituting a special charter district which has since become a part of the general county schools, the county may assume the payment of such bonds as a county-wide obligation under the provisions of this section, and it is not necessary that payment therefor be made from taxes levied only in such special districts. Reeves v. Board of Education, 204 N. C. 74, 167 S. E. 454.

Under the provisions of this section, a county may include in its debt service fund in its budget the indebtedness lawfully incurred by any of its school districts, including special charter districts, in the erection and equipment of necessary school buildings, and it is not prerequisite to the assumption of such debt of special charter districts that the districts should release their charters or that the trustees of such district should convey the school property of such district to the county board of education. Hickory v. Catawba County, 206 N. C. 165, 173 S. E. 56.

§ 5600. Debt Service Fund.—The county board of education shall set forth in the budget the amount of the interest and installments on all loans due the state, and of all interest and installments on bonds and other evidences of indebtedness that may fall due. This shall be a separate item in the budget, and the commissioners shall levy annually a tax sufficient, clear of all fees, commissions, rebates, delinquents and the cost of collection, to repay the same; and if the taxes are not collected when the repayments fall due, the commissioners shall borrow the money and place the amount to the credit of the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 179.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 5, this section was changed in application from "Fund for repayment of bonds, notes and loans" to "The debt service fund."

§ 5601. The May budget completed.—The completed May budget shall be sworn to and subscribed by the chairman of the county board of education and the county superintendent of schools, and a copy shall be filed in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction. The county board of education shall present a copy to the board of county commissioners on or before the first Monday in June of each year. If the board of county commissioners shall approve the total amount of the budget, it shall levy sufficient rates, after deducting the amount to be received from the state, to produce the amount asked for in the budget, and if the tax rate levied fails to produce, clear of all commissions, rebates, fees and cost of collection, the amount approved in the budget, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to supply the deficit either out of the general county fund or by borrowing in accordance with law. (1923, c. 136, s. 180; 1927, c. 239. s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 7, the words "the first Monday in June" replaced the words "June first."

§ 5602. The November budget.— On or before the fifteenth day of November of each year the county board of education and the board of trustees of all special charter school districts shall prepare a budget, on blanks furnished by the state superintendent of public instruction, setting forth the names and number of teachers actually employed in each district in the county, the grade of certificate held, the salary paid, and all other information asked for by the state superintendent of public instruction. The November budget shall be checked by the state superintendent to ascertain whether the teachers are properly certificated, whether the number of teachers is excessive, and whether the authorized salary schedule is observed. The county shall settle with the special charter districts for teachers' salaries in accordance with the corrected budgets, and the state equalizing fund shall be finally apportioned in accordance with such corrected budgets. The checked and approved November budget shall exhibit the legal salary due each teacher according to the state salary schedule and the number of teachers to which each district is entitled. A copy shall be returned to the county board of education or board of trustees, as the case may be, to be filed in the office of the superintendent. And not more than three-fourths of the estimated maximum amount of the equalizing fund shall be paid to a county until the November budget is approved; and if it shall appear at any time that the superintendent refuses to observe the law providing a uniform salary schedule, the state superintendent of public instruction shall notify the chairman of said board, which board is hereby authorized to remove said superintendent from office. After the November budget is checked, if it shall appear that the county has provided for its part of the budget, and the amount of the equalizing fund submitted to the county is needed to meet the demands on the budget, then the state board of education shall pay in full the amount it specified in such a way as to be of the greatest aid to the counties before the taxes for the year have been collected. (1923, c. 136, s. 181; 1927, c. 239, s. 8.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 8, the word "budget" as used in the last sentence replaced the words "salary fund."

§ 5602(a). Tax reduction fund to be applied to counties for extended term in school districts. — For the purpose of reducing ad valorem taxes in the county-wide, special charter, and/or local school tax districts of the State and having an extended term of two months beyond the constitutional six-months term, and hereinafter in this section called school districts, it shall be the duty of the State Board of Equalization to set aside the appropriation made for that purpose to be used as a tax reduction fund in said school districts, and to be distributed as follows:

(a) The State Board of Equalization shall determine the value of all taxable property in each and all of said school districts.

(b) The said board shall ascertain the necessary cost of operating the extended term of two months in each and all of the said school districts.

(c) From the total cost of said two months extended term in all of said school districts shall be deducted the sum of said appropriation, and the difference shall be the net amount which the respective school districts shall provide for the support and maintenance of two months of the extended term.

(d) The said Board of Equalization shall then determine the uniform rate necessary to be levied on the total determined valuation in order to produce the amount ascertained under sub-section (c), and shall certify said rate to the tax-levying authorities of each and every county and shall also certify to said tax-levying authorities the determined valuation of all the property in each and every of such school districts in said county.

(e) The tax-levying authorities of each and every county having one or more of such school districts shall levy a tax rate on all the property of all such districts sufficient to produce a net amount equivalent to the amount that would be raised by multiplying the certified uniform rate by the certified equalized value of all the property in said school district; and the difference in the amount of tax thus produced by said school district and the necessary cost as determined by sub-section (b) shall represent the amount which each of said school districts shall be entitled to receive from the tax reduction fund.

(f) The extended term costs in said school districts shall not exceed the pro rata costs of the six-months constitutional term; and no other taxes shall be levied in said school district for current expense unless an itemized statement is filed by the trustees or school committee of such school districts with the county commissioners, approved by the County Board of Education, showing the necessity of such additional levy, in which event the County Commissioners may levy such additional amount as may be agreed upon after approval also by the State Board of Equalization.

(g) It shall be the duty of the County Board of Education in each and every county to originate the school budget for the extended term but the same shall not be effective until approved by the Board of County Commissioners and by the State Board of Equalization: Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall prevent school districts having an extended term of more or less than two months beyond the constitutional six-months term from participating in the benefits of the said appropriation, but all such school districts having an extended term in excess of such two months may only participate in such appropriation under the provisions of this act for and during and including two months of such extended term. (1931, c. 440, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Section 3 of act from which this section was taken provided: "The money appropriated under the provisions of this act shall be disbursed to the counties and districts in the same way and manner as is provided in the act for the disbursement of the six months school fund." (Public Laws 1931, c. 430.)

§ 5602(b). Powers and duties of State Board of Equalization. — The powers and the duties of the State Board of Equalization, except in so far as the same may be added to by the provisions of the preceding section, or otherwise, shall continue and remain the same as prescribed in chapter two hundred fifty-six of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven and in chapter two hundred forty-five of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine. (1931, c. 440, s. 2.)

Art. 19. Powers, Duties and Responsibilities of the Board of County Commissioners in Providing Funds for Six Months Term

§ 5603. Duty to provide funds for a six months term.—The board of county commissioners shall provide the funds necessary to maintain the schools for six months, and the May budget submitted to the commissioners shall be presumed to be correct unless it is formally rejected by the commissioners within thirty days after presentation, and an entry is recorded in the minutes of the board stating the time when it was rejected and the reason for rejecting it, and a copy of the entry on the minutes of the board of county commissioners shall be sent to the superintendent or the chairman of the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 182.)

§ 5604. Commissioners required to raise full amount.—When the budget is approved by the commissioners, or by order of the court, the commissioners are hereby directed and required to levy a tax sufficient to raise the amount necessary to maintain the schools for six months according to the provisions of the budget or the order of the court. At the close of the school year if it shall appear according to the audit required by law that the amount of money actually received by the treasurer, clear of all fees, commissions, rebates, etc., is sufficient to meet all the necessary expenses of the schools for the year, the county commissioners shall provide the necessary amount and place the same to the credit of the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 183; 1927, c. 239, s. 9.)

Cross Reference.—As to the permission of children at orphanages to attend public schools see § 5446 and notes thereto.

Editor's Note.—The words "according to the audit required by law" as used in the second sentence were added by Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 9.

Cited in Powell v. Bladen County, 206 N. C. 46, 50, 173 S. E. 50.

§ 5605. What the commissioners may require of county board of education.—The commissioners or a representative selected by them shall sit with the county board of education when the May budget is being prepared, and whenever the commissioners or their representative are in doubt as to the reasonableness of the budget, or any item in the same, it may require the county board of education to compare the salaries of teachers as estimated in the May budget for the ensuing school year with the actual salaries authorized by law in the approved November budget for the current school year, and to give the cause of the increase, district by district, and the difference between the total salaries of the current school year as authorized by law for the six months school term and the proposed salaries for the ensuing school year.

It may require in similar detail a statement of the differences in the amount of the remainder of the current expense fund and the capital outlay fund for the two years. It may require the county board of education to show that existing debts were incurred in strict accordance with the law, and the county commissioners, after March 3, 1923, shall not be liable for any debt, other than loans from the state, incurred by the county board of education in excess of the amount set forth in the May budget, unless the making of the debt was approved by the county commissioners. The county board of education shall file with the clerk of the commissioners a list of the bounded indebtedness for schools of the county and of local tax districts, and a certified statement of all loans derived from the state, together with the amount of the annual payments. (1923, c. 136, s. 184; 1927, c. 239, s. 10.)

Editor's Note.—The words "remainder of the current expense fund and the capital outlay fund," as used in the first sentence of the second paragraph replaced the words "operating and equipment fund," by amendment Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 10.

Cited in Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 215, 141 S. E. 744.

§ 5606. Where commissioners have no discretion.—The commissioners are required to levy annually a tax sufficient to repay interest and installments on all loans from the state, and interest and installments on bonds and notes falling due according to the debt service fund as set forth in the approved May budget. And this shall be a separate tax, and if, after all interest and installments are paid each year, any balance that may remain shall be accounted for by the treasurer, and it shall be applied the following year to the payment of interest and installment on loans. But if the amount secured from this tax is not sufficient for these needs it shall be the duty of the commissioners to borrow any amount needed to meet these payments. (1923, c. 136, s. 185; 1927, c. 239, s. 11.)

Editor's Note.—All of that part of the first sentence following the word "due" was added by Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 11.

Cited in Hampton v. Board of Education, 195 N. C. 213, 217, 141 S. E. 744.

§ 5607. Requiring county board to publish May budget.—The commissioners before approving the May budget may require the county board of education to publish the same in some leading newspaper published or circulating in the county, and when so published it shall set forth the cost, district by district, and the amount of the increase for each district over the previous year, and the total amount of the increase; and the cost of publishing the May budget shall be paid by the commissioners out of the general county fund. (1923, c. 136, s. 186.)

§ 5608. Procedure in cases of disagreement or refusal of county commissioners to levy school taxes.—In the event of a disagreement between the county board of education and the board of county commissioners as to the amount of the current expense fund, the capital outlay fund, and the debt service fund, the county board of education and the board of county commissioners shall sit in joint session, and each board shall have one vote on the question of the adoption of these amounts in the budget. A majority of the members of each board shall cast the vote for each board. In the event of a tie, the clerk of the superior court shall act as arbitrator upon the issues arising between said two boards, and shall render his decision thereon within ten days. But either the county board of education or the board of county commissioners shall have the right to appeal to the superior court within thirty days from the date of the decision of the clerk of the superior court, and it shall be the duty of the judge hearing the case on appeal to find the facts as to the amount of the current expense fund, the capital outlay fund, and the debt service fund, which findings shall be conclusive, and shall give judgment requiring the county commissioners to levy the tax which will provide the amount of the current expense fund, the capital outlay fund and the debt service fund, which he finds necessary to maintain the schools for six months in every school district in the county. Any board of county commissioners failing to obey such order and to levy the tax ordered by the court shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of court. In case of an appeal to the superior court, all papers and records relating to the case shall be considered a part of the record for consideration by the court. (1923, c. 136, s. 187; 1925, c. 180, s. 4; 1927, c. 239, ss. 12, 13.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1925, ch. 180, sec. 4, there was included in this section "the operation and equipment fund." This was repealed by Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 13. By amendment Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 12, the words "the current expense fund, the capital outlay fund, and the debt service fund," as used replaced the words, "salary fund or the fund necessary to pay interest and installments on bonds, notes and loans."

In General.—This section confers upon the courts duties of a judicial nature, not requiring a trial by jury to determine the disputed matter upon an issue of fact, and the provisions of this section are not void as being repugnant to Art. I, sec. 19, of the State Constitution. Board v. Board, 174 N. C. 469, 93 S. E. 1001, cited and applied. Board v. Board, 182 N. C. 571, 109 S. E. 630; In re Board of Educations, 187 N. C. 710, 712, 122 S. E. 766.

Meeting Must Be Held.—Where the commissioners have refused to levy a tax to provide an additional salary for the county superintendent and the meeting called for in this section has not been held nor the clerk called upon to arbitrate the matter it is erroneous to grant a writ of mandamus to the superintendent to compel the commissioners to levy the tax. Rollins v. Rogers, 204 N. C. 308, 168 S. E. 206.

Cited in Board of Education v. Board of Commissioners, 198 N. C. 430, 152 S. E. 156; Board of Education v. Walter, 198 N. C. 325, 329, 151 S. E. 718; Wilkinson v. Board of Education, 199 N. C. 669, 155 S. E. 562.

§ 5609. Commissioners may demand a jury trial.—The county commissioners shall have the right to have the issues tried by a jury, as to the amount of the current expense fund and the capital outlay fund, which jury trial shall be set at the first succeeding term of the superior court, and shall have precedence over all other business of the court: Provided, that if the judge holding the court shall certify to the governor, either before or during such term, that on account of the accumulation of other business, the public interest will be best served by not trying such action at said term, the governor shall immediately call a special term of the superior court for said county, to convene as early as possible, and assign a judge of the superior court or an emergency judge to hold the same, and the said action shall be tried at such term. There shall be submitted to the jury for its determination the issue as to what amount is needed to maintain the schools for six months, and they shall take into consideration the amount needed and the amount available from all sources as provided by law. The final judgment rendered in such action shall be conclusive, and the county commissioners shall forthwith levy taxes in accordance with such judgment; otherwise those who refuse so to do shall be in contempt, and may be punishable accordingly: Provided, that in case of a mistrial or an appeal to the supreme court which would result in a delay beyond a reasonable limit for levying the taxes for the year, the judges shall order the commissioners to levy for the ensuing year a rate sufficient to pay the debt service fund, to produce, together with what may be received from the state public school fund and from other sources, an amount for the current expense fund equal to the amount of this fund for the previous year. (1923, c. 136, s. 188; 1927, c. 239, s. 14.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1927 ch. 239, sec. 14 the words "current expense fund, and the capital outlay fund," as used in the first sentence replaced the words "teachers' salary fund and the operating and equipment fund"; the words "the debt service fund" as used in the proviso at the end of the section replaced the words "interest and installment on notes, loans and bonds"; the words "current expense funds" used in the same proviso replaced the words "teachers' salary fund."

§ 5610. Commissioners authorized to borrow money.—The commissioners are authorized to borrow money for the schools of the county and place the same to the credit of the county board of education, as follows: Whenever the amount provided in the budget shall be insufficient to meet the absolute needs of running a six months school term and providing equipment for same, or paying existing indebtedness for said purposes, and the county commissioners, after investigating, shall find as a fact that additional funds are necessary, they are hereby authorized to borrow the necessary amount and place the same to the credit of the county board of education, and it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to levy sufficient taxes for the next ensuing year to repay money so borrowed in addition to providing for the maintenance of the six months school term. And the county commissioners may issue notes of the county for money so borrowed. (1923, c. 136, s. 189.)

§ 5611. Commissioners to require fines, forfeitures and penalties paid to treasurer.—The board of county commissioners shall require all clerks of all state and municipal courts, justices of the peace and all other clerks or officials having in custody the records of any city or town in the state, to furnish the county board of education and the county commissioners a detailed statement of all fines, forfeitures and penalties that have come into their hands or that have been recorded or should have been recorded in the books kept by them. And it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to require all officials collecting fines, forfeitures and penalties to pay over the same to the treasurer of the county school fund monthly, and a failure on the part of said official to comply with the provisions of this section shall be considered a misdemeanor, and upon conviction they may be removed from office by the court and shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 136, s. 190.)

§ 5612. Commissioners to estimate what per cent school fund is of total county fund.—It is the duty of the county commissioners to furnish the county board of education, as soon as the tax books for the year are completed, a statement showing what per cent the school fund is of the total county fund, and at least this same per cent of the amount of taxes as they are collected and deposited in the treasury shall be placed to the credit of the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 191.)

county and other local taxes collected by him with the county treasurer as often as he shall collect or have in his possession at any one time a sum equal to five hundred dollars ($500,00). (C. S. 3941.)

On or before the close of the fiscal year the sheriff in settling with the board of county commissioners shall exhibit the total amount of the school fund from all sources received, the net amount paid over to the county treasurer, and the net amount due each of the following funds: (1) The current expense fund, (2) the capital outlay fund, and (3) the debt service fund. The sheriff shall also exhibit the amount of uncollected taxes due because of insolvent polls, releases, errors, and rebates allowed by the board of county commissioners, and other causes for failure to collect the entire amount of the taxes due, and the sheriff shall furnish to the county board of education at the time of his settlement with the county commissioners, as provided in this section, a complete itemized copy of his statement; and the state auditor shall prepare and furnish free of cost to the sheriff or county commissioners blanks on which the sheriff shall make his final report to the county commissioners. Said blanks shall set forth the items specified above in such a way as to make the settlement clear and intelligible. (1923, c. 136, s. 192; 1927, c. 239, s. 15.)

Editor's Note.—The change of the name of the funds was the only change by Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 15. See note to section 5596.

Art. 20. The Treasurer: His Powers, Duties and Responsibilities in Disbursing School Funds

§ 5614. Treasurer shall disburse funds.—The county treasurer of each county shall be the treasurer of the school funds in his county. He shall receive and disburse all public school funds and shall keep the same separate and distinct from all other funds. In all counties in which the office of county treasurer has been abolished all banks or other corporations handling public school funds shall be required to keep the same accounts, perform the same duties as required of the county treasurer, and to give the same bond and make the same reports as are required of the treasurer of the county board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 193.)

§ 5615. Operation of county school budget.—(a) Duty of County Board of Education.—On or before the first Monday in each month the county board of education shall file with the county board of commissioners a written statement showing the condition of the annual six months school budget at the close of the preceding month. This statement shall also include a careful estimate of the necessary expenditures which will be made during the current month from the six months' school budget. In like manner each special charter district shall prepare and file with the county board of education a similar statement, which shall be the guide in determining for the special charter district the amount which shall be included in the monthly statement of cash needs: Provided, that if the county board of education shall deem to be unreasonable the amount estimated as the cash needs of said district for a current month, the county commissioners may not be required to provide more than one-sixth of the total approved budget for such district prior to the beginning of the first month of the constitutional school term: Provided, further, that no payment to special charter districts shall be made until a copy of the audit for the previous year for the special charter district has been filed as provided by law.

"(b) Duty of the County Board of Commissioners.—It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to provide when and as needed the funds necessary to meet the monthly expenditures as set forth in the statement prepared by the county board of education in accordance with the budget." (1923, c. 136, s. 194; 1925, c. 138, s. 2; 1927, c. 239, s. 16.)

Editor's Note.—This section was re-enacted by Public Laws 1927, ch. 239, sec. 16, so as to meet the other changes made in the school system.

§ 5616. Action against the treasurer to recover funds.—After final settlement with the sheriff, if it shall appear that any part of the public school fund received by the county treasurer has not been properly placed to the credit of the respective boards of education, either the county board of education or the special charter district board of trustees, as the case may be, shall bring action on the treasurer's bond to recover any part of the fund still belonging to the respective board. If the county treasurer fails to perform his duties as herein and above prescribed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 136, s. 195.)

See note under § 5466.

§ 5618. County board of education to have accounts of the board of education and the county treasurer of the public school fund audited.— On or before the first day of August of each year the county board of education shall cause to be audited the books of the treasurer of the county school fund and the accounts of the county board of education, and shall provide for the cost of the same, where a county auditor is not provided by special statute, out of the current expense fund. The auditor's report shall show:

"(a) For Six Months School Term.—(1) Sources of revenues and purposes for which expenditures were made; (2) comparison of approved May budget with the actual transactions; (3) statement of salary paid each teacher, principal, supervisor, or superintendent, and all other employees employed in the county system, showing what part was paid out of the State and county six months school fund, and what part was paid out of the local tax funds; (4) the auditor shall compare the expenditures with the budget approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and report whether all salaries and other expenses have been paid in accordance with law; (5) the auditor shall check the average daily attendance by districts as shown in the budget against the monthly reports from the disrict listing the high school and elementary school average daily attendance separately, and including a statement covering the average daily attendance maintained during the scholastic year which the financial transactions cover and also the average daily attendance maintained during the year next preceding the year covered by the financial transactions contained in the audit; (6) statement of oustanding indebteness, including county school bonds, amounts due the State Board of Education, and all unpaid accounts; (7) appraisal of all school property; and (8) and all other items which will aid in making a complete audit.

"(b) For Local Tax Districts.—In similar details, the audit of the county board of education shall include accounts of local tax districts and special county taxes.

"(c) For Special Charter Districts.—In like manner and in similar details, unless otherwise provided in special act, the board of trustees of each special charter district shall cause to be audited the accounts of the treasurer and board of trustees of the special charter districts.

At least a consolidated statement of the report of the auditor shall be published in some newspaper circulating in the county, or in bulletin form, and one copy of the complete report shall be sent to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and one copy shall be given to the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and one copy to the chairman of the county board of education.

If the county board of education or special charter district board of trustees shall fail to have all accounts audited as provided herein, the State Superintendent shall notify the State Auditor and said State Auditor shall send an auditor to said county and have the accounts audited in accordance with the provisions of this section, and all expenses for the same shall be paid by the county board of education or the board of trustees, as the case may be. (1923, c. 136, s. 198; 1927, c. 239, s. 19.)

Editor's Note.—This section was changed by Public Laws 1927 so as to conform to the new budget plan. For the changes a comparison with the prior law is necessary.

§ 5619. County treasurer to give two bonds. — The county treasurer shall give two bonds: one, for the protection of State school funds forwarded to him for disbursement and one, for the protection of county and district school funds which may come into his possession by authority of law, as hereinafter provided.

a. Bond for the protection of State school funds. Before any money, appropriated by the State for the support of the six months school term or the support of the extended term, shall be forwarded to any county, the county treasurer in said county shall execute a justified bond with security in an amount to be fixed by the State Board of Equalization, which amount in no case shall be less than any monthly installment to be forwarded to said county. The State Board of Equalization shall notify the Budget Bureau, the State Auditor, the State Treasurer, and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction of the amount of bonds so determined for each and every county, and the county board of education in each county of the amount determined for their county. It shall be the duty of the Director of the Local Government Commission to approve or disapprove the character and the competence of the bond so furnished by the county treasurer in each county, and to certify his findings to the State Board of Equalization, to the Budget Bureau, to the State Auditor, to the State Treasurer, to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and to the county board of education in each county as to his findings relative to the character and competence of the bond for their county. It shall be unlawful to send any money appropriated by the State for the support of the six months school term or for the support of the extended term in any county, to the county treasurer thereof until the provisions of this act shall have been complied with so far as said county may be affected thereby. This bond shall constitute the county treasurer's liability to the State for the faithful preservation and disbursement of State funds appropriated for the support of the public schools in said county, and the cost of any surety bond, authorized by this act and approved by the State Board of Equalization, shall be paid out of the six months school fund or out of the tax reduction fund, allocated to said county, or out of both funds, as the State Board of Equalization may determine. In case any monthly installments requested by the county exceeds the amount of the bond as herein provided for, said installment shall be sent in two parts, no one of which shall be greater than said bond, and the second part of said installment shall not be forwarded until the first part shall have been disbursed.

b. Bond for the protection of county and district school funds. Before entering upon the duties of his office, the county treasurer shall execute a justified bond with security for all public school moneys which may come into his possession, other than State school funds, in an amount to be fixed by the board of county commissioners, and the character and competence of said bond shall be approved by the Director of the Local Government Commission in the same way and manner as bonds for the protection of other county moneys are approved, which amount shall be sufficient at all times to safeguard the school moneys in the hands of the county treasurer. The county treasurer's bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as treasurer of the county school fund, and for the payment to his successor in office of any balance of school moneys that may be in his hands unexpended. This bond shall be a departure bond and shall not include liability for funds other than county school funds, and shall be approved by the board of county commissioners and the Director of the Local Government Commission as provided herein. (C. S. 5445.) (1923, c. 136, s. 199; 1929, c. 55, s. 1; 1931, c. 430, s. 16½.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 repealed the former section as amended, providing for one bond, and inserted the above in lieu thereof.

The Act of 1929 amended the former section by adding a proviso relating to Cumberland County, and Public Laws 1931, c. 67, further amended it by making the proviso applicable to Chowan County.

§ 5620. Action on the treasurer's bond.—The board of county commissioners shall bring action in the name of the state for any breach of the bond of the treasurer or for any failure to account properly for the funds received by him, except in cases where action is otherwise provided for. If the commissioners shall fail to bring such action, it may be brought in the name of the state upon the relation of any taxpayer. (C. S. 5446.) (1923, c. 136, s. 200.)

§ 5621. Annual report to state superintendent.—The treasurer of any county, town, or special charter district school fund shall report to the state superintendent of public instruction, on the first Monday of August of each year, the entire amount of money received and disbursed by him during the preceding school year, designating by items the amount received, respectively, from property tax, poll tax, fines, forfeitures and penalties, auctioneers, estrays, from the state treasurer and from the other sources. He shall also designate by item the sum paid to teachers of each race, respectively, the sums paid for schoolhouses, school sites in the several districts, and for all other purposes, specificately and in detail, by item. (C. S. 5451.) (1923, c. 136, s. 201.)

§ 5622. Report to county board.—On the same date that he reports to the state superintendent, he shall file a duplicate of such report in the office of the county board of education. He shall make such other reports as the county board of education may require from time to time. (C. S. 5452.) (1923, c. 136, s. 202.)

§ 5623. Exhibit books, vouchers, and money to county board.—The treasurer of the county school fund shall, when required by the county board of education, produce his books and vouchers for examination, and shall also exhibit all moneys due the public school fund of the county at such settlement required by this article. (C. S. 5453.) (1923, c. 136, s. 203.)

§ 5624. Duties on expiration of term.—Each treasurer of the county school fund, in going out of office, shall deposit in the office of the board of education of his county his books in which are kept his school accounts, and all records and blanks pertaining to his office. If his term expires on the thirtieth day of November during any fiscal school year, or if for any reason he shall hold office beyond the thirtieth day of November and not for the whole of the current fiscal school year, he shall at the time he goes out of office file with the county board of education and with his successor a report, itemized as required by law, covering the receipts and disbursements for that part of the fiscal school year from the thirtieth of June preceding to the time at which he turns over his office to his successor, and his successor shall include in his report to the state superintendent of public instruction the receipts and disbursements for the current fiscal year. (C. S. 5454.) (1923, c. 136, s. 204.)

§ 5625. Treasurers of school fund failing to report a misdemeanor.—If any treasurer of the county or special charter district school fund shall fail to make reports required of him at the time and in the manner prescribed, or to perform any other duties required of him by law, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) and not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) or imprisoned not less than thirty days nor more than six months, in the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5456.) (1923, c. 136, s. 205.)

§ 5626. Treasurer of special charter districts bonded.—The treasurer of every special charter district shall be required by the board of trustees of said school district to execute a justified bond, with security, in an amount to be fixed by the board of trustees, not less than one-half the total amount of money received by him or his predecessor during the previous year, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as treasurer of the funds of the special charter district, and for the payment over to his successor in office of any balance of school moneys that may be in his hands unexpended. This bond shall be a separate bond, not including liabilities for other funds, and shall be approved by the board of trustees of said special charter district; and that board may from time to time, if necessary, require him to strengthen his bond. (1923, c. 136, s. 206.)

§ 5627. Speculating in teachers' salary vouchers.—If any clerk, sheriff, register of deeds, county treasurer or other county, city, town or state officer shall engage in the purchasing of any teacher's salary voucher at a less price than its full and true value or at any rate of discount thereon, or be interested in any speculation thereon, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned, and shall be liable to removal from office at the discretion of the court. (1923, c. 136, s. 208.)

Art. 21. Fines, forfeitures and penalties

§ 5628. Constitutional provisions.—All moneys, stocks, bonds and other property belonging to a county school fund, also the net proceeds from the sale of estrays, also the clear proceeds of all penalties and forfeitures and of all fines collected in the several counties for any breach of the penal or military laws of the state, and all moneys which shall be paid by persons as an equivalent for exemption from military duty, shall belong to and remain in the several counties and shall be faithfully appropriated for establishing and maintaining free public schools in the several counties in this state. (Sec. 5, Art. IX, Constitution.) (1923, c. 136, s. 209.)

Cited in State v. Welborn, 205 N. C. 601, 602, 172 S. E. 174.

§ 5629. Statement of fines kept by clerk.—It is the duty of the clerks of the several courts and of the several justices of the peace to enter in a book, to be supplied by the county, in an itemized detailed statement of the respective amounts received by them in the way of fines, penalties, amercements and forfeitures, and said books shall at all times be open to the inspection of the public. (C. S. 1323.) (1923, c. 136, s. 210.)

§ 5630. Fines paid to treasurer for schools; annual report.—All fines, forfeitures, penalties and amercements collected in the several counties by any court or otherwise shall be accounted for and paid to the county treasurer by the officials receiving them within sixty days after receipt thereof, and shall be faithfully appropriated by the county board of education for the establishment and maintenance of free public schools; and the amounts collected in each county shall be annually reported to the superintendent of public instruction on or before the first Monday in January, by the board of commissioners. (C. S. 1324.) (1923, c. 136, s. 211.)

§ 5631. Failure to file report of fines.—If any officer who is by law required to file any report or statement of fines or penalties with the county board of education shall fail so to do at or before the time fixed by law for the filing of such report, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (C. S. 4398.) (1923, c. 136, s. 212.)

§ 5632. Fines and penalties to be paid to school fund.—Whenever any officer, including justices of the peace, receives or collects a fine, penalty, or forfeiture in behalf of the state he shall, within thirty days after such reception or collection, pay over and account for the same to the treasurer of the county board of education for the benefit of the fund for maintaining the free public schools in such county. Whenever any fine or penalty is imposed by any officer the said fine or penalty shall be at once docketed, and shall not be remitted except for good and sufficient reasons, which shall be stated on the docket. (C. S. 7875.) (1923, c. 136, s. 213.)

§ 5633. Misappropriation of fines a misdemeanor.—Any officer, including justices of the peace, violating the preceding section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by fine or imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. (C. S. 7876.) (1923, c. 136, s. 214.)

§ 5634. Unclaimed fees of jurors and witnesses paid to school fund.—All moneys due jurors and witnesses which remain in the hands of any clerk of the superior court on the first day of January after the publication of a third annual report of the said clerk showing the same, shall be turned over to the county treasurer for the use of the school fund of the county, and it is the duty of said clerk to indicate in his report any moneys so held by him for a period embracing the two annual reports. (C. S. 960.) (1923, c. 136, s. 215.)

§ 5635. Use by public until claimed.—The money aforesaid, while held by the clerks, shall be paid, on application, to the person entitled thereto; and after it ceases to be so held, it may be used as other revenue, subject, however, to the claim of the rightful owner. (C. S. 961.) (1923, c. 136, s. 216.)

§ 5636. Authority to use fines, forfeitures, penalties and dog tax to increase school term.—The county board of education, with the approval of the county commissioners, may set aside all or a part of the amount derived from fines, forfeitures, penalties, dog tax and amercements which accrue to the school fund and use said amount for the purpose of aiding union school districts of the county which, after having levied a special tax of not less than thirty cents on the one hundred dollars ($100.00) valuation of property or its equivalent, are still unable to provide a minimum school term of eight months. (1923, c. 136, s. 218.)

Art. 22. Federal Forest Funds

§ 5637. Certain counties to receive federal forest funds.—All funds paid by the National Forest Commission, by authority of the Act of Congress, approved May twenty-third, one thousand nine hundred and eight (35 Stat., 260), for the counties of Avery, Buncombe, Burke, Haywood, Henderson, Jackson, Macon, Swain, Transylvania, Watauga, and Yancey, shall be paid to the treasurers, or to the men acting as such, of the above named counties, for the use and benefit of the school fund and road fund of each county: Provided, that said funds in each county shall be divided equally between the road fund and the school fund. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 6, s. 1; 1921, c. 179, s. 17.)

§ 5638. Distribution of forest funds.—All funds which may hereafter come into the hands of the state treasurer from like sources shall be likewise distributed. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 6, s. 2.)

SUBCHAPTER VIII. LOCAL TAX ELECTIONS FOR SCHOOLS

Art. 23. School Districts Authorized to Vote Local Taxes

§ 5639. How elections may be called.—The citizens of any duly created school district are hereby authorized to petition for a local tax election for schools, as follows: A written petition signed by twenty-five qualified voters who have resided at least twelve months within the district, or if fewer than seventy-five of such qualified voters, reside in the territory, then by one-third of such qualified voters, shall be presented to the county board of education asking for an election in the district to ascertain whether there shall be levied in said district a local annual tax not to exceed fifty cents (50c) on the one hundred dollar ($100.00) valuation of all property, real and personal, to supplement the funds for the six months public school term for that district: Provided, that the petition for an election to be held in any special charter district shall be presented to the board of trustees of said district. (1923, c. 136, s. 219.)

Cross Reference.—As to election in special school taxing districts, see section 5657; as to county wide plan of organization, see section 5481 and Editor's Note thereto for effect of failure to adopt county-wide plan. For constitutional provision requiring election see Art. VII, sec. 7. For a discussion of Special Tax School districts see 1 N. C. Law Rev. 88.

In General.—For an able discussion of this subject by Mr. Justice Hoke in which the various statutes pertaining to the subject are considered, see Sparkman v. Board, 187 N. C. 241, 121 S. E. 531.

Approval of Voters of Each District Unnecessary.—Sparkman v. Board, 187 N. C. 241, 121 S. E. 531.

Who May Sign Petition.—The prior law in regard to authorizing local taxes was that the petition be signed by freeholders. In Gill v. Board, 160 N. C. 176, 76 S. E. 203 it was held that women were not freeholders. The Public Laws 1915, c. 22, section 1746 changed this rule and made it possible for women to sign petitions as required in forming tax districts. See Chitty v. Parker, 172 N. C. 126, 90 S. E. 17.

Construed with Section 5669—This section and section 5669 are in pari materia, and should be construed together. Young v. Commissioners, 194 N. C. 771, 140 S. E. 740.

The provisions of § 5669, that the election shall be called and held under the same rules and regulations as provided in Public Laws of 1923, subchapter 8, for local tax elections, means that the election shall be authorized and conducted in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed in subchapter 8, and does not include within its meaning the signing of the petition by the voters as required by this section. Young v. Commissioners, 194 N. C. 771, 140 S. E. 740.

Cited in Platt v. Board, 187 N. C. 125, 133, 121 S. E. 190; Forester v. North Wilkesboro, 206 N. C. 347, 350, 174 S. E. 112.

§ 5640. The board to consider petition.—The county board of education or the board of trustees, as the case may be, shall receive the petition and give it due consideration. If the board shall approve the petition for an election, it shall be endorsed by the chairman and secretary of the board and a record of the endorsement shall be made in the minutes of the board of education. The petition shall then be presented to the board of county commissioners or the governing body authorized to order the election, and it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners or said governing body to call an election and fix the date for the same: Provided, the county board of education or board of trustees, as the case may be, may, for any good and sufficient reason, withdraw the petition before the close of the registration books, and if the petition be so withdrawn, the election shall not be held. In the case of a special charter district coterminous with or situated entirely within an incorporated city or town, said petition shall be presented to the governing body of said city or town, and the election shall be ordered by said governing body. (1923, c. 136, s. 220; 1925, c. 143.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1925 the last sentence to this section was added.

The duty of the board of education under this section in connection with section 5645 is discretionary and can not be enforced by mandamus. Board v. Board, 189 N. C. 650, 127 S. E. 692.

Same—Duty of Commissioners Ministerial.—But this section does not rest in the county commissioners discretion to order or not order an election. After the board of education has approved the petition, the duty of the commissioners is ministerial only and may be enforced by mandamus. Board v. Board, 189 N. C. 650, 127 S. E. 692.

§ 5641. Rules governing election for local taxes.—In all elections held under this law the board of county commissioners, or the body authorized to order said election, shall designate the polling place or places, appoint the registrars and judges, and canvass and judicially determine the results of said election when the returns have been filed with them by the officers holding the election, and shall record such determination on their records. The notice of the election shall be given by publication at least three times in some newspaper published or circulated in the territory. It shall set forth the boundary lines of the district, the maximum rate of tax to be levied, which shall not exceed fifty cents (50c) on the one hundred dollar ($100.00) valuation of property, real and personal, and the purpose of the tax. The first publication shall be at least thirty days before the election. A new registration of the qualified voters of the territory shall be ordered, and notice of said new registration shall be deemed to be sufficiently given by publication once in some newspaper published or circulating in said district at least twenty days before the close of the registration books. This notice of registration may be considered one of the three notices required of the election. Such published notice of registration shall state the days on which the books will be open for registration of voters and the place or places at which they will be open on Saturdays. The books of such new registration shall close on the second Saturday before the election. The Saturday before the election shall be challenge day, and except as otherwise provided in this act such election shall be held in accordance with the law governing general elections. At the election those who are in favor of the levy and collection of the taxes shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written the words "For local tax," and those who oppose shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written the words "Against local tax." All other details of said election shall be fixed by the board or other governing body ordering the election, and the expenses of holding and conducting the election in all districts other than in special charter districts shall be provided by the county board of education out of the operating and equipment fund of the county. But the expenses of conducting the election in all special charter districts shall be paid by the board of trustees of said district out of the local tax funds of the district. (1923, c. 136, s. 221.)

As to time registration books must be kept open see section 5947.

Notice in Newspaper.—It is not necessary that the newspaper, in which the notice of election is given be published in the district, it is sufficient if the paper is circulated in the district where the election is to be held. See Miller v. Duke School Dist., 184 N. C. 197, 113 S. E. 786.

And failure to give the notice has been held immaterial where such failure did not affect the result of the election. See Yaunts v. Com., 151 N. C. 582, 66 S. E. 575; Gregg v. Board, 162 N. C. 479, 78 S. E. 301.

What Constitutes a Majority Vote.—The requirement that the measure shall be carried by a "majority of the qualified voters," by correct interpretation, signifies a majority of the qualified voters of the district appearing upon the registration book, and not a majority of those voting in the election. Williams v. County Com., 176 N. C. 554, 97 S. E. 478.

Cited in Young v. Commissioners, 194 N. C. 771, 774, 140 S. E. 740.

§ 5642. Levy and collection of taxes.—In case a majority of the qualified voters in the district or territory referred to above shall vote at the election in favor of the tax, it shall be annually levied and collected in the manner prescribed for the levy and collection of other taxes, and the maximum rate so voted shall be levied, unless the county board of education or board of trustees shall request a levy at a lower rate, in which event the rate requested, shall be levied and collected; and the county superintendent of schools and the officer in charge of county tax records shall keep records in their respective offices showing the valuation of the property, real and personal, in the district, the rate of tax authorized annually to be levied, and the amount annually derived from the local tax, and it shall be illegal for any part of the local tax fund to be used for any other purpose other than to supplement the funds for a six months school term in the district. (1923, c. 136, s. 222.)

§ 5643. Increasing levy in districts having less than fifty cent rate.—Authority is hereby given any local tax district having voted a maximum rate less than fifty (50c) to increase the levy to a maximum of fifty cents (50c) on the one hundred dollars ($100.00) valuation of property, real and personal. Such increase shall be made after an election has been held as provided for in this article. (1923, c. 136, s. 223.)

§ 5644. Validating rates heretofore voted.—If any local tax district in which a fixed or maximum rate of more than thirty cents (30c), but not exceeding fifty cents (50c), has been voted at one election under the authority of sections five thousand five hundred and twenty-six and five thousand five hundred and thirty-five, Consolidated Statutes of 1919, the election in all respects is hereby validated. (1923, c. 136, s. 224.)

§ 5645. Frequency of election.—In the event that a majority of the qualified voters of a district do not at the election cast their votes for the local tax, another election or elections under the provisions of this article may be held after the lapse of six months in the same district. (1923, c. 136, s. 225.)

§ 5646. Enlargement of local tax or special charter districts.—Upon a written petition of a majority of the governing board of any district, the county board of education, after approving the petition, shall present the same to the board of county commissioners and ask for an election on the question of the enlargement of the boundary lines of any such district so as to include any contiguous territory, and an election in such new territory may be ordered and held under rules governing elections for local taxes as provided in this article: Provided, the local tax rate specified in the petition and submitted to the qualified voters shall be a local tax of the same rate as that voted in the said district to which the territory is to be added. If a majority of the qualified voters in such new territory shall vote in favor of such tax, the new territory shall become a part of said district, and the term "local tax of the same rate" herein used shall include, in addition to the usual local tax, any tax levied to meet the interest and sinking fund of any bonds heretofore issued by the district proposed to be enlarged. In case of a majority of the qualified voters at the election shall vote in favor of the tax, the district shall be deemed enlarged as so proposed. (C. S. 5530, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 226; 1925, c. 151; 1927, c. 88.)

Cross Reference.—As to consolidation of tax districts see sections 5483 et seq.; as to what constitutes a majority vote see note to section 5641; as to repealing charter see section 5555; as to failure to adopt county-wide plan see Editor's Note to section 5481.

Editor's Note.—The cases which follow in this note are in the majority of instances constructions of section 5530 of the Consolidated Statutes, which of course did not include the amendment of 1923; as the Act of 1923, codified as section 5646 varies no little from the original statute, it is deemed advisable to advert to the changes here, so that the constructions of the former statute may be more readily understood.

In General.—Laws of 1921, ch. 179, providing for the consolidation and adjustment of rates of taxation and authorizing the voters of a district so consolidated to vote special tax rates for the schools in the entire district, etc., should be construed to harmonize with C. S., 5530, (this section) and the provisions of the former statute do not affect or impair the requirement of the latter one, that for an extension of the boundaries of an existing local school tax district or districts, the approval of the tax proposed must first be given by the voters in the proposed new and contiguous territory. Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1.

Construed with Art. 24.—C. S. 5526, (now incorporated in Art. 24, ch. 95, providing for the creation of new local school tax districts, and section 5530 (this section) requiring the question of an enlargement of an existing special school tax district to be submitted separately to the voters of the proposed new territory are to be construed in pari materia, and the provisions of each are held reconcilable with those of the other. Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1.

C. S., (incorporated in Art. 24,) applies primarily to the consolidation of nonspecial-school-tax territory; and in order to consolidate existent school-tax districts having rates, by extending the limits of some of them to include others, section 5530 (this section) requires that a majority of the committee or trustees of either of these districts sought to be enlarged file a written request with the county board of education to thus enlarge its boundaries, and an election must be held before consolidation, and the other material requirements of the statute complied with; and where this course has not been followed, the tax attempted to be levied in the consolidated district, and bonds ordered to be issued in pursuance thereof, are invalid. Jones v. Board, 187 N. C. 557, 122 S. E. 290. Attention is directed to the fact that the majority now required is not of the "committee or trustees" but of the "governing board." In other respects this decision seems to be still applicable.—Ed. Note.

C. S., 5526 (incorporated in Art. 24,) providing for the creation of a special school tax district by the county board of education without regard to township lines, upon an election to be held within the proposed district, after notice, etc., refers to territory having no special school tax and has no application to the enlargement of such district under the provisions of C. S., (this section), wherein one or more school tax districts having already been established and there is other continuous territory sought to be included which has not voted any special school tax. Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1.

Where special school tax districts have been consolidated with non-school tax territory, it is, in effect, an enlargement of the special tax territory, and coming within the provisions of C. S., 5530 (this section) it is required for the validity of a special tax to be levied for school purposes in the enlarged territory that it be approved by the voters outside of the special tax districts included in the consolidated territory, at an election to be held according to law. Barnes v. Board, 184 N. C. 325, 114 S. E. 398.

Where special school tax districts and nonspecial school tax districts have been consolidated, and the district as a whole has voted, but separately as to each district, approving the question of special taxation for school purposes, and the election as to each, inclusive of the nontax territory, is upheld, counting the votes separately therein, the result of the election will be declared valid. Board v. Bray Bros. Co., 184 N. C. 484, 115 S. E. 47.

Collateral Attack on Special Tax. — Where nonspecial school tax territory is included in a consolidated school tax district with a school tax district that has theretofore voted and continued to levy a special tax, the question of the validity of the tax so levied by the existing district cannot be attacked collaterally in a suit to enjoin the levy of a special tax on the entire consolidated district, later attempted to be formed. Barnes v. Board, 184 N. C. 325, 114 N. C. 325, 114 S. E. 398.

Same—Separate Vote in Nontax Territory.—Where one or more special tax districts have been established under the provisions of our statutes applicable, such districts may not extend their territory to include other districts and adjacent territory that have not voted a special tax, without the question having first been submitted to and approved separately by the voters of the outlying territory, and giving them the right to independently determine for themselves whether they shall be specially taxed, in the amount proposed. Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1.

In Plott v. Board, 187 N. C. 125, 132, 121 S. E. 190, the Court said: "The Court has decided, it is true, that where a school-taxing district has been established its boundaries may not be enlarged or extended so as to include an adjacent nontaxing district without the approval of a majority of the qualified voters of the nontaxing territory."

The uniting of an existing special school tax district with other districts not having such tax is in effect the enlarging of the boundaries of the tax district to take in outlying nontax territory under the provisions of C. S., 5530 (this section) and it is only required for the establishment of the enlarged district and the levying of a special tax therein, that the district to be enlarged and the outlying territory, should each cast a majority vote in favor of the propositions submitted to them, and it is unnecessary that each of the nontax districts included in the enlarged territory should have separately cast a majority vote in favor of the special tax proposed, nor is it material that one of them was separated from the others by the original special tax district so enlarged. Vann v. Board, 185 N. C. 168, 116 S. E. 421.

The authority given the county board of education to re district the entire county or part thereof, and to consolidate school districts, etc., C. S., 5473, (section 5483,) as amended by Public Laws of 1921, ch. 179, providing, among other things, for such consolidation of existing districts under a uniform rate of taxation not exceeding the lowest in any one district, meets the requirements of our Constitution, Art. VII, sec. 7, but to the extent the amendatory statute permits consolidation of local school tax districts with adjacent territory or local schools that have never voted any tax, the provisions of C. S., 5530 (this section) must apply so as to permit those living in such proposed new territory to vote separately upon the question of taxing themselves for the purpose. Perry v. Commissioners, 183 N. C. 387, 112 S. E. 6, under the provisions of C. S., 5526 (incorporated in Article 24, ch. 95), it appeared that therein was included several local tax districts already established and also territory wherein no special tax had been voted, and the proceedings were properly instituted by only one of these local school tax districts: Held, the proceedings were for the enlargement of the petitioning local tax district, and required that the others therein should also have proceeded regularly under the statute and that the electors in the proposed part that had not voted a special tax be permitted to vote separately upon the question of the contemplated increase for the designated purpose. Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1.

The combination or consolidation of local school tax districts with territory that has not voted a special tax for the purposes of schools must fall within the provisions of C. S., 5530, (this section) whereby the proposed new territory is required to vote separately upon the question of taxation, in conformity with our Constitution, Art. VIII, § 7, Perry v. Commissioners, 183 N. C. 387, 112 S. E. 6.

Enlarging Special Charter District.—While special charter school districts do not as a rule come within the compulsory regulations of the public school authorities unless or until they have surrendered their special charter, chapter 136, Laws of 1923, § 157, the school authorities, under section 226, (from which this section is codified) are empowered to enlarge one of these districts having a special tax, by adding outside adjoining territory so that it comes under the governing authorities of the special charter district thus enlarged, when the approval of the voters of the outlying territory proposed to be added have approved thereof at an election held for the purpose as directed by the statute. Blue v. Board, 187 N. C. 431, 122 S. E. 19.

Under this article, elections may be had for the various purposes therein specified, and among them a district may be enlarged and a taxing district established in the same on petition of the governing board of the principal district, and on taking the vote of the outside territory to be added, as indicated in this section. Blue v. Board, 187 N. C. 431, 434, 122 S. E. 19. See note to sec. 5655 for restrictions on elections.—Ed. Note.

Enlargement without Required Vote. — When a school district authorizes a local tax and later enlarges without the election as required, being held in the new territory, and a tax is levied for four years without objections from the taxpayers although the annexation was unconstitutional the taxpayers will be estopped to levy the validity of the annexation. Carr v. Little, 188 N. C. 100, 123 S. E. 625.

§ 5646(a). Countywide plan not necessary.—It shall not be necessary, in enlarging school districts under section five thousand six hundred and forty-six (5646) of article twenty-three, chapter Education, of volume three, Consolidated Statutes, or under section five thousand six hundred and fifty thereof, for county boards of education to adopt a countywide plan of organization, under the provisions of said chapter. (1925, c. 151, s. 2.)

§ 5647. Abolition of district upon election.—Upon petition of [twenty-five per cent (25%) of the number of registered voters in the election creating said special tax district, said petition to be signed by qualified voters residing in such special tax district,] one-half of the qualified voters residing in any local tax district established under this article, the same shall be indorsed and approved by the county board of education, and the board of county commissioners shall order another election in the district for submitting the question of revoking the tax and abolishing the district, to be held under the provisions prescribed in this act for holding other elections. It shall be the duty of the board of education to indorse the petition when presented, containing the proper number of names of qualified voters, and this provision is made mandatory, and the board is allowed no discretion to refuse to indorse the same when so presented. If at the election a majority of the qualified voters in the district shall vote "Against Local Tax," the tax shall be deemed revoked and shall not be levied, and the district shall be discontinued. [Provided, this section shall not apply to that part of such tax, if any, in said district as may be necessary to pay the interest on or amortization of any bonded or other indebtedness, incurred in consequence of the voting of said special tax district but to that extent, and to that extent only, shall said special tax district be maintained. And, provided, further, that the provisions of this section in brackets shall apply only to the following counties: Alexander, Anson, Beaufort, Buncombe, Carteret, Catawba, Chatham, Chowan, Cleveland, Craven, Currituck, Davidson, Duplin, Franklin, Gates, Greene, Henderson, Hoke, Hyde, Iredell, Jackson, Johnston, Lenoir, Martin, Mecklenburg, Moore, Nash, Onslow, Pamlico, Pitt, Randolph, Richmond, Rockingham, Transylvania, Vance, Wake, Warren, Wilkes, Robeson.] (C. S. 5531, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 227; 1931, c. 372.)

Editor's Note.—It was the rule prior to this section that the approval of the board of education was necessary before a vote to abolish the district could be had, and the exercise of the power to approve was discretionary, there being no way to force the approval. Key v. Board, 170 N. C. 123, 86 S. E. 1002. By the express terms of the section now approval is mandatory.

The Act of 1931 added the portions of this section appearing in brackets.

In General.—Under the provisions of C. S., 5530, (section 5646) a local tax school district may be abolished by the act of creating a new one of which it is a component part, while section 5531 (this section) is restricted simply and singly to the abolition of an existing district, and so construed, it was held that these sections are in harmony with each other. Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1.

Abolition Unnecessary to Valid Consolidation.—Where, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 136, Laws of 1923, an existent special charter tax district has been enlarged to take in added and adjoining territory, it is not required that such district should have first been abolished to make the consolidation valid according to sections 227, 228, § 5647, 5648, the requirements of these sections being intended to provide for the abolition of local-tax districts when that was the single question presented. Blue v. Board, 187 N. C. 431, 122 S. E. 19.

Effect of Abolition on Taxes Already Levied.—Where a school district has been established under the provisions of the Revisal, sec. 4115, and in the exercise of the powers therein conferrd have annually levied a tax for school purposes, and, accordingly, a tax was levied for the current year, but subsequently and in pursuance of chapter 135, Laws 1911, an election was ordered on the question of revoking the special tax, which was held and carried in favor of the repeal: Held, the repeal of the former tax was prospective in its operation, and especially when the authorities had theretofore contracted with teachers and for other necessary expenses to carry on the school work authorized by the former act. Mann v. Allen, 171 N. C. 219, 88 S. E. 235.

Cited in Young v. Commissioners, 194 N. C. 771, 774, 140 S. E. 740.

§ 5648. Local tax district in debt may not be abolished.—The provisions of this article as to abolishing local tax districts shall not apply when such local tax district is in debt in any sum whatever. (1923, c. 136, s. 228.)

§ 5649. Election for abolition not oftener than once a year.—No election for revoking a local tax in any local tax district shall be ordered and held in the district within less than one year from the date of the election at which the tax was voted and the district established, nor at any time within less than one year after the date of the last election on the question of revoking the tax in the district; and no petition revoking such tax shall be approved by the county board of education oftener than once a year: Provided, this section shall not apply to any indirect abolition or reduction of taxes as may be elsewhere provided. (C. S. 5533, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 229.)

In General.—This section requiring that "no election for revoking a special [now local] tax in any special [now local] tax district shall be ordered and held," within less than two [now one] years from the date at which the tax was voted and the district established, "nor at any time within less than two [now one] years after the date of the last election on the question [of revoking the tax] in the district," invalidates any election on the question of taxation held within two years [now one] after the last election, the second proposition being independent from the first as to "revoking" a special tax in the district, otherwise the second provision would be identical with the first, and meaningless. Weesner v. Davidson County, 182 N. C. 604, 109 S. E. 863. The insertions in brackets by the editor indicate the changes in this section effected by the Laws of 1923.—Ed. Note.

Computing the Time.—Computing the two [now one] years period in which an election may be had with regard to taxation in a special school district under the provisions of this section, the time should be computed from the last valid election on the subject. Weesner v. Davidson County, 182 N. C. 604, 109 S. E. 863. Cited and approved in Adwik v. Fugua Spring, 194 N. C. 423.

§ 5650. Enlarging boundaries of district within incorporated city or town.—The boundaries of a district situated entirely within the corporate limits of a city or town, but not coterminous with such city or town, may be enlarged so as to make the district coterminous with such city or town either in the manner prescribed by this section or in the manner prescribed by section five thousand six hundred and forty-six: Provided, however, that no district shall be enlarged under this section if the new territory necessary to be added to such district, in order to make it coterminous with such city or town, has any bonded debt incurred for school purposes, other than debt payable by taxation of all taxable property in such district and such new territory. In cases where the local annual tax voted to supplement the funds of the six months public school term is of the same rate in such district and in the new territory necessary to be added to such district in order to make the district coterminous with such city or town, the county board of education shall have power to enlarge the boundaries of the district as aforesaid. In cases where such tax rates are not the same, the boundaries of the district shall become so enlarged upon the adoption of a proposition for such enlargement by a majority of the qualified voters of such new territory. The governing body of such city or town may at any time, upon petition of the board of education or other governing body of such district, or upon its own initiative if the governing body of the city or town is also the governing body of the district, submit the question of enlarging the district as aforesaid to the qualified voters of such new territory proposed to be added to such district at any general or municipal election or at a special election called for said purpose. Such an election may be ordered and held and a new registration for said election provided under the rules governing elections for local taxes as provided under the article, except that the election and registration shall be ordered by and held under the supervision of and the result of the election determined by the governing body of such city or town. The ballots to be used in said election shall have printed or written thereon the words: "For the enlargement of.... school district, pursuant to section two hundred and thirty of chapter one hundred and thirty-six of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, as amended," and "Against the enlargement of ..... school district, pursuant to section two hundred and thirty of chapter one hundred and thirty-six of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, as amended." If a majority of the qualified voters of such new territory proposed to be added to such district shall vote in favor of such enlargement, said district shall thereupon become coterminous with said city or town, and there shall be levied annually in such new territory all taxes previously voted in said district for the purpose of supplementing the funds for six months public school terms for said district and for the purpose of paying the principal or interest of any bonds or other indebtedness previously issued or incurred by said district; and a vote in favor of such enlargement shall be deemed and held to be a vote in favor of the levying of such taxes. The validity of the said election and of the registration for said election and of the correctness of the determination of the result of said election shall not be open to question except in an action or proceeding commenced within thirty days after the determination of the result of said election at the same time that said election is held it shall be lawful to hold an election in the entire territory of said city or town on the question of issuing bonds of said city or town or of said school district as so enlarged, for school purposes, and levying sufficient tax for the payment of said bonds, or on the question of levying a local annual tax on all taxable property in said city or town or in said school district as so enlarged, to supplement the funds for the six months public school term for said district, in addition to taxes for the payment of bonds, in the same manner that would be lawful if said district had been so enlarged prior to the submission of said questions. One registration may be provided for all of said simultaneous elections. (1923, c. 136, s. 230; 1925, c. 143.)

Editor's Note. — By Public Laws 1925 this section was amended and re-enacted. Prior to this time the section provided that school districts situated within and coterminous with the boundary line of a town or city which after the district was created was not coterminous with such city or town because of change of boundaries, might be made coterminous, and the board of education had power to consolidate the newly incorporated territory with the school district provided the tax rate was the same.

§ 5651. Local tax districts from portions of contiguous counties.—a. Local tax districts may be formed as provided in this section out of contiguous portions of two or more counties.

The petition for such a district must be initiated as petitions for local tax elections are initiated under the provisions of this article, must be endorsed by the county boards of education of such contiguous counties and each county board of education shall certify to the board of county commissioners of its county that the metes and bounds of the proposed joint local tax district are in accordance with and are an integral part of the lawfully adopted county-wide plan of organization in so far as they pertain to said county.

The board of commissioners of each county, in compliance with the provisions of this article relating to the conduct of local tax elections, shall then call and hold an election in that portion of the proposed district lying in its county. Election returns shall be made from each portion of the proposed district to the board of commissioners ordering the election in that portion and the returns canvassed and recorded as required in this article for local tax districts.

b. In case the election carries in each portion of the proposed district, the several county boards of education concerned shall each pass a formal order consolidating the territory into one joint local tax district; which shall be and become a body corporate by the name and style of '..... Joint Local Tax School District of .... Counties.' The county board of education having the largest school census and the largest area in the part of the joint local tax districts lying in its county shall determine the location of the schoolhouse; but if the largest census and area do not both lie in the same county, then the couny boards shall jointly select the site for the building, and in case of a disagreement they shall submit the question to the board of arbitration, consisting of three members, one member to be named by each board of education if three counties are concerned, or if there are but two counties, then each board shall choose one member and the two so named shall select the third member. The decision of the board of arbitration shall be binding upon all county boards of education concerned.

c. The school committee shall consist of five members, three of whom shall be appointed by the board of education of the county in which the building is to be situated and two to be appointed by the other county or counties, but the terms of office shall be so arranged that not more than two members will retire in any one year. The committee shall officially exercise such corporate powers as are conferred in this section. This said committee shall have all the powers and duties of committee of local tax districts, and in addition thereto it shall adopt a corporate seal and have the power to sue and be sued. The committee shall have the power to determine the rate of local taxes to be levied in said joint district, not exceeding the rate authorized by the voters of the district, and when the committee shall have so determined the rate of local taxes to be levied in said joint district and shall have certified same to the boards of commissioners of the several counties from which said joint district is created, the said boards of county commissioners, and each of them, shall levy said rate of local taxes within the portion of said joint district lying within their respective counties; and the taxes so levied shall be collected in the several counties as other taxes are collected therein, and shall be paid over by the officers collecting the same to the treasurer or other fiscal agent of the county in which the schoolhouse is located, or is to be located, to be by him placed to the credit of the joint district.

d. The committee shall have as full authority to call and hold elections for the voting of bonds of the district as is conferred upon boards of education and boards of commissioners in article twenty-two of this chapter. In calling the election for a bond issue no petition of the county board of education shall be necessary; but the election shall be called and held by the school committee of the incorporated local tax school district under as ample authority as is conferred upon both county boards of education and boards of commissioners under article twenty-two of this chapter. When bonds of the district have been voted under authority of this section, they shall be issued subject to the limitations of article twenty-two of this chapter in the corporate name of the district, signed by the chairman and secretary of the school committee, sold by the school committee, and the proceeds thereof deposited with the treasurer of the county board of education of the county in which the school building is, or is to be, located, to be placed to the credit of the joint district, and the taxes for interest and principal shall be levied and collected as provided in subsection c. above for the levy and collection of local taxes.

e. The committee shall have the same power to call and hold elections to ascertain the will of the voters of the district upon the question of increasing the local tax levy to a maximum rate of fifty cents on the one hundred dollars ($100) valuation of taxable property as it has in the case of bond elections. But local tax elections called and held in such joint districts shall be held under the general provisions of this article governing local tax elections, except that the district committee is hereby granted the powers of county boards of education and boards of commissioners as to local tax elections.

f. The building of all schoolhouses in such joint local tax districts shall be effected by the county board of education of the county in which the building is to be located under authority of law governing the erection of school buildings by county boards of education. It shall be lawful for the boards of education in the other county or counties to contribute to the cost of the building in proportion to the number of children shown by the official census to be resident within that part of the joint district lying within each county respectively. If the building is to be erected from moneys borrowed from the State Building Funds or from county taxation, then each county board of education shall contribute to its construction in the proportion set out above and pay over its contribution to the treasurer of the county board having control of the erection of the building: Provided, it shall be lawful for the county board that controls the erection of the building to borrow from the State and lend to the district the full amount of the cost of the building in cases where the entire amount is to be repaid by the district funds.

g. All district funds of a joint local tax district shall be kept distinct from all other funds, placed to the credit of the district, and expended as other local tax or district bonds funds are lawfully disbursed.

h. The county board of education and county superintendent of public instruction of the county in which the schoolhouse is located shall have as full and ample control over the joint school and the district as it has in the case of other local tax districts subject only to the limitations of this section.

i. It shall be the duty of the committee of the joint school district to prepare a budget in accordance with the law requiring budgets of special charter districts. The said budget, which shall show the proportionate part of the cost of maintenance for six months to be contributed by each county, the several parts to be ascertained on the basis of the proportions of the total district school census living in each respective county, shall be filed by the committee with the county board of education of each county, and it shall be the duty of each board, if it approves the district budget, to incorporate it in the county budget to be submitted to the commissioners in May of each year. Each of the several county boards of education is hereby directed to pay over its proportionate part of the district budget, when and as collected, to the treasurer of the board of education of the county in which the school plant is located for the purposes for which it has been levied and collected.

j. All districts formed before the ratification of this amendment under the provisions of section two hundred and thirty-two, chapter one hundred and thirty-six, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and all districts incorporated before the ratification of this amendment, under the provisions of section two hundred and thirty-three of said chapter, are hereby authorized and empowered to exercise all the powers and privileges conferred by this section as amended. (1923, c. 136, s. 232; 1924, c. 32.)

Editor's Note.—By Ex. Sess. 1924 this section was changed and re-enacted, for the changes made a comparison of the two acts is necessary.

§ 5652. District already created out of portion of two or more counties.—Districts that have already been created out of portions of two or more counties may be incorporated in the following manner: Upon petition of the county board of education of each county, calling for an election the commissioners of each county shall call an election which shall be conducted in all respects as an election for voting local taxes. But the qualified voters in favor of incorporation shall cast a ballot on which is written or printed "For Incorporation," and those against shall cast a ballot on which is written or printed "Against Incorporation." If a majority of the qualified voters in the portion in each county shall cast their ballots for incorporation, the district is thereby incorporated and shall possess all the authority of incorporated districts as provided in this article. (1923, c. 136, s. 233.)

§ 5653. Validation of local tax elections.—In all cases where, in accordance with the requirements of section seven of article seven of the constitution of North Carolina, a majority of the qualified voters of any school district or of any proposed school district, or of any portion of a school district, have heretofore voted in favor of the levying of a special annual tax for school purposes in said school district, or proposed school district, or portion of a school district, as the case may be to supplement the public school funds which may be apportioned to said district by the county board of education, and a tax has heretofore been levied and collected pursuant to said vote, and no court of competent jurisdiction has held said vote or said annual tax or the establishment or organization of said district to be invalid, the said vote and all acts and proceedings done or taken in or about the calling, holding, or conducting of the election at which said vote was cast or in or about the registration of voters for said election are hereby legalized and validated: Provided, that this section shall not apply to any litigation pending in any of the courts within the state March 2, 1923. (1923, c. 135, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 5654. Incorporation of districts in which election is validated.—In all cases referred to in the preceding section the inhabitants of such proposed school district are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate by the name and style by which said school district is known, and said body politic is hereby authorized to adopt a corporate seal, unless such school district has, since the vote aforesaid, been consolidated with or annexed to another school district, or unless the voters of such district have voted to revoke the said tax or abolish such district: Provided, that this section shall not apply to any litigation pending in any of the courts within the state March 2, 1923. c. 135, ss. 1, 3.)

Art. 24. Special School Taxing Districts

§ 5655. School taxing districts created.—The following territorial divisions of a county are hereby declared to be special school taxing districts in which special school taxes may be voted as hereinafter provided: (1) A township; (2) two or more contiguous or consecutive districts, all of which may be embraced within one common boundary; (3) two or more contiguous or consecutive townships, all of which may be embraced within one common boundary; (4) one or more districts and one or more townships contiguous,, all of which may be embraced within one common boundary, and (5) the entire county excluding one or more tonwships or one or more special charter districts. (1923, c. 136, s. 234.)

Cross Reference. — See notes to sections 5581, 5646, and 5659. For a definition of district, see section 5387. As to uniformity of tax in consolidated district, see secton 5485 and note thereto. For treatment of special tax school districts, see 1 N. C. Law Rev. 88. As to effect of failure to adopt county-wide plan, see Editor's Note to section 5481.

Editor's Note.—As section 5526 of Volume II Consolidation Statutes was codified in no one section but is found scattered throughout the sections comprising article 24, it is thought that the beginning of that article is the most appropriate place for constructions of the former section.

Applicability to Existing Tax Districts.—The application of the provisions of C. S., 5526, [incorporated throughout the various sections of this article] to the formation of new local school tax districts without regard to township lines, etc., refers primarily to instances where new districts are created or formed, as therein prescibed, out of territory exclusive of special tax districts, or out of territory having the same status throughout its entirety, in relation to the then existing school tax or taxes, so as to give every voter a fair chance, uninfluenced by other considerations, to declare with his ballot whether or not he wishes to be taxed for the creation and maintenance of the district proposed. Perry v. Commissioners, 183 N. C. 387, 112 S. E. 6.

C. S., 5526, providing for the creation of a special school tax district by the county board of education without regard to township lines, upon an election to be held within the proposed district, after notice, etc., refers to territory having no special school tax and has no application to the enlargement of such district under the provisions of secs. 5530, 5646, wherein one or more school tax districts have already been established and there is other contiguous territory sought to be included which has not voted any special school tax. Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1.

C. S., 5526, applies primarily to the consolidation of non-special school-tax territory; and in order to consolidate existent school-tax districts having different rates, by extending the limits of some of them to include others, sections 5530, 5646 requires that a majority of the committee or trustee of either of these districts sought to be enlarged file a written request with the county board of education to thus enlarge its boundaries, and an election must be held before consolidation, and the other material requirements of the statute complied with; and where this course has not been followed, the tax attempted to be levied in the consolidated district, and bonds ordered to be issued in pursuance thereof, are invalid. Jones v. Board, 187 N. C. 557, 122 S. E. 290.

Section 5657, relates to "special school taxing districts," and not to "school districts." Special taxing districts are created by this section; they include territory within more than one school district. Hence we find the legislative requirement in sec. 5657, that "the governing school boards of at least a majority of the school districts within the special school taxing district shall indorse the petition." Harrington v. Board, 189 N. C. 572, 127 S. E. 577.

Application to Special-Charter Districts.—The power under this article extends to both local and nonlocal taxing districts, but does not seem to include special-charter districts unless these last have surrendered their charters and become local-tax districts, pursuant to the provisions of section 5555. The school authorities have construed this article so as not to embrace such districts within its meaning, unless surrender has been made as suggested. Sparkman v. Board, 187 N. C. 241, 245, 121 S. E. 531.

Separate Vote in Nontax Territory.—See Hicks v. Board, 183 N. C. 394, 112 S. E. 1; Sparkman v. Board, 187 N. C. 241, 242, 121 S. E. 531.

Restriction as to Locating School Invalid. — Where the electors of a school district of a county have voted for a special tax for the erection of a public school building, based upon a petition filed with the county commissioners and approved by the county board of education in conformity with the requirements of C. S., sec. 5526, except that the petition attempted to take away the discretionary power of the commissioners in locating it, this restrictive provision in the petition is contrary to law, and will be disregarded, and the election being free from fraud and giving the electors full opportunity to vote, the special tax thereby approved will be held valid. Lazenby v. Board, 186 N. C. 548, 120 S. E. 214.

Form of Ballot Directory.—Under a statute which sets out a form of ballot to be used at an election, the use of such form is directory and not mandatory, unless the statute so declares, this matter being within the discretionary power of the Legislature. Riddle v. Cumberland County, 180 N. C. 321, 104 S. E. 662.

The failure to use froms prescribed by this section will not render the election invalid when a free and fair opportunity has been afforded the voters therein to express their will at the polls. Riddle v. Cumberland County, 180 N. C. 321, 104 S. E. 662.

Cited in Plott v. Board, 187 N. C. 125, 133, 121 S. E. 190; Forester v. North Wilkesboro, 206 N. C. 347, 350, 174 S. E. 112.

§ 5656. Boundary lines.—The county board of education, after ascertaining in what special school taxing district it is desirable to levy a special local tax for schools, in addition to the county tax for the six months school term, shall define or describe the boundary lines so as to include the territorial divisions embracing only the special school taxing district in which a special school tax election for schools is to be called, and to exclude all other territory. The boundary lines of the special school taxing district, having been defined and recorded on the minutes of the board of education, a special school tax election may be held as hereinafter provided to equalize school advantages within the special school taxing district. (1923, c. 136, s. 235.)

§ 5657. Petition for an election.—The petition for an election in a special school taxing district shall be made as follows: The governing school boards of at least a majority of the school districts within the special school taxing district shall indorse the petition, and it shall be approved by the county board of education. Said petition shall state the maximum rate of tax to be voted on, which rate shall not exceed fifty cents (50c) on the one hundred dollars ($100.00) valuation of all property, real and personal: Provided, however, that when a special school taxing district created in accordance with the provision of this article includes or embraces two or more school districts having indebtedness incurred for the erection of school buildings, the maximum rate of fifty cents (50c) specified in this section may be exceeded by an additional rate necessary to take care of the combined aforesaid indebtedness of the several districts incurred for the erection of such school buildings. (1923, c. 136, s. 236; 1927, c. 37.)

As to a tax under the county-wide plan, see section 5639. See notes to section 5655.

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws 1927 the proviso in the last part of the section providing for exceeding the specified rate, was added.

Form of Petition. — The character of the petition is not specifically set forth in this article, but the same is manifestly provided for and controlled by section 5639. Sparkman v. Board, 187 N. C. 241, 245, 121 S. E. 531.

§ 5658. The election.—Whenever a petition properly indorsed and approved is presented to the board of county commissioners, said board shall call an election in said special school taxing district and fix a date for holding the same. The rules governing the election, the levy and collection of taxes, and the frequency of elections in a special school taxing district shall be the same as rules governing elections, the levy and collection of taxes, and the frequency of elections as provided in article 23. (1923, c. 136, s. 237.)

Notice of Election.—The requirements of this section as to the first publication in a newspaper, etc., provided in sec. 5614 Art. 23 and the giving of the specified time are mandatory if they affect the merits of the election, and directory if they do not. Flake v. Board, 192 N. C. 590, 135 S. E. 467. This case presents splendid illustrations of variations from the terms of the statute which do not affect the merits.—Ed. Note.

Restriction of Boundaries.—In holding an election under this article, the authorities are restricted to districts having established or recognized boundaries, such as a school district or township, or contiguous school districts or townships. Blue v. Board, 187 N. C. 431, 434, 122 S. E. 19. But see note to sec. 5646.

§ 5659. Special school taxing districts.—If a majority of the qualified electors in the special school taxing district shall vote in favor of the special school tax, then it shall operate to repeal all school taxes theretofore voted in any local tax or special charter district located within said special school taxing district, except such taxes as may have been voted in said local tax or special charter district to pay the interest on bonds and to retire bonds outstanding. But the county board of education shall have the authority to assume all indebtedness, bonded and otherwise, of said local tax or special charter district and pay all or a part of the interest and installments out of the revenue derived from the rate voted in the special school taxing district: Provided, the revenue is sufficient to equalize educational advantages and pay all or a part of the interest and installments on said bonds. (1923, c. 136, s. 238.)

Right of Each District to Vote Separately.—See Sparkman v. Board, 187 N. C. 241, 242, 121 S. E. 531.

Cited in Flake v. Board, 192 N. C. 590, 135 S. E. 467.

§ 5660. Organization of the schools in special school taxing districts.—The county board of education is hereby authorized to organize the schools in a special school taxing district after a special school tax has been voted, in such a way as to equalize educational opportunities within said district. Transportation of pupils may be provided for wherever the needs are apparent, out of county funds for the six months school term and out of funds derived from special school taxes for the remainder of the term. But all consolidation of schools in said special taxing district shall be in accordance with article 10, which provides for creating and consolidating school districts. (1923, c. 136, s. 239.)

Art. 25. Legal Attendance of Pupils in Local Tax or Special Charter Districts

§ 5661. Children residing in a school district shall have the advantage of the public school.—The following persons residing in local tax, special charter or special school taxing districts shall be entitled to all the privileges and advantages of the public schools of said district or districts unless removed from school for cause:

(a) All residents of the district who have not completed the prescribed course for graduation in the high school.

(b) All children whose parents have recently moved into the district for the purpose of making their legal residence in the same.

(c) Any child or children living with either the father or the mother or guardian who has made his or her permanent home within the district.

(d) Any child received into the home of any person residing in the district as a member of the family, who receives board and other support free of cost. (1923, c. 136, s. 240.)

§ 5662. Credits on tuition to nonresidents whose children attend in district.—Any parent or person in loco parentis residing outside of any local tax, special charter or special school taxing district, and owning property within said district, whose child, children, or wards shall attend school in said district, shall be entitled to receive as a credit on the tuition of said child, children, or wards the amount of special school taxes paid on said property. The county board of education may arrange with any such district to send any child or children residing in the county to the school in such district, if they are without adequate educational advantages, for the constitutional term of six months, and to pay the actual cost of the instruction of the children, including the appropriations from the six months school fund. (C. S. 5477, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 241.)

Art. 26. Special County Tax in Which Part of Local Taxes May Be Retained

§ 5663. Election upon petition of county board of education.—Upon the petition of the county board of education of any county, the county commissioners shall order an election to be held in the county to ascertain the will of the people whether there shall be levied on all taxable property and polls in the county a special county tax, not to exceed fifty cents (50c) on the one hundred dollars ($100.00) valuation of property, to supplement the six months school fund of the county. (1923, c. 136, s. 242.)

Cited in Young v. Commissioners, 194 N. C. 771, 774, 140 S. E. 740; Forester v. North Wilkesboro, 206 N. C. 347, 350, 174 S. E. 112.

§ 5664. Rules governing election.—The election shall be conducted for the county as nearly as may be under the "Rules Governing Elections for Local Taxes" as provided in this law. (1923, c. 136, s. 243.)

§ 5665. Maximum tax levy.—In the event that a majority of the qualified voters at said election shall vote in favor of a special county tax, said tax shall be in addition to all taxes theretofore voted in any local tax or special charter district except as provided in section 566. The maximum rate voted shall be annually levied and collected each year in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes of the county are levied and collected, unless the county board of education shall petition for a lower rate. In that event the county commissioners shall levy the rate requested. (1923, c. 136, s. 244.)

§ 5666. The rate in local tax or special charter districts.—Whenever the maximum special county tax rate levied or to be levied under the provisions of this article is less than fifty cents (50c), each local tax, special charter or special school taxing district shall have the authority to levy an additional rate, not in excess of the local tax rate voted in the district.

All indebtedness, bonded or otherwise, of said district or districts may be assumed by the county board of education; and such indebtedness, if assumed by the county board of education; shall be paid out of the special county tax levied under the provisions of this article. (1923, c. 136, s. 245; 1925, c. 180, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1925, a former provision at the end of the first paragraph limiting the total special tax to not exceeding fifty cents on the hundred dollars, except in case where the tax was for bonds or other such indebtedness which remained an obligation against the district, was omitted.

§ 5667. Subsequent elections upon failure of first.—In case a majority of qualified voters of said election in any county shall fail to vote for said special county tax, on petition of a majority of the members of the county board of education of the county, the county commissioners may, after six months, order another election in the same manner and under the same rules governing elections for local taxes. (C. S. 5509, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 246.)

§ 5668. Payment of election expenses.—The expenses of holding said election shall be paid out of the school fund of the county. (C. S. 5510, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 247.)

SUBCHAPTER IX. BONDS AND LOANS FOR BUILDING SCHOOLHOUSES

Art. 27. Authority to Issue Bonds in Any County, School District or Special Taxing Districts

§ 5669. Elections; how called.—Whenever the county board of education shall so petition, the board of county commissioners of any county shall order a special election to be held in any county or special school taxing district, or in any local tax district within which a union school is maintained, for the purpose of voting upon the question of issuing bonds and levying a sufficient tax for the payment thereof for the purpose of acquiring, erecting, enlarging, altering and equipping school buildings and purchasing sites in such county or district, or for any one or more of said purposes. Said election shall be called and held under the same rules and regulations as provided in subchapter VIII for "Local Tax Elections for Schools." The ballots to be used in said election shall have written or printed thereon the words "For the issuance of $..... school bonds and the levying of a tax for the payment thereof," and "Against issuance of $... school bonds and the levying of a tax for the payment thereof." The notice of election shall set forth the boundaries of the district, unless the district is coterminous with a county, city, town, or township, or is coterminous with a county or township except that it does not include a city, town, or township, in such county or township, and the notice shall set forth either the amount or the maximum amount of bonds proposed to be issued. (1923, c. 136, s. 257; 1924, c. 121, s. 3.)

Cross Reference.—As to constitutional requirement, see Art. II, sec. 14; as to erection and prior to schoolhouse see sections 5467 et seq.; as to effect of failure to adopt county-wide plan, see Editor's Note. to section 5481.

Editor's Note.—The last sentence to this section was added by Ex. Sess. 1924.

Construed with Section 5639.—See notes to § 5639.

In Whose Name Bonds Issued.—Where a constitutional statute provides for the issuance of bonds for public school purposes of a district therein and a tax upon that district from which the bonds, principal and interest, shall be paid, and no other, and does not expressly name the payer of the bonds, but authorizes and directs the board of county commissioners to issue the bonds, which shall be signed by the chairman, attested by the clerk and impressed with the corporate seal of the county: Held, it was the intent of the Legislature, as construed from the act, that the bonds be issued in the name of the county on behalf of the school district without liability on the part of the county, but to be paid only as the act expressly provides, out of the money received from the tax imposed for the purpose on the poll and property of the designated school district. Board of Com'rs v. Hanchett Bond Co., 194 N. C. 137, 138 S. E. 614.

If authorized by a majority of the qualified voters, the bonds of such districts shall be issued by the board of county commissioners in the name of the county, and shall be payable out of taxes to be levied in the district. This and the following section were not applicable to the election held in the Cross Mill District because within the district no union school was maintained; but the legislative mandate that bonds of the designated districts should be issued in the name of the county is at least persuasive in the case under consideration. Board of Com'rs v. Hanchett Bond Co., 194 N. C. 137, 138 S. E. 614.

Sufficient Notice.—An election called under the provisions of the act of 1920, ch. 87, authorizing the trustees of any district to issue bonds for certain school purposes, will not be declared invalid upon the ground that the notice given had not stated the purpose for which the election was held, when it stated that it was for the purpose of issuing serial bonds not exceeding a certain amount, and of levying the special tax, specifying the act under which it was proposed to issue them; and there is nothing to indicate that any voter was misled or misinformed, and the election was carried with practical unanimity. Morris v. Board, 184 N. C. 634, 114 S. E. 621.

Local Law Prevails Over General Law.—Where the provisions of a special statute, authorizing the consolidation of school districts within the county, have been complied with, objection to the validity of a bond issue on the ground that the order for the election was too indefinite as to specifying the amount of interest to be paid thereon under the requirement of our general statutes, C. S., [this section] et seq., is untenable for both the local and the general law having been passed at the same session of the Legislature, and being in force at the same time, the local law will prevail as an exception to the general law. Wilson v. Board, 183 N. C. 638, 112 S. E. 418. See also Felmet v. Com., 186 N. C. 251, 119 S. E. 353.

When Public Laws of 1923 Took Effect.—Township bonds for public school purposes, authorized at an election held 9 May, 1923, under the provisions of C. S., ch. 95, are not invalid, when otherwise regular, on the ground that this section of the Consolidated Statutes was superseded by the prior enactment of chapter 136, Public Laws of 1923, there having been a substantial compliance with the requirements of the Statutes on the subject. Board v. McNear & Co., 136 N. C. 352, 119 S. E. 483.

§ 5670. Bonds; how issued.—If a majority of the qualified voters of said county or district shall vote in favor of the issuance of said bonds and the levy of said tax, then the board of county commissioners shall have power to issue the said bonds, which shall be issued in the name of the county, but unless the election was held in the entire county they shall be made payable exclusively out of taxes to be levied in the district. They shall be issued in such form and denominations, and with such provisions as to time, place and medium of payment of principal and interest as the said board may determine, subject to the limitations and restrictions of this act. They may be issued as one issue or divided into two or more separate issues, and in either case may be issued at one time, or in blocks from time to time. The bonds shall be serial bonds, and each issue thereof shall so mature that the aggregate principal amount of the issue shall be payable in annual installments or series, beginning not more than three years after the date of the bonds of such issue, and ending not more than thirty years after such date. No such installment shall be more than two and one-half times as great in amount as the smallest prior installment of the same bond issue. The bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semiannually, and may have interest coupons attached, and may be made registerable as to principal or as to both principal and interest. They shall be signed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and the seal of the county shall be fixed to or impressed on each bond and attested by the register of deeds of the county or by the clerk of said board; and the interest coupons shall bear the printed, lithographed or etched facsimile signature of such chairman. The delivery of bonds, signed as aforesaid by officers in office at the time of such signing, shall be valid, notwithstanding any changes in office occurring after such signing. (1923, c. 136, s. 258.)

For history of the legislation on this subject, see Board v. Prudden & Co., 187 N. C. 794, 797, 123 S. E. 96.

§ 5671. Bonds; how sold.—The said bonds shall be sold by the board of county commissioners in the manner provided by the Municipal Finance Act then in force for the sale of bonds of cities and towns. They shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest. (1923, c. 136, s. 259.)

§ 5672. Proceeds of bonds.—The proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds shall be turned over to the county treasurer, who shall hold same under his official bond, and shall be placed in a separate fund, and paid out, for the purpose for which the bonds were issued, only upon order of the county board of education: Provided, that no treasurer handling the funds derived from the sale of any school bonds shall receive any commission therefor. (1923, c. 136, s. 260.)

§ 5673. Taxes for interest and principal.—In the event the issue of said bonds is authorized by the voters as above provided, and when same are issued, the board of county commissioners is hereby authorized and directed to levy annually a special tax, ad valorem, on all taxable property in said county if county bonds are authorized, or in said district if district bonds are authorized, sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as such principal becomes due. Such special tax shall be in addition to all other taxes authorized to be levied in such county or district. The taxes provided for in this section shall be collected by the county officer collecting other taxes, and paid over by him to the county treasurer, who shall hold same under his official bond, and be applied solely to the payment of principal and interest of said bonds. (1923, c. 136, s. 261.)

When Present Tax Sufficient.—An election will not be held invalid because the question was submitted upon levying a limited tax, when it appears that the levy submitted is at present sufficient to meet the requirements of the act authorizing the election, and there is no valid reason shown that it will ever be insufficient for the purposes intended. Morris v. Board, 184 N. C. 634, 114 S. E. 621.

§ 5674. Frequency of elections.—Nothing in this law shall be construed as preventing more than one election and more than one bond issue in the same school district under this law. (1923, c. 136, s. 262.)

§ 5675. Bonds in special charter districts.—Elections may be held in special charter districts, and bonds issued and taxes levied to pay the same in the manner provided by the previous sections of this article, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(a) In case of every special charter district coterminous with an incorporated city or town having authority by virtue of its charter, or other special or local laws, to maintain a system of schools, the petition for the election shall be made to the principal governing body of each city or town, by the board of trustees, unless said board is the principal governing body of said city or town, in which case no petition shall be necessary. But said principal governing body may, in its discretion, grant or refuse said petition. In every special charter district of the kind described in this subsection, all powers and duties conferred or imposed by this article on boards or county commissioners shall be exercised and performed by the principal governing body of said city or town with which the district is coterminous, but the bonds shall be sold and issued by the board of trustees in the name of the district, and shall be signed and sealed as may be provided by said board of trustees, and the proceeds derived from the sale of such bonds shall be turned over to the custodian of funds of such special charter district, who shall receive no commission for the handling of such proceeds.

(b) In the case of all special charter districts not described in subsection (a) of this section the petition for the election shall be made by the board of trustees to the board of county commissioners, which board shall call, hold and determine the result of the election as provided in this article, and the bonds shall be sold and issued by the board of trustees in the name of the district, and shall be signed and sealed as may be provided by said board of trustees, and the proceeds derived from the sale of such bonds shall be turned over to the custodian of funds of such special charter district, who shall receive no commission for the handling of such proceeds: Provided, however, that in districts of the kind described in this subsection in which at the time any action required by this article is to be taken, the principal governing body of a city or town within or partly within the district shall be charged with the duty of levying all special school maintenance taxes for the district (although it may not be charged with the duty of levying taxes for bonds of the district), the powers and duties conferred by this article on boards of county commissioners shall be exercised and performed by said principal governing body: Provided, further, that in districts of the kind described in this subsection which lie in two or more counties, no petition shall be necessary, and the board of trustees of the district shall call, hold and determine the result of the election. (1923, c. 136, s. 263; 1924, Ex. Sess. c. 121; 1927, c. 109.)

Applied in Carr v. Little, 188 N. C. 100, 123 S. E. 625.

§ 5676. Limit of bonds. — No bonds shall be issued by or on behalf of a district under this law, which, including indebtedness for schools thereof then outstanding, shall exceed five per cent of the assessed valuation of taxable property therein; and no school indebtedness of any kind or nature shall be created or assumed by a county under this act, including all school indebtedness of such county and the aggregate amount of all school indebtedness of the districts within such county, in excess of five per cent (5%) of the assessed valuation of taxable property within such county. In computing the amount of indebtedness under the district or the county limitations hereinabove fixed, school indebtedness of cities and towns lying within a school district or within a county shall be included as if the same were a school district indebtedness; but there shall not be included any indebtedness of a district, city, town, or county payable from current revenues, and school bonds issued under the provisions of this law shall not be subject to any debt limitation by any other law. (1923, c. 136, s. 264.)

Validity of Bonds.—The former infirmity of bonds voted for under an unconstitutional provision was cured by this section and a judgment in favor of the plaintiffs was a proper one. Board v. Board, 183 N. C. 300, 111 S. E. 531.

Injunction.—Where a statute authorizes a school district to issue bonds for school purposes, and requires that a sinking fund at a certain rate of taxation be provided for the retirement of the bonds at maturity, and the taxable property in the district is not sufficient to pay the interest and provide an adequate sinking fund, the retirement of these bonds is as vital to their validity as the authorization to issue them, and their issuance will be permanently enjoined at the suit of a taxpayer within the district. In this case the bonds had been issued and the rights of purchasers had not intervened. Proctor v. Board, 182 N. C. 56, 108 S. E. 360.

§ 5677. Bonds authorized by other laws. — If bonds or other indebtedness have heretofore been voted under any act and have not yet been issued or incurred, they may be issued or incurred pursuant to the provisions of the act under which they were voted. But nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent any city or town from issuing bonds for school purposes under the provisions of the Municipal Finance Act. Any city or town now having the power to issue bonds for school purposes under the Municipal Finance Act may, at its option, issue such bonds either under the Municipal Finance Act or under this law. (1923, c. 136, s. 265.)

Applied in School Committee v. Board, 186 N. C. 643, 120 S. E. 202.

Art. 28. County Commissioners Directed to Fund School Indebtedness

§ 5678. Indebtedness for necessary expenses.—When the outstanding indebtedness created for the necessary expenses of conducting the six months school term for the previous year or years exceeds the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) then the board of commissioners is authorized, empowered and directed to fund the same by issuing either the serial notes of the county or serial bonds of the county for the amount of such indebtedness. If notes be issued, they shall be issued in such form and shall carry such rate of interest not in excess of six per cent (6%) and payable at such times and places as to the commissioners shall seem best. (1923, c. 136, s. 266.)

Vote Not Required.—It is not necessary that a bond issue under this section be submitted to a vote. Art. VII, sec. 7, of the Constitution must be understood to refer to debts and taxes in furtherance of local measures and not to Statewide measures, undertaken in obedience to a separate provision of the Constitution, Art. IX. Lovelace v. Pratt, 187 N. C. 686. 122 S. E. 661.

§ 5679. Bonds; how issued. — In the event that bonds are issued, they shall be issued in such denominations and form and with such provisions as to time, place and medium of payment of principal and interest as such board of commissioners may determine, subject to the following limitations and restrictions: Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent (6%) per annum, payable semiannually. They shall be coupon bonds and shall be signed by the chairman of said board of county commissioners and the seal of the county shall be affixed to said bonds and attested by the register of deeds of said county. Said bonds shall mature in annual installments or series of one or more bonds, the last of which installments shall be payable not more than thirty (30) years after the date of issue. No single installment or series shall be more than two and one-half (2½) times as great in amount as the smallest prior installment of said issue. The coupons of said bonds shall be authenticated by a printed or lithographed or engraved facsimile signature or the chairman of said board who is in office on the date of said bonds. The delivery of said bonds, signed as aforesaid, shall be valid notwithstanding any changes occurring in office after the signing of said bonds. Said bonds shall be sold by the board of commissioners of the county in the manner provided by the Municipal Finance Act for the sale of bonds for cities and towns. Said bonds shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest. The proceeds of said bonds shall be used only for the purpose of liquidating the outstanding indebtedness created for the necessary expense of conducting the six months school term in said county as provided by law for the year or years previous to the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three. Such notes or bonds issued shall not be considered a part of the indebtedness of the county in reckoning any limit on indebtedness. (1923, c. 136, s. 267.)

§ 5680. Commissioners required to levy tax.—The commissioners are authorized and directed to levy annually, at the date fixed by law for the levying of other county taxes, a special ad valorem tax upon all taxable property in their county for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of all bonds and notes issued under the provisions of this article as such principal and interest become due, which shall be in an amount sufficient for said purpose and shall be in addition to all other taxes authorized by law to be levied in said county. (1923, c. 136, s. 268.)

§ 5681. Determining validity of bonds.—If the county board of education of any county in which the outstanding indebtedness created for the necessary expenses of conducting the six months school term exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000.00,) and said board shall find and determine the amount of outstanding indebtedness incurred prior to one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and certify the same to the board of county commissioners, and the board of county commissioners shall then advertise the amount of the debt, together with the advertisement for the sale of said bonds as required in the Municipal Finance Act, such determination by the county board of education, after being duly advertised by the county commissioners, shall be conclusive in any suit, action, or proceeding involving the validity of bonds issued under this article, except in a suit, action, or proceeding commenced within fifteen days after the first publication of the notice of sale of said bonds. (1923, c. 136, s. 269.)

§ 5682. Validating loans.—Wherever any board of county commissioners has issued notes for funds borrowed to erect buildings at the request of any county board of education in order to provide necessary school buildings for the six months school term, and the plan for such buildings and the location of the same have been approved by the state superintendent of public instruction, the said note or notes are hereby validated in all respects, and the debt may be funded, as provided in this article. (1923, c. 136, s. 270.)

Editor's Note.—For local acts, see 1924, c. 120; 1925, cc. 34, 36, 146, 153, 161, 268; 1927, c. 70.

Art. 28A. Funding or Refunding Loans from State Literary and Special Building Funds

§ 5682(1). State board of education authorized to accept funding or refunding bonds of counties for loans; approval by local government commission.—In any case where a loan has heretofore been made from the state literary fund or from any special building fund of the State to the county board of education of a county and such county has heretofore or shall hereafter authorize the issuance of bonds for the purpose of funding or refunding interest on or the principal of all or a part of the notes evidencing such loan, the state board of education be and the same is hereby authorized to accept funding or refunding bonds or notes of such county in payment of interest on or the principal of the notes evidencing such loan; provided, however, that the issuance of such funding or refunding bonds shall have been approved by the local government commission. (1935, c. 399, s. 1.)

§ 5682(2). Issuance of bonds as part of general refunding plan.—In any case where the funding or refunding of interest on or the principal of such notes shall constitute a part of a refunding plan or program of the county, and the terms of such funding or refunding shall be accepted by a sufficient number of the holders of the county's obligations to put same into effect, the state board of education may authorize the acceptance of such funding or refunding bonds or notes upon the same terms and conditions, both as to principal and interest, as have been agreed upon by a sufficient number of the other holders of the county's obligations to put same into effect. (1935, c. 399, s. 2.)

Art. 28B. Collection of Amounts Due State Literary and Revolving Funds

§ 5682(3). Collecting delinquent amounts due by counties; offsetting amounts due counties on account of road contracts.—In all instances where any sum or amount is due from any county or board of education or school unit therein to the state or to the literary fund or to the revolving fund set up by the general assembly providing loans for the construction of school buildings; and where any sum or amount is payable to such county by reason of any contract made on behalf of the state highway commission or its successor, the state highway and public works commission, for loans made to such commission by such county in behalf of roads; it shall be competent and lawful to offset the amount due such county on account of any contract made with the state highway commission or its successor, the state highway and public works commission, not assigned prior to the passage of this article, by the amount due by such county or board of education or school unit in said county to the State or to the literary fund or the revolving fund set up by the general assembly providing loans for construction of school buildings. (1935, c. 411, s. 1.)

§ 5682(4). Crediting sums due counties for road loans.—If the amount due such county on account of loans made to the state highway commission or its successor, the state highway and public works commission, and not assigned prior to the passage of this article, is insufficient to pay the amount due the State or the literary fund or to the revolving fund by such county, then the amount due such county on account of loans to the highway commission shall be credited on the amount due by such county to the State or literary fund or revolving fund. (1935, c. 411, s. 2.)

§ 5682(5). Provisions of article to be observed by state officers.—The treasurer and other officers of the State charged with the duty of disbursing any funds by reason of such contract between the state highway commission or the state highway and public works commission already made or hereafter to be made are required to observe the provisions of the foregoing section and shall not issue or authorize issuance of any voucher contrary thereto. (1935, c. 411, s. 3.)

Art. 29. Loans from State Literary Fund

§ 5683. Loans by state board from state literary fund.—The state board of education, under such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, may make loans from the state literary fund to the county board of education of any county for the building and improving of public schoolhouses or dormitories for rural high schools and teacherages and buildings for county farm-life schools in such county; but no warrant for the expenditure of money for such purposes shall be issued by the auditor except upon the order of the state superintendent of public instruction, with the approval of the state board of education. (C. S. 5681.) (1923, c. 136, s. 273.)

§ 5684. Terms of loans.—Loans made under the provisions of this article shall be payable in ten installments, shall bear interest at four per centum, payable annually, and shall be evidenced by the note of the county board of education, executed by the chairman and secretary thereof, and deposited with the state treasurer. The first installment of such loan, together with the interest on the whole amount then due, shall be paid by the county board on the tenth day of February after the tenth day of August subsequent to the making of such loan and the remaining installments, together with the interest, shall be paid, one each year, on the tenth day of February of each subsequent year till all shall have been paid. (C. S. 5673.) (1923, c. 136, s. 274.)

§ 5685. How secured and paid.—At the January meeting of the county board of education, before any installment shall be due on the next tenth day of February, the county board shall set apart out of the school funds an amount sufficient to pay such installments and interest to be due, and shall issue its order upon the treasurer of the county school fund therefor, who, prior to the tenth day of February, shall pay over to the state treasurer the amount then due. And any amount loaned under the provisions of this law shall be a lien upon the total school funds of such county, in whatsoever hands such funds may be; and upon failure to pay any installment of interest, or part of either, when due, the state treasurer may deduct a sufficient amount for the payment of the same out of any fund due any county from any special state appropriation for public schools, or he may bring action against the county board of education of such county, any person in whose possession may be any part of the school funds of the county, and the tax collector of such county; and if the amount of school funds then on hand be insufficient to pay in full the sum so due, then the state treasurer shall be entitled to an order directing the tax collector of such county to pay over to the state treasurer all moneys collected for school purposes until such debt and interest shall have been paid: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected or hereafter levied to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authorities of any county or any district. (C. S. 5674.) (1923, c. 136, s. 275.)

§ 5686. Loans by county boards to school districts.—The county board of education, from any sum borrowed under the provisions of this article, may make loans only to districts that have already levied a local tax sufficient to repay the installments and interest on said loan for the purpose of building schoolhouses in the district, and the amount so loaned to any district shall be payable in ten annual installments, with interest thereon at four per centum, payable annually. Any amount loaned under the provisions of this law shall be a lien upon the total local tax funds produced in the district. Whenever the local taxes may not be sufficient to pay the installments and the interest, the county board of education must supply the remainder out of the operating and equipment fund, and shall make provision for the same when the county budget is made and presented to the commissioners in May.

All loans hereafter made to such districts shall be made upon the written petition of a majority of the committee of the district asking for the loan and authorizing the county board to deduct a sufficient amount from the local taxes to meet the indebtedness to the county board of education. Otherwise, the county board of education shall have no lien upon the local taxes for the repayment of this loan: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected or hereafter levied to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authorities of the district. (C. S. 5675, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 276.)

§ 5687. Appropriation from loan fund for free plans and inspection of school buildings.—The state board of education may annually set aside and use out of the funds accruing to the interest of said state loan fund a sum not exceeding twelve thousand dollars ($12,000.00), to be used for providing plans for modern school buildings to be furnished free of charge to districts, for providing proper inspection of school buildings and the use of state funds, and for such other purposes as said board may determine, to secure the erection of a better type of school building and better administration of said state loan fund. (C. S. 5672, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 277.)

Art. 30. Loans from Special Building Fund

§ 5688. The special building fund. — For the purpose of providing a special building fund, to be loaned to the county boards of education for maintaining a six months school term, the state treasurer of North Carolina is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the State of North Carolina, payable in the manner and on the dates hereinafter described, to an amount not to exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000.00). All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed five per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, and the said bonds shall bear date as of the first day of January of each and every year in which they may be issued, under the provisions of this law.

(a) Special building fund a separate fund. The proceeds from the sale of these bonds shall be a separate fund in the hands of the state treasurer and shall be kept distinct from all other funds of the state. The funds shall be paid out upon the warrant of the state auditor, but no warrant shall be issued by the auditor except upon the requisition of the state superintendent of public instruction, with the approval and at the direction of the state board of education. The bank or banks in which any money belonging to this fund is deposited by the state treasurer shall be required to pay interest on monthly balances on said money at the rate of three per cent per annum, and all such money so collected shall be credited monthly by the state treasurer to this fund.

(b) County board of education authorized to make loans. The state board of education, under such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, may make loans from the special building fund to the county board of education of any county for building, equipping and repairing public school buildings, dormitories, teacherages, and for the purchase of suitable sites: Provided, that no loan shall be made from this fund until an application for said loan has been made by the county board of education and approved by the county commissioners, nor until said commissioners shall certify that the loan is necessary to maintain a six months school term: Provided further, that no loan shall be made from this fund for erecting or repairing any school building containing less than five rooms, nor shall any building be erected in whole or in part from funds borrowed from the state unless the plans for said building shall have been approved by the state superintendent of public instruction. (1923, c. 136, s. 278.)

For a discussion of the Public Laws 1921, ch. 147, in which a building fund was provided, see 1 N. C. Law Rev. 124.

§ 5689. How loans shall be repaid.—Loans to county boards of education made under the provisions of this article shall be payable in twenty equal annual installments, shall bear interest payable annually in advance at the same rate that the state had to pay on the bonds issued under this law for securing the special building fund, and said loans shall be evidenced by the note or notes of the county board of education, excuted by the chairman and secretary thereof, and deposited with the state treasurer. The first installment of such loan, together with the interest on the balance of the principal remaining unpaid, shall be paid by the county board of education on or before the fifteenth day of December subsequent to the making of such loan, and the remaining installments, together with the interest, shall be paid, one each year, on the fifteenth day of December of each subsequent year until all shall have been paid: Provided, if at the end of any five-year period it shall appear that the earnings of said fund are more than sufficient to retire said bonds, the state board may direct the state treasurer to transfer such surplus to the state literary fund, and after all bonds are retired any balance remaining shall be turned over to the state literary fund. (1923, c. 136, s. 279.)

§ 5690. Provision in May budget. — The county board of education shall provide in its May budget for a special tax, to be styled "A Special Building Fund Tax," sufficient to repay the annual installment, together with the interest due, and shall issue its order upon the treasurer of the county school fund therefor, who, prior to the fifteenth day of December, shall pay over to the state treasurer the amount then due. Any amount loaned under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon the total school fund of such county, in whatsoever hands such funds may be; and if the board of county commissioners fail to provide for a sufficient tax in building and incidental fund to pay the loans and interest when due, so long as any part of said loan and the interest are due, the board of county commissioners shall borrow the money in order that the six months school term may be maintained in accordance with the constitution. Upon failure of any county to pay any installment or interest, or part of either, when due, the state treasurer may deduct a sufficient amount for the payment of the same out of any fund due such county from any special state appropriation for public schools, and if the amount necessary to conduct a six months school has been decreased thereby, thus making it impossible to provide the funds for a six months term in every district in said county in accordance with law and the constitution, the county commissioners shall borrow the amount necessary to meet the deficit caused thereby.

The state treasurer may bring action against the county board of education of such county, or against any person in whose possession may be any part of the school funds of the county, or against the tax collector of such county; and if the amount of school fund then on hand be insufficient to pay in full the sum so due, then the state treasurer shall be entitled to an order directing the tax collector of such county to pay over to the state treasurer all moneys collected for school purposes until such debt and interest shall have been paid: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authorities of any county or any district. (1923, c. 136, s. 280.)

§ 5691. State board of education shall approve all applications and provide funds. — The state board of education shall approve all applications for loans and the amount to be loaned to each county. When said board has received and approved applications for loans in an amount of not less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00), the state board of education shall direct the state treasurer to sell, and he shall sell, in accordance with the provisions of this article, North Carolina bonds to provide funds for making the loans in accordance with the applications approved: Provided, that whenever applications are received and approved in accordance with the provisions of this article, if the state board of education shall deem it unwise to sell bonds at that time, the state treasurer, by and with the consent of the governor and the council of state, is hereby authorized to borrow money at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, in anticipation of the sale of the bonds herein authorized, and for the purposes for which said bonds are authorized. The state treasurer shall execute and issue notes of the state for the money so borrowed, and he is hereby authorized to renew any such notes from time to time by issuing new notes. The rate of interest, the date of payment of said notes or renewals, and all matters and details in connection with the issuance and sale thereof shall be fixed and determined by the governor and council of state. Such notes when issued shall be entitled to all privileges, immunities and exemptions that the bonds authorized to be issued are entitled to. The full faith, credit and taxing power of the state are hereby pledged for the payment of such notes as may be issued, and interest thereon. The proceeds received from said notes shall be used for making loans to county boards of education in accordance with this article. The notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds shall be paid with the funds derived from the sale of said bonds, whenever said bonds are sold. (1923, c. 136, s. 281.)

§ 5692. Treasurer to sell bonds. — The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars ($500.00) and one thousand dollars ($1000.00) each, as may be determined by said state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor of the state and state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved or lithographed thereon, and the said bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of said bonds. Before selling any of the series of bonds herein authorized to be issued, the state treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the par of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest.

He is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the par value of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, and where the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina.

One-twentieth of the total bonds issued under date of January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, shall be due and payable on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, and another one-twentieth of the amount of said bonds shall be due and payable on January first of each year thereafter until the whole series shall be paid; and any bonds issued under this law on any subsequent January first shall be due and payable as follows; one-twentieth of the total amount of said bonds shall be due and payable on the first day of January five years after the date of issuance of said bonds, and one-twentieth on each subsequent January first of each year thereafter until the whole series authorized by this law shall be paid in full. (1923, c. 136, s. 282.)

§ 5693. Exemption from taxation. — The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation, and it shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, or other fiduciaries, generally, to invest in said bonds. (1923, c. 136, s. 283.)

§ 5694. County board may make loans to districts.—The county board of education, from any sum borrowed under the provisions of this law, may make loans to special charter, local tax or special school taxing districts, and the amount so loaned to any such district shall be payable in twenty annual installments, with interest thereon at the rate the county is required to pay, payable annually in advance. Any amount loaned under the provisions of this law shall be a lien upon the total local tax funds produced in the district, Whenever the local taxes at any time may not be sufficient to pay the installments with the interest, the county board of education must apply the remainder out of the operating and equipment fund, and shall make provisions for the same when the county budget is made and presented to the commissioners in May: Provided, nothing in this section shall prevent the county board of education from assuming the entire expense of erecting said building or buildings in any district of the county.

All loans made to such districts, under the provisions of this law, shall be made upon the written petition of a majority of the committee, or board of trustees, of the said district asking for the loan and authorizing the county board to deduct a sufficient amount from the local taxes or other funds belonging to said district other than the teachers' salary fund to meet the indebtedness to the county board of education. Otherwise, the county board of education shall have no lien upon the local taxes for the repayment of his loan: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected or hereafter levied to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authority of any district. (1923, c. 136, s. 284.)

Art. 30A. Additional Special Building Fund

§ 5694(a). Additional building fund.—For the purpose of providing "a special building fund," to be loaned to the county boards of education for maintaining a six months school term, the Treasurer is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the State of North Carolina, payable in the manner and on the date hereinafter described, to an amount not to exceed five million dollars ($5,000,000.) All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed four and one-half (4½) per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, and the said bonds shall bear date as of the first day of January of each and every year in which they may be issued, under the provisions of this article.

(a) Special building fund for a separate fund.—The proceeds from the sale of these bonds shall be a separate fund in the hands of the State Treasurer and shall be kept distinct from all other funds of the State. The funds shall be paid out upon the warrant of the State Auditor, but no warrant shall be issued by the Auditor except upon the requisition of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, with the approval and at the direction of the State Board of Education. The bank or banks in which any money belonging to this fund is deposited by the State Treasurer shall be required to pay interest on monthly balances on said money at the rate of three per cent per annum, and all such money so collected shall be credited monthly by the State Treasurer to this fund.

(b) State Board of Education authorized to make loans.—The State Board of Education, under such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, may make loans from "The Special Building Fund" to the county board of education of any county for building, equipping and repairing public school buildings, dormitories, teacherages, and for the purchase of suitable sites: Provided, that no loan shall be made from this fund until the application for said loan has been made by the county board of education and approved by the county commissioners, nor until said commissioners shall certify that the loan is necessary to maintain a six months school term: Provided further, that no loan shall be made from this fund for erecting or repairing any school building containing less than seven rooms, nor shall any building be erected in whole or in part from funds borrowed from the State unless the plans for said building shall have been approved by the State Superintendent of public instruction.

(c) The first four installments paid back to the State by the counties, as contemplated in this section, are hereby declared to be a part of the special building fund and may, in the discretion of the State Board of Education, be loaned to the counties on the same terms and in accordance with the same rules as provided for an original loan. (1925, c. 201, s. 1.)

§ 5694(b). Manner of repayment. — Loans to county boards of education made under the provisions of this article shall be payable in twenty equal installments, shall bear interest payable annually in advance at the same rate that the State had to pay on the bonds issued under this act for securing "The Special Building Fund," and said loans shall be evidenced by the note or notes of the county board of education, executed by the chairman and secretary thereof, and deposited with the State Treasurer. The first installment of such loan, together with the interest on the balance of the principal remaining unpaid, shall be paid by the county board of education on or before the fifteenth day of December subsequent to the making of such loan, and the remaining installments, together with the interest, shall be paid, one each year, on the fifteenth day of December of each subsequent year until all shall have been paid: Provided, if at the end of any five year period it shall appear the earnings of said fund are more than sufficient to retire said bonds the State board may direct the State Treasurer to transfer such surplus to the State literary fund, and after all bonds are retired any balance remaining shall be turned over to the State literary fund. (1925, c. 201, s. 2.)

§ 5694(c). Provision in May budget.—The county board of education shall provide in its May budget for a special tax, to be styled "A Special Building Fund Tax," sufficient to repay the annual installment, together with the interest due, and shall issue its order upon the treasurer of the county school fund therefor, who, prior to the fifteenth day of December, shall pay over to the State Treasurer the amount then due. Any amount loaned under the provisions of this article shall be a lien upon the total school fund of such county, in whatsoever hands such funds may be; and if the board of county commissioners fail to provide for a sufficient tax for the fund for repayment of notes, loans and bonds to pay the loans and interest when due, so long as any part of said loan and the interest are due, the board of county commissioners shall borrow the money in order that the six months school term may be maintained in accordance with the Constitution. Upon failure of any county to pay any installment or interest, or part of either, when due, the State Treasurer may deduct a sufficient amount for the payment of the same out of any fund due such county from any special State appropriation for public schools, and if the amount necessary to conduct a six months school term has been decreased thereby, thus making it impossible to provide the funds for a six months term in every district in said county in accordance with law and the Constitution, the county commissioners shall borrow the amount necessary to meet the deficit caused thereby.

The State Treasurer may bring action against the county board of education of such county, or against any person in whose possession may be any part of the school funds of the county, or against the tax collector of such county; and if the amount of school fund then on hand be insufficient to pay in full the sum so due, then the State Treasurer shall be entitled to an order directing the tax collector of such county to pay over to the State Treasurer all moneys collected for school purposes until such debt and interest shall have been paid: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authorities of any county or any district. (1925, c. 201, s. 3.)

§ 5694(d). State board of education shall approve all applications and provide funds.—The State Board of Education shall approve all applications for loans and the amount to be loaned to each county. When said board has received and approved applications for loans in an amount of not less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), the State Board of Education shall direct the State Treasurer to sell, and he shall sell, in accordance with the provisions of this article, North Carolina bonds to provide funds for making the loans in accordance with the applications approved: Provided, that whenever applications are received and approved, in accordance with the provisions of this article, if the State Board of Education shall deem it unwise to sell bonds at that time, the State Treasurer, by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, is hereby authorized to borrow money at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, in anticipation of the sale of the bonds herein authorized, and for the purposes for which said bonds are authorized. The State Treasurer shall execute and issue notes of the State for the money so borrowed, and he is hereby authorized to renew any such notes from time to time by issuing new notes. The rate of interest, the date of payment of said notes or renewals, and all matters and details in connection with the issuance and sale thereof shall be fixed and determined by the Governor and Council of State. Such notes when issued shall be entitled to all privileges, immunities and exemptions that the bonds authorized to be issued are entitled to. The full faith, credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of such notes as may be issued, and interest thereon. The proceeds received from said notes shall be used for making loans to county boards of education in accordance with this article. The notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds shall be paid with the funds derived from the sale of said bonds whenever said bonds are sold. (1925, c. 201, s. 4.)

§ 5694(e). Treasurer to sell bonds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars ($500) and one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, as may be determined by said State Treasurer, and shall be signed by the Governor of the State and State Treasurer and sealed with the Great Seal of the State. The coupons thereon may be signed by the State Treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, lithographed thereon, and the said bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the State Treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of North Carolina, of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of said bonds. Before selling any of the series of bonds herein authorized to be issued, the State Treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the par of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest.

He is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the par value of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, and where the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina.

One-twentieth of the total bonds issued under date of January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, shall be due and payable on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and another one-twentieth of the amount of said bonds shall be due and payable on January first of each year thereafter until the whole series shall be paid, and any bonds issued under this act on any subsequent January first shall be due and payable as follows: One-twentieth of the total amount of said bonds shall be due and payable on the first day of January five years after the date of issuance of said bonds, and one twentieth on each subsequent January first of each year thereafter until the whole series authorized by this article shall be paid in full. (1925, c. 201, s. 5.)

§ 5694(f). Exemption from taxation.—The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all State, county or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or corporation, and it shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, or fiduciaries generally to invest in said bonds. (1925, c. 201, s. 6.)

§ 5694(g). County board may make loans to districts.—The county board of education, from any amount borrowed under the provisions of this article, may make loans to special charter, local tax or special taxing districts, and the amount so loaned to any such district shall be payable in twenty annual installments, with interest thereon at the rate the county is required to pay, payable annually in advance. Any amount loaned under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon the total local tax funds produced in the district. Whenever the local taxes at any time may not be sufficient to pay the installments with the interest, the county board of education must supply the remainder out of the operating and equipment fund, and shall make provisions for the same when the county budget is made and presented to the commissioners in May: Provided, nothing in this section shall prevent the county board of education from assuming the entire expense of erecting said building or buildings in any district of the county. All loans made to such districts, under the provisions of this article, shall be made upon the written petition of a majority of the committee, or board of trustees, of the said district asking for the loan and authorizing the county board of education to deduct a sufficient amount from the local taxes or other funds belonging to said district, other than the teachers' salary fund, to meet the indebtedness to the county board of education. Otherwise, the county board of education shall have no lien upon the local taxes for the repayment of this loan: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected or hereafter levied to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authority of any district. (1925, c. 201, s. 7.)

§ 5694(h). Statement of expenditures filed.—Upon the completion of project for which the loan was made, the county board of education, upon blanks prepared for this purpose, shall file with the State Board of Education an itemized sworn statement of all expenditures on said project, including the loan from the State and all other funds invested in such building. Members of the county board of education and the county superintendent refusing or failing to make such report or authorizing the expenditure of said loan otherwise than upon the specific project, set forth in the approved application, or otherwise than as set out in the plans and specifications, approved by the State Board of Education, except upon the written approval of the State Board of Education, shall be severally guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1925, c. 201, s. 8.)

Art. 30B. State Bond Sinking Fund Act

§ 5694(j). State treasurer to set aside moneys.—From all moneys heretofore or hereafter received in repayment of the principal of or in payment of interest upon loans from the special building funds created under either the act known as chapter 147, Public Laws of 1921, or §§ 5683-5694 and §§ 5694(a)- 5694(h), the State Treasurer shall from time to time set aside moneys sufficient for paying interest upon the bonds of the State issued under the same act, and shall use the moneys so set aside in paying such interest when due. (1927, c. 177, s. 2.)

§ 5694(k). Remainder declared sinking fund.—The remainder of such repayments of principal and interest under each of said acts, except repayments of interest under each of said acts, except repayments of the first four annual installments of principal of the original loans made under said §§ 5694(a)-5694(h), is hereby declared to constitute a sinking fund, and shall be kept as a separate fund and used for the payment of the principal of the bonds of the state issued under the same act, as such principal shall fall due. (1927, c. 177, s. 3.)

§ 5694(l). Duty of State Sinking Fund Commission.—It shall be the duty of the State Sinking Fund Commission to provide for the custody, investment and application of the three sinking funds hereby created. All the provisions of law now or hereafter in force in respect of the custody, investment and application of State sinking funds by said commission including penalties, shall apply to and govern said commission in the custody, investment and application of the said three funds. (1927, c. 177, s. 4.)

As to investment in bonds guaranteed by United States, see § 220(a) 1.

§ 5694(m). State Treasurer to have custody of notes and evidences of debt.—The State Treasurer shall have the custody of all notes and other evidences of indebtedness on account of such loans, and it shall be the duty of each and every officer or person now having the custody or disposal of any such notes or evidences of indebtedness to deliver the same to the State Treasurer. (1927, c. 177, s. 5.)

§ 5694(n). Obligation of treasurer's bond.—The official bond of the State Treasurer shall cover each and all of his duties under the act. (1927, c. 177, s. 6.)

SUBCHAPTER IXA BONDS TO PAY OUTSTANDING INDEBTEDNESS OF SPECIAL CHARTER SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

Art. 30C. Issuance and Levy of Tax for Payment

§ 5694(o). Issued under supervision of Local Government Commission. — The governing body of any special charter school district may, with the approval of the Local Government Commission, issue bonds of the district to such an amount as may be required to pay indebtedness, other than bonded indebtedness, of the district heretofore incurred and now outstanding whether represented by the original obligation or by renewals, or otherwise. The issue and sale of such bonds shall be subject to the provisions of the Local Government Act relating to the issue and sale of public securities [§§ 2492(1) et seq.]. (1931, c. 180, s. 1.)

§ 5694(p). Special tax to be levied and collected.—The authorities charged by law with the duty of levying and collecting school taxes in each special charter school district that shall have issued bonds hereunder, shall annually levy and collect, in addition to all other taxes, a special tax sufficient to meet the interest and principal of all bonds issued by the said district under the authority hereof. (1931, c. 180, s. 2.)

SUBCHAPTER IXB. SCHOOL DISTRICT REFUNDING AND FUNDING BONDS

Art. 30D. Issuance and Levy of Tax for Payment

§ 5694(q). "School district" defined.—As used in this article the term "school district" shall be deemed to include each special school taxing district, local tax district and special charter district by which or on behalf of which bonds have heretofore been issued and are now outstanding. (1935, c. 450, s. 1.)

§ 5694(r). Continuance of school districts till bonds paid. — Notwithstanding the provisions of any law heretofore enacted or enacted hereafter at the present regular session of the general assembly which affect the continued existence of school districts or the levy of taxes therein for the payment of bonds, each such school district shall continue in existence with the boundaries heretofore established until all bonds thereof now outstanding or bonds issued to refund the same, together with the interest thereon, shall be paid. (1935, c. 450, s. 2.)

§ 5694(s). Funding and refunding of bonds authorized; issuance and sale or exchange; tax levy for repayment.—The board of commissioners of the county in which any such school district is located is hereby authorized to issue bonds at one time or from time to time for the purpose of refunding or funding the principal or interest of any bonds of such school district then outstanding. Such refunding or funding bonds shall be issued in the name of the school district and they may be sold or delivered in exchange for or upon the extinguishment of the obligations or indebtedness refunded or funded. Except as otherwise provided in this article, such refunding and funding bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of chapter two hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three [§§ 2492(72)-2492(75)], and the Local Government Act [§§ 2492(1) et seq.] and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto. The tax levying body or bodies authorized by law to levy taxes for the payment of the bonds, the principal or interest of which shall be refunded or funded shall levy annually a special tax on all taxable property in such school district sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said refunding or funding bonds as the same become due. (1935, c. 450, s. 3.)

SUBCHAPTER IXC. SCHOOL DISTRICT TAXES AND SINKING FUNDS

Art. 30E. Transfer to County Treasurer

§ 5694(t). Taxes collected in school districts where bonds assumed by county directed to county treasurer. — In all cases in which the bonds of special school districts have been or may hereafter be assumed by the county in which such district is located, all taxes levied and collected for the purpose of paying the interest upon said bonds and creating a sinking fund for the retirement of said bonds shall be paid to the county treasurer by the sheriff or tax collector. (1935, c. 242, s. 1.)

§ 5694(u). Allocation to district bonds of taxes collected.—If a uniform debt service tax is levied and collected by the county in which school district bonds are now outstanding and have been assumed by the county, all of said tax so levied and collected shall be paid to the county treasurer and the county treasurer shall allocate to each issue of school district bonds its proportionate part of the tax so levied and collected each year. (1935, c. 242, s. 2.)

§ 5694(v). All sinking fund monies and securities likewise directed to county treasurers. — In all cases where school district bonds have been assumed or may hereafter be assumed by the county in which district is located any and all moneys and securities held by the treasurer, trustee or committee of such district or sinking fund commissioner is authorized to transfer any and all moneys and securities belonging to such sinking fund account to the county treasurer of such county and upon the transfer of such funds and securities and a proper accounting therefor such district treasurer, trustee, committee or sinking fund commissioner shall be discharged from further responsibility for the administration of and accounting for such sinking funds. (1935, c. 242, s. 3.)

SUBCHAPTER X. VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Art. 31. Duties, Powers and Responsibilities of State Board for Vocational Education

§ 5695. Acceptance of benefits of federal vocational education act.—The state of North Carolina hereby accepts all of the provisions and benefits of an act passed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, entitled "An act to provide for the promotion of vocational education; to provide for coöperation with the states in the promotion of such education in agriculture and the trades and industries; to provide for coöperation with the states in the preparation of teachers of vocational subjects, and to appropriate money and regulate its expenditure"; approved February twenty-third nineteen hundred and seventeen. (C. S. 5502.) (1923, c. 136, s. 285.)

§ 5696. State board for vocational education created.—There is hereby created a state board for vocational education, to consist of four members, as follows: The state superintendent of public instruction and three other members, to be appointed by the governor, one to represent agriculture, one to represent home economics, and one to represent trades and industries. The terms of office of these men shall be, for one member two years, for one member four years, and for one member six years, who shall serve till their successors are appointed; and thereafter each member shall be appointed for a term of four years. (C. S. 5393.) (1923, c. 136, s. 286.)

§ 5697. Powers and duties of board. — The state board for vocational education shall have all necessary authority to coöperate with the federal board for vocational education in the administration of the federal vocational educational act, to administer any legislation pursuant thereto enacted by the state of North Carolina, and to administer the funds provided by the federal government and the state of North Carolina for the promotion of vocational education in agricultural subjects, trade and industrial subjects and home economics subjects. It shall have full authority to formulate plans for the promotion of vocational education in such subjects as an essential and integral part of the public school system of education in the state of North Carolina, and to provide for the preparation of teachers in such subjects. It shall have full authority to fix the compensation of such officials and assistants as may be necessary to administer the federal act and this article for the state of North Carolina, and to pay such compensations and other necessary expenses of administration from funds appropriated. It shall have authority to make studies and investigations relating to vocational education in such subjects; to publish the result of such investigations, and to issue other publications as seem necessary by the board; to promote and aid in the establishment by local communities of schools, departments, or classes giving instruction in such subjects; coöperate with local communities in the maintenance of such schools, departments, or classes; to prescribe qualifications for the teachers, directors, and supervisors of such subjects; to coöperate in the maintenance of classes supported and controlled by the public for the preparation of teachers, directors and supervisors of such subjects, or to maintain such classes under its own direction and control; to establish and determine by general regulations the qualifications to be possessed by persons engaged in the training of vocational teachers. (C. S. 5394.) (1923, c. 136, s. 287.)

§ 5698. State superintendent to enforce article.—The state superintendent of public instruction shall serve as executive officer of the state board for vocational education, and shall designate, by and with the advice and consent of the board, such assistants as may be necessary to properly carry out the provisions of this article. The state superintendent shall also carry into effect such rules and regulations as the board may adopt, and shall prepare such reports concerning the condition of vocational education in the state as the board may require. (C. S. 5395.) (1923, c. 136, s. 288.)

§ 5699. State appropriation equal federal appropriation.—The state of North Carolina appropriates out of the state public school fund a sum of money for each fiscal year equal to the maximum sum which may be allotted to the state of North Carolina from the federal treasury, under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act and the industrial rehabilitation act, namely, for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four, one hundred forty-seven thousand four hundred five dollars and eighty-eight cents ($147,405.88); for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, one hundred seventy-one thousand nine hundred ninety dollars and three cents ($171,990.03), and for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred twenty-six, and thereafter, one hundred ninety-six thousand six hundred sixty-four dollars and eighteen cents ($196,664.18): Provided, that only such portion of above state appropriation shall be used as may be absolutely necessary to carry on the work outlined in this article and to meet the federal requirements. (C. S. 5503, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 289.)

§ 5700. State treasurer authorized to receive and disburse vocational education fund. — The state treasurer is hereby designated and appointed custodian of all moneys received by the state from the appropriation made by said act of Congress, and he is authorized to receive and provide for the proper custody of the same, and to make disbursement thereof in the manner provided in the said act and for the purpose therein specified. He shall also pay out moneys appropriated by the state of North Carolina for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article upon the order of the state board for vocational education. (C. S. 5504.) (1923, c. 136, s. 290.)

§ 5701. Coöperation of county authorities with state board; funds.—The county board of education, board of county commissioners, or the board of trustees of any district may coöperate with the state board for vocational education in the establishment of vocational schools or classes giving instruction in agricultural subjects, or trade or industrial subjects, or in home economics subjects, or all three subjects, and may use moneys raised by public taxation in the same manner as moneys are used for other public school purposes: Provided, that nothing in this article shall be construed to repeal any appropriations heretofore made by any of said boards for said purposes. (C. S. 5396, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 291.)

§ 5702. Report to governor.—The state board for vocational education shall make a report annually to the governor, setting forth conditions of vocational education in the state, a list of the schools to which federal and state aid have been given, and a detailed statement of the expenditures of federal funds and state funds provided for in this article. (C. S. 5397.) (1923, c. 136, s. 292.)

Art. 32. County Farm-life Schools

§ 5703. Establishment of school in county. — There shall be established and maintained in every county complying with the provisions of this article, as hereinafter set forth, a school to be known as a "County Farm-life School," for the training and preparation of the boys and girls of the county for farm-life and home-making. (C. S. 5566.) (1923, c. 136, s. 293.)

§ 5704. Aim of school and course of study. — The aim of said school shall be to prepare boys for agricultural pursuits and farm-life and to prepare girls for home-making and housekeeping on the farm. The course of study shall include practical work on the farm by the boys and practical work in all subjects relating to housekeeping and home-making by the girls. The course of study in said school shall be subject to the approval of the state board for vocational education. (C. S. 5567.) (1923, c. 136, s. 294.)

§ 5705. Board of trustees; appointment; terms; vacancies.—The school shall be under the control and management of a board of trustees of practical farmers, consisting of one member from each township in the county, appointed by the county board of education, who shall serve until their successors shall be appointed. The first board of trustees shall be divided by the county board of education into three as nearly equal groups as possible; one group shall be appointed for a term of two years, one group for a term of four years, and one group for a term of six years. Upon the expiration of the term of office of any trustee, his successor shall be appointed for a term of six years. The county superintendent of public instruction shall be ex officio a member of said board and secretary thereof. All vacancies occurring by death, resignation, or otherwise in said board shall be filled for the unexpired term by the county board of education. (C. S. 5568.) (1923, c. 136, s. 295.)

§ 5706. Qualification and organization of board. —Within ten days after any county, township, or townships shall have complied with the provisions of this article, as hereinafter set forth, for the maintenance and equipment of the school, the members of the board of trustees shall be appointed, and the county superintendent shall duly notify them to meet at the county-seat within ten days after their appointment to qualify and organize. (C. S. 5569.) (1923, c. 136, s. 296.)

§ 5707. Location of school. — After due advertisement, inviting bids for the location of said school within the county, the board of trustees shall locate it at such place in said county as shall offer the largest financial aid for maintenance and equipment, having due regard for desirability and suitability of location: Provided, however, that said school shall not be located in any city or town of more than one thousand inhabitants, nor within two miles of the corporate limits of any city or town of more than five thousand inhabitants. (C. S. 5571.) (1923, c. 136, s. 297.)

§ 5708. Buildings; farm; maintenance.—For the maintenance of said school, the county or township or school district, or all combined, wherein it is located, shall provide annually, by taxation or otherwise, not less than twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500.00). The county or township or school district, or all combined, shall provide by bond issue, or otherwise, the following equipment for said school: a school building with recitation rooms and laboratories and apparatus necessary for efficient instruction in the prescribed subjects of study; dormitory buildings with suitable accommodations for not less than twenty-five boys and twenty-five girls; a barn and dairy building with necessary equipment; a farm of not less than fifty acres of good arable land. All of said buildings shall be located on said farm and shall be constructed in accordance with plans approved by the state superintendent of public instruction, and the entire equipment shall be subject to his approval and acceptance after inspection: Provided, however, that upon the recommendation of the board of trusteees and the presentation of satisfactory reasons therefor, the state superintendent of public instruction may grant permission to the board of trustees to accept any suitable and properly equipped school already constructed, though it may not be located on the farm: Provided, it be located within reasonable and convenient distance thereof. (C. S. 5571 and 5572, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 298.)

Vote Necessary to Bond Issue.—The building and maintenance of a school under this section is not a necessary county expense, and an act which authorizes a tax levy for those purposes without provision requiring the submission of the question to the qualified voters of the territory or district is invalid. Snider v. Jackson County, 175 N. C. 590, 96 S. E. 32.

§ 5709. Election in county to establish schools. —1. Upon written request of the county board of education of any county the board of county commissioners of said county may in their discretion order an election to be held in said county, in accordance with the law governing general elections therein, as nearly as may be. A new registration shall be ordered for said election; and not less than thirty days notice of said election shall be given at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county; and if there be newspapers published in the county, a notice of said election shall also be published weekly for four successive weeks preceding said election in one newspaper therein; and the registrars and poll-holders shall canvass the vote cast, declare the result, and duly certify the returns to the board of county commissioners, and the returns shall be recorded in the records of said board of county commissioners.

2. At said election shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the county the question of levying and collecting a special tax on all taxable property and polls of said county for the maintenance and equipment of a "County Farm-life School" therein. At such election those favoring the levying and collecting of such a tax for such purpose shall vote a ballot on which shall be written or printed the words "For County Farm-life School"; and those opposed shall vote a ballot on which shall be written or printed the words "Against County Farm-life School."

3. If a majority of the qualified voters shall vote "For County Farm-life School," then all the provisions of this article shall be in full force and effect, and the county commissioners shall annually levy and cause to be collected, in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes of the county are levied and collected, a tax on all property and polls of the county sufficient to provide the sum required for the annual maintenance of said school, and, in addition, the sum required for the payment of the annual interest on such bond issue as may be found necessary for providing the equipment for the school as said interest accrues, and to create a sinking fund for the purpose of paying off and discharging said bonds as they become due. The bond of the sheriff or tax collector of said county shall be responsible for the tax to the same extent as it is liable for other taxes collected by him. (C. S. 5573.) (1923, c. 136, s. 299.)

§ 5710. Issuance of bonds.—If a majority of the qualified voters at the election shall vote "For County Farm-life School," it shall be deemed and held that a majority of the qualified voters are in favor of granting to the board of county commissioners of said county authority to issue bonds in an amount not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) for the purpose of providing the necessary equipment; and such authority shall be granted to and vested in said board of county commissioners, and said board is hereby authorized and empowered to issue and sell bonds in the name of said county to an amount not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), of such denomination and of such proportion as said board of county commissioners may deem advisable, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent, with interest coupons attached, payable at such time or times, and at such place or places as they may deem advisable, such bonds to be of such form and tenor and transferable in such way, and the principal thereof payable or redeemable at such time or times, not less than fifteen years from the date thereof, and at such place or places as the board of county commissioners may determine.

The proceeds arising from the sale of said bonds shall be expended by said board of county commissioners in providing, by purchase or otherwise, the equipment in land, buildings, and apparatus required under this article for the "County Farm-life School." The treasurer of said county shall receive no compensation for receiving or disbursing the money which may be received from the sale of said bonds. (C. S. 5574, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 300.)

§ 5711. Township election to secure location.—The county commissioners of any county that has voted for the establishment of a "County Farm-life School" therein shall, upon petition of one-fourth of the freeholders in any township applying to the trustees of said "County Farm-life School" to secure the location of said school therein, order an election therein, to be held after thirty days notice at three public places in said township, under the law governing state and county elections as nearly as may be, and the returns of said election shall be certified by the registrars and poll holders to the board of county commissioners, and the same shall be recorded in the records of said county commissioners. At the election shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said township the question of issuing bonds in the sum not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), the amount of said bond issue to be set out in the petition for said election, and of levying and collecting on all taxable property and polls in said township a special tax sufficient to provide for the payment of the interest on said township bonds as it accrues, and to create a sinking fund for the purpose of paying off and discharging said township bonds as they become due. At such election, those favoring the levy and collection of such a tax for such purpose shall vote a ballot on which shall be written or printed the words "For County Farm-life School," and those opposed shall vote a ballot on which shall be written or printed the words "Against County Farm-life School." (C. S. 5575.) (1923, c. 136, s. 301.)

§ 5712. Township bonds to secure location.—If a majority of the qualified voters at said election shall vote "For County Farm-life School," then it shall be deemed and held that a majority of the qualified voters are in favor of granting to the board of county commissioners of said county authority to issue bonds in the name of said township in such amount as shall have been named in the petition and notice of election, to be sold by said commissioners for the purpose of aiding in providing the buildings and farm and other equipment for "The County Farm-life School": Provided, said school shall be located in said township; and if said school shall be located in said township, the board of county commissioners shall annually levy and cause to be collected, in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes of the county are levied and collected, a tax on all property and polls in said township sufficient to provide for the payment of interest on said township bonds as it accrues and to create a sinking fund for the purpose of paying off and discharging said township bonds as they become due. The board of county commisssioners is authorized and empowered to issue and sell said bonds of the township to the amount specified in the petition and notice of election, of such denomination and of such proportion as they may deem advisable, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent, with interest coupons attached, payable at the time or times, and at the same place or places, and of the same form and tenor, and the principal thereof payable or redeemable at the same time or times and at the same place or places as the county bonds issued by the board of county commissioners for the equipment of said "County Farm-life School."

The proceeds arising from the sale of the township bonds shall be added to the proceeds arising from the sale of the county bonds and expended therewith by the board of county commissioners in providing, by purchase or otherwise, the equipment in land, buildings, and apparatus required in this article for the "County Farm-life School." (C. S. 5576.) (1923, c. 136, s. 302.)

ships bidding for the location of the "County Farm-life School" may unite and hold an election upon the same terms and conditions as are provided for one township for the location of the "County Farm-life School" at such point in said townships as may be determined by the board of trustees of said "County Farm-life School": Provided, that the amount of bonds authorized to be issued by one or more townships in order to secure the location of the "County Farm-life School" in a given township shall be deducted from the amount of bonds authorized to be issued by the county, so as to limit the total issue of bonds for farm, buildings, and equipment to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00). (C. S. 5577.) (1923, c. 136, s. 303.)

§ 5714. Election in townships to establish on failure of county election.—1. In case an election shall be ordered and held in any county as herein provided, for the establishment and maintenance of a "County Farm-life School" therein, and a majority of the qualified voters at such election shall fail to vote "For County Farm-life School," any township in said county, or any two or more contiguous townships in said county, shall upon petition of one-fourth of the freeholders therein to the board of county commissioners of the county, have an election ordered by the commissioners upon the same terms and conditions prescribed in the three preceding sections of this article: Provided, that a new registration shall be ordered.

2. If in such election a majority of the qualified voters in said township or townships shall vote "For County Farm-life School," then in event it shall be deemed and held that the board of county commissioners of the county is authorized and empowered to issue and sell bonds in the name of said township or townships in an amount not to exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), and to levy and cause to be collected, in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes of the county are levied and collected, a sufficient tax on all property and polls in said township or townships to comply with all conditions named in this article for the maintenance and equipment of a "County Farm-life School," subject to the same conditions as are herein provided for the issuance and sale of county bonds and the levying and collection of a county tax for said purpose.

3. The said "County Farm-life School" shall thereupon be located at such point in said township or townships as may be determined by the board of trustees of said "County Farm-life School" provided for in this article. Such school, when thus established, shall be a "County Farm-life School" for said county, and shall be subject to all rights, privileges, and obligations and conditions prescribed in this article for "County Farm-life Schools," except as herein otherwise provided. (C. S. 5578, revised.) (1923, c. 136, s. 304.)

§ 5715. Provisions for township school becoming county farm-life school.—At any time after the establishment of the "County Farm-life School" by the township or townships under the provisions of the preceding section, the county may hold an election as provided in this article for the establishment of a county farm-life school by the county; and if at the election a majority of the qualified voters of the county shall vote "For County Farm-life School," and the tax and bond issue provided for in this article for the maintenance and equipment of a "County Farm-life School" shall be provided, as directed herein, by the county commissioners for the entire county, such school established by the township or townships shall become a county farm-life school in all respects like a county farm-life school established under this article, and the bonds of the township or townships and the tax levied for the maintenance of the school and for interest and sinking fund on the bonds shall be assumed by the entire county, and the bonds of the township or townships shall be canceled by substituting therefor county bonds as provided for a county farm-life school. (C. S. 5579.) (1923, c 136, s. 305.)

§ 5716. High school department in connection with county farm-life school.—There shall be established and maintained in connection with the county farm-life school such a high school course of study as may be approved by the state superintendent of public instruction. If said county farm-life school shall be located in the same place with some existing public high school in said county, then said public high school shall be merged into and become the high school department of said farm-life school as an organic part thereof; and the appropriations for the maintenance thereof shall be the same as the appropriations now required for accredited public high schools. The requirements for teachers in said high school department of the county farm-life school shall be the same as are now required for high school teachers under the public school law. Said high school department and course of study, however, and the entire management of the same shall be under the direction and control of the board of trustees and the principal of the county farm-life school, and shall be conducted as an organic part of the said school. (C. S. 5580.) (1923, c. 136, s. 306.)

§ 5717. Agricultural and farm-life extension and demonstration.—It shall be a part of the duty of the faculty of each "County Farm-life School" to conduct agricultural instruction work in said county, in coöperation, as far as possible, with such work carried on in said county by the state department of agriculture, the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, and the United States department of agriculture; to hold township and district meetings in various parts of the county from time to time for farmers and farmers' wives; to coöperate with the county superintendent of public instruction and with the county commissioner of agriculture, where such officer exists, in stimulating, directing, and supervising practical farm-life work in the public high schools and the elementary schools of the county, and in providing instruction, through the county teachers' association and through special short courses of study at said "County Farm-life School," for the public school teachers of said county. (C. S. 5582.) (1923, c. 136, s. 307.)

§ 5718. Short courses for adults.—There shall be provided in the courses of study of the "County Farm-life School" short courses in farm-life studies to which shall be admitted adult farmers, men and women, and boys and girls not in regular attendance upon the school; and there shall be held at the school annually one or more county meetings for the farmers and their wives of the county for instruction and demonstration work. All of the work herein required and all other work of the "County Farm-life School" shall be under the general supervision of the county superintendent of public instruction, and the school shall in all respects be an organic part of the county public school system. (C. S. 5583.) (1923, c. 136, s. 308.)

§ 5719. Admission of students from other counties.—The board of trustees of the "County Farm-life School" of any county is hereby authorized and empowered to admit students from other counties of the state to said school upon payment of such rate of tuition as said board of trustees may fix; but all students who are residents of the county in which said school is located shall be admitted to said school without charge for tuition, except as otherwise provided in this article; and said board of trustees shall fix all other charges in said school at actual cost. (C. S. 5584.) (1923, c. 136, s. 309.)

§ 5720. Treasurer of county farm-life school; compensation.—The treasurer of the county shall be the treasurer of the "County Farm-life School," and shall receive and disburse all funds therefor, keeping and rendering anually to the board of trustees of said school a separate account of such receipts and disbursements. If he be employed on salary, he shall receive no additional compensation for his services; and if employed on commission, he shall receive as compensation not to exceed one per cent on all disbursements and nothing on receipts. The official bond of said treasurer shall be responsible and held liable for all funds coming into his hands for said school to the same extent as it is liable for other funds received by him as treasurer of said county. (C. S. 5585.) (1923, c. 136, s. 310.)

§ 5721. Incorporation and powers.—The board of trustees of said "County Farm-life School" and their successors in office shall be and are hereby constituted a body corporate by the name and style of "The Board of Trustees of the County Farm-life School of ..... County," and by that name may sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, purchase, hold, and sell real estate and personal property, receive donations by gift or otherwise, and exercise such other rights and privileges as are conferred by law upon corporate bodies so far as such powers are necessary or convenient to the attainment of the objects of the school or to the performance of the duties of the board. The title to all lands and other property of the "County Farm-life School" shall vest in said board of trustees. (C. S. 5586.) (1923, c. 136, s. 311.)

§ 5722. Appropriation of state funds; number of schools.—Upon satisfactory evidence furnished by the state board for vocational education to the state board of education that all the provisions of this article for the establishment, maintenance, and equipment of a "County Farm-life School" have been complied with in any county, the state superintendent of public instruction shall issue a requisition upon the state auditor for a sum equal to the amount appropriated by the county board of education or secured from local donations or both, but not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) annually, for the maintenance of said school, and the state auditor shall issue his warrant in favor of the county treasurer of said county for said amount, which shall be paid out of the state treasury and the money placed to the credit of the "County Farm-life School" of said county; and sufficient moneys to pay said warrants are hereby appropriated out of the state public school fund: Provided, however, that there shall not be established more than ten such schools in any one year, and that not more than one such school shall be established in any county. (C. S. 5578; 1923, c. 136, s. 312; 1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—By the Public Laws of 1925, a provision as to appropriation from state funds if the school fund should be sufficient was omitted.

Race Discrimination.—The provision that only one school of the kind shall be established in any county, does not deprive the local authorities of the power to provide equal facilities for the two races, but means that there shall not be more than one school of this kind for the instruction of both races, in separate buildings, with equal facilities; and is therefore constitutional. Whitford v. Board, 159 N. C. 160, 74 S. E. 1014.

§ 5723. County board may supplement funds.—If the funds available for the maintenance and support of any county farm-life school shall be insufficient to provide for the proper maintenance and support of said school, the county board of education of any county is empowered to add to its annual budget for the maintenance and support of such school an amount not greater than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00): Provided, that this amount shall not be duplicated out of the state public school fund. (C. S. 5588.) (1923, c. 136, s. 313.)

Art. 33. Farm-life Schools Operated under Special Acts

§ 5724. Reorganization of existing schools.—All high schools having departments of agriculture and home economics and organized to give farm-life instruction under article twenty-five, sections five thousand five hundred and eighty-nine to five thousand six hundred one, Consolidated Statutes of 1919, shall, at the conclusion of this school year, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, be reorganized under the county farm-life school law, article 32, or as all other high schools or union schools giving instruction in agriculture and home economics are organized under the authority of the state board for vocational education. This law shall not affect the schools operating under the following special legislation: Catawba county farm-life school, chapter one hundred eighty, Private Laws one thousand nine hundred twenty-one; Rowan county farm-life school, chapter two hundred seventy-two, Public-Local Laws one thousand nine hundred nineteen; Iredell county farm-life school, chapter one hundred eighty-four, Public-Local Laws, extra session, one thousand nine hundred twenty; Durham county farm-life school, chapter two hundred twenty-nine, Public-Local Laws one thousand nine hundred thirteen. (1923, c. 136, s. 314.)

Art. 34. Vocational Rehabilitation of Persons Disabled in Industry or Otherwise

§ 5725. Acceptance of federal aid.—The state of North Carolina hereby accepts all of the provisions and benefits of an act passed by the senate and house of representatives of the United States in Congress assembled to provide for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disable in industry or otherwise, and their return to civil employment, approved June second, one thousand nine hundred twenty. (C. S. 5502.) (1923, c. 136, s. 315.)

§ 5726. Coöperation; objects and plans; compensation of officials; expenses; publications.—The state board for vocational education shall have all necessary authority to coöperate with the Federal board for vocational education in the administration of the act of congress providing for the vocational rehabilitation of persons injured in industry and otherwise; to administer any legislation pursuant thereto enacted by the state of North Carolina; and to administer the funds provided by the federal government and the state of North Carolina under the provisions of section two hundred eighty-nine. It shall have full authority to formulate plans for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation; to fix the compensation of such officials and assistants as may be necessary to administer the federal act and this article for the state of North Carolina; and to pay such compensation and other expenses of administration as are necessary from funds appropriated under this law. It shall have authority to make studies and investigations relating to vocational rehabilitation; to publish the result of such investigations and to issue other publications as seem necessary by the board; to promote and aid in the establishment of schools, departments, or classes giving instruction in vocational subjects for rehabilitation purposes; and to prescribe qualifications for the teachers, directors, and supervisors of such subjects. (C. S. 5394.) (1923, c. 136, s. 316.)

§ 5727. State appropriation from state public school fund.—The state of North Carolina appropriates out of the state public school fund a sum of money for each fiscal year equal to the maximum sum which may be allotted to the state of North Carolina from the federal treasury under an act of Congress to provide for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise, and their return to civil employment: Provided, that only such portions of the above state appropriation shall be used as may be absolutely necessary to carry on the work outlined in articles twenty-six and twenty-nine. (C. S. 5503.) (1923, c. 136, s. 317.)

§ 5727(a). Continuation of work of Board for Vocational Rehabilitation.—The State Board for Vocational Education is hereby authorized to continue its work in the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation from the contingent funds heretofore appropriated out of the public school fund for this purpose: Provided, this work shall not be continued beyond March fourth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, unless the appropriation from the Federal Government is made available prior to said date; and Provided further, that the State Board for Vocational Education may not exceed the amount set aside from State funds for this purpose. (1924, c. 4.)

§ 5728. Coöperation with state board of health; reports as to persons under treatment.—The state board of health shall, (a) coöperate with the state board for vocational education in arranging with all public and private hospitals, clinics, dispensaries, health officers, and practicing physicians, to send to the state board for vocational education prompt and complete reports of any persons under treatment in such hospitals, clinics, dispensaries, or by such physicians or health officers, for any injury or disease that may render them permanently, physically, and vocationally handicapped to such an extent that they are or will be unable to support themselves, and (b) coöperate generally with the state board for vocational education in carrying out the provisions of this article. (1923, c. 136, s. 318.)

§ 5729. State appropriation.—The state of North Carolina appropriates for each fiscal year the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00), or as much thereof as is necessary, from the state treasury to the state board for vocational education for the purpose of assisting worthy persons who enter training under the federal vocational rehabilitation act: Provided, (1) that this fund shall be used only to pay for the actual living expenses of deserving persons, as determined by investigation of the board, who have no other means of paying said living expenses: (2) that this fund shall be paid out by the state treasurer on the order of the state board for vocational education; (3) that not to exceed ten dollars per week for not more than twenty weeks, unless an extension of time is granted by the board, be paid for the maintenance of any one person in training; (4) that the said state board for vocational education shall keep an accurate account of all expenditures, showing date, the person to whom paid, for what paid, and the amount of each warrant, and shall make a report of same to the governor on or before the first of January each year; and (5) that this law shall be in force from and after March 3, 1923. (1923, c. 136, s. 319.)

SUBCHAPTER XI. TEXT-BOOKS AND PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Art. 35. Text-Books for Elementary Grades

§ 5730. State board of education adopts.—The state board of education is hereby authorized to adopt, for the the exclusive use in the public elementary schools of North Carolina, supported wholly or in part out of the public funds, textbooks and publications, including instructional materials, to meet the needs of such schools in each grade and on each subject matter in which instruction is required to be given by law. And six months before the expiration of the contracts now in force it shall adopt for a period of five years from a multiple list submitted by the textbook commission, as hereinafter provided two basal primers for the first grade and two basal readers for each of the first three grades, and one basal book or series of books on all other subjects contained in the outline course of study for the elementary grades where a basal book or books are recommended for use: Provided, the state board of education may enter into contract with a publisher for a period less than five years, if any advantage may accrue to the schools as a result of a shorter contract than five years. (1923, c. 136, s. 320; 1933, c. 464, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to Public Laws of 1933, c. 464, the first sentence of this section read as follows: "The state board of education is hereby authorized to adopt text books for use in all elementary public schools of the state, supported wholly or in part out of public funds."

§ 5731. Books adopted for an indefinite period.—At the expiration of the contract now existing between the state board of education and the publisher for any particular book or books, the state board of education, upon satisfactory agreement with the publisher, may continue the contract for any particular book or books indefinitely; that is, for a period not less than one nor more than five years.

The state board of education may, at any time it finds a book unsatisfactory, call for a new report from the text-book commission on the subject adopted for an indefinite length of time. Moreover, the text-book commission at any time, with the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction, may recommend to the state board of education that a given book adopted indefinitely is unsatisfactory or may be greatly improved by the adoption of a new book or books.

In the event that a change of text-books contracted for for an indefinite length of time is deemed necessary by the state board of education or by the text-book commission, the publisher shall be given at least three months notice prior to the first day of May, and at the expiration of which time the state board of education is authorized to adopt from a list submitted by the text-book commission a new book or books on said subject. Moreover, the publisher of any text-book desiring to end a contract that has been extended indefinitely shall give the state board of education at least three months notice prior to the first day of May. In either event, when it becomes necessary to substitute a new book for an old one on the adopted list, the state board of education shall call for new recommendations from the text-book commission on that book, and proceed as in the first instance. (1923, c. 136, s. 321.)

§ 5732. Classification of text-books.—The text-books in use in the public schools are hereby divided into two classes: (1) major subjects, which include readers, arithmetics, language and grammar, history and geography; and (2) all other books on all other subjects shall be considered as minor subjects. (1923, c. 136, s. 322.)

§ 5733. Basal and supplementary books. — All textbooks to be adopted by the state board of education shall be basal books or supplementary books necessary to complete the course of study. (1923, c. 136, s. 322; 1933, c. 464, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the Amendment of 1933, the section read: "All subjects on which text-books are to be adopted by the state board of education shall be the basal books, and all other books necessary to complete the course of study shall be supplementary books."

§ 5734. Basal books not to be displaced by supplementary.—The state board of education is hereby authorized to select and adopt all supplementary books and instructional material necessary to complete the course of study for all schools. Such supplementary books shall neither displace or (nor) be used to the exclusion of basal books. (1923, c. 136, s. 323; 1933, c. 464, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to Public Laws of 1933, c. 464, county boards of education selected the supplementary books.

§ 5735. The text-book commission.—The governor and the superintendent of public instruction shall appoint a text-book commission composed of seven members to be selected from among the teachers, supervisors, principals, and superintendents actually engaged in school work in the state, to serve for five years or until their successors are appointed and qualified, and the governor and superintendent of public instruction shall have authority to fill any vacancy that may occur in the text-book commission, or to remove for sufficient cause any member of the commission. (1923, c. 136, s. 325.)

§ 5736. Organization of commission.—Immediately after the appointment of the text-book commission the superintendent of public instruction shall cause said text-book commission to meet in his office and organize by electing a chairman and secretary, and shall adopt such rules and regulations to govern their work as may be deemed necessary, subject to the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction. The work of the text-book commission shall then be apportioned among the members, and the rules and regulations governing its work shall be published in the daily papers, and a copy shall be sent to all publishers that may submit bids and samples of books for adoption.

The several members of the text-book commission may work independently, seeking information from every legitimate source, but if the members of the text-book commission receive information from representatives of book companies they shall keep a record of each such visit and the purpose of the visit. (1923, c. 136, s. 326.)

§ 5737. Compensation of commission. — Each member of the text-book commission shall be paid out of any funds under the control of the State Board of Education upon the approval of the budget bureau, on the requisition of the superintendent of public instruction, two hundred dollars ($200) for services, and, in addition, the necessary traveling expenses authorized by the superintendent of public instruction: Provided, that the chairman of this commission shall be paid two hundred and twenty-five dollars ($225.00.). The members so appointed shall serve for a period of five years, or until their successors are appointed, and shall be subject to the call of the state board of education at any time during their term of service: Provided further, that for any service rendered more than one year after appointment each member shall be paid a per diem of five dollars ($5.00) and necessary traveling expenses. (1923, c. 136, s. 327; 1927, c. 249.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to amendment Public Laws 1927, payment was made out of "the state public school fund," instead of as now "any fund under the control of the State Board of Education upon the approval of the budget bureau."

§ 5738. Duties of commission. — The textbook commission shall first prepare, subject to the approval of the superintendent of public instruction, and publish at the expense of the state, an outline course of study setting forth what subjects shall be taught in each of the elementary grades. It shall give in outline the number of basal and supplementary books on each subject to be used in each grade in accordance with the law. All textbooks which are to be adopted by the state board of education shall be basal books or supplementary books.

After the outline course of study has been prepared and published, the textbook commission shall then prepare a multiple list of basal books to be submitted to the state board of education. The multiple list shall contain not less than four nor more than eight books or series of books on all subjects for each grade.

On or before February first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, the chairman of the textbook commission shall submit to the superintendent of public instruction a report setting forth the multiple list of books that have been selected in conformity with the outline course of study. No book shall be included in the multiple list that a majority of the textbook commission deems unsuitable, or that does not conform to the outline course of study.

The textbook commission shall report whether any of the major subjects containing a series of books may be divided, taking one part from one series and another part from another series of books on the same subject, and the commission's report in this respect shall be binding on the state board of education. (1923, c. 136, s. 328; 1933, c. 464, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 464, substituted the first two paragraphs of this section for two former paragraphs. A comparison of these paragraphs is necessary to determine the changes.

§ 5739. State board of education makes all contracts. — (a) The state board of education shall make all needful rules and regulations governing the advertisement for bids, when and how prices shall be submitted, when and how sample books for adoption shall be submitted, the nature of the contract to be entered into between the state board of education and the publishers, the nature and kind of bond, if any is necessary, and all other needful rules and regulations governing the adoption of books for all public schools not otherwise specified in this act. After a contract has been entered into between the state board of education and the publisher, if the publisher shall fail to keep its contract as to prices, distribution of books, etc., the attorney-general shall bring suit against said company, when requested by the state board of education, for such amount as may be sufficient to enforce the contract or to compensate the state because of the loss sustained by a failure to keep this contract. (b) It shall be unlawful for any local distributing agency distributing State-adopted textbooks to charge or to make any deduction from the purchase price of such textbooks when returned by the purchaser without having been subjected to use or damage. Any person violating any of the provisions of this subsection shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not less than fifty dollars or imprisoned (not) more than thirty days. (1923, c. 136, s. 329; 1925, c. 69; 1933, c. 464, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—The word "not" should be inserted between the words "imprisoned" and "more." It was omitted in the Public Laws of 1925, which added subsection (b).

Prior to Public Laws 1933, c. 464, this section applied to rules and regulations for elementary schools only. It now applies to all public schools.

§ 5740. Not more than one major subject to be changed in any one year.—At the expiration of the present contracts between the state board of education and the publishers, not more than one major and two minor subjects shall be changed in any one year: Provided, satisfactory arrangements as to prices and distribution may be made. (1923, c. 136, s. 330.)

§ 5741. Publishers to register all agents or employees.—Publishers submitting books for adoption shall register in the office of the state superintendent of public instruction all agents or other employees of any kind authorized to represent said company in the state, and this registration list shall be open to the public for inspection. (1923, c. 136, s. 331.)

§ 5742. Contracts now in force not effected.— All contracts heretofore entered into between publishers and the state of North Carolina shall in no wise be affected by amendments to chapter one hundred forty-five, Public Laws one thousand nine hundred twenty-one. (1923, c. 136, s. 332.)

§ 5742(a). Acquisition of manuscripts for textbooks permitted.—The said board of education be and it is hereby authorized and empowered in its discretion to purchase and/or acquire a manuscript or manuscripts for school textbooks or supplementary books used or to be used in any or all grades of the public schools of North Carolina and to procure the printing and publishing of such books under contract through competitive bids or otherwise as it may in its discretion determine to be for the best interest of the public schools of the state; and if said board of education finds that by the acquisition of any such manuscript or manuscripts, and that by the making of any such contract for any such school books, either basal or supplementary, such books can be furnished to the public schools of the state at a price less than the same may be acquired from publishers, then it shall be the duty of said board of education to acquire such manuscripts and cause the same to be published and said books to be distributed in accordance with such rules and regulations and under such terms and conditions as it may deem advisable, having due regard to the standard of the school books so published, after taking into consideration the substance of such books and their adaptability for use in the schools of the state. (1933, c. 464, s. 6.)

§ 5742(b). Contracts for distribution of textbooks through depositories or a state agency. — The state board of education is authorized and empowered to make and enter into all such contracts as may be necessary to provide for the proper distribution of textbooks either through a depository or depositories, or through the state division of purchase and contract or other state agency, utilizing county boards of education or city boards of trustees, if found feasible for local distribution, as to it may seem advisable; and is further authorized and empowered to make all needed rules, regulations, and contracts governing the disposition, sale, and return of school books as are not disposed of to the patrons of the schools, and to determine the nature of the contract or contracts to be entered into between the state board of education and the publisher or publishers, for the distribution of school textbooks adopted by it or in use in any of the public schools of the state. It may also determine the nature and kind of bond, if necessary, to be given by any depository or other agency carrying out the terms of this act, to the end that school textbooks shall be delivered to the patrons of the schools at the lowest possible net cost. (1933, c. 464, s. 7.)

Art. 36. Text-Books for High Schools

§§ 5743-5749. Superseded by §§ 5749(a)-5749(h).

§ 5749(a). State Board of Education may adopt.—The State Board of Education is hereby authorized to adopt textbooks for the use in all public high schools of the State, supported in whole or in part out of public funds, and the high school textbooks adopted by the State Board of Education in accordance with the provisions of this article shall be used by all the public high schools of the State. (1931, c. 359, s. 1.)

§ 5749(b). State committee on high school textbooks.—The Governor and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, at the expiration of the present high school textbook contracts, shall appoint a State committee on high school textbooks, consisting of five members, five of whom are actively engaged in school work, who shall serve for a term of five years without compensation except for reimbursement out of the State Treasury upon the requisition of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for actual expenses incurred by attendance upon meetings of the committee that may be called by or under the direction of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. (1931, c. 359, s. 2.)

§ 5749(c). Grouping of high school instruction; examination of books; submission of multiple list and annual reports. — It shall be the duty of the State Committee of high school textbooks to list all the high school fields of instruction in five separate groups as nearly equal as possible in the cost of textbooks. The Committee on high school textbooks shall further arrange these groups in the order in which they will be considered, and notify the State Board of Education in its first report of this arrangement. During the first year of its term of office, it shall be the further duty of the State Committee on high school textbooks to make a thorough examination of any and all books submitted by any publisher in the first group of fields of instruction as arranged by said State Committee on high school textbooks, with a view of determining whether the contents, quality and price of said books are such as to make them suitable and desirable for use in the public high schools of the State, and submit, not later than the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four, a multiple list not exceeding three books in each field of instruction in the first group. Not later than January first in each succeeding year, the State Committee on high school textbooks shall make a similar report on the fields of instruction in the order fixed by it, unless it receives a notice from the State Board of Education prior to May first in said year that such report is not desired. (1931, c. 359, s. 3.)

§ 5749(d). Selection of one book per subject by State Board of Education; indefinite contract with publishers; annual report by publishers. — It shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to select one book in each field of instruction from the multiple list submitted by the State Committee on high school textbooks for exclusive use in the public high schools of the State for a period not less than five years. In case the State Board of Education finds it impossible to make a satisfactory contract for any one of the books on the multiple list, then it shall notify the State Committee on high school textbooks that it cannot make a satisfactory contract for any book on the multiple list in that field of instruction. The State Committee on high school textbooks shall then submit another multiple list in that field of instruction from which the State Board of Education shall make an adoption. It shall be the further duty of the State Board of Education to make an indefinite contract with all the publishers having books in groups two, three, four and five for a period not less than one year nor more than five years, and these books shall continue in use until the State Board of Education, in accordance with the provisions of this article, shall adopt a book for State-wide use in any given field of instruction: Provided, that the contract shall require each publisher to report annually to the State Board of Education the total sales of each book in the State of North Carolina. (1931, c. 359, s. 4.)

§ 5749(e). Attorney General to bring suit on publishers' contracts in event of failure to execute. —After a contract has been entered into between the State Board of Education and the publisher, if the publisher shall fail to keep its contract as to prices, distribution of books, an adequate supply of the edition of books as adopted, etc., the Attorney General shall bring suit against said company when requested by the State Board of Education, for such an amount as may be sufficient to enforce the contract or to compensate the State because of the loss sustained by failure to keep his contract. (1931, c. 359, s. 5.)

§ 5749(f). Sale of books at lower price elsewhere reduces price in State. — If the publishers of any high school textbook on the adopted list in this State shall contract with another state, or with any county, city or town or other municipality, or shall place its books on sale anywhere in the United States, for or at a less price than that in its contract with the State of North Carolina, it shall be, and is hereby, made a part of the contract of that company to furnish that book to the high schools of this State at a price not to exceed that for which the book is furnished, sold, or placed on sale in any other state, or in any such other county, city, town or other municipality. (1931, c. 359, s. 6.)

§ 5749(g). Adoption made exclusive.—The textbooks for high school instruction adopted under the provisions of this article shall be for the exclusive use of the high schools of this State when so adopted and placed upon the approved list in the manner as set out in this article. (1931, c. 359, s. 7.)

§ 5749(h). Article part of public school laws; conflicting laws repealed.—This article shall become a part of the public school laws of the State of North Carolina, and any sections which conflict with sections herein are hereby repealed. (1931, c. 359, s. 8.)

Art. 37. Furnishing Text-Books

§ 5750. Free text-books.—On and after July first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, any county board of education, the committee of any local tax district, or the board of trustees of any special charter district in the state is authorized to purchase books for the use of pupils in said county or district to be loaned to said pupils, without charge for the same, under such needful rules and regulations governing the loan of said textbooks as the said board may prescribe.

If instruction is given in the manual and domestic arts, the county board of education, the committee or board of trustees may, in its discretion, purchase and lend the necessary implements and material to the pupils. And it shall also in a similar manner procure such apparatus, reference books, and other means of illustration as may be needed in the school.

1. The board of county commissioners, in addition to levying taxes for the salary fund, the operating and equipment fund, and the fund for the repayment of loans, bonds, and notes, is hereby authorized to levy an additional tax to be known as the "tax for supplying free text-books," which shall be sufficient to pay the cost of purchasing and loaning text-books as provided in section one of this act, after an estimate has been submitted by the county board of education and approved by the commissioners. Any committee of a local tax district, or any board of trustees of a special charter district in a county not supplying free textbooks, is hereby authorized to use any part of the local tax funds, not otherwise appropriated in the district, to carry out the provisions of section one authorizing said district to supply free text-books.

2. In the event that the county board of education, or the board of county commissioners, or both, shall fail to provide in the budget a sum sufficient to supply free text-books in accordance with section 5383, or in the event that the sum derived from the local taxes in any local tax or special charter district is insufficient to provide free text-books in such district after other necessary expenses are met, the question of supplying free text-books may be submitted to the qualified voters in the following manner:

Whenever the written petition of one-fourth of the qualified voters of a county, or of a local tax or special charter district, setting forth the tax rate to be levied and calling for an election to be held upon the question of levying an additional special annual tax with which to purchase and supply free text-books, is presented to the governing board said board shall present the petition to the tax levying authority of said county or district, which body shall order an election and conduct the same as near as may be under the rules governing the election for local taxes: Provided, that in the election the voters shall cast a ballot on which shall be printed or written the words, "For free text-books," and those who oppose shall cast a ballot on which shall be printed or written the words "Against free text-books;" and if a majority of the qualified voters in said county or district shall cast their ballots "Free text-books," the tax shall be levied and collected as all other county or local taxes for schools are levied and collected. It shall be the duty of the governing body of the school to purchase books for the use of the pupils in said county or district, and loan the same to pupils without charge in accordance with section 5383. (1923, c. 136, s. 340.)

§ 5751. Rental of text-books.—The county board of education or the board of trustees of any local tax district or special charter district is hereby authorized to rent such books to the children of any school district at a rental price not to exceed fifty per cent of the publisher's contract price with the state; and wherever books are rented that have not been contracted for by the state, the rental price shall not exceed fifty per cent of the publisher's list prices. (C. S. 5735.) (1923, c. 136, s. 341.)

See § 5754(a) and note.

§ 5752. County and local boards to make rules; to use incidental expense fund.—The county board of education or the board of trustees of any local tax district or special charter district is hereby authorized to make all needful rules and regulations governing the rental of public school text-books, and to apply any funds of the operating and equipment fund remaining to the credit of the county or the special charter district to the purposes of this article: Provided, that before any amount is appropriated from this fund for these purposes, provisions shall be made for all needful expenses of said schools. (C. S. 5736.) (1923, c. 136, s. 342.)

See § 5754(a) and note.

§ 5753. Books for indigent children.—County boards of education or the board of trustees of any local district may set aside an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) from the incidental expense fund to be used in purchasing public school text-books, to be used in the manner designated, namely, that when it shall appear that the education of any child is limited because of the inability of said child to purchase necessary textbooks or to pay the rental price, said board or boards may loan free of cost all necessary books to any such child during the term of the school, subject to rules and regulations by the county board of education or the board of trustees of any local tax district or special charter school, and approved by the state superintendent of public instruction. (C. S. 5737.) (1923, c. 136, s. 343.)

§ 5754. State superintendent to inform local school authorities.—The state superintendent of public instruction is hereby requested to inform superintendents of county and all local tax schools of the provisions of this article. (C. S. 5739.) (1923, c. 136, s. 344.)

§ 5754(a). Local units authorized to establish capital fund for renting of text books.—The board of county commissioners in any county, upon the request of the county board of education therein, or of the board of trustees, or board of school commissioners of any special charter district therein, is hereby authorized and empowered to establish a capital fund in such county under the terms of and in accordance with the provisions of this act, which fund shall be used by the county board of education, or by the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of the special charter district making such request for the operation of a system of text book rentals to the patrons of the public schools of the county or special charter district, for which such capital fund may be established: Provided, however, that before any such request shall be presented to the board of county commissioners the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of the special charter district, presenting the same shall obtain the approval of the State Board of Equalization as hereinafter provided. It shall be the duty of the State Board of Equalization to prepare rules and regulations governing the establishment of rental depositories in accordance with the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to acquaint the public school officials with the rules and regulations of the Board of Equalization and to present to said board for its approval or rejection all applications for such permission. (1931, c. 210, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The Act from which sections 5754(a)-(h) were taken provided: "All laws or clauses of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed or amended so as to make same conform to the provisions of this act." It seems that this act repeals sections 5751 and 5752 except as to the units and counties excepted in section 5754(g).

§ 5754(b). Computation of amount of fund. — The necessary amount of such capital fund shall be determined by the board of county commissioners upon the basis of a comprehensive budget estimate prepared by the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of the special charter district making such request, not exceeding, however, the extent and amount thereof approved by the State Board of Equalization. (1931, c. 210, s. 2.)

§ 5754(c). Budget estimate to be made up; repayments to fund out of rental fees.—Before the board of commissioners of any county shall establish such capital fund it shall be the duty of the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of the special charter district making request therefor to prepare a budget estimate covering a definite and specified period showing the estimated income from rentals for each year, the estimated cost of text books and supplies for each year and a balanced budget at the end of a specified and definite period. Such budget shall be prepared in accordance with rules and regulations to be adopted and promulgated by the State Board of Equalization. It shall be the duty of the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of any special charter district requesting and securing the establishment of any such capital fund for its benefit to make provision for the payment out of rental fees of the principal fund of the capital fund and the interest arising thereon in the manner and within the term provided for in the certificate of approval granted by the State Board of Equalization, and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Equalization in granting the approval to any such request to specify in its order granting said approval the time within which said repayments shall be made and the amount of such repayment to be made during each year of such time. (1931, c. 210, s. 3.)

§ 5754(d). Details of administration of fund; record of receipts and disbursements; annual audit. — Any capital fund established under the provisions of this article shall be placed to the credit of the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of any special charter district making request therefor, which board shall administer the fund under such rules and regulations as the said board may prescribe, with the approval of the State Board of Equalization, not in conflict, however, with the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of any charter, district for whose benefit such capital fund is established, to keep accurate record of receipts and disbursements made from this fund and to cause such records and the accounts thereof to be audited in July of each and every year and a copy of said audit shall be kept as a part of the permanent records of the office of said board and one copy thereof shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of the county, one copy with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and one copy with the State Board of Equalization. It shall be unlawful for the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of any special charter district to use any part of the funds so provided for any purpose, even temporarily, other than the purposes for which said fund is established and in accordance with the provisions of this act. (1931, c. 210, s. 4.)

§ 5754(e). Purchase of books, etc., with fund; schedules of rentals; patrons may purchase at cost.—The county board of education, or board of trustees, or board of commissioners of any charter district for whose use and benefit such capital fund has been established is hereby authorized to purchase text books and instructional supplies and pay for same out of the said capital fund, together with such rental fees as said board may determine upon and to rent such text books and instructional supplies and to rent or furnish said text books and instructional supplies to the patrons of the public schools of such county, or such charter school district: Provided, that the rental fees charged therefor shall be in accordance with schedules submitted to and approved by the State Board of Equalization: Provided, further, that any patron of the public schools may purchase text books at net costs from any rental depository. (1931, c. 210, s. 5.)

education, or board of trustees, or board of commissioners for such charter district for which said fund is established and shall be paid out upon a warrant signed by the chairman and secretary of such board and approved by such officer as the Local Government Act may require: Provided, that such officer required to approve the same by the Local Government Act shall receive no additional compensation for such services. (1931, c. 210, s. 6.)

§ 5754(g). Units and counties excepted.—This act shall not apply to any county, or special charter district which has heretofore established a fund for the purchase and rental of text books to patrons of the public schools of such county, or special charter district: Provided, however, that the county board of education, or the board of trustees, or board of commissioners of any such special charter district may, with the approval of the majority of any such board, bring themselves under the provisions of this act: Provided, further, that this act shall not apply to Caswell County and Richmond County. (1931, c. 210, s. 7.)

For provisions applicable to units and counties excepted, see §§ 5751 and 5752.

§ 5754(h). Fumigation and disinfection of books. — The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in conjunction with the State Board of Health, shall adopt rules and regulations governing the use and fumigation and/or disposal of text books from quarantined homes and for the regular disinfection of all text books used in the public schools of the State: Provided, that said rules shall be attached to any rules and regulations that the State Board of Equalization may promulgate. (1031, c. 210, s. 8.)

Art. 37A. State Text Book Purchase and Rental Commission

§ 5754(1). Commission created; membership; compensation and expenses. — There is hereby created a state textbook purchase and rental commission of five members, as follows: The state superintendent of public instruction as ex-officio chairman, the attorney general, the director of the division of purchase and contract, and two members, to be appointed by the governor, for a term of two years each. Said appointive members to receive such compensation as the law provides for members of the state school commission. The expense and cost of said commission shall be paid out of the appropriation made available by this article. (1935, c. 422, s. 1.)

§ 5754(2). Powers and duties of commission.—The said textbook purchase and rental commission is hereby authorized, empowered, and directed to promulgate rules and regulations necessary to:

(1) Acquire by contract, and/or purchase, such textbooks and instructional supplies, which are, or may be on the adopted list of the state standard course of study, as the commission may find necessary to supply the needs of the children in the public schools of the State.

(2) Provide a system of distribution of said textbooks and supplies to the children in the public schools of the State, and shall distribute such books as are provided under the rental system without the use of any depository other than some agency of the State.

(3) Provide for uniform rental charge for said textbooks and supplies to the children in attendance upon the public schools of the State. Said rental charge shall be collected annually in an amount not to exceed one-third of the cost of said textbooks and supplies: Provided nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the purchase of textbooks from said commission needed for any child in the public schools of the State, by any parent, guardian, or person in loco parentis.

(4) Provide for the use of said textbooks without charge to the indigent children of the State.

(5) Adopt, provide and distribute all blanks, forms and reports necessary to keep a careful check and record of all the books, supplies distributed, rentals collected, indigents furnished, condition and repairs of books, and such other information as said commission may require, to the end that an accurate and complete inventory of the affairs of said commission may be available at all times to the governor and council of State.

(6) Cause an annual audit to be made of the affairs of the said commission and a certified copy of same to be furnished the governor and council of State.

(7) Books shall not be interchangeable between the white and colored schools, but shall continue to be used by the race first using same. (1935, c. 422, s. 2.)

§ 5754(3). Purchases through division of purchase and contract. — The purchase of all textbooks and supplies under the provisions of this article adopted as now provided by law shall be made through the division of purchase and contract. (1935, c. 422, s. 3.)

§ 5754(4). Rentals paid to state treasury; disinfecting books.—All sums of money collected as rentals under the provisions of this article shall be paid monthly as collected into the state treasury, to be entered as a separate item known as the "state textbook rental fund." Disbursement of said funds shall only be had by order of the council of State: Provided further that the state textbook purchase and rental commission in conjunction with the state board of health shall adopt rules and regulations governing the use and fumigation for the regular disinfection of all textbooks used in the public schools of the State. (1935, c. 422, s. 4.)

§ 5754(5). Local rental systems unaffected; rental fees limited; purchases from state commission allowed.—Any county or city board of education now operating a textbook rental system shall be permitted to continue such local rental system without interference from the state commission: Provided, that the rental fees charged by such local rental authority shall not exceed the rental charges set by the state commission: Provided, further, that such local textbook rental authority may purchase from the state commission textbooks for its local use. (1935, c. 422, s. 5.)

§ 5754(6). Appropriation and issuance of short term notes.—

(1) For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article there is hereby appropriated out of the public revenues of the State a sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000).

(2) The treasurer, with the approval of the council of State, is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to issue short term notes, pledging the full faith and credit of the State, in such amounts, length of term and rate of interest as shall be most advantageous to the State, but in no event shall the total sum of such notes exceed the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000).

(3) The full faith, credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of the notes herein authorized.

(4) The coupons, if any, appurtenant to such notes shall be receivable after maturity in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of any kind whatsoever.

(5) All of such notes and coupons shall be exempt from all State, county and municipal taxation or assessments, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest on such notes shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall such notes or coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation.

(6) It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians and fiduciaries generally, and all sinking fund commissions, to invest any moneys in their hands in such notes. (1935, c. 422, s. 6.)

Art. 38. Public Libraries

§ 5755. Rules and regulations governing their establishment.—The state board of education is hereby authorized to adopt such rules and regulations governing the establishment of public libraries receiving state aid as will best serve the educational interest of the people. It shall have authority to use all of the state appropriation for rural libraries, to encourage the establishment of county circulating libraries, or to coöperate with the state library commission in providing circulating libraries for schools. (1923, c. 136, s. 345.)

§ 5756. Aid in establishing local libraries.—The state board of education may use such portion of the state appropriation to rural libraries as it may deem necessary to aid the public schools in establishing local libraries as provided herein.

When the patrons and friends of any union school in which a standard high school is or is to be maintained shall raise by private subscription and tender to the treasurer of the county school fund for the establishment of a library to be connected with the school the sum of fifty dollars, the county board of education shall appropriate from the operating and equipment fund the sum of fifty dollars for this purpose.

As soon as the county board shall have made an appropriation for a library in the manner prescribed, the county superintendent shall inform the secretary of the state board of education of the fact, whereupon the state board, if the funds on hand are sufficient, shall remit to the treasurer of the county school fund the sum of fifty dollars additional for the purchase of books. (C. S. 5618, amended.) (1923, c. 136, s. 346.)

SUBCHAPTER XII. COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE IN SCHOOLS

Art. 39. General Compulsory Attendance Law

§ 5757. Parent or guardian required to keep child in school; exceptions.—Every parent, guardian or other person in the state having charge or control of a child between the ages of seven and fourteen years shall cause such child to attend school continuously for a period equal to the time which the public school in the district in which the child resides shall be in session. The principal, superintendent, or teacher who is in charge of such school shall have the right to excuse the child from temporary attendance on account of sickness or distance of residence from the school, or other unavoidable cause which does not constitute truancy as defined by the state board of education. The term "school" as used in this section is defined to embrace all public schools and such private schools as have tutors or teachers and curricula that are approved by the county superintendent of public instruction or the State Board of Education.

All private schools receiving and instructing children of compulsory school age shall be required to keep such records of attendance and render such reports of the attendance if such children as are required of public schools; and attendance upon such schools, if the school or tutor refuses or neglects to keep such records or to render such reports, shall not be accepted in lieu of attendance upon the public school of the district, town or city which the child shall be entitled to attend: Provided, instruction in a private school or by private tutor shall not be regarded as meeting the requirements of the law unless the courses of instruction run concurrently with the term of the public school in the district and extend for at least as long a term. (C. S. 5758.) (1923, c. 136, s. 347; 1925, c. 226.)

Editor's Note.—The last sentence of the first paragraph and all of the last paragraph of this section was added by the amendment, Public Laws 1925.

In 3 N. C. Law Rev. 149, in discussing this amendment, it is said: "ch. 226 is a step in making more effective the compulsory school attendance law by regulating the attendance of children of compulsory school age in private schools. The statute requires that private schools keep such records of attendance and render such reports as are required of public schools. If this is not done, attendance at a private school shall not be accepted in lieu of attendance upon a public school, and teachers and principals of private schools who violate this statute may be punished as for a misdemeanor. Authorized private schools must have courses of instruction which run concurrently with the term of the public school."

Failure to Charge as to Other Than District School.—For a conviction under the provision of this section it is necessary for the indictment to allege, and the State offer evidence tending to show not only that the parent or guardian of the children within the described age had failed or refused to send them to the public school within the district. but also that such child or children had not been sent to attend school periodically for a period equal to the time which the public school in the district in which they reside shall be in session. State v. Johnson, 188 N. C. 591, 125 S. E. 183.

Same—Burden Not on Parent.—Where the indictment is defective in failing to charge that a parent or guardian had also failed to send the child or children to another than the district school, etc., under the provisions of this section and the State offers no evidence in respect to it, it is not required that the parent or guardian offer evidence to show that he had complied with the proviso of the statute; and an instruction of the court to the jury placing the burden upon the defendant to so show, is reversible error. State v. Johnson. 188 N. C. 591. 125 S. E. 183.

Validity of Expenditure for School Houses Emphasized.—See Lacy v. Fidelity Bank, 183 N. C. 373. 11 S. E. 612.

Applied in Hayes v. Benton, 193 N. C. 379, 384, 137 S. E. 169.

§ 5758. State board of education to make rules and regulations; method of enforcement.—It shall be the duty of the state board of education to formulate such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper enforcement of the provisions of this article. The board shall prescribe what shall constitute truancy, what causes may constitute legitimate excuses for temporary nonattendance due to physical or mental inability to attend, and under what circumstances teachers, principals, or superintendents may excuse pupils for nonattendance due to immediate demands of the farm or the home in certain seasons of the year in the several sections of the state. It shall be the duty of all school officials to carry out such instructions from the state board of education, and any school official failing to carry out such instructions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that the preceding section shall not be in force in any city or county that has a higher compulsory attendance law now in force than that provided herein; but in any such case it shall be the duty of state board of education to investigate the same and decide that any such law now in force has a higher compulsory attendance feature than that provided by this article: Provided further, that wherever any district is without adequate buildings for the proper enforcement of this article, the county boards of education may be allowed not more than two years from July the first, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, to make full and ample provision in every district.

Mental incapacity shall be an excuse for nonattendance, and is interpreted to mean feeble-mindedness or such nervous disorder as to make it either impossible for such child to profit by instruction given in the school or impracticable for the teacher properly to instruct the normal pupils of the school. In the case of feeble-minded children the teacher shall designate the same in her reports to the County Superintendent of Public Welfare, and it shall be his duty to report all such cases to the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare. Whereupon said Board shall make, or cause to be made, an examination to ascertain the mental incapacity of said child and report the same to the county or city superintendent involved. Upon receipt of said report the local school authorities are hereby authorized, under such limitations and rules as the State Board of Education may adopt, to exclude said child from the public school when it is ascertained that the child can not benefit by said instruction and his presence becomes a source of disturbance to the rest of the children. In all such cases in which a child is excluded from school a complete record of the whole transaction shall be filed in the office of the county or city superintendent and kept as a public record. (C. S. 5759.) (1923, c. 136, s. 348; 1931, c. 453.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the second paragraph to this section.

Private Schools.—An indictment under the provisions of this section, charging a parent with unlawfully and wilfully failing to cause his children, between the ages of 8 and 14 years, to attend the public schools of the district of his and the children's residence, as required by the statute, is defective in not observing the distinction that the parent, having the custody of his children, may have them attend private schools for the required period, and no conviction may be had under the charge set out in the indictment. State v. Lewis, 194 N. C. 620, 140 S. E. 434.

§ 5759. Attendance officers; reports; prosecutions.—The state superintendent of public instruction shall prepare such rules and procedure and furnish such blanks for teachers and other school officials as may be necessary for reporting each case of truancy or lack of attendance to the chief attendance officer referred to in this article. Such rules shall provide, among other things, for a notification in writing to the person responsible for the nonattendance of any child, that the case is to be reported to the chief attendance officer of the county unless the law is immediately complied with. County boards of education and boards of trustees of special charter districts have the right to appoint district attendance officers when deemed by them necessary, to assist in carrying out the provisions of this article, and the rules and instructions which may be promulgated by the state superintendent of public instruction. But in every case in which it becomes necessary to prosecute for nonattendance the case shall be referred to the chief attendance officer of the county for further action: Provided, that in special charter districts having special attendance officers paid out of local funds, said officers shall have full authority to prosecute for violations of this article. (C. S. 5760.) (1923, c. 136, s. 349.)

§ 5760. Violation of law; penalty.—Any parent, guardian, or other person violating the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be liable to a fine not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars, and upon failure or refusal to pay such fine, the said parent, guardian or other person shall be imprisoned not exceeding thirty days in the county jail. (C. S. 5761.) (1923, c. 136, s. 350.)

§ 5761. Investigation and prosecution by county superintendent and attendance officer.—The county superintendent of public welfare or chief school attendance officer or truant officer provided for by law shall investigate and prosecute all violators of the provisions of this article. The reports of unlawful absence required to be made by teachers and principals to the chief attendance officer shall, in his hands, in case of any prosecution, constitute prima facie evidence of the violation of this article and the burden of proof shall be upon the defendant to show the lawful attendance of the child or children upon an authorized school. (C. S. 5762.) (1923, c. 136, s. 351; 1925, c. 226.)

Editor's Note.—The last sentence to this section was added by Public Laws 1925.

§ 5762. Investigation as to indigency of child.—If affidavit shall be made by the parent of a child or by any other person that any child between the ages of seven and fourteen years is not able to attend school by reason of necessity to work or labor for the support of itself or the support of the family, then the attendance officer shall diligently inquire into the matter and bring it to the attention of some court allowed by law to act as a juvenile court, and said court shall proceed to find whether as a matter of fact such parents, or persons standing in loco parentis are unable to send said child to school for the term of compulsory attendance for the reasons given. If the court shall find, after careful investigation, that the parents have made or are making a bona fide effort to comply with the compulsory attendance act, and by reason of illness, lack of earning capacity, or any other cause which the court may deem valid and sufficient, are unable to send said child to school, then the court shall find and state what help is needed for the family to enable the attendance law to be complied with. The court shall transmit its findings to the county board of education of the county or, in special charter districts, to the board of trustees in which the case may arise. (C. S. 5763.) (1923, c. 136, s. 352.)

§ 5763. Aid to indigent child.—The county board of education shall in its discretion order aid to be given the family for the operating and equipment fund of the county school budget to an extent not to exceed ten dollars per month for such child during the continuance of the compulsory term; and shall at the same time require said officer to see that the money is used for the purpose for which it is appropriated and to report from time to time whether it shall be continued or withdrawn. And the county board of education is hereby authorized in making out the county budget to provide a sum to meet the provisions of this article. (C. S. 5764.) (1923, c. 136, s. 353.)

Art. 40. Compulsory Attendance of Deaf and Blind Children

§ 5764. Deaf and blind children to attend school; age limits; minimum attendance.—Every deaf and every blind child of sound mind in North Carolina who shall be qualified for admission into a state school for the deaf or the blind shall attend a school for the deaf or the blind for a term of nine months each year between the ages of seven and eighteen years. Parents, guardians, or custodians of every such blind or deaf child between the ages of seven and eighteen years shall send, or cause to be sent, such child to some school for the instruction of the blind or deaf as is herein provided: Provided, that the board of directors of any school for the deaf or blind may exempt any such child from attendance at any section or during any year, and may discharge from their custody any such blind or deaf child whenever such discharge seems necessary or proper. Whenever a deaf or blind child shall reach the age of eighteen and is still unable to become self-supporting because of its defects, such a child shall continue in said school until it reaches the age of twenty-one, unless it becomes self-supporting sooner. (C. S. 5765, 5769.) (1923, c. 136, s. 354.)

§ 5765. Parents, etc., failing to send to school guilty of misdemeanor; provisos.—The parents, guardians, or custodians of any deaf children between the ages of seven and eighteen years failing to send such deaf child or children to some school for instruction, as provided in this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, at the discretion of the court, for each year said deaf child is kept out of school, between the ages herein provided, (1) that parents, guardians, or custodians may elect two years between the ages of seven and eighteen years that a deaf child or children may remain out of school, and (2) that this section shall not apply to or be enforced against the parent, guardian, or custodian of any deaf child until such time as the superintendent of any school for the instruction of the deaf, by and with the approval of the executive committee of such institution, shall in his and their discretion serve written notice on such parent, guardian, or custodian of any deaf child until such time as the superintendent of any school for the instruction of the deaf, by and with the approval of the executive committee of such institution, shall in his and their discretion serve written notice on such parent, guardian, or custodian, directing that child be sent to the institution whereof they have charge. (C. S. 5766.) (1923, c. 136, s. 355.)

§ 5766. Parents, etc., failing to send guilty of misdemeanor; provisos.—The parents, guardians, or custodians of any blind child or children between the ages of seven and eighteen years failing to send such child or children to some school for the instruction of the blind shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, at the discretion of the court, for each year that such child or children shall be kept out of school between the ages specified: Provided, (1) that this section shall not be enforced against the parents, guardians, or custodians of any blind child until such time as the authorities of some school for the instruction of the blind shall serve written notice on such parents, guardians, or custodians, directing that such child be sent to the school whereof they have charge; and (2) that the authorities of the state school for the blind and the deaf shall not be compelled to retain in their custody or under their instruction any incorrigible person or persons of confined immoral habits. (1923, c. 136, s. 356.)

§ 5767. To report defective children.—It shall be the duty of the superintendent to report through proper legal channels, the names and addresses of parents, guardians, or custodians, of deaf, dumb, blind, and feeble minded children to the principal of the institution provided for each, and upon the failure of the county superintendent to make such reports, he shall be fined five dollars for each child of the class mentioned above not so reported. (C. S. 5567, 5571.) (1923, c. 136, s. 357.)

SUBCHAPTER XIII. NORMAL SCHOOLS

Art. 41. State Board to Control Certain Normal Schools

§ 5768. State board of education shall prescribe rules and regulations for management of normal schools.—The state board of education shall have supervision and shall prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct, management, and enlargement of each of the following normal schools: the Appalachian training school, Boone, North Carolina; the Cullowhee state normal and industrial school, Cullowhee, North Carolina. (1921, c. 61, s. 1.)

§ 5769. State board of education shall appoint boards of trustees.—The state board of education shall, not later than May one, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, appoint for each state normal school placed under its supervision a board of trustees consisting of seven members, who shall be chosen at large from the district which the respective school serves, for terms of five years, beginning with the first Thursday of May next succeeding their appointment, and shall hold office until their respective successors are appointed and qualified. They shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath or affirmation required of officers: Provided, that at the first appointment of members of normal school boards of trustees by the state board of education under the provisions of this section, the state board of education shall appoint from the respective board of trustees or other managing authorities in office February 24, 1921, seven members, appointing one to serve one year, one to serve two years, one to serve three years, two to serve four years, and two to serve five years, and until their respective successors are appointed and qualified. Thereafter the appointments shall be for the full term of five years.

The term of office of all members of boards of trustees or other managing authorities of the state normal schools placed under the supervision of the board of education shall automatically expire on the first Thursday in May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one: Provided, their successors have been appointed and qualified.

Any member who shall fail to attend two annual meetings of the board in succession shall automatically cease to be a member of the board of trustees, unless said member makes a written request to the chairman of the board to be continued as a member of said board, or unless said member sends his proxy to be voted by some member of the board present: Provided, that no proxy shall be recognized unless there is a majority of the board present. Vacancies for whatever cause in a board of trustees shall be filled by the state board of education, such appointees serving for the remainder of the respective unexpired term or terms.

The board of trustees of said school shall take and hold for the state of North Carolina all the property of every sort and kind belonging to said school placed under its supervision. But the board of trustees of the respective normal school shall not dispose of any real property without the consent of the state board of education. (1921, c. 61, s. 2.)

§ 5770. Boards of trustees; meetings.—The office of each board of trustees shall be at its respective normal school. The board of trustees of each normal school shall hold an annual meeting at its office. At this meeting the board shall each year elect one of its members as chairman, and one as vice chairman, and shall fix the time and place of its regular meetings, which shall be duly advertised. Such special meetings may be called at such terms as such places as the duties and business of the board may require. The rules generally adopted by deliberative bodies for their government shall be observed by boards of trustees, but no motion or adopted resolution shall be declared or adopted without the concurrence of a majority of the whole board.

Members of boards of trustees shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be reimbursed for their necessary personal and traveling expenses incidental to performing their duties. (1921, c. 61, s. 3.)

§ 5771. Boards of trustees: powers, duties.— The board of trustees of the respective normal school shall elect at its annual meeting a president and all teachers and assistant teachers: Provided, that the election of all teachers and assistant teachers shall be made only on the nomination of the president or the acting president: Provided further, that the president may be authorized to fill vacancies that may occur between the annual meetings of the board of trustees, and select all employees, subject to confirmation by the board of trustees, not inconsistent with the budget for that ensuing year.

The board of trustees, upon recommendation of the president, shall authorize all departments of instruction and all positions and fix the salaries and tenure of all teachers and all assistants of whatever kind, and may discharge the president or any teacher or any assistant teacher for cause. But no president or teacher or professional assistant shall be dismissed without being given a copy of the charges against him and an opportunity of being heard in person or by counsel in his own defense.

The board of trustees, upon the recommendation of the president, shall, subject to the rules and regulations of the state board of education authorize the courses of study to be offered, including observation and practice in teaching, prescribe the entrance requirements, and divide the school year into terms or sessions. The board of trustees shall fix all fees, tuition, and rate of board for all students, and provide for the government and discipline of the school. (1921, c. 61, s. 4.)

§ 5772. President of normal schools; powers, duties. — The president of the respective normal school shall be the secretary of the given board of trustees. He shall conduct all correspondence of the board, issue calls for meetings, prepare the docket or calendar for the same, keep the minutes of the proceedings, preserve in the office of the board all of its records, make all reports requested of the board, receive all reports requested by it, seeing that they are in proper form, complete and accurate, and shall perform such other secretarial duties as may be imposed by the board: Provided, that in case of a vacancy in the presidency of the respective normal school, the board may elect one of its own members to act temporarily as secretary.

The president of the school, in his capacity as president and secretary, shall attend all meetings of the board of trustees, except when his own tenure, his salary, or the administration of his office is under discussion. He shall have the right to advise on any question under discussion, but shall have no vote. The president of each normal school may nominate for appointment by the board of trustees, and may recommend for dismissal by it, all heads of departments, teachers, and assistants of whatever kind. He shall submit, subject to the rules and regulations of the state board of education, to the board of trustees, for adoption, courses of study and plans of work, and shall in every way take the initiative in working out of policies of his school and in promoting its development and efficiency. He shall each year submit an annual report to the board of trustees, a copy of which shall be sent to the secretary of the state board of education. This annual report shall include a statement of the condition of his normal school, of its achievements during the preceding school year, of its present and future needs, and his recommendations for its advancement. (1921, c. 61, s. 5.)

§ 5773. Expenditure state normal school funds.—The several and respective sums hereafter appropriated by the general assembly for the support and maintenance of each state normal school under the supervision of the state board of education shall be paid over to the treasurer of the state board of education and held by him as a separate fund, and placed to the credit of the respective state normal school. The treasurer of the state board of education shall pay out such funds only on proper warrant issued by the state auditor, on requisition signed by the secretary of the state board of education.

The state board of education shall prescribe how the funds for each normal school shall be received by the respective board of trustees, and how the same shall be paid out. (1921, c. 61, s. 6.)

§ 5774. State superintendent prepares annual budget.—The superintendent of public instruction shall in each even year prepare, in coöperation with the respective principal and board of trustees for each state normal school under the supervision of the state board of education, a budget setting forth the financial needs of each school for the succeeding two fiscal years, giving separately the requirements:

(a) For permanent improvements;
(b) For operation and maintenance of plant;
(c) For administration and supervision;
(d) For teachers' salaries.

And shall include these respective budgets in his biennial state school budget submitted to the general assembly. (1921, c. 61, s. 7.)

§ 5775. State board of education to control and manage negro normal schools.—The state board of education shall have supervision, and shall prescribe rules and regulations for the control, management, and enlargement of each of the following normal schools: the Elizabeth City state normal school, Elizabeth City; Fayetteville state normal school, Fayetteville; Slater state normal school, Winston-Salem.

The state board of education shall make all needful rules and regulations concerning the expenditure of funds, the selection of principals, teachers, and employees.

The state board of education, in its judgment, may organize the schools mentioned in this section on the same plane as that provided for the organization of the normal schools designated in section 5768; or it may change the organization to suit conditions: Provided, the needs of the school and the funds appropriated demand such a change. (1921, c. 61, s. 8; 1925, c. 306, s. 9; 1931, c. 276, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By the Public Laws of 1925 the words "and concerning the selection of members of the board of trustees" were stricken from the second paragraph of this section, to conform with section 5775(a).

A provision of the Act of 1931 struck out the words "Cherokee Indian State normal school, Pembroke" formerly appearing at the end of the first paragraph of this section. The Act then provided that, notwithstanding such provision "the State Board of Education shall make all needful rules and regulations concerning the expenditure of funds, the selection of principals, teachers and employees of said Cherokee Indian State Normal School. The State Board of Education shall control and supervise said school to the same extent substantially as that provided for the organization, control and supervision of the white normal and training schools; and it may change the organization to suit conditions in so far as the needs of the school and the funds appropriated demand such change."

§ 5775(a). Trustees for certain normal schools.—The Governor shall appoint for each of the following institutions: The Elizabeth City State Normal School at Elizabeth City; the Fayetteville State Normal School at Fayetteville; Cherokee Indian Normal School at Pembroke; State Teachers' College for Negroes at Winston-Salem, nine (9) trustees, five of whom shall be appointed within thirty days from March 10, 1925. At the time of making such appointment the Governor shall name which of the present boards are to be succeeded by his appointees. The terms of the said trustees shall be four years from the date of their appointment. The Governor shall fill all vacancies. The Governor shall transmit to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly following his appointment the names of persons appointed by him for confirmation. (1925, c. 306, s. 9.)

Editor's Note.—For removal of the officers provided for in this section, see section 5912(h).

§ 5775 (b). Appointment to Cherokee Indian Normal School; repeal of laws.—The Governor in making the appointment of Trustees for Cherokee Indian Normal School at Pembroke, shall not be limited or affected by any law enacted prior to the tenth day of March, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, relating to or prescribing qualifications of such Trustees, but such Trustees shall be such as the Governor shall determine, after such inquiry and consideration as he may desire to make, to be fit, competent and proper for the discharge of all the duties that shall devolve upon them as such Trustees. All laws enacted prior to the tenth day of March, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, prescribing qualifications or making limitations in reference to such appointments be and the same are hereby repealed; Provided, that from and after April first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, the Board of Trustees for the Cherokee Indian Normal School at Pembroke shall consist of eleven members. (1929, c. 238; 1931, c. 275.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the proviso to this section.

SUBCHAPTER XIV. RURAL RECREATION

Art. 42. School Extension Work

§ 5776. Moving pictures for rural communities; cost.—It shall be the duty of the state superintendent of public instruction to provide for a series of rural entertainments, varying in number and cost and consisting of moving pictures selected for their entertaining and educational value, which entertainments may be given in the rural schoolhouses of the state as herein provided. The cost of such entertainment shall be borne one-third by the state and two-thirds by the county board of education or the rural school community desiring said entertainment. (C. S. 5629.) (1917, c. 186, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 5777. State superintendent to supply information and provide for entertainments; community deposit.—It shall be the duty of the state superintendent of public instruction to inform the various county boards of education of the number, character, and cost of the entertainments provided by him under the provisions of this article; and upon application of any county board of education, agreeing to pay two-thirds of the cost of any such entertainments, it shall be the duty of the state superintendent of public instruction to provide for the giving of such entertainments in the rural schoolhouse or houses designated in the application. Any rural school community shall be entitled to the benefits of this article by depositing with its county board of education two-thirds of the cost of entertainments desired, and in all cases it shall be the duty of the county board of education receiving such deposits to make immediate application to the state superintendent of public instruction as herein provided. (C. S. 5630.) (1917, c. 186, s. 3.)

§ 5778. Health and agricultural authorities to coöperate. — The state board of health and the commissioner of agriculture are hereby authorized and directed to coöperate with the state superintendent of public instruction in arranging for the entertainments provided for by this article, to the end that the entertainment may, if it is deemed advisable, include the subjects of public health and agriculture. (C. S. 5631.) (1917, c. 186, s. 4.)

SUBCHAPTER XV. HEALTH

Art. 3. Physical Examinations of Pupils

§ 5779. State board of health and state superintendent to make rules for physical examination.—It shall be the duty of the state board of health and the state superintendent of public instruction to prepare and distribute to the teachers in all public schools of the state instructions and rules and regulations for the physical examination of pupils attending the public schools. (C. S. 5747.) (1919, c. 192, s. 1.)

§ 5780. Teachers to make examinations; state covered every three years.—Upon receipt of such instructions, rules and regulations, it shall be the duty of every teacher in the public schools to make a physical examination of every child attending the school and enter on cards and official forms furnished by the state board of health a record of such examination. The examination shall be made at the time directed by the state board of health and the state superintendent of public instruction, but every child shall be examined at least once every three years. The state board of health and the state superintendent of public instruction shall so arrange the work as to cover the entire state once every three years. (C. S. 5748.) (1919, c. 192, s. 2.)

§ 5780(a). Record cards transmitted to state board of health; punishment for failure.—The teacher shall transmit the record cards and other blank forms made by him or her to the North Carolina state board of health, and if any teacher fails within sixty days, after receiving the aforesaid forms and requests for examination and report, to make such examination and report as herein provided, the teacher shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars or thirty days in prison. (C. S. 5749.) (1919, c. 192, s. 3.)

§ 5780(b). Disposition of records; reexamination of pupils.—The North Carolina state board of health shall have the records filed by the teacher carefully studied and classified, and shall notify the parent or guardian of every child whose card shows a serious physical defect to bring such child before an agent of the state board of health on some day designated by the state board of health between the hours of nine a. m. and five p. m. for the purpose of having said child thoroughly examined; and if, upon receipt of such notice, any parent or guardian shall fail or refuse to bring said child before the agent of the state board of health without good cause shown, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days: Provided, that the distance the child must be carried shall not exceed ten miles.

No pupil or minor shall be compelled to submit to medical examination or treatment whose parent or guardian objects to the same. Such objection may be made by a written and signed statement delivered to the pupil's teacher or to any person who might conduct such examination or treatment in the absence of such objection. (C. S. 5750.) (1919, c. 192, s. 4.)

§ 5780(c). Treatment of pupils, expenses.—Within thirty days after the completion of the examination of the children by the agent of the state board of health and after written statement of the proper authority hereinafter designated, a sum not exceeding ten dollars per hundred children enrolled in the county or city shall be paid to the state board of health to be used exclusively for the purpose of treating school children for defects other than dental, the same to be paid by the county commissioners of the county, and in cities or towns having a separate school system, to be of aldermen, or city commissioners. Any funds paid by the city manager, city council, city board so paid and not needed in enforcing the provisions of this article shall be returned to the county or city from which it was received. (C. S. 5751.) (1919, c. 192, s. 5.)

§ 5780(d). Free dental treatment; appropriation.—For the purpose of providing free dental treatment for as many children as possible each year, and to aid the state board of health in making the examinations as provided for in this article, a special appropriation not to exceed fifty thousand dollars per annum shall be set aside from the state public school fund, and shall be paid by the treasurer of the state of North Carolina on properly signed requisition forms to the treasurer of North Carolina state board of health. (C. S. 5752.) (1919, c. 102, s. 14; c. 192, s. 6.)

SUBCHAPTER XVI. STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO LICENSE CERTAIN INSTITUTIONS

Art. 44. State Board of Education to Regulate Degrees

§ 5780(e). Right to confer degrees restricted.—No educational institution hereafter created or established by any person, firm, or corporation in this state shall have power or authority to confer degrees upon any person except as herein provided. (C. S. 5398.) (1923, c. 136, s. 358.)

§ 5780(f). Powers to grant license to confer degrees.—The state board of education is authorized to issue its license to confer degrees in such form as it may prescribe to any educational institution hereafter established by any person, firm, or corporation in this state; but no educational institution hereafter established in the state shall be empowered to confer degrees unless it has income sufficient to maintain adequate faculty and equipment sufficient to provide adequate means of instruction in the arts and sciences, and unless its baccalaureate degree is conferred only upon students who have completed a four-year college course, preceded by the usual four-year high school course, or their equivalent. (C. S. 5400.) (1923, c. 136, s. 359.)

§ 5780(g). Inspection of institutions; revocation of license.—All institutions chartered under this article shall file such information with the state superintendent of public instruction as the state board of education may direct, and it shall have full authority to send an expert to visit any institution applying for a license to confer degrees under this article. And if any one of them shall fail to keep up the required standard the state board of education shall revoke the license to confer degrees, subject to a right of review of this decision by the judge of the superior court upon action instituted by the educational institution whose license had been revoked. (C. S. 5401.) (1923, c. 136, s. 360.)

Art. 45. Licensing of Commercial Schools

§ 5780(h). Licenses for commercial schools.—Before any business college or commercial school shall receive or solicit students, or open any business school for the purpose of giving instruction in this state, said school or college shall first secure a license from the state board of education to the effect that it has complied with the requirements of this article, which license shall be issued by the state board of education upon payment of an annual fee of ten dollars. (C. S. 5775.) (1923, c. 136, s. 361.)

§ 5780(i). Report to be filed before license.—Before any such business college or commercial school shall be entitled to receive such license it shall file with the state board of education a report setting forth:

1. That it is the owner or lessee of suitable building or rooms for the conduct of its work.

2. That it has acquired suitable equipment for the courses given by the school.

3. That the said school has secured a faculty of teachers whose training has not been less than that required of teachers engaged in similar work in public schools of the state.

4. That said school or college has adopted an approved course of study which includes at least the following subjects: bookkeeping, commercial law, commercial arithmetic, English, commercial correspondence, business writing, shorthand and typewriting.

5. The owner and manager of such school or college shall further file a certificate signed by the county superintendent of public instruction and the chairman of the county board of education of the county in which the school is situated, to the effect that the owner or manager of such school or college, after investigation, has shown satisfactory evidence of his or her efficiency and good moral character for fair and honest dealings with their students and the public. (C. S. 5776.) (1923, c. 136, s. 362.)

§ 5780(j). Advertising literature to be filed.—The institutions securing license under this article shall file with the state board of education copies of all advertising literature, including catalogue, pamphlets, circulars, etc., and an annual report on or before the first day of July of each year. (C. S. 5777.) (1923, c. 136, s. 363.)

§ 5780(k). Conducting school without license misdemeanor.—Any person who shall open or conduct any business college or commercial school within this state without having first procured the license herein provided for shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (C. S. 5778.) (1923, c. 136, s. 364.)

§ 5780(l). Blanks for reports and licenses; disposition of license tax.—The superintendent of public instruction is authorized to furnish all necessary blanks for reports and licenses provided for under the provisions of this article, and all funds received from the license tax herein provided for shall be paid to the state treasurer and shall be credited to the state public school fund. (C. S. 5779.) (1923, c. 137, s. 365.)

§ 5780(m). Application of article.—The provisions of this article shall apply to all existing chartered business colleges and commercial schools and all other business colleges and commercial schools now conducted or to be hereafter conducted in this state. (C. S. 5780.) (1923, c. 137, s. 366.)

SUBCHAPTER XVIA. STATE BOARD OF COMMERCIAL EDUCATION

Art. 45A. Requirement of Permit Bond

§ 5780(m1). Commercial college or business school defined.—A commercial college or business school shall be defined as follows: Any partnership, association of persons, or any corporation which teaches, publicly, for compensation, any or all the branches of accounting, bookkeeping, stenotype, stenography, typing, telegraphy, and other commercial subjects which are usually taught in commercial colleges or business schools. (1935, c. 255, s. 1.)

§ 5780(m2). Securing permit before operating. —Any person, partnership, association of persons, or any corporation which may desire to open a commercial college or to establish a branch college or school in this State for the purpose of teaching bookkeeping, stenography, stenotype, typing, telegraphy, and other courses which are usually taught in commercial colleges, before commencing business, must secure a permit from the state board of commercial education of the State of North Carolina authorizing such persons, partnership, association of persons or corporation to open and conduct such commercial college or branch college or school. (1935, c. 255, s. 2.)

§ 5780(m3). State board of commercial education created; membership. — The state board of commercial education shall consist of the director of the division of instructional service, the director of the division of vocational education, and the owner and operator of an accredited business or commercial school that has been in operation within the state for five years, and the state superintendent of education, who having no vote, will be chairman of the board and ex-officio secretary. The member who is a commercial school owner or operator shall be appointed by the governor and shall serve for three years or until his successor has been appointed and taken office. (1935, c. 255, s. 2.)

§ 5780(m4). Application for permit; investigation by county superintendent of schools; fees.— Application for such permit to open and conduct a business school shall state specifically the name of such person, partnership or corporation, and said application shall be filed with the county superintendent of schools of the county in which the proposed commercial college or school is to operate. If, after due investigation on the part of the county superintendent of schools, it has been shown by satisfactory evidence of the applicant's efficiency and good moral character for fair and honest dealings with their students and with the public, then the county superintendent of schools shall endorse his approval of the application and forward it to the state board of commercial education at Raleigh for action thereon. Before such permit shall be issued, the applicant shall pay to the state board of commercial education a fee of ten ($10) dollars as a minimum, and twenty-five ($25) dollars as a maximum, the amount needed being left to the discretion of the board of commercial education, which fee shall be paid annually on the first day of July to the said board so long as said school shall continue to operate. Said fees shall be used for office and traveling expenses by said board or its authorized representatives for investigating applications for conducting commercial schools and also complaints against such schools, and the secretary of the board shall keep an account of all moneys received and disbursed which account shall be open at all times to inspection by all persons operating commercial schools and licensed by said board. (1935, c. 255, s. 3.)

§ 5780(m5). Execution of bond required; filing and recording.—Before the board of commercial education shall issue such permit, the person, partnership, association of persons, or corporation shall execute a bond in the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, signed by a solvent guaranty company authorized to do business in the State of North Carolina, payable to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such college, branch college, or school will be located and conduct its business, conditioned that the principal in said bond will carry out and comply with each and all contracts, made and entered into by said college or branch college or school, acting by and through its officers and agents, with any student who desires to enter such college and to take any course in commercial training, and to pay back to such student all amounts collected for tuition and fees in case of failure on the part of the parties obtaining a permit from the board of commercial education to open and conduct a commercial college, or branch college or school, to comply with its contracts to give the instructions contracted for, and for the full period evidenced by such contract. Such bond shall be filed with the clerk of superior court of the county in which the college or branch or school executing the bond is located, and recorded by such clerk in a book provided for that purpose. (1935, c. 255, s. 4.)

§ 5780(m6). Right of action upon bond in event of breach; revocation of permit; board generally to supervise schools.—In any and all cases where the party receiving the permit from the board of commercial education fails to comply with any contract made and entered into with any student or with the parents or guardian shall have a cause of action against the sureties on the bond as herein provided for the full amount of the payments made to such person, with six (6) per cent interest from the date of payment of said amount. For a proven violation of its contracts with its students, the board of commercial education is authorized to revoke the license issued to the offending school. Through periodic reports required of licensed commercial schools and by inspections made by the members of the board of commercial education or its authorized representatives, the board of commercial education shall have general supervision over commercial schools of the State, the object of said supervision being to protect the public welfare by having the licensed commercial schools to maintain proper school quarters, equipment and teaching forces and of having the school carry out its advertised promises and its contracts made with its students and patrons. (1935, c. 255, s. 5.)

§ 5780(m7). Operating school without permit made misdemeanor.—Any person, or each member of any partnership, or each member of any association of persons, or each officer of any corporation which opens and conducts a commercial college or branch college or school without first having obtained the permit required in section 5780(m2), and without first having executed the bond required in section 5780(m5), shall be guilty of misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred ($100.00) dollars, nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars, and each day said college continues to be open and operated shall constitute a separate offense. (1935, c. 255, s. 6.)

visions of this article shall not apply to any established university, commercial college, college, regular high school or any state institution which has heretofore adopted or which may hereafter adopt one or more commercial courses, provided the tuition fees and charges, if any, made by such university, commercial college, college, or regular high school shall be collected by their regular officers in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed by the proprietors or by the board of trustees of such university, commercial college, college, or high school. (1935, c. 255, s. 7.)

§ 5780(m9). Application of article to non-residents, etc.—All persons, partnerships, associations of persons, which are non-residents of North Carolina, or corporations organized and chartered under the laws of any other state must comply with the provisions of this article before such can open and conduct a commercial college or branch college, or school in the State of North Carolina. (1935, c. 255, s. 8.)

SUBCHAPTER XVII. OBSERVANCE OF SPECIAL DAYS

Art. 46. Special Days to be Observed in Public Schools

§ 5780(n). North Carolina Day. — The twelfth day of October in each and every year, to be called "North Carolina Day." may be devoted, by appropriate exercises in the public schools of the state, to the consideration of some topic or topics of our state history, to be selected by the superintendent of public instruction: Provided, that if the said day shall fall on Saturday or Sunday, then the celebration shall occur on the Monday next following: Provided, further, that if the said day shall fall at a time when any such schools may not be in session, the celebration may be held within one month from the beginning of the term, unless the superintendent of public instruction shall designate some other time. (1923, c. 136, s. 367.)

§ 5780(o). Temperance or Law and Order Day. —There shall be one day in each scholastic year of the public high schools of the state of North Carolina, to be known as Temperance or Law and Order Day, and that the fourth Friday in January in each year, or some other day to be set by the superintendent of public instruction to suit local conditions, is hereby designated as Temperance or Law and Order Day. This day shall be observed as such in each public and high school of the state, or if preferred, in each subdivision thereof. The state superintendent of public instruction shall have prepared and furnished in due time to every teacher of said public and high school for the state a suitable program to be used on said Temperance or Law and Order Day.

The state superintendent of public instruction may have prepared and furnished to the teachers in the public and high schools placards printed in large type which shall set forth in attractive style statistics, epigrams, mottoes and up-to-date scientific truths showing the evils of intemperance and lawlessness.

When placards are distributed it shall be the duty of every teacher in the state, paid entirely or in part out of the public funds, to keep posted in a conspicuous place in the schoolroom occupied by said teacher one of said placards. (1923, c. 136, s. 368.)

§ 5780(p). Arbor Day.—Friday following the fifteenth day of March of each year shall be known as Arbor Day, to be appropriately observed by the public schools of the state. The superintendent of public instruction shall issue each year a program for its observance by the school children of the state in order that they may be taught to appreciate the true value of trees and forests to their State. The superintendent of public instruction is authorized to provide a suitable program and plan of instruction to county school officials under his charge for the appropriate observance of this day. (1923, c. 136, s. 369; 1927, c. 73.)

§ 5780(q). Other Days.—The superintendent of public instruction is hereby authorized to provide suitable material for the proper observance in schools of the birthday of Washington, Lee, Jackson, Armistice Day, Memorial Day, and such other days as may be deemed of educational and patriotic value not only to the children but to the citizens of the state. All literature necessary for the proper observance of the days specified in this article shall be prepared by the superintendent of public instruction and printed at the expense of the state. (1923, c. 136, s. 370.)

§ 5780(r). Combined programs.—The state superintendent of public instruction may fix a later or an earlier date for the observance of any special day the observance of which is required for a specific date if it shall appear to him to be more convenient; and he may combine the programs required to be issued in the foregoing sections so as to require the observance of any two or more of the special days at the same time. (1923, c. 136, s. 371.)

SUBCHAPTER XVIII. SCHOOL LAW OF 1933

§§ 5780(1)-5780(40). Superseded by Public Laws of 1935 c. 455, codified as §§ 5780(41)-5780(83).

SUBCHAPTER XIX. SCHOOL LAW OF 1935

§ 5780(41). Biennial appropriation for eight months term.—The appropriation made under title nine of "an act to make appropriations for the maintenance of the state's departments, bureaus, institutions, and agencies, and for other purposes" of the sum of twenty million thirty-one thousand ($20,031,000) dollars "for the support of the eight-months' term public schools" for the year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, and the sum of twenty million nine hundred thousand ($20,900,000) dollars "for the support of the eight months' term public schools" for the year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, shall be apportioned for the operation of an eight-months' state-wide school term as hereinafter provided. (1935, c. 455, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The case treated below was decided under what formerly constituted section 5780(1). However, it seems applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 5780(1) are substantially set forth in this section.

Nothing in this section or those following militate against the authority of a county to issue without a vote bonds for sanitary improvements of its schoolhouses necessary to maintain the constitutional school term. See §§ 1334(8), 5475. Taylor v. Board of Education, 206 N. C. 263, 173 S. E. 608.

§ 5780(42). State School Commission membership; appointment; term of office and compensation; powers and duties; executive secretary; cost and expenses.—The state school commission shall be constituted as follows: The lieutenant-governor as ex-officio chairman, the state superintendent of public instruction as vice-chairman, the state treasurer, and one member from each congressional district to be appointed by the governor. The said appointive members shall serve for a period of two years from the time of their appointment and receive such compensation as now provided by law. All the powers and duties heretofore conferred by law upon the state board of equalization, and the state school commission, together with such other powers and duties as may be conferred by this subchapter, shall be vested in the state school commission. The said school commission may appoint an executive secretary who shall select other employees necessary for the proper administration of this subchapter, to be approved by the state school commission, subject to provisions of chapter two hundred seventy-seven, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one [§§ 7521(k)-7521(y)]. The cost and expense of said commission shall be paid out of the appropriation made for the public schools as provided in section 5780(41). (1935, c. 455, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The following cases were decided under what formerly constituted section 5780(2). However, they seem applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 5780(2) are substantially set forth in this section.

The purpose of this act is to promote efficiency in the organization and economy in the administration of the public schools, and to provide for the operation of a uniform system of schools for the entire State. This signifies that the State has adopted a policy of supporting its public schools and has consequently in part modified and in part abolished the former system. Evans v. Mecklenburg County, 205 N. C. 560, 563, 172 S. E. 323.

Other Statutes Are Subordinate to This Act.—This section and those following, including the clause which repeals all conflicting public, public-local, and private laws, indicate a legislative intent to annul or to subordinate to the new law all statutes relating to the public schools which were in effect at the time of its enactment and to establish a uniform system under which all the public schools of the State shall be conducted. Evans v. Mecklenburg County, 205 N. C. 560, 563, 172 S. E. 323.

§ 5780(43). Administration of funds for eight months' term. — In addition to the duties and powers vested in the state school commission as set out in section 5780(42), together with such other powers as may be conferred by law, it shall be the duty of the said commission, in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter, to administer funds for the operation of the schools of the State for one hundred sixty days on standards to be determined by said commission and within the total appropriation made available by the general assembly. (1935, c. 455, s. 3.)

§ 5780(44). Length of term; discontinuance for low average attendance; opening dates; re-allocation of appropriation not used.—The six months' school term required by article nine of the Constitution is hereby extended to embrace a total of one hundred sixty days of school in order that there shall be operated in every county and district in the State, which shall request the same, a uniform term of eight months: Provided, that the state school commission, or the governing body of any administrative unit, may suspend the operation of any school or schools in such unit, not to exceed a period of forty days of said consolidated term, when in the sound judgment of said commission, or the governing body of any administrative unit, the low average in any school does not justify its continuance, or necessity may require it: Provided, that all schools served by the same school bus or busses shall have the same opening date. Provided further, that any balance of the State funds which may have been allocated to operate the said consolidated term not actually operated as planned, shall be and remain in the state treasury and become a part of the state school fund for the next succeeding year. (1935, c. 455, s. 4.)

§ 5780(45). "School month" defined; salaries of teachers, etc., payable monthly.—A school month shall consist of four weeks and not less than twenty teaching days, no day of which shall be a Saturday, unless in case of emergency, and subject to the approval of the local committee; and salary warrants for the payment of all state teachers, principals, and others employed for the school term shall be issued each school month to such persons as are entitled to same. The salaries of superintendents and others employed on an annual basis shall be paid per calendar month. (1935, c. 455, s. 4.)

§ 5780(46). Counties as administrative units; minimum number of pupils for establishing schools; city administrative units; consolidation of units.—The state school commission, in making provision for the operation of the schools, shall classify each county as an administrative unit and shall, with the advice of the county board of education, make a careful study of the existing district organization in each county administrative unit and may modify such district organization when deemed necessary for the economical administration and operation of the state school system and shall determine whether there shall be operated in such district an elementary or a union school. Provisions shall not be made for a high school with an average daily attendance of less than sixty pupils, nor an elementary school with an average daily attendance of less than twenty-five pupils, unless geographic conditions make it impracticable to provide for them otherwise.

Any district having a school population of one thousand or more for the school year one thousand nine hundred thirty-four—one thousand nine hundred thirty-five in which a special charter district was operated for the school year one thousand nine hundred thirty-two — one thousand nine hundred thirty-three may, with the approval of the state school commission, be classified as a city administrative unit, and, together with such city administrative units as now constituted, shall be dealt with by the state school authorities in all matters of school administration in the same way and manner as are county administrative units: Provided, that in all city administrative units as now constituted, or which may hereafter be established by the said school commission, the trustees of the said special charter district, and their duly elected successors, shall be retained as the governing body of such district; and the title to all property of the said special charter district shall remain with such trustees, or their successors: Provided, that nothing in this subchapter shall prevent city administrative units, as now established or which hereafter may be set up, from consolidating with the county administrative unit in which such city administrative unit is located, upon petition of the trustees of the said city administrative unit and the approval of the county board of education and the county board of commissioners in said county: Provided, further, that in the event of such consolidation, all property vested in the trustees of such city administrative units shall be transferred to and become the property of the county board of education in said county: Provided, further, that nothing in this subchapter shall affect the right of any special charter district, or special tax district which now exists for the purpose of retiring debt service, to have the indebtedness of such district taken over by the county as provided by existing law, and nothing herein shall be construed to restrict the county board of education and/or the board of county commissioners in causing such indebtedness to be assumed by the county as provided by existing law. Provided, that nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to prevent the state school commission from establishing a city administrative unit in school districts which have a resort town in said district: Provided, said district had a school enrollment of not less than eight hundred fifty for the school year one thousand nine hundred thirty-four—one thousand nine hundred thirty-five. (1935, c. 455, c. 5.)

Editor's Note.—The following cases were decided under what formerly constituted section 5780(4), which provided for the abolition of special school districts. These cases are made available to the practitioner as an aid in construing the present law, but they must be read in the light of the former law.

Use of Unexpended Fund by New District.—Where, at the time of the abolition of the old district and the creation of the new, under this section, there is an unexpended sum in the fund created by the tax to supplement the school term, the new district, as successor to the old, has authority to expend the fund for the purpose of supplementing the six-months school term of the district, that being the purpose for which the tax providing the fund was levied, and this result is not affected by the provisions of § 5780(7), which requires certain funds to be placed in the debt service fund, this section applying only to funds collected from designated sources subsequent to the effective date of the statute, and not to funds on hand at the time of the creation of the new district. Board of Education v. Burgin, 206 N. C. 421, 174 S. E. 286.

Does Not Affect Policy under § 5599.—This section does not alter the policy that under the provisions of § 5599 a county may include in its debt service fund in its budget the indebtedness lawfully incurred by any of its school districts. See annotations to § 5599. Hickory v. Catawba County, 206 N. C. 165, 173 S. E. 56.

§ 5780(47). Administrative officers of school units; superintendents; selection of principals, teachers and other employees in city units.—The administrative officer in each of the units designated by the state school commission shall be a county superintendent of schools for a county administrative unit and a city superintendent of schools for a city administrative unit. The salaries of county superintendents and city superintendents shall be in accordance with a State standard salary schedule to be fixed and determined by the state board of education and the state school commission as provided for in section 5780(55): Provided, that it shall be lawful for the county superintendent of schools in any county, with the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction, to serve as principal of a high school of said county; and the sum of not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300.00), to be paid from State instructional service funds, may be added to his salary and shall be included in the budget approved by the state school commission: Provided, further, that a county superintendent may also be elected and serve as a city superintendent in any city administrative unit in the county which he serves as county superintendent: Provided further, that a county superintendent may serve as welfare officer and have such additional compensation as may be allowed by the county commissioners of such county, to be paid from county funds, subject to the approval of the state school commission.

At a meeting to be held the first Monday in May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, or as soon thereafter as practical, and biennially thereafter during the month of May, the various county boards of education shall meet and elect a county superintendent of schools, subject to the approval of the state superintendent of public instruction and the state school commission, who shall take office July first and shall serve for a period of two years, or until his successor is elected and qualified. A certification to the county board of education by the state superintendent of public instruction showing that the person proposed for the office of county superintendent of schools is a graduate of a four-year standard college, or at the present time holds a superintendent's certificate, and has had three years' experience in school work in the past ten years, together with a doctor's certificate showing the person to be free from any contagious disease, shall make any citizen of the State eligible for this office.

In all city administrative units, the superintendent of schools shall be elected by the board of trustees, or other school governing agency of such unit, to serve for a period of two years; and the qualifications, approval, and date of election shall be the same as for county superintendents. The city superintendent is hereby made ex-officio secretary to the governing body of said city administrative unit.

At its first regular meeting in April, or as soon thereafter as practicable, the board of trustees, or other governing board of a city administrative unit, shall elect principals, teachers, and other necessary employees of the schools within said unit on the recommendation of the city superintendent. (1935, c. 455, s. 6.)

§ 5780(48). School district committees; advisory boards.—At the first regular meeting during the month of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, or as soon thereafter as practical, and biennially thereafter, the county boards of education shall elect and appoint school committees for each of the several districts in their counties consisting of not less than three nor more than five persons for each school district, whose term of office shall be for two years: Provided, that in the event of death or resignation of any member of said school committee, the county board of education shall be empowered to select and appoint his or her successor to serve the remainder of the term. The said district committee shall select the teachers and principals for the schools of the districts subject to the approval of the county superintendent and the county boards of education: Provided further, that the county board of education may appoint an advisory committee of three members for each school building in the said school district, who shall care for the school property, advise with the district committee in recommending teachers, and such other duties as may be defined by the county board of education. (1935, c. 455, c. 7.)

§ 5780(49). Organization statement and allotment of teachers.—On or before the twentieth day of May in each year, the several administrative officers shall present to the state school commission a certified statement showing the organization of the schools in their respective units, together with such other information as said commission may require. The organization statement as filed for each administrative unit shall indicate the length of term the State is requested to operate the various schools for the following school year, and the State shall base its allotment of funds upon such request. On the basis of such organization statement, together with all other available information, and under such rules and regulations as the state school commission may promulgate, the state school commission shall determine for each administrative unit, by districts and races, the number of elementary and high school teachers to be included in the state budget.

It shall be the duty of the governing body in each administrative unit, after the opening of the schools in said unit, to make a careful check of the school organization and to request the state school commission to make changes in the allocation of teachers to meet requirements of the said unit. (1935, c. 455, s. 8.)

§ 5780(50). Items of school expenditures.—The appropriation of state funds, as provided under the provisions of this subchapter, shall be used for meeting the costs of the operation of the public schools, as determined by the state school commission, for the following items:

1. General control
   a. Salaries of superintendents
   b. Travel of superintendents
   c. Salaries of clerical assistants for superintendents
   d. Office expense of superintendents
   e. Per diem county boards of education in the sum of one hundred dollars to each county
   f. Audit of school funds
2. Instructional service
   a. Salaries for white teachers, both elementary and high school
   b. Salaries for colored teachers, both elementary and high school
   c. Salaries of white principals
   d. Salaries of colored principals
   e. Instructional supplies
3. Operation of plant
   a. Wages of janitors
   b. Fuel
   c. Water, light and power
   d. Janitors' supplies
   e. Telephone expense
4. Auxiliary agencies
   a. Transportation
      (1) Drivers; and contracts
      (2) Gas, oil, and grease
      (3) Mechanics
      (4) Parts, tires, and tubes
      (5) Replacement busses
      (6) Compensation for injuries and/or death of school children as now provided by law
   b. Libraries

In alloting funds for the items of expenditure hereinbefore enumerated, provision shall be made for a school term of only one hundred sixty days, and for those employees, only, who are paid wholly or in part from State funds, in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter. (1935, c. 455, s. 9.)

§ 5780(51). Effecting economies; increase or decrease in salary schedule. — The state school commission shall effect all economies possible in providing state funds for the objects of general control, operation of plant, and auxiliary agencies, and after such action shall have authority to increase or decrease on a uniform percentage basis the salary schedule of teachers, principals, and superintendents in order that the appropriation of State funds for the public schools may insure their operation for the length of term provided in this subchapter. (1935, c. 455, s. 9.)

§ 5780(52). Taxes permitted; expenditure for maintenance of plant and fixed charges.—It shall be unlawful for any ad valorem taxes to be levied for the operation of the public school term except as hereinafter provided.

The objects of expenditure designated as maintenance of plant and fixed charges shall be supplied from funds required by law to be placed to the credit of the public school fund of the county and derived from fines, forfeitures, penalties, dog taxes, and poll taxes, and from all other sources except state funds: Provided, that when necessity shall be shown, the state school commission may approve the use of such funds in any administrative unit to supplement any object or item of the current expense budget; and in such cases, the tax levying authorities of the county administrative unit shall make a sufficient tax levy to provide the necessary funds for maintenance of plant, fixed charges, and capital outlay: Provided, further, that the tax levying authorities in any county administrative unit, with the approval of the state school commission, may levy taxes to provide necessary funds for teaching vocational agriculture and home economics and trades and industrial vocational subjects supported in part from federal vocational education funds: Provided, that nothing in this subchapter shall prevent the use of federal and/or privately donated funds which may be made available for the operation of the public schools under such regulations as the state board of education may provide. (1935, c. 455, s. 9.)

§ 5780(53). State budget estimate. — The state budget estimate shall be determined by the state school commission for each county and city administrative unit by ascertaining the sum of the objects of expenditure according to and within the limits fixed by this subchapter, and within the meaning of the rules and regulations promulgated by the state school commission; and the certification of same shall be made to each county superintendent, city superintendent, and the state superintendent of public instruction on or before June first of each year. (1935, c. 455, s. 10.)

§ 5780(54). Salary costs.—Upon receipt of notice from the state school commission of the total number of teachers, by races and for county and city administrative units separately, the state superintendent of public instruction shall then determine, in accordance with the schedule of salaries established, the total salary cost in each and every administrative unit, for teachers, principals, and superintendents to be included in the state budget for the next succeeding fiscal year for the consolidated school term as herein defined. This amount, as determined from a check of the costs for the preceding year with adjustments resulting from changes in the allotment of teachers, shall be certified to the state school commission, together with the number of elementary and high school teachers and principals employed in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter, separately by races, and for city and county administrative units. (1935, c. 455, s. 11.)

§ 5780(55). Standard salary schedule to be fixed; summer school requirement suspended.—The state board of education and the state school commission shall fix and determine a state standard salary schedule for teachers, principals, and superintendents, which shall be the maximum standard state salaries to be paid from state funds to the teachers, principals, and superintendents; and all contracts with teachers and principals shall be made locally by the county boards of education and/or the governing authorities of city administrative units, giving due consideration to the peculiar conditions surrounding each employment, the competency and experience of the teacher or principal, the amount and character of work to be done, and any and all other things which might enter into the contract of employment, and shall also take into consideration the grade of certificate such teacher or principal holds: Provided, however, that the compensation contracted to be paid out of the state funds to any teacher or principal shall be within the maximum salary limit to be fixed by the state board of education and the state school commission, as above provided, and within the allotment of funds as made to the administrative unit for the item of instructional salaries: Provided, further, that no teacher or principal shall be required to attend summer school during the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred thirty-six, and the certificate of such teacher or principal as may have been required to attend such school shall not lapse but shall remain in full force and effect, and all credits earned by summer school and/or completing extension course or courses shall not be impaired but shall continue in full force and effect. (1935, c. 455, s. 12.)

§ 5780(56). Notice to teachers, etc., failing of re-election.—It shall be the duty of the county boards of education and/or the governing bodies of city administrative units to cause written notice to be given to teachers, principals, and superintendents, within thirty days after the close of the school term, who have not been re-elected for the ensuing school term: Provided, that such notice shall not be required to be given in the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five except within thirty days after the election of the district committees provided for in section 5780(48). (1935, c. 455, s. 12.)

§ 5780(57). No rule as to marriage enforced. —In the employment of teachers, no rule shall be made or enforced on the ground of marriage or non-marriage. (1935, c. 455, s. 12.)

§ 5780(58). Principals allowed.—In all schools with fewer than fifty teachers allowed under the provision of this subchapter, the principal shall be included in the number of teachers allowed. In schools with fifty or more teachers, one whole-time principal shall be allowed; and for each forty teachers in addition to the first fifty, one additional whole-time principal, when and if actually employed, shall be allowed: Provided, that in the allocation of state funds for principals, the salary of white principals shall be determined by the number of white teachers employed in the white schools; and the salary of colored principals shall be determined by the number of colored teachers employed in the colored schools. (1935, c. 455, s. 13.)

§ 5780(59). Local supplements. — The county board of education in any county administrative unit and the school governing board in any city administrative unit, with the approval of the tax levying authorities in said county or city administrative unit and the state school commission, in order to operate the schools of a higher standard than that provided by state support, but in no event to provide for a term of more than one hundred eighty days, may supplement any object or item of school expenditure: Provided, that before making any levy for supplementing state budget allotments, an election shall be held in each administrative unit to determine whether there shall be levied a tax to provide said supplemental funds, and to determine the maximum rate which may be levied therefor. Upon the request of the county board of education in a county administrative unit and/or the school governing authorities in a city administrative unit, the tax levying authorities of such unit shall provide for an election to be held under laws governing such elections as set forth in Articles XXIII, XXIV and XXVI of chapter ninety-five of the Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina, Volume Three: Provided, that the rate voted shall remain the maximum until revoked or changed by another election. (1935, c. 455, s. 14.)

Editor's Note.—The following cases were decided under what formerly constituted section 5780(21). However, they seem applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 5780(21) are substantially set forth in this section.

Enjoining Collection of Special Tax. — Where the city school administrative unit as provided by this section, was not set up until after 15 June, 1933, and on 30 June, it filed written request with the board of commissioners of the city for an election to vote on a proposed special supplementary school tax in the city, and notice of the registration and election were published substantially as required by law, the collection of the special tax voted for at the election will not be enjoined for failure of the administrative unit to file the written request for the election on or before 15 June, it appearing that the machinery for the election was commenced within a reasonable time under the facts and circumstances of the case. Forester v. North Wilkesboro, 206 N. C. 347, 174 S. E. 112.

Applied in Freeman v. Charlotte, 206 N. C. 913, 174 S. E. 453.

Cited in Evans v. Mecklenburg County, 205 N. C. 560, 564, 172 S. E. 323.

§ 5780(60). Local budgets.—a. The request for funds to supplement state school funds, as permitted under the above conditions, shall be filed with the tax levying authorities in each county and city administrative unit on or before the fifteenth day of June on forms provided by the state school commission. The tax levying authorities in such units may approve or disapprove this supplemental budget in whole or in part, and upon the approval being given, the same shall be submitted to the state school commission, which shall have the authority to approve or disapprove any object or item contained therein. In the event of approval, by the state school commission, the same shall be shown in detail upon the minutes of said tax levying body, and a special levy shall be made therefor, and the tax receipt shall show upon the face thereof the purpose of said levy.

b. In the same manner and at the same time, each county and/or city administrative unit may file a capital outlay budget, subject to the approval of the tax levying authorities and the state school commission.

c. In the same manner and at the same time, each county and/or city administrative unit shall file a debt service budget, which shall include debt service budgets of special bond tax districts, as set forth in section 5780(61), and which shall be subject to the approval of the tax levying authorities in each such unit and the state school commission: Provided, that nothing in this subchapter shall prevent counties, local taxing districts, and/or special charter districts from levying taxes to provide for debt service requirements.

The tax levying authorities in each of the above named units filing budgets from local funds shall report their action on said budgets on or before the fifteenth day of July, and the same shall be reported to the state school commission on or before the first day of August. The action of the state school commission on all requests for local funds budgets shall be reported to boards of education and/or school governing authorities of city administrative units and the tax levying authorities in such units on or before the first day of September.

All county-wide school funds shall be apportioned to county and city administrative units and distributed monthly on a per capita school enrollment basis. (1935, c. 455, s. 15.)

§ 5780(61). Special bond tax unaffected by divisions or consolidations; designation of districts.—If a boundary, territorial district, or unit in which a special bond tax has heretofore been voted or in any way assumed prior to July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three, has been or may be divided or consolidated, and the whole or a portion of which has been or may be otherwise integrated with a new district so established under any reorganization and/or redistricting, such territorial unit, boundary, or district, special taxing or special charter, which has been abolished for school operating purposes, shall remain as a district for the purpose of the levy and collection of the special taxes theretofore voted in any unit, boundary, or district, special taxing or special charter, for the payment of bonds issued and/or other obligations so assumed, the said territorial boundary, district, or unit shall be maintained until all necessary taxes have been levied and collected therein for the payment of such bonds and/or other indebtedness so assumed. Such boundary, unit, or district shall be known and designated as the..... "Special Bond Tax Unit" of.....County. (1935, c. 455, s. 16.)

§ 5780(62). Lien of taxes for operating costs; disposition of unused collections; lien of unpaid teachers' salaries; special taxes already voted.—All uncollected taxes which have been levied in the respective school districts for the purpose of meeting the operating costs of the schools shall remain as a lien against the property as originally assessed and shall be collectible as are other taxes so levied, and upon collection, shall be made a part of the debt service fund of the special bond tax unit, along with such other funds as may accrue to the credit of said unit; and in the event there is no debt service requirement upon such district, all amounts so collected for whatever purpose shall be covered into the county treasury to be used as a part of the county debt service for schools: Provided, that unpaid teachers' vouchers for the year in which the tax was levied shall be a prior lien: Provided, further, that nothing in this subchapter shall be construed as abolishing special taxes voted in any city administrative unit since July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three. (1935, c. 455, s. 16.)

§ 5780(63). Operating budgets.—It shall be the duty of the county board of education in each county and the school governing authorities in each city administrative unit, upon receipt of the tentative allotment of state funds for operating the schools and the approval of all local funds budgets, including supplements to state funds for operating schools of a higher standard, funds for extending the term, funds for debt service, and funds for capital outlay, to prepare an operating budget on forms provided by the State and file the same with the state superintendent of public instruction and the state school commission on or before the first day of October. Each operating budget shall be checked by the state school commission to ascertain if it is in accordance with the allotment of state funds and the approval of local funds; and when found to be in accordance with same, shall be the total school budget for said county or city administrative unit. (1935, c. 455, s. 17.)

§ 5780(64). Bonds for protection of school funds.—The state school commission, subject to the approval of the local government commission, shall determine and provide all bonds necessary for the protection of the state school funds. The tax levying authorities in each county and city administrative unit, subject to the approval of the local government commission, shall provide such bonds as the state school commission may require for the protection of county and district school funds. (1935, c. 455, s. 18.)

§ 5780(65). Disbursement of state funds. — Payment of the state fund to the county and city administrative units may be made in monthly installments, at such time and in such amounts as may be practical to meet the needs and necessities of the eight-months' school term in the various county and city administrative units: Provided, that prior to the payment of any monthly installment, it shall be the duty of the county board of education or the board of trustees to file with the state superintendent of public instruction and the state school commission a certified statement of all salaries, together with all other obligations that may be due and payable, said statement to be filed on or before the fifteenth day of each month next preceding the maturity of the obligations.

When it shall appear to the state school commission from said certified statement that any amounts are due and necessary to be paid, such amounts shall be certified to the state superintendent, who shall draw a requisition on the state auditor covering the same; and upon receipt of notice from the state treasurer showing the amount placed to their credit, the duly constituted authorities may issue state warrants in the amount so certified: Provided, that no funds shall be released for payment of salaries of administrative officers of county or city units if any reports required to be filed by the state school authorities are more than thirty days over-due. (1935, c. 455, s. 19.)

§ 5780(66). Method of disbursing school funds. —School funds shall be paid out as follows:

1. State school funds. That school funds shall be released only on warrants drawn on the state treasurer signed by the chairman and the secretary of the county board of education for county administrative units and by the chairman and the secretary of the board of trustees for city administrative units and countersigned by such officer as the county government laws may require.

2. County and district funds. All county and district funds shall be paid out only on warrants signed by the chairman and the secretary of the board of education for counties and the chairman and the secretary of the board of trustees for city administrative units and countersigned by such officer as the county government laws may require. (1935, c. 455, s. 20.)

§ 5780(67). Audit. — The state school commission, in co-operation with the local government commission, shall cause to be made an audit of all school funds, State, county and district; and the cost of said audit shall be borne by each fund audited in proportion to the total funds audited, as determined by the state school commission. The tax levying authorities for county and city administrative units shall make provision for meeting their proportionate part of the cost of making said audit, as provided in this subchapter. (1935, c. 455, s. 21.)

§ 5780(68). Workmen's compensation and sick leave.—The provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act shall be applicable to all school employees, and the state school commission shall make such arrangements as are necessary to carry out the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act as applicable to such employees. The state school commission is hereby authorized and empowered, in its discretion, to make provision for sick leave with pay for any teacher or principal not exceeding five days and to promulgate rules and regulations providing for necessary substitutes on account of said sick leave. (1935, c. 455, s. 22.)

§ 5780(69). Purchase of equipment and supplies. —It shall be the duty of the county boards of education and/or the governing bodies of city administrative units to purchase all supplies and materials in accordance with contracts awarded and/or with the approval of the state division of purchase and contract. (1935, c. 455, s. 23.)

§ 5780(70). School transportation.—The control and management of all facilities for the transportation of public school children shall be vested in the State of North Carolina under the direction and supervision of the state school commission, which shall have authority to promulgate rules and regulations governing the organization, maintenance, and operation of the school transportation facilities. The tax levying authorities in the various counties of the State are authorized and empowered to provide in the capital outlay budget adequate buildings and equipment for the storage and maintenance of all school busses. Provisions shall be made for the adequate inspection each thirty days of each vehicle used in the transportation of school children, and a record of such inspection shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of the administrative unit. It shall be the duty of the administrative officer of each administrative unit to require an adequate inspection of each bus at least once each thirty days, the report or reports of which inspection shall be filed with the administrative officer. Every principal upon being advised of any defect by the bus driver shall cause a report of such defect to be made to this administrative officer immediately, whose duty it shall be to cause such defect to be remedied before such bus can be further operated. The use of school busses shall be limited to the transportation of children to and from school for the regularly organized school day: Provided, that in the discretion of the county superintendent and the principal of the school, busses may be used to transport children entitled to attend commencement exercises. (1935, c. 455, s. 24.)

§ 5780(71). Bus routes. — In establishing the route to be followed by each school bus operated as a part of the state school transportation system, in all schools where transportation is now or may hereafter be provided, the state school commission shall, unless road or other conditions make it inadvisable, route the busses so as to get within one mile of all children who live more than one and one-half miles from the school to which they are assigned. The State shall not be required to provide transportation for children living within one and one-half miles of the school in which provision for their instruction has been made. (1935, c. 455, s. 25.)

shall be the duty of the State of North Carolina to provide for the purchase of all school busses used as replacements for old public-owned busses which were operated by the State during the school year one thousand nine hundred thirty-four-thirty-five. It shall be the duty of the tax levying authorities in the various counties to make provision in the capital outlay budget for the purchase of new busses needed to relieve overcrowding and to provide for the transportation of children not transported in one thousand nine hundred thirty-four-thirty-five; and the State shall provide for the operation of all new busses purchased by the counties. It shall be the duty of the state school commission to promulgate rules and regulations that will insure the greatest safety for the children possible, including a standard signaling device for giving the public due notice that the bus is making a stop. Before purchasing any new school busses the state school commission shall cause to be made a thorough study of the most modern materials and construction for insuring the safest equipment possible within the funds available. (1935, c. 455, s. 26.)

§ 5780(73). Bus drivers. — The authority for selecting and employing the drivers of school busses shall be vested in the principal or superintendent of the school at the termination of the route, subject to the approval of the school committeemen or trustees of said school and the county or city superintendent of schools: Provided, that each driver shall be selected with a view to having him located as near the beginning of the truck route as possible; and it shall be lawful to employ student drivers wherever such is deemed advisable. The salary paid each employee in the operation of the school transportation system shall be in accordance with a salary schedule adopted by the state school commission for that particular type of employee. (1935, c. 455, s. 27.)

§ 5780(74). Contract transportation.—In counties where school transportation is provided by contract with private operators, the State shall provide funds for operating costs on the standards adopted for public-owned busses, and it shall be the duty of the tax levying authorities in the various counties to provide in the capital outlay budget the additional funds necessary to pay contracts. (1935, c. 455, s. 28.)

§ 5780(75). Coöperation with highway and public works commission in maintenance of equipment. — The state school commission is hereby authorized to negotiate with the highway and public works commission in coördinating all facilities for the repair, maintenance and upkeep of equipment to be used by the state school commission in the school transportation system. In all cases where this is done the state highway and public works commission shall be reimbursed in the amount of the actual cost involved for labor and parts to be determined by an itemized statement filed with the state school commission.

It is the purpose of this subchapter to repeal sections twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, and thirty-one of the School Machinery Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-three, codified as §§ 5780(30)-5780(35) of 1933 Supplement. (1935, c. 455, s. 29.)

§ 5780(76). Lunch rooms in schools.—In such cases as may be deemed advisable by the trustees or school committee in any school, and where the same may be deemed necessary because of the distance of the said school from places where meals may be easily obtained, it shall be competent for the said trustees and the said school committees, as a part of the functions of the said public schools, to provide cafeterias and places where meals may be sold, and operate or cause the same to be operated for the convenience of teachers, school officers and pupils of the said schools. There shall be no personal liability upon the said trustees and school committees, or members thereof, arising out of the operation of the said eating places, and it is understood and declared that the same are carried on and conducted in connection with the public schools, and because of the necessities arising out of the consolidation of the said schools and the inconvenience and interruption of the school day caused by seeking meals elsewhere: Provided, that no part of the appropriation made by the State for the public schools shall be expended for the operation of said cafeterias or eating places, nor shall the provisions of section 5780(67) apply to the employees of the cafeterias or eating places, except such persons as are regularly employed otherwise in the schools. (1935, c. 455, s. 30.)

§ 5780(77). Accounting as to special school funds; reports to commission; diversion of special funds as misdemeanor.—It shall be the duty of the county superintendent of public instruction to examine the records of the county to see that the proceeds from the poll taxes and the dog taxes are correctly accounted for to the school fund each year, and to examine the records of the several courts of the county, including courts of justices of the peace, at least once every three months to see that all fines, forfeitures and penalties, and any other special funds accruing to the county school fund are correctly and promptly accounted for to the school fund; and if the county superintendent shall find that any such taxes or fines are not correctly and promptly accounted for to the school fund, it shall be his duty to make prompt report thereof to the state school commission and also to the solicitor of the superior court holding the courts in the district: Provided, that in any county having a county auditor, county accountant, or county manager, that the duties enjoined under the provisions of this section shall be performed by one of said officers; and if there are two or more such officers in any county, then by one of such officers in the order named.

It shall be unlawful for any of the proceeds of poll taxes, dog taxes, fines, forfeitures, and penalties to be used for other than school purposes, and the official responsible for any diversion of such funds to other purposes shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punishable by fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court: Provided, however, that this section shall not be construed as making unlawful the use of such portions of said funds for other purposes as may be provided by the provisions of this subchapter. (1935, c. 455, s. 31.)

SUBCHAPTER XX. COMPENSATION TO CHILDREN INJURED IN SCHOOL BUSSES

§ 5780(78). School commission authorized to pay claims. — The school commission of North Carolina is hereby authorized and directed to set up in its budget for the operation of the public schools of the State a sum of money which it deems sufficient to pay the claims hereinafter authorized and provided for. (1935, c. 245, s. 1.)

§ 5780(79). Payment of medical or funeral expenses to parents or custodians of children.—The state school commission is hereby authorized and directed to pay out of said sum provided for this purpose to the parent, guardian, executor, or administrator of any school child, who may be injured and/or whose death results from injuries received while such child is riding on a school bus to and from the public schools of the State, medical, surgical, hospital, and funeral expenses incurred on account of such injuries and/or death of such child in an amount not to exceed the sum of six hundred and no one-hundredths dollars ($600.00). 1935, c. 245, s. 2.)

For act on this section applicable in Surry county only, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 458.

§ 5780(80). Claim must be filed within one year.—The right to compensation as authorized under section 5780(79) shall be forever barred, unless a claim be filed with the state school commission within one year after the accident, and if death results from the accident, unless a claim be filed with the said commission within one year thereafter. (1935, c. 245, s. 3.)

§ 5780(81). Approval of claims by school commission final.—The state school commission is hereby authorized and empowered, under rules and regulations to be promulgated by said school commission, to approve any claim authorized by this subchapter, and when such claim is so approved, such action shall be final; any payment made by the school commission for hospital and medical treatment shall be deducted from the benefits provided in section 5780(79), and said commission is hereby authorized to pay medical and hospital and funeral bills provided for in this subchapter, not to exceed, however, the benefits herein provided for. (1935, c. 245, s. 4.)

§ 5780(82). Claims paid without regard to negligence of driver; amounts paid out declared lien upon civil recoveries for child.—The claims authorized in section 5780(79) shall be paid by the said school commission, regardless of whether or not the injury received by said school child shall have been due to the negligence of the driver of the said school bus; provided that whenever there is recovery on account of said accident by the father, mother, guardian, or administrator of such child, against any person, firm, or corporation, the amount expended by the state school commission hereunder shall constitute a paramount lien on any judgment recovered by said parent, guardian, or administrator, and shall be discharged before any money is paid to said parent, guardian, or administrator, on account of said judgment. (1935, c. 245, s. 5.)

§ 5780(83). Disease and injuries incurred while not riding on bus not compensable.—Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to mean that the State shall be liable for sickness, disease, and for personal injuries sustained while not actually riding on the bus to and from the school, and for personal injuries received otherwise than by reason of the operation of such bus. (1935, c. 245, s. 6.)

CHAPTER 96

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS OF THE STATE

Art. 1. University of North Carolina

§ 5781. Constitutional provisions.—The general assembly shall have power to provide for the election of trustees of the University of North Carolina, in whom, when chosen shall be vested all the privileges, rights, franchises and endowments thereof, in any wise granted to or conferred upon the trustees of such University; and the general assembly may make provisions, laws, and regulations from time to time as may be necessary and expedient for the maintenance and management of such University. The general assembly shall provide that the benefits of the university, as far as practicable, be extended to the youth of the state free of expense for tuition; also that all the property which has heretofore accrued to the state, or shall hereafter accrue, from escheats unclaimed dividends, or distributive shares of the estates of deceased persons, shall be appropriated to the use of the university, and the general assembly shall establish and maintain, in connection with the university, a department of agriculture, of mechanics, of mining and of normal instruction. (Rev., s. 4259; Const., art. 9, ss. 6, 7, 14.)

Construction of the Word "Dividend." — The word "dividend" as used in this section is synonymous with "distributive shares," and is used as a convertible term. Trustees v. North Carolina R. Co., 76 N. C. 103.

§ 5782. Incorporation and corporate powers.—The trustees of the university shall be a body politic and corporate, to be known and distinguished by the name of the University of North Carolina, and by that name shall have perpetual succession and a common seal; and by that name shall be able and capable in law to take, demand, receive and possess all moneys, goods and chattels that shall be given for the use of the university, and to apply the same according to the will of the donors; and by gift, purchase, or devise to receive, possess, enjoy, and retain forever any and all real and personal estate and funds, of whatsoever kind, nature, or quality the same may be, in special trust and confidence that the same, or the profits thereof, shall be applied to and for the use and purpose of establishing and endowing the university, and shall have power to receive donations from any source whatever, to be exclusively devoted to the purposes of the maintenance of the university or according to the terms of donation.

The corporation, by its corporate name, shall be able and capable in law to bargain, sell, grant, alien, or dispose of and convey and assure to the purchasers any and all such real and personal estate and funds as it may lawfully acquire when the condition of the grant to it or the will of the devisor does not forbid it; and shall be able and capable in law to sue and be sued in all courts whatsoever; and shall have power to open and receive subscriptions, and in general may do all such things as are usually done by bodies corporate and politic, or such as may be necessary for the promotion of learning and virtue. (Rev., ss. 4260, 4261; Code, ss. 2610, 2611, 2630; R. S. vol. 2, pp. 424, 425; 1789, c. 305, ss. 1, 2; 1874-5, c. 236, s. 2.)

Devise to University—Capacity to Take.—See Brewer v. University, 110 N. C. 26, 14 S. E. 644.

§ 5783. Tax exemption.—The lands and other property belonging to the corporation shall be exempt from all kinds of public taxation. (Rev., s. 4262; Const., art. 6, s. 5; Code, s. 2614; R. S. vol. 2, p. 428; 1789, c. 306, s. 3.)

§ 5784. Escheats to university.—All real estate which has heretofore accrued to the state, or shall hereafter accrue from escheats, shall be vested in the University of North Carolina, and shall be appropriated to the use of that corporation. (Rev., s. 4282; Const., art. 9, s. 7; Code, s. 2626; R. C., c. 113, s. 11; 1789, c. 306, s. 2.)

Vested Right Cannot Be Impaired by Repeal of Section.—The legislature is without power under the due process clause of the constitution to deprive the trustees of such escheated property which by virture of this section has vested in them, by a subsequent act repealing this section. Trustees v. Foy, 5 N. C. 58.

Land held by incorporated town held to escheat upon repeal of town charter under the facts of this case. University of North Carolina v. High Point, 203 N. C. 558, 166 S. E. 511.

Applied in In re Will of Neal, 182 N. C. 405, 109 S. E. 70.
Cited in Smith v. Dicks, 197 N. C. 355, 148 S. E. 464.

§ 5784(a). Evidence making prima facie case.—In all cases where land situated in this state is claimed by the University of North Carolina by right of escheat, it shall be sufficient to prove, in order to make out a prima facie case of escheat, that the land claimed was granted by the state of North Carolina; that the grantee, or any subsequent owner thereof, died without disposing of said land either by conveyance or will, registered or probated prior to the institution of the action, and that for fifty (50) years subsequent to the death of the last known owner, no person has appeared to claim the land either as devisee, grantee, or heir. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 43.)

The provisions of this section, applies only to proof and not to pleading. University of North Carolina v. High Point, 203 N. C. 558, 166 S. E. 511.

§ 5785. Unclaimed personalty on settlements of decedents' estates to university.—All sums of money or other estate of whatever kind which shall remain in the hands of any executor, administrator, or collector for five years after his qualification, unrecovered or unclaimed by suit, by creditors, next of kin, or others entitled thereto, shall be paid by the executor, administrator, or collector to the University of North Carolina; and that corporation is authorized to demand, sue for, recover, and collect such moneys or other estate of whatever kind, and hold the same without liability for profit or interest, until a just claim therefor shall be preferred by creditors, next of kin, or others entitled thereto; and if no such claim be preferred within ten years after such money or other estate be received by such corporation, then the same shall be held by it absolutely. (Rev., s. 4283; Const., art. 9, s. 7; Code, ss. 2627, 1504; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 76; R. S., c. 46, s. 20; 1784, c. 205, s. 2; 1809, c. 763, s. 1.)

Applied in Warner v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 94 N. C. 250.

§ 5786. Other unclaimed personalty to university.—Personal property of every kind, including dividends of corporations, or of joint-stock companies or associations, choses in action, and sums of money in the hands of any person, which shall not be recovered or claimed by the parties entitled thereto for five years after the same shall become due and payable, shall be deemed derelict property, and shall be paid to the University of North Carolina and held by it without liability for profit or interest until a just claim therefor shall be preferred by the parties entitled thereto; and if no such claim shall be preferred within ten years after such property or dividend shall be received by it, then the same shall be held by it absolutely. (Rev., s. 4284; Code, ss. 2628, 2629.)

§ 5787. Application of receipts.—All receipts heretofore had or hereafter to be had from dividends, escheated property, derelict property, money or other property in the hands of executors, administrators, or collectors, and from any source whatever under authority of the state, and all interest thereon, shall be exclusively devoted by the trustees to the maintenance of the university. (Rev., s. 4285; Code. s. 2630; 1874-5, c. 236, s. 2.)

See notes to section 5781.

§ 5788. Governor to preside at trustees' meetings or appoint presiding officer.—The governor shall preside at all meetings of the board at which he may be present and if by indisposition or other cause, the governor shall be absent from any meeting of the board, he may appoint, in writing, some other person, being a trustee, to act in his stead for the time being, which appointee shall preside accordingly; and if at any time the governor shall be absent from the meeting of the board and shall not have appointed some trustee to act in his stead it shall be lawful for the board to appoint some one of their number to preside for the time being. (Rev., s. 4263; Code, s. 2615; R. S., vol. 2, p. 432; 1805, c. 678.)

§ 5789. Trustees; number, election, and term.—There shall be one hundred trustees of the University of North Carolina, whose term of office shall be eight years, and who shall be elected by joint ballot of both houses of the general assembly as and when the terms of the present incumbents respectively expire. Sixteen of such trustees shall be selected from points conviently accessible to the seat of government and the university. The superintendent of public instruction is ex officio a trustee of the university. In the trustees shall be vested all the rights, privileges, franchises, and endowments in any wise granted to or conferred upon the trustees of the University of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 4268; Const., art. 9, s. 6; Code, ss. 2620, 2625; 1873-4, c. 64; 1876-7, c. 121, ss. 1, 2; 1883, c. 124, ss. 1, 2; 1909, c. 432; 1917, c. 47.)

This section is constitutional. Trustees v. McIver, 72 N. C. 76.

§ 5790. Trustees may remove members of board.—The board of trustees shall have power to vacate the appointment and remove a trustee for improper conduct, stating the cause of such removal on the journal; but this shall not be done except at an annual meeting of the board, and there shall be present at the doing thereof at least twenty of the members of the board. (Rev., s. 4270; Code, s. 2619; R. S., vol. 2, p. 432.)

§ 5791. Filling vacancies in board.—Whenever any vacancy shall happen in the board of trustees it shall be the duty of the secretary of the board of trustees to communicate to the general assembly the existence of such vacancy, and thereupon shall be elected by joint ballot of both houses a suitable person to fill the same. Whenever a trustee shall fail to be present for two successive years at the regular meetings of the board, his place as trustee shall be deemed vacant within the meaning of this section. (Rev., ss. 4271, 4272; Code, s. 2622; 1804, c. 647; 1805, c. 678, s. 2; 1873-4, c. 64, s. 3; 1891, c. 98; 1907, c. 828.)

§ 5792. Meetings of trustees, annual and special; quorum.—There shall be an annual meeting of the board of trustees in the city of Raleigh, which meeting shall be held during the session of the general assembly the years that body convenes. There shall also be held another annual meeting at such time and place as the governor may appoint. At any of the annual meetings of the board any number of trustees, not less than ten, shall constitute a quorum and be competent to exercise full power and authority to do the business of the corporation; and the board or the governor shall have power to appoint special meetings of the trustees at such time and place as, in their opinion, the interest of the corporation may require; but no special meeting shall have power to revoke or alter any order, resolution, or vote of an annual meeting; and the board of trustees at the annual meeting may, by resolution, vote, or ordinance, from time to time, as to it shall seem meet, limit, control, and restrain the business to be transacted, and the power to be possessed and exercised by special meetings of the board, called according to law, and the powers of such special meetings shall be limited, controlled and restrained accordingly. And every order, vote, resolution, or other act done, made or adopted by any special meeting, contrary to any order, resolution, vote, or ordinance of the board at an annual meeting shall be absolutely, to all intents and purposes, null and void. (Rev., s. 4269; Code, ss. 2616, 2618, 2621; R. S., vol. 2, p. 433; 1873-4, c. 64, s. 2.)

§ 5793. Reports to general assembly.—It shall be the duty of the trustees to cause annual reports to be made to the governor, to be transmitted by him to the general assembly, showing the receipts of the corporation from all sources, and the expenditures thereof, with the object for which such expenditures were made. (Rev., s. 4276; 1885, c. 143, s. 4.)

§ 5794. Rules and regulations.—The trustees shall have power to make such rules and regulations for the management of the university as they may deem necessary and expedient, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state. (Rev., s. 4273; Code, s. 2623; 1873-4, c. 64, s. 4.)

§ 5795. Executive committee.—The trustees shall have power to appoint from their own number an executive committee which shall be clothed with such powers as the trustees may confer. (Rev., s. 4267; Code, s. 2624; 1873-4, c. 64, s. 5.)

§ 5796. President and faculty; rules and discipline; degrees.—The trustees shall have the power of appointing a president of the University of North Carolina and such professors, tutors, and other officers as to them shall appear necessary and proper, whom they may remove for misbehavior, inability, or neglect of duty. They shall have the power to make all such laws and regulations for the government of the university and preservation of order and good morals therein as are usually made in such seminaries, and as to them may appear necessary, provided the same are not contrary to the inalienable liberty of a citizen or to the laws of the state. The faculty of the university, that is to say, the president and professors, by and with consent of the trustees, shall have the power of conferring all such degrees or marks of literary distinction as are usually conferred by colleges or universities. (Rev., s. 4264; Code, s. 2613; R. S., vol. 2, p. 427; 1789, c. 305, s. 7.)

§ 5797. Treasurer; duties and bond.—The trustees shall elect and commission some person to be treasurer for the corporation during the term of two years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified; which treasurer shall enter into bond, with sufficient sureties, payable to the state of North Carolina, in the sum of not less than ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his office and the trust reposed in him, and that all moneys and chattels belonging to the corporation that shall be in his hands at the expiration of his office shall then be immediately paid and delivered into the hands of the succeeding treasurer. Every treasurer shall receive all moneys, donations, gifts, bequests, and charities whatsoever that may belong or accrue to the corporation during his office, and at the expiration thereof shall account with the trustees for the same, and the same pay and deliver over to the succeeding treasurer; and on his neglect or refusal so to pay and deliver the same proceedings may be had against him as is or may be provided for the recovery of moneys from sheriffs or other persons chargeable with public moneys. (Rev., s. 4265; Code, s. 2612; R. S., vol. 2, p. 426; 1789, c. 305, s. 4.)

§ 5798. Vacancies in offices of secretary and treasurer.—In case the office of secretary or treasurer of the corporation shall be vacant from any cause whatever in the recess of the board of trustees the president shall appoint a suitable person to fill the same until the annual meeting of the board of trustees, at which time the board shall elect a proper person to fill such vacancy. (Rev., s. 4266; Code, s. 2617; R. S., vol. 2, p. 433.)

§ 5799. Normal department.—It shall be the duty of the trustees to use the appropriation hereinafter made, as far as may be practicable, in carrying into effect sections seven and fourteen of article nine of the constitution; and particularly they shall provide such advanced instruction as may enable their students to learn the art of teaching in the university normal department and to be well qualified to become teachers of the schools of the state. (Rev., s. 4274; Code, s. 2639; 1881, c. 141, s. 2; 1887, c. 233, s. 3.)

§ 5800. Tuition fees, free tuition.—The trustees are authorized and directed to fix the tuition fees at the University in such amount or amounts as they may deem best, taking into consideration the nature of each department and the cost of equipment and maintaining the same, to be paid in cash or by good note, and are further instructed to charge and collect from each student at the beginning of each term an amount sufficient to pay room rent, servant's hire, etc., for the term; but no young man of good moral character shall be denied admission because of his inability to pay cash or give a good note. The trustees are further instructed to adopt such rules for the admission of ministers' sons, candidates for the ministry, young men afflicted with bodily infirmity, and students preparing themselves for the purpose of teaching, as are adopted by other colleges throughout the state. All students in the normal department shall receive free tuition in this department if they agree in writing to teach for one year after leaving the university; but they shall pay full tuition in other departments. All other students shall require to give their notes with the understanding that should they become able they shall pay the balance due the university at the time of their graduation in full. This section is applicable to the students of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering so far as it relates to free tuition and the faculty of the state college are authorized and empowered to grant free tuition to students at said college under the same circumstances as free tuition is now granted to students of the University of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 4275; Code, ss. 2633, 2634, 2635; 1885, c. 143, ss. 2, 3; 1887, c. 233, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1925, c. 256, s. 1; 1924, c. 26.)

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5801. Prohibition of liquor selling.—Any license granted to retail spirituous or malt liquors, bitters, or any intoxicating drinks within four miles thereof, shall be void; and no person shall sell or deliver, or directly or indirectly receive any compensation for any spirituous liquors, bitters, or any intoxicating drinks within four miles of the corporate limits of Chapel Hill, Orange County, or within that village. No person shall erect, keep, maintain, or have at Chapel Hill, or within four miles thereof, any tippling house, establishment, or place for sale of wines, cordials, spirituous or malt liquors. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or deliver, or offer to sell or deliver, or directly or indirectly receive any compensation for any spirituous or malt liquors, bitters, or any intoxicating drinks, for the purpose of being used, or with knowledge that the same will be used at Chapel Hill, or within four miles thereof, by any student of the university, without permission in writing from the president of the university or some other member of its faculty. No person, at or within four miles of Chapel Hill, shall give or furnish any electioneering treat or entertainment. (Rev., s. 4277; Code, ss. 2640, 2641, 2642, 2643; R. C., c. 113, ss. 1, 4; R. S., c. 116, ss. 1, 2; 1827, c. 4; 1879, c. 232, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1880, (sp. sess.) c. 45; 1893, cc. 398, 449.)

See State v. Sykes, 104 N. C. 694, 10 S. E. 191; State v. Taylor, 89 N. C. 577.

§ 5802. License for operating billiard tables, etc., to be approved by President of University.—No person, firm or corporation shall apply for or receive from the Board of Aldermen through the City Manager or other representative of the Town of Chapel Hill, any license or authorization to set up, maintain or keep in Chapel Hill, or within five miles thereof, any public billiard table or other public table of any kind, by whatever name called, at which games of chance or skill may be played, without first obtaining written permission therefor from the President of the University of North Carolina. Nor shall any person, firm or corporation apply for or receive a license from the Board of Alderman of the Town of Chapel Hill through the City Manager or other representative to keep, maintain or operate within the Town of Chapel Hill or within five miles of the boundaries thereof, any house, place or establishment wherein ten pin alleys, bowling alleys, or other games of chance or skill shall be operated or conducted without first obtaining written permission therefor from the President of the University of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 4278; Code, s. 2644; R. C., c. 113, s. 5; R. S., c. 116, s. 4; 1794, c. 429; 1931, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 repealed the former prohibitory section and inserted the above in lieu thereof.

§ 5803. License for exhibiting any form of amusements and entertainments to be approved by President of University.—No person, firm or corporation shall apply for or obtain from the Board of Aldermen of the Town of Chapel Hill through the City Manager or other representative, any license or permit to exhibit within the Town of Chapel Hill or within five miles thereof any theatrical, sleight of hand, equestrian performance, or any dramatic recitation, or any rope or wire dancing, natural or artificial curiosities, or any concert, serenade or performance in music, singing or dancing, without first securing a written permission for said performance from the President of the University of North Carolina. A copy of the President's permission shall be filed with the City Manager or other duly authorized agent of the Board of Aldermen of the Town of Chapel Hill at the time said license or permit is applied for in all cases covered by this section. (Rev., s. 4279; Code, s. 2645; R. C., c. 113, s. 6; R. S. c. 116, s. 3; 1824, c. 1252; 1931, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 repealed the former section and substituted the above in lieu thereof.

§ 5804. Violation of three preceding sections; misdemeanor; jurisdiction; participant must testify.—Any person violating any of the three next preceding sections shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned not less than ten days nor more than thirty days; and if the offender is not brought to trial before some justice of the peace within twelve months after the commission of the offense the superior court in term for the county in which the offense was committed may take jurisdiction of the same and punish the offender at the discretion of the court. No person shall be excused or incapacitated from testifying touching the violation of any of the three next preceding sections by reason of his having been a participant in the offenses; but the testimony of such person shall not be used against him in any criminal prosecution on account of such participation. (Rev., s. 4280; Code, s. 2646; R. C., c. 113, s. 7; 1879, c. 232, s. 3.)

§ 5805. Certain contracts of students void. — Every contract or agreement by any student of the university, being then a minor, with any shopkeeper, merchant, trader, or other person, upon the sale of any wine, cordial, spirituous or malt liquors, or of any goods, wares, or merchandise or any article of trade, or with the keeper of any livery stable shall be void unless the same is made at or within two miles of Chapel Hill, be made under the written permission of the president of the university or some other member of its faculty; or, if made at a greater distance from Chapel Hill, under the written consent of the person who may have the control and authority over such student. Every contract made with a student of the university contrary to this section shall be void, and may be avoided on account of any of the matters herein contained by answer denying the same. And on the trial, if it appear that the defendant was at the time of the alleged contract a student of the university it shall be presumed that he was at the making thereof a minor. Every such contract shall be incapable of being confirmed; and any promise or obligation to perform the same, given by such student after his arrival at full age, shall be void. (Rev., s. 4281; Code, ss. 2647, 2648, 2649; R. C., c. 113, ss. 9, 10.)

Art. 1A. Consolidation of State Institutions into University of North Carolina

§ 5805(a). State College of Agriculture and Engineering and College for Women.—The University of North Carolina, the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, and the North Carolina College for Women are hereby consolidated and merged into "The University of North Carolina." (1931, c. 202, s. 1.)

§ 5805(b). Operation of State College at Raleigh.—The North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering shall from and after the ratification of this article be conducted and operated as part of the University of North Carolina. It shall be located at Raleigh, North Carolina, and shall be known as the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering of the University of North Carolina. (1931, c. 202, s. 2.)

§ 5805(c). Operation of College for Women at Greensboro. — The North Carolina College for Women shall from and after the ratification of this article be conducted and operated as a part of the University of North Carolina. It shall be located at Greensboro, North Carolina, and shall be known as the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. (1931, c. 202, s. 3.)

§ 5805(d). University Trustees incorporated; succeed to powers, etc., of present Boards of three institutions.—The trustees of the University of North Carolina, shall be a body politic incorporate, to be known and distinguished by the name of "The University of North Carolina." Upon this body politic incorporate there is hereby conferred all the powers, privileges, authority, and duties now imposed upon the trustees of the University, as it now exists, to be found in section 5782. In addition to these powers, etc., said elected board of trustees, as hereinafter constituted, shall succeed to all the rights, privileges, duties, and obligations now by law, or otherwise, enjoyed by or imposed upon the existing University of North Carolina, the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, and the North Carolina College for Women. (1931, c. 202, s. 4.)

§ 5805(e). Present Boards to hold on till July 1, 1932; new Board of 100 members.—Notwithstanding the provision of section 5805(d) all present members of the board of trustees of the University of North Carolina and all members elected to fill vacancies on said board by the nineteen thirty-one session of the General Assembly, as provided in section 5789, all present members of the board of trustees of North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering and all members to be elected to fill vacancies on said board by the nineteen hundred and thirty-one session of the General Assembly, as provided in sections 5825(a)-5825(c), and all present members of the board of trustees of the North Carolina College for Women, shall be and remain members of the board of trustees of the various schools of which they have heretofore been trustees with the same rights and powers which they have heretofore exercised until July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

The General Assembly in one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, shall elect trustees of the University of North Carolina, as herein provided, to the number of one hundred (100), of whom at least ten (10) shall be women, to succeed the consolidated board herein provided for. These trustees, on and after July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, shall take over and exercise all the powers, duties, privileges, authority, and obligations of the consolidated board which they succeed. They shall be elected in manner and form as now provided in section 5789, and as a corporate body in the management of its internal affairs shall have powers now imposed upon the existing board of trustees of the University by sections 5790 and 5791, and shall be subject to rules and regulations applicable to them in sections 5792 and 5793. (1931, c. 202, s. 5.)

§ 5805(f). Appointment of Commission on Consolidation.—Within sixty days after the ratification of this article, the Governor shall appoint a Commission of which he shall be Chairman and Member ex-officio to work out plans for the consolidation of the component parts of the University. This Commission shall be composed of twelve members in addition to the Governor, two of whom shall be appointed by the President of the University of North Carolina from the members of the faculty of the University of North Carolina; two of whom shall be appointed by the President of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering from the members of the faculty of the State College of Agriculture and Engineering and two of whom shall be appointed by the President of the North Carolina College for Women from the members of the faculty of said College: Provided, that the Presidents of said institutions may serve on said Commission in lieu of one member of the faculty; the six remaining members of the said commission shall be selected by the Governor from the State at large: Provided, that not more than one shall be a member of the board of trustees of any one of the institutions to be consolidated: Provided further, that two of said members shall be women. (1931, c. 202, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—The act from which this aricle was codified was ratified March 27, 1931.

§ 5805(g). Duties of Commission.—Said commission shall be charged with the following duties:

1. To work out a scheme to bring about an unification of the executive control in the University of North Carolina, North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, and the North Carolina College for Women, so that each of said institutions may best serve the State and the needs of the people.

2. To unify and coördinate the general educational program of the University of North Carolina as herein provided for.

3. To work out a scheme in which, and through which, all the problems arising from the consolidation of the three existing institutions into the University of North Carolina may, in their opinion, be best solved.

4. That the final location of all schools, departments, and divisions of work now located at any of the three institutions shall be subject to the study and recommendations of the experts and the commission without prejudice by any provisions in this bill.

5. To consider the advisability of the awarding of diplomas or other certificates ex legis by the University of North Carolina to former graduates of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering and the North Carolina College for Women, and to recommend the form or forms thereof. (1931, c. 202, s. 7.)

§ 5805(h). Term of office of Commission; employment of experts; report and recommendation; expenses.—The commission on consolidation, herein provided for, shall enter at the earliest reasonable time upon the performance of these mandatory duties, and so continue until they have provided a practical plan of consolidation, coördination, and unification and merger, as contemplated by this act. The report shall be completed and in the hands of the consolidated board of trustees, herein provided for, and those of the Governor, not later than July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two. It shall employ distinguished and competent experts in the several pertinent fields of higher education in America. These experts shall take account of the experiences of the several American states in the various forms of unification, whether consolidation, coördination, or other forms of unified guidance and control of higher education and shall study the circumstances and needs of higher education in North Carolina. They shall on the basis of their expert studies and scientific findings make their report and recommendation to the commission with regard to the form, extent, procedure, and all details of unified guidance and control. The expenses of the commission, including compensation of such employees, shall be paid out of the contingency and emergency fund provided for in the general appropriation act of the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, in the manner provided by law. (1931, c. 202, s. 8.)

§ 5805(i). Submission of report to new Trustees.—The Governor, after receiving the report of the commission on consolidation as herein provided for, shall cause a meeting of the board of trustees to be called, and he shall submit said report to said board of trustees. If the board of trustees shall disapprove of any part of said report, then that part of the report disapproved of shall be modified in accordance with the views of the said board. The report, when approved by the said board, or when so modified by it, shall be and remain the rules and regulations under which the consolidated University and its component parts shall continue to function until such rules and regulations shall be changed, modified, or amended by the board of trustees. (1931, c. 202, s. 9.)

§ 5805(j). Present status of institutions retained; meetings of trustees.—Pending the bringing about of the unification, consolidation, and merger as herein provided for, the several institutions, herein consolidated and merged, shall continue to operate as separate institutions, in accordance with their present plan of operation. There shall, however, be not less than one meeting of the consolidated board of trustees as herein provided for, and not less than one meeting of the consolidated executive committee herein provided for in each year, such meetings to be called by the Governor. (1931, c. 202, s. 10.)

§ 5805(k). Awarding of degrees, etc., by consolidated University.—From and after the final adoption of the rules and regulations under which the consolidated University and its component colleges shall operate, all degrees or marks of literary distinction conferred by the University of North Carolina or any of its component colleges as herein specified, shall be conferred by the faculty of the University of North Carolina or the faculty of any one of its component colleges by and with the consent of the board of trustees, but degrees or marks of literary distinction conferred by the faculty of any one of the said colleges shall designate the college through or by which said degree or mark of literary distinction is conferred. (1931, c. 202, s. 11.)

§ 5805(l). Gifts and endowments belong to institution to which made; administration of such funds.—All gifts and endowments, whether moneys, goods or chattels, or real estate, heretofore or hereafter given or bestowed upon or conveyed to any one of the institutions, as existing before the ratification of this act, shall continue thereafter to be used, enjoyed, and administered by the particular unit to which they were given or conveyed; but if there were trusts, they shall be administered by said unit in accordance with the provisions of the trust deed creating them, for the benefit of the particular institution to which such trust deed was executed. The administration of all these funds, endowments, gifts, and contributions shall, however, be under the control of the board of trustees of the University of North Carolina, as created in this act. (1931, c. 202, s. 12.)

§ 5805(m). Certain laws pertaining to institutions retained.—None of the provisions of this article shall be construed to modify or repeal or render invalid any of the provisions of Article one, relating to the University of North Carolina; Article two, relating to the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering; and Article four, relating to the North Carolina College for Women, of chapter ninety-six of the Consolidated Statutes of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, as amended in any particular except where any of such provisions in these articles conflict with this article or the intent and purpose with which it is enacted, that is to say, to bring about an effective consolidation of the three institutions thus named into the University of North Carolina, organized as herein provided. (1931, c. 202, s. 13.)

Art. 2. North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering.

§ 5806. Incorporation and corporate powers.—The North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering shall under that name be a body politic and corporate, with the right to hold property for the benefit of such college. The corporation, by its corporate name, shall be able and capable in law to bargain, sell, grant, alien, or dispose of and convey and assure to the purchasers any and all such real and personal estate and funds as it may lawfully acquire when the condition of the grant to it or the will of the devisor does not forbid it; and shall be able and capable in law to sue and be sued; and shall have the power to receive subscriptions, and in general may do all such things as are usually done by bodies corporate and politic for educational purposes. (1907, c. 406, s. 2; 1917, c. 111.)

Editor's Note.—This college is now consolidated with the University of North Carolina and is to be managed by the board of trustees of the consolidated University. See §§ 5805(a)-5805(m).

§ 5807. Object of the college.—The object of this college shall be to teach the branches of learning relating to agricultural and mechanical arts and such other scientific and classical studies as the board of trustees may elect to have taught, and to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life. (1907, c. 406, s. 3.)

§ 5808. Share in appropriations by congress.—The appropriations made or which may hereafter be made by the congress for the benefit of colleges of agricultural and mechanical arts shall be divided between the white and colored institutions in this state in the ratio of the white population to the colored, as ascertained by the preceding national census. (1907, c. 406, s. 1.)

§ 5809. Tax exemption.—The lands and other property belonging to the corporation shall be exempt from taxation. (1907, c. 406, s. 7.)

§ 5810. Board of trustees; organization; terms of members.—The management and control of the college shall be vested in a board of trustees to consist of sixteen members, representing the agricultural and other industries of the state, who shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. The governor shall be ex officio president of the board. The new members shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. Four of the said trustees shall be appointed for a term of eight years; four for a term of six years; four for a term of four years; and four for a term of two years. The length of the term of each member shall be designated by the governor. As the terms of these members first appointed under this article expire, their successors and all trustees appointed thereafter shall be appointed for a term of eight years. The board may elect a president pro tem., who shall preside in the absence of the governor, and this board shall exercise all the powers and be subject to all the duties imposed by this act. The treasurer of the state shall be ex officio treasurer of the board of trustees. (1907, c. 406, ss. 4, 6.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5811. Meetings of board; executive committee; compensation of members.—The board shall meet annually in the city of Raleigh, or at the college, at such time as it may fix and at such other times as it may deem expedient for the good of the college, but not oftener than three times a year. It shall elect from its members an executive committee of five persons, one of whom shall be president pro tem., which committee shall meet at the call of the president and perform such duties as may be assigned them. The governor or president of the board shall call the first meeting of the board at such time as he deems fit. The members of the board shall receive the same mileage and per diem as is allowed members of the board of agriculture. (1907, c. 406, s. 5.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5812. Vacancies in board.—If any trustee shall fail to attend the sessions of the board for one year, without furnishing good excuse for his absence, his place shall be deemed vacant. All vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the governor, as provided by law in the chapter Agriculture, as to vacancies in the board of agriculture. (1907, c. 406, s. 15.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5813. Reports of board.—The board of trustees shall annually make a report to the governor concerning the work and requirements of the institution and of the receipts and expenditures of all funds which he shall transmit biennially to the legislature. (1907, c. 406, s. 16.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5814. Executive committee of board.—The executive committee, or special committee appointed for the purpose, shall annually, as soon after the first of July as practicable, investigate the affairs of each department of the college and of the entire institution, and report to the next session of the board its condition, with such recommendations as they may deem expedient. (1907, c. 406, s. 18.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5815. Application of receipts and property.—All receipts shall be applied to the maintenance and promotion of the college and to the objects specified in any laws making appropriations for its support, or in accordance with the expressed wishes of any donor, as far as practicable. (1907, c. 406, s. 17.)

§ 5816. Board to accept gifts and congressional donations.—The board shall use, as in its judgment may be proper, for the purposes of such college and for the benefit of education in agriculture and mechanic arts, as well as in furtherance of the powers and duties now or which may hereafter be conferred upon such board by law, any funds, buildings, lands, laboratories, and other property which may be in its possession. The board of trustees shall have power to accept and receive on the part of the state, property, personal, real or mixed, and any donations from the United States congress to the several states and territories for the benefit of agricultural experiment stations or the agricultural and mechanical colleges in connection therewith, and shall expend the amount so received in accordance with the acts of the congress in relation thereto. (1907, c. 406, s. 6.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5817. Land scrip fund.—The board of trustees shall own and hold the certificates of indebtedness, amounting to one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, issued for the principal of the land scrip fund, and the interest thereon shall be paid to them by the state treasurer semiannually on the first day of July and January in each year for the purpose of aiding in the support of such college in accordance with the act of the congress approved July second, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, entitled, "An act donating public lands to several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts." (1907, c. 406, s. 8.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5818. Powers of board as to college government and officials.—The board shall have power to appoint the president, professors, instructors, and other officers and servants, as they deem necessary and proper, whom they may remove for misbehavior, inability, neglect of duty, or other good reason, and to make such laws and regulations for the government of the institution as may appear to them necessary for the preservation of order and good morals therein, and as are usually made in such institutions and are not contrary to the constitution and laws of this state. (1907, c. 406, s. 9.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5819. Conferring of degrees.—The president and instructors, under the direction and supervision of the trustees, shall have power to confer such degrees or certificates of proficiency or marks of merit as may be deemed proper, and to arrange curriculum of college into courses of study necessary to be pursued in order to obtain the respective degrees provided for by the board. (1907, c. 406, s. 10.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5820. Free scholarships.—The board of trustees shall admit to the privileges of the college, free of any charge for tuition, upon proper evidence of good moral character and of their inability and the inability of their parents or guardians to pay for their tuition, and of their capacity to receive instruction, one hundred and twenty youths, limited to one for each member of the house of representatives, and no more, and shall apportion the same to the different counties applying according to their respective number of members in the house of representatives of North Carolina. An appointment may be made for one year at a time for a county from which there is no applicant from any other county. And it shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction in each county, on the days fixed by law for the examination of teachers of the public schools, also to examine candidates for appointment as county students to such college; blanks for such purpose to be furnished annually by the president of the college to the superintendents in each county. The bursar shall keep a roll of the students receiving free tuition and upon whose recommendation appointed, and furnish a copy annually to the board of trustees. (1907, c. 406, s. 11.)

See note under § 5806.
This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5821. Free tuition.—For the purpose of making it possible for a greater number of worthy and yet needy young men to advance the farming interest of the state by training themselves in modern agricultural methods, the trustees of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering are hereby authorized, if they can do so, to admit free of tuition into that institution one needy farm boy from each county. This free tuition, if given, shall not interfere with the scholarships which the trustees are now required by law to give. All young men granted free tuition under this section must agree to farm at least two years or to teach agriculture in the state schools. (1913, c. 153.)

See note under § 5806.
This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5821(a). Trustees to fix tuition fees.—The board of trustees of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering are authorized and directed to fix the tuition fees at the said college in such amount or amounts as they may deem best, taking into consideration the nature of each department and the cost of equipment and maintaining the same: Provided, however, that this section shall not be held or construed to affect or modify the provisions of sections five thousand eight hundred and twenty and five thousand eight hundred and twenty-one of the Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina. (1925, c. 256, s. 2.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5822. Sewer connection.—The board is empowered to contract with owners of property in the vicinity of the college grounds, and allow them to connect with the sewer construction for the college under chapter seven hundred and four of the public laws of one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, upon payment of proper sums respectively for the privilege. (1907, c. 406, s. 13.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5823. Water supply.—The board shall have the full power and authority to enter into any contract or agreement with any firm, person, or corporation in a sum not exceeding ten thousand dollars to furnish a permanent supply of water for the said college, and the executive committee hereinbefore mentioned is hereby authorized and empowered to carry out and make said contract for the purpose above set out. (Ex. Sess. 1908, c. 123, s. 1.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5824. Use of agricultural buildings.—The agricultural building built under the authority of chapter six hundred of the laws of one thousand nine hundred and three shall be used for conducting investigations and for instruction in respect to milk and beef cattle, diseases of animals, trucking, fruit-growing, commercial fertilizers, diversified farming, and other subjects pertaining to practical agriculture. (1907, c. 406, s. 14.)

§ 5825. Agricultural experiment station.—The agricultural experiment and control station shall be connected with the college and controlled by the board of trustees thereof. (1907, c. 406, s. 12.)

§ 5825(a). Number of trustees; term of office; present trustees; election.—There shall be eighty-five trustees of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, whose terms of office shall be eight years and who shall be elected by jury ballot of both houses of the general assembly. Included in this number shall be the present board of trustees, who shall continue as such trustees until the expiration of their present terms. Such election shall be in the general assembly at the same time that the trustees of the University of North Carolina are elected. At the first election of said trustees fifteen shall be elected for a term of two years, fifteen for a term of four years, fifteen for a term of six years, and fifteen for a term of eight years, less such number of trustees as are continued in office under the terms hereof. Thereafter their successors shall be elected for a full term of eight years. At least three members of said board of trustees shall be elected from each congressional district in the state of North Carolina, but not more than ten (10) shall be elected from any one congressional district. The superintendent of public instruction is ex-officio a trustee of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering. In the trustees shall be vested all the rights, privileges, franchises, endowments in any wise granted to or previously conferred upon the trustees of the North Carolina college of agriculture and engineering. Provided that twenty of the trustees of the State College shall be chosen from the state at large. (1923, c. 47, s. 1; 1929, c. 86, ss. 1, 2; c. 255, s. 1.)

See note under § 5806.

Editor's Note.—This statute was reviewed in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 308.

§ 5825(b). Removal of trustee for cause.—The board of trustees shall have power to vacate the appointment and remove a trustee for improper conduct, stating the cause of such removal on their journal; but this shall not be done except at an annual meeting of the board, and there shall be present at the doing thereof at least twenty members of the board. (1923, c. 47, s. 2.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(c). Vacancies in office.—Whenever any vacancy shall happen in the board of trustees it shall be the duty of the secretary of the board of trustees to communicate to the general assembly the existence of such vacancy, and thereupon there shall be elected by joint ballot of both houses a suitable person to fill the same. Whenever a trustee shall fail to be present for two successive years at the annual meetings of the board his place as trustee shall be deemed vacant within the meaning of this section. (1923, c. 47, s. 3.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(d). Annual meeting; quorum; special meetings; powers of trustees.—There shall be an annual meeting of the board of trustees in the city of Raleigh. At any of the annual meetings of the board any number of trustees, not less than twenty, shall constitute a quorum and be competent to exercise full power and authority to transact any of the business of the corporation, and the board or the governor shall have power to appoint special meetings of the trustees at such time and place as, in their opinion, the interest of the corporation may require; but no special meeting shall have power to revoke or alter any order, resolution, or vote of an annual meeting; and the board of trustees at the annual meeting may, by resolution, vote, or ordinance, from time to time, as to it shall seem meet, limit, control, and restrain the business to be transacted, and the power to be possessed and exercised by special meetings of the board, called according to law, and the powers of such special meetings shall be limited, controlled and restrained accordingly. And every order, vote, resolution, or other act done, made, or adopted by any special meeting contrary to any order, resolution, vote, or ordinance of the board at an annual meeting shall be absolutely, to all intents and purposes, null and void. (1923, c. 47, s. 4.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(e). Governor to preside; chairman.—The governor shall preside at all the meetings of the board at which he may be present; and if, by indisposition or other cause, the governor shall be absent from any meeting of the board, he may appoint, in writing, some other person, being a trustee, to act in his stead for the time being, which appointee shall preside accordingly; and if at any time the governor shall be absent from the meeting of the board and shall not have appointed some trustee to act in his stead, it shall be lawful for the board to appoint some one of their number to preside for the time being. (1923, c. 47, s. 5.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(f). Annual reports.—It shall be the duty of the trustees to cause annual reports to be made to the governor, to be transmitted by him to the general assembly, showing the receipts of the corporation from all sources, and the expenditures thereof, with the objects for which such expenditures were made. (1923, c. 47, s. 6.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(g). Regulations for management of college.—The trustees shall have power to make such rules and regulations for the management of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering as they may deem necessary and expedient, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state. (1923, c. 47, s. 7.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(h). Executive committee; meetings, per diem and mileage.—The trustees shall have power to appoint from their own number an executive committee of seven members, which shall meet at the call of the governor or president of the board of trustees. The members of the executive committee shall receive the same mileage and per diem as is allowed members of the board of agriculture. (1923, c. 47, s. 8.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(i). Appointment of president and other officers; degrees.—The trustees shall have the power of appointing a president of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering and such professors, tutors, and other officers as to them shall appear necessary and proper, whom they may remove for misbehavior, inability, or neglect of duty. They shall have the power to make all such laws and regulations for the government of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering and preservation of order and good morals therein as are usually made in such colleges, and as to them may appear necessary, provided the same are not contrary to the inalienable liberty of a citizen or to the laws of the state. The faculty of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, that is to say, the president and professors, by and with consent of the trustees, shall have the power of conferring all such degrees or marks of literary distinction as are usually conferred by colleges. (1923, c. 47, s. 9.)

See note under § 5806.

§ 5825(j). Land for experimental purposes.—The governing authorities of the State Prison and the board of trustees of North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering are hereby authorized to enter into an agreement whereby a certain portion of the land located near Method, North Carolina, and in the possession of the governing authorities of the State Prison may be conveyed to the college for a term of years or in fee simple, to be used by said college for research, experimental or demonstration purposes, and whenever an agreement is entered into, the Governor and Secretary of State are authorized to execute a lease or deed conveying to the College the number of acres of land agreed upon subject to the provisions of the act for the reorganization of the State Prison, §§ 7698 and following. (1925, c. 198, s. 1.)

§ 5825(k). Joint employment by college and state.—Whenever it shall be to the advantage of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering and any department of the State government to employ jointly any person, the board of trustees of the college, and the governing authority of the department, on the approval of the Governor, are hereby authorized to make such employment and to prorate the amount of the salary and other expenses that each shall be required to pay. (1925, c. 198, s. 2.)

Art. 3. Negro Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina.

§ 5826. Establishment and name.—A college of agricultural and mechanical arts is hereby established for the colored race to be located at some eligible site within this state. Such institution shall be denominated The Negro Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 4221; 1891, c. 549, ss. 1, 2; 1915, c. 267.)

§ 5827. Object of college.—The leading object of the institution shall be to teach practical agriculture and the mechanic arts and such branches of learning as relate thereto, not excluding academical and classical instruction. (Rev., s. 4222; 1891, c. 549, s. 3.)

§ 5828. Board of trustees; appointment; vacancies; president. — The management and control of the college and the care and preservation of all of its property shall be vested in a board of trustees, who shall be elected by the general assembly. The board of trustees shall consist of fifteen members, five of whom shall be elected at each regular session of the general assembly and shall hold office for six years. Any vacancy which, for any cause, may occur, shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term. The board shall annually elect one of their number to be president of the board of trustees. (Rev., s. 4223; 1891, c. 549, s. 4; 1899, c. 389, s. 1.)

§ 5829. Meetings of board; compensation; executive board.—The number and times of the meeting of the board of trustees shall be fixed by the board, and the trustees shall not receive any pay or per diem, but only their traveling expenses and hotel fare, and that only for four times in each year. The board of trustees shall have power to elect an executive board of three of their own number, who shall have the immediate management of the institution when the full board is not in session. (Rev., s. 4224; 1899, c. 389, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 5830. Powers of trustees.—The board of trustees shall have power to prescribe such rules for the management and preservation of good order and morals at the college as are usually made in such institutions; shall have power to appoint its president, instructors, and as many other officers or servants as to them shall appear necessary and proper, and shall fix their salaries, and shall have charge of the disbursement of the funds, and have general and entire supervision of the establishment and maintenance of the college, and the president and instructors in the college, by and with the consent of the board of trustees, shall have the power of conferring such certificates of proficiency or marks of merit and diplomas as are usually conferred by such colleges. (Rev., s. 4225; 1891, c. 549, s. 5.)

§ 5831. Admission of pupils.—In addition to the powers hereinbefore granted, the board of trustees shall have power to make such rules and regulations with respect to the admission of pupils to the college for the various congressional districts of this state as they may deem equitable and right, having due regard to the colored population thereof. (Rev., s. 4226; 1891, c. 549, s. 7.)

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5832. Power to receive property, and proportion of congressional donations.—The board of trustees is empowered to receive any donation of property which may be made to the college, and shall have power to invest or expend the same for the benefit of the college; and shall have power to accept on behalf of this college such proportion of the fund granted by the congress of the United States to the state of North Carolina for industrial and agricultural training as is apportioned to the colored race, in accordance with the act or acts of the congress in relation thereto. (Rev., s. 4227; 1891, c. 549, ss. 6, 12.)

Art. 4. North Carolina College for Women

§ 5833. Incorporation and corporate powers.—The members of the board of directors of the institution for the education of young women of the white race, which institution is the property of the state and is now located at Greensboro, are and shall continue to be a corporation under the name of The North Carolina College for Women, with all the powers usually conferred upon such bodies, enabling it to receive, protect, and hold property, and do all things necessary for the purpose for which the corporation is created. (Rev., s. 4251; 1891, c. 139, s. 1; 1897, c. 230, s. 1; 1919, c. 199, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This college is now consolidated with the University of North Carolina and is to be managed by the board of trustees of the consolidated University. See §§ 5805(a)-5805(m).

§ 5834. Board of directors; election; qualification and number; the Governor of the State ex-officio chairman; the State Superintendent a member.—The corporation shall be managed by a board of twelve (12) directors, no two of the ten (10) appointive directors shall be chosen from the same Congressional District. The term of office of each appointive director shall be six years. The Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint directors to fill vacancies as they may respectively occur, either by the expiration of the terms of office of the present incumbents or by death or resignation or removal from the Congressional District from which any director was appointed. The Governor of the State shall be ex-officio a member and chairman of the Board of Directors, and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be ex-officio a member and vice-chairman of the Board, and shall preside over the meetings in the absence of the Governor. All directors shall take an oath faithfully to perform their duties as required by law, and shall hold office for the term for which they are appointed or until their appointment becomes vacant for the causes herein stated. The Board of Directors shall report biennially as required by section seven of the Constitution of North Carolina and the Executive Budget Act. (Rev. s. 4252; 1891, c. 139, s. 3; 1929, c. 223, s. 2.)

See note under § 5833.

§ 5835. Objects of institution; free tuition to teachers.—The objects of the institution shall be to teach young white women all branches of knowledge recognized as essential to a liberal education, such as will familiarize them with the world's best thought and achievement and prepare them for intelligent and useful citizenship; to make special provision for training in the science and art of teaching, school management, and school supervision; to provide women with such training in the arts, sciences, and industries as may be conducive to their self-support and community usefulness; to render to the people of the state such aid and encouragement as will tend to the dissemination of knowledge, the fostering of loyalty and patriotism, and the promotion of the general welfare. Tuition shall be free, upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the board of directors, to those who signify their intention to teach in the schools of North Carolina; and also, in the discretion of said board, to those who signify their intention to enter other fields of public service. (1919, c. 199, s. 2.)

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5836. Rules and regulations; admission of students.—The board of directors shall make rules and regulations for the government of the corporation and the admission of students, but shall not discriminate against any county in the number of students allowed it, in case all applicants cannot be accommodated. Each county shall have representation in proportion to its white school population, if it desires it; and, should any county fail to avail itself of its proportional number, the board of directors may recognize applicants from counties which already have their proportionate representation. (Rev., s. 4254; 1891, c. 139, s. 4.)

See note under § 5833.

§ 5837. Directors to appoint president and faculty; extension work.—The board of directors shall have the power of appointing a president and such professors, tutors, and other officers as to them shall appear necessary and proper, for such terms and under conditions as they may prescribe, and shall also have the power to make regulations for the government of said college as shall not conflict with the laws of the state. And the faculty of the college, by and with the consent of the board of directors, shall have the power of conferring such degrees as are usually conferred by colleges. It shall be the duty of the faculty of the North Carolina college for women to extend its influence and usefulness as far as possible to the persons of the state who are unable to avail themselves of its advantages as resident students, by extension courses, by lectures, and by such other means as may seem to them most effective. (1919, c. 199, s. 3.)

See note under § 5833.

§ 5838. Matron's hall.—For the benefit of those who may desire to avail themselves of it a matron's hall shall be established at which board shall be furnished at actual cost. (Rev., s. 4257; 1891, c. 139, s. 12; 1905, c. 502; 1919, c. 199, s. 4.)

Art. 5. Western Carolina Teachers' College

§ 5839. Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School incorporated.—The Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School, having been created by chapter three hundred and sixty-nine of the private laws of nineteen hundred and five a public educational institution of the state, is and shall remain a corporation under the name of the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School, with power to sue and be sued, to make contracts and to exercise all other corporate rights and privileges incident to a public educational institution of the state and necessary to the management of the school. (1905 [Pr.], c. 369.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1925, c. 270, § 1, changed the name of this school to Cullowhee State Normal School. It is now the Western Carolina Teachers' College. See § 5842(d).

§ 5840. Board of directors: term; vacancies; state superintendent a member and chairman.—The board of directors of the Cullowhee normal and industrial college shall consist of the persons named in chapter sixty-seven of the public laws of nineteen hundred and fifteen and their successors elected by the general assembly for terms of six years as the terms of the directors named in that act expire. Vacancies occurring by death, resignation, or otherwise may be filled by the board. The state superintendent of public instruction is ex officio a member and chairman of the board. (1915, c. 27.)

See note under § 5839. As to board of trustees of present school, see § 5842(e).

§ 5841. Property transferred from Cullowhee high school.—All property belonging to the Cullowhee high school, established by chapter one hundred and seventy of the private laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-one, is from and after the establishment of the Cullowhee normal and industrial school, by chapter three hundred and sixty-nine of the private laws of nineteen hundred and five, transferred to the state board of education and its successors in office, to be under the control and care of the superintendent of public instruction. (1905 [Pr.], c. 369; 1909, c. 644.)

See note under § 5839.

§ 5842. Management and rules; free tuition.—The Cullowhee normal and industrial school shall be under the supervision of the state superintendent of public instruction, who shall have power to prescribe rules and regulations for the management of the same. Young men and women preparing themselves for teachers shall pay no charge for tuition in the school. (Rev., s. 4248.)

See note under § 5839.

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5842(a). Power to acquire real property.—For its further development and expansion, the Cullowhee normal and industrial school is authorized and empowered to acquire by gift, purchase or condemnation any adjacent real property of any character or kind whatsoever, whenever its board of directors, with the approval of the state board of education, shall determine that said real estate is needed for building sites, athletic or recreation grounds, pastures, or other needful purposes. (1923, c. 29, s. 1.)

See note under § 5839.

§ 5842(b). Land subject to condemnation; procedure.—If said board of directors, exercising the authority conferred upon it by section 5842(a), shall decide that any adjacent land now having a church or cemetery located upon it is needed for the proper expansion of such school, and its value cannot be fixed by agreement between said board and its present owners, then the said Cullowhee normal and industrial school shall proceed to condemn the same under chapter 33. (1923, c. 29, s. 2.)

See note under § 5839.

§ 5842(c). Removal of bodies if cemetery condemned; replacing of monuments.—In the event that a cemetery is taken over for condemnation under the authority contained in section 5842(b), the board of directors shall procure some other suitable site, and remove or cause to be removed the remains of bodies therein to this site, at the cost of said school, and have them reinterred therein, properly replacing such marks of identification as may exist at the time of removal; anything in sections four thousand three hundred and twenty-one and four thousand three hundred and twenty-two to the contrary notwithstanding. (1923, c. 29, s. 3.)

§ 5842 (d). Name changed to Western Carolina Teachers' College.—Sub-sec. (a) The Cullowhee State Normal School at Cullowhee, North Carolina, shall hereafter be known as Western Carolina Teachers' College.

Sub-sec. (b) The board of Trustees of the Cullowhee State Normal School shall be the Board of Trustees of Western Carolina Teachers' College. They shall be appointed in the same manner and shall have the same tenure of office as the present Board of Trustees, and shall have the same authority and control over the affairs of the institution as is now exercised by them or may hereafter be conferred upon them by the General Assembly.

Sub-sec. (c) All appropriations heretofore made or hereafter to be made, all gifts, accounts, notes, or property of whatever kind under the control of the Cullowhee State Normal School are hereby declared to be the property of Western Carolina Teachers' College and under the control of its Board of Trustees.

Sub-sec. (d) The trustees, upon the recommendation of the faculty, are hereby authorized and empowered to confer or cause to be conferred such degrees as are usually conferred by similar institutions. (1925, c. 270, s. 1; 1929, c. 251, s. 1.)

§ 5842(e). Trustees; appointment; terms; to hold property.—The present board of trustees of the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School shall continue in office until their terms shall expire under this article. The board of trustees of the Western Carolina Teachers' College shall consist of nine persons to be appointed by the Governor, and shall hold office for four years from and after their appointment. Within thirty days from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint five members of the board. Within six months from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint four others members of the board. At the time of making the appointments as herein provided for the Governor shall designate which members of the present board are to be succeeded by his appointees. Any vacancies occurring in the board shall be filled by the Governor. The Governor shall transmit the names of his appointees to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly for confirmation. The said board is hereby created a body corporate, to be known as "the board of trustees of Western Carolina Teachers' College." All property, real, personal, or mixed, of every kind and character, now owned and under the control of the board of trustees of the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School at Cullowhee, or owned and under the control of the State Board of Education or of any other person or corporation for the use and benefit of the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School, is hereby transferred to and the title thereof is hereby vested in the board of trustees of the Western Carolina Teachers' College who shall take, receive and hold the same for the use and benefit of the Western Carolina Teachers' College; the trustee may purchase and hold real and personal property; receive donations, which donations shall be received by them for the purposes expressed by the donors thereof and shall be used for such purpose and no other, and do all other things necessary, proper and useful to carry out the provisions of this article. All property now owned by the Cullowhee Milling Company, a corporation, the stock of which is owned by the trustees, shall be transferred to the board of trustees of the Western Carolina Teachers' College and the said corporation shall be dissolved according to laws. The trustees shall take over the property of the Cullowhee Milling Company and use it for the benefit of the Western Carolina Teachers' College as fully as if it was now owned by the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School and not by the Cullowhee Milling Company. (1925, c. 270, s. 2; 1929, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 5842 (g). Trustees to hold property.—It shall be the duty of the board of trustees of the Western Carolina Teachers' College to take and hold all property, of whatever kind, heretofore held by the trustees of the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School. The said boards of trustees and their successors in office shall hold in trust, for the State of North Carolina, all such property as is herein transferred to them, or to be later acquired by them for the purposes of said school. (1925, c. 270, s. 4; 1929, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 5842 (h). Duties of trustees.—It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to provide for the spending of all moneys whatsoever belonging to, appropriated to, or in any way acquired by, the Western Carolina Teachers' College; they shall provide for the erection of all buildings, the making of all needed improvements, the maintenance and enlargement of physical plant of the said normal school, and may do all things deemed useful and wise by them for the good of the school: Provided, however, that before letting contracts for the erection of any new buildings, the plants for the same shall be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, by the Secretary of the State Board of Health, and by the Insurance Commissioner of North Carolina. (1925, c. 270, s. 5; 1929, c. 251, s. 2.))

§ 5842(i). Election of president, teachers, employees; qualifications of teachers.—It shall be the duty of the board of trustees to elect a president of the said normal school, to fix his salary, and his tenure of office. Upon the recommendation of the president, it shall be the duty of the board of trustees to elect other officers, teachers, and employees, to fix their duties, tenure of office and their respective salaries. No person shall be elected as a teacher or shall teach in the regular classes of the Western Carolina Teachers' College whose academic and professional qualifications are lower than that represented by graduation from a standard college or its undoubted equivalent: Provided, that persons who do not have such qualifications may be elected and may teach as a substitute or temporary teacher. (1925, c. 270, s. 6; 1929, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 5842(j). Duties of president.—It shall be the duty of the president to act as secretary of the board of trustees, to keep, in a book to be provided for the purpose, a full and complete record of all meetings of said board, and he shall be the custodian of all records, deeds, contracts and the like. He shall, with the approval of the chairman of the board, call all meetings of the board, giving proper notice to each member of every such meeting. The president shall be the administrative and executive head of the institution. He shall prepare annually, for the board of trustees, a detailed report of the normal school for the preceding year, a copy of which report shall be sent to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and a copy shall be filed in the office of the president. (1925, c. 270, s. 7.)

§ 5842 (k). Purpose of school, standards.—The central purpose of the Western Carolina Teachers' College shall be to prepare teachers for the public schools of North Carolina. To that end, the president shall prepare courses to study, subject to the approval of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. It shall be the duty of the State Superintendent to visit the Western Carolina Teachers' College from time to time, and to advise with the president about standards, equipment and organization, to the end that a normal school of high grade shall be maintained. The standards shall not be lower in the main, than the average standard of normal schools of like rank in the United States. (1925, c. 170, s. 8; 1929, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 5842 (l). Practice of demonstration school.—It shall be the duty of the board of education and county superintendent of Jackson County to cooperate with the board of trustees of the Western Carolina Teachers' College in maintaining a practice or demonstration school. It shall be the duty of board of trustees to furnish buildings, equipment, water and lights for such practice school; while the county board of education and the local school authorities shall furnish fuel and janitors, and shall pay all teachers in the practice school and regular State or county salary schedule, with the proviso that any excess in salaries on account of specially qualified teachers shall be paid by the board of trustees of the normal school. The qualifications of teachers in the practice school shall be fixed by the board of trustees; the nomination of such teachers shall be made jointly by the county superintendent and the president; but the practice teachers shall be elected by the school authorities of the local school district. The practice school, while under the general administration and control of the normal school authorities, shall remain an integral part of the county school system, and be subject to the same regulations as to supervision, standards, records, and the like as other graded schools of the county. In case of any disagreement between the officials herein referred to, said dispute shall be referred to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, whose decision shall be final. (1925, c. 270, s. 9; 1929, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 5842(m). Endowment fund.—The board of trustees are hereby authorized to establish a permanent endowment fund, to be loaned to needy and worthy students. The board may receive gifts and donations, and may, after furnishing lights and power to the normal school, sell excess current, if any there shall be, at a rate approved by the corporation commission, to the people in the community, and set aside for said endowment any moneys coming to the institution from such sources. The board of trustees are hereby empowered to make rules and regulations for the proper safeguarding and loaning of said funds. (1925, c. 270, s. 10.)

§ 5842 (n). Term of trustees; vacancy. — Except as herein otherwise provided, the trustees of the Western Carolina Teachers' College shall be appointed for the term of four years each. Whenever the term of office of any member or members of the board of trustees is about to expire, or should a vacancy occur for any reason, the president shall immediately notify the Governor, to the end that he may make appointment pursuant to this article. (1925, c. 270, s. 11; 1929, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 5842(o). Appropriations paid to new corporation.—All appropriations made to the Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School for the fiscal year ending June the thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, remaining unpaid, on March 10, 1925, shall be paid to the new corporation in the manner and form provided in the appropriation act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three. (1925, c. 270, s. 12.)

Art. 6. Cherokee Indian Normal School of Robeson County

§ 5843. Incorporation and corporate powers; location.—The Cherokee Indian Normal School of Robeson County shall be and remain a state institution for educational purposes, in the county of Robeson, under the name and style aforesaid, and by that name may have perpetual succession, sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with; have and hold school property, including buildings, lands, and all appurtenances thereto, situated in the county of Robeson, at any place in that county to be selected by the trustees between Bear swamp and Lumber river; acquire by purchase, donation, or otherwise, real and personal property for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a school of high grade for teachers of the race of Cherokee Indians of Robeson county in North Carolina. (Rev., s. 4236; 1887, c. 400, ss. 1, 6; 1911, cc. 168, ss. 1, 2, 215, s. 4; 1913, c. 123, ss. 4, 6.)

§ 5844. Appointment of trustees.—The state board of education shall appoint seven members of the Indian race, formerly called Croatans, and now known as the Cherokee Indians of Robeson County, to be constituted the board of trustees of said school, as follows: Two members for the term of two years, two for the term of four years, and three for the term of six years, and at the expiration of these terms their successors shall be appointed by the state board of education for a term of six years. (1911, c. 168, s. 2; 1913, c. 123, s. 4.)

§ 5845. President; election and duties.—The trustees shall elect one of their own number president of the corporation, whose duties shall be such as devolve upon such officers in similar cases, or such as shall be defined by the trustees. (Rev., s. 4237; 1887, c. 400, s. 2; 1911, c. 168, s. 2.)

§ 5846. Trustees to employ and discharge teachers and manage school.—The board of trustees of said Cherokee Indian normal school of Robeson county shall have the power to employ and discharge teachers, to prevent negroes from attending said school, and to exercise the usual functions of control and management of said school, their action being subject to the approval of the state board of education. (1911, c. 168, s. 2.)

§ 5846(1). Department for teaching of deaf, dumb and blind.—The board of trustees of the Cherokee Indian Normal School of Robeson county are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to employ some person trained in the teaching of the deaf and dumb or blind and to provide a department in said school in which said deaf, dumb and/or blind Indian children of Robeson and surrounding counties may be taught, no provisions being now made for the teaching of said children, the said teacher to be employed in the same manner and under the same rules and regulations governing other teachers in the said school. (1935, c. 435.)

§ 5847. Admission and qualification of pupils.—Persons of the Indian race of Robeson County who are descendants of those that were determined to constitute those who were within the terms and contemplation of chapter fifty-one, Laws one thousand eighteen hundred and eighty-five, and within the census taken pursuant thereto by the County Board of Education of Robeson County, of either sex, resident in North Carolina, who are not under thirteen years of age, may attend the Cherokee Indian Normal School of Robeson County, and children not under eleven years of age may be admitted who can stand an approved examination in spelling, reading, writing, primary geography, and the fundamental rules of arithmetic. All those who shall enjoy the privileges of such school as students shall previously obligate themselves to teach the youth of the race of Cherokee Indians of Robeson County for a stated period. (Rev., s. 4241; 1887, c. 400, s. 10; 1893, c. 515, s. 2; 1911, c. 215, ss. 2, 3; 1913, c. 123, s. 4; 1929, c. 195, s. 6.)

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

This section applies to residents of Robeson who have come in since 1885. Goins v. Training School, 169 N. C. 736, 86 S. E. 629.

§ 5848. Tax exemption.—All property, real and personal, acquired by this corporation, by purchase, donation, or otherwise, as long as it is used for educational purposes, shall be exempt from taxation, whether on the part of the state or county. (Rev., s. 4239; 1887, c. 400, s. 8.)

§ 5849. Title to property of school conveyed to state board of education.—In accordance with the recent action of the trustees, in meeting assembled, of the Croatan state normal school, now known as the Cherokee Indian Normal School of Robeson County, situated near Pembroke, North Carolina, said school being incorporated under chapter four hundred, public laws of one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, which action of the trustees of said school has been duly certified to by the president, C. R. Sampson, and the secretary, A. A. Locklear, the said trustees are hereby empowered to convey by deed to the state board of education the title to all property of said school, and the state board of education is hereby authorized to accept same. (1911, c. 168, s. 1; 1911, c. 215, s. 2.)

Art. 7. Negro Normal Schools

§ 5850. Power of state board of education to establish.—The state board of education is hereby empowered to establish a normal school at any place it may deem most suitable, either in connection with one of the colored schools of high grade in the state, or otherwise, for teaching and training young men and women of the colored race, from the age of fifteen to twenty-five years, for teachers in the common schools of the state for the colored race. A preparatory department may be established in connection with the colored normal schools. And such board shall have the power to remove or close any of the existing state normal schools for the colored race. (Rev., s. 4180; Code, ss. 2651, 2652; 1881, cc. 91, 141, s. 5; 1879, c. 54, ss. 1, 2; 1876-7, c. 234, s. 2; 1901, c. 565, s. 1.)

§ 5851. Beneficiaries expected to teach three years.—It will be required and expected of all young persons who may be thus taught and trained for teachers of colored common schools at the cost of the state to apply themselves, as far as practicable, to the occupation of teaching, within the borders of this state, for a term of not less than three years after leaving school. (Rev., s. 4181; Code, s. 2653; 1876-7, c. 234, s. 3.)

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5852. Board of directors; appointment; powers; service without compensation.—The state board of education shall have power to appoint a board of seven directors, not more than five of whom shall reside in the county in which the school is located, for each of the colored normal schools. This board shall have the general management of such schools and shall have power to elect the teachers of the same and such other powers for the management of such schools as are not vested in the state board of education. These directors shall receive no compensation for their services other than actual expenses while attending meetings of the board. Two members of these boards of directors shall serve two years, two four years, and two six years; and they shall be appointed in May, one thousand nine hundred and seven, and thereafter, as vacancies occur by the expiration of the term of office of each, his successor shall be appointed by the state board of education for a term of six years, and vacancies occurring by resignation or death or otherwise of any member of said board of directors, before the expiration of his term of office, shall be filled by the state board of education for the unexpired term. The board of directors of each school shall elect one of their number chairman, one secretary, and one treasurer. All accounts or bills must be approved by the chairman and secretary before being paid by the treasurer. (Rev., s. 4182; 1903, c. 740; 1907, c. 856, s. 1; 1919, c. 309.)

§ 5853. Superintendent; election, duties, and salary.—The state board of education may elect a superintendent of these colored normal schools, and shall fix his salary. His duties shall be outlined by the state board of education, and he shall perform such other duties in the educational department of the state as the state superintendent of public instruction may direct. His salary and expenses shall be paid out of the annual appropriations for the state normal schools for the colored race upon the requisition of the state superintendent of public instruction. (Rev., s. 4182; 1903, c. 740; 1907, c. 856, s. 1; 1931, c. 276, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the words "and of the Cherokee Indian normal school of Robeson County" formerly appearing in lines four and five of this section. See note to § 5775.

§ 5854. Special conditional appropriation to Slater school.—For the purpose of aiding the trustees of Slater industrial and state normal school, and for securing for the state the use of the buildings erected and now used by that corporation, the treasurer shall pay to the state board of education, out of any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, a sum equal in amount to the sum annually raised by the trustees and officers of such corporation; but the amount to be so paid in any one year shall not exceed one thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 4185; 1899, c. 561, ss. 1, 8.)

Art. 8. Appalachian Training School

§ 5855. Incorporation and corporate powers; name; vacancies.—The person named in section one of chapter seven hundred and ninety-eight of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and three, in section one of chapter five hundred and twenty-six of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and seven, in section one of chapter five hundred and twenty-seven of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and in section one of chapter one hundred of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and their successors, are and shall continue to be a board of trustees, and as such constitute a corporation under the name of the Appalachian Training School for Teachers, and as such may sue and be sued, may purchase and hold real estate and personalty, receive donations, and do all things useful and necessary to carry out the true intent and meaning of said chapters. But all real property acquired for the purpose of such corporation under the provisions of said chapters shall be conveyed by deed to the state of North Carolina. The terms of office of all the trustees in office March tenth, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, shall expire on May first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, with their successors to be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. The superintendent of public instruction of North Carolina is hereby declared to be a member ex officio of the board of trustees. (Rev., s. 4229; 1903, c. 798, ss. 1, 9, 11; 1907, c. 526, s. 1; 1915, c. 527, s. 1; 1917, c. 100, s. 1; 1919, c. 231, s. 1.)

§ 5856. Object of the corporation; free tuition provided.—The object in creating such corporation is the establishment of a training school for teachers in western North Carolina, to which end tuition in such school shall be free to all persons of the white race in the state who shall sign a pledge to teach in the schools of North Carolina for a term of not less than two years. (Rev., s. 4230; 1903, c. 798, s. 6.)

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5857. Corporate meetings and organization; treasurer's bond.—The board of trustees shall meet annually at a time and place to be fixed by them and elect a president and secretary and treasurer of the corporation. The president of said board and five members shall be a quorum to transact any and all business. The treasurer shall give a bond, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the corporators, payable to the state of North Carolina, in a sum not less than double the amount of money that shall go into his hands. (Rev., s. 4231; 1903, c. 798, ss. 2, 10; 1907, c. 526, s. 2.)

§ 5858. Solicitation of subscriptions. — The board of trustees shall open books of subscription, and shall have power to appoint an agent to solicit and collect subscriptions for the purpose of erecting buildings suitable and necessary for the establishment of such school. (Rev., s. 4232; 1903, c. 798, s. 3.)

§ 5859. Election of teachers; length of school term.—The board of trustees shall elect all teachers and fix their salaries and the length of the term of the school. (Rev., s. 4233; 1903, c. 798, s. 8.)

§ 5860. Appointment of police officer authorized.—The board of trustees of the Appalachian training school may appoint some suitable person as police officer for the premises of said training school and the highways passing through it, and he shall have the same power and authority therein as a police officer of an incorporated town. (1919, c. 231, s. 2.)

§ 5861. Annual reports to state superintendent.—Full reports of the work of the corporation and complete financial statements of the treasurer shall be made annually to the state superintendent of public instruction on or before the first day of October, and such other reports as such superintendent may require. (Rev., s. 4234; 1903, c. 798, s. 11.)

§ 5862. Trustees may dispose of land for railroad depot and right of way.—The trustees of the Appalachian training school at Boone, N. C., are empowered to sell or donate a site for a depot, not to exceed three acres, on the land now owned by the training school to the Watauga and Yadkin river railroad company, or any other railroad company, for the purpose of erecting a depot on same in the town of Boone, N. C., at whatever price may be agreed upon by the trustees and the railroad company. And the board of trustees are empowered to sell or donate to said railroad company, or any other railroad company, a right of way over their said property for the purpose of constructing a railroad over same. The board of trustees are further empowered to execute deeds to said railroad company, or any other railroad company, for the right of way and for the site for the construction of a depot. They are further empowered to apply any funds derived under this section to the permanent improvement of said Appalachian training school, in such way as may appear best to them. (1913, c. 115; 1917, c. 83.)

Art. 9. East Carolina Teachers' College

§ 5863. Incorporation and corporate powers.—The trustees of the East Carolina teachers' college, established by an act of the general assembly of North Carolina of one thousand nine hundred and seven, and located at Greenville, North Carolina, shall be and are hereby constituted a body corporate by and under the name and style of "The Board of Trustees of the East Carolina Teachers' College," and by that name may sue and be sued, make contracts, acquire real and personal property by gift, purchase, or devise, and exercise such other rights and privileges incident to corporations of like character as are necessary for the proper administration of said college. (1907, c. 820, ss. 11, 12, 16; 1911, c. 159, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 27, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended by Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 27, sec. 1, by substituting the word "college" for the original words "training school" twice appearing in this section.

Validity of Bond for Establishment.—See Cox v. Com., 146 N. C. 584, 60 S. E. 516.

§ 5864. Object of college.—The college shall be maintained by the state for the purpose of giving to young white men and women such education and training as shall fit and qualify them to teach in the public schools of North Carolina. (1907, c. 820, s. 15; 1911, c. 159, s. 2.)

§ 5865. Free tuition; diplomas and certificates.—Tuition in said college shall be free to those who signify their intention to teach for such time and upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the board of trustees; and the board of trustees, upon the recommendation of the faculty, shall give those students in said college who have completed the prescribed course of study a diploma of graduation, and shall have the power to confer degrees; and they may upon the recommendation of the faculty grant certificates of proficiency for the completion of special courses. (1907, c. 820, s. 14; 1911, c. 159, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 68, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment (Ex. Sess. 1920, ch. 68, sec. 1) authorized the board of trustees to confer degrees upon students completing the course of said college.

This section is repealed in so far as it conflicts with § 5912(k).

§ 5866. Board of trustees; appointment and terms; removal; vacancies.—The Board of Trustees of East Carolina Teachers' College shall consist of twelve members to be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction as ex officio chairman, making thirteen members of the Board in all: Provided, that the twelve members appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate each shall serve for a period of six years or until his successor has been appointed: Provided, further, that the first board under this act shall be appointed as follows: one member for two years, four for four years and four for six years: Provided, further, that the term of office shall begin July first of the calendar years ending in an odd number, i. e., July first, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine: Provided, further, that all of the members of the present board appointed prior to nineteen hundred and twenty-seven shall hold office to June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine.

Members of the Board of Trustees shall not be removed from office except upon complaint filed by the Chairman of the Board and the case heard before the Governor and the Council of State: Provided, that whenever a Trustee shall fail to be present for one year at the regular meetings of the Board, his place as Trustee shall be deemed vacant and said vacancy shall be filled by the Governor subject to the approval of the Senate when it next convenes. (1907, cc. 820, 515; 1911, c. 159, s. 2; 1925, c. 306, s. 7; 1927, c. 164; 1929, c. 259.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1925 provided that the board be appointed by the governor instead of the board of education. The amendment of 1927, increased the number of trustees from nine to twelve, and provided that these three additional members of the Board of Trustees shall be appointed by the Governor within thirty days from the ratification of the amendment; and that whenever a trustee shall fail to be present for one year at the regular meetings of the Board, his place as trustee shall be deemed vacant and said vacancy shall be filled by the Governor.

§ 5867. Course of study.—The board of trustees shall have power to prescribe the course of study of said college and shall lay special emphasis on those subjects taught in the public schools of the state, and on the art and science of teaching. (1907, c. 820, s. 13; 1911, c. 159, s. 4; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 68, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The Laws of 1920 Extra Session 1920, ch. 68, sec. 2 struck out from the end of this section the prohibition upon the power of the board of trustees that they would not prescribe a curriculum beyond that which would fit and prepare a student for unconditional entrance into the freshman's class of the University of North Carolina.

§ 5868. Discrimination against counties.—The board of trustees shall make no rules that discriminate against one county in favor of another in the admission of pupils into said college. (1907, c. 820, s. 17.)

§ 5869. Power of exclusion from dormitories.—When, in the judgment of the board of trustees, the best interest of the college will be promoted thereby, the board may decline to admit young men into the rooms of the dormitories. (1911, c. 159, s. 6.)

§ 5870. Vesting the rights and titles.—All rights and titles heretofore acquired in any way for the use and benefit of said college shall vest and remain in the said board of trustees as herein incorporated. (1911, c. 159, s. 7; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 27, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment 1921 (Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 27, sec. 2) substituted the word "college" for the words "training school."

§ 5871. Biennial reports to governor.—The trustees shall report biennially to the governor, before the meeting of each general assembly, the operation and condition of said college. (1907, c. 820, s. 15; 1911, c. 159, s. 8.)

Art. 10. State School for the Blind and the Deaf

§ 5872. Incorporation and management.—The institution for the education of the deaf and dumb and the blind, located in the city of Raleigh, on Caswell square, and on a lot located in the eastern part of the city, belonging to the state, and on which the institution for the colored children is located, shall be a corporation under the name and style of The State School for the Blind and the Deaf, and shall be under the management of a board of directors and superintendent. (Rev., 4187; Code, s. 2227; 1881, c. 211, s. 1; 1917, c. 35, s. 1.)

Cited in Hass v. Hass, 195 N. C. 734, 739, 143 S. E. 541.

§ 5873. Directors; appointment; terms; vacancies.—There shall be eleven (11) directors of the School for the Blind and Deaf at Raleigh, to be appointed by the Governor. Within thirty days from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint six directors and within six months from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint five directors. At the time of making the appointment the Governor shall designate which of the present members of the board are to be succeeded by his nominees and appointees. The terms of the directors shall be four years from their appointment. The Governor shall fill all vacancies. The Governor shall transmit to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly the names of his appointees for confirmation. (Rev., s. 4188; Code, s. 2228; 1889, cc. 311, 540; 1901, c. 707; 1905, c. 67; 1925, c. 306, s. 10.)

Editor's Note.—Two material changes were made by the Laws of 1925. The term of the directors was decreased from six to four years. There were formerly three classes, appointed at intervals of two years. All are now appointed in the same year. For removal of the officers provided for in this section see section 5912(h).

§ 5874. President, executive committee, and other officials; election, terms, and salaries.—The board of directors shall organize by electing one of its number president and three an executive committee. The terms of office in each case shall be for two years. The board shall elect a superintendent, who shall be ex officio secretary of the board, and whose term of office shall be for three years; also a steward and a physician whose terms of office shall be for two years; and such other officers, agents, and teachers as shall be deemed necessary. The compensation for officers and agents and teachers, mentioned in this section, shall be fixed by the board, and shall not be increased nor reduced during their term of service. The board shall have power to erect any buildings necessary, make improvements, and in general do all matters and things which may be beneficial to the good government of the institution, and to this end may make by-laws for the government of the same. The board of directors may term the head teacher of the white department "principal," and the chief officer of the colored department "principal of the colored department." (Rev., s. 4189; Code, s. 2229; 1881, c. 211, s. 3; 1917, c. 35, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 5875. Meetings of the board.—The board shall meet at stated times and also at such other times as it may deem necessary. The members of the board shall serve without reward, save their traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of their official duties. (Rev., s. 4190; Code, s. 2230; 1881, c. 211, s. 4.)

§ 5876. Admission of pupils; how admission obtained.—The board of directors shall, on application, receive in the institution for the purpose of education, in the main department, all white blind children, and in the department for the colored all colored deaf-mutes and blind children, residents of this state, not of confirmed immoral character, nor imbecile, nor unsound in mind, nor incapacitated by physical infirmity for useful instruction, who are between the ages of seven and twenty-one years: Provided, that application shall be made and applicants received at stated times, which shall be at the commencement of some scholastic year.

In case of deaf-mutes the following questions shall be answered:

Name?
Is the child white or colored?
When and where was he born?
Was he born deaf?
At what age did he lose his hearing?
By what disease or accident did he become deaf?
Is the deafness total or partial?
Have any attempts been made to remove the deafness?
Is there any ability to articulate or read on the lips?
Have any attempts been made to communicate instruction?
Is he laboring under any bodily infirmity?
Does he show any signs of mental imbecility or idiocy?
Has he had the smallpox or been vaccinated?
Has he had the scarlet fever?
Has he had the measles?
Has he had the mumps?
Has he had the whooping-cough?
Are there any other cases of deafness in the family?
Are there any cases of deafness among relatives or ancestors?
What is the name of the father?
What is the name of the mother?
What is the occupation of the father?
What is his postoffice address?
Is either of the parents dead?
Has a second connection been formed by marriage?
Was there any relationship between the parents previous to marriage?

In case of blind applicants the following questions shall be answered:

Name?
Is the child white or colored?
When and where was he born?
Was he born blind?
At what age did he become blind?
By what disease or accident did he become blind?
Is the blindness total or partial?
Have any attempts been made to remove the blindness?
Have any attempts been made to communicate instruction?
Is he laboring under any bodily infirmity?
Does he show any signs of mental inbecility or idiocy?
Has he had the smallpox or been vaccinated?
Has he had the scarlet fever?
Has he had the measles?
Has he had the mumps?
Has he had the whooping-cough?
Are there any other cases of blindness in the family?
Are there any cases of blindness among relatives or ancestors?
What is the name of the father?
What is the name of the mother?
What is the occupation of the father?
What is his postoffice address?
Is either of the parents dead?
Has a second connection been formed by marriage?
Was there any relationship between the parents previous to marriage?

When the application is made, it shall be filed in the office of the superintendent, and on reception of applicant a record of such pupil shall be made and entered in a book to be kept for that purpose. (Rev., s. 4191; Code, s. 2231; 1881, c. 211, s. 5; 1917, c. 35, s. 1.)

§ 5877. Admission of curable blind.—The directors of the institution for the blind, in the city of Raleigh, shall set apart two rooms in said institutions, one for males and one for females, for the use of the curable blind who, by reason of poverty, are unable to pay for treatment. It shall be the duty of the directors of the institutions for the blind in Raleigh to admit into such institutions, from time to time, such of the blind of the state as they may deem to be curable. (Rev., s. 4192; 1895, c. 461.)

§ 5878. Admission of pupils from other states.—The board may, on such terms as they deem proper, admit as pupils persons of like infirmity from any other state: Provided, such power shall not be exercised to the exclusion of any child of this state, and the person so admitted shall not acquire the condition of a resident of the state by virtue of such pupilage. (Rev., s. 4193; Code, s. 2232; 1881, c. 211, s. 6.)

§ 5879. Board may confer degrees.—The board may, upon the recommendation of the superintendent and faculty, confer such degree or marks of literary distinction as may be thought best to encourage merit. (Rev., s. 4194; Code, s. 2233; 1881, c. 211, s. 7; 1917, c. 35, s. 1.)

§ 5880. Election of officers.—The board of directors shall, on the second Monday in May, one thousand nine hundred and five, and every three years thereafter, elect an officer to be styled superintendent. They may elect all officers and teachers at the same time. The terms of office of the superintendent and the steward shall begin June first, and the terms of all other officers and teachers shall begin September first, and for the periods named in this article. The superintendent shall be a man of good moral character, and shall have experience as a teacher in the deaf, dumb, and blind school of North Carolina, or some similar institution, for the term of two or more years. He shall have charge of the institution in all its departments, and shall do and perform such duties and exercise such supervision as is incumbent upon such officer. (Rev., s. 4195; Code, s. 2234; 1881, c. 211, s. 8; 1889, c. 539, 1893, c. 137; 1901, c. 707, s. 2; 1917, c. 35, s. 1.)

§ 5881. State treasurer, treasurer of.—The state treasurer shall be ex officio treasurer of the institution. He shall report to the board at such times as they may call on him, showing the amount received on account of the institution, amount paid out, and amount on hand. (Rev., s. 4196; Code, s. 2235; 1881, c. 211, s. 9.)

§ 5882. Reports of board to governor. — The board shall make a report to the governor on the first of January next before the regular meeting of the general assembly, showing the condition of the institution in its various departments, and shall give any information the governor shall desire from time to time. (Rev., s. 4196; Code, s. 2235; 1881, c. 211, s. 9.)

§ 5883. Removal of officers.—The board shall have power to remove any officer, employee, or teacher for gross immorality, wilful neglect of duty, or any good and sufficient cause; but in any such case notice in writing of the charges shall be served on the accused, proved, and entered on record. The board shall fill all vacancies which may occur from any cause. (Rev., s. 4197; Code, s. 2236; 1881, c. 211, s. 10.)

§ 5884. Employees.—The superintendent, subject to the control of the board, shall have power to employ all employees and fix their compensation, and to discharge them at pleasure. (Rev., s. 4198; Code, s. 2237; 1881, c. 211, s. 11; 1917, c. 35, s. 1.)

§ 5885. When clothing etc., for pupils paid for by state.—Where it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Public Welfare and the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners that the parents of any deaf or blind child of the county, are then unable to provide such child with clothing and/or traveling expenses to and from the State School for the Blind and the Deaf, and the North Carolina School for the Deaf, or where such child has no living parent, or any estate of its own, or any person, persons, upon which it is legally dependent who are able to provide expenses provided for herein, then, upon the demand of the institution which such child attends or has been accepted for attendance, said demand being made through the State Auditor, the Board of County Commissioners of the county in which such child resides shall issue or cause to be issued, its warrant payable to the State Auditor, same to be credited to the proper institution, for the payment of an amount sufficient to clothe and pay traveling expenses of said child; provided, that the amount, in no case, shall exceed forty-five dollars ($45.00) per annum for each child, in addition to such amounts as may be necessary to defray the actual traveling expenses to and from said institution. For such amount so furnished, the parents, or other person upon whom such child is, or may be, legally dependent, and such child, shall be and remain liable for the payment thereof, together with (5%) per annum interest thereon from the date of each payment by the county. At any time after any of such payments, in the discretion of the Board of Commissioners, or any succeeding board, a suit may be instituted in some court of competent jurisdiction in said county, or in any other county in the State according to the venue now or hereafter fixed by law for the recovery of the same, which suit shall be prosecuted by the person who may now or hereafter perform the duties of County Attorney, and the parents of such child shall be liable therefor jointly and severally, and all other persons who are made liable therefor herein shall be liable severally for such amounts and interest and the costs of suit. (Rev., s. 4199; Code, s. 2238; 1879, c. 332, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1908, c. 69; 1917, c. 35, s. 3; 1919, c. 183; 1927, c. 86; 1929, c. 181, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1927, this section required that it must appear to the satisfaction of the governor, upon the affidavit of two respectable citizens, that the parents of such child were unable to defray his expenses, and the governor was to draw upon the auditor for such expenses.

§ 5886. Title to farm vested in directors.—The farm of one hundred acres, now held by the said school, west of the city of Raleigh, shall be held in fee simple by the board of directors of said institution, to be improved, or used, or disposed of, or exchanged for lands more convenient, as the best interests of the said institution, in its judgment, may require or demand. (Rev., s. 4201; 1901, c. 707, s. 3.)

§§ 5887, 5887 (a), 5887 (b). Appropriations.—Repealed: (1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

Art. 11. North Carolina School for the Deaf

§ 5888. Incorporation and location.—There shall be maintained a school for the white deaf children of the state which shall be a corporation under the corporate name of The North Carolina School for the Deaf, to be located upon the grounds donated for that purpose near the town of Morganton. The North Carolina school for the deaf shall be classed and defined as an educational institution. (Rev., s. 4202; 1891, c. 399, s. 1; 1915, c. 14.)

§ 5889. Directors; terms; vacancies.—The North Carolina School for the Deaf at Morganton shall be under the control and management of a board of directors consisting of seven (7) members. Within thirty days from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint four directors, and within six months from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint three directors. At the time of making such appointment the Governor shall designate which of the present board are to be succeeded by his appointees. The terms of the said trustees shall be four years from the date of their appointment. The Governor shall fill all vacancies. The Governor shall transmit to Senate at the next session of the General Assembly the names of his appointees for confirmation. (Rev., s. 4203; 1891, c. 399, s. 2; 1901, c. 210; 1925, c. 306, s. 11.)

Editor's Note.—The changes effected in this section by the Laws of 1925 are the same as in section 5873. See the Editor's Note to section 5873.

Filling Vacancy by Governor.—See State v. Brestol, 122 N. C. 245, 30 S. E. 1.

§ 5890. Organization of board; other officials; salaries.—The board of directors shall organize by appointing one of its number president and three an executive committee, who shall hold office for two years; they shall elect a superintendent, who shall be ex officio secretary of the board and whose term of office shall be three years, and such other officers, teachers, and agents as shall be deemed necessary. The compensation for officers, teachers, and agents shall be fixed by the board, and shall not be increased or reduced during their term of service. (Rev., s. 4206; 1893, c. 131, ss. 1, 2; 1915, c. 14.)

§ 5891. Superintendent. — The superintendent shall be a teacher of knowledge, skill, and ability in his profession and experience in the management and instruction of the deaf. He shall possess good executive ability and shall be the chief executive officer of the institution. He shall devote his whole time to the supervision of the institution, and shall see that the pupils are properly instructed in the branches of learning and industrial pursuits as provided for in this article, and under the supervision of the board. The board shall elect all teachers and subordinate officers by and with the consent and recommendation of the superintendent. (Rev., s. 4206; 1893, c. 131, ss. 1, 2; 1915, c. 14.)

§ 5892. Pupils admitted; education.—The board of directors shall, according to such reasonable regulations as it may prescribe, on application, receive into the school for the purposes of education all white deaf children resident of the state not of confirmed immoral character, nor imbecile or unsound in mind or incapacitated by physical infirmity for useful instruction, who are between the ages of eight and twenty-three years. Only those who have been bona fide citizens of North Carolina for a period of two years shall be eligible to and entitled to receive free tuition and maintenance. The board of directors may fix charges and prescribe rules whereby nonresident deaf children may be admitted, but in no event shall the admission of nonresidents in any way prevent the attendance of any eligible deaf child, resident of North Carolina. The board shall provide for the instruction of all pupils in the branches of study now prescribed by law for the public schools of the state and in such other branches as may be of special benefit to the deaf. As soon as practicable, the boys shall be instructed and trained in such mechanical pursuits as may be suited to them, and in practical agriculture and subjects relating thereto; and the girls shall be instructed in sewing, housekeeping, and such arts and industrial branches as may be useful to them in making themselves self-supporting. (Rev., s. 4204; 1891, c. 399, ss. 7, 8; 1907, c. 929; 1915, c. 14.)

§ 5893. Powers of board.—The board shall have power to make such by-laws, rules, and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as may be necessary for the proper management of said school and its officers; and shall conduct the school in such way, as far as practicable, as to make it self-sustaining. The board is further authorized to make such arrangements with the board of directors of the state hospital at Morganton as may be agreed upon to promote convenience and economy for joint water supply and lighting arrangements. (Rev., s. 4205; 1891, c. 399, ss. 8, 9, 10.)

Art. 12. The Caswell Training School

§ 5894. Incorporation and general corporate powers.—The Caswell Training School, formerly established as the North Carolina School for the Feeble-minded, by chapter eighty-seven of the public laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, shall be and remain a corporation invested with all property and rights of property heretofore held under the former name, and under this name may acquire and hold all such property as may be devised, bequeathed, or conveyed to it, and may use all the authority, privileges, and possessions that said corporation exercised under the former title and name, and shall be subject to all legal liability outstanding against it under the former title and name. (1915, c. 266, s. 1.)

§ 5895. Objects of the school. — The purpose and aim of the Caswell training school is to segregate, care for, train, and educate, as their mentality will permit, the state's mental defectives; to disseminate knowledge concerning the extent, nature, and menace of mental deficiency; to suggest and initiate methods for its control, reduction, and ultimate eradication from our people; and to maintain an extension bureau for instructing the public in the care of the mental defectives who remain in their homes and for the after-care of discharged inmates of the institution; and to create and maintain a psychological clinic for the study and observation of mental defectives charged with crime, and to give expert advice in all cases of mental defect. (1919, c. 224, s. 1.)

§ 5897. State treasurer to keep accounts and pay out moneys.—The state treasurer shall keep full accounts of said school and shall pay out all moneys upon the warrant of the superintendent thereof, countersigned by two members of the board of directors under such rules and regulations as the board of directors may establish. (1911, c. 87, s. 8; 1913, c. 191, s. 2; 1919, c. 295.)

§ 5898. Persons admitted; county commissioners to approve.—There shall be received into the Caswell training school, subject to such rules and regulations as the board of directors may adopt, feeble-minded and mentally defective persons of any age when in the judgment of the officer of public welfare and the board of directors of said institution it is deemed advisable. All applications for admission must be approved by the local county welfare officer and the judge of the juvenile court or the clerk of the court of the county wherein said applicant resides. (1911, c. 87, s. 3; 1915, c. 266, s. 2; 1919, c. 224, s. 2; 1923, c. 34.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1923, this section specified pupils and their ages, who could be admitted to this institution. By the amendment any mentally defective or feeble minded person of any age may be admitted in the judgment of the officer of public welfare. The former section had also required that the person making an application for admission of pupils should first obtain written approval of the board of county commissioners of the pupil's legal residence. In lieu of this last provision the last sentence of this section was substituted.

§ 5899. Persons authorized to make application.—The application for the admission of a child between the ages of six and twenty-one years shall be made, first, by the father, if the father and mother are living together; second, by the one having custody of the child, if the father and mother are not living together; third, by a guardian duly appointed; fourth, by the superintendent of any county home, or by the person having the management of any orphanage, association, charity, society, children's home workers, ministers, teachers, or physicians, or other institutions where children are cared for. Under items third and fourth, consent of parents, if living, is not required. (1915, c. 266, s. 3.)

§ 5900. Procedure for admission of adult females.—1. Affidavit. In case of females between the ages of twenty-one and thirty years, any responsible person residing in the county may file in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county an affidavit stating that some woman of the county is not being properly maintained or cared for by those having such person in charge; that such woman is feeble-minded, and is over twenty-one and under thirty years, and is in good bodily health, and is not helpless, is not afflicted with any chronic or contagious disease; that she is a legal resident of the state and county where the application is filed, together with such other statements as may be necessary to show that she is a proper person to be admitted to such institution, and that her admission thereto would be in conformity to the rules and regulations established by the board of directors for the admission and care of such person.

2. Summons upon affidavit. Upon the filing of the affidavit in the office of the clerk of the superior court by the proper person, the clerk shall issue a summons to such person named in the application or petition, requiring her to be and appear before said court, or the judge thereof, at some time to be fixed by the clerk, not more than ten days thereafter.

3. Action upon affidavit. The judge or clerk shall, as soon as convenient, pass upon said application or petition, and it shall be the duty of said court to examine such witnesses as may be necessary, among whom shall be at least one physician, to prove the truth or falsity of the statements in said application or petition.

4. Order of commitment. If the court finds that each and all of the allegations contained in said application or petition are true, and that said person is a proper person to be cared for in said institution, it shall be its duty to make an order committing the care and custody of said person to said institution.

5. Transcript to superintendent; costs paid by county. It shall be the duty of the clerk of said court to make a certified copy of said application or petition and the finding and judgment of said court, and transmit the same, together with a statement of such facts as can be ascertained concerning the personal and family history of such person, to the superintendent of the institution at Kinston, North Carolina. The costs of said proceedings shall be allowed and paid by the board of county commissioners of the county. (1915, c. 266, s. 4.)

§ 5901. Decision by superintendent and notice to clerk.—Upon receipt of such order of commitment, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of the institution at once to consider the application and to determine whether or not said person shall be admitted to the institution, and to notify the clerk of the court of his decision, and if there is room for any more inmates, or as soon thereafter as there shall be room in the institution, to notify the clerk that such person will be received in the institution. With such notice the superintendent shall send a list of such clothing as shall be prescribed by the board of trustees of the institution, and a blank form of certificate of health and freedom of exposure to contagious disease at such time. In case the parents or custodian of such person shall be financially unable to furnish the clothing as required, the clerk shall procure the clothing at a cost not to exceed twenty dollars, and the payment for same shall be made out of the county treasury by the board of county commissioners upon the certificate of the clerk of the court. (1915, c. 266, s. 5.)

§ 5902. Conveyance to and from school upon discharge.—Upon receiving notice that such person can be admitted to the institution, the clerk shall order the parents, custodian, or applicant to convey such person to the institution without expense to the institution or the county. In case such parents, custodian, or applicant is financially unable to bear such expense, the clerk shall cause the person to be conveyed to the institution in the same manner and in accordance with the same forms as are now provided by law for the transfer of patients to insane hospitals, so far as they are applicable. And when any child or person, who is or has been an inmate of the institution, is dismissed or discharged from said institution in accordance with the rules and regulations of said institution, the parent or guardian of such child or person shall come, or send some responsible person, to receive said child or person and convey same to his or her legal residence, without cost to the institution; and in case the parent or guardian of said child or person is wholly unable to bear such expense, then the commissioners of said county shall allow such expense. (1915, c. 266, s. 6.)

§ 5903. Clothing and conveyance of children at cost of county.—In case the parents of a child between the ages of six and twenty-one are wholly unable to bear the expense of furnishing the clothing of said child as required by the rules and regulations of the board of directors of said school, or of furnishing the money for transportation of such child to the school, it shall be the duty of the county from which the child is sent to bear such cost, in the manner provided for adults in the other sections of this article. (1915, c. 266, s. 7.)

§ 5904. Discharge of pupils.—Any pupil of said school may be discharged or returned to his or her parents or guardian when in the judgment of the directors it will not be beneficial to such pupil, or will not be for the best interests of said school, to retain the pupil therein. (1915, c. 266, s. 9.)

§ 5905. Bond issue for establishment of school authorized.—For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article a sum of money not exceeding sixty thousand dollars shall be appropriated to be used and expended for the purposes herein mentioned within the next two years, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the State of North Carolina, payable forty years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, to an amount not exceeding the sum of sixty thousand dollars, such bonds to be issued and sold, after due advertising, on the best obtainable terms from time to time as the money is needed to meet the expenses of building the institution. All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum, from the date of issue until paid, which said interest shall be paid semiannually the first days of January and July of each and every year, so long as any portion of the said bonds shall remain due and unpaid. If in the progress of the work funds should be needed at a time when financial conditions should seem unfavorable for the sale of bonds, then, in his discretion, the state treasurer may, and he is hereby fully authorized, to negotiate a temporary loan or loans upon the best obtainable terms, and, if necessary, to pledge any of the unsold bonds as collateral therefor. (1911, c. 87, s. 9.)

§ 5906. Form of such bonds and coupons.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding section shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by said state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer, and shall be sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the said bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the said state treasurer may direct. (1911, c. 87, s. 10.)

§ 5907. Bonds exempt from taxation.—The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation, but when constituting a part of such surplus shall be deducted from the total assets in order to ascertain the taxable value of such shares. (1911, c. 87, s. 11.)

§ 5908. State bonds for permanent improvements authorized.—For the purpose of making permanent improvements to the Caswell training school at Kinston, North Carolina, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable ten years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, to an amount not to exceed the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars. The appropriation provided for in this section shall not interfere with other appropriations made by the general assembly of nineteen hundred and seventeen, but if the income of the state is insufficient to meet all appropriations the treasurer of the state is hereby directed to borrow sufficient funds to meet the appropriation provided for in this section. (1917, c. 269, ss. 1, 6.)

§ 5909. Interest on such bonds.—All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum from the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, until paid, which said interest shall be payable semiannually on the first day of January and July of each and every year so long as any portion of the said bonds shall remain due and unpaid. (1917, c. 269, s. 2.)

§ 5910. Terms of bonds and coupons; sale of bonds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding section shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and they shall be signed by the governor and state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon, and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the State treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of the bonds. Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or any portion thereof, and when the conditions are equal, he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price. (1917, c. 269, s. 3.)

§ 5911. Bonds exempt from taxation.—The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1917, c. 269, s. 4.)

§ 5912. Expenditure of proceeds.—All expenditures of the proceeds of these bonds shall be under the direction and control of the state building commission provided for by Article 1 of the chapter State Departments, Institutions and Commissions, under the same terms and provisions as are therein set out. (1917, c. 269, s. 7.)

Art. 13. State Training School for Negro Boys

§ 5912(a). Creation of corporation; name; powers.—A corporation, to be kn wn and designated "The State Training School for Negro Boys," is hereby created, and as such corporation it is authorized and empowered to accept and use donations and appropriations, hold real estate by purchase or gift, and do all other things necessary and requisite to be done for the care, discipline and training of negro boys which may be received by said corporation. (1921, c. 190, s. 1.)

§ 5912(b). Control and management; trustees.—The State Training School for Negro Boys shall be under the control and management of a board of eight trustees. All of the trustees shall be appointed by the Governor. Within thirty days from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint three of the trustees and within six months the remaining two. At the time of making the appointments the Governor shall designate which of the present trustees are to be succeeded by his appointees. The terms of the said trustees shall be four years from and after the date of their appointment. The Governor shall transmit the names of his appointees to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly for confirmation. All vacancies shall be filled by the Governor. Each member of the board of trustees shall be entitled to receive actual expenses while engaged in the business of the institution. (1921, c. 190, s. 2; 1925, c. 306, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1925 it was provided that all the trustees should be appointed in the same year. Formerly they were appointed at intervals of one year. For removal of the officers provided for in this section see section 5912(h).

Section two of the amendatory act provides that the term of the three additional trustees provided for by the amendment began at the time of their appointment by the Governor and shall be for a term of three years.

§ 5912(c). Trustees to meet and organize; location of school; powers of trustees; board of parole. — Immediately upon receiving notice of their appointment as trustees, the persons so designated shall meet and organize by electing from their number a chairman, and one as secretary, or the latter two offices may be combined. They shall thereupon undertake as expeditiously as possible the business of selecting a location and preparing for the opening and maintenance of the state training school for negro boys. The board shall have power to appoint and dismiss at will a superintendent and other employees, to make such rules for its own meetings and guidance as it deems necessary; to have the general superintendence, management, and control of the institution; of the grounds and buildings, officers, and employees thereof; of the inmates therein, and all matters relating to the government, discipline, contracts, and fiscal concerns thereof; and may make such rules and regulations as may seem to them necessary for carrying out the purposes of the institution. And the board shall have the right to keep, restrain, and control the inmates of the institution until such time as the board may deem proper for their discharge under such proper and humane rules and regulations as the board may adopt. The board of managers shall constitute a board of parole of the institution, and shall have power to parole and discharge the inmates under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe, and to retake them upon failure to comply with any requirement of parole. (1921, c. 190, s. 3.)

§ 5912(d). Delinquents committed to institution; cost; age limit. — Delinquent negro boys, under the age of sixteen years, may be committed to the institution by any juvenile, state, or other court having jurisdiction over such boy, but no boy shall be sent to the institution until the committee agency has received notice from the superintendent that such person can be received. The cost of sending inmates shall be paid by the county or municipality sending the same, as the case may be. In special cases where the public good would seem to be subserved thereby the board shall have the right, upon the request of any court of proper jurisdiction, to receive an inmate above the age of sixteen, but this shall be a matter wholly within the discretion of the board. When any commitment to the institution is made, it shall not be for any specified time, but may continue or terminate at the discretion of the board, not to exceed the age of majority of the inmate. (1921, c. 190, s. 4.)

§ 5912(e). Appropriation; selection of location of institution; title; mental treatment.—For the purpose of preparing and opening the state training school for negro boys, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, as provided by an act passed by this general assembly, entitled "An act to issue bonds of the state for the permanent enlargement and improvement of the state's educational institutions," be used by said board of trustees for permanent improvements or equipment, or both, but no part thereof shall be spent until a suitable location has been acquired, either by purchase or otherwise. The location of the institution shall be recommended by the board of trustees and approved by the governor. In the event the location selected is upon property now owned by the state or any other state institution, then the governing body in whom the title is vested is hereby directed and authorized to transfer title to the board of trustees of the state training school for negro boys, and turn over to them all or such portions of the said property as the governor may direct, without compensation, as the governor may deem proper for the best interests of the state. The sum of ten thousand dollars annually, as provided in the general appropriation bill passed by this general assembly, entitled "An act to make appropriations to the state institutions," or as much thereof as may be necessary shall be used for the maintenance and support of the said state training school for negro boys. The site for said school shall be selected with regard to the proper mental treatment of the inmates thereof, (1921, c. 190, s. 5.)

§ 5912(f). Apportionment of admissions; private or municipal contributions.—In receiving inmates of the institution, the trustees shall distribute such admissions as near as may be in relation to the negro population of the several counties until all the maintenance appropriation from the state is exhausted. If after such maintenance fund is exhausted it be found possible to provide housing space and control for additional inmates, then the trustees may receive such additional number of inmates as can be cared for upon the payment by private persons or municipal or county authorities of the actual cost of the maintenance of such inmates. County and municipal authorities are hereby given authority to pay such sums in their discretion. (1921, c. 190, s. 6.)

Art. 14. Miscellaneous Provisions as to Trustees, Directors, etc.

§ 5912(g). Trustees or directors of the North Carolina College for Negroes at Durham.—There shall be twelve (12) trustees for the North Carolina College for Negroes at Durham. Within thirty days from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint seven (7) members for each of said boards and within six months from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint five (5) members for each of said boards. At the time of making such appointments he shall designate the members of the present board who are to be succeeded by his appointees. All vacancies are to be filled by the Governor. The Governor shall transmit to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly following his appointment the names of the persons appointed by him for confirmation. (1925, c. 306, s. 9a.)

§ 5912(h). To hold office until successor appointed; removal.—Each of the directors, trustees, managers or other persons whose appointments are provided for in sections 5775(a), 5866, 5873, 5889, 5912(b), 5912(g), 6159, 6159(a), 7172, 7313, 7316, and 7330 shall hold office until his or her successor or successors have been appointed and qualified according to law. The Governor shall have the power to remove any member of any of the boards provided for in the above named sections, by whatsoever name called, whenever in his opinion it is to the best interest of the State to remove such person, and the Governor shall not be required to give any reason for such removal. (1925, c. 306, ss. 13, 14.)

§ 5912(i). Free tuition to child drawing federal compensation on account of death or disability of father. — Any child in North Carolina, who is drawing compensation from the United States Government, on account of the death or disability of its father, which death or disability was incurred while a member of the armed forces of the United States Government during the World War, and who has not attained the age of twenty-one years, may be entitled to and granted a scholarship of free tuition in any of the State's educational institutions. (1931, c. 370.)

Art. 15. Tuition Fees

§ 5912(j). State-supported institutions required to charge tuition fees.—The trustees of the University of North Carolina, including the University of North Carolina, the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, the North Carolina College for Women, and the trustees of the East Carolina Teachers' College, the Western Carolina Teachers' College, the Appalachian State Teachers' College, the Negro Agricultural and Technical College, the Winston-Salem Teachers' College, the Fayetteville State Normal School, the Elizabeth City Normal School, the North Carolina College for Negroes and the Cherokee Indian Normal School, be and they are hereby authorized and directed to fix the tuition fees for their several state supported institutions, each board of trustees acting separately for their respective institutions, in such amount or amounts as they may deem best taking into consideration the nature of each department and institution and the cost of equipment and maintaining the same; and are further instructed to charge and collect from each student, at the beginning of each semester, tuition fees and an amount sufficient to pay room rent, servants' hire and other expenses for the term. Indigent cripples are exempt from the provisions of this article.

In the event that said students are unable to pay the cost of tuition, as the same may become due, in cash, the said several boards of trustees are hereby authorized and empowered, in their discretion, to accept the obligation of the student or students together with such collateral or security as they may deem necessary and proper, it being the purpose of this article that all students in state institutions of higher learning shall be required to pay tuition, and that free tuition be and the same is hereby abolished, except such students as are physically disabled, and are so certified to be by the vocational rehabilitation division of the state board for vocational education, who shall be entitled to free tuition in any of the institutions named in this article. (1933, c. 320, s. 1.)

§ 5912(k). Sections repealed. — Sections 5800, 5820, 5821, 5831, 5835, 5842, 5847, 5851, 5856, 5865, and chapter 56, Private Laws 1925, be and the same are hereby repealed only in so far as they are in direct conflict with the provisions of this article, and that all other laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this article be and the same are hereby repealed. (1933, c. 320, s. 2.)

§ 5912(l). Higher fees from non-residents may be charged.—The provisions of this article shall not be construed to prohibit the several boards of trustees from charging non-resident students tuition in excess of that charged resident students. (1933, c. 320, s. 3.)

Art. 1. Definitions

§ 5913. Political party defined; creation of new party.—A political party within the meaning of the election laws of this state shall be any group of voters which, at the last preceding general state election, polled for its candidate for governor, or for presidential electors, in the state at least three per cent of the entire vote cast therein for governor, or for presidential electors; or any group of voters which shall have filed with the state board of elections, at least ninety days before a general state election, a petition signed by ten thousand qualified voters, declaring their intention of organizing a state political party, the name of which shall be stated in the petition together with the name and address of the state chairman thereof, and also declaring their intention of participating in the next succeeding election. No such group of electors shall assume a name or designation which shall be so similar, in the opinion of the state board of elections, to that of an existing political party, as to confuse or mislead the voters at an election. When any new political party has qualified for participation in an election as herein required, and has furnished to the state board of elections the names of such of its nominees as is desired to be printed on the official ballots by the first day of September prior to the election, it shall be the duty of the state board of elections to cause to be printed on the official ballots furnished by it to the counties the names of such nominees. When any political party fails to cast three per cent of the total vote cast at an election for governor, or for presidential electors, it shall cease to be a political party within the meaning of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4292; 1901, c. 89, s. 85; 1933, c. 165, s. 1.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 226, for review and comment on this section.

For an interesting note on the definition of political parties see 11 N. C. Law Rev. 148 et seq.

For definition of "political party" under the primary election law, see sec. 6052.

This chapter repeals prior laws on the same subject. Window v. Morton, 118 N. C. 486, 24 S. E. 417.

Art. 2. Time of Elections

§ 5914. For state officers.—On Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and four, and every four years thereafter, an election shall be held in the several election precincts in each county for the following officers: Governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, attorney-general, and other state officers whose terms last for four years, and at said time and every two years thereafter, elections shall be held in the several election precincts in each county for other state officers whose election is not otherwise provided for by law. (Rev. s. 4293; 1901, c. 89, s. 3.)

§ 5915. For presidential electors. — On the Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight, and every four years thereafter, or on such days as the congress of the United States shall have directed, a poll shall be opened in each of the precincts of the state for the election of electors of president and vice president of the United States, the number of whom is to be equal to the number of senators and representatives in congress to which this state may be entitled, and the persons shall be electors for the state as aforesaid, and the voting place in each ward or precinct shall be the same as in elections for members of the general assembly, unless changed by the county board of elections. (Rev., s. 4294; 1901, c. 89, s. 77.)

§ 5916. For president and vice-president, by electors.—The persons elected and appointed as electors of the president and vice-president of the United States shall assemble on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December next following their election, in the capitol at the city of Raleigh, and then and there give their votes on behalf of the State of North Carolina for president and vice-president of the United States, and proceed in relation thereto in all things conformably to the constitution of the United States and the acts of congress in that behalf. (Rev., s. 4295; 1901, c. 89, s. 82; 1935, c. 143, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1935 the electors were required to assemble on the second Monday in January.

§ 5917. For county officers, solicitors, and congressmen. — On the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six, and every two years thereafter, an election shall be held in the several election precincts in each county for members of congress in the several districts, members of the general assembly for their respective counties and districts, a register of deeds, county surveyor, coroner, sheriff, county commissioners, where the county commissioners are elected by the people, and in such counties as have one, a county treasurer, and other officers whose terms are for two years. And on the said first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six, and every four years thereafter, an election shall be held in each county for clerk of the superior court, and at such times an election shall be held in the several judicial districts for the officer of solicitor. (Rev., s. 4296; 1901, c. 89, s. 1.)

For the time of election of United States Senates, see section 6005.

§ 5918. For township offices. — On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six, and every two years thereafter, an election shall be held in each township for the office of constable, and also for justices of the peace in such counties as elect them by a vote of the people, and all other officers elected by a vote of the township. (Rev., s. 4297; 1901, c. 89, s. 2.)

Creation of New Township—Election upon Reasonable Notice.—Where the legislature has created a new township and the time for election has passed, as the public good requires the offices to be immediately filled, the commissioners may order an election upon reasonable notice. Grady v. County Comm., 74 N. C. 101.

§ 5919. Special election for members of general assembly.—When a vacancy occurs in the general assembly by death, resignation, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the chairman of the county board of elections, or of the sheriff of the county in which the late member resided, provided the general assembly shall not be in session, to notify the governor of such vacancy, and in case the general assembly shall be in session when such vacancy occurs, it shall be the duty of the presiding officer in the house in which the vacancy occurs to notify the governor of the same, who shall thereupon issue a writ of election to the chairman or chairmen of the district or county represented by the late member, said election to be held at such time as the governor may designate, and in such manner as may be prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 4298; 1901, c. 89, s. 74.)

§ 5920. For vacancies in state offices.—Whenever any vacancies shall exist by reason of death, resignation, or otherwise, in any of the following offices, to wit, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, attorney-general, solicitor, justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior court, or any other state officer elected by the people, the same shall be filled by elections, to be held in the manner and places and under the same regulations and rules as prescribed for general elections, at the next regular election for members of the general assembly which shall occur more than thirty days after such vacancy, except as otherwise provided for in the constitution. (Rev., s. 4299; 1901, c. 89, ss. 4, 73.)

Art. 3. State Board of Elections

§ 5921. State board of elections; appointment; term of office.—There shall be a state board of elections, consisting of five electors, whose terms of office shall begin on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and thirty-four, and continue for four years and until their successors are appointed and qualified. The governor shall appoint the members of this board and likewise shall appoint their successors every four years at the expiration of each four-year term. Not more than three members of said board shall be of the same political party. The terms of the present members and officers of said board shall continue until January first, nineteen hundred and thirty-four, or until their successors are appointed and qualified. (Rev., s. 4300; 1901, c. 89, s. 5; 1933, c. 165, s. 1.)

The 1933 amendment changes this section and those following by increasing the term of office from two to four years and consolidating a number of provisions of the old law and conveniently enumerating the duties and powers of the state board in a single section of fifteen clauses. Several of these are new in whole or in part. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 227.

§ 5922. Meetings of board; vacancies; pay.—The state board of elections shall meet in Raleigh whenever the chairman of said board shall call such meetings as may be necessary to discharge the duties and functions imposed upon said board by this chapter at such times and places as he may appoint. At the first meeting held after the appointment of members for a new term, the members shall take the oath of office and the board shall then organize by electing one of its members chairman and another secretary of said board.

The chairman of the state board of elections shall call a meeting of the board upon the application in writing of any two members thereof, or if there be no chairman, or if the chairman does not call such meeting, any three members of said board shall have power to call a meeting of the board and any duties imposed or power conferred by this chapter may be performed or exercised at such meeting, although the time for performing or exercising the same prescribed by this chapter may have expired; and if at any meeting any member of said board shall fail to attend, and by reason thereof there is a failure of a quorum, the members attending shall adjourn from day to day, for not more than three days, at the end of which time, if there should be no quorum, the governor may remove the members so failing to attend summarily and appoint their successors.

Any vacancy occurring in the said board shall be filled by the governor, and the person so appointed shall fill the unexpired term.

The members of the board shall receive in full compensation for their services four dollars per day for the time they are actually engaged in the discharge of their duties, together with their actual traveling expenses, and such other expenses as are necessary and incidental to the discharge of the duties imposed by this chapter. (Rev., ss. 2760, 4301; 1901, c. 89, s. 7; 1933, c. 165, s. 1.)

§ 5923. Duties of the state board of elections.—It shall be the duty of the state board of elections:

1. To appoint, in the manner provided by law, all members of the county boards of elections, and to advise such members of such boards as to the proper methods of conducting primaries and elections.

2. To prepare rules, regulations and instructions for the conduct of primaries and elections.

3. To publish and furnish to the county boards of elections and other election officials, from time to time, a sufficient number of indexed copies of all election laws then in force.

4. To publish, issue and distribute such explanatory pamphlets as in the opinion of the board should be issued to the electorate.

5. To furnish to the county boards of elections such registration and poll books, cards, blanks, instructions and forms as may be necessary for the registration of voters and holding elections in the respective counties.

6. To determine, in the manner provided by law, the forms of ballots, the forms of all blanks, instructions, poll books, tally sheets, abstract and return forms, and certificates of elections to be used in primaries and elections.

7. To prepare, print and distribute to the county boards of elections all ballots for the use in any primary or election held in the state which the law provides shall be printed and furnished by the state to the counties, and to instruct the county boards of elections as to the printing of their county and local ballots.

8. To certify to the several county boards of elections the names of such candidates for district offices who are required to file notice of candidacy with the state board of elections, but whose names are required to be printed on the county ballots.

9. To require such reports from the several county boards and election officers as are provided by law, or as may be deemed necessary.

10. To compel the observance, by election officers in the counties, of the requirements of the election laws, and the state board of elections shall have the right to hear and act on complaints arising by petition or otherwise, on the failure or neglect of a county board of elections to comply with any part of the election laws pertaining to their duties thereunder. And the state board of elections shall have power to remove any member of a county board of elections for neglect or failure in his duties and to appoint a successor.

11. To investigate when necessary or advisable, the administration of election laws, frauds and irregularities in elections in any county, and to report violations of the election laws to the attorney general or solicitor of the district for further investigation and prosecution.

12. To tabulate the primary and election returns and to declare the results of same, and to prepare abstracts of the votes cast in each county in the state for such offices as is provided by law shall be tabulated by the state board of elections.

13. To keep a minute book showing a record of all proceedings and findings at each meeting of the state board of elections, which book shall be kept in the office of the state board of elections.

14. To make such recommendations to the governor and legislature relative to the conduct and administration of the primaries and the elections in the state as it may deem advisable.

15. To have the general supervision over the primaries and elections in the state and it shall have the authority to make such reasonable rules and regulations with respect to the conduct of primaries and elections as it may deem advisable: Provided same shall not conflict with any provisions of the law.

In the performance of these enumerated duties, the chairman of the state board of elections shall have the power to administer oaths, issue subpoenas, summon witnesses, compel the production of papers, books, records and other evidence; and to fix the time and place for hearing any matter relating to the administration and the enforcement of the election laws: Provided, however, the place of hearing shall be had in the county where the irregularities are alleged to have been committed. (Rev., s. 4302; 1901, c. 89, s. 7; 1933, c. 165, s. 1.)

Art. 4. County Board of Elections

§ 5924. County boards of elections; appointments; term of office and qualifications.—There shall be in every county in the state a county board of elections to consist of three persons of good moral character, who are electors in the county in which they are to act, who shall be appointed by the state board of elections on the tenth Saturday preceding each primary election, and whose terms of office shall continue for two years from the time of their appointment and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Not more than two members of the county board of elections shall belong to the same political party, and the state chairman of each political party shall have the right to recommend three electors in each county for such offices, and it shall be the duty of the state board of elections to appoint said county board from the names thus recommended: Provided, that said chairman shall recommend such persons on or before the tenth Saturday before a primary election is to be held.

No person shall serve as a member of the county board of elections who holds any elective public office or who is a candidate for any office in the primary or election. (Rev., s. 4303; 1901, c. 89, s. 6; 1933, c. 165, s. 2.)

The 1933 amendment makes ineligible as a member of the County Board any office holder or candidate in a primary or general election. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 228.

§ 5925. Meetings of county elections boards; vacancies; pay.—The county board of elections in each county in the state shall meet in their respective counties at the courthouse at noon on the seventh Saturday before each primary election, and a majority being present, they shall take the oath of office and shall then organize by electing one of its members chairman and another member secretary, and it may meet at such other times and places as the chairman of said board, or any two members thereof may direct, for the performance of such duties as required by law.

Vacancies in the membership of the county boards of elections shall be filled by the state board of elections and the persons so appointed shall fill the unexpired term.

The members of the county board of elections shall receive in full compensation for their services three dollars per day for the time they are actually engaged in the discharge of their duties, together with such other expenses as are necessary and incidental to the discharge of their duties. (Rev., s. 4304; 1901, c. 89, s. 11; 1923, c. 111, s. 1; 1933, c. 165, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1923, this section required that the board of electors would meet not later than the first Monday in September 1906. In lieu of this requirement the present section requires that it should meet on the seventh Saturday before each primary election.

§ 5926. Removal of member of county board of elections.—The state board of elections shall have the power to remove from office any member of the county board of elections for incompetency, failure of duty, fraud, or for any other satisfactory cause. When any member of the county board shall be removed by the state board, the vacancy occurring shall be filled by the state board of elections; a vacancy occurring in the county board of elections for any other cause than removal by the state board of elections may be filled by either the board or by the chairman of the state board of elections, but the person so appointed shall be of the same political party as his predecessor. (Rev., s. 4305; 1901, c. 89, s. 11; 1913, c. 138; 1921, c. 181, s. 1; 1923, c. 196; 1933, c. 165, s. 2.)

The 1933 amendment amends this section by adding fraud as a cause for removal of a member of the Board. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 228.

§ 5927. Duties of county boards of elections. — The boards of elections within their respective jurisdictions by a majority vote shall exercise, in the manner herein provided, all powers granted to such boards in this chapter, and shall perform all the duties imposed by law which shall include the following:

1. To establish, define, provide, rearrange and combine election precincts.

2. To fix and provide the places for registration, when required, and for holding primaries and elections.

3. To provide for the purchase, preservation and maintenance of booths, ballot boxes, books, maps, flags, blanks, cards of instructions, and other forms, papers and equipment as may be used in registration, nominations and elections.

4. To appoint and remove its clerk, assistant clerks, and employees, and all registrars, judges, clerks and other officers of elections, and to fill vacancies, and to designate the ward or district and precinct in which each shall serve.

5. To make and issue such rules and regulations and instructions, not inconsistent with law, or the rules established by the state board of elections as they may deem necessary for the guidance of election officers and voters.

6. To advertise and contract for the printing of ballots, and other supplies used in registrations and elections.

7. To provide for the issuance of all notices, advertisements, and publications concerning elections required by law.

8. To provide for the delivery of ballots, poll books and other required papers and materials to the polling places.

9. To cause the polling places to be suitably provided with stalls and other supplies required by law.

10. To investigate irregularities, non-performance of duties, or violations of laws by election officers and other persons; to administer oaths, issue subpoenas, summon witnesses, and compel the production of books, papers, records, and other evidence in connection with any such investigation; and to report the facts to the prosecuting attorney.

11. To review, examine and certify the sufficiency and validity of petitions and nomination papers.

12. To receive the returns of primaries and elections, canvass the returns, make abstracts thereof and transmit such abstracts to the proper authorities provided by law.

13. To issue certificates of election to county officers and members of the general assembly, except state senators in districts composed of more than one county.

14. To keep minute book of proceedings of board.

15. To prepare and submit to the proper appropriating officers a budget estimating the cost of elections for the ensuing fiscal year.

16. To perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law or the rules of the state board of elections. (Rev., s. 4306; 1901, c. 89, s. 11; 1921, c. 181, s. 2; 1927, c. 260, s. 1; 1933, c. 165, s. 2.)

The 1933 amendment amends this section so as to consolidate and enumerate the duties and powers of the Board under sixteen clauses. Several of these are new or partly new. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 228.

Art. 5. Precinct Election Officers and Election Precincts

§ 5928. Appointment of registrars and judges of elections; qualifications.—The county boards of elections, at the first meeting herein provided to be held on the seventh Saturday before each primary election, shall select one person of good repute who shall act as registrar and two other persons of good repute who shall act as judges of election for each election precinct in the respective counties for both the ensuing primary and general election, whose terms of office shall continue for two years from the time of their appointment, or until their successors are appointed and qualified, and who shall conduct the primaries and elections within their respective precincts. Each registrar and judge of election so appointed shall be able to read and write and they shall be residents of the precincts for which they are appointed. The chairman of each political party in each county shall have the right to recommend from three to five electors in each precinct, who are residents of the precinct, and who shall be of good moral character and able to read and write, for appointment as registrar and for judges of election in each precinct, and such appointments may be made from such names so recommended; Provided, such recommendations are made by the seventh Saturday before each primary election: Provided, further, that in any primary, when only one political party participates in such primary then all of the precinct officials selected for holding such primary shall be chosen only from such political party so participating. In a primary, where more than one political party participates, and in the general election, not more than one judge of election in each precinct shall be of the same political party with that of the registrar. The county boards of elections shall also have the right to appoint assistants for such precincts where there are more than three hundred registered voters when deemed advisable. No person holding any office or place of trust or profit under the government of the United States, or of the state of North Carolina, or any political sub-division thereof, except justices of the peace, shall be eligible to appointment as an election official. No person who is a candidate shall be eligible to serve as a registrar or judge or assistant.

The registrars, judges and assistants shall, before entering upon their duties, have the oath of office administered to them by some officer authorized to administer oaths. (Rev., s. 4307; 1901, c. 89, s. 8; 1933, c. 165, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended so as to add an additional requirement for election officials; they must be able to read and write. No political office holder, federal or state, except a Justice of Peace, may be appointed an election official. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 228.

The following cases were decided under former section 5969, repealed by Public Laws of 1933, ch. 165, § 7. However, these cases seem applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 5969 are substantially set forth in the instant section.

Appointment of Registrars by County Board of Elections.—Under the provisions of this section, the County Board of Elections is not required in all cases to appoint three registrars for each voting precinct, but to appoint one qualified voter of the precinct from each one of the political parties, and such board has no right or authority to appoint a member of one party for another party. Mullen v. Morrow, 123 N. C. 773, 31 S. E. 1003.

Party of Person Appointed by Board of Elections.—Upon failure of a Chairman of the State Executive Committee of a political party to designate judges of election on behalf of such party, the persons appointed by the board of elections must belong to the political party for which they are appointed. Harkins v. Cathey, 119 N. C. 649, 26 S. E. 136.

The board of elections has no authority to appoint two registrars from the same party in the same voting precinct. Mullen v. Morrow, 123 N. C. 773, 31 S. E. 1003.

Mandamus to Compel Board to Appoint Proper Persons.—Where the Chairman of the State Executive Committee of one political party fails to designate the judges of election for a particular county for and on behalf of such party, and under the exercise of the power of appointment given in this section, appoints persons not having the requisite qualifications, the Chairman of the Executive Committee of another political party in such county may bring mandamus to compel the board to appoint proper persons. Harkins v. Cathey, 119 N. C. 649, 26 S. E. 136.

§ 5929. Names of precinct officers published by board.—The county board of elections shall, immediately after the appointment of the registrars and judges of elections as herein provided, publish the names of the persons so appointed, at the courthouse door of said county, and shall notify each person appointed of his or her appointment, either by letter or by having a notice to be served upon said persons by the sheriff. (Rev., s. 4308; 1901, c. 89, s. 16; 1923, c. 111, s. 2; 1933, c. 165, s. 3.)

§ 5930. Vacancies in precinct offices; how filled. —If any registrar or judge of election shall fail to perform the duties of his office, and for that, or for any other cause be removed from office, or shall die or resign, or if there shall for any other cause be a vacancy in said office, the chairman of the county board of elections may appoint another in his place, of the same political party, and have such person or persons notified of the appointment. If any person appointed judge of election shall fail to attend at the polls at the hour of opening the same, the registrar of the township, ward or precinct shall appoint some suitable elector of the same political party as the judge failing to attend, if practicable, to act in his stead, who shall be by him sworn before acting. If the registrar shall fail to appear at the polls, then the judges of election may appoint another to act as registrar, who shall also be sworn before acting. (Rev., s. 4309; 1901, c. 89, s. 9; 1933, c. 165, s. 3.)

§ 5931. Removal of precinct officers; reasons for. —The county board of elections shall have power to remove any registrar or judge of elections appointed by it for incompetency, failure to discharge the duties of office, failure to qualify within the time prescribed by law, fraud or for any other satisfactory cause. (Rev., s. 4310; 1901, c. 89, s. 10; 1933, c. 165, s. 3.)

§ 5932. Compensation of precinct officers. — Judges of elections and assistants shall each receive for their services on the day of a primary or election the sum of three dollars. The registrar shall receive the sum of three dollars per day for his services on the day of a primary or election, and shall also receive the sum of three dollars per day for each Saturday during the period of registration that he attends at the polling place for the purpose of registering voters, and said registrar shall receive no other compensation whatsoever. Any person sworn in to act as registrar or judge of election shall receive the same compensation as the registrar and judge: Provided, that markers appointed for assisting voters in marking their ballots shall not receive any compensation therefor. (Rev., s. 4311; 1901, c. 89, s. 42; 1927, c. 270, s. 2; 1931, c. 254, c. 16; 1933, c. 165, s. 3; 1935, c. 421, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 changes the compensation from 2 to 3 dollars but specifies that it shall not apply to the counties of Bladen, Hyde and Wake.

§ 5933. Duties of registrars and judges of election.—The registrars and judges of election shall perform such duties as is provided by law, which duties shall consist of:

1. The fair and impartial conduct of the primaries and elections within their respective precincts on the day of election.

2. The enforcement of peace and good order in and about the place of registration and voting. They shall especially keep the place of access of the electors to the polling place open and unobstructed, prevent and stop improper practices or attempts to obstruct, intimidate or interfere with any elector in registering or voting. They shall protect challengers and witnesses against molestation and violence in the performance of their duties, and may eject from the polling place any such challenger or witness for violation of any provisions of the election laws. They shall prevent riots, violence, tumult or disorder. In the discharge of these duties they may call upon the sheriff, police, or other peace officers to aid them in enforcing the law. They may order the arrest of any person violating any provision of the election law, but such arrest shall not prevent such person from registering or voting if he is entitled so to do. The sheriff, all constables, police officers and other officers of the peace, shall immediately obey and aid in the enforcement of any lawful order made by the precinct election officials in the enforcement of the election laws.

3. The registrar shall have in his charge the actual registration of voters within his precinct and shall attend the polling place on the days required for the registration of new voters and for hearing challenges, but in the performance of these duties the registrar shall be subject to the observance of such reasonable rules and regulations as the county board of elections may prescribe not inconsistent with the law.

4. The registrar shall have charge of the registration book on the day of election or primary for passing on the registration of voters who present themselves at the polls for the purpose of voting.

5. One of the judges of election shall keep a poll book in which shall be entered the name of every person who shall vote in the primary or election. The poll and registration books shall be signed by the registrar and judges of election at the close of any primary or election and filed with the clerk of the superior court.

6. The registrars and judges shall hear challenges on the right of electors to vote as provided by law.

The registrars and judges shall count the votes cast in their precinct and make such return of same as is required by law.

8. The precinct officers shall make such an accounting to the chairman of the county board of elections for ballots and for election supplies as required by law. (Rev., s. 4312; 1901, c. 89, s. 41; 1933, c. 165, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—The case treated below was decided under former section 5971, now repealed, which provided for the duties of judges of elections. This case seems applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 5971 are substantially set forth in the instant section.

Absence of Judges.—In the absence of fraud it is not material to the validity of an election that the persons appointed judges to hold it electioneered, or were absent from their posts at different times during the day. Wilson v. Peterson, 69 N. C. 113.

§ 5934. Election precincts established or altered. —The county board of elections may, in their respective counties, adopt the present election precincts, or they may establish new precincts, but the election precincts and polling places as now fixed in each county shall remain as they now are until altered. In the case of the alteration of the election precincts or polling places therein, they shall give twenty days' notice thereof, prior to the beginning of the registration period, in some public journal, or in lieu thereof, in three public places in such county, and at the courthouse door. And the county board of elections shall have power from time to time, after dividing their counties into election precincts, to establish, alter, discontinue, or create such new election precincts in their respective counties as they may deem expedient, giving twenty days' notice thereof, prior to the beginning of registration period, by advertising in some public journal, or in lieu thereof, in three public places in such county, and at the courthouse door. If any polling place is changed in any precinct, like advertisement of such change shall be given. And there shall be at least one polling place in every township, conveniently located for a majority of the voters. (Rev., s. 4313; 1913, c. 53; 1921, c. 180; 1933, c. 165, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—The following cases were decided under the section that appeared in Michie's Code of 1931 as § 5926, the provisions of which are substantially set forth in the instant section.

Erasing Voter's Name from Registration Books. — The registrar is without authority to erase the name of a qualified voter from the registration book, at his request, the registration book being in the nature of a public record, which may not be changed, except by some method provided by law. Williams v. County Comm'rs, 176 N. C. 554, 97 S. E. 478.

Correct Notice of Polling Place.—The requirement that a correct notice of the polling places be given, is fully met when the voting places have been established and are well known to the entire electorate of the county, and the voters were fully and formally notified that the election would be held on the specified date "at the various voting precincts of the county as they are now established." Board v. Security Trust Co., 164 N. C. 301, 80 S. E. 230.

The failure to give the full twenty day notice may be immaterial. See Board v. Malone, 179 N. C. 10, 101 S. E. 500.

Notice for New Registration.—The preliminary notice of twenty days for a new registration for an election provided by this section applies, under the general election law, to an election called by a school district to vote upon the issuance of bonds by the district for school purposes, and a tax levy to provide for the same. Miller v. Duke School Dist., 184 N. C. 1097, 113 S. E. 786.

§ 5935. New registration of voters or revision of registration books; how made.—The county board of elections shall have power from time to time to order a revision of the registration book of any precinct in any township and to order a new registration for any precinct; and if and when a new registration is ordered, notice shall be given as hereinbefore provided for the alteration of an election precinct or polling place: Provided, however, when a new registration or revision is ordered as herein provided for, the names of all persons who have been registered under the absentee voters' law shall remain upon the registration books unless the said persons so registered have died or otherwise become disqualified electors. The several county boards of elections shall have power to revise the registration books of any precinct and may require them to be purged of illegal or disqualified voters, after notice to such voters as herein directed. When an order for revision is made by said county board of elections, it shall be directed to the registrar and judges of election of the precinct to which it relates, directing said officials to meet at the polling place on the first Saturday for the registration of voters, before any primary or general election, and to prepare from the registration books a list of the names of registered voters, with their names and addresses as appearing on the registration book who are, in the opinion of said precinct officials, dead or disqualified by removal from said precinct or county for the length of time prescribed by law to be disqualified to vote in that particular precinct. When such list is prepared it shall, within forty-eight hours, be delivered to the chairman of the county board of elections, who shall cause to be mailed to each of the names on said list, at his or her address as shown on said list, a notice requiring such person to appear at the polling place for the precinct in which they are registered, on the Saturday prescribed for hearing challenges, and show that they are legally entitled to vote in that particular precinct, or in lieu of a personal appearance at the precinct on the day named for hearing challenges, such person may furnish such satisfactory evidence by mail or otherwise, that he or she is qualified to vote in said precinct. Upon failure of such person to make such personal appearance on challenge day, or upon failure of such person to offer satisfactory evidence that he or she is qualified and entitled to vote in said precinct in the approaching primary or general election, their names shall be stricken off the registration book. After due investigation, such precinct officers shall strike from the registration book the names of all such persons found by them to be dead or disqualified to vote by removal from the precinct for such time as prescribed by law shall disqualify them from voting in such precinct.

However, in the event that any person, whose name has been removed from the registration book by said county board of elections as having been disqualified to vote in that precinct, should appear at the polling place on election day and give satisfactory evidence to the registrar and judges that he had never received any notice by mail or otherwise of his name being placed among the list of disqualified voters in that precinct, and can satisfy said officials that he is qualified to vote in that precinct, then such person's name shall be placed back on the registration book and he shall be allowed to vote in said precinct as before. (Rev., s. 4314; 1905, c. 510; 1909, c. 894; 1921, c. 181, s. 3; 1933, c. 165, s. 3.)

The provision for new registrations of voters and revisions of the registration books, is rewritten by the 1933 amendment. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 228.

Art. 6. Qualification of Voters

§ 5936. Persons excluded from electoral franchise.—The following classes of persons shall not be allowed to register or vote in this state, to wit: First, persons under twenty-one years of age; second, idiots and lunatics; third, persons who have been convicted or confessed their guilt in open court, upon indictment, of any crime the punishment of which is now or may hereafter be imprisonment in the state's prison, unless such person shall have been restored to citizenship in the manner prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 4315; 1901, c. 89, s. 14.)

Cross Reference.—For restoration to citizenship, see sections 385 et seq.

Teachers.—The right of teachers in a locality to vote therein is made to depend upon whether they were residents therein, only for the scholastic year. A question is incompetent that asks them of their intention to make the locality their legal residence, since the answer involves a question of law as to what constitutes a suffi-ment legal residence to qualify them to vote. State v. Carter, 195 N. C. 697, 143 S. E. 513.

Infants and Aliens.—X was under 21 years of age and Y was a citizen of Syria, not of North Carolina, at the time they voted. They were therefore disqualified to vote in an election for Mayor. State v. Carter, 195 N. C. 697, 698, 143 S. E. 513.

Three Months Residence Prior to Election.—H testified that he had lived in C only three months before the election and that the defendant registered his name. For this reason he was not a qualified elector to vote in an election for mayor. State v. Carter, 195 N. C. 697, 698, 143 S. E. 513.

Conviction of Infamous Crime. See In re Reid, 119 N. C. 641, 26 S. E. 337.

Person Imprisoned for Misdemeanor.—See People v. Teague, 106 N. C. 576, 11 S. E. 665.

§ 5937. Qualifications of electors.—Subject to the exceptions contained in the preceding section, every person who has been naturalized, and who shall have resided in the state of North Carolina for one year and in the precinct, ward, or other election district in which he offers to vote, four months next preceding the election shall, if otherwise qualified as prescribed in this chapter, be a qualified elector in the precinct, or ward, or township in which he resides: Provided, that removal from one precinct, ward, or other election district to another in the same county shall not operate to deprive any person of the right to vote in the precinct, ward or other election district from which he has removed until four months after such removal. No person who has been convicted, or who has confessed his guilt in open court upon indictment, of any crime the punishment of which now is, or may hereafter be, imprisonment in the state prison, shall be permitted to vote, unless the said person shall be first restored to citizenship in the manner prescribed by law.

All registrars and judges of elections, in determining the residence of a person offering to register or vote, shall be governed by the following rules, so far as they may apply:

a. That place shall be considered the residence of a person in which his habitation is fixed, and to which, whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning.

b. A person shall not be considered to have lost his residence who leaves his home and goes into another state or county of this state, for temporary purposes only, with the intention of returning.

c. A person shall not be considered to have gained a residence in any county of this state, into which he comes for temporary purposes only, without the intention of making such county his permanent place of abode.

d. The place where the family of a married man or woman resides shall be considered and held to be his or her place of residence; except that where the husband and wife have separated and live apart, the place where he or she resides the length of time required by the provisions of this article to entitle a person to vote, shall be considered and held to be his or her residence.

e. If a person remove to another state or county within this state, with the intention of making such state or county his permanent residence, he shall be considered to have lost his residence in the state or county from which he has removed.

f. If a person remove to another state or county within this state, with the intention of remaining there an indefinite time and making such state or county his place of residence, he shall be considered to have lost his place of residence in this state or county from which he has removed, notwithstanding, he may entertain an intention to return at some future time.

g. School teachers who remove to a county for the purpose only of teaching in the schools of that county temporarily and with the intention or expectation of returning to the county of their parents or other relatives during the vacation period to live, and who do not have the intention of becoming residents of the county in which they have moved to teach, shall be considered residents of that county of their parents or other relatives for the purpose of voting.

h. If a person remove to the District of Columbia, or other federal territory, to engage in the government service, he shall not be considered to have lost his residence in this state during the period of such service, and the place where such person resided at the time of his removal shall be considered and held to be his place of residence. This rule shall also apply to employees of the state government who remove from one county to another within the state, unless a contrary intention is shown by such employee.

i. If a person goes into another state or county, and while there exercises the right of a citizen by voting in an election, he shall be considered to have lost his residence in this state or county.

j. All questions of the right to vote shall, except as otherwise provided herein, be heard and determined by the registrar and judges of election in the precinct where the question arose. (Rev., s. 4316; 1901, c. 89, s. 15; 19th amendt. U. S. Const.; amendt. State Const., 1920; 1920 (Ex. Sess.), c. 18, s. 1; 1933, c. 165, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—No changes are made in this section by the 1933 amendment as to the qualifications for suffrage, age, citizenship, literacy, and residence requirements, but ten rules are added to govern and aid Registrars and Judges of Elections in determining the difficult problem of the voter's legal residence. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 229.

Change of Voting Qualifications by General Assembly.—The General Assembly cannot in any way change the qualifications of voters in State, county, township, city or town elections. People v. Canaday, 73 N. C. 198.

Qualification for Municipal Suffrage.—Quaere: Whether the General Assembly must require the same qualifications for municipal suffrage as for electors in State and county elections. State v. Viele, 164 N. C. 122, 80 S. E. 408.

But this question seems to have been decided in People v. Canaday, 73 N. C. 198 where it is held that cities and towns, like counties and townships, are parts and parcels of the State, organized for the convenience of local self-government; and the qualifications of voters are the same, to-wit, citizenship, twenty-one years of age, twelve months' residence in the State and thirty days in the city or town.

Length of Residence and Domicile—Evidence Thereof.—See People v. Teague, 106 N. C. 576, 11 S. E. 665.

§ 5937(a). Law not to be construed to prevent voting of women.—For the purpose of the registration and voting of women, the residence of a married woman living with her husband shall be where her husband resides, and of a woman living separate and apart from her husband or where for any reason her husband has no legal residence in this state, then the residence for such woman shall be where she actually resides. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 18, s. 3.)

§ 5937(b). Residence of women.—Nothing in any of the laws of North Carolina shall be so construed as to prevent the registration and voting of women twenty-one years of age and having the other qualifications for registration and voting as provided for men for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 18, s. 4.)

§ 5938. Registration a prerequisite.—Only such persons as are registered shall be entitled to vote in any election held under this chapter. (Rev., s. 4317; 1901, c. 89, s. 12.)

See annotations to the next section.

General Consideration.—When duly made registration is prima facie evidence of the right to vote. State v. Waldrop, 104 N. C. 453, 10 S. E. 694; State v. Nicholson, 102 N. C. 465, 9 S. E. 545. This section must be complied with in order to constitute one a qualified voter. Smith v. Wilmington, 98 N. C. 343, 4 S. E. 489; Pace v. Raleigh, 140 N. C. 65, 52 S. E. 277.

§ 5939. Voter must be able to read and write; exceptions.—Every person presenting himself for registration shall be able to read and write any section of the constitution in the English language, and shall show to the satisfaction of the registrar his ability to read and write any such section when he applies for registration, and before he is registered: Provided, however, that no male person who was, on January first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, or at any time prior thereto, entitled to vote under the laws of any state in the United States where he then resided, and no lineal descendant of such person, shall be denied the right to register and vote at any election in this state by reason of his failure to possess the educational qualification aforesaid: Provided, that said elector shall have registered prior to December 1st, 1908, in accordance with article six, section four, of the constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereto. (Rev., s. 4318; 1901, c. 89, s. 12; 1927, c. 260, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—In lieu of the last proviso now appearing at the end of this section, this section prior to its amendment by the Laws of 1927 contained a proviso that the voter should show to the registrar that he or his ancestor was entitled to vote prior to January 1, 1867, in any state in the United States as provided by Art. 6, sec. 4 of the Constitution, and that if such voter is otherwise qualified he shall be registered regardless of whether or not he could read or write.

Art. 7. Registration of Voters

§ 5940. Qualification as to residence for voters; oath to be taken.—In all cases the applicant for registration shall be sworn before being registered, and shall state as accurately as possible his name, age, place of birth, place of residence, stating ward if he resides in an incorporated town or city; and any other questions which may be material upon the question of identity and qualification of the said applicant to be admitted to registration. If the applicant has removed from another precinct, ward or election district in the same city, town or township since his last registration, such applicant shall, before being allowed to register, present to the registrar a written certificate signed by the registrar of the precinct, ward or election district from which he has so removed, showing that the applicant's name has been removed from the registration book of such precinct, ward or election district, and that he is no longer a registered voter therein. The registrar, if in doubt as to the right of the applicant to register, may require other evidence satisfactory to him as to the qualification of the applicant. And thereupon, if the applicant shall be found to be duly qualified and entitled to be registered as an elector, the registrar shall register the applicant, giving his race, opposite his name, and shall record his name, age, residence, place of birth, and the township, county, or state from which he has removed, in the event of a removal, in the appropriate column of the registration books, and the registration books containing the said record shall be evidence against the applicant in any court of law in a proceeding for false or fraudulent registration. Every person qualified as an elector shall take the following oath:

I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the state of North Carolina not inconsistent therewith; that I have been a resident of the state of North Carolina for two years, and of the county of.....for six months, and of.....township (precinct or ward) for four months; or that I was a resident of..... township (ward or precinct) on the..... day of..... (being four months, preceding the election) and removed therefrom to..... township (ward or precinct), where I have since resided; that I am twenty-one years of age; that I have not registered for this election in any other ward or precinct or township. So help me, God.

And thereupon the said person, if otherwise qualified, shall be entitled to register. (Rev., s. 4319; 1901, c. 89, s. 12; 1933, c. 165, s. 5.)

Cross References.—For full treatment of registration of voters, see 5 N. C. Enc. Dig. 82; 13 N. C. Enc. Dig. 827.

Editor's Note.—This section was amended, 1933, so as to require an applicant for registration removing from one precinct to another to present a certificate from the registrar of his former precinct showing that his name has been removed from the registration books of the former precinct before he is entitled to have his name placed on the registration books of another precinct. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 229.

In General.—While the general assembly can not add to the qualifications prescribed by the constitution for voters, it has the power, and it is its duty, to enact such registration laws as will protect the rights of duly qualified voters, and no person is entitled to vote until he has complied with the requirements of those laws. Harris v. Scarborough, 110 N. C. 232, 14 S. E. 737.

Requirements Mandatory.—The requirements of the registration act are mandatory. Harris v. Scarborough, 110 N. C. 232, 14 S. E. 737.

Effect of Irregularities.—Where the disregard of constitutional or statutory directions does not affect the result it does not warrant a rejection of the vote. If none are incompetent to vote, the registration must be accepted as the act of a public officer, and entitles the electors to vote, notwithstanding irregularities as to administering the oath, the registrar's appointment, etc. State v. Nicholson, 102 N. C. 465, 9 S. E. 545.

Administration of Oath.—Const. art. 6, § 2, is satisfied by an oath to support the constitution of the United States and that of the state. All valid laws, whether state or national, are included by implication. State v. Nicholson, 102 N. C. 465, 9 S. E. 545.

In the absence of direct evidence to the contrary it will be presumed that the oath was taken with uplifted hand. State v. Nicholson, 102 N. C. 465, 9 S. E. 545.

Same—Failure to administer oath would not invalidate an election to determine whether a school tax should be levied in absence of fraud or improper motive. Gibson v. Board, 163 N. C. 510, 79 S. E. 976.

Registration by Other than Registrar.—The fact that a qualified voter was registered by a third person, with whom the registrar had left the books, does not disqualify him to vote, where such registration has been accepted as sufficient by the registrar. Quinn v. Lattimore, 120 N. C. 326, 26 S. E. 638.

Inquiry as to Qualifications of Voters.—Registrars of election may ask an elector if he had resided in the state twelve months next preceding the election, and four months in the district in which he offers to vote. They may ask an elector as to his age and residence, as well as the township and county from whence he removed, in the case of a removal since the last election, and that the name by which he is commonly known.

If, in reply to such questions, the elector answers that he is twenty-one years old, and has resided in the state twelve months and in the county ninety days preceding the election, it is the duty of the registrars, upon his taking the prescribed oath, to record his name as a voter; but bystanders may require him to be sworn as to his residence. In re Reid, 119 N. C. 641, 26 S. E. 337.

Sufficiency of Response.—In answer to the question of residence the designation of the county of residence is sufficient; but the designation of the state merely is insufficient. Harris v. Scarborough, 110 N. C. 232, 14 S. E. 737.

Denial of registration and voting to persons qualified to vote, even though by accident or mistake vitiates the election particularly where it would affect the result. McDowell v. Massachusetts, etc., Constr. Co., 96 N. C. 514, 2 S. E. 351. See also, Perry v. Whitaker, 17 N. C. 475; People v. Canaday, 73 N. C. 198.

§ 5941. Poll tax must be paid before person can vote; receipt exhibited.—No person shall be entitled to vote unless he shall have paid his poll tax for the previous year, on or before the first day of May of the year in which he offers to vote, as prescribed under article five, section one, of the constitution. Every person liable for such poll tax shall, before being allowed to vote, exhibit to the registrar his poll tax receipt for the previous year, issued under the hand of the sheriff or tax collector of the county or township where he then resided and unless such poll tax receipt shall bear date on or before the first day of May of the year in which he offers to vote, such person shall not be allowed to vote: Provided, that in lieu of such poll tax receipt it shall be competent for the registrar and judges of election to allow such person to vote upon his taking and subscribing the following oath:

North Carolina.....County.

I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that on or before the first day of May of this year I paid my poll tax for the previous year, as required by article six, section four, of the constitution of North Carolina. .....

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this the .....day of ..... 19.....

Registrar.

Which oath shall bear date on the day on which such election is held: Provided further, that if not satisfied, the registrar and judges of election may require other and further proof of such payment of poll tax. This section shall not apply to women. (Rev., s. 4320; 1901, c. 89, s. 13; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 18, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The provision in the last sentence that this section shall not apply to women was added by the amendment of 1920.

The condition precedent that the voter must have paid his poll tax, which originally appeared in section 4 of article VI of the constitution, no more exists in that section, having been omitted by the amendment of 1920. This section was a confirmation of that constitutional provision and with the repeal of the latter, it is believed that the section is rendered obsolete.

Poll Tax for State and County Purposes.—See Perry v. Commissioners, 148 N. C. 521, 62 S. E. 608.

§ 5942. Who may vote without paying poll tax.—No person who has become of age since the first day of June of the previous year, or who was fifty years of age or over on the first day of June of the previous year, shall be required to produce any poll tax receipt, or take the oath as to payment of poll tax hereinbefore provided, in order to vote. No person who has been exempted by the commissioners of the county wherein he resides on account of poverty or infirmity shall be required to produce any poll tax receipt or to take said oath as to payment of poll tax in order to vote. No person shall be allowed to vote on any exemption granted by the board of commissioners unless the same shall have been granted on or before the first day of May of the year in which he offers to vote, and bears date on or before said date. This section shall not apply to women. (Rev., s. 4321; 1901, c. 89, s. 13; 1903, c. 479; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 18, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The provision in the last sentence of this section that it shall not apply to women is new with the amendment of 1920.

§ 5943. Sheriff to give receipt for poll tax.—Every sheriff or tax collector upon payment of the poll tax, shall issue to the person paying the same a certificate showing the amount of such poll tax and the true date upon which the same was paid. (Rev., s. 4378; 1901, c. 89, s. 13.)

§ 5944. Sheriff to give duplicate when receipt lost.—Any person having paid his poll tax as required by law, and having lost his tax receipt, shall, upon making affidavit of such loss and satisfactory proof of his identity, be entitled to a duplicate thereof from the sheriff or tax collector. (Rev., s. 4379; 1901, c. 89, s. 13.)

§ 5945. Annual list of persons paying poll tax prepared and certified.—It shall be the duty of every sheriff and tax collector, between the first and tenth days of May of each year in which a general election occurs, to certify under oath a true and correct list of all persons who have paid their poll tax for the previous year on or before the first day of May, to the clerk of the superior court, who shall, within ten days, record the same in a book to be provided for that purpose, keeping each township separate, and certify a true copy thereof to the chairman of the board of elections for such county. (Rev., s. 4380; 1901, c. 89, s. 13.)

§ 5946. When person can register on election day.—No registration shall be allowed on the day of election, but if any person shall give satisfactory evidence to the registrar and judges of election that he has become qualified to register and vote after the time for registration has expired, he shall be allowed to register on that date. (Rev., s. 4322; 1901, c. 89, s. 21.)

Residence for One Year at Time of Election.—Where a person otherwise legally qualified, who had not been allowed to register because at that time he had not been a resident of the State for one year, but who became qualified in that respect on or before the day of election, asked to be allowed to register on election day and tendered his ballot, which was refused. Held, that such vote should have been received. State v. Lattimore, 120 N. C. 426, 26 S. E. 638.

§ 5947. Time when registration books shall be opened and closed; oath and duty of registrar.—The registration books shall be opened for the registration of voters at nine o'clock a. m., on the fourth Saturday before each election. The said books shall be closed at sunset on the second Saturday before each election. Every registrar, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, shall take an oath before a justice of the peace or some other person authorized to administer oaths, that he will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of North Carolina not inconsistent therewith, and that he will honestly and impartially discharge his duties as registrar, and honestly and fairly conduct such election. The registrar of each township, ward or precinct shall be furnished with a registration book prepared as hereinbefore provided, and it shall be his duty, between the hours of nine o'clock a. m. and sunset on each day during the period when registration books are open, to keep open said books for the registration of any voters residing within such township, ward or precinct, and entitled to registration. On each Saturday during the period of registration the registrar shall attend with his registration books at the polling place of his precinct or ward, betwen the hours of nine o'clock a. m. and sunset, for the registration of voters. (Rev., s. 4323; 1901, c. 89, s. 18; 1923, c. 111, s. 3; 1933, c. 165, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923 transposed the location of sentences and phrases of this section and introduced a few changes of phraseology, none of which changes affected the substance of the section.

The 1933 amendment changes the time for opening the registration books from the fifth Saturday to the fourth Saturday before each election. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 229.

Time for Which Broker to Remain Open. — Where the charter of a city or town provides that the issuance of bonds an election shall be held "under the rules and regulations presented by law for regular elections," it refers to this section, requiring that the books of registration shall be kept open for twenty days (now two weeks); and construing this section in connection with section 2657, it is held, that the former is for the purpose of a new and original registration, and the latter, in providing for only seven days, is for the purpose of revising the registration books so that electors may be registered whose names are not on the former books. Hardee v. Henderson, 170 N. C. 527, 87 S. E. 498.

Same—Substantial Compliance is all That is Necessary.—The statutory requirement that the registration be kept open and accessible for a specified time, are regarded as essentials by the courts in passing upon the validity of bonds to be issued by a municipality; but where it appears that the books were afterwards opened for a time actually sufficient to afford all an opportunity to register, though short of the legal period, and it further appears that the election has been hotly contested by both sides, it shall be deemed sufficient. Hill v. Skinner, 169 N. C. 405, 86 S. E. 351.

Same—Effect of Non Compliance on Bond Issue.—The failure to keep the registry, for the question of the issuance of bonds in a special school district, open for twenty days (now two weeks), etc., required by this section, does not of itself render invalid the issuance of the bonds accordingly approved when it appears that the matter was fully known and discussed, opportunity offered every voter to register, there was nothing to show that every elector desiring to vote had not done so, and there was no opposition to the measure manifested. Hammond v. McRae, 182 N. C. 747, 110 S. E. 102.

Same—Presence of Registrar Every Moment of Time Not Necessary.—The requirements of this section do not require the registrar to be at his home or place of registration every moment of the twenty days (now two weeks) between the hours indicated, and a reasonable requirement is all that is necessary. Younts v. Commissioners, 151 N. C. 582, 66 S. E. 575.

§ 5948. Registration books deposited with clerk of court. — Immediately after any election, the registrar and judges of election shall deposit the registration books for their respective precincts with the clerk of the superior court of their respective counties. (Rev., s. 4324; 1901, c. 89, s. 25; 1923, c. 111, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Before the amendment of 1923 the registration books were required to be deposited with the registrar of deeds; now they are to be deposited with the clerk of the Superior Court.

Art. 8. Permanent Registration

§ 5949. Persons entitled to permanent registration.—Every person claiming the benefit of section four of article six of the constitution of North Carolina, as ratified at the general election on the second day of August, one thousand nine hundred, and who shall be entitled to register upon the permanent record for registration provided for under said section four shall, prior to December first, one thousand nine hundred and eight, apply for registration to the officer charged with the registration of voters as prescribed by law in each regular election to be held in the state for members of the general assembly, and such person shall take and subscribe before such officer an oath in the following form, viz.:

I am a citizen of the United States and of the state of North Carolina; I am .....years of age I was, on the first day of January, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, or prior to said date, entitled to vote under the constitution and laws of the state of ....., in which I then resided (or, I am a lineal descendant of ....., who was, on January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, or prior to that date, entitled to vote under the constitution and laws of the state of ....., Wherein he then resided.) (Rev., s. 4325; 1901, c. 550, s. 1.)

Registration on Permanent Roll Does Not Dispense with New Registration.—The fact that a voter is registered on the permanent roll does not dispense with the necessity of his registering anew in order to become a qualified voter, whenever required by the statutes regulating the registration of voters. Clark v. Statesville, 139 N. C. 490, 52 S. E. 52.

Object of Permanent Roll.—The making of a permanent roll or record was intended to be done for the sole purpose of furnishing convenient and easily available evidence of the fact that those whose names appear thereon are not required to have the educational qualification. Clark v. Statesville, 139 N. C. 490, 52 S. E. 52.

§ 5950. Oaths administered; names recorded.—It shall be the duty of the officer charged with the registration of voters in all such elections held in this state until November first, one thousand nine hundred and eight, to administer such oaths and to record the name of such person on his roll of registered and qualified voters; and all registration under this chapter and under the said section of the constitution shall be had and taken at the times and places provided by law for registration of voters for all such elections in this state until November first, one thousand nine hundred and eight. (Rev., s. 4326; 1901, c. 550, s. 2.)

§ 5951. Registrar to return list to clerk of court; record.—It shall be the duty of such registration officer, within five days after the close of the election, to return to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he resides a list of the names of all the persons so registered by him, stating therein the name and age of such person, and the name of the person from whom descended, unless he himself was a voter on January first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, or prior thereto, and the state wherein he or his ancestor was a voter, and the date on which he applied for registration, and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court, within ten days after receipt of said list, to make an alphabetical roll by townships of all persons taking such oath and registered by such registrar, and to record the same in a book to be provided for that purpose, which said book shall contain the name and age of such person, the name of the person from whom he was mc descended, unless he himself was a voter on January first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, or prior thereto, the state in which he was such voter and the date he applied for registration. And the said roll shall, during the office hours of said clerk, be open to the inspection of the public. (Rev., s. 4327; 1901, c. 550, s. 3; 1903, c. 557.)

§ 5952. Clerks to certify list to secretary of state.—It shall be the duty of the several clerks of the superior courts of this state to certify to the secretary of state, within thirty days after the close of each election, a copy of the said roll in his office, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of the state to record, in a book provided for that purpose, the facts set out in uch certified copy, and keep the lists from each county separate. The clerk of the superior court shall keep the lists from each township in separate columns. The books kept by such clerks and the secretary of state shall be plainly lettered "Permanent Roll of Registered Voters," and they shall prepare a complete alphabetical index to the same. And for recording and indexing such names the clerks of the superior courts shall receive as compensation ten cents for each copy-sheet, to be paid by the court commissioners. (Rev., s. 4328; 1901, c. 550, s. 4; 1903, c. 557, s. 2.)

§ 5953. How permanent roll prepared and certified; certified copies from roll.—It shall be the duty of all officers charged with the registration of voters in any election held in the state to enter the name of such person on the registration book and voting lists of his township, ward, or precinct, and to give a certificate in the following form:

I, ..., registrar for ..... township (ward or precinct) of .....county, do hereby certify that on this day.....of..... race, of ..... county, ...township ..... precinct (or ward), age ..... years, took and subscribed the oath required by law, and he has this day been registered on the permanent roll as a voter in said township, (ward or precinct), in accordance with section four, article six, of the constitution of North Carolina.

This the ..... day of ....., 19....

.....,
Registrar.

And it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court to certify, under his hand and seal, to the genuiness of such certificate as follows: North Carolina ..... county.

I, ..., clerk of the superior court of the aforesaid county, do hereby certify that the foregoing certificate is in due form, and that the signature of said ....., registrar of said precinct (ward or township), is in his own proper handwriting.

Witness my hand and official seal, this the.... day of ....., 19.....

.....,
Clerk of the Superior Court.

And for furnishing such certificate and administering such oaths neither the said registrar nor clerk shall be paid any compensation by the person so applying for registration. In the event of the loss of such certificate the person entitled to the same, upon the payment of twenty-five cents, may obtain from the clerk of the superior court, or from the secretary of state, a certificate under his official seal to the effect that his name is on the permanent roll of registered voters from his county in his office and such certificate shall, in all respects, take the place of such original, and be used as such. (Rev., s. 4329; 1901, c. 550, s. 5.)

§ 5954. When copy of roll obtainable by clerk from secretary of state.—In the event of loss or destruction of such rolls in the clerk's office it shall be his duty to obtain from the secretary of state a certified copy of said roll for his county, and such certified copy shall be good and effectual for all purposes as the original would have been. (Rev., s. 4330; 1901, c. 550, s. 6.)

§ 5955. Copy of, certificate from roll evidence of voter's rights.—In all suits involving the right to vote, or trying the title to office, or other action in which such rolls are produced in evidence, all of the facts and recitals therein shall be taken as prima facie evidence of such facts and recitals, and if the right of any voter upon such rolls to vote is challenged, either his certificate or a certified copy of such permanent roll shall be deemed prima facie evidence of his right to vote. (Rev., s. 4331; 1901, c. 550, s. 7.)

§ 5956. Registration of voters removing residence.—Whenever any voter so registered shall remove from one precinct to another in the same county, or from one county to another in the state, he shall make application for registration, and upon production of his certificate of his being on the permanent roll, as provided in this chapter, under the hand and seal of either the clerk of the superior court or of the secretary of state, and proof of his identity, the proper officer charged with the registration of voters shall register his name and make record of the same as in cases of original registration under this chapter. (Rev., s. 4332; 1901, c. 550, s. 8.)

§ 5957. Educational qualification not applicable to permanent registrants.—Any person holding a certificate of registration, as herein provided, shall be entitled to register in any county in this state, notwithstanding his inability to read and write: Provided, that he shall be otherwise qualified as an elector. (Rev., s. 4333; 1901, c. 550, s. 9.)

§ 5958. State board of elections furnishes necessary blanks.—The state board of elections shall procure, provide, and furnish to the several officers named in this chapter and charged with duties under it, all such books, blanks, and other printed matter as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4334; 1901, c. 550, s. 10; 1921, c. 181, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—The duties now devolving upon the board of elections, were, prior to the amendment of 1921, imposed upon the Secretary of State.

§ 5959. Books constitute roll in secretary of state's office.—The books containing the permanent roll of registered voters, sent to the office of the secretary of state by clerks of the courts of the several counties, shall be and constitute the permanent roll of registered voters, required by this chapter to be kept in the office of the secretary of state, and such books shall be deemed a full and complete compliance with the requirements of this chapter. It shall be the duty of the several clerks of the court, within thirty days after the close of each registration hereafter to be held, up to the first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and eight, to forward to the secretary of state the names of all persons registering under article six, section four, of the constitution of North Carolina, as required by this chapter, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to record such names in the permanent roll of registered voters for the several counties. (Rev., s. 4335; 1903, c. 178.)

Art. 9. Absent Voters

§ 5960. Absent from county; or physically unable to attend; certificate, etc. — In all primaries and elections of every kind hereafter held in this State, any elector who may be absent from the county in which he is entitled to vote or who is physically unable to attend at the polling place for the purpose of voting in person shall be allowed to vote as hereinafter provided. When an elector desires to vote by absentee ballot because of his absence from the county on the day of the election he shall use the absentee certificate "A" hereinafter provided for both primary and general elections. He shall sign the certificate before an officer authorized to administer oaths, and if such officer have an official seal, he shall attach the seal of his office, enclose the certificate with the ballots which he wishes to vote in a return envelope provided therefor, and mail or send the same to the registrar of the precinct in which he is entitled to vote. An elector who is physically unable to attend the polling place on the day of election who desires to vote by absentee ballot shall use the absentee certificate "B" hereinafter provided for both primary and general elections. He shall sign said certificate and shall also furnish the certificate of a physician that he is physically unable to attend the regular polling place, or his own affidavit to that effect. He shall enclose this certificate with the ballots which he wishes to vote in a return envelope provided therefor, and mail or send the same to the registrar of the precinct in which he is entitled to vote. In all such cases, the absentee certificate must be accompanied by the voter's ballots. (1917, c. 23, s. 1; 1919, c. 332, s. 1; 1927, c. 260, s. 4; 1929, c. 329, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—All but the first sentence of this section is new with the amendment of 1927. The first sentence also underwent certain changes of phraseology not affecting the substance.

Prior to the amendment of 1929, this section provided that the certificate should be signed "before a witness who shall also sign the same."

Public Laws 1931, c. 15, repealed this and §§ 5962-5968 in so far as they relate to the election of local officials in Buncombe County, that is, officials to serve the county or cities or townships in the county.

For amendment applicable in Graham, Jackson, Rutherford and Swain counties, see Public Laws 1933, c. 364.

By Public Laws 1935, chapter 262, Public Laws 1933, chapter 364, was amended by omitting "Graham". Public Laws 1935, chapter 239, inserted "Henderson" after "Rutherford" in the Public Laws of 1933, chapter 364.

Public Laws 1933, chapter 56, exempts Union county from the operation of sections 5960-5968. Public Laws 1933, chapter 65, exempts all but certain elections in Yancey county from the operation of these sections. This latter act is amended by Public Laws of 1935, chapter 261. Public Laws of 1933, chapter 83, section 1, exempts Randolph county. Public Laws 1933, chapter 141, exempts Yadkin county. Public Laws 1933, chapter 104, exempts certain elections in Mitchell county. Public Laws of 1935, chapter 433, exempts Anson county. Public Laws of 1935, chapter 434, exempts certain elections in Cherokee county. Public Laws of 1935, chapter 203, exempts McDowell county with the exception of certain elections in Marion. Public Laws 1935, chapter 223, exempts certain elections in Haywood county. Public Laws 1935, chapter 487, exempts certain elections in Wilkes county. Public Laws of 1935, chapter 308, exempts certain elections in Alleghany county. Public Laws of 1935, chapter 312, exempts certain elections in Sampson county. Public Laws 1935, chapter 323, exempts certain elections in Robeson county. Public Laws of 1935, chapter 373, exempts certain elections in Pitt county. Public Laws of 1935, chapter 285, exempts certain elections in Bladen county. For act applying in Davie county only, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 327. For act applying in Wilson county only, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 335.

Constitutionality.—This section and section 5962 are not void as being in contravention of our State Constitution, Art. VI, secs. 2, 3, and 6. Jenkins v. State Board, 180 N. C. 169, 104 S. E. 346.

Provision Requiring Certificate or Affidavit Mandatory.—Davis v. Board, 186 N. C. 227, 119 S. E. 372.

Persons within County Not Entitled to Vote as Absentee.—State v. Jackson, 183 N. C. 695, 110 S. E. 593.

Jurat Is Prima Facie Evidence Only that Ballots Have Been Sworn to.—In an action in the nature of quo warranto proceedings to test the right of the defendant to hold a municipal office of a city on the ground that ballots of absentee voters were cast for the encumbent that should have been excluded for the reason that contrary to the jurat on the ballots the voters thereof had not in fact been sworn, as required by this section, the jurat is but prima facie evidence that the ballots had been sworn to by the respective voters, which may be rebutted by parol evidence, in this case by the testimony of those who had cast them. Bouldin v. Davis, 200 N. C. 24, 156 S. E. 103.

§ 5961. Registration of voters expecting to be absent during registration period.—Any citizen of the state, not duly registered, who may be qualified to vote under the constitution and laws of this state, and who expects to be absent from the county in which he lives during the usual period provided for registration of voters, may be registered as herein provided. The secretary of state shall, on or before the seventh day of August, nineteen hundred and seventeen, furnish to the chairman of the county board of elections in each county a book for the registration of absent electors, which book shall contain separate columns for the name of elector, name of precinct in which elector resides, age, place of birth, race, and precinct in which elector last resided. It shall be the duty of the chairman of the board of elections in each county to register on said county registration book any qualified elector who presents himself for registration at any time other than the usual registration period, and who expects to be absent from the voting precinct in which he resides during the usual registration period, if found to be otherwise entitled to registration, in the same manner as now provided by law for the registration of voters before the precinct registrar in the usual registation period. The chairman of the county board of elections shall, immediately after the appointment of a registrar or registrars for any election to be held in his county, either legalized primary or general election, either for the county or for any political subdivision thereof certify to the respective registrars in each of such precincts the names, age and residence, place of birth, etc., of any electors registered on the said county registration books and thereby entitled to vote in such precinct; and it shall be the duty of the registrar in every such precinct to enter upon the regular registration book for such precinct the names of all such electors so certified to him by the chairman of the county board of elections, marking opposite the names of such electors the words "Registered before chairman county board of elections;" and electors so registered shall be entitled to vote in any election in such precinct in the same manner as if registered by the precinct registrar. (1917, c. 23, s. 2.)

§ 5962. Blank certificates and envelopes.—The State Board of Elections shall furnish to the county board of elections in each county at the same time ballots are furnished for any primary or general election, and upon request from said county board of elections when any special election is to be held, certificates in blank and return envelopes to be used by absent voters, the said certificates to be in form as follows:

(1917, c. 23, s. 3; 1919, c. 322, s. 2; 1923, c. 111, s. 5; 1927, c. 260, s. 5; 1929, c. 329, ss. 3, 4.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923, changed a few words in the body of the section, which did not affect its substance, and provided for a new form of certificate. Prior to the amendment two forms of certificates were provided for, in one of which the voter stated that he was a qualified elector, and in the other, that he cast his vote for a certain nominee of a certain party. No other form of certificate besides these was provided for. By the amendment of 1927 the blank certificate and envelope to be used by absent voters shall be furnished upon the "request" of the county board. The latter amendment also effected certain alterations in the form of the various certificates appearing under this section.

As to repeal as to Buncombe County, see editor's note to § 5960.

§ 5962 (a). Absent voters ordering ballots; transmission of names to registrar; record of voters.—Any such person, wishing to take the benefit of this article, and vote as an absent elector thereunder, shall make application in person, or by mail or through another, by written order to the chairman of the county board of elections, or if he shall have distributed the official ballot before such application, then to the registrar of the precinct of such voter, for ballots to be cast in the approaching election or primary; and such chairman or registrar, as the case may be, shall furnish to the said voter in person, by mail, or to his agent duly authorized in writing, one of each ballots as are to be cast in said election or primary. The chairman of the board of elections shall transmit or deliver to the registrar of each voting precinct a list of absentee voters to, or for whom blanks and ballots have been supplied by him for electors in the respective precincts of each registrar; and the names of all such absentee voters in the precinct of the said registrar so furnished by the said chairman together with those to whom the registrar shall himself have provided blanks and ballots prior to the day of election, shall be published or posted on the morning of the election by the said registrar in a public place at said voting precinct.

The chairman of the said board of elections, or the registrar as the case may be, shall enter in a book provided by said county board for that purpose, the day and date of such application, the name and residence of the voter and the day and date of furnishing said ballots; and they shall also enter in said book whether the ballots were delivered to the voter in person; or by mail, or through such duly authorized agents; and they shall also enter therein whether said voter is absent from the county; is physically disabled to attend, or a nurse or other person or attendant as herein provided for. (1929, c. 329, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The language of the last part of this section is somewhat confused, but it is an exact copy of the published act.

§ 5963. Ballots to be furnished to absent voters; records to be kept.—It shall be the duty of the chairman of the county board of elections or the registrar of the precinct to mail or send to any voter absent from the county, or who is physically unable to attend in person, upon application in writing for same, by such person or any person for him, as soon as received from the State Board of Elections, one only of each form of ballot applied for to be voted in such election, one blank certificate only of the kind applied for, and one return envelope. The said applications for such ballots, certificates, and envelopes shall be preserved by the chairman of the county board of elections or the registrar and shall be filed with the clerk of the Superior Court of the county. And all officers of this State before whom any affidavits shall be made in connection with the exercise of the right of absentee voting shall make report of the names of such persons so sworn to the chairman of the county board of elections who shall preserve the same in his record. (1917, c. 23, s. 4; 1919, c. 322, s. 3; 1927, c. 260, s. 6; 1929, c. 329, s. 5.)

See editor's note to § 5960.

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1927 added the second sentence to this section, brought into the operation of the first sentence the registrar of precincts, and made certain other phraseological changes which did not affect the substance thereof. The amendment of 1929 added the last sentence.

§ 5964. Opening votes of absent voters.—It shall be the duty of the registrar in each precinct to open at 10 o'clock A. M. on the day of the election or at any time thereafter before the closing of the polls, all such letters received from such voters, and count the certificates as hereinbefore provided for. (1917, c. 23, s. 5; 1919, c. 322, s. 4; 1925, c. 204, s. 1; 1927, c. 260, s. 7.)

See editor's note to § 5960.

Editor's Note.—This section was first amended by the Laws of 1925 to change the time of opening letters from 3 p. m. to 8 a. m. or at any time during the election day selected by the registrar. But this change applied only to Transylvania County. Subsequently, by the amendment of 1927, the change was made of general application.

§ 5965. Challenges.—The right to vote of any such absent voter shall be subject to challenge in the same manner as if the elector proposing to vote were present in person, and if found entitled to vote under the provisions of this article and the laws of the state, every such vote so received shall be deposited and counted in the same manner as if the voter had been present and cast his vote in person. (1917, c. 23, s. 5.)

See editor's note to § 5960.

See editor's note under § 5960.

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1929 the manner of return was made mandatory and the last sentence was added.

§ 5967. Fees allowed in connection with absentee's voting. — The following fees shall be allowed as compensation for services under this article: The chairman of the county board of elections for registering voters on the county registration book, and certifying same to precinct registrars, twenty cents. The precinct registrars for entering same on precinct registration book, the same fees allowed by law for registration of voters. The chairman of the county board of elections, for mailing form of certificate, ballots, and return envelope, including postage, five cents. The fees, including postage, shall be paid as provided in regard to the expenses of the election or primary. (1917, c. 23, s. 6.)

See editor's note to sec. 5960.

§ 5968. Construction in favor of absentee's right.—All the provisions of this article, and all of the other election laws of this state, shall be liberally construed in favor of the right of the elector to vote. (1917, c. 23, s. 7; 1919, c. 322, s. 5.)

See editor's note to sec. 5960.

When Not Applicable.—This section has no application when the elector desires to avail himself of a special privilege and does not, of his own volition, comply with the conditions precedent prescribed by the statute, which gives him the right to do so. Davis v. County Board, 186 N. C. 227, 119 S. E. 372.

§ 5968(a). False statements punishable as misdemeanor.—Any applicant, physician, elector, officer or other person, knowingly making any false oath or false certificate in connection with application for ballots, return of ballots, obtaining of ballots or otherwise relating thereto, or any election official violating any of the provisions of the absentee ballot law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, punished at the discretion of the court. (1929, c. 329, s. 6.)

Art. 9. (Old) Judges of Election

§§ 5969-5971: Repealed by Public Laws 1933, ch. 165, § 7.

Art. 10. Challenges

§ 5972. Registrar to attend polling place for challenges.—It shall be the duty of the registrar to attend the polling place of his township or precinct with the registration books on Saturday preceding the election, from the hour of nine o'clock a. m. till the hour of three o'clock p. m. when and where the said books shall be open for the inspection of the electors of the precinct or township, and any of said electors shall be allowed to object to the name of any person appearing on said books. In case of any such objection, the registrar shall enter upon his books opposite the name of the person so objected to, the word "Challenged," and shall appoint a time and place, before the election day, when he, together with said judges shall hear and decide said objection giving personal notice of such challenge to the voter so objected to; and if for any cause personal notice cannot be given, then it shall be sufficient notice to leave a copy thereof at his residence: Provided, nothing in this section shall prohibit any elector from challenging or objecting to the name of any person registered or offering to register at any time other than that above specified. If any person so challenged or objected to shall be found not duly qualified, the registrar shall erase his name from the books. (Rev., s. 4339; 1901, c. 89, s. 19.)

Absence of Officer in Charge for a Short Time.—That one of the officers appointed to conduct an election was absent a short time from the polls, during which time no vote was cast and the ballot boxes were not tampered with, nor was any opportunity afforded for tampering with them, does not vitiate the election. State v. Nicholson, 102 N. C. 465, 9 S. E. 545.

Remedy for Irregular Registration.—Where it is alleged that the registration of voters in a primary municipial election was irregular and fraudulent, and the plaintiffs seek mandamus to compel a proper registration, and the statute and the charter of the city under which the election is to be held provided for challenge to voters so registered, mandamus being a proceeding in equity will not be issued, there being an adequate remedy at law by way of challenge provided by statute. Glenn v. Culbreth, 197 N. C. 675, 676, 152 S. E. 332.

§ 5973. How challenges heard.—When any person is challenged, the judges and registrar shall explain to him the qualifications of an elector, and shall examine him as to his qualifications; and if the person insists that he is qualified and shall prove his identity with the person in whose name he offers to vote, and his continued residence in the precinct since his name was placed upon the registration list, as the case may be, by the testimony under oath of at least one elector, one of the judges or the registrar shall tender to him the following oath or affirmation:

You do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you are a citizen of the United States; that you are twenty-one years old, and that you have resided in this state for two years, and in this county for six months next preceding this election, and that you are not disqualified from voting by the constitution and laws of this state; that your name is (here insert name given), and that in such name you were duly registered as a voter of this township; and that you are the identical person you represent yourself to be, and that you have not voted in this election at this or any other polling place. So help you, God.

And if he refuses to take such oath, when tendered, his vote shall be rejected; if, however, he does take the oath when tendered, his vote shall be received: Provided, that after such oath or affirmation shall have been taken, the registrar and judges may, nevertheless refuse to permit such person to vote, unless they be satisfied that he is a legal voter; and they are hereby authorized to administer the necessary oaths or affirmations to all witnesses brought before them to testify to the qualification of a person offering to vote. Whenever any person's vote shall be received, after having taken the oath or affirmation prescribed in this section, the registrar or one of the judges shall write on the poll books, at the end of such person's name the word "Sworn." The same powers as to the administration of oaths and affirmations and the examination of witnesses, as in this section granted to registrars and judges of election, may be exercised by the registrars in all cases where the names of persons registered or offering to register are objected to. (Rev., s. 4340; 1901, c. 89, s. 22.)

§ 5974. Challenge as felon; answer not used on prosecution.—If any person is challenged as being convicted of any crime which excludes him from the right of suffrage, he shall be required to answer any question in relation to such alleged conviction; but his answer to such questions shall not be used against him in any criminal prosecution. (Rev., s. 3388; 1901, c. 89, s. 71.)

Art. 11. Conduct of Elections

§ 5975. Special elections.—Every election held in pursuance of a writ from the governor shall be conducted in like manner as the regular biennial elections, so far as the particular case can be governed by general rules, and shall, to all intents and purposes, be as legal and valid, and subject the officers holding and the persons elected to the same penalties and liabilities as if the same had been held at the time and according to the rules and regulations prescribed for the regular biennial elections. (Rev., s. 4341; 1901, c. 89, s. 75.)

§ 5976. Repealed by Public Laws 1929, c. 164, s. 1.

§ 5977. Power of election officers to maintain order.—The registrar and judges of election in each ward or precinct, the board of county canvassers of each county, and the board of state canvassers shall respectively possess full power and authority to maintain order, and to enforce obedience to their lawful commands during their sessions, respectively, and shall be constituted inferior courts for that purpose, and if any person shall refuse to obey the lawful commands of any such registrar or judges of election, or board of county canvassers, or board of state canvassers, or by disorderly conduct in their hearing or presence shall interrupt or disturb their proceedings, they may, by an order in writing, signed by their chairman, and attested by their clerk, commit the person so offending to the common jail of the county for a period not exceeding thirty days, and such order shall be executed by any sheriff or constable to whom the same shall be delivered, or if a sheriff or constable shall not be present, or shall refuse to act, by any other person who shall be deputed by such township or precinct board of elections, or board of county canvassers in writing, and the keeper of such jail shall receive the person so committed and safely keep him for such time as shall be mentioned in the commitment. (Rev., s. 4376; 1901, c. 89, s. 72.)

§ 5979. Voter may deposit his own ballot.—The ballot may be deposited for the voter by the registrar, or one of the judges of election, or the voter may deposit it if he chooses. (Rev., s. 4343; 1901, c. 89, s. 24.)

Choice as to Voting.—The provisions of our State Constitution, Art. VI, sec. 6, making the distinction that the elector shall vote by ballot, and an election by the General Assembly shall be viva voce, gives under our statute, the elector the choice to deposit his own ballot secretly, or to declare his choice openly when depositing it, or to have the registrar, or one of the judges of election, deposit it for him. Jenkins v. State Board, 180 N. C. 169, 104 S. E. 346.

§ 5980. Repealed by Public Laws 1929, c. 164, s. 1.

§ 5981(a). Ballots for voting constitutional amendments or referendums.—On the official ballot on Constitutional Amendments to the Constitution of North Carolina, on each referendum for vote of the people, submitted by the Legislature shall be printed each amendment to be submitted or referendum submitted in the form laid down by the Legislature. Each amendment or referendum shall be printed in a separate section and the sections shall be numbered consecutively, if there be more than one. At the left of each question shall be printed two voting squares, one above the other, each at least one-fourth (1/4) inch square. At the left of the upper square shall be printed the word "Yes," or "For," as the case may be, and at the left of the lower square, shall be printed the word "No," or "Against," as the case may be. At the top of the ballot shall be printed the following instructions:

1. To vote "Yes" or "For," as the case may be, on any question make a cross (X) mark in the square to the left of the word "Yes or for," as the case may be. (1927, c. 180, s. 1.)

§ 5982. Repealed by Public Laws 1929, c. 164, s. 1.

§ 5983. Repealed by Public Laws 1929, c. 164, s. 1.

Art. 12. Counting of Ballots; Precinct Returns; Canvass of Votes and Preparation of Abstracts; Certification of Results by County Board of Elections

§ 5984. Proceedings when polls close; counting of ballots.—At the time for closing the polls the registrar shall announce that the polls are closed, but any qualified electors who are in the process of voting, or are in line within the voting enclosure waiting to vote, shall be allowed to vote before the polls close. After the polls are closed the registrar shall then proceed to open one ballot box at a time for the purpose of counting the ballots in that box in the presence of all election officials, witnesses and watchers, if there are any present.

The counting of ballots shall be conducted as follows: One of the ballots shall be taken out of the ballot box by one of the judges and opened in full view of all the judges and witnesses. If the judges and registrar all agree as to how the ballot shall be counted, one of them shall place it where it can be seen by any one present and shall read aloud distinctly the names of the candidates voted for and the vote on any issue submitted; and the tally-man shall tally the same directly on the tally sheets. In the event the registrar and judges cannot agree as to how the ballot shall be counted, such ballot shall not be counted, but shall be placed in an envelope and marked "disputed ballots" and returned to the county board of elections.

No ballot shall be counted which is marked contrary to law, except that no ballot shall be rejected for any technical error unless it is impossible to determine the voter's choice.

The counting of ballots shall be continuous until completed. From the time the ballot box is opened and the count of votes begun, until the votes are counted and returns are made out, signed and certified as herein required, and given to the presiding judge or registrar for delivery to the county board as required herein, the registrar and judges of election in each precinct shall not separate, nor shall a registrar or judge leave the polling place except from unavoidable necessity. In case of illness or unavoidable necessity, the board of elections may substitute another qualified person for any precinct official so incapacitated. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

Editor's Note.—The following cases were decided under former section 5983, now repealed, which provided for the counting of ballots. These cases seem applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 5983 are substantially set forth in the instant section.

Counting by Other Persons than the Officers of Election.—While it is irregular to permit other persons than the officers of election to count the ballots, yet, unless it appears affirmatively that the count was not correct, that fact will not be allowed to vitiate the election, especially when the judges accepted and certified the result thus ascertained as true. State v. Calvert, 98 N. C. 580, 4 S. E. 127.

Facts Held Proper Counting.—Where votes were handed to the judges of election rolled up and secured by an elastic band and the judges distributed the votes among the boxes, such votes were properly received and counted. State v. Nicholson, 102 N. C. 465, 9 S. E. 545.

Effect of Voting for Too Many Candidates.—This section does not contemplate throwing out the whole ballot for voting one ticket for too many candidates, its language distinguishing between the ballot and the ticket, of several of which (each office voted for being a separate ticket on the same ballot) the ballot is made up. Hence a ballot for one claiming the office of register of deeds, thrown out because containing two unmarked names, instead of one, for the office of recorder of the county, was improperly rejected as a vote for register, the elector's choice for such office being properly indicated. Bray v. Baxter, 171 N. C. 6, 86 S. E. 163.

A ballot the only defect of which was that it contained unmarked names of four persons for the office of county commissioner, while only three commissioners were to be elected, was improperly rejected. Bray v. Baxter, 171 N. C. 6, 86 S. E. 163.

Two Candidates with the Same Name—Evidence of Identification.—If there be two candidates for different offices having the same name, and a ticket be found in the ballot box having that name and no other on it, it may be proved by extrinsic evidence for which of the candidates it was given. Wilson v. Peterson, 69 N. C. 113.

§ 5985. How precinct returns are to be made and canvassed.—When the results of the counting of the ballots have been ascertained, such results shall be embodied in a duplicate statement to be prepared by the registrar and judges on forms provided by the county board of elections and certified to by said officers. One of the statements of the voting in the precinct shall be placed in a sealed envelope and delivered to the registrar or judge selected by them for the purpose of delivery to the county board of elections, at its meeting to be held on the second day after the election or primary. The other duplicate statement shall be mailed by one of the other precinct election officers to the chairman of the county board of elections immediately.

The county board of elections shall meet on the second day next after every primary or election, at eleven o'clock A. M. of that day, at the courthouse of the county, for the purpose of canvassing the votes cast in the county and the preparation of the county abstracts. Any registrar or judge appointed to deliver the certified precinct returns who shall fail to deliver those returns at the meeting of the county board of elections by twelve o'clock A. M. on the day of such board meeting shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless for illness or good cause shown for such failure. In the event any precinct returns have not been received by the county board by twelve o'clock M. on the first day of its meeting, or if any returns are incomplete or defective, it shall have authority to dispatch an officer to the residence of such precinct officials for the purpose of securing the proper returns for such precinct. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

This section and § 5986 are rewritten by acts of 1933, by abolishing the County Board of Canvassers and assigning the duties of canvassing the returns, preparing the abstracts and certificates of the results of the elections to the County Board of Elections. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 228.

§ 5986. County board of elections to canvass returns and declare results. — The county board of elections at their said meeting required to be held on the second day after every primary or election, in the presence of such electors as choose to attend, shall open the returns and canvass and judicially determine the results of the voting in the respective counties, stating the number of legal ballots cast in each precinct for each candidate, the name of each person voted for and the political party with which he affiliated, and the number of votes given to each person for each different office, and shall sign the same. The said county board of elections shall have the power and authority to judicially pass upon all facts relative to the election, and judicially determine and declare the result of the same. And they shall have power and authority to send for papers and persons and examine the same, and to pass upon the legality of any disputed ballots transmitted to them by any precinct officer. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

Judicial Powers of Board of Canvassers.—The county board of canvassers are vested with statutory authority to judicially pass upon all facts relative to the election and to judicially determine and declare the results, and with the exercise of this discretion the courts will not interfere, except by quo warranto, which is prohibited by the Federal Constitution relating to the election of Congressmen. Art. I, sec. 5. Britt v. Board, 172 N. C. 797, 90 S. E. 1005.

In the dissenting opinion of Rowland v. Board, 184 N. C. 78, 113 S. E. 629, Clark, C. J., said: "In this section the power and authority of the county board are broadened to judicially pass upon all facts relative to the election, not merely the returns, and to judicially determine and declare the results of the same. So that what the court below has held to be the whole duty of the board is stated by the Legislature to be in addition to the larger duty of passing upon "all facts" relative to the election, and there is the still further judicial function of sending for "papers and persons" and "examining the same."

Returns Prima Facie Correct.—In proceedings in the nature of a quo warranto, to determine the respective rights of the parties contesting for an office, the result of the election, as declared by the county board of canvassers, must be taken as prima facie correct. State v. Jackson, 183 N. C. 695, 110 S. E. 593.

Same—Subject to Collateral Attack.—The decision or judgments of the county board of canvassers are not of such conclusiveness of finality as to exclude collateral attack, and the use of the word "judicially" in this section does not affect the construction. State v. Midgett, 151 N. C. 1, 65 S. E. 441.

The correctness of the result of the election of a clerk of the superior court, determined and declared by the county board of canvassers, can be investigated, passed upon and determined in a civil action in the nature of a quo warranto, and such is the proper remedy. State v. Midgett, 151 N. C. 1, 65 S. E. 441.

Jurisdiction of Superior Court for Quo Warranto Not Ousted.—The act of the county canvassers in declaring the result of an election to public office, under this section, cannot have the effect of ousting the jurisdiction of the Superior Court in quo warranto or information in the nature thereof. Harkrader v. Lawrence, 190 N. C. 441, 130 S. E. 35.

Mandamus to Reconvene Board of Canvassers.—As to whether a board of canvassers can be compelled by mandamus to reconvene after its final adjournment, quere; and semble, it can be done theretofore only for the purpose of requiring it to complete its labors, but not to reconsider its action. Britt v. Board, 172 N. C. 797, 90 S. E. 1005.

Supplementary Returns after Adjournments of Registrar and Poll-holders.—Additional or supplemental returns made up by the county board of canvassers after the registrar and poll-holders had fully performed their duties and adjourned, and without calling them together for reconsideration as a body, should not be given effect by the courts. Britt v. Board, 172 N. C. 797, 90 S. E. 1005.

§ 5987. What returns placed on same abstract.—The abstract of votes for each of the following classes of officers shall be made on a different sheet:

1. President and vice president.
2. Governor and all state officers; justices of the supreme court; judges of the superior court; and United States senator.
3. Representatives in congress.
4. Solicitor.
5. Senators and representatives of the general assembly.
6. County officers.
7. Township officers.

(1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

§ 5988. Preparation of original abstracts; where filed.—When the canvass has been completed, the county board of elections shall prepare on forms furnished by the state original statements of the results showing:

1. Upon a single sheet an abstract of votes for president and vice-president of the United States, when a presidential election is held.
2. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for Governor, and all state officers, judges of the supreme court, judges of the superior court and United States senator.
3. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for representatives to congress.
4. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for solicitor.
5. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for state senators and representatives in the general assembly.

6. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for county officers.

7. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for township officers for each township in the county.

8. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for all constitutional amendments and propositions submitted to the people. Each of these abstracts shall be so prepared as to show the total number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party for each office in each precinct in the county.

Each of these original abstracts shall be signed by the members of the county board of elections with their certificate as to their correctness, and each of the original abstracts together with the original precinct returns shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court to be recorded in the permanent file in his office. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

§ 5989. County elections board to prepare duplicate abstracts to be sent to state board of elections; penalty. — When the county boards of elections shall have completed the original abstracts, they shall also prepare separate duplicate abstracts for all offices for which the state board of elections is required to canvass the votes and declare the results, which shall include the following: For president and vice-president; for state officers and United States senator; for representatives to congress; for solicitors; and for state senators in senatorial districts composed of more than one county; and for amendments and propositions submitted.

When said duplicate abstracts shall have been prepared, the county board of elections shall sign an affidavit on each abstract that they are true and correct; then the chairman of said board shall mail said duplicate abstracts, within five days after the primary or election is held, to the chairman of the state board of elections at Raleigh, so that said abstracts shall be received by the chairman of the state board of elections within one week after the primary or election.

The chairman of the county board of elections, failing or neglecting to transmit said abstracts to the chairman of the state board of elections within the time above prescribed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of one thousand dollars: Provided, that the penalty herein prescribed shall not apply where said aforesaid officer was prevented from performing the duties herein prescribed because of sickness or other unavoidable delay, but the burden of proof shall be on such officer to show that his failure to perform his said duties was due to sickness or unavoidable delay. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

§ 5990. Clerk of superior court to send statement of votes to secretary of state in general election.—In a general election, the clerk of the superior court shall, within two days after the original abstracts are filed in his office by the county board of elections, certify under his official seal to the secretary of state, upon blanks furnished to him by the state for that purpose, a statement of the votes cast in his county for all national, state and district officers, and for and against constitutional amendments and propositions submitted to the people. The clerk of superior court shall at the same time also certify under his official seal to the secretary of state a list of all the persons voted for as members of the state senate and house of representatives and all county officers, together with the votes cast for each and their postoffice address.

The clerk of the superior court, failing or neglecting to transmit these returns to the secretary of state within the time herein provided, shall be subject to a fine of five hundred dollars and be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that the penalty herein prescribed shall not apply where said aforesaid officer was prevented from performing the duties herein prescribed because of sickness or other unavoidable delay, but the burden of proof shall be on such officer to show that his failure to perform his said duties was due to sickness or unavoidable delay. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

§ 5991. Who declared elected by county board; proclamation of result.—In the general election, the person having the greatest number of legal votes for a county or township office, or for the house of representatives, or for the state senate in a district composed of only one county, shall be declared elected by the county board of elections. But, if two or more county candidates, having the greatest number of votes, shall have an equal number the county board of elections shall determine which shall be elected.

When the county board of elections shall have completed the canvass, they shall judicially determine the result of the election in their county for all persons voted for, and proclaim the same at the courthouse door with the number of votes cast for each. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

Editor's Note.—The cases discussed below were decided under section 5992 as it read prior to the act of 1933. The provisions of former section 5992 are now substantially set forth in the instant section.

Finding of Board Prima Facie Correct.—The finding by the board of canvassers as to the number of votes received by a contestant in an election is prima facie correct. State v. Flynt, 159 N. C. 87, 74 S. E. 817.

There is a final and conclusive presumption in favor of the correctness of the result of an election as declared by the proper officials, until the issues raised by the pleadings have been tried and disposed of before the jury. Wallace v. Salisbury, 147 N. C. 58, 60 S. E. 713.

§ 5992. Chairman of county board of elections to furnish county officers certificate of election. — The chairman of the county board of elections of each county shall furnish, within ten days, the member or members elected to the house of representatives and the county officers, a certificate of election under his hand and seal. He shall also immediately notify all persons elected to the county offices to meet at the courthouse on the first Monday in the ensuing December to be qualified. (1933, c. 165, s. 8.)

Art. 13. Canvass of Returns for Higher Offices and Preparation of State Abstracts

§ 5993. State board of elections to canvass returns for higher offices.—The state board of elections shall constitute the legal canvassing board for the state of all national, state and district offices, including the office of state senator in those districts consisting of more than one county. No member of the state board of elections shall take part in canvassing the votes for any office for which he himself is a candidate. (1933, c. 165, s. 9.)

This section and § 5999 were amended, 1933, to abolish the old State Board of Canvassers and transfer its functions to the State Board of Elections. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 228.

§ 5994. Meeting of state board of elections to canvass returns of the election.—The state board of elections shall meet in the city of Raleigh on the Tuesday following the third Monday after each general election held in this state under the provisions of this chapter, in the hall of the house of representatives, at eleven o'clock A. M. for the purpose of canvassing the votes cast in all the counties of the state for all national, state and district officers and to determine whom they ascertain and declare by the count to be elected to the respective offices, and shall prepare abstracts of same as hereinafter provided. At this meeting, the board shall examine the county abstracts, if they shall have been received from all of the counties, and if all have not been they may adjourn, not exceeding ten days for the purpose of obtaining the abstracts and returns from the missing counties, and when they have all been received the board shall proceed with the canvass, which shall be conducted publicly in the hall of the house of representatives. In obtaining the abstracts from the counties whose abstracts have not been received by the date of this meeting, the board is authorized to obtain from the clerk of the superior court or the county board of elections, at the expense of such counties, the original abstracts or returns, or if they have been forwarded, copies of them. The state board of elections shall be authorized to enforce the penalties provided by law for the failure of a clerk of a superior court or a chairman of the county board of elections to comply with the law in making their returns of an election. (1933, c. 165, s. 9.)

§ 5995. Meeting of state board of elections to canvass returns of a special election for congressmen.—In all cases of special elections ordered by the governor to fill vacancies in the representation of the state in congress as provided for in C. S. six thousand and seven, the state board of elections may meet as soon as the chairman of said board shall have received returns from all of the counties entitled to vote in said special elections for the purpose of canvassing the returns of said special election and for preparing an abstract of same. It shall be the duty of the chairman of the state board of elections to fix the day of meeting which shall not be later than ten days after such elections, and it shall be the duty of all returning officers to make their returns promptly so that the same may be received within the ten days. (1933, c. 165, s. 9.)

§ 5996. Board to prepare abstracts and declare results of elections.—The state board of elections, at the conclusion of its canvass of the general election, shall cause to be prepared the following abstracts:

1. Upon a single sheet an abstract of votes for president and vice-president of the United States when an election is held for same.

2. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for governor and all state officers, justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior court, and United States senators.

3. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for representatives to congress for the several congressional districts in the state.

4. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for solicitor in the several judicial districts in the state.

5. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for state senators in the several senatorial districts in the state, where such districts are composed of more than one county.

6. Upon another sheet an abstract of votes for and against any constitutional amendments or propositions submitted to the people.

These abstracts so prepared by said board shall state the number of legal ballots cast for each candidate, the names of all persons voted for, for what office they respectively receive the votes, the number of votes each receive, and whom said board shall ascertain and judicially determine and declare by the count to be elected to the office. These abstracts shall be signed by the state board of elections in their official capacity and have the great seal of the state affixed thereto. (1933, c. 165, s. 9.)

§ 5997. Results certified to the secretary of state; certificate of election issued. — After the state board of elections shall have ascertained the result of the election as hereinbefore provided, they shall cause the result to be certified to the secretary of state, who shall prepare a certificate for each person elected, and shall sign the same, which certificate he shall deliver to the person elected, when he shall demand the same.

The state board of elections shall also file with the secretary of state the original abstracts prepared by it, also the original county abstracts to be filed in his office. (1933, c. 165, s. 9.)

§ 5998. Secretary of state to record abstracts. — The secretary of state shall record the abstracts filed with him by the state board of elections in a book to be kept by him for recording the results of elections and to be called the election book, and shall also file the county abstracts. (1933, c. 165, s. 9.)

Art. 14. State Officers, Senators and Congressmen

§ 5999. Contested elections—how tie broken. — The person having the highest number of votes for each office, respectively, shall be declared duly elected thereto by the state board of elections but if two or more be equal and highest in votes for said office, then one of them shall be chosen by joint ballot of both houses of the general assembly. In contested elections, the state board of elections shall certify to the speaker of the house of representatives a statement of such facts as the board has relative thereto and such contests shall be determined by joint vote of both houses of the general assembly in the same manner and under the same rules as described in cases of contested elections for members of the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4363; 1901, c. 89, s. 44; 1915, c. 121, s. 1; 1927, c. 260, s. 14; 1933, c. 165, s. 10.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1927 some of the old provisions of this section were curtailed and one new provision was added thereto. Prior to the amendment the section contained provisions as to the opening in the house of representatives the returns of the executive officers of the State and of the United States' senators. Provisions was also made to cover the contingency of absence of returns or defective returns. None of these appear in the section as amended. The requirements that the state board of canvassers (now state board of elections) shall certify to the Speaker of the House a statement of facts, is new with this amendment.

§ 6001. Regular elections for senators.—United States senators to fill vacancies caused by the expirations of regular terms shall be elected by the people at the last regular election before each vacancy shall occur as now provided for state officers, and tickets shall be furnished, blanks sent out and returns made as for state officers, and returns canvassed and results declared in the same way. (1913, c. 114, s. 3.)

§ 6002. Election of senator to fill unexpired term.—If such vacancy shall occur more than thirty days before any general state election, the governor shall issue his writ for the election by the people, at the next general election, of a senator to fill the unexpired part of the term, and said election shall take effect from the date of canvassing of the returns, which shall take place at the same time and in the same way as the canvassing of the returns for state officers. (1913, c. 114, s. 2.)

§ 6003. Governor to fill vacancies until general election.—Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of the United States senator from this state caused by death, resignation, or otherwise than by expiration of a term, the governor shall appoint to fill the vacancy till there shall be an election. (1913, c. 114, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1929, chap. 12, § 2, provided "that section six thousand and three of the Consolidated Statutes be and the same is hereby reenacted."

§ 6004. Congressional districts specified.— For the purpose of selecting representatives to the congress of the United States, the state of North Carolina shall be divided into eleven (11) districts as follows:

First District: Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Beaufort, Dare, Gates, Hertford, Perquimans, Pitt, Pasquotank, Hyde, Tyrrell, Martin, and Washington counties.

Second District: Bertie, Edgecombe, Greene, Halifax, Lenoir, Northampton, Warren, and Wilson counties.

Third District: Craven, Duplin, Jones, Onslow, Pender, Pamlico, Sampson, Wayne, and Carteret counties.

Fourth District: Chatham, Franklin, Johnston, Nash, Randolph, Wake, and Vance counties.

Fifth District: Caswell, Forsyth, Granville, Person, Rockingham, Stokes, and Surry counties.

Sixth District: Alamance, Durham, Guilford, and Orange counties.

Seventh District: Bladen, Brunswick, Columbus, Cumberland, Harnett, New Hanover, and Robeson counties.

Eighth District: Anson, Davie, Davidson, Hoke, Lee, Montgomery, Moore, Richmond, Scotland, Union, Wilkes, and Yadkin counties.

Ninth District: Ashe, Alleghany, Alexander, Cabarrus, Caldwell, Iredell, Rowan, Stanly, and Watauga counties.

Tenth District: Avery, Burke, Catawba, Cleveland, Gaston, Lincoln, Madison, Mecklenburg, Mitchell, and Yancey counties.

Eleventh District: Buncombe, Clay, Cherokee, Graham, Henderson, Haywood, Jackson, Macon, McDowell, Polk, Rutherford, Swain, and Transylvania counties. (Rev., s. 4366; 1911, c. 97; 1931, c. 216.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the Act of 1931 there were ten congressional districts.

§ 6005. When election for congressmen held.— The election for United States senators whose terms will expire before the next general election and for members of congress shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, one thousand nine hundred and six, and biennially thereafter, unless congress shall prescribe a different time for holding such elections and shall be conducted by the officers provided for holding elections of members of the general assembly in this chapter and at the same place. (Rev., s. 4367; 1901, c. 89, s. 59.)

§ 6006. Election after reapportionment of congressmen.—Whenever, by a new apportionment of representatives among the several states, the number of representatives in the congress of the United States from North Carolina shall be either increased or decreased, and neither the congress nor the general assembly shall provide for the election of the same, then if the said representatives shall be increased, the increased number shall be elected by the qualified voters of the whole state, and shall be voted for on one ballot, and the representatives from the several congressional districts shall be elected by the voters of said districts, respectively, and shall each be voted for on another ballot; but if the number of said representatives shall be decreased as aforesaid, in that event all the representatives in congress shall be elected by the qualified voters of the whole state and shall be voted for on one ballot. (Rev., s. 4368; 1901, c. 89, s. 58.)

§ 6007. Special election for congressmen.—If at any time after the expiration of any congress and before another election, or if at any time after an election, there shall be a vacancy in the representation in congress, the governor shall issue a writ of election, and by proclamation shall require the voters to meet in the different townships in their respective counties at such times as may be appointed therein, and at the places established by law, then and there to vote for a representative in congress to fill the vacancy, and the election shall be conducted in like manner as regular elections. (Rev., s. 4369; 1901, c. 89, s. 60.)

§ 6008. Certificate of election for congressmen.—Every person duly elected a representative to congress, upon obtaining a certificate of his election from the secretary of state, shall procure from the governor a commission certifying his appointment as a representative of the state, which the governor shall issue on such certificate being produced. (Rev., s. 4370; 1901, c. 89, s. 61.)

Art. 15. Election of Presidential Electors

§ 6009. Conduct of presidential election. — The election of presidential electors shall be conducted and the returns made as nearly as may be directed in relation to the election of state officers, except as herein otherwise expressed. (Rev., s. 4369; 1901, c. 89, s. 60; 1933, c. 165, s. 11.)

§ 6010. Arrangement of names of presidential electors.—The names of candidates for electors of president and vice-president of any political party or group of petitioners, shall not be placed on the ballot, but shall after nomination be filed with the secretary of state. In place of their names there shall be printed first on the ballot the names of the candidates for president and vice-president, respectively, of each party or group of petitioners and they shall be arranged under the title of the office. A vote for such candidates shall be a vote for the electors of the party by which such candidates were named and whose names have been filed with the secretary of state. (Rev., s. 4372; 1901, c. 89, s. 78; 1933, c. 165, s. 11.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 229, for a discussion of changes made in this section by the Acts of 1933.

§ 6011. How returns for president shall be made.—The county board of elections shall meet at the courthouse on the second day next after every election for president and vice-president, and shall ascertain and determine the number of legal votes cast for the electors for president and vice-president and shall prepare abstracts and make their returns to the state board of elections in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for state officers. (Rev., s. 4373; 1901, c. 89, s. 80; 1927, c. 260, s. 16; 1933, c. 165, s. 11.)

§ 6012. Declaration and proclamation of results by state board; casting of state's votes for president and vice-president.—The state board of elections shall canvass the returns for electors for president and vice-president at the same time and place as hereinbefore required to be made for state officers, and an abstract for same shall be prepared and certified to the secretary of state in the same manner.

The secretary of state shall, under his hand and seal of his office, certify to the governor the names of as many persons receiving the highest number of votes for electors of president and vice-president of the United States as the state may be entitled to in the electoral college. The governor shall thereupon immediately issue his proclamation and cause the same to be published in such daily newspapers as may be published in the city of Raleigh, wherein he shall set forth the names of the persons duly elected as electors, and warn each of them to attend at the capitol in the city of Raleigh at noon on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December next after his election, at which time the said electors shall meet, and in case of the absence or ineligibility of any elector chosen, or if the proper number of electors shall for any cause be deficient, those present shall forthwith elect from the citizens of the state so many persons as will supply the deficiency, and the persons so chosen shall be electors to vote for the president and vice-president of the United States. And the governor shall, on or before the said first Monday after the second Wednesday in December, make out six lists of the names of the said persons so elected and appointed electors and cause the same to be delivered to them, as directed by the act of congress. (Rev., s. 4347; 1917, c. 176, s. 2; 1901, c. 89, s. 81; 1923, c. 111, s. 12; 1927, c. 260, s. 17; 1933, c. 165, s. 11; 1935, c. 143, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1935 the meetings were changed from the second Monday of January to the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December.

§ 6013. Penalty for presidential elector failing to attend and vote.—Each elector, with his own consent previously signified, failing to attend and vote for a president and vice-president of the United States, at the time and place herein directed (except in case of sickness or other unavoidable accident), shall forfeit and pay to the state five hundred dollars, to be recovered by the attorney-general in the superior court of Wake county. (Rev., s. 4375; 1901, c. 80, s. 83; 1933, c. 165, s. 11.)

Art. 16. Miscellaneous Provisions as to General Elections

§ 6014. Agreements for rotation of candidates senatorial districts of more than one county.—When any senatorial district consists of two or more counties, in one or more of which the manner of nominating candidates for legislative officers is regulated by statute, and the privilege of selecting the candidate for senator, or any one of the candidates for senator, of any political party (as the words "political party" are defined in the first section of this subchapter) in the senatorial district, is, by agreement of the several executive committees representing that political party in the counties constituting the district, conceded to one county therein, such candidate may be selected in the same manner as the party's candidates for county officers in the county, whether in pursuance of statute or under the plan of organization of such party. All nominations of party candidates for the office of senator, made as hereinbefore provided, shall be duly certified by the chairman and secretary of the executive committee of the party making the same, and for the county in which they are made, to the chairmen of the executive committees of such party in all other counties constituting the senatorial district; and no other action shall be deemed necessary to constitute such candidate the nominee of his party for such office. (1911, c. 192.)

§ 6015. Judges and solicitors; commission; when term begins. — Justices of the supreme court, judges of the superior court, and solicitors shall be commissioned by the governor, and their terms of office shall begin on the first day of January next succeeding their election. An election for officers, whose terms shall be about to expire, shall always be held at the general election next preceding the expiration of their terms of office. (Rev. s. 4379; 1901, c. 89, s. 69.)

§ 6016. Registrars to permit copying of poll and registration books.—In any primary or general election held in this State, and at any time prior to the holding of such primary or general election, and while the registration and poll books shall be in the hands of any Registrar, it shall be the duty of such Registrar, on application of any candidate or the chairman of any political party, to permit said poll book or registration book to be copied; provided, such poll book or registration book shall not be removed from the polling place if there, or the residence of such registrar, if there; provided, also, it shall be lawful for such registrar himself to furnish to such applicant, in lieu of the books themselves, a true copy of the same, for which service he shall be entitled to receive one cent per name.

Any person wilfully failing or refusing to comply with the provisions and requirements of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 4382; 1901, c. 89, s. 83; 1931, c. 80.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 repealed the former section and enacted the above in lieu thereof.

§ 6017. Forms for returns sent to proper officers by state board of elections.—The state board of elections shall cause proper forms of returns to be prepared and printed, and send copies thereof, with plain directions as to the manner of endorsing, directing, and transmitting the same to the seat of government, to all of the returning officers of the state, at least thirty days before the time for holding any election. The said board shall also furnish to the clerk of the superior court of each county all such printed blanks as may be necessary for making the county returns. (Rev., s. 4383; 1901, c. 89, s. 43; 1921, c. 181, s. 5; 1927, c. 260, s. 18.)

Editor's Note.—The duties under this section now devolving upon the State Board of Elections, prior to the amendment of 1921 were to be performed by the Secretary of State.

Before the amendment of 1927, the printed blanks were to be furnished to the registrar of deeds instead of to the clerk of the superior court.

SUBCHAPTER II. PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Art. 17. Primary Elections

§ 6018. Date for holding primaries. — On the first Saturday in June next preceding each general election to be held in November for state officers, representatives in congress, district officers in districts composed of more than one county, and members of the general assembly of North Carolina, or any such officers, there shall be held in the several election precincts within the territory for which such officers are to be elected a primary election for the purpose of nominating candidates of each and every political party in the state of North Carolina for such offices as hereinafter provided; and at such primary election next preceding the time for the election of a senator for this state in the congress of the United States there shall likewise be nominated the candidate of each political party in this state for such office of United States senator. (1915, c. 101, s. 1; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6019. Repealed by Public Laws 1927, c. 82.

§ 6020. Primaries governed by general election laws.—Unless otherwise provided in this article, such primary elections shall be conducted, as far as practicable, in all things and in all details in accordance with the general election laws of this state, and all the provisions of this chapter and of other laws governing elections not inconsistent with this article shall apply as fully to such primary elections and the acts and things done thereunder as to general elections; and that all acts made criminal if committed in connection with a general election shall likewise be criminal, with the same punishment, when committed in a primary election held hereunder. (1915, c. 101, s. 3; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6021. Appointment of election boards.—On the tenth Saturday preceding each state or district primary election the state board of elections shall meet in the city of Raleigh and appoint the county boards of elections for the several counties; and on the seventh Saturday preceding the time for holding each primary election the county board of elections for each of the several counties shall meet at the courthouses of their respective counties and organize as provided by law; and shall appoint a registrar and judges of election for each election precinct as prescribed by law, and the registrars and judges so appointed shall likewise serve in the general election following their appointment, unless for good cause made to appear to the respective county boards of elections others shall be appointed by them: Provided, that such registrars and judges shall, before entering upon their duties, have the oath of office administered to them by some officer authorized to administer oaths. (1915, c. 101, s. 4; 1917, c. 218; 1919, c. 139.)

§ 6022. Notices and pledges of candidates; with whom filed.—Every candidate for selection as the nominee of any political party for the offices of governor and all state officers, justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior court, United states senators, members of congress, and solicitors to be voted for in any primary election shall file with and place in the possession of the state board of elections, by six o'clock P. M. on or before the seventh Saturday before such primary election is to be held, a notice and pledge in the following form, the blanks being properly filled in and the same signed by the candidate:

"I hereby file my notice as a candidate for the nomination as ..... in the primary election to be held on ..... I affiliate with the ..... party, and I hereby pledge myself to abide by the results of said primary, and to support in the next general election all candidates nominated by the ..... party."

Every candidate for selection as the nominee of any political party for the office of state senator in a primary election, member of the house of representatives, and all county and township offices shall file with and place in the possession of the county board of elections of the county in which they reside by six o'clock P. M. on or before the fourth Saturday before such primary is to be held a like notice and pledge. (1915, c. 101, s. 6; 1917, c. 218; 1923, c. 111, s. 13; 1927, c. 260, s. 19; 1929, c. 26, s. 1; 1933, c. 165, s. 12.)

This section was amended in 1933 so as to change the time for filing the notice for candidacy from six weeks to the seventh Saturday before the primary date. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 230.

§ 6023. Filing fees required of candidates in primary.—At the time of filing a notice of candidacy for nomination for any congressional or state office, including judges of the supreme and superior court and solicitors, each candidate for such office shall pay to the state board of elections a filing fee of one per-cent of the annual salary of such office. At the time of filing a notice of candidacy for nomination for any legislative or county office, each candidate for such office shall pay to the county board of elections of the county of their residence a filing fee of one-half of one per cent of the annual salary of such office. Provided, that candidates for nomination for the office of surveyor, coroner, county commissioners, members of the county board of education, and for any township office shall be required to pay to the county board of elections a filing fee of one dollar. All such filing fees so received by the state board of elections shall be paid into the treasury of the state, and all such filing fees received by the county board of elections shall be paid into the treasury of the county. (1915, c. 101, s. 4; 1917, c. 218; 1919, c. 139; 1927, c. 260, s. 20; 1933, c. 165, s. 12.)

This section was amended in 1933 so as to change the basis of candidacy fees from a flat sum for each office to one per cent of the salary of the office. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 230.

§ 6024. Fees erroneously paid refunded.—Where a candidate erroneously files a notice of candidacy, accompanied by the proper sum of money, with the state board of elections, instead of with the local county board, and the money is paid into the state treasury; or where a candidate files a notice, accompanied by the sum fixed by law with the state board, the money being paid into the state treasury, and afterwards, but before the time for filing such notices, as fixed by law, shall have expired, he wishes to withdraw his candidacy, then, in both these cases, the money may be refunded to the candidate, upon certificate from the chairman of the state board of elections that the facts exist which entitle him to such refunding. Upon such certificate, the auditor shall give his warrant upon the treasurer of the state, and the treasurer shall pay the same. (1919, c. 50.)

§ 6025: Repealed by Acts 1933, ch. 165, s. 13.

§ 6026. Payment of expense for primary elections.—The expense of printing and distributing the poll and registration books, blanks, ballots for those offices hereinafter provided to be furnished by the state, and the per diem and expenses of the state board of elections while engaged in the discharge of the duties herein imposed, shall be paid by the state; and the expenses of printing and distributing the ballots hereinafter provided to be furnished by the counties, and the per diem and expenses of the county board of elections, and the registrars and judges of election, while engaged in the discharge of the duties herein imposed, shall be paid by the counties, as is now provided by law to be paid for performing the duties imposed in connection with other elections. (1915, c. 101, s. 7; 1917, c. 218; 1927, c. 260, s. 21; 1933, c. 165, s. 14.)

§ 6027. Registration of voters.—The regular registration books shall be kept open before the primary election in the same manner and for the same time as is prescribed by law for general elections, and electors may be registered for both primary and general elections. At the first primary election held under the provisions of this article, new registration books shall be provided, in which on each page there shall be a column headed with the language, "With which political party are you affiliated?" and it shall be the duty of each registrar to transcribe the names of all formerly registered voters in his precinct into such book for such compensation as the state board of elections shall indicate, to be paid by the county; and when such voter, whose name has been thus transcribed, appears for the first time to vote in a primary provided for by this article, he shall answer the question stated above, and it shall be the duty of the registrar and judges of election to write opposite the name of each voter in such primary his answer to such question; and as to all other persons not already registered who shall register to vote in a party primary, it shall be the duty of the registrar, when such person registers, to propound to him the same question and to have the same answered, and write the answer of such elector on such book in such column.

No person shall be entitled to participate or vote in the primary election of any political party unless he be a legal voter, or shall become legally entitled to vote at the next general election, and has first declared and had recorded on the registration book that he affiliates with the political party in whose primary he proposes to vote and is in good faith a member thereof, meaning that he intends to affiliate with the political party in whose primary he proposes to vote and is in good faith a member thereof. (1915, c. 101, s. 5; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6028. Notices filed by candidates to be certified; printing and distribution of ballots.—When the time for filing notices by candidates for nomination shall have expired, the chairman of the state board of elections shall within three days thereafter certify the facts as to such notices as have been filed with it to the secretary of state; and in the senatorial districts composed of more than one county where there is no agreement as provided for in section 6014, the chairman or secretary of the county board of elections of each county in such senatorial district shall, within three days after the time for filing such notice shall have expired, certify to every other chairman of the county board of elections in such senatorial district the names of all candidates who have filed notice of candidacy in their respective county for the office of the state senator; and said chairman, acting under the direction of the state board of elections and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by it, shall, without delay, at the expense of the state, cause a sufficient number of official ballots to be printed for each political party having candidates to be voted for in the primary and distributed to the chairman of the county boards of elections in the several counties, upon which ballot shall appear the names of candidates who shall, under the provisions of this article, have filed notice of their candidacy and otherwise complied with the requirements of this article, except candidates for offices ballots for which are herein provided to be printed by the several county boards of elections, so that such ballots shall be received by the respective county boards of elections, at least ten days before the date of holding such primaries. The expense of printing and distributing such official ballots shall be paid by the state treasurer out of funds not otherwise appropriated, upon the warrant of the chairman of the state board of elections. Said ballots so printed by the state board of elections shall be for each of the several political parties in the state, as hereinafter defined and described, and the names of the respective parties and the candidates shall be printed on the ballots prepared for the respective parties with which the candidates affiliate, and upon the ballots the office for which each aspirant is a candidate shall be indicated. At least six days before the primary election the chairman of the county boards of election shall distribute the official ballots to the several registrars in their respective counties, and take a receipt therefor, and the registrars shall have them at the several polling places for the use of the electors at the time of holding the primary. Any election or other officer who shall accept appointment and who shall, without previously resigning, fail to perform in good faith the duties prescribed in this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 101, s. 8; 1917, c. 218; 1927, c. 260, s. 22.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1927 a provision requiring the chairman of the State Board of Elections to certify to the appropriate county board of elections as to the facts of notice filed by the candidates for nomination for State Senate in districts composed of two or more counties, which originally appeared in the first part of this section, was stricken, and in lieu thereof the part of the section beginning with the phrase "and in the senatorial districts" and down through the words "office of the State Senators" was inserted.

§ 6029. Only official ballots to be voted; contents and printing of ballots.—There shall be voted in primary elections only the official ballots furnished to the chairmen of the county boards of elections and by them to the registrars; and if other ballots be voted in a party primary, they shall not be counted. There shall be as many kinds of official ballots as there are political parties members of which have filed notice of their candidacy for primary elections, and all ballots shall be printed on white paper in black ink and shall be of the same size and style of printing; and the name of the political party whose ballot it is shall be printed in bold-face type at the top of the ballot. (1915, c. 101, s. 9; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6030. How choice indicated on ballot; how names of candidates placed thereon.—Each elector wishing to participate in such primary election shall be permitted to vote for his choice of candidates for the nomination for all other offices provided for by and subject to the provisions of this article, including candidates for the United States senate, by making a cross-mark in the small squares opposite the names of the respective candidates for whom he elects to vote. It shall be the duty of the board of elections having in charge the duty of printing the ballots for primary elections to be held under the provisions of this article to so print the ballots that the names of the opposing candidates for any office shall, as far as practicable, alternate in position upon the ballot, to the end that the name of each candidate shall occupy with reference to the name of every other candidate for the same office, first position, second position, and every other position, if any, upon an equal number of ballots, and distribute the said ballots, when so printed, impartially and without discrimination. (1915, c. 101, s. 10; 1917, c. 218; 1933, c. 165, s. 15.)

§ 6031. How primary conducted; ballot boxes; voter's rights; polling books; information given; observation allowed.—There shall be provided for each election precinct at the expense of the respective counties three ballot boxes, labeled respectively, "National Primary Box," "State Primary Box," and "Legislative and County Primary Box," for each political party; in the first whereof shall be deposited all ballots for president and vice-president of the United States and members of congress; in the second whereof shall be deposited all ballots for state and district offices other than senatorial districts; and in the third whereof shall be deposited all ballots for members of the general assembly and county officers.

When an elector offers himself and expresses the desire to vote at a primary held under this article, he shall declare the political party with which he affiliates and in whose primary he desires to vote, as hereinbefore provided, and he shall then be furnished by the registrar ballots, as desired by him, of the political party with which he affiliates, which he may vote, and he shall not in such primary be allowed to vote a ticket marked with the name of any political party of which he has not declared himself to be a member as herein defined; but any one may at any time any elector proposes to vote challenge his right to vote in the primary of any party upon the ground that he does not affiliate with such party or does not in good faith intend to support the candidates nominated in the primary of such party, and it shall be the duty of the registrar and judges of election upon such challenge to determine whether or not the elector has a right to vote in said primary: Provided, that he may vote for candidates for all or any of the offices printed on such ballot, as he shall elect, and he shall be required to disclose the name of the political party printed thereon and no more. He may in the manner hereinbefore prescribed mark such names as he desires, and these and only these shall be counted as being voted for by him, and he shall have the right to so vote for only one candidate as his choice for each office. If he be a qualified elector and has elected to vote in the primary of a party of which he has declared himself to be a member, as provided herein, he may deposit his ballots in the proper ballot boxes, or he may permit the registrar or a judge of election to so deposit them for him. Any person who has become of the age of twenty-one years between the time when the books closed for registration and the day of the primary election, and who is otherwise a qualified elector, and who desires to register and vote as a member of a political party, may do so in the manner herein provided.

At the time of voting, the name of the voter shall be entered on a primary polling book to be provided and kept for the purpose, under rules prescribed by the state board of elections, which said book shall be provided at the expense of the state for all state primaries and state elections, and upon said book shall be entered, opposite the name of such voter and in proper column provided for the purpose, the name of the political party whose ticket he shall have voted, and said books shall be filed for safe-keeping, until the next election, in the clerk's office of the county in which the ballots are so cast.

It shall be the duty of the county board of elections and of the judges and registrar in each precinct to make all necessary arrangements by providing a proper number of places in each precinct whereby each voter shall have an opportunity, both at all primary and all general elections, to arrange his ballot in secret and without interference from any other person whatsoever; and it shall be the duty of the judges of election and registrars holding primary and general elections to give any voter any information he may desire in regard to the kind of ballot which he may be entitled to vote and the names of the candidates thereon, and in response to questions asked by him, they shall communicate to him any information which he may desire in regard to the kind of ballot which he may be entitled to vote and the names of the candidates thereon, and, in response to questions asked by him, they shall communicate to him any information necessary to enable him to mark his ballot as he desires.

At the written request of the chairman of any political party of any county, the judges and registrar of any precinct shall designate the name of some elector in each precinct, if there be such elector who affiliates with such political party, who shall be furnished the opportunity to observe the method of holding such primary election; but such elector shall in no manner interfere with the method of holding such election or interfere or communicate with or observe any voter in casting his ballot, but shall make such observation and notes of the manner of holding such election and the counting of the ballots as he may desire: Provided, nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any elector from casting at the general election a free and untrammeled ballot for the candidate or candidates of his choice. (1915, c. 101, s. 11; 1917, c. 218; 1921, c. 181, s. 6; 1923, c. 111, s. 14.)

See § 6055(a 34).

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1923 the name of the third ballot box was changed from "Legislative Primary Box" to "Legislative and County Primary Box," and in this box are to be deposited the ballots cast for the county officers also. Prior to the amendment of 1921 the polling book provided for by the third paragraph of this section was to be furnished at the expense of the state for the first election held under this article, and subsequently at the expense of the several counties. The amendment requires that it be furnished at the expense of the state for all the state primaries and state elections.

§ 6032. Counting ballots and certifying results.—When the polls have been closed, the primary ballot boxes shall be opened in the presence of the registrars and both judges of election at the several precincts and such electors as may desire to be present: Provided, the registrars and judges may fix such space as they may consider reasonable and necessary to enable them to count the ballots. The ballots of each of the several parties in the boxes in each precinct shall be counted and bound in separate packages, and the result shall be certified to the proper county board of elections and by them to the state board of elections upon blanks to be provided by the state board of elections at the expense of the state within the time and, as near as may be, in the manner provided for the certification of the result of general elections. (1915, c. 101, s. 12; 1917, c. 218.)

When Ballot Found in Wrong Box.—In primary elections for county officers the registrar and judges of election are authorized not only to pass upon the qualification of voters therein, but to determine whether a ballot found in the wrong box was placed there by mistake, and, if satisfied of the mistake, to count the ballots for the one for whom they had been cast, in making their returns to the county board. Bell v. County Board, 188 N. C. 311, 124 S. E. 311.

Distinguished from General Elections.—In primary elections the return for county officers must be certified as this section requires to the county board of elections, which shall publish the result, the distinction between elections of this character and general elections being that in the former there is no right to an election to public office which may be put in issue and determined by quo warranto, and no provision for a board of canvassers with power judicially to determine the precint return. Bell v. County Board, 188 N. C. 311, 124 S. E. 311.

§ 6034. Primaries for county offices; candidates to comply with requirements.—At the time of holding primary elections for state officers, as hereinbefore provided, there shall likewise be held primary elections for the nomination of the candidates of the several political parties in the state for county offices; and no one shall be voted for in such primary elections for the nomination of candidates for county offices unless he shall have filed a notice with the appropriate county board of elections and shall have taken the pledge required of candidates filing notice with the state board of elections, as hereinbefore provided, and shall have otherwise complied with the requirements applicable to such candidates for nomination for state offices, except in so far as such requirements are modified by the provisions of this article with reference to candidates for primary nominations for county offices. (1915, c. 101, s. 14; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6035. Primaries for county offices; notices of candidacy and official ballots.—The state board of elections, prior to the time fixed by law for the appointment of registrars and judges of primary elections, shall prescribe, print, and furnish to the several county boards of elections; a sufficient number of notices to be filed by candidates desiring to be voted for nomination for county offices, which said notices shall be substantially the same in form as those required to be filed by candidates for primary nomination for state offices as hereinbefore provided; and the several county boards of elections shall have printed and shall provide official ballots for county officers similar in form and otherwise to the ballots hereinbefore provided for state officers, and shall distribute the same to the several precincts in the manner and at the time hereinbefore prescribed in the case of state offices. (1915, c. 101, s. 15; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6036. Primaries for county offices; voting and returns.—In primary elections for the selection of candidates for county offices the voting shall be done in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for primary elections for state offices, and all of the provisions herein contained governing primary elections for state offices shall apply with equal force to primary elections for county offices when not inconsistent with other provisions herein with reference to such primary elections for county officers; and the returns in such primary elections for county officers, shall be certified to the appropriate county board of elections, which shall declare and publish the results. (1915, c. 101, s. 16; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6037. Primary ballots; provisions as to names of candidates printed thereon. — It shall be the duty of the state board of elections to print and furnish to the counties for primary elections a sufficient number of official ballots for each political party having candidates to be voted for in the primary within the time prescribed for in C. S. six thousand and twenty-eight, which official ballots shall have printed thereon the names of candidates for the United States senate, for the national house of representatives, and for governor and for all other state offices, with the exception of the office of solicitor and judge of the superior court. All of these candidates, ballots for which are required to be furnished by the state, may be printed on one form of ballot or they may be printed on a number of forms of ballots as may be decided by the state board of elections.

It shall be the duty of the county board of elections to print and furnish to the voting precincts in the county for primary elections a sufficient number of official ballots for each political party having candidates to be voted for in the primary within the time prescribed in C. S. six thousand and twenty-eight, which official ballots shall have printed thereon the names of candidates for the following offices in the order in which they are named and shall be known as the "official primary ballot for judge superior court, solicitor, state senator and county and township offices" when candidates for all of said offices are participating in the primary within the county. Whenever there is no contest for any of the aforesaid offices, then such names will not appear on the county ballot. The county board of elections may print the township ballot separate from the county ballot if it should so desire.

The ballots to be printed by the counties shall be of such width, color, form and printed in such type and on such paper as the state board of elections may direct.

It shall be the duty of the chairman of the state board of elections to certify to the chairman of the county board of elections in each county, by the fourth Saturday before each primary election, the names of such candidates for the nomination for judge of the superior court and solicitor as have filed the required notice and pledge and filing fee with the state board of elections and entitled to have their names placed on the official county ballot, and it shall be the duty of each county chairman to acknowledge receipt within two days after the receipt of the letter of certification to the chairman of the state board of elections so that the state chairman will know that each candidate's name has been properly certified and received. (1915, c. 101, s. 17; 1917, c. 218; 1933, c. 165, s. 16.)

§ 6038. Boxes for county officers; how labeled. —All ballots for nominations for county officers shall be deposited in the box labeled "Legislative Primary Box" hereinbefore provided for, which box, in addition to bearing the label "Legislative Primary Box," shall also immediately thereunder be labeled "County Primary Box." (1915, c. 101, s. 18; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6039. Sole candidate declared nominee. — In all cases where only one aspirant for nomination by the party with which he affiliates for the state senate in districts composed of only one county or for the house of representatives of the general assembly or for a county office shall have filed the notice of candidacy in this article required, the county board of elections shall, upon the expiration of the time fixed for filing such notice, declare him the nominee of his party, and his name shall therefore not be placed on the primary ballot, but shall be placed upon the ballot to be voted at the general election as his party's candidate for such office. (1915, c. 101, s. 19; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6040. Primaries for township and precinct officers.—The several county boards of elections shall provide for holding in their respective counties primary elections for the choice of candidates for the nomination for township and precinct officers, which primary elections shall be held at the same time and places as the primaries for county officers: Provided, that in the counties exempt from the operation of the primary law for the nomination of county officers, township officers may also be nominated in the same manner as county officers within such counties. The expenses for holding primaries for township officers shall be paid for by the counties. (1915, c. 101, s. 19; 1917, c. 218; 1933, c. 165, s. 17.)

§ 6041. Returns of precinct primaries; preservation of ballot.—The registrar and judges of election at each precinct in the state of North Carolina shall certify upon blanks prepared and printed by the state board of elections and distributed through the county board of elections to the election officers of each of the several precincts the result of the primary election of each precinct; and there shall be made by the judges of election and registrar at each precinct two copies of their returns, one copy of which shall be filed by them with the clerk of the court of their county for public inspection, and one shall be filed with the county board of elections to be kept on file by it; and it shall by the duty of the judges and registrars to preserve and keep for two months after each election the original ballots cast at such election, which ballots, after being counted, shall be placed in bundles, a separate and distinct bundle to be made of the ballots of each and every political party cast in each of the boxes, and each box in which ballots were cast shall be carefully sealed up before the election officers shall separate, so that nothing put in may be taken from them, and the signatures of the registrar and judges of each precinct shall be inscribed at the same time on a seal placed on each box of the precinct, and no box shall be opened except upon the written order of the county board of elections or a proper order of court. The state board of elections, in preparing the printed form for returns to be made by the judges and registrars of the several precincts to the county boards of elections, and in preparing the forms for the returns to be made by the county boards of elections to the state board of elections of the result of primary elections, shall prepare them in such form as will show the number of votes cast for each candidate for nomination for office. (1915, c. 101, s. 21; 1917, c. 179, s. 1; 1917, c. 218; 1923, c. 111, s. 15.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1923 the judges and the registrars were required to preserve the original ballots for four months instead of two, as it is now provided.

Determination of Results of Primary for County Officers.—In a primary for county officers the registrar and judges of election have the sole power, acting in their ministerial capacity, to determine whether votes cast in the wrong ballot box should be counted; and they may correct their tabulation of the results thereof to the county board of elections before the latter has judicially determined the results; the duties of the latter board being continuous, under the provisions of the statute, and such powers not being functus officio until they have finally determined the results of the election. Bell v. County Board, 188 N. C. 311, 124 S. E. 311.

§ 6042. County board tabulates results of primaries; returns in duplicate.—The county boards of elections of the several counties shall tabulate the returns made by the judges and registrars of the several precincts in their respective counties with reference to candidates before the primaries, so as to show the total number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party for each office, and, when thus compiled on blanks to be prepared and furnished by the state board of elections for the purpose, these returns, in the case of officers other than the state senate in districts composed of only one county, the house of representatives and county offices, shall be made out for each county in duplicate, and one copy shall be forwarded to the state board of elections and one copy shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county from which such returns are made; in the case of member of the state senate in district composed of only one county, member of the house of representatives and county officers, such returns shall be made out in duplicate, and one copy thereof filed with the clerk of the superior court and one copy retained by the county board of elections, which shall forthwith, as to such last mentioned offices, publish and declare the results. (1915, c. 101, s. 21½; 1917, c. 218.)

Sufficient Declaration of Result—Request for Second Primary.—When the provisions of this section have been complied with, the result posted at the courthouse door of the county, the result of the election is sufficiently declared, and the contestant receiving the next highest vote, less than a majority, must file his written request for a second primary within five days thereafter, in accordance with the proviso of section 6045. Johnston v. Board, 172 N. C. 162, 90 S. E. 143.

Mandamus by Candidate.—Where the county board of elections has assumed to pass upon the qualifications of the electors voting in a primary for the selection of a party candidate for a county office, and in so doing has declared certain of the electors disqualified, and has accordingly changed its returns and declared the one appearing to have received a smaller vote, the choice of the party as a candidate, an action will lie by the one appearing to have received the larger vote, against the county board, to compel them, by mandamus, to tabulate the returns made by the registrars and judges of the precinct, and then to publish and declare the same as the result of the election. Rowland v. Board, 184 N. C. 78, 113 S. E. 629.

Authority of County Board of Elections.—Under our primary law the right of a proposed elector to vote for the party's choice of a county official, in this case a register of deeds, is expressly referred to the precinct registrar and judges of election, without power of review, or otherwise, in the county board of elections, the authority of the county board extending only to supervise or to review "errors in tabulating returns or filling out blanks." Rowland v. Board, 184 N. C. 78, 113 S. E. 629.

Power to Pass on Qualification of Voters.—The primary law to select a party candidate for a county office repeals all laws inconsistent with its provisions, and by incorporating therein certain provisions of the general election law, confers no authority on the county board of electors to pass upon the qualifications of the voters of a precinct, and thereby change the result of the election from that appearing upon the face of the returns it had officially tabulated. Rowland v. Board, 184 N. C. 78, 113 S. E. 629.

§ 6043. State board tabulates returns and declares nominees.—The state board of elections shall compile and tabulate the returns for each candidate for each office for each political party voted for in the primary except in cases in which it is in this article provided that the result shall be declared by the several county boards of election, and if a majority of the entire votes cast for all the candidates of any political party for a particular office shall be for one candidate, he shall be declared by the state board of elections the nominee of his political party for a particular office shall be for one candidate, he shall be declared by the state board of elections the nominee of his political party for such office. (1915, c. 101, s. 22; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6044. Returns of election boards to be under oath.—The chairman or secretary of each of the county boards of elections and the chairman or secretary of the state board of elections shall file with all returns and declarations of results of election required by law to be filed by such boards an affidavit that the same are true and correct according to the returns made to them; and a judge of election or registrar shall accompany the precinct returns as to results of primary elections with an affidavit that the same are true and correct, according to the votes cast and correctly counted by them. (1915, c. 101, s. 23; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6045. When results determined by plurality or majority; second primaries. — Nominations for president and vice-president of the United States in the several congressional districts shall be determined by a plurality of the votes cast, and in the case of all other officers mentioned in this act nominations shall be determined by a majority of the votes cast.

If in the case of an office other than the offices of president and vice-president no aspirant shall receive a majority of the votes cast, a second primary, subject to the conditions hereinafter set out, shall be held in which only the two aspirants who shall have received the highest and next highest number of votes shall be voted for: Provided, that if either of such two shall withdraw and decline to run, and shall file notice to the effect with the appropriate board of elections, such board shall declare the other aspirant nominated: Provided further, that unless the aspirant receiving the second highest number of votes shall, within five days after the result of such primary election shall have been officially declared, and such aspirant has been notified by the appropriate board of elections, file in writing with the appropriate board of elections a request that a second primary be called and held, the aspirant receiving the highest number of votes cast shall be declared nominated by such appropriate board.

If a second primary be ordered by the state or a county board of elections, it shall be held four weeks after the first primary, in which case such second primary shall be held under the same laws, rules, and regulations as are provided for the first primary, except that there shall be no further registration of voters other than such as may have become legally qualified after the first primary election, and such persons may register on the day of the second primary, and shall be entitled to vote therein under the provisions of this article. If a nominee for a single office is to be selected, with more than one candidate, then the majority of this section shall be ascertained by dividing the total vote cast for all candidates by two, and any excess of the sum so ascertained shall be a majority within the meaning of this section.

If nominees for two or more offices (constituting a group) are to be selected, and there are more candidates for nomination than there are such offices, then the majority of this section shall be ascertained by dividing the total vote cast for all of such candidates by the number of positions to be filled, and then dividing the result by two. Any excess of the sum so ascertained, shall be the majority of this section. If in ascertaining the result in this way, it appears that more candidates have obtained this majority than there are positions to be filled, then those having the highest vote, if beyond the majority just defined, shall be declared the nominee for the positions to be filled. Where candidates for all the offices within such group do not receive a majority as defined and set out in this section, those candidates equal in number to the positions to be filled and having the highest number of votes shall be declared nominated unless a second primary shall be demanded, which may be done by any one or all of the candidates equal in number to the positions remaining to be filled and having the second highest number of votes. When any one or all of such candidates in the group receiving the second highest number of votes demand a second primary, such second primary shall be held and the names of all those candidates in the group receiving the highest number of votes and all those in the group receiving the second highest number of votes and demanding a second primary shall be put on the ballot for such primary. In no case shall there be a third primary, but the candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the second primary shall be nominated. (1915, c. 101, s. 24; 1917, c. 179, s. 2; 1917, c. 218; 1927, c. 260, s. 23; 1931, c. 254, s. 17.)

Editor's Note.—The provisions contained in the last two paragraphs of this section were added by the amendment of 1927, except the last three sentences of the last paragraph which were added by the amendment of 1931.

Effect of Failure to Comply with Provisions within the Time.—Applying the rule of construction that every part of a statute should be given effect when possible, it is Held, that section 24 of the State Primary Law, ch. 101, Laws of 1915, providing, among other things, that the successful candidate for certain offices, shall receive a majority of the votes cast, when construed in connection with the proviso of the same section, that the one receiving the next highest vote, under a majority, shall file a request, in writing, with the appropriate board of elections for a second primary, entitles the one receiving the highest number of votes to be the candidate of the party to the office, upon the failure to the one receiving the next highest vote to comply with the provision within the time stated, i. e., within five days after the result of the primary has been officially declared. Johnston v. Board, 172 N. C. 162, 90 S. E. 143.

Same—Mandamus.—Where a candidate for membership in the General Assembly who has received the next highest vote in a legalized primary, but less than a majority of the votes cast, has failed to comply with the proviso of this section, in giving the written notice to the board of elections for a second primary within the time prescribed, and after duly declaring the result of the election, the board then orders the second primary, the ministerial duty of recognizing the one receiving the highest vote as the candidate and putting his name on the ticket as such will be enforced by mandamus. Johnston v. Board, 172 N. C. 162, 90 S. E. 143.

The plaintiff in proceedings for mandamus to compel the county board of elections to declare him the successful candidate of his party in a primary election, or that he is entitled to a second primary to select between himself and another candidate for the same office, must show the denial of a present, clear legal right, by the failure of such board to have done so. Umstead v. Board, 192 N. C. 139, 134 S. E. 409.

In order for a candidate for the party nomination for the Legislature to obtain a writ of mandamus against the county board of elections to compel the ordering of a second primary, he must show that his opponents receiving the larger number of votes have not received a majority of the votes cast for said nomination, and within five days after the result has been officially declared and he has been notified thereof, he must have filed with the county board of elections a written request that the second primary be called by it. Umstead v. Board, 192 N. C. 139, 134 S. E. 409.

§ 6046. Attorney-general to aid boards by advice and as to forms.—In the preparation and distribution of ballots, poll books, forms of returns to be made by registrars and judges, and forms of the returns to be made by the county boards of elections to the state board of elections and to be made by the state board of elections, and all other forms to be prepared by the attorney-general of the state of North Carolina, and it shall be the duty of the state board of elections to call to its aid the attorney-general of the state of North Carolina, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to advise and aid in the preparation of all such ballots, books, and forms. (1915, c. 101, s. 25; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6047. Returns, canvasses, and other acts governed by general election law.—The returns to be made by the registrars and judges as to the results of primary elections, and the canvassing by the county boards of elections of such results and declarations of such results, and the reports to be made by the county boards of elections to the state board of elections and other acts and things to be done in ascertaining and declaring the results of primary elections, unless otherwise provided herein, shall be done within the time before or after the primary election, and, as near as may be, under the circumstances prescribed for like acts and things done with reference to a general election, unless such acts and things prescribed to be done within certain times under the general election law shall, with respect to primary elections, be changed by general rules promulgated by the state board of elections for what may seem to them a good cause. (1915, c. 101, s. 26; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6048. Election board may refer to ballot boxes to resolve doubts.—When, on account of errors in tabulating returns and filling out blanks, the result of an election in any one or more precincts cannot be accurately known, the county board of elections and the state board of elections shall be allowed access to the ballot boxes in such precincts to make a recount and declare the results, which shall be done under such rules as the state board of elections shall establish to protect the integrity of the election and the rights of the voters. (1915, c. 101, s. 27; 1917, c. 218.)

Applicable in Case of Error.—This section applies only "when, on account of errors in tabulating returns or filling out blanks," the result of the election cannot be accurately known, and confers no authority on the courts, to investigate and pass upon the methods or manner in which the primary may have been conducted. Brown v. Costen, 176 N. C. 63, 67, 96 S. E. 659.

§ 6049. Official ballots for general election of state and district officers; preparation and distribution.—(This section was amended by Public Laws 1923, Chapter 111, section 17, by renumbering same "5980(a).")

§ 6050. Official ballots for general election of county officers; preparation and distribution.—(This section was amended by Public Laws 1923, Chapter 111, Section 18, by renumbering same "5980(b).")

§ 6051. Repealed by Public Laws 1929, c. 164, s. 1.

See § 6055(a 1), (a 34).

§ 6052. Political party defined for primary elections. — A political party within the meaning of the primary law shall mean any political group of voters which, at the last preceding general election, polled at least three per cent of the total vote cast therein for such offices as are described in section 5913 of the C. S. as amended. (1915, c. 101, s. 31; 1917, c. 218; 1933, c. 165, s. 17.)

For definition of "political party" under the general election law, see § 5913.

§ 6053. Filling vacancies occurring after primary.—In the event that any person nominated in any primary election as the candidate of a political party for a state office shall die, resign, or for any reason become ineligible or disqualified between the date of such primary election and ensuing general election, the vacancy caused thereby may be filled by the action of the state executive committee of such political party; in the event of such vacancy in the case of a district office, the same may be filled by the action of the executive committee for such district of such political party; and in the event of such vacancy in the case of a county office, or the house of representatives or the state in a district composed of only one county, the same may be filled by the action of the executive committee of the party affected thereby in the county wherein such vacancy occurs: Provided, that should a vacancy occur in any office after the primary has been held a nomination shall be made in like manner as above provided, and the name of the person so nominated shall be placed on the official ballot: Provided further, that after the time for filing notice of candidacy has expired and the candidate who has been declared the nominee for any office shall die before the date of the primary, the vacancy thus created may be filled by nomination in like manner as above provided, and the name of the person so nominated shall be placed on the official ballot: Provided further, that if, after the time for filing notice of candidacy has expired, any person who has filed notice of his candidacy in accordance with law, die, and there be only one other person who has filed notice of his candidacy for such office, the board of elections shall reopen the time for filing notice of candidacy, and fix a date upon which the primary election for such office shall be held. (1915, c. 101, s. 33; 1917, c. 179, s. 3; 1917, c. 218; 1923, c. 111, s. 16.)

Editor's Note.—The second and third provisos of this section were added by the amendment of 1923.

§ 6054. Certain counties excepted.—This article on primary elections shall not apply to nominations for candidates for county offices, members of the house of representatives, and for the state senate when there exist agreements for rotation of candidates in senatorial districts of more than one county under C. S. six thousand and fourteen, and when there is but one county in a senatorial district, in the following counties, to-wit: Alexander, Ashe, Burke, Cabarrus, Catawba, Cherokee, Clay, Dare, Duplin, Edgecombe, Graham, Hyde, Lee, New Hanover, Northampton, Stokes, Surry, Union: Provided, that in any county whose county offices are hereby exempted, if voters in number as great as one-fifth of the total vote cast for governor in such county at the preceding gubernatorial election shall petition the board of county commissioners of such county for an election thereon, it shall be the duty of the said board to order an election at the next succeeding general election upon the method of nominating county officers and member or members of the house of representatives. At such election those favoring the nomination of county and legislative officers by primary shall cast ballots on which is written or printed "for county primary;" those opposed shall cast ballots bearing the words "against county primary." If a majority of the votes cast in such election shall be "for county primary," then the provisions of this article shall thereafter apply to such county, and it shall be no longer exempted. Otherwise, such exceptions shall remain in force. (1915, c. 101, s. 34; 1915, c. 102; 1917, cc. 53, 86, 89, 90, 91, 92, 112, 137, 218, 222, 225; P. L. 1917, cc. 312, 327, 351, 373; 1919, cc. 41, 81, 95, 173, 278, 283, 337; Ex. Sess. 1920, cc. 16, 57; 1923, cc. 21, 30, 44, 50, 88, 137, 226; 1925, c. 20, s. 1; c. 147; c. 197; 1927, c. 106, ss. 1, 2; 1929, c. 70, s. 1; 1929, c. 77, s. 1; 1931, cc. 16, 93, 108, 190, 203, 450; 1933, c. 70; c. 165, s. 18; c. 327, s. 1; 1935, cc. 365, 391.)

Editor's Note.—This section originally excepted by name

39 counties from the operation of the law. The list was increased by the Extra Session, 1920, by two counties, Avery (Ex. 1920, c. 16) and Stokes (Ex. 1920, c. 57) and Martin was stricken out. R. L. 1921, c. 298. The 1923 Legislature struck out eight counties from the list of exceptions as follows: Alleghany, (P. L. 1923, c. 21); Avery (c. 137); Caldwell (c. 30); Halifax (c. 50); Johnson (c. 44); Polk (c. 88); Transylvania (c. 21); Tyrell (c. 226). The laws of 1925 added Randolph County and struck out Montgomery and Pender Counties and the laws of 1927 struck out the county of Brunswick. Public Local Laws 1927 struck out Alamance. The Acts of 1929 eliminated McDowell. The Acts of 1931 struck out Davidson (c. 16); Davie and Mitchell (c. 93); Wilkes (c. 108); Macon (c. 190); Gaston (c. 203); Sampson (c. 450). For statute relating to conduct of primary in Wilkes County, see P. L. 1931, c. 108.

P. L. 1933, c. 70 struck out Randolph from the list of excepted counties. P. L. 1933, c. 327, again adding Avery to the list of excepted counties, was repealed by P. L. 1935, c. 141. P. L. 1935, c. 365 struck out Stanley from the list of counties and c. 391 of P. L. 1935 struck out Watauga. P. L. 1935, c. 216 made an exception applicable to the town of Wilkesboro.

Same—Ashe County.—P. L. 1929, c. 319, eliminated Ashe County provided a petition of voters be presented within twelve months.

§ 6054(a). Contests over primary results. — All contests over the results of a primary election shall be determined according to the law applicable to similar contests over the results of a general election. (1933, c. 165, s. 19.)

§ 6055. Certain local acts repealed. — All laws and clauses of laws relating to primary elections in Wake county in conflict with this article be and the same are hereby repealed. All local laws regulating primaries as to county or legislative officers in those counties not excepted in the preceding section from the provisions of this article are hereby repealed. (1915, c. 101, s. 34½; 1917, c. 218.)

§ 6055(a). Notice of candidacy to indicate vacancy; votes only effective for vacancy indicated.—In any primary when there are two or more vacancies for chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court of North Carolina to be filled by nominations all candidates shall file with the state board of elections at the time of filing notice of candidacy a notice designating to which of said vacancies the respective candidate is asking the nomination. All votes cast for any candidate shall be effective only for the vacancy for which he has given notice of candidacy, as provided herein. (1921, c. 217.)

SUBCHAPTER III. GENERAL ELECTION LAWS

Art. 18. Election Laws of 1929

§ 6055 (a1). Former laws repealed; enactments in lieu thereof.—Sections five thousand nine hundred and seventy-six, five thousand nine hundred and seventy-eight, five thousand nine hundred and eighty, five thousand nine hundred and eighty (a), five thousand nine hundred and eighty (b), five thousand nine hundred and eighty-one, five thousand nine hundred and eighty-two, five thousand nine hundred and eighty-three, and six-thousand and fifty-one, of the Code of North Carolina, and all acts amendatory thereof, be and the same are hereby repealed, and in lieu thereof the following shall be and is hereby enacted and inserted. (1929, c. 164, s. 1.)

Chapter 557 of the Public Laws of 1933 provides that this subchapter shall not apply in Ashe county.

For an amendment to Public Laws of 1933, chapter 557 applicable only in Ashe county, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 259.

§ 6055 (a2). Applicable to all subdivisions of State.—The provisions of this subchapter shall be applicable to all counties, cities, towns, townships and school districts in the State of North Carolina, without regard to population or number of inhabitants thereof. (1929, c. 164, s. 2.)

§ 6055(a3). Preparation and distribution; definitions.—All ballots cast in general elections for national, State, county, municipal, and district officers in the towns, counties, districts, cities and other political divisions, and in primaries for the nomination of candidates for such officers, shall be printed and distributed at public expense. The printing and distribution of all ballots other than the county or local ballots hereinafter designated and the ballots for elections in cities and towns and the ballots for elections on bonds or other local measures, shall be arranged and handled by the State Board of Elections and shall be paid for by the State; and the printing and distribution of ballots in all county and local elections or primaries shall be arranged and handled by the County Board of Elections and shall be paid for by the respective counties; the printing and distribution of ballots in all municipal elections shall be arranged and handled by municipal authorities conducting such elections or primary and shall be paid for by such municipality. The term "State elections" as used in this chapter shall apply to any election held for the choice of Presidential Electors, United States Senators, State, county or district officer or officers. The term "National elections" shall apply to any member of Congress of the United States. The term "city election" shall apply to any municipal election so held in a city or town, and the term "city officers" shall apply to any person to be chosen by the qualified voters at such an election. (1929, c. 164, s. 3.)

§ 6055 (a4). Applicable to all issues submitted to people; form of ballot.—This subchapter shall apply and control all elections for the issuance of bonds and to all other elections in which any question or issue is submitted to a vote of the people. And the form of ballot in such election shall be a statement of the question, with provisions to be answered "Yes" or "No" or "For" or "Against," as the case may be. (1929, c. 164, s. 4.)

§ 6055 (a5). Ballots, provisions as to; names of candidates and issue.—The ballots printed for use under the provisions of this subchapter shall be printed and delivered to the County Boards of Elections at least thirty days previous to the date of election, and shall contain the names of all candidates who have been put in nomination by any primary, convention, mass meeting, or other assembly of any political party in this State, or have duly filed notice of their independent candidacy, and all questions or issue to be voted on. It shall be the duty of the County Board of Elections to have printed all necessary ballots for use under the provisions of this subchapter for county, township, and district elections. It shall be the duty of the State Board of Elections to have printed all necessary ballots for use under the provisions hereof for State and national elections, constitutional amendments and propositions submitted to the vote of the people. (1929, c. 164, s. 5.)

§ 6055 (a6). Independent candidates put upon ballot, upon petition. — The Boards of Election shall cause to be printed upon said ballots as an independent or non-partisan candidate, the name of any qualified voter who has been requested to be a candidate for office by written petition signed by at least twenty-five per cent of those entitled to vote for a candidate for such office according to the vote cast in the last gubernatorial election in the political division in which such candidate may be voted for, when such petition is accompanied by an affidavit from such proposed candidate that he seeks to become an independent or non-partisan candidate and does not affiliate with any political party: Provided, such petition is filed with said Board of Elections at or before the time prescribed by law for the nomination of candidates by the political parties within the particular political division. The written petition provided herein, in municipal elections shall be signed by at least twenty-five per cent of the votes cast for the candidate running, in the last municipal election, for the particular office. (1929, c. 164, s. 6; 1931, c. 223; 1935, c. 236.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the last sentence to this section. The amendment, badly worded, apparently means that in municipal elections, the number who must sign the petition must be equal to ten per cent (now twenty-five per cent) of the votes cast for the successful candidate for that office in the last municipal election. 9 N. C. Law Rev., 373.

Prior to the amendment of 1935 the petition could be signed by at least ten per cent instead of twenty-five per cent.

§ 6055 (a7). Becoming candidate within ten days of election; provision as to ballot.—If any qualified citizen is nominated to fill any vacancy, in any primary or election, after the time fixed herein for the printing of the official ballots, then said names shall not be printed upon said ballots. But the candidate nominated may, at his own expense, have the Board of elections print a separate ticket upon which the title of the office for which he is a candidate and his own name shall be printed. Such ticket so printed as aforesaid shall be an official ticket. This section relates to all elections, whether nominating primaries, general elections, or others. (1929, c. 164, s. 7; 1931, c. 254, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the following after the word "But," in line seven of this section "in addition to the names printed upon such ballots, there shall be at least one blank space under each office to be voted for in which may be written the candidate's name, or," and also struck out the word "County" before "Board" in line eight thereof.

§ 6055 (a8). Withdrawal of candidate. — After the proper officer has been notified of the nomination, as hereinbefore specified, of any candidate for any office, he shall not withdraw same unless upon the written request of the candidate so nominated, made at least thirty days before the day of the election. 1929, c. 164, s. 8.

§ 6055(a9). Number of ballots; what ballots shall contain; arrangement.—There shall be seven kinds of ballots, called respectively: official ballot for presidential electors; official ballot for United States senator; official ballot for members of congress; official state ballot; official county ballot; official township ballot; and official ballot on constitutional amendments or other proposition submitted. In addition to these, there shall be a definite form of ballot for primary elections as hereinafter provided and a ballot for municipal elections as hereinafter provided: Provided, further, that the state board of elections, or the county board of elections may, in their discretion, combine any one or more of the ballots for either the primary or the general election. The ballots herein provided for shall be used for the purpose for which their names severally indicate, and not otherwise, that is to say:

(a) On the official presidential ballot, the names of candidates for electors of president and vice-president of the United States of any political party or group of petitioners, shall not be placed on the ballot, but shall after nomination, be filed with the secretary of state. In place of their names, there shall be printed first on the ballot the names, of the candidates for president and vice-president of the United States respectively, of each such political party or group of petitioners, and they shall be arranged under the title of the offices. The party columns shall be separated by black ink lines. At the head of each party column shall be printed the party name in large type and below this a circle one-half inch in diameter, below this the names of the candidates for president and vice-president in the order prescribed. Each party circle shall be surrounded by the following instructions plainly printed: "For a straight ticket, mark within this circle."

If the state board of elections, in its discretion, should combine the presidential ballot with some other kind of ballots, such as the state, senatorial, or congressional ballots, then in that event, there shall be printed at the left of the names of such candidates for president and vice-president of each party or group, a single voting square large enough so that a voter, desiring to vote for candidates for other officers of another party, may vote for the candidates for president and vice-president together in the one single square. When the presidential ballot is combined with another ballot, instruction number two on the state ballot shall be included with the instructions given herein for the presidential ballot.

On the face of the ballot, at the top, shall be printed in heavy black type the following instructions:

1. To vote a straight ticket, make a cross (x) mark in the circle of the party you desire to vote for.

2. A vote for the names of candidates for president and vice-president is a vote for the electors of that party, the names of whom are on file with the secretary of state.

3. If you tear or deface or wrongly mark this ballot, return it and get another.

On the bottom of the ballot shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of state board of elections.

(aa) On the official ballot for United States senator the names of the nominees or candidates for United States senator, of each party, and of each independent candidate, if any, shall be printed and so arranged in columns as to show above such names the party with which all such nominees or candidates are affiliated. At the head of each party column shall be printed the party name in large type, and below this a circle one-half inch in diameter, and below this the names of the respective nominees, or independent candidates, if any. At the left of each name shall be printed a voting square, and all voting squares shall be arranged in the same perpendicular line. Each party circle shall be surrounded by the following instructions plainly printed: "For a straight ticket mark within this circle." The column for any independent candidate or candidates shall be similar to the party columns, except that at the top of said column there shall be printed the words "independent candidates." The columns shall be arranged upon the ballots as directed by the state board of elections, as to all ballots herein required to be printed and distributed by such state board of elections, and by the county board of elections with respect to all ballots required to be printed and distributed by the county board of elections. On the face of the ballot, at the top, shall be printed in heavy type the following instructions:

1. To vote a straight ticket, make a cross (x) mark in the circle of the party you desire to vote for.

2. If you tear or deface or wrongly mark this ballot, return it and get another.

On the bottom of the ballot shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of state board of elections.

(aaa) On the official ballot for members of congress, the names of the nominees or candidates for members of congress, of each party, and of each independent candidate, if any, shall be printed and so arranged in columns as to show above such names the party with which all such nominees or candidates are affiliated. At the head of each party column shall be printed the party name in large type, and below this a circle one-half inch in diameter, and below this the names of the respective nominees, or independent candidates, if any. At the left of each name shall be printed a voting square, and all voting squares shall be arranged in the same perpendicular line. Each party circle shall be surrounded by the following instructions plainly printed: "For a straight ticket mark within this circle." The column for any independent candidate or candidates shall be similar to the party columns, except that at the top of said column there shall be printed the words "independent candidates." The columns shall be arranged upon the ballots as directed by the state board of elections, as to all ballots herein required to be printed and distributed by such state board of elections, and by the county board of elections, with respect to all ballots, required to be printed and distributed by the county board of elections. On the face of the ballot, at the top, shall be printed in heavy type the following instructions:

1. To vote a straight ticket, make a cross (x) mark in the circle of the party you desire to vote for.

2. If you tear or deface or wrongly mark this ballot, return it and get another.

On the bottom of the ballot shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of state board of elections.

(b) On the official state ballot shall be printed the names of all candidates for state public offices, including candidates for judges of the superior court, and all other candidates for state offices not otherwise provided for. The names of all such state candidates to go upon the said official ballot which is herein provided, of each party and group of independent candidates, if any, shall be printed in one column and the party column shall be parallel and shall be separated by distinct black lines. At the head of each party column shall be printed the party name and under this shall be a blank circle one-half of an inch in diameter, which party circle shall be surrounded by the following instructions plainly printed: "For a straight ticket, mark within this circle." The columns for the independent candidates shall be similar to the party columns, except that above each column shall be printed the words "independent candidate." In each party column the names of all nominees of that party shall be printed in the customary order of the office, and the names of all candidates of each party for any one office shall be printed in a separate section, and at the top of each section shall be printed on one line the title of the office and a direction as to the number of candidates for whom a vote may be cast, unless there shall not be room for the direction, in which case it shall be printed directly below the title. If two or more candidates are nominated for the same office for different terms the term for which each is nominated shall be printed as a part of the title for the office. Each section shall be blocked in by black lines and the voting squares shall be set in a perpendicular column or columns to the left of each candidate's name. The printing on said ballot shall be plain and legible, and in no case shall it exceed in size ten-point type.

On the face of the ballot, at the top, shall be printed in heavy type, the following instructions:

1. To vote a straight party ticket, make a cross (x) mark in the circle of the party you desire to vote for.

2. To vote for some but not all the candidates of one party, make a cross (x) mark in the square at the left of the name of every candidate printed on the ballot for whom you wish to vote. If you mark any one candidate you must mark all for whom you wish to vote. A mark in the circle will not be counted if any one candidate on the ballot is marked.

3. If you tear or deface or wrongly mark this ballot, return it and get another.

On the bottom of the ballot shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of state board of elections.

The instructions hereby given for the state ballot shall be used when there are two or more state offices to be filled at an election, or when two or more kinds of ballots as herein given are printed on one ballot.

(c) On the official county ballot shall be printed the names of all candidates for solicitor for the judicial district in which the county is situated; for member of the general assembly, and all county offices. It shall conform as nearly as possible to the rules prescribed for printing the state official ballot, but on the bottom thereof shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of county board of elections.

(d) The township ballot shall contain the names of the candidates for constable and justices of the peace, and the municipal ballot shall contain the names of all offices to be filled in the municipality at the election for which the ballot is to be used, and shall conform as near as may be to the provisions herein set out with respect to the county ballot.

(e) On the official ballot on constitutional amendements or other propositions submitted shall be printed each amendment or proposition submitted in the form laid down by the legislature, county commission, convention, or other body submitting such amendment or proposition. Each amendment or proposition shall be printed in a separate section and the section shall be numbered consecutively, if there be more than one. At the left of each question shall be printed two voting squares, one above the other, each at least one-fourth (¼) inch square. At the left of the upper square shall be printed the word "yes" and at the left of the lower square shall be printed the word "no." At the top of the ballot shall be printed the following instructions:

1. To vote "yes" on any question, make a cross (X) mark in the square to the right of the word "yes."

2. To vote "no" on any question, make a cross (X) mark in the square to the right of the word "no."

3. If you tear or deface or wrongly mark this ballot, return it and get another.

On the bottom of each ballot shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of state board of elections.

(f) In primary elections there shall be no provision for designating the choice of a party ticket by one act or mark, but there shall be a separate ballot for each party and of different colors. The ballots containing the names of the respective candidates shall be so printed that the names of the opposing candidates for any office shall, as far as practicable, alternate in position upon the ballot, to the end that the name of each candidate shall occupy with reference to the name of every other candidate for the same office, first position, second position and every other position, if any, upon an equal number of ballots, and the said ballots shall be distributed impartially and without discrimination. A square shall be to the left of the name of each candidate in which the voter may make a cross (X) mark indicating his choice for each candidate. On the bottom of each ballot in such primary election printed by the state board of elections shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of state board of elections.

And on the bottom of each ballot printed by the county board of elections shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of chairman of county board of elections.

(g) In all city or municipal elections and primaries there shall be an official ballot on which shall be printed the names of all candidates for city or town offices. It shall conform as nearly as possible to the rules prescribed for the printing of the official general ballot, but on the bottom thereof shall be printed the following:

.....

Facsimile of signature of city clerk. (1929, c. 164, s. 9; 1931, c. 254, ss. 2-10; 1933, c. 165, ss. 20, 21.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended in several particulars by the Act of 1931. The provision as to combining ballots was inserted in the first paragraph, and changes were made as to the instructions, etc., to be printed on the ballots.

The following cases were decided under former section 5980, now repealed. However, these cases are made available to the practitioner as an aid in construing the present law, but they must be read in the light of the former law.

Defect in Size a Mere Irregularity.—In a municipal election, under the provisions of its charter, the mere difference in sizes was held a mere irregularity and hence not to be regarded as a device or condemned and rejected as such. State v. Spires, 152 N. C. 4, 67 S. E. 41.

Part of Ballot Torn Off, the Rest Valid.—Where a voter had simply torn off the top part of a ballot, declining to vote for the first names, but cast the balance of the ballot intact, the vote was valid for the candidates indicated. Bray v. Baxter, 171 N. C. 6, 86 S. E. 163.

The term "device" in the statute regulating elections, means any distinguishing mark; and hence when certain ballots cast at an election had upon the outside or back of the letter "O. K." in pencil, they were within the prohibition of the statute and were properly rejected. Baxter v. Ellis, 111 N. C. 124, 15 S. E. 938.

Same—Application to Municipal Elections.—The statute prohibiting devices upon ballots embraces elections for town and city officers. Baxter v. Ellis, 111 N. C. 124, 15 S. E. 938.

§ 6055(a10). Ballots for each precinct wrapped separately.—All ballots for use in each precinct shall be wrapped in packages, each package to contain whatever number of ballots the chairman of the county board of elections may deem advisable for the respective precincts in his own county, but each package shall have written or stamped thereon the number of ballots contained therein so the registrar will know how many ballots to account for in his precinct. (1929, c. 164, s. 10; 1933, c. 165, s. 22.)

§ 6055(a11). Number of ballots to be furnished polling places.—There shall be provided for each voting place at which an election or primary is to be held such a number of ballots that there shall be at least one hundred and twenty-five ballots for every one hundred registered voters at each polling place, or an excess of ballots of twenty-five per cent over the registration at each precinct. (1929, c. 164, s. 11; 1933, c. 165, s. 22.)

§ 6055(a12). Ballot boxes.—The County Board of Elections shall provide for each precinct ballot boxes for the official ballots, as herein specified, which boxes shall respectively be plainly marked "Presidential Electors," "Ballot Box Members of Congress," "Ballot Box United States Senator," "Official State Ballot Box," "Official County Ballot Box," "Official Township Ballot Box," and "Official Propositions Ballot Box," and also one additional box for spoiled ballots, to be plainly marked "For Spoiled Ballots." Each box shall be supplied with a lock and key and with an opening in the top large enough to allow a single folded ballot to be easily passed through, but no larger. (1929, s. 164, s. 12; 1931, c. 254, s. 11.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 cut out the provision as to providing a box for ballot stubs.

§ 6055(a13). Sample ballots.—The State Board of Elections shall prepare sample ballots of each kind of ballot printed by the State for the purpose of instructing voters in marking their ballots, which sample ballots shall be printed on colored paper and with the words "Sample Ballots" printed conspicuously thereon and shall distribute the same to the County Boards of Elections. The County Boards of Elections shall likewise print on colored paper and distribute county and township sample ballots for instructing said voters. (1929, c. 164, s. 13; 1931, c. 254, s. 12.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended and rewritten by the Act of 1931 to read as set out above.

§ 6055 (a14). Distribution of ballots and boxes.—The County Board of Elections shall deliver to the Registrar in each precinct the proper number of ballots and boxes, as required by the provisions of this subchapter, three days before the day of election, and shall obtain from each Registrar a receipt for same. (1929, c. 164, s. 14.)

§ 6055 (a15). Destroyed or stolen ballots; how replaced; reports as to.—In case the ballots furnished to any precinct in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter shall be destroyed or stolen, it shall be the duty of the County Board of Elections to cause other ballots to be prepared in the form of the ballots so wanting. Within three days after the close of the polls on election days, the Registrars having lost such ballots shall make a written report of the whole circumstances of the loss of the ballots, under oath, to the County Board of Elections. (1929, c. 164, s. 15.)

§ 6055(a16). Registrars, duties of, compensation; failure to serve.—In addition to the compensation for performance of the duties required in the registration of voters, each Registrar shall receive for his services on election day the sum of three dollars. If any Registrar or Judge of election fails or refuses to serve as herein provided, the officer holding the election shall swear in a bystander of the same political faith as the Registrar not serving, and if none such be present then any other qualified elector. The bystander sworn in to act as Registrar or Judge shall receive the same compensation as the Registrar is entitled to. One of the judges appointed for such purpose by the precinct election officers shall have charge of the ballots and furnish them to the voters in manner hereinafter set forth. The Registrar shall promptly, at the close of the registration period, certify to the County Board of Elections the number of voters registered in his precinct. (1929, c. 164, s. 16.)

§ 6055 (a17). Voting booths; arrangement and number of; provisions as to.—The County Board of Elections in each county whose duty it is to hold the election and appoint polling places therein, as herein provided for, shall cause the same to be suitably provided with a sufficient number of voting booths, equipped with the tables or shelves on which voters may conveniently mark their ballots. Each voting booth shall be at least three feet square and six feet high and shall contain three sides and have a door or curtain in front, which door or curtain shall extend within two feet of the floor; and each booth shall be so arranged that it shall be impossible for one voter in one voting booth to see another voter at another voting booth in the act of marking his ballot. The arrangement shall be such that the ballot boxes and voting booths shall be in plain view of the judges of election. The number of such voting booths shall be not less than one for each hundred voters qualified to vote at such polling places. Each voting booth shall be kept properly lighted and provided with proper supplies and conveniences for making ballots. The County Board of Elections may provide buildings by lease or otherwise in which the elections are to be conducted, or they may cause a space not more than one hundred feet from the ballot box to be roped off, in which space no person shall be allowed to enter except through a way not exceeding three feet in width for the entrance and exit of voters. They may prescribe the manner in which the place for holding elections shall be prepared in every precinct so as to properly effectuate the purpose of this act. The County Board of Elections shall also be entitled to demand and use any school or other public building for the purpose of holding any election and require that such building be vacated for such purpose. (1929, c. 164, s. 17.)

§ 6055 (a18). Regulations for opening polls; oath of judges and registrars.—The Judges of election and Registrars of each precinct shall meet at the polling places therein at least one-half hour before the time set for opening polls for each election referred to in this subchapter, and shall proceed to arrange the space within the enclosures set apart for election, and to prepare the booths for the orderly and legal conduct of the election. They shall then and there have the official ballot boxes, herein referred to, together with the boxes for ballot stubs and the boxes for spoiled ballots as hereinbefore provided, the sealed packages of official ballots, the registration book, the polling book, and the required supplies. They shall see that the voting booths are supplied with pencils, or pen and ink; unlock the official ballot boxes; see that the same are empty; allow the authorized watchers present and any other electors who may be present to examine said boxes, and shall lock the same again while empty. After such official ballot boxes are relocked they shall not be unlocked or opened until the closing of the polls; and except as authorized by law no ballot or other matter shall be placed in such boxes. Each Judge of election and Registrar shall before the opening of the polls take the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear that I will administer the duties of my office without fear or favor; that I will not in any manner request or seek to persuade or induce any voter to vote for or against any particular candidate or proposition, and that I will not keep or make any memorandum of anything occuring within the voting booths, except I be called upon to testify in a judicial proceeding for a violation of the election laws of this State: so help me God."

This oath shall be administered at the time hereinbefore prescribed by the Registrar to the two Judges of election and by one of them to the Registrar. The same oath shall be taken before the Registrar or Judge by every person rendering assistance. They shall then open the sealed package of ballots, and one of the Judges shall make proclamation that the polls are open and of the time when they will be closed. From the time of opening of the polls until the announcement of the result of the canvass of the votes after the close of the polls and the signing of the official returns the official ballot boxes and the other boxes herein provided for and all the official ballots herein provided for shall be kept within the precinct election enclosures. (1929, c. 164, s. 18.)

§ 6055(a19). No loitering or electioneering allowed within 50 feet of polls; regulations for voting at polling places; banners or placards; guard rail; diagram.—No person shall, while the polls are open at polling places, loiter about or do any electioneering within such polling place or within fifty feet thereof, and no political banner, poster, or placard shall be allowed in or upon such polling places during the day of the election. The election officials and ballot boxes shall at all times be in plain view of the qualified voters who are present, and a guard rail shall be placed not nearer than ten feet nor further than twenty feet from the said election officials and ballot boxes.

The arrangement of the polling place shall be substantially according to the diagram, and shall conform as nearly thereto as the building or other place in which said election is held will permit. (1929, c. 164, s. 19.)

§ 6055 (a20). Delivery of ballot to voter; testing registration.—The voter shall enter through the entrance provided, and shall forthwith give to the Judge of election his name and residence. One of the Judges shall thereupon announce the name and residence of the voter in distinct tone of voice. The Registrar shall at once announce whether the name of such voter is duly registered. If he be registered, and be not challenged, or if he be challenged and the challenge decided in his favor, or if he take the requisite oath and be lawfully entitled to vote, the proper Judge of election shall prepare for him one official ballot of each kind, folded by such judge in the proper manner for voting, which is: first, bring the bottom of the ballot up to the margin of the printing at the top of the ballot, allowing the margin to overlap; and second, fold both sides of the center, so that when folded the face of the ballot, except the one inch margin at the top thereof, shall be concealed, and so that the ballot shall be not more than four inches wide. Such Judge shall then instruct the voter to refold the ballot in the same creases when he has marked it. (1929, c. 164, s. 20; 1931, c. 254, s. 13.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 cut out the last sentence of this section which read as follows: "Such judge shall then with pen and ink mark upon the top margin of the face thereof the number of the voter upon the polling list and the initials of such judge's name, and shall thereupon deliver the ballot or ballots to the voter. No person other than such designated judge shall deliver to any voter any ballot."

§ 6055 (a21). Marking ballots by voter.—The voter shall then go to one of the voting booths and shall therein prepare his ballot by marking in the appropriate margin or place a cross (X) mark opposite the name of the candidate or party of his choice for each office to be filled, or by filling the name of the candidate of his choice in the blank space provided therefor, and marking a cross (X) opposite thereto. The voter may designate choice of candidate by a cross (X) or by a check mark, or other clear indicative mark. (1929, c. 164, s. 21.)

§ 6055(a22). Folding and depositing of ballots; signature of voter if challenged; delivery of poll books to clerks of Superior Court.—When the voter shall have prepared his ballot or ballots, he shall leave the voting booth with his ballot folded so as to conceal the face of the ballot, and keep it so folded, shall proceed at once to the judge of election designated to receive ballots and shall offer them to such judge who shall then deposit the ballots in the proper boxes: Provided, however, that if the voter shall have been challenged and the challenge be decided in the voter's favor, before depositing the ballot or ballots in the proper boxes, the voter shall write his name on the ballot or ballots for identification in the event that any action should be taken later in regard to the voter's right to vote. After voting the voter shall forthwith pass outside the guard-rail, unless he be one of the persons authorized to remain for purposes other than voting. No ballots except official ballots bearing the official endorsement shall be allowed to be deposited in the ballot boxes or to be counted. No official ballot folded shall be unfolded outside of the voting booth until it is to be counted. No person to whom any official ballot shall be delivered shall leave the space within the guard-rail until after he shall have delivered back all such ballots. When a person shall have received an official ballot from the judge, he shall be deemed to have begun the act of voting, and if he leave the guard-rail before the deposit of his ballot in the box he shall not be entitled to pass again within the guard-rail for the purpose of voting.

The poll books required to be kept by the judges of elections shall be signed by the judge at the close of the election, and delivered to the registrar, who shall deliver them to the Clerk of the Superior Court. (1929, c. 164, s. 22; 1931, c. 254, s. 14.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 amended and rewrote this section to read as set out above.

§ 6055(a23). Manner and time of voting.—On receiving his ballot the voter shall forthwith, and without leaving the enclosed space, retire alone, unless he be one that is entitled to assistance as hereinafter provided, to one of the voting booths, and without undue delay unfold and mark his ballots. No voter shall be allowed to occupy a booth already occupied by another, or to occupy a booth more than five minutes in case all the booths are in use and voters are waiting. It shall be unlawful purposely to deface or tear an official ballot in any manner, or to erase any name or mark written thereon by a voter. If a voter wrongly mark or deface or tear a ballot he may obtain others successively one at a time, but not more than three of any one kind, upon returning to the Judge each ballot so spoiled. (1929, c. 164, s. 23.)

§ 6055(a24). Who allowed in room or enclosure; peace officers.—No person other than voters in the act of voting shall be allowed in the room or enclosure in which said ballot box and booths are, except the officers of election and official markers as hereinafter provided. In case of cities having duly enrolled policemen or peace officers, the city authorities may designate the officers to keep the peace at the polls on the outside of the enclosure in which is the ballot box. But in no event shall said policemen or peace officers come nearer to said entrance than ten feet, or enter the room or enclosure in which is the ballot box, unless specially requested to do so by the officers holding the elections, and then only for the purpose of preventing disorder; and at any time when requested to do so by said officers holding elections, the said policemen shall retire from the room or enclosure in which is the ballot box, and to a point not nearer than ten feet to the aforesaid entrance. (1929, c. 164, s. 24.)

§ 6055(a25). Ballots not taken from polls; other ballots for spoiled ballots; delivery to County Board of Elections.—No person shall take or remove any ballots from the polling place before the close of the polls. If any voter spoils a ballot, he may successively obtain others, one at a time, not exceeding three in all, upon returning each spoiled one to the Registrar, and the Registrar shall deposit said spoiled ballot in the box kept for the purpose by him. Within three days after each election or primary the Registrar of each precinct shall deliver to the County Board of Elections in an envelope to be furnished by the County Board of Elections for such purpose the spoiled ballots so deposited at such precinct, and shall at the same time in another envelope furnished for such purpose, deliver to the said County Board of Elections the unused ballots from said precinct. The County Board of Elections shall thereupon make a check to ascertain whether the total of such spoiled ballots and such unused ballots when added to the number of ballots cast at such precinct shall equal the total number of ballots furnished to the Registrar of such precinct prior to such election or primary. (1929, c. 164, s. 25.)

§ 6055(a26). Assistance to voters.—Prior to the date of any election hereunder the county board of elections, together with the registrar of each precinct of each county, shall designate for each precinct therein a sufficient number of persons of good moral character and of the requisite educational qualifications, who shall be bona fide electors of the precinct for which they are appointed, to act as markers, whose duty it shall be to assist voters in the preparation of their ballots. The assistants or markers so appointed by the said county board of elections shall be so appointed as to give fair representation to each political party whose candidates appear upon the ballot. The chairman of the county organization of any political party may, not more than ten days before any election to be held, hereunder, submit to the county board of elections the names of not less than ten qualified voters in any voting precinct of the county, and thereupon the marker or markers appointed to represent such party in said election at said voting precinct shall be selected from among those so named. Such persons shall remain within the enclosure prepared for the holding of elections, but shall not come within ten feet of the guard-rail, except when going to or returning from the booth with any elector who has requested assistance. Such marker or assistant shall not in any manner seek to persuade or induce any voter to cast his vote in any particular way, and shall not make or keep any memorandum of anything occurring within such booth, and shall not directly, or indirectly, reveal to any other person how in any particular such voter marked his ballot, unless he, or they, be called upon to testify in a judicial proceeding for a violation of the election laws. Every such marker or assistant, together with the registrar and judge of election, shall, before the opening of the polls, take and subscribe an oath that he will not, in any manner, seek to persuade or induce any voter to vote for or against any particular candidate, or for or against any particular proposition, and that he will not make or keep any memorandum of anything occurring within the booth, and will not disclose the same, unless he be called upon to testify in a judicial proceeding for a violation of the election laws of this state. The said oath, after first being taken by the registrar, may be administered by him to the two judges of election and to the markers or assistants, as herein provided: Provided however, that no markers shall be named for or permitted in primary elections conducted under the provisions of this subchapter: Provided further, that in any primary election held hereunder, any voter may ask and secure from any election official at his voting precinct, aid in the preparation of his ballot or in voting: Provided, that in all general and primary elections held under the provisions of this article any voter may select another member of his or her family who shall have the right to accompany such voter into the voting booth and assist in the preparation of the ballot, but immediately after rendering such assistance the person so assisting shall vacate the booth and withdraw from the voting arena: Provided, that any voter in primary elections may be accompanied into the voting booth by any member of his or her family for the purpose of aiding in the marking of his or her ballot or by any other person requested by the voter. (1929, c. 164, s. 26; 1933, c. 165, s. 24.)

Public Laws 1933, c. 164 exempts Brunswick county from the provision of this section and makes provisions for marking ballots for those asking aid in that county.

For an act exempting Cherokee county, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 461. For an act amending Public Laws of 1933, chapter 164 which exempts Brunswick county, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 221.

§ 6055(a27). Aid to persons suffering from physical disability or illiteracy.—Any person, who, on account of physical disability, is obviously unable to enter the booth without assistance, or who on account of such disability, or because of illiteracy, or for any other good reason, shall request assistance from the registrar or judges of election, may, upon such declaration and upon his own request, have assistance from any one of the markers or assistants provided for in § 6055(a26). The voter may indicate which of the markers he desires to assist him; whereupon the registrar shall direct that the marker or assistant so indicated by the voter accompany said voter into the booth and give him such aid as may be requested in the preparation of his ballot, whereupon said marker or assistant shall withdraw from said booth and to his place within the rail, and shall not accompany the voter to the ballot box unless assistance be required on account of physical infirmity and such assistance is requested by the voter, or have any further conversation with said voter prior to the time that he deposits his ballot. In the event the voter does not request the assistance of any particular marker or assistant, then the registrar shall appoint from among the official markers or assistants some person to aid the voter in preparing his ballot. (1929, c. 164, s. 27.)

Public Laws 1933, c. 164 exempts Brunswick county from the provision of this section and makes provisions for marking ballots for those asking aid in that county.

For an act exempting Cherokee county, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 461. For an act amending Public Laws of 1933, chapter 164 which exempts Brunswick county, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 221.

§ 6055(a28). Method of marking ballots; improperly marked ballots not counted; when.—The voter shall observe the following rules in marking his ballot:

1. If the elector desires to vote a straight ticket, or in other words, for each and every candidate of one party for whatever office nominated, he shall, either—

(a) Make a cross mark in the circular space below the name of the party at the head of the ticket; or

(b) Make a cross mark on the left of and opposite the name of each and every candidate of such party in the blank space provided therefor.

2. If the elector desires to vote a mixed ticket or in other words for candidates of different parties, he shall:

(a) Omit making a cross mark in the circular space above the name of any party and make a cross mark in the blank space before the name of each candidate for whom he desires to vote on whatever ticket he may be.

3. If the elector desires to vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ticket, he can substitute the name by writing it in with a pencil or ink in the proper place, and making a cross (x) mark in the blank space at the left of the name so written in. When a name is written in on the official ballot, the new name so written in is to be treated like any other name on the ballot. No sticker is to be used.

4. If the elector marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or, if for any reason, it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for an office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office but shall be returned as a blank vote for such office.

5. If a voter shall do any act extrinsic to the ballot itself, such as enclosing any paper or other article in the folded ballot, such ballot shall be void.

6. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not make it impossible to determine the voter's choice.

7. Every elector who does not vote a ballot delivered by the election officer shall, before leaving the polling place, return such ballot to such officer.

8. A cross (x) mark shall consist of any straight line crossing any other straight line at an angle within a voting circle or square. A voter may designate his choice of candidate by the cross (x) mark or by a check mark, or any other clear indicative mark. Any ballot which is defaced or torn by the voter shall be void. (1929, c. 164, s. 28; 1931, c. 254, s. 15; 1933, c. 165, s. 23.)

§ 6055(a29). Offenses of voters; interference with voters; penalty.—A voter who shall, except as herein otherwise provided, allow his ballot to be seen by any person, or who shall take or remove, or attempt to take or remove, any ballot from the polling place or any person who shall interfere with, or attempt to interfere with any voter when inside said enclosed space, or when marking his ballot, or who shall remain longer than the specified time allowed by this subchapter in the booth, after being notified that his time has expired, or who shall endeavor to induce any voter, while within the enclosure, before voting, to show how he marks or has marked his ballot, or aid, or attempt to aid, any voter by means of any mechanical device, or any other means whatever, while within the enclosure, in marking his ballot, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court; and election officers shall cause any person committing any of the offenses herein set forth to be arrested and shall cause charges to be preferred against the person so offending, in a court of competent jurisdiction. (1929, c. 164, s. 29.)

§ 6055(a30). Offenses of election officers. — Any judge of election or registrar, or other election officer, after having qualified, who wilfully and knowingly refuses or fails to perform the duties herein prescribed, or who wilfully and knowingly violates the provisions of this subchapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine, or to imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten nor more than ninety days, at the discretion of the court. (1929, c. 164, s. 30.)

§ 6055(a31). Imposition on voter; punishment.—No person shall wilfully and knowingly impose upon any blind or illiterate voter a ballot in any election, contrary to his wish and desire, by falsely representing to such voter that the ballot proposed to him is such as he desired; and any person convicted of falsely representing to such blind or illiterate voter that the ballot presented to him is such as he desired shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or be confined in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than twelve months, at the discretion of the court. (1929, c. 164, s. 31.)

§ 6055(a32). Reading and numbering the ballots; certificate of result; delivery of boxes to Board of Elections.—When the polls are closed the Registrar and Judge shall, in the presence of the watchers appointed by the respective executive committees of the several political parties and any other electors of the precinct who choose to be present open the box and count and record the number of the votes received by each candidate and on each question or measure. The said Judge of election and Registrar shall not adjourn or postpone the canvass of the vote in such precinct until it shall be fully completed. The Judges of election may, at their discretion, open the ballots of absent electors immediately after the close of the polls, subject to the rights of challenge now allowed by law. A certificate setting forth the results of such election shall be signed by the Registrar and Judges of election. Upon the close of the counting of the ballots, as herein provided, the said election official shall replace said ballots in the official ballot box and lock the same. The ballot box shall then be delivered to such place as may be designated by the county board of elections. (1929, c. 164, s. 32.)

§ 6055(a33). Hours of election. — In all elections in this State the polls shall be open from sunrise until sunset. (1929, c. 164, s. 33.)

§ 6055(a34). Application to all primary elections; repeal of conflicting law; one-party primary officials selected from party.—The provisions of this subchapter shall apply to any and all primary elections held in this State, or in any county thereof, as fully as it applies to general elections, as herein provided, and section six thousand and thirty-one of the Consolidated Statutes is hereby repealed, in so far as it conflicts with this subchapter, the intent being to provide the same laws for the conduct of primaries as for general elections.

Provided, further, that in any primary election held under the provisions of this subchapter, when only one political party participates in such primary, then, all of the election officials selected for holding such primary shall be chosen only from the political party so participating. (1929, c. 164, s. 34.)

§ 6055(a35). Assistants at polls; when allowed and amount to be paid. — The county board of elections may appoint one clerk or assistant at any precinct in the county which has as many as five hundred qualified registered voters on the registration books in such precinct, and one additional such clerk or assistant for each additional five hundred qualified registered voters at such precinct. No other clerk or assistant shall be appointed for any precinct except as herein set out. Such assistants and clerks shall, in all cases, be qualified voters of the ward, or precinct, for which they are appointed, and they shall be paid the same compensation as is provided by law for the judges of election to be paid. (1929, c. 134, s. 35; 1933, c. 165, s. 24.)

§ 6055(a36). Watchers.—Each political party or independent candidate named on the ballot may, by a writing signed by the county chairman of such political party, or, as the case may be, by the independent candidate or his manager, filed with one of the Judges of election, appoint two watchers to attend each polling place. Such watchers shall serve also as challengers; Provided, that no person shall be appointed as a watcher who is not of good moral character; and the Judges of election and registrar may for good cause shown reject any appointee and require that another be appointed. Such watchers shall in no case enter the guard-rail, but may be present at the opening of the boxes and the canvass of the ballots at the close of the election. Provided that any elector when the name of any elector is called by the judges of election, may exercise the right of challenging the elector's right to vote and when he or she does so then such challenger may enter the election space to make good such challenge and then retire at once when such challenge is heard. (1929, c. 164, s. 36.)

§ 6055(a37). Supervision over primaries and elections; regulations.—The State Board of Elections shall have general supervision over the primaries and elections provided for herein, and may delegate its authority to county boards appointed by it, and in case where sufficient provision may not appear to have been made herein may make such regulations and provisions as it may deem necessary: Provided, none of the same shall be in conflict with any of the provisions of this subchapter. (1929, c. 164, s. 37.)

§ 6055(a38). Bribery of election officials. — Any registrar, pollholder, or other officer of an election, or member of the Board of Elections, who directly or indirectly seeks, receives, or accepts money or the promise of money, the promise of office, or other reward of compensation from a candidate in a primary or candidate in any election of a political party, or from any source other than as provided by law, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine or imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (1929, c. 164, s. 38.)

§ 6055(a39). Ballots furnished absentee electors; when deemed voted before sunset; deposit in boxes.—The ballots to be furnished absentee electors under the provision of section five thousand nine hundred and sixty-three of the Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina and acts amendatory thereof shall be the same as the official ballots hereinbefore designated. No vote of an absent elector shall be counted unless upon the official ballot printed as prescribed in this act.

Any absentee ballots received by the registrar during the hours now fixed by law for the receipt thereof shall be deemed to be voted before sunset, and, if the convenience of the voters or officers holding the election will be promoted thereby, may in their discretion be opened and deposited in the box immediately after the closing of the polls. (1929, c. 164, s. 39.)

§ 6055(a40). Fraud in connection with absentee vote; forgery.—Any person attempting to aid and abet fraud in connection with any absentee vote cast, or to be cast, under the provisions of this subchapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. Any person attempting to vote by fraudulently signing the name of a regularly qualified voter shall be guilty of forgery, and be punished accordingly. (1929, c. 164, s. 40.)

§ 6055(a41). Public officials violating subchapter disqualified from holding office and voting.—Any public official who knowingly and wilfully violates any of the provisions of this subchapter, and thereby aids in any way the illegal casting or attempting to cast a vote, or who shall connive to nullify any provision of this subchapter in order that fraud may be perpetrated, shall upon conviction therefor be disqualified from holding office in the State of North Carolina, and shall be disqualified from exercising the right of franchise, as now provided in case of conviction for felony. (1929, c. 164, s. 41.)

§ 6055(a42). Definitions as applied to municipal primaries and elections.—With respect to all municipal primaries and elections, wherever in this subchapter appear the words "county board of elections" shall be deemed to be written the words "city or town governing body;" and wherever appear the words "chairman of board of elections" shall be deemed to be written the words "mayor of town or city." (1929, c. 164, s. 42.)

§ 6055(a43). Other laws repealed. — All county and local election laws, whether denominated as Australian ballots or otherwise, are hereby repealed; and all laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. (1929, c. 164, s. 43.)

Art. 19. Corrupt Practices Act of 1931.

§ 6055(a44). Title of article.—This article may be cited as the Corrupt Practices Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-one. (1931, c. 348, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This article makes more effective the control of the state over corrupt practices in primaries and elections. 9 N. C. Law Rev. 371.

§ 6055(a45). Definitions. — When used in this act:

(a) The term "Candidate" means an individual whose name is presented for any office to be voted upon on any ballot at any primary, general or special election;

(b) The term "campaign committee" includes any committee, association or organization which accepts contributions or makes expenditures for the purpose of influencing or attempting to influence the nomination or election of any candidate at any primary, general or special election;

(c) The term "contribution" means any gift, payment, subscription, loan, advance, deposit of money, or anything of value, and includes any contract, promise or agreement to give, subscribe for, pay, loan, advance or deposit any money or other thing of value to or for the benefit of any candidate at any primary, general or special election, and whether or not said contract, promise or agreement is legally enforceable;

(d) The term "expenditure" means a payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit or gift of money or anything else of value whatsoever, and includes a contract, promise or agreement to pay, distribute, give, loan, advance, or deposit any money or anything of value whatsoever, and whether or not such contract, promise or agreement is legally enforceable;

(e) The term "person" includes an individual, partnership, committee, association, corporation or any other organization or group of persons. (1931, c. 348, s. 2.)

§ 6055(a46). Detailed accounts to be kept by candidates and others.—It shall be the duty of every candidate and the chairman and treasurer of any and every campaign committee to keep a detailed and exact account of:

(1) All contributions made to or for such candidate or committee;

(2) The name and address of every person making any such contribution, and the date thereof;

(3) All expenditures made by or on behalf of such candidate or committee;

(4) The name and address of every person to whom any such expenditure is made, and the date thereof. (1931, c. 348, s. 3.)

§ 6055(a47). Detailed accounting to candidates of persons receiving contributions.—Every person who receives a contribution for a candidate or for a campaign committee in any primary, general or special election shall render such candidate or campaign committee, within five days after receipt of such contribution, a detailed account thereof, including the name and address of the person making such contribution. (1931, c. 348, s. 4.)

§ 6055(a48). Detailed accounting of persons making expenditures.—Every person who makes any expenditure in behalf of any candidate or campaign committee in any primary, general or special election shall render to such candidate or campaign committee, within five days after making such expenditure, a detailed account thereof, including the name and address of the person to whom such expenditure was made. (1931, c. 348, s. 5.)

§ 6055(a49). Statements under oath of pre-primary expenses of candidates; report after primary.—It shall be the duty of every person who shall be a candidate for nomination in any primary for any Federal, State or district office, or for the State Senate in a district composed of more than one county, except where there shall be agreement for rotation as provided in Consolidater Statutes, six thousand fourteen, to file, under oath, ten days before such primary, with the Secretary of State, an itemized statement of all expenditures made by him or which he knows to have been made by any one for him, and of all contributions made to him, directly or indirectly, and also to file, under oath, within twenty days after such primary, with the Secretary of State, an itemized statement of all expenditures made by him or which he knows to have been made by any one else for him, and also of all contributions made to him, directly or indirectly, by any person, with detailed account of such contributions and expenditure as set out in section 6055(a50). And it shall be the duty of every person who shall be a candidate for nomination for the State Senate, except those to whom the preceding sentence applies, for the House of Representatives, and for any county office, to file a like statement with the clerk of the Superior Court of the county of his residence at the times hereinbefore prescribed for filing such statements by candidates for Federal, State and district officers as set out in the preceding sentence. (1931, c. 348, s. 6.)

§ 6055(a50). Contents of such statements. — The statement of contributions and expenditures as required by the preceding section shall be itemized as follows:

(1) The name and address of each person who has made a contribution to or for such candidate or to or for his campaign committee within the calendar year, together with the amount and date of such contribution;

(2) The total sum of all contributions made to or for such candidate or to or for his campaign committee during the calendar year;

(3) The name and address of each person to whom, during the calendar year, an expenditure has been made by or in behalf of such candidate or by or in behalf of his campaign committee, and the amount, date, and purpose of such expenditure;

(4) The name and address of each person by whom an expenditure has been made during the calendar year in behalf of such candidate or his campaign committee and reported to such candidate or campaign committee, and the amount, date, and purpose of such expenditure;

(5) The total sum of all expenditures made during the calendar year in behalf of such candidate or his campaign committee by any person and reported to such candidate or his campaign committee, and the amount, date, and purpose of such expenditure;

(6) The total sum of all expenditures made by such candidate or his campaign committee, or any person in his behalf during the calendar year. (1931, c. 348, s. 7.)

§ 6055(a51). Statements required of campaign committees covering more than one county; verification of statements required.—A like statement as that required in the preceding section shall be filed by any and all campaign committees as hereinbefore defined with the Secretary of State not more than fifteen days nor less than ten days before any primary, general or special election, and not more than twenty days after such primary, general or special election, if said campaign committee is making expenditures in more than one county; and if such campaign committee is making expenditures in only one county, a like or similar report so itemized shall be made within the same periods to the clerk of the Superior Court of such county.

All of the statements or reports of contributions or expenditures as in this article required of any candidate or campaign committee must be verified by the oath or affirmation of the person filing such statement or report, taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths. (1931, c. 348, s. 8.)

§ 6055(a52). Certain acts declared misdemeanors.—Any person who shall, in connection with any primary or election in this State, do any of the acts and things declared in this section to be unlawful, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. It shall be unlawful:

(1) For any person to fail, as an officer or as a judge or registrar of a primary or election, or as a member of any board of elections or board of canvassers, to prepare the books, tickets and return blanks which it is his duty under the law to prepare, or to distribute the same as required by law, or to perform any other duty imposed upon him within the time and in the manner required by law;

(2) For any person to continue or attempt to act as a judge or registrar of a primary or election, or as a member of any board of elections, after having been legally removed from such position and after having been given notice of such removal;

(3) For any person to break up or by force or violence to stay or interfere with the holding of any primary or election, to interfere with the possession of any ballot box, election book, ticket or return sheet by those entitled to possession of the same under the law, or to interfere in any manner with the performance of any duty imposed by law upon any election officer or member of any board of elections or board of canvassers;

(4) For any person to be guilty of any boisterous conduct so as to disturb any member of any election or canvassing board or any registrar or judge of elections in the performance of his duties as imposed by law;

(5) For any person to bet or wager any money or other thing of value on any election;

(6) For any person, directly or indirectly, to discharge or threaten to discharge from employment, or otherwise intimidate or oppress any legally qualified voter on account of any vote such voter may cast or consider or intend to cast, or not to cast, or which he may have failed to cast;

(7) For any person to make any contribution or expenditure to aid, or in behalf of any candidate or campaign committee, in any primary, general or special election, unless the same be reported immediately to such candidate or campaign committee, to the end that it may be included by him or it in the reports required of him by law;

(8) For any candidate or any chairman or treasurer of a campaign committee to fail to make under oath the report or reports required of him or it by sections 6055(a49)-6055(a51), or for any campaign committee to fail to furnish to a candidate a duplicate copy of the report to be made by it or its chairman or treasurer;

(9) For any candidate for any political office to receive contributions or to make expenditures, or to assent to or to permit contribution or expenditures in behalf of his candidacy in any primary, whether the same be done before or after said primary is held, in excess of the following sums:

A candidate for Governor and United States Senator	$12,000
A candidate for Congressman	6,000
A candidate for Lieutenant Governor	2,500
A candidate for any other elective State office, one-half of the amount of the annual salary of such office
A candidate for the General Assembly, either the Senate or the House of Representatives	600

Any candidate for any district, county or other office not hereinbefore named, one-half the annual salary of that office as it may be at the time of such primary: Provided, however, all candidates may lawfully pay, in addition to these amounts, their transportation expenses, board and lodging bills while campaigning for nomination to such office, and the sums so expended need not be reported in the reports hereinbefore required: Provided further, that in any second primary for any of said offices, said candidate or candidates may spend in such second primary one-half of the amounts as above set out;

(10) For any person to publish in a newspaper or pamphlet or otherwise, any charge derogatory to any candidate or calculated to affect the candidate's chances of nomination or election, unless such publication be signed by the party giving publicity to and being responsible for such charge;

(11) For any person to publish or cause to be circulated derogatory reports with reference to any candidate in any primary or election, knowing such report to be false or in reckless disregard of its truth or falsity, when such report is calculated or intended to affect the chances of such candidate for nomination or election;

(12) For any person to give or promise, in return for political support or influence, any political appointment or support for political office;

(13) For any chairman of a county board of elections or other returning officer to fail or neglect, wilfully or of malice, to perform any duty, act, matter or thing required or directed in the time, manner and form in which said duty, matter or thing is required to be performed in relation to any primary, general or special election and the returns thereof;

(14) For any register of deeds or clerk of the Superior Court to refuse to make and give to any person applying in writing for the same a duly certified copy of the returns of any primary or election or of a tabulated statement in a primary or election, the returns of which are by law deposited in his office, upon the tender of the fees therefor;

(15) For any corporation doing business in this State, either under domestic or foreign charter, directly or indirectly, to make any contribution or expenditure in aid or in behalf of any candidate or campaign committee in any primary or election held in this State, or for any political purpose whatsoever, or for the reimbursement or indemnification of any person for money or property so used, or for any contribution or expenditure so made; or for any officer, director, stockholder, attorney or agent of any corporation to aid, abet, advise or consent to any such contribution or expenditure, or for any person to solicit or knowingly receive any such contribution or expenditure.

Any officer, director, stockholder, attorney or agent of any corporation aiding or abetting in any contribution or expenditure made in violation of this sub-section shall, in addition to being guilty of a misdemeanor as hereinbefore set out, be liable to such corporation for the amount of such contribution or expenditure, and the same may be recovered of him upon suit by any stockholder thereof;

(16) For any person wilfully and knowingly to impose upon any blind or illiterate voter a ballot in any primary or election contrary to the wish or desire of such voter, by falsely representing to such voter that the ballot proposed to him is such as he desires. (1931, c. 348, s. 9.)

Editor's Note.—See note under § 6055(a 53). The statute does not make it clear whether the limitations in subsection (9) of this section are on the expenditures of the candidate personally or upon the total amount of the fund available for the conduct of the campaign. 9 N. C. Law Rev. 372.

§ 6055(a53). Certain acts declared felonies. — Any person who shall, in connection with any primary, general or special election held in this State, do any of the acts or things declared in this section to be unlawful, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be imprisoned in the State's Prison not less than four months or fined not less than one thousand dollars, or both, in the discretion of the Court. It shall be unlawful:

(1) For any person fraudulently to cause his name to be placed upon the registration books of more than one election precinct or fraudulently to cause or procure his name or that of any other person to be placed upon the registration books in any precinct when such registration in that precinct does not qualify such person to vote legally therein, or to impersonate falsely another registered voted for the purpose of voting in the stead of such other voter;

(2) For any person to give or promise or request or accept at any time, before or after any such primary or election, any money, property or other thing of value whatsoever in return for the vote of any elector;

(3) For any person who is an election officer, a member of the canvassing or election board or other officer charged with any duty with respect to any primary or election, knowingly to make any false or fraudulent entry on any election book or any false or fraudulent returns, or knowingly to make or cause to be made any false statement on any ticket, or to do any fraudulent act, or knowingly and fraudulently omit to do any act or make any report legally required of such person;

(4) For any person knowingly to swear falsely with respect to any matter pertaining to any primary or election;

(5) For any person, convicted of a crime which excludes him from the right of suffrage, to vote at any primary or election without having been restored to the right of citizenship in due course and by the method provided by law;

(6) For any person to take corruptly the oath prescribed for voters, and the person so offending shall be guilty of perjury;

(7) For any person with intent to commit a fraud to register or vote at more than one box or more than one time, or to induce another to do so, in the same primary or election, or to vote illegally at any primary or election;

(8) For any registrar or any clerk or copyist to make any entry or copy with intent to commit a fraud;

(9) For any election official or other officer to make, certify, deliver or transmit any false returns of any primary or election, or to make any erasure or alteration in any registration or poll books with intent to commit a fraud;

(10) For any person to assault any registrar, judge of election or other election officer while in the discharge of his duty in the registration of voters or in conducting any primary or election;

(11) For any person, by threats, menaces or in any other manner, to intimidate or attempt to intimidate any registrar, judge of election or other election officer in the discharge of his duties in the registration of voters or in conducting any primary or election;

(12) For any registrar, poll holder, member of a board of elections, assistant, marker, or other election official, directly or indirectly, to seek, receive or accept money or the promise of money, the promise of office, or other reward or compensation from a candidate in any primary or election or from any source other than such compensation as may be provided by law for his services. (1931, c. 348, s. 10.)

Editor's Note.—It would seem that most of the subsections in this and the preceding section have been incorporated in the statute from sections 4185-4199(b); but there is no repealing clause in the act and there are certain sections in the Code clearly left unchanged. Limitations of space forbid a detailed collation. The necessity here presented for such a comparison seems to demonstrate clearly the desirability of a system of repeal by specific reference to the sections of the repealed law. 9 N. C. Law Rev. 373.

§ 6055(a54). Compelling self-incriminating testimony; person so testifying excused from prosecution. — No person shall be excused from attending or testifying or producting any books, papers or other documents before any Court or magistrate upon any investigation, proceeding or trial for the violation of any of the provisions of the two preceding sections, upon the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate or degrade him, but such person may be subpoenaed and required to testify by and for the State relative to any offense arising under the provisions of the said two preceding sections; but such person shall not be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may so testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, and no testimony so given or produced shall be used against him upon any criminal investigation or proceeding, but such person so compelled to testify with respect to any acts of his own shall be immune from prosecution on account thereof, and shall be pardoned for any violation of law about which such person shall be so required to testify. (1931, c. 348, s. 11.)

§ 6055(a55). Duty of Attorney General and solicitors to prosecute violations of article. — It shall be the duty of the Attorney General, the solicitors of the several judicial districts, and all prosecuting attorneys of Courts inferior to the Superior Court, to make diligent inquiry and investigation with respect to any violations of this act, and said officers are authorized and empowered to subpoena and compel the attendance of any person or persons before them for the purpose of making such inquiry and investigation. (1931, c. 348, s. 12.)

§ 6055(a56). Duty of Secretary of State and Superior Court Clerks to call for required statements and report violations. — It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State and the several clerks of the Superior Court to call upon the candidates and chairmen and treasurers of campaign committees for the reports required to be made to them by sections 6055(a49)-6055(a51). If any candidate or chairman or treasurer of a campaign committee shall fail or neglect to make to the Secretary of State the reports required by said sections, then the Secretary of State shall bring such failure to the attention of the Attorney General, whose duty it shall then be to initiate a prosecution against such candidate or chairman or treasurer of such campaign committee for such violation of this act. If the Attorney General shall be a candidate in any such primary or election, such duty as herein required to be performed by him with respect to any contest in which he participates shall be performed by the solicitor of the judicial district of which Wake County is a part. If a candidate or the chairman or treasurer of a campaign committee fails to make the report to the clerk of the Superior Court as required by said sections, then said clerk of the Superior Court shall bring such failure to the attention of the solicitor of the district in which such county is a part, and said solicitor shall institute a prosecution for violation of this article. (1931, c. 348, s. 13.)

CHAPTER 97(A)

ENGINEERING AND LAND SURVEYING

§ 6055(b). Qualification to practice; registration.—In order to safeguard life, health, and property, any person practicing or offering to practice engineering or land surveying in this state shall hereafter be required to submit evidence that he or she is qualified so to practice, and shall be registered as hereinafter provided; and from February 25, 1922, it shall be unlawful for any person to practice or to offer to practice engineering or land surveying in this state, except as herein provided, unless such person has been duly registered under the provisions of this chapter. (1921, c. 1, s. 1.)

§ 6055(c). Private practice.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as requiring registration for the purpose of practicing engineering or land surveying by an individual, firm, or corporation on property owned or leased by said individual, firm, corporation, unless the same involves the public safety or health. (1921, c. 1, s. 2.)

§ 6055(d). State board of registration for engineers and surveyors.—There is hereby created a state board of registration for engineers and land surveyors, hereinafter called the "board," consisting of five members, who shall be appointed by the governor within sixty days after this chapter becomes effective. At least one member of such board shall be appointed from the engineering faculty of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, and at least one member from the engineering faculty of the university of North Carolina. Not more than three members of said board shall be from the same branch of the profession of engineering. The members of the first board shall be appointed to serve for the following terms: Two members for one year, two members for two years, and one member for four years; said teams ending on the thirty-first day of December of the succeeding year. On the expiration of each of said terms the term of office of each newly appointed or reappointed member of the board shall be for a period of four years and shall terminate on the thirty-first day of December. Each member shall hold over after the expiration of his term until his successor shall be duly appointed and qualified. The governor may remove any member of the board for misconduct, incompetency, or neglect of duty. Vacancies in the membership of the board, however created, shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term. (1921, c. 1, s. 3.)

§ 6055(e). Requisites for appointment; pay. — Each member of the board shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state at the time of his appointment. He shall have been engaged in the practice or teaching of his profession for at least ten years. Each member of the board shall receive ten dollars ($10) per day for attending sessions of the board or of its committees, and for the time spent in necessary travel, and, in addition, shall be reimbursed for all necessary traveling, incidental, and clerical expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this chapter. (1921, c. 1, s. 4.)

§ 6055(f). Certificate of appointment; oath of registration; seal; by-laws.—Each member of the board shall receive a certificate of appointment from the governor, and before beginning his term of office he shall file with the secretary of state the constitutional oath of office. Each member of the board first created shall receive a certificate of registration under this chapter from the governor of the state. The board shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, may administer oaths and may take testimony and proofs concerning all matters within its jurisdiction. The board shall adopt and have an official seal, which shall be affixed to all certificates of registration granted; and shall make all by-laws and rules not inconsistent with law, needed in performing its duty. (1921, c. 1, s. 5.)

§ 6055(g). Meetings; notice; quorum.—The board shall hold a meeting within thirty days after its members are first appointed, and thereafter shall hold at least two regular meetings each year. Special meetings shall be held at such times as the by-laws of the board may provide. Notice of all meetings shall be given in such manner as the by-laws may provide. The board shall elect annually from its members a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a secretary. A quorum of the board shall consist of not less than three members. (1921, c. 1, s. 6.)

§ 6055(h). Fund of board; bond of secretary of board.—The secretary of the board shall receive and account for all moneys derived from the operation of this chapter and shall pay them to the state treasurer, who shall keep such moneys in a separte fund, to be known as the "Fund of the Board of Registration for Engineers and Land Surveyors," which fund shall be continued from year to year, and shall be drawn against only for the purpose of this chapter as herein provided. All expenses certified by the board as properly and necessarily incurred in the discharge of its duties, including authorized compensation, shall be paid out of said fund on the warrant of the auditor of the state, issued on requisition signed by the chairman and secretary of the board: Provided, however, that at no time shall the total of warrants issued exceed the total amount of funds accumulated under this chapter. The secretary of the board shall give a surety bond satisfactory to the state treasurer, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. The premium on said bond shall be regarded as a proper and necessary expense of the board. (1921, c. 1, s. 7.)

§ 6055(i). Record of proceedings and register of applicants; roster of engineers and surveyors; annual report.—The board shall keep a record of its proceedings and a register of all applicants for registration showing for each the date of application, name, age, education and other qualifications, place of business and place of residence, and whether the applicant was rejected or a certificate of registration granted, and the date of such action. The books and register of the board shall be prima facie evidence of all matters recorded therein. A roster showing the names and places of business and of residence of all registered engineers and land surveyors shall be prepared by the secretary of the board during the month of January of each year; such roster shall be printed by the board out of the fund of the said board as provided in section 6055(h), and a copy mailed to and placed on file by the clerk of each incorporated city, town and county in the state. On or before the first day of March of each year the board shall submit to the governor a report of its transactions for the preceding year, and shall file with the secretary of state copy of such report, together with a complete statement of the receipts and expenditures of the board, attested by the affidavits of the chairman and the secretary, and a copy of the said roster of registered engineers and registered surveyors. (1921, c. 1, s. 8.)

§ 6055(j). Certificates; issuance; fees; eligibility of applicants.—The board shall, on application therefor, on prescribed form, and the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) by engineers, or the payment of a fee of ten dollars ($10) by land surveyors, issue a certificate of registration:

(1) To any person who submits evidence satisfactory to the board that he or she is fully qualified to practice engineering, or land surveying, such evidence after January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, to include an examination, oral or written; or

(2) To any person who holds a like unexpired certificate of registration issued to him or her by proper authority in any state or territory of the United States in which the requirements for the registration of engineers or land surveyors are of a standard satisfactory to the board: Provided, however, that the engineering registration board of said states or territories shall grant full and equal reciprocal registration rights and privileges to North Carolina registrants: Provided, however, that no person shall be eligible for registration who is under twenty-one years of age, who is not a citizen of the United States, who does not speak and write the English language, who is not of good character and repute.

Unless disqualifying evidence be before the board, the following facts established in the application shall be regarded as prima facie "evidence satisfactory to the board," that the applicant is fully qualified to practice engineering or land surveying or both:

(a) Five (5) or more years of active engagement in engineering, or three or more years active practice in land surveying, February 25, 1921: Provided, however, each year of teaching, or of study satisfactorily completed, in a college of standing satisfactory to the board shall be considered as equivalent to one year of such active practice: Provided further, the period spent in the army, navy, marine corps, or other government service of the United States in the late war by any student whose engineering education was interrupted by such services shall also be counted as equivalent to an equal period of active practice: Provided, however, application for registration is made within twelve (12) months after February 25, 1921.

(b) Graduation, after a course of not less than four (4) years, in engineering from a school or college approved by the board as of satisfactory standing.

(c) Full membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, American Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, or such other national or state engineering or architectural societies as may be approved by the board, the requirements for full membership of which are not lower than the requirements for full membership in the professional societies or institutes named above.

Applicants for registration, in cases where the evidence originally presented in the application does not appear to the board conclusively or warranting the issuance of a certificate, may present further evidence which may include the results of a required examination, for the consideration of the board.

In case the board denies the issuance of a certificate to an applicant, the registration fee deposited shall be returned by the board of the applicant. (1921, c. 1, s. 9.)

§ 6055(k). Expiration and renewal of certificates.—Certificates of registration shall expire on the last day of the month of December following their issuance or renewal, and shall become invalid on that date unless renewed. It shall be the duty of the secretary of the board to notify by mail every person registered hereunder of the date of the expiration of his certificate and the amount of the fee required for its renewal for one year; such notice shall be mailed at least one month in advance of the date of the expiration of said certificate. Renewal may be effected at any time during the month of January by the payment of a fee of five dollars ($5) to the secretary of the board. The failure on the part of any registrant to renew his certificate annually in the month of January, as required above, shall not deprive such person of the right of renewal thereafter, but the fee paid for the renewal of a certificate after the month of January shall be increased ten per cent for each month or fraction of a month that payment for renewal is delayed: Provided, however, that the maximum fee for a delayed renewal shall not exceed twice the normal fee. (1921, c. 1, s. 9.)

§ 6055(l). Revocation of license; reissue of revoked license; reinstatement; lost certificate. — The board shall have the power to revoke the certificate of registration of any engineer or land surveyor registered hereunder who is found guilty of any fraud or deceit in obtaining a certificate of registration, or gross negligence, incompetency or misconduct in the practice of engineering or land surveying. Any person may prefer charges of such fraud, deceit, negligence, incompetency or misconduct against any engineer or land surveyor registered hereunder; such charges shall be in writing and sworn to by the complainant and submitted to the board. Such charges, unless dismissed without hearing by the board as unfounded or trivial, shall be heard and determined by the board within three (3) months after the date on which they are preferred. A time and place for such hearing shall be fixed by the board and held in the county in which said charges originated. A copy of the charges, together with a notice of the time and place of hearing, shall be legally served on the accused at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for the hearing, and in the event that such service cannot be effected thirty (30) days before such hearing, then the date of hearing and determination shall be postponed as may be necessary to permit the carrying out of this condition. At said hearing the accused shall have the right to appear personally and by counsel, and to cross-examine witnesses against him or her and to produce evidence or witnesses in his or her defense. If after said hearing the board unanimously votes in favor of finding the accused guilty of any fraud or deceit in obtaining the certificate or of gross negligence, incompetency, or misconduct in the practice of engineering or land surveying, the board shall revoke the certificate of registration of the accused. The board may reissue a certificate of registration to any person whose certificate has been revoked: Provided, three or more members of the board vote in favor of such reissuance for reasons the board may deem sufficient. The board shall immediately notify the secretary of state and the clerk of each incorporated city, town or county in the state of its findings in the case of the revocation of a certificate of registration or of its reissuance of a revoked certificate of registration. A new certificate of registration to replace any certificate lost, destroyed or mutilated may be issued, subject to the rules and regulations of the board. (1921, c. 1, s. 10.)

§ 6055(m). Evidence carried by certificate; seal of registrant.—The issuance of a certificate of registration by the board shall be evidence that the person named therein is entitled to all the rights and privileges of a registered engineer or registered land surveyor, or both, while the said certificate remains unrevoked or unexpired. Each registrant hereunder shall, upon registration, obtain a seal of the design authorized by the board, bearing the registrant's name and the legend "registered engineer," or "registered land surveyor." Plans, specifications, plats and reports issued by a registrant shall be stamped with said seal during the life of registrant's certificate, but it shall be unlawful for any one to stamp or seal any document or documents with said seal after the certificate of the registrant named thereon has expired or has been revoked unless said certificate has been renewed or reissued. (1921, c. 1, s. 11.)

§ 6055(n). Acts declared misdemeanor; punishment.—Any person, who, after this law has been in effect twelve (12) months, is not legally authorized to practice engineering or land surveying in this state, according to the provisions of this chapter, and shall practice or offer to practice engineering or land surveying in this state, except as provided in sections 6055(o) and 6055(q), and any person presenting or attempting to file as his own the certificate of registration of another, or who shall give false or forged evidence of any kind to the board, or to any member thereof, in obtaining a certificate of registration, or who shall falsely impersonate any other practitioner, of like or different name, or who shall use an expired or revoked certificate of registration, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall for each such offense of which he is convicted be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or by imprisonment for three (3) months, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 1, s. 12.)

§ 6055(o). Exemptions from operation of law.—The following shall be exempted from the provisions of this chapter:

(a) Any person or persons offering to practice in this state, as an engineer or land surveyor, not a resident of and having no established place of business in this state.

(b) Practice as an engineer or land surveyor in this state by any person not a resident of this state, and having no established place of business in this state, when this practice does not aggregate more than thirty (30) days in any calendar year: Provided, that said person is legally qualified for such professional service in his own state or country.

(c) Practice as an engineer or land surveyor in this state by any person not a resident of this state and having no established place of business in this state, or any person resident in this state but whose arrival in the state is recent: Provided, however, such person shall have filed an application for registration as an engineer or land surveyor and shall have paid the fee provided for in section 6055(j). Such exemption shall continue for only such reasonable time as the board requires in which to consider and grant or deny the said application for registration.

(d) Engaging in engineering and land surveying work as an employee, or assistant, of a registered engineer or a registered land surveyor, or as an employee or assistant of a nonresident engineer or a nonresident land surveyor, provided for in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, provided that said work as an employee may not include responsible charge of design or supervision.

(e) Practice of engineering or land surveying by any person not a resident of and having no established place of business in this state, as a consulting associate or an architect, engineer or a land surveyor registered under the provisions of this chapter: Provided, the nonresident is qualified for such professional service in his own state or country.

(f) Practice of engineering and land surveying solely as an officer or as an employee of the United States. (1921, c. 1, s. 13.)

§ 6055(p). Corporations and partnerships.—A corporation or partnership may engage in the practice of engineering or land surveying in this state: Provided, the person or persons connected with such corporation or partnership in charge of the designing or supervision which constitutes such practice is or are registered as herein required of engineers and land surveyors. The same exemptions shall apply to corporations and partnerships as apply to individuals under this chapter. (1921, c. 1, s. 14.)

§ 6055(q). Land surveying.—Land surveying as covered by this chapter refers only to surveys for the determination of areas, or for the establishment or reëstablishment of land boundaries and the subdivision and platting of land, and making plats, maps, and drawing descriptions of the lands or lines so surveyed, platted or investigated. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as prohibiting a duly qualified registered engineer from making land surveys; nor as prohibiting any person from doing land surveying provided he does not represent himself to be a registered land surveyor. (1921, c. 1, s. 15.)

CHAPTER 98

FIREMEN'S RELIEF FUND

Art. 1. State Appropriation

§§ 6056, 6057. Appropriation.—Repealed: (1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

§ 6058. Application of fund. — The money so paid into the hands of the treasurer of the North Carolina state firemen's association shall be known and remain as the "firemen's relief fund," of North Carolina, and shall be used as a fund for the relief of firemen, members of such association, who may be injured or rendered sick by disease contracted in the actual discharge of duty as firemen, and for the relief of widows, children, and if there be no widow or children, then dependent mothers of such firemen killed or dying from disease so contracted in such discharge of duty; to be paid in such manner and in such sums to such individuals of the classes herein named and described as may be provided for and determined upon in accordance with the constitution and by-laws of said association, and such provisions and determinations made pursuant to said constitution and by-laws shall be final and conclusive as to the persons entitled to benefits and as to the amount of benefit to be received, and no action at law shall be maintained against said association to enforce any claim or recover any benefit under this article or under the constitution and by-laws of said association; but if any officer or committee of said association omit or refuse to perform any duty imposed upon him or them, nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any proceedings against said officer or committee to compel him or them to perform such duty. No fireman shall be entitled to receive any benefits under this section until the firemen's relief fund of his city or town shall have been exhausted. (Rev., s. 4393; 1891, c. 468, s. 3; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1925 made the exhaustion of municipal firemen's fund a condition before a resort is had to the state firemen's relief fund provided under this section.

§ 6059. Treasurer to file report and give bond. —The treasurer of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association shall make a detailed report to the State Treasurer of the yearly expenditures of the appropriation under this chapter on or before the end of the fiscal year, showing the total amount of money in his hands at the time of the filing of the report, and shall give a bond to the State of North Carolina with good and sufficient sureties to the satisfaction of the treasurer of the State of North Carolina in a sum not less than the amount of money on hand as shown by said report. (Rev., s. 4394; 1891, c. 468, s. 4; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—The provision for a report of expenditures is new with the Act of 1925.

§ 6060. Who shall participate in the fund.—The line of duty entitling one to participate in the fund shall be so construed as to mean actual fire duty only, and any actual duty connected with the fire department when directed to perform the same by an officer in charge. (Rev., s. 4395; 1891, c. 468, s. 5; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—By the Act of 1925, the clause defining the time of actual fire duty as service from time of alarm until dismissal at roll-call, was omitted from the section.

§ 6061. Who may become members.—Any organized fire company in North Carolina, holding itself ready for duty, may, upon compliance with the requirements of said constitution and by-laws, become a member of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association, and any firemen of good moral character in North Carolina, and belonging to an organized fire company, who will comply with the requirements of the constitution and by-laws of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association, may become a member of said association. (Rev., s. 4396; 1891, c. 468, s. 6; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—No change is made in the substance of this section by the Act of 1925.

§ 6062. Applied to members of regular fire company.—The provisions of this chapter shall apply to any fireman who is a member of a regularly organized fire company, and is a member in good standing of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association. (Rev., s. 4397; 1891, c. 468, s. 7; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1925, it was required that the fireman be a member in good standing of the State Firemen's Association.

The volunteer firemen at the insane hospitals shall not share in the fund provided by this section, see section 6183.

Art. 2. Fund Derived from Fire Insurance Companies

§ 6063. Fire insurance companies to report premiums collected.—Every fire insurance company, corporation, or association doing business in any town or city in North Carolina that has, or may hereafter have, a regularly organized fire department under the control of the mayor and city council or other governing body of said town or city, and which has in serviceable condition for fire duty apparatus and equipment amounting in value to one thousand dollars or more, and which enforces the fire laws to the satisfaction of the insurance commissioner, shall return to the insurance commissioner of the state of North Carolina a just and true account of all premiums collected and received from all fire insurance business done within the corporate limits of such town and cities during the year ending December thirty-first, or such portion thereof as they may have transacted such business in such towns and cities. Such companies, corporations, or associations shall make said returns within sixty days from and after the thirty-first day of December of each year. (1907, c. 831, s. 1; 1919, c. 180; 1929, c. 286, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1929, this section applied only to business done in an "incorporated" city or town. The amendatory act omitted the word just quoted. For an amendment of this section applicable only in Wilmington and New Hanover Counties, see Public Laws, 1929, c. 328, §§ 1, 2.

§ 6064. Tax on receipts for premiums.—Every fire insurance company, corporation, or association as aforesaid shall, within seventy-five days from December thirty-first of each year, deliver and pay to the state insurance commissioner the sum of fifty cents out of and from every one hundred dollars, and at that rate, upon the amount of all premiums written on fire and lightning policies covering property situated within the incorporated limits of such towns and cities during the year ending December thirty-first in each year, or for such portion of each year as said company, corporation, or association shall have done business in said towns and cities. (1907, c. 831, s. 2.)

§ 6065. Insurance commissioner to investigate returns and collect tax.—Every such company, corporation, or association shall make accurate returns of all business done, both on fire and lightning insurance, covering property situated within the limits of such towns and cities; and in case any fraud, misrepresentation, or mistake of any returns, as provided for in this article, be apparent, it shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner to investigate such returns and collect the amount which he shall find to be due. (1907, c. 831, s. 3.)

§ 6066. Penalty for failure to report and pay tax.—Every fire insurance company, association, or corporation aforesaid which shall knowingly or wilfully fail or neglect to report or pay over any of the moneys due on premiums as aforesaid, at the times and in the manner specified in this article, or shall be found upon examination to have made a false return of business done by them, shall for each offense forfeit and pay the sum of three hundred dollars for the use and benefit of the fire department of such town or city, to be recovered in a civil action in the name of the town or city. (1907, c. 831, s. 4.)

§ 6067. Insurance commissioner to pay fund to treasurer. — The insurance commissioner shall deduct the sum of five per cent from the money so collected from the insurance companies, corporations, or associations, as aforesaid, and pay the same over to the treasurer of the State Firemen's Association for general purposes, and the remainder of the money so collected from the insurance companies, corporations, or associations, as aforesaid, doing business in the several towns and cities in the State having or that may hereafter have organized fire departments as provided in this article, said insurance commissioner shall pay to the treasurer of each town or city to be held by him as a separate and distinct fund, and he shall immediately pay the same to the treasurer of the local board of trustees upon his election and qualification, for the use of the board of trustees of the firemen's local relief fund in each town or city, composed of five members, residents of said city or town as hereinafter provided for, to be used by them for the purposes as named in section six thousand and sixty-nine. (1907, c. 831, s. 5; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—The provision as to the deduction and payment by the commissioner to the State Firemen's Association Treasurer, five percent of the moneys collected from the insurance companies; and the provision as to payment by the treasurers of towns to the treasurer of the local board of trustees of the rest of the moneys, were inserted by the amendment of 1925.

§ 6068. Trustees appointed; organization.—In each town or city complying with and deriving benefits from the provisions of this article there shall be appointed annually, in January, a local board of trustees, known as the trustees of the firemen's relief fund, to be composed of five members, two of whom shall be named by the members of the local fire department, two by the mayor and board of aldermen or other local governing body, and the remaining member by the state insurance commissioner, all to hold office for two years, or until their successors are appointed, and to serve without pay for their services. They shall immediately after appointment organize by electing from their members a chairman and a secretary and treasurer, which two last positions may be held by the same person. The treasurer of said board of trustees shall give a good and sufficient bond, as a sum equal to the amount of moneys in his hands to be approved by the insurance commissioner, for the faithful and proper discharge of the duties of his office. (1907, c. 831, s. 6; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note. — The amendment of 1925 specified the amount of the bond which is required of the treasurer of the board of trustees.

§ 6069. Disbursement of fund by trustees.— The board of trustees shall have entire control of the funds derived from the provisions of this article, and shall disburse the funds only for the following purposes:

1. To safeguard any fireman in active service from financial loss, occasioned by sickness contracted or injury received while in the performance of his duties as fireman.

2. To provide a reasonable support for those actually dependent upon the services of any fireman who may lose his life in the fire service of his town, city, or state, either by accident or from disease contracted or injury received by reason of such service. The amount is to be determined according to the earning capacity of the deceased.

3. To safeguard any fireman who has honorably served for a period of five years in the fire service of his city or town from ever becoming an inmate of any almshouse or actually dependent upon charity.

4. To provide for any fireman or person dependent on any fireman from becoming a subject of charity due to other sickness or accident or condition not specified in this law; and to provide for the payment of any fireman's assessment in the firemen's fraternal insurance fund of the State of North Carolina, if the board of trustees find as a fact that said fireman is unable to pay the said assessment by reason of disability. (1907, c. 831, s. 6; 1919, c. 180; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 55; 1923, c. 22; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note.—The laws of 1921 and 1925, reduced the number of years of service referred to in the third subdivision of this section from ten to five years; and the laws of 1923 added subdivision four.

This subdivision was re-added in somewhat different language by the laws of 1925.

§ 6070. Trustees to keep account and file report; effect of failure.—The board of trustees shall keep a correct account of all moneys received and disbursed by them, and shall at the annual meeting of the North Carolina state firemen's association render an itemized statement of the same, for publication in the annual report, a copy of which report shall be made annually to the state insurance commissioner; and in case any board of trustees in any of the towns and cities benefited by this article shall neglect or fail to perform their duties, or shall willfully misappropriate the funds entrusted to their care, or shall neglect or fail to report at the annual meeting of the state association, then the insurance commissioner shall withhold any and all further payments to such board of trustees, or their successors, until the matter has been fully investigated by an official of the state firemen's association, and adjusted to the satisfaction of the state insurance commissioner. Should such payments be unadjusted for a period of fifteen months from the time when such payment would otherwise have been made, then the insurance commissioner shall pay over the said amount to the treasurer of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association and it shall constitute a part of the firemen's relief fund. (1907, c. 831, s. 7; 1925, c. 11.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1925 the corresponding provision in the last sentence that the amount be paid to the treasurer of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association to constitute a part of the firemen's relief fund, had read as follows: "commissioner shall pay over the said payment to the North Carolina State Firemen's Association to be used by the association as a general relief fund for the purpose of assisting any local board of trustees where bona fide claims for benefits arising under purpose one and two of the preceding section shall have exceeded the income arising from the local one half per cent tax."

§ 6071. Municipal clerk to certify list of fire companies; effect of failure.—The clerk of any city, town, village, or other municipal corporation having an organized fire department shall, on or before the thirty-first day of October in each year, make and file with the insurance commissioner his certificate, stating the existence of such department, the number of steam, hand, or other engines, hook and ladder trucks, and hose carts in actual use, the number of organized companies, and the system of water supply in use for such departments, together with such other facts as the insurance commissioner may require, on a blank to be furnished by him. If the certificate required by this section is not filed with the insurance commissioner on or before October thirty-first in any year, the city, town or village so failing to file such certificate shall forfeit the payment next due to be paid to said board of trustees, and the insurance commissioner shall pay over said amount to the treasurer of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association and same shall constitute a part of the firemen's relief fund. (1907, c. 831, s. 8; 1925, cc. 41, 309.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1925, Pub. Laws 1925, c. 41 added the words "Effect of Failure," to the caption of this section. Prior to this amendment the town or city failing to file the certificate required to be filed before October 31, was deemed to have waived and relinquished its rights for that year to the appropriation provided in this chapter. In lieu of this provision the present provision was added to the end of the section, with a proviso that the failure of any department to have a representative sent to the annual meeting of the association shall not have the effect of forfeiture, which proviso was subsequently stricken out by chapter 309 of the same year.

§ 6072. Fire departments to be members of state association and send delegate to meeting.—For the purpose of supervision and as a guaranty that provisions of this article shall be honestly administered in a business-like manner, it is provided that every department enjoying the benefits of this law shall be a member of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association, and send at least one accredited delegate to the annual meeting of said association and comply with its constitution and by-laws. If the fire department of any city, town or village shall fail to send at least one delegate to the annual meeting of the State Firemen's Association and otherwise fails to comply with the constitution and by-laws of said association, said city, town or village shall forfeit its right to the next annual payment due from the funds mentioned in this article, and the Insurance Commissioner shall pay over said amount to the treasurer of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association and same shall constitute a part of the firemen's relief fund: Provided, however, that the failure of any department to have a delegate or representative present at the annual meeting of the association shall not have such effect if in the opinion of a majority of the executive committee of said association such delegate or representative had a valid excuse for his failure so to attend. (1907, c. 831, s. 9; 1919, c. 180; 1925, c. 41; 1925, c. 309, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The caption of this section was renewed to correspond to changes made, by the amendment of 1925. Prior to the amendment the section required that five per cent of the gross proceeds received by each town, etc., be turned over to the state firemen's association, and one fourth of this be paid to the colored fire association. None of these provisions appear any more. The provision as to sending delegates to the annual meeting of the association and the forfeiture incident to the failure to do so, with the proviso, is new with the amendment.

§ 6073. No discrimination on account of color.—Inasmuch as there are in a number of the towns and cities of this state fire companies composed exclusively of colored men, it is expressly provided that the local boards of trustees shall make no discrimination on account of color in the payment of benefits. The treasurer of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association shall pay to the treasurer of the North Carolina State Volunteer Firemen's Association one-sixth of the funds arising from the five per cent paid him by the Insurance Commissioner each year, to be used by said North Carolina State Volunteer Firemen's Association for general purposes. (1905, c. 831, s. 10; 1925, c. 41.)

Editor's Note. — The last sentence of this section was added by the amendment of 1925.

CHAPTER 99
FIRE PROTECTION

Art. 1. Investigation of Fires and Inspection of Premises

§ 6074. Fires investigated; reports; records.—The insurance commissioner and the chief of the fire department, or chief of police where there is no chief of fire department, in municipalities and towns, and the sheriff of the county where such fires occur outside of municipality, are hereby authorized to investigate the cause, origin, and circumstances of every fire occurring in such municipalities or counties in which property has been destroyed or damaged, and shall specially make investigation whether the fire was the result of carelessness or design. A preliminary investigation shall be made by the chief of fire department or chief of police, where there is no chief of fire department in municipalities, and by the sheriff of the county where such fires occur outside of a municipality, and must be begun within three days, exclusive of Sunday, of the occurrence of the fire, and the insurance commissioner shall have the right to supervise and direct the investigaton when he deems it expedient or necessary. The officer making the investigation of fires shall forthwith notify the insurance commissioner, and must within one week of the occurrence of the fire furnish to the commissioner a written statement of all the facts relating to the cause and origin of the fire, the kind, value, and ownership of the property destroyed, and such other information as is called for by the blanks provided by the commissioner. The insurance commissioner shall keep in his office a record of all fires occurring in the state, together with all facts, statistics, and circumstances, including the origin of the fires, which are determined by the investigations provided for by this article. This record shall at all times be open to public inspection. (Rev., s. 4818; 1899, c. 58; 1901, c. 387; 1903, c. 719.)

As to provision requiring the insurance company to notify the insurance commissioner of the losses to property by fire, before payment thereof, see sec. 6421.

§ 6075. Insurance commissioner to make examination; arrests and prosecution. — It is the duty of the insurance commissioner to examine, or cause examination to be made, into the cause, circumstances, and origin of all fires occurring within the state to which his attention has been called in accordance with the provisions of the next preceding section, or by interested parties, by which property is accidently or unlawfully burned, destroyed, or damaged, whenever in his judgment the evidence is sufficient, and to specially examine and decide whether the fire was the result of carelessness or the act of an incendiary. The commissioner shall, in person, by deputy or otherwise, fully investigate all circumstances surrounding such fire, and, when in his opinion such proceedings are necessary, take or cause to be taken the testimony on oath of all persons supposed to be cognizant of any facts or to have means of knowledge in relation to the matters as to which an examination is herein required to be made, and shall cause the same to be reduced to writing. If he is of the opinion that there is evidence sufficient to charge any person with the crime of arson, or other wilful burning, he shall cause such person to be arrested, charged with such offense, and prosecuted, and shall furnish to the solicitor of the district all such evidence, together with the names of witnesses and all the information obtained by him, including a copy of all pertinent and material testimony taken in the case. (Rev., s. 4819; 1899, c. 58, s. 2; 1901, c. 387, s. 2; 1903, c. 719.)

§ 6076. Powers of commissioner in investigations.—The insurance commissioner, or his deputy appointed to conduct such examination, has the powers of a trial justice for the purpose of summoning and compelling the attendance of witnesses to testify in relation to any matter which is by provisions of this article a subject of inquiry and investigation, and may administer oaths and affirmations to persons appearing as witnesses before them. False swearing in any such matter or proceeding is perjury and shall be punished as such. The commissioner or his deputy has authority at all times of the day or night, in performance of the duties imposed by the provisions of this article, to enter upon and examine any building or premises where any fire has occurred, and other buildings and premises adjoining or near the same. All investigations held by or under the direction of the commissioner or his deputy may, in their discretion, be private, and persons other than those required to be present by the provisions of this article may be excluded from the place where the investigation is held, and witnesses may be kept apart from each other and not allowed to communicate with each other until they have been examined. (Rev., s. 4820; 1899, c. 58, s. 3; 1901, c. 387, s. 3.)

§ 6077. Inspection of premises; dangerous material removed.—The insurance commissioner, or the chief of fire department or chief of police where no chief of fire department, or local inspector of buildings in municipalities where such officer is elected or appointed, has the right at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examination, to enter into and upon all buildings and premises in their jurisdiction. It is the duty of the insurance commissioner to require in all municipalities of the state that such officers make in their respective municipalities annual inspection of the buildings therein and quarterly inspection of all premises within the fire limits, and report in detail the results of their inspection to the insurance commissioner upon blanks furnished by him. When any of such officers find in any building or upon any premises combustible material or inflammable conditions dangerous to the safety of such building or premises they shall order the same to be removed or remedied, and this order shall be forthwith complied with by the owner or occupant of such building or premises. The owner or occupant may, within twenty-four hours, appeal to the insurance commissioner from the order, and the cause of the complaint shall be at once investigated by his direction, and unless by his authority the order of the officer above named is revoked it remains in force and must be forthwith complied with by the owner or occupant. The insurance commissioner, fire chief, or fire committee shall make an immediate investigation as to the presence of combustible material or the existence of inflammable conditions in any building or upon any premises under their jurisdiction upon complaint of any person having an interest in such building or premises or property adjacent thereto. The commissioner may, in person or by deputy, visit any municipality and make such inspections alone or in company with the local officer. The local inspector shall be paid by the municipality a reasonable salary or proper fees to be fixed by its governing board. (Rev., s. 4821; 1899, c. 58, s. 4; 1901, c. 387, s. 4; 1903, c. 719.)

As to regulation of buildings by municipalities, see secs. 2738 et seq.

§ 6078. Payment of expenses.—The license tax imposed upon fire insurance companies shall be used by the insurance commissioner for the purpose of investigating all fires occurring in the state, for the payment of expenses, including in the counsel fees, expense of deputy, detectives and officers, incurred by him in the performance of the other duties imposed upon him by this article, for the employment of a competent man to give instructions to fire companies, and for the expense of a better inspection of buildings in cities and towns. It shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner to appoint two or more persons as deputies, whose particular duty it shall be to investigate forest fires and endeavor to ascertain the persons guilty of setting such fires and cause prosecution to be instituted against those who, as a result of such investigation, are deemed guilty. Any part of such fund unexpended at the end of the fiscal year, April first, shall be payed by the insurance commissioner into the state treasury for general purposes as other funds collected by him. (Rev., s. 4823; 1899, c. 58, s. 6; 1901, c. 387, s. 6; 1903, c. 719, s. 2; 1915, c. 109, s. 2; 1919, c. 186, s. 7; 1924, c. 119.)

Editor's Note.—The provision as to the appointment of deputies to investigate forest fires, and the prosecution of guilty persons, was inserted by the amendment of 1924.

Cited in O'Neal v. Wake County, 196 N. C. 184, 189, 145 S. E. 28.

§ 6079. Reports of insurance commissioner.—The insurance commissioner shall submit annually, as early as consistent with full and accurate preparation, and not later than the first day of June, a detailed report of his official action under this chapter, and it shall be embodied in his report to the general assembly. He shall, in his annual report, make a statement of the fires investigated, the value of property destroyed, the amount of insurance, if any, the origin of the fire, when ascertained, and the location of the property damaged or destroyed, whether in town, city, or country. He shall also file annually an itemized statement, under oath, of all money received by him and disbursed under this chapter. (Rev., s. 4824; 1899, c. 58, s. 7; 1901; c. 387, s. 7; 1915, c. 109, s. 1.)

§ 6080. Fire prevention and fire prevention day.—It is the duty of the insurance commissioner and superintendent of public instruction, as far as practicable, to provide, [a pamphlet containing printed instructions for properly conducting fire drills in schools, and the superintendent or principal of every public school in this State shall conduct at least one fire drill every month during the regular school session, such fire drills to include all children and teachers and the use of all ways of egress, and the Insurance Commission and Superintendent of Public Instruction shall further provide] for the teaching of "Fire Prevention" in the colleges and schools of the state, and to arrange for a text-book adapted to such use. The ninth day of October of every year shall be set aside and designated as "Fire Prevention Day," and the governor shall issue a proclamation urging the people to a proper observance of the day, and the insurance commissioner shall bring the day and its observance to the attention of the officials of the municipalities of the state, and especially to the firemen, and where possible arrange suitable programs to be followed in its observance. Provided, that the part of this section in brackets should not apply to schools taught in one-story houses. (1915, c. 166, s. 5; 1925, c. 130.)

Editor's Note.—The provision requiring the commissioner to provide for a pamphlet of fire drill instructions, and the provision making it a duty of the superintendent or principal of every public school to conduct monthly fire drills, are new with the amendment of 1925.

Section 5542 was specifically amended by the Acts of 1925. As in the recodification of the Education Laws, Vol. III, Consolidated Statute, the provisions of section 5542 were omitted, the amendment mentioned is inserted in this, the corresponding section.

Art. 2. Fire-Escapes

§ 6081. Construction of buildings regulated.—All hotels, lodging houses, school dormitories, hospitals, sanitariums, apartment houses, flats, tenement houses and all buildings other than private dwellings not over three stories in height, in which rooms are to be rented or leased or let or offered for rent, let or leased for living or sleeping purposes, hereafter constructed in this state shall be constructed so that the occupants of all rooms above the first floor shall have unobstructed access to two separate and distinct ways of egress extending from the uppermost floor to the ground, such ways of egress to be so arranged in reference to rooms that in case of fire on one stairway the other stairway can be reached by the occupant without his or her having to pass the stairway involved. Entrance to all such ways of egress aforementioned in this section shall be from corridors or hallways of not less than three feet in width, and in no case shall entrance to such ways of egress be through a room or closet, and where such building is in the opinion of the insurance commissioner of sufficient size to require more than two ways of egress the "National Fire Protection Association" standard governing corridors and stair areas shall be adhered to. Every hotel, lodging house, school, dormitory, hospital, sanatorium, apartment house, flat, tenement or other building, other than a private dwelling not over three stories in height, in which rooms are rented, leased, let, offered for rent, leased or let, shall forthwith, at the owner's expense, be provided with additional ways of egress as the insurance commissioner shall deem practicable in order that the object of this law may be accomplished and that existing dangers may not be perpetuated. (1909, c. 637, s. 1; 1923, c. 149, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Although the general subject matter of this section remains unaltered, its substance and provisions have been so altered by the amendment 1923 as to leave no basis of comparison between the old and the new sections. For the provisions of the old section therefore, that section should be consulted to.

§ 6082. Places of public amusement, how constructed.—Every theater, opera house, or other like place of public amusement shall have as many doors for egress therefrom as may be necessary and can be made consistently with the proper strength of the building; all such doors shall be hung so as to open outwardly, or both outwardly and inwardly; and the seats therein shall be arranged in rows properly spaced, with aisles of adequate width, so as to afford easy egress therefrom. All scenery shall be made as secure against becoming inflamed as reasonably practical, and also all reasonably practical arrangements shall be made for the constant supply of water and other means for extinguishment of fires, and they shall be kept constantly effective during the presence of an audience. The insurance commissioner may require all theatres to be equipped with a front curtain of asbestos or other fireproof material, to be furnished by owners of the building, and this curtain shall be raised and lowered not less than twice before each performance, in order to guarantee its being in perfect working order. (1909, c. 637, s. 2.)

§ 6083. Doors in certain buildings to open outwardly.—In all public schoolhouses and other buildings, and also all theaters, assembly rooms, halls, churches, factories with more than ten employees, and all other buildings or places of public resort where people are accustomed to assemble (excepting schoolhouses and churches of one room on the ground floor) which shall hereafter be erected, together with all those heretofore erected and which are still in use as such buildings or places of resort, the door for ingress and egress shall be so hung as to open outwardly from the audience rooms, halls, or workshops of such buildings or places, or the doors may be hung on double hinges, so as to open with equal ease outwardly or inwardly. And if further provided that, in order to safeguard the public from the dangers of fire and contingencies arising and resulting therefrom in places of this kind, and the owner or owners from unnecessary confusion and expense, plans for all such theaters, opera houses, moving picture shows, and other like places of amusement to be hereafter erected shall be submitted to and approved, as to the safety of the building from fire and the occupants in case of fire, by the insurance commissioner before work is begun on the building. This requirement shall apply also where any building standing or part thereof is to be changed to use as a theater, opera house, moving picture show or other like place of amusement. (1909, c. 637, s. 3; 1923, c. 149, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The number of employees which would bring certain buildings enumerated near the beginning of the section within the operation of this section was reduced from twenty to ten, by the amendment of 1923. The provision, in the latter part of the section, that the plans of buildings to be erected shall be submitted to and approved by the insurance commissioner before work is begun, is also new with the amendment of 1923.

§ 6084. Fire-escapes to be provided.—All factories, manufacturing establishments or workshops of three or more stories in height, in which ten or more people are employed above the first floor thereof, shall be provided with one or (if the proper officials shall deem necessary) more outside fire-escapes, not less than six feet in length and three feet in width, properly and safely constructed, guarded by iron railings not less than three feet in length and taking in at least one door and one window or two windows at each story and connected with the interior by easily accessible and unobstructed openings; and the fire escapes shall connect by iron stairs not less than twenty-four inches wide, the steps to be not less than six inches tread, placed at not more than an angle of forty-five degrees slant, and protected by a well secured hand-rail on both sides, with a twelve-inch wide drop ladder from the lowest platform reaching to the ground. Each story of all factories, manufacturing establishments or workshops of three or more stories in height shall be amply supplied with means for extinguishing fires. All the main doors, both inside and outside, in factories, except fire doors, shall open outwardly, when the proper official shall so direct, and no outside or inside door of any building wherein operatives are employed shall be locked, bolted, or otherwise fastened during the hours of labor so as to prevent egress. (1909, c. 637, s. 4; 1923, c. 149, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The number of employees which would bring certain buildings enumerated near the beginning of the section within the operation of this section was reduced from thirty to ten, by the amendment of 1923.

§ 6085. Ways of escape provided.—Every building now or hereafter used, in whole or in part, as a public building, public or private institution, schoolhouse, church, theater, public hall, place of assembly or place of public resort, and every building in which twenty or more persons are employed, allowed or accustomed to assemble or accommodated above the second story in a factory, workshop, or mercantile or other establishment, when the owner or agent of the owner of the buildings is notified in writing by the insurance commissoner or one of his deputies, shall be provided with proper ways of egress or other means of escape from fire sufficient for the use of all persons accommodated, assembled, and employed, lodging or residing in such building or buildings, and such ways of egress and means of escape shall be kept free from obstructions, in good repair, and ready for use. Every room above the second story in any such building in which twenty or more persons are employed shall be provided with more than one way of egress by stairways on the inside or outside of the building. All doors in any building subject to the provisions of this article shall open outwardly, if the insurance commissioner or one of his deputies shall so direct in writing. (1909, c. 637, s. 5; 1923, c. 149, s. 3; 1927, c. 55, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1923, buildings where people are "allowed or accustomed to assemble or accommodated," and by the amendment of 1927, office buildings where people are employed, are brought within the operation of this section.

§ 6086. Enforcement by insurance commissioner.—The insurance commissioner is charged with the execution of this law, and he or the chief of the fire department is vested with all privileges, duties, and obligations placed upon them in this chapter, in regard to the inspection of buildings, for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this article in regard to the buildings and requirements herein. Any owner or occupant of premises failing to comply with the provisions of this article, in accordance with the orders of the authorities above specified, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each day's neglect. If any owner or lessee of any building referred to in this article shall deem himself aggrieved by any ruling or order of any chief of fire department or local inspector, he may within twenty-four hours appeal to the insurance commissioner, and the cause of complaint shall at once be investigated by the direction of the commissioner, and unless by his authority the order or ruling is revoked it shall remain in full force and effect and be forthwith complied with by the owner or lessee. (1909, c. 637, s. 6.)

CHAPTER 100

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Art. 1. Apportionment of Members

§ 6087. Senators. — Until another apportionment of the state shall be had in accordance with the terms of the constitution and laws of North Carolina, the senate shall be composed of fifty members elected from districts constituted as follows:

First District — Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Gates, Hertford, Pasquotank, Perquimans counties shall elect two senators.

Second District—Beaufort, Dare, Hyde, Martin, Pamlico, Tyrrell, and Washington shall elect two senators.

Third District—Bertie and Northampton shall elect one senator.

Fourth District—Edgecombe and Halifax shall elect two senators.

Fifth District—Pitt shall elect one senator.

Sixth District — Franklin, Nash, and Wilson shall elect two senators.

Seventh District — Carteret, Craven, Greene, Jones, Lenoir, and Onslow shall elect two senators.

Eighth District—Johnston and Wayne shall elect two senators.

Ninth District—Duplin, New Hanover, Pender, and Sampson shall elect two senators.

Tenth District—Bladen, Brunswick, Columbus, and Cumberland shall elect two senators.

Eleventh District — Robeson shall elect one senator.

Twelfth District—Harnett, Hoke, Moore, and Randolph shall elect two senators.

Thirteenth District—Chatham, Lee, and Wake shall elect two senators.

Fourteenth District—Vance and Warren shall elect one senator.

Fifteenth District—Granville and Person shall elect one senator.

Sixteenth District — Alamance, Caswell, Durham, and Orange shall elect two senators.

Seventeenth District—Guilford and Rockingham shall elect two senators.

Thirty-first District—Buncombe shall elect one senator.

Thirty-second District — Haywood, Jackson, and Transylvania shall elect one senator.

Thirty-third District—Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Macon, and Swain shall elect one senator. (Rev., s. 4398; Code, s. 2844; 1911, c. 150; 1921, c. 161.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1921 somewhat changed the apportionment of senators. To some districts additional counties were inserted, and from others certain counties were taken out, and in certain instances the number of senators to be elected by the given district was increased or decreased, as the case may be.

§ 6088. House of representatives. — Until the general assembly shall make another apportionment as provided by the constitution and laws of North Carolina, the house of representatives shall be composed of members elected from the counties of the state in the following manner, to wit: The counties of Forsyth, Guilford, Mecklenburg, and Wake shall elect three members each; the counties of Buncombe, Durham, Gaston, Halifax, Johnston, Nash, New Hanover, Pitt, Robeson, Rockingham, Rowan, and Wayne shall elect two members each; and the counties of Alamance, Alexander, Alleghany, Anson, Ashe, Avery, Beaufort, Bladen, Brunswick, Burke, Cabarrus, Caldwell, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Catawba, Chatham, Cherokee, Chowan, Cleveland, Clay, Columbus, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Dare, Davidson, Davie, Duplin, Edgecombe, Franklin, Gates, Graham, Granville, Greene, Harnett, Haywood, Henderson, Hertford, Hoke, Hyde, Iredell, Jackson, Jones, Lee, Lenoir, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, Martin, McDowell, Mitchell, Montgomery, Moore, Northampton, Onslow, Orange Pamlico, Pasquotank, Pender, Perquimans, Person, Polk, Randolph, Richmond, Rutherford, Sampson, Scotland, Stanly, Stokes, Surry, Swain, Transylvania, Tyrrell, Union, Vance, Warren, Washington, Watauga, Wilkes, Wilson, Yadkin, and Yancey shall elect one member each. (Rev., s. 4399; Code, s. 2845; 1911, c. 151; 1921, c. 144.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1921 the number of representatives allotted certain counties was decreased or increased, as the case may be.

Art. 2. Duty and Privilege of Members

§ 6089. Presiding officers may administer oaths.—The president of the senate is authorized to administer oaths for the qualification of senators and officers of the senate, and the speaker of the house of representatives is authorized to administer oaths for the qualification of all officers of the house and all members who shall appear after the election of speaker. (Rev., s. 4400; Code, s. 2855; 1833, c. 19.)

§ 6090. Members to convene at appointed time and place.—Every person elected to represent any county or district in the general assembly shall appear at such time and place as may be appointed for the meeting thereof, on the first day, and attend to the public business as occasion shall require. (Rev., s. 4401; Code, s. 2847; R. C., c. 52, s. 27; 1787, c. 277, s. 1.)

§ 6091. Penalty for failure to discharge duty.—If any member shall fail to appear, or shall neglect to attend to the duties of his office, he shall forfeit and pay for not appearing ten dollars, and two dollars for every day he may be absent from his duties during the session, to be deducted from his pay as a member; but a majority of the members of either house of the general assembly may remit such fines and forfeitures, or any part thereof, where it shall appear that such member has been prevented from attending to his duties by sickness or other sufficient cause. (Rev., s. 4402; Code, s. 2848; R. C., c. 52, s. 28; 1787; c. 277, s. 2.)

§ 6092. Expulsion for corrupt practices in election.—If any person elected a member of the general assembly shall, by himself or any other person, directly or indirectly, give, or cause to be given, any money, property, reward or present whatsoever, or give, or cause to be given by himself or another, any treat or entertainment of meat or drink, at any public meeting or collection of the people, to any person for his vote or to influence him in his election, such person shall, on due proof, be expelled from his seat in the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4403; Code, s. 2846; R. C., c. 52, s. 24; 1801, c. 580, s. 2.)

§ 6093. Freedom of speech; protection from arrest. — The members shall have freedom of speech and debate in the general assembly, and shall not be liable to impeachment or question, in any court or place out of the general assembly, for words therein spoken; and shall be protected, except in cases of crime, from all arrest and imprisonment, or attachment of property, during the time of their going to, coming from, or attending the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4404; Code, s. 2849; R. C., c. 52, s. 29; 1787, c. 277, s. 3.)

§ 6094. Monuments for deceased members.—The governor shall have placed at the grave of any member of the general assembly, who may be interred at the city of Raleigh (whose remains are not intended to be removed by his friends, suitable grave stones, containing the name of the deceased, his age, and the county he represented; and the cost thereof shall be paid by the treasurer, on the warrant of the auditor. (Rev., s. 4405; Code, s. 2874; R. C., 1844, c. 52, s. 39; 1883, c. 71.)

Art. 3. Contests

§ 6095. Notice of contest.—No person shall be allowed to contest the seat of any member of the general assembly unless he shall have given to the member thirty days notice thereof in writing, prior to the meeting of the general assembly, which must state the particular grounds of such contest. If the seat is contested on account of the reception of illegal votes, the notice must set forth the number of such votes, by whom given, and the supposed disqualifications; and if the same is contested on account of the rejection of legal votes, the notice must give the names of the persons whose votes were rejected. No evidence shall be admitted to show that the contestant received illegal votes, unless he shall also have been notified the same number of days, and in the same manner. The same notice of time and place required in taking depositions shall be required and proved on the investigation. (Rev., s. 4406; Code, s. 2850; 1893, c. 192; R. C., c. 52, s. 31; 1796, c. 466, s. 1.)

§ 6096. Depositions taken; penalty and privilege of witnesses.—Any justice of the peace, or any person duly authorized to take depositions to be read before courts, may take depositions to be used on the investigation, and may issue subpœnas for witnesses, which shall be executed by any officer authorized to execute process. And if any witness shall fail to appear and give his deposition according to the subpœna, he shall forfeit and pay to the party causing him to be summoned, forty dollars. And on such investigation no witness in this or in the case of any other contested election shall be excused from discovering whether he voted at such election, or his qualification to vote, except as to his conviction for any offense which would disqualify him. And if he was not a qualified voter, he shall be compelled to discover for whom he voted; but any witness making such discovery shall not be subject to criminal or penal prosecution for having voted at such election. (Rev., s. 4407; Code, s. 2851; R. C., c. 52, s. 32; 1800, c. 557, s. 1; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 12.)

Art. 4. Reports of Officers to General Assembly

§ 6097. Treasurer's estimate of expenses and rate of taxation. — It shall be the duty of the State treasurer to furnish the general assembly, at the commencement of each session, with estimates of the expenses of the state government and the rates of taxation necessary to pay the same for two years next succeeding the close of the last fiscal year, and with a scheme in the form of a complete revenue bill to sustain such estimates. (Rev., s. 4408; Code, s. 2864; 1856-7, c. 30; 1883, c. 60, s. 3.)

§ 6098. State officers to furnish list of employees and salaries.—The governor and all other state officers, the superintendents of the various state institutions, and the superintendents or heads of all institutions or departments of whatever kind that receive funds from the state, either directly or indirectly, shall furnish to each general assembly a full and complete list of names of superintendents or heads of their respective departments, assistants, secretaries, clerks, laborers, and employees of whatever kind, together with the annual or monthly salaries of each, and of any and all compensation of any kind that they may receive. Any state officer, superintendent, head of department or institution, who shall fail or refuse to furnish a full and complete list to the general assembly within ten days after the assembling of the same, shall forfeit and pay to the treasurer of the state the sum of twenty-five dollars for each day of delay in excess of ten days, recoverable by motion in the superior court of Wake county or before a justice of the peace, after twenty days notice to such defaulting officer. (Rev., s. 4409; 1893, c. 424.)

§ 6099. Reports from state institutions and departments.—It shall be the duty of the chief officer of each department of the state and of the boards of directors of all institutions supported in whole or in part by appropriations from the state, to submit to the general assembly, with their respective reports, bills providing for the support and management of their respective departments; these reports, with those of the other officers of the executive department, shall be submitted to the governor, to be transmitted by him with his message to the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4410; Code, s. 2865; 1800, c. 557, s. 2.)

§ 6099(a). Reports of commissions.—The Tax Commission, the Education Commission, the State Highway Commission, the Salary and Wage Commission, the State Board of Equalization, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Department of Agriculture, the State Board of Health, and the State Board of Charities and Public Health, and such other Boards, Departments and Commissions as the Governor may direct shall each make a full report of the operation of their respective Departments or Commissions together with their recommendations for the future operation of their Departments or Commissions to the members of the General Assembly.

All such reports shall be distributed as heretofore provided for, not later than twenty days after the general election in November preceding the conveying of the General Assembly.

Failure on the part of any of the above mentioned Commissions or Departments to distribute their reports to the members of the General Assembly within the time prescribed by section two shall be cause for impeachment and for removal from office. (1929, c. 248, s. 1.)

Art. 5. Investigating Committees

§ 6100. Power of committees.—Any committee of investigation raised either by joint resolution or resolution of either house of the general assembly has full power to send for persons and papers, and, if necessary, to compel attendance and production of papers by attachment or otherwise. (Rev., s. 4412; Code, s. 2853; 1868-9, c. 50, s. 1.)

Duration of Authority.—In the absence of express enactment otherwise the existence of a legislative committee necessarily determines upon the adjournment of the body to which it belongs. Bank v. Worth, 117 N. C. 146, 147, 23 S. E. 160.

§ 6101. Chairman may administer oaths. — The chairman of any committee or any person in his presence, and under his direction, shall have power and authority to administer oaths. (Rev., s. 4413; Code, s. 2856; 1869-70, c. 5, s. 3.)

§ 6102. Pay of witnesses. — Any witness appearing and giving testimony shall be entitled to receive from the person at whose instance he was summoned ten cents for every mile traveling to and from his residence, and ferriage, to be recovered before any justice of the peace upon the certificate of the commissioner. (Rev., s. 4414, Code, s. 2860; R. C., c. 52, s. 33; 1800, c. 557, s. 2.)

§ 6103. Appearance before committee.—Every person desiring to appear either in person or by attorney to introduce testimony, or to offer argument for or against the passage of an act or resolution, before any committee of either house of the general assembly, shall first make application to such committee, stating in writing his object, the number and names of his witnesses, and the nature of their testimony. If the committee consider the information likely to be important, or the interest of the applicant to be great, they shall appoint a time and place for hearing the same, with such limitations as may be deemed necessary. (Rev., s. 4415; Code, s. 2858; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 10.)

§ 6104. Appeal from denial of right to be heard.—If any committee shall refuse to grant the request of any citizen to be heard before it in a matter touching his interests, he may appeal to the house of which the committee is a part; and if he show good reason for his request the house shall order it to be granted. (Rev., s. 4416; Code, s. 2859; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 11.)

Art. 6. Acts and Journals

§ 6105. When acts take effect.—Acts of the general assembly shall be in force only from and after thirty days after the adjournment of the session in which they shall have passed, unless the commencement of the operation thereof be expressly otherwise directed. (Rev., s. 4417; Code, s. 2862; R. C., c. 52, s. 35; 1799, c. 527; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — This section abrogates the doctrine of Sumner v. Barksdale, 1 N. C. 328, and Smith v. Smith, 1 N. C. 30, in which it was held that Acts of Assembly take effect from the beginning of the session in which they are passed.

Takes Effect from First Day of Session When so Provided. —An act of the General Assembly which provides that it shall be in force from and after its passage is in force and takes effect from the first day of the session at which it was passed. Hamlet v. Taylor, 50 N. C. 36.

§ 6106. Notice given of private acts.—Any person who may desire the passage of a private law shall give notice of his intention to make application by advertisement in some newspaper of the state which circulates in the county where the applicant resides, or in which such private law will operate, or by advertisement at the door of the courthouse and three other public places in such county for at least thirty days before the application; and when any private bill shall be introduced, a copy of such advertisement, with due proof of its having been so published, shall be produced before the second reading thereof. (Rev., s. 4418; Const., Art. II, s. 12; Code, s. 2861; R. C., c. 52, s. 34; 1796, c. 466, s. 2; 1835, c. 15.)

See annotations to Constitution, Art. II, sec. 12.

Conclusive Presumption as to Notice.—The courts will conclusively presume, from the ratification of a legislative act authorizing a county to issue bonds, that the notice of thirty days required by section 12, Article II of the Constitution, has been given. Cox v. Commissioners, 146 N. C. 584, 60 S. E. 516.

If the legislative journal is silent as to the fact, the presumptions would be that the Legislature obeyed the Constitution. Gatlin v. Tarboro, 78 N. C. 119.

The courts will not go behind the ratification of an act of the Legislature to inquire as to whether notice required by Art. II, § 12, of the Constitution of North Carolina, and this section has been given and will conclusively presume that this requirement binding upon the conscience of the Legislature has been observed. State v. Holmes, 207 N. C. 293, 176 S. E. 746.

§ 6107. Bills to pay teachers' salaries.—No bills for the payment of any claim for teachers' salaries shall be introduced in either house of the general assembly unless the claim shall have been approved by the chairman of the county board of education and by the county superintendent, and unless a certificate from the county superintendent stating that the debt was contracted by unavoidable mistake on the part of the teacher and the school committee shall be attached to and accompany the bill when introduced. (Rev., s. 4419; 1903, c. 435, s. 16.)

§ 6108. Enrollment of acts.—All bills passed by the general assembly shall be enrolled for ratification under the supervision and direction of the secretary of state. All bills so enrolled shall be typewritten and carefully proofread. The secretary of state is authorized and empowered to secure such equipment as may be required for this purpose, and from time to time during the sessions of the general assembly, to employ such number of competent and trained persons, not to exceed twelve at any one time, as may be necessary to perform this service. One of such number so employed shall be designated as chief enrolling clerk, and shall receive not to exceed the sum of six dollars ($6.00) per day for his services, and each of the others so employed shall receive not to exceed the sum of five dollars ($5.00) per day for his services: Provided, the rules committees of the house of representatives and senate in joint session may increase or decrease the number of persons so employed. (Rev., s. 4422; 1903, c. 5; 1933, c. 173, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 173, substituted the above section for the former reading. A comparison of the two sections is necessary to determine the changes.

§ 6109. Secretary of state to prepare index to acts.—The secretary of state shall biennially, at the beginning of each regular session of the general assembly, appoint an assistant, whose duties it shall be to prepare for publication the indexes, and side or marginal notes, to the acts and resolutions, both public and private, ratified by the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4423; 1903, c. 3; 1927, c. 217, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1927 the captions of the acts and resolution were also required to be indexed and published.

§ 6110. Repealed by the Public Laws of 1927, c. 217, s. 2.

§ 6111. Secretary of state to have laws printed.—The secretary of state, within thirty days after the termination of each session of the general assembly, shall cause to be published by the state printer all the laws and joint resolutions passed at such session; and each volume shall contain his certificate that it was printed under his direction from enrolled copies on file in his office. In the printing he shall omit the certificate required to be indorsed upon the original bills; but he shall insert immediately after the title of each law the word "ratified," adding the day, month, and year. (Rev., s. 4425; Code, s. 2869; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 14.)

§ 6111(a). Number to be printed.—There shall not be printed more than four thousand (4,000) volumes of Public Laws, twenty-five hundred (2500) to full bound and fifteen hundred (1500) to half bound; twelve hundred and fifty (1250) volumes of Public-Local and Private Laws; five hundred (500) volumes of House Journals and five hundred (500) volumes of Senate Journals of each session of the General Assembly. (1929, c. 85, s. 1.)

§ 6112. Journals indexed by clerks. — The principal clerks of the two houses of the general assembly shall provide full and complete indexes for the journals of their respective houses. (Rev., s. 4421; Code, s. 2868; 1866-7, c. 71; 1881, c. 292.)

§ 6113. Journals deposited with secretary of state. — The principal clerks of the senate and house of representatives, as soon as may be practicable after the close of each session, shall deposit in the office of the secretary of state the journals of the general assembly; and the secretary of the state shall make and certify copies of any part or entry of the journals, and may take for the copy of each entry made and certified the same fee as for the copy of a grant. (Rev., s. 4420; Code, s. 2867; R. C., c. 52, s. 36; 1819, c. 1020.)

§ 6113(a). Promotion of sale of Supreme Court Reports, Laws and Journals.—The Governor and Council of State be, and they are hereby authorized to fix such sale prices as, in their judgment, will promote the sale of Supreme Court Reports, Public Laws, Public-Local and Private Laws, Senate and House Journals belonging to the State of North Carolina on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine. (1929, c. 85, s. 2.)

Art. 7. Employees

§ 6114. Principal clerk; term of office; duties.—The principal clerk of each house of the general assembly shall hold his office for the term of two years, or until another is appointed; shall be present at such time and place and may be fixed for the meeting of the general assembly, and on the first day thereof, and perform the duties of his office. (Rev., s. 4426; Code, s. 2870; R. C., c. 52, s. 37; 1846, c. 63.)

§ 6115. Temporary doorkeepers appointed. — The keeper of the capitol (and if there be none, then the secretary of state) shall employ two suitable persons to place the two halls, of the general assembly in order and wait upon the members, until doorkeepers can be regularly appointed. (Rev., s. 4427; Code, s. 2871; R. C., c. 52, s. 38; 1846, c. 63, s. 5.)

§ 6116. Doorkeeper's term of office. — The term of office of the doorkeeper of each house shall be two years, or until his successor is appointed. (Rev., s. 4428; Code, s. 2863; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 7.)

Art. 8. Preservation and Protection of Furniture and Fixtures

§ 6116(a). Principal clerks to take and publish inventory.—At the end of each and every session of the general assembly, the principal clerks of each house shall take inventory of the furniture, desks, fixtures, chairs, and other property belonging to their respective houses, and published said inventory in the appendix of their respective journals. (1921, c. 219, s. 1.)

§ 6116(b). Duty and responsibility of keeper of capitol.—The keeper of the capitol shall have charge and care of the said furniture and fixtures during the vacations of the general assembly, and it shall be his duty to see that said furniture remains in the offices and halls of the two houses from session to session, and he shall be responsible for the safe-keeping of said furniture and fixtures. (1921, c. 219, s. 2.)

§ 6116(c). Removal of furniture and fixtures a misdemeanor.—It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to remove any of said furniture and fixtures from the halls of the general assembly between sessions of the legislature for any purpose whatever. (1921, c. 219, s. 3.)

Art. 9. Lobbying

§ 6116(d). Lobbying defined; registration of lobbyists.—Every person, corporation or association which employs any person to act as counsel or agent to promote or oppose in any manner the passage by the general assembly of any legislation affecting the pecuniary interests of any individual, association or corporation as distinct from those of the whole people of the state, or to act in any manner as a legislative counsel or agent in connection with any such legislation, shall, within one week after the date of such employment, cause the name of the person so employed, to be entered upon a legislative docket as hereinafter provided. It shall also be the duty of the person so employed to enter or cause to be entered his name upon such docket. Upon the termination of such employment such fact may be entered opposite the name of any person so employed either by the employer or employee. (1933, c. 11, s. 1.)

For a discussion of this and the following sections, see 11 N. C. Law Rev., 235.

§ 6116(e). Legislative docket for registration.—The secretary of state shall prepare and keep the legislative docket for the uses provided in this article. In such docket shall be entered the name, occupation or business, and business address of the employer, the name, residence and occupation of the person employed, the date of employment or agreement therefor, the length of time that the employment is to continue, if such time can be determined, and the subject or subjects of legislation to which the employment relates. Such docket shall be a public record and open to the inspection of any citizen at any time during the regular business hours of the office of the secretary of state. (1933, c. 11, s. 2.)

§ 6116(f). Contingent fees prohibited.—No person shall be employed as a legislative counsel or agent for a compensation dependent, in any manner, upon the passage or defeat of any proposed legislation or upon any other contingency connected with the action of the general assembly, or of either branch thereof, or any committee thereof. (1933, c. 11, s. 3.)

§ 6116(g). Written authority from employer to be filed.—Legislative counsel and agents required to have their names entered upon the legislative docket shall file with the secretary of state within ten days after the date of making such entry a written authorization to act as such, signed by the person or corporation employing them. (1933, c. 11, s. 4.)

§ 6116(h). Detailed statement of expenses to be filed.—Within thirty days after the final adjournment of the general assembly every person, corporation or association, whose name appears upon the legislative docket of the session, shall file with the secretary of state a complete and detailed statement, sworn to before a notary public or justice of the peace by the person making the same, or in the case of a corporation by its president or treasurer, of all expenses paid or incurred by such person, corporation or association, in connection with promoting or opposing in any manner the passage by the general assembly of any legislation coming within the terms of this article. Such statements shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the secretary of state and shall be open to public inspection. (1933, c. 11, s. 5.)

§ 6116(i). Going upon floor during session prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, employed for a pecuniary consideration to act as legislative counsel or agent, as defined by this article, to go upon the floor of either house of the general assembly while the same is in session, except upon invitation of such house. (1933, c. 11, s. 6.)

§ 6116(j). Application of article. — The provisions of this article shall not apply to any county, city, town or municipality, but shall apply to the executive officers of all other corporations who undertake, in such capacity, to perform services as legislative counsel or agent for such corporations, regardless of whether they receive additional compensation for such services. (1933, c. 11, s. 7.)

§ 6116(k). Punishment for violation.—Any legislative counsel or agent, and any employer of such legislative counsel or agent, violating any provision of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding two years, or both. (1933, c. 11, s. 8.)

CHAPTER 101

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY AND FORESTS, ETC.

Art. 1. Organization and General Purposes

§§ 6117-6122(b). Organization and purposes. —Repealed: (Act 1925, c. 122, s. 24.)

Art. 1 (A). Department of Conservation and Development

§ 6122(c). Department created.—There is hereby created and established a department to be known as the "Department of Conservation and Development," with the organization, powers and duties hereafter defined in this article. (1925, c. 122, s. 2.)

Editor's Note. — This department has been consolidated with the Fisheries Commission, see sections 1901(a) et seq. The act is reviewed in 4 N. C. Law Rev. 17.

§ 6122(d). Meaning of terms.—In this article, unless the context otherwise requires, the expression "department" means the Department of Conservation and Development; "board" means the Board of Conservation and Development; and "director" means the Director of Conservation and Development. (1925, c. 122, s. 3.)

§ 6122(e). Objects of the department.—It shall be the objects of the department—

1. To take over the powers and duties exercised by the State Geological and Economic Survey, the State Geological Board, and the State Geologist, as provided for in chapter one hundred and one of the Consolidated Statutes of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen. and other statutes relating thereto.

2. By investigation, recommendation and publication, to aid

(a) In the promotion of the conservation and development of the natural resources of the State;

(b) In promoting a more profitable use of lands, forests and waters;

(c) In promoting the development of commerce and industry;

(d) In coördinating existing scientific investigations and other related agencies in formulating and promoting sound policies of conservation and development; and

(e) To collect and classify the facts derived from such investigations and from other agencies of the State as a source of information easily accessible to the citizens of the State and to the public generally, setting forth the natural, economic, industrial and commercial advantages of the State. (1925, c. 122, s. 4.)

§ 6122(f). Board of Conservation and Development.—The control and management of the department shall be vested in a board to be known as the "Board of Conservation and Development," to be composed of seven members, consisting of the Governor, as chairman, and six other members, citizens of the State, one of whom shall be selected from the staff of the University of North Carolina, and one from the staff of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering. (1925, c. 122, s. 5.)

§ 6122(g). Appointment and terms of office.—After March 4, 1925, the Governor shall appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the six members of the board, three of whom shall serve until the fifteenth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, and three shall serve until the fifteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five. The Governor shall designate, in his appointments, the members to serve for the terms mentioned, and at the expiration of such terms he shall appoint the members of the board to serve for a term of four years thereafter. The members of the board shall serve for the terms for which they are appointed and until their successors are appointed and qualified. The Governor shall also designate one member of the board as vice chairman, who shall preside at the meetings of the board in the absence of the Governor. (1925, c. 122, s. 6.)

§ 6122(h). Meetings of the board.—The board shall meet twice a year in the city of Raleigh, once in January and once in July, at the call of the Governor, and special meetings may be called at such other times as the Governor or director may consider necessary. The board may change the time and place of meeting as the circumstances may require. (1925, c. 122, s. 7.)

§ 6122(i). Compensation of board.—In attending the meetings, the members of the board shall be reimbursed their actual traveling expenses, and members not otherwise receiving a salary from the State may be paid in addition a per diem of four dollars a day for not exceeding eight days in any one year. (1925, c. 122, s. 8.)

§ 6122(j). Powers and duties of the board.—The board shall have control of the work of the department, and may make such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable to govern the work of the department and the duties of its employees.

It shall make investigations of the natural, industrial and commercial resources of the State, and take such measures as it may deem best suited to promote the conservation and development of such resources.

It shall have charge of the work of forest maintenance, forest fire prevention, reforestation, and the protection of lands and water supplies by the preservation of forests; it shall also have the care of State forests and parks, and other recreational areas now owned or to be acquired by the State, including the lakes referred to in section seven thousand five hundred and forty-four of the consolidated Statutes.

It shall make such examination, survey and mapping of the geology, mineralogy and topography of the State, including their industrial and economic utilization, as it may consider necessary; make investigations of water supplies and water-powers, with recommendations and plans for promoting their more profitable use, and take such measures as it may consider necessary to promote their development.

It shall make investigations of the existing conditions of trade, commerce and industry in the State, with the causes which may hinder or encourage their growth, and may devise and recommend such plans as may be considered best suited to promote the development of these interests.

The board may take such other measures as it may deem advisable to obtain and make public a more complete knowledge of the State and its resources, and it is authorized to coöperate with other departments and agencies of the State in obtaining and making public such information.

It shall be the duty of the board to arrange and classify the facts derived from the investigations made, so as to provide a general source of information in regard to the State, its advantages and resources. (1925, c. 122, s. 9.)

As to powers and duties as to fish, fishing and fisheries, see note to § 1878, and §§ 2078(q)-2078(kk).

§ 6122(k). Power to examine witnesses.—The board, or the director, is authorized, in the performance of their duties, to administer oaths and to subpœna and examine witnesses. (1925, c. 122, s. 10.)

§ 6122(l). Reports and publications; transfer of geological documents to libraries of Greater University.—The board shall prepare a report to be submitted by the governor to each general assembly showing the nature and progress of the work and the expenditures of the department.

The board may also cause to be prepared for publication, from time to time, reports and statements, with illustrations, maps and other descriptions, which may adequately set forth the natural and material resources of the State and its industrial and commercial developments, with a view to furnishing information to educate the people with reference to the material advantages of the State, to encourage and foster existing industries, and to present inducements for investment in new enterprises. Such reports and information shall be published and distributed as the board may direct, at the expense of the State as other public documents.

The director and division heads of the state department of conservation and development are authorized, without expense to that department, to transfer to the libraries of the Greater University of North Carolina all reports, documents and publications relating to geology collected by the old North Carolina geological and economic survey and all duplicates of the reports, documents and publications issued by that survey and by the state department on conservation and development, not necessary for the files of or for distribution by that department. (1925, c. 122, s. 11; 1935, c. 175.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1935 added the last paragraph of this section.

§ 6122(m). Cooperation with agencies of the Federal government.—The board is authorized to arrange for and accept such aid and cooperation from the several United States Government bureaus and other sources as may assist in completing topographic surveys and in carrying out the other objects of the department, and to continue any arrangement which may have been heretofore made with such Federal agencies by the Geological and Economic Survey and by the Geological Board.

The board is further authorized and directed to cooperate with the Federal power commission in carrying out the rules and regulations promulgated by that commission; and to act in behalf of the State in carrying out any regulations that may be passed relating to water-powers in this State other than those related to making and regulating rates. The provisions of this section are extended to apply to cooperation with authorized agencies of other States. (1925, c. 122, s. 18; 1929, c. 297, s. 2.)

§ 6122(m1). Agreements, negotiations and conferences with Federal Government.—The Department of Conservation and Development is delegated as the State Agency to represent North Carolina in any agreements, negotiations, or conferences with authorized agencies of adjoining or other States, or agencies of the Federal Government, relating to the joint administration or control over the surface or underground waters passing or flowing from one State to another: Provided, that in all matters relating to pollution of said waters the Department of Conservation and Development and the State Board of Health, acting jointly, are hereby designated as the official agency under the provisions of this section. (1929, c. 297, s. 1.)

§ 6122(n). Coöperation with other State departments.—The board is authorized to coöperate with the North Carolina Corporation Commission in investigating the water-powers in the State, and to furnish the corporation Commission such information as is possible regarding the location of the water-power sites, developed water-powers, and such other information as may be desired in regard to water-power in the State; the board shall also coöperate as far as possible with the Department of Labor and Printing, the State Department of Agriculture, the Fisheries Commission board and other departments and institutions of the State in collecting information in regard to the resources of the State and in preparing the same for publication in such manner as may best advance the welfare and improvement of the State. (1925, c. 122, s. 16.)

§ 6122(o). Coöperation with counties and municipal corporations.—The board is authorized to coöperate with the counties of the State in any surveys to ascertain the natural resources of the county; and with the governing bodies of cities and towns, with boards of trade and other like civic organizations, in examining and locating water supplies and in advising and recommending plans for other municipal improvements and enterprises. Such coöperation is to be conducted upon such terms as the board may direct. (1925, c. 122, s. 17.)

§ 6122(p). Director of Conservation and Development.—The Governor shall appoint a suitable person as Director of Conservation and Development, who shall have charge of the work of the department, under the supervision of the board. The director shall serve for such time as the Governor may designate in his appointment, not to exceed, however, the term of office of the Governor making the appointment, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. (1925, c. 122, s. 12.)

As to control over waterfowl food growing in public waters, see § 2105(c).

§ 6122(q). Duties of the director.—It shall be the duty of the director, under the supervision of the board and under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt, to make, or cause to be made, examinations and surveys of the economic and natural resources of the State and investigations of its industrial and commercial enterprise and advantages, and to perform such other duties as the board may prescribe in carrying out the objects of the department. (1925, c. 122, s. 13.)

§ 6122(r). Compensation of the director.—The director shall receive an annual salary, to be fixed by the Governor, not to exceed the salary heretofore paid to the State Geologist appointed under section six thousand one hundred and seventeen of the Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina. (1925, c. 122, s. 14.)

§ 6122(s). Experts and assistants.—The director shall appoint, subject to the approval of the board, such experts and assistants as may be found necessary to enable him to carry on successfully the work of the department, among whom he may appoint, subject to the approval of the board and as may be found necessary, a State geologist and a State forester; and the board shall fix the compensation of such experts and assistants. To the State forester and the State geologist such duties may be assigned by the said director, subject to the approval of the board, as may be desired, including those heretofore exercised by those officers so designated. (1925, c. 122, s. 15.)

§ 6122(t). Geological board and State Geologist abolished.—The geological board provided for in section six thousand one hundred and eighteen, and the office of State Geologist as provided for in section six thousand one hundred and seventeen, of Consolidated Statutes, chapter one hundred and one, entitled "Geological Survey and Forests," are hereby abolished : Provided, however, that the Geological Board and State Geologist shall perform the duties of such positions until the Board of Conservation and Development provided for in this article qualifies. (1925, c. 122, s. 19.)

§ 6122(u). Transfer of property. — Upon the organization of the department by the appointment and qualification of the board and director, all the property of the State in the hands of Geological Board and of the State Geologist shall be transferred to this department; and all valid contracts of the Geological Board and State Geologist, made in the discharge of their official duties, and still outstanding and unexecuted, shall be binding upon this department. (1925, c. 122, s. 20.)

§ 6122(v). Appropriations. — All appropriations heretofore made for the use of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey and which may be made at this meeting of the General Assembly shall be and are hereby transferred to the account and use of the Department of Conservation and Development, to be used by the board in control of the department; and all appropriations, or funds derived or which may be derived from the United States Government or from other sources of revenue which have been directed or may be directed to be applied to the general purposes of the Geological and Economic Survey in connection with forest protection, reforestation or otherwise shall be used by the board in carrying out the duties of this department. (1925, c. 122, s. 21.)

§ 6122(w). Control of State forests.—The board and director shall have charge of all State forests, measures for forest fire prevention, and all other duties relating to forests heretofore vested in the State Geologist and Economic Survey, the Geological board and the State Geologist. (1925, c. 122, s. 22.)

§ 6122(x). Control of Mount Mitchell Park and other State parks.—The board shall have the control and management of Mount Mitchell Park and of any other parks which have been or may be acquired by the State as State parks. (1925, c. 122, s. 23.)

§ 6122(y). Notification of intent to begin or continue business.—Every person, firm or corporation engaging in the manufacture or production of any product from any natural resources, classified as mineral products, shall before beginning such operation, or if already engaged in such business, within ninety days after the ratification of this section, notify the State Department of Conservation and Development at Raleigh of its intention to begin or continue such business, and also notify said department of the product or products it intends to produce.

Every person, firm or corporation now engaged or hereafter engaging in the manufacture or production of any product from any natural resources of the State classified as mineral products, shall notify the State Department of Conservation and Development at Raleigh when such person, firm or corporation shall discontinue such manufacture or production.

Any person, firm or corporation failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars and not less than five dollars, in the discretion of the court. (1927, c. 258.)

§ 6122(z). Investigation of coasts, ports and waterways of State. — The North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development is designated as the official State agency to investigate and cause investigations to be made of the coasts, ports and waterways of North Carolina and to coöperate with agencies of the Federal and State Government and other political sub-divisions in making such investigations. Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed as in any way interfering with the powers and duties of the Transportation Advisory Commission, relating to the acquiring of rights-of-way for the Intra-Coastal Waterway; or to authorize the Department of Conservation and Development to represent the State in connection with such duties. (1931, cc. 139, 266.)

§ 6122(aa). Reimbursement of government for expense of emergency conservation work.—When and if, upon the sale of state land or its products, the director of conservation and development determines that the State has derived a direct profit as a result of work on the land sold, or on land the products of which are sold, done or to be done, under a project carried on pursuant to an act of Congress entitled, "An act for the relief of unemployment through the performance of useful public work, and for other purposes' approved March thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, one-half of such profit from such sale of land, or one-half the proceeds of the sale of such products, or such lesser amount as may be sufficient, shall be applied to or toward reimbursing the United States government for monies expended by it under such act, for the work so done, to the extent and at the rate of one dollar per man per day, for the time spent in such work, but not exceeding in the aggregate three dollars per acre. The director of conservation and development shall fix and determine the amount of such profit or proceeds. Such one-half part of such proceeds or profits, as the case may be, shall be retained by the department of conservation and development, or paid over to it by any other authorized agency making the sale, to be so retained by such department until the account of the United States government, with respect to such sale, becomes liquidated. Upon completion of the sale, the department of conservation and development is hereby authorized to settle with the proper federal authority an account fixing the amount due the United States government and to pay over to it the amount so fixed. The unexpended remainder, if any, of such one-half part of such profit or proceeds shall then be paid over or applied by said department of conservation and development as now authorized and directed by law. This section shall not be construed to authorize the sale of state lands or products, but applies only to a sale now or hereafter authorized by other provisions of law. This section is enacted to procure a continuance of the emergency conservation work within the State, under such act of Congress. (1935, c. 115.)

Art. 2. Road Building and Development of Mineral Resources

§ 6123. Geological board to investigate and advise.—Repealed: (1925, c. 122, s. 24.)

Art. 3. State Forests, Parks, etc., by Donation, Lease or Purchase

§ 6124. Power to acquire lands as State forests, parks, etc.; donations or leases by United States. — The governor of the state is authorized upon recommendation of the Board of Conservation and Development to accept gifts of land to the state, the same to be held, protected, and administered by said board as state forests, and to be used so as to demonstrate the practical utility of timber culture and water conservation, and as refuges for game. Such gifts must be absolute except in such cases as where the mineral interest on the land has previously been sold. The State Board of Conservation and Development shall have the power to purchase lands in the name of the state, suitable chiefly for the production of timber, as state forests, for experimental, demonstration, educational, park, and protection purposes, using for such purposes any special appropriations or funds available. The attorney-general of the state is directed to see that all deeds to the state for land mentioned in this section are properly executed before the gift is accepted or payment of the purchase money is made. Such state forests shall be subject to county taxes assessed on the same basis as are private lands, to be paid out of money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

The board of conservation and development is further authorized and empowered to accept as gifts to the State of North Carolina such forest and submarginal farm land acquired by said federal government as may be suitable for the purpose of creating and maintaining state-controlled forests, game refuges, public shooting grounds, state parks, state lakes, and other recreational areas or to enter into long-time leases with the federal government for such areas and administer them with such funds as may be secured from their administration in the best interest of long-time public use, supplemented by such necessary appropriations as may be made by the general assembly. The department of conservation and development is further empowered to segregate state hunting and fishing licenses, use permits, and concessions and other proper revenue secured through the administration of such forests, game refuges, public shooting grounds, state parks, state lakes, and other recreational areas to be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the department to be used for the administration of these areas. (1915, c. 253, s. 1; 1925, c. 122, s. 22; 1935, c. 226.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 adds the last paragraph of this section.

§ 6124(a). State timber may be sold by Department of Conservation and Development; forest nurseries; control over parks, etc. — Timber and other products of such State forest lands may be sold, cut and removed under rules and regulations of the Department of Conservation and Development. Said Department shall have authority to establish on these or other State lands under its charge forest nurseries for the growing of trees for planting on such State forest lands and to procure or acquire tree seeds for nursery for forest use. Such planting stock as is not required in the State forests may be sold at not less than cost to landowners within the State for planting purposes, but all such planting shall be done under plans approved by the Department. The Department shall make reasonable rules for the regulation of the use by the public of such and all State forests, State parks, State lakes, game refuges and public shooting grounds under its charge, which regulations, after having been posted in conspicuous places on and adjacent to such State properties and at the courthouse of the county or counties in which such properties are situated, shall have the force and effect of law and any violation of such regulations shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment for not exceeding thirty days. (1931, c. 111, s. 1.)

§ 6125. Application of proceeds from sale of products.—All money received from the sale of wood, timber, minerals, or other products from the state forests shall be paid into the state treasury and to the credit of the Board of Conservation and Development; and such money shall be expended in carrying out the purposes of this article and of forestry in general, under the direction of the Board of Conservation and Development. (1915, c. 253, s. 2; 1925, c. 122, s. 22.)

§ 6126(1). Donations of property for forestry or park purposes; agreements with federal government or agencies for acquisition. — The department of conservation and development is hereby authorized and empowered to accept gifts, donations or contributions of land suitable for forestry or park purposes and to enter into agreements with the federal government or other agencies for acquiring by lease, purchase or otherwise such lands as in the judgment of the department are desirable for state forests or state parks. (1935, c. 430, s. 1.)

§ 6126(3). Disposition of revenues received from lands acquired.—All revenues derived from lands now owned or later acquired under the provisions of this law shall be set aside for the use of the department in acquisition, management, development and use of such lands until all obligations incurred have been paid in full. Thereafter, fifty per cent of all net profits accruing from the administration of such lands shall be applicable for such purposes as the general assembly may prescribe, and fifty per cent shall be paid into the school fund to be used in the county or counties in which lands are located. (1935, c. 430, s. 3.)

§ 6126(5). Disposition of lands acquired.—The department shall have full power and authority to sell, exchange or lease lands under its jurisdiction when in its judgment it is advantageous to the State to do so in the highest orderly development and management of state forests and state parks: Provided, however, said sale, lease or exchange shall not be contrary to the terms of any contract which it has entered into. (1935, c. 430, s. 5.)

Art. 4. Private Lands Designated as State Forests

§ 6127. Governor may designate state forests.—The governor of the state, upon the written application of any owner or owners of wooded lands situated in North Carolina above contour line two thousand feet, may at his discretion declare the lands of such owner or owners, or such parts thereof as he may deem advisable, a "state forest of North Carolina." (1909, c. 89, s. 1.)

§ 6128. Publication of declaration.—The declaration of the governor shall be published, at the expense of the applicant, in three consecutive issues of any newspaper published in the county or counties wherein the lands declared a state forest reserve are situated, if there be one; if no paper is published in the county or counties, then in a paper published in an adjoining county; and after such publication the said lands shall be a state forest of North Carolina for the term of thirty years. (1909, c. 89, s. 2.)

§ 6129. Duty of the landowners.—The owner or owners, when making such written application, shall agree in writing to treat in a conservative manner the proposed state forest described in the application, such manner to be in accordance with a working plan approved by the Department of Conservation and Development, and the owner or owners of such proposed state forest, when making such application, shall agree to pay annually into the school fund of the county wherein such proposed state forest or a part thereof is situated one-half cent for every acre of such proposed state forest situated within the county; and if the owner or owners thereafter shall fail to make such annual payment, then the declaration of the governor establishing the said state forest shall be null and void to all intents and purposes. (1909, c. 89, s. 3; 1925, c. 122, s. 22.)

§ 6131. Powers of state forest wardens.—The state forest wardens may make arrest on sight, without warrant for any criminal offense, as provided in the chapter on Crimes, for setting fire to woods, for camp-fires, for hunting on lands without permission of the owner, for malicious injury to real property, for cutting or removing timber from the land of another, for trespass on land after being forbidden, or for other crime relating to real estate committed within the state forest. They shall safeguard against trespass, and notably against fire, the state forest for which they have been appointed; and, as far as the enforcement of the provisions of this article is concerned, the state forest warden shall have all the powers, privileges, and protection otherwise had by sheriffs under any law now in force. (1909, c. 89, s. 5.)

§ 6132. Fines imposed. — The minimum fine for any offense mentioned in the preceding section committed within any state forest shall be fifty dollars if within the jurisdiction of the superior court, and twenty-five dollars if within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace. (1909, c. 89, s. 6.)

Art. 5. Protection against Forest Fires

§ 6133. Board of Conservation and Development.—The State Board of Conservation and Development may take such action as it may deem necessary to provide for the prevention and control of forest fires in any and all parts of this state, and it is hereby authorized to enter into an agreement with the secretary of agriculture of the United States for the protection of the forested watersheds of streams in this state. (1915, c. 243, s. 1; 1925, c. 122, s. 22.)

§ 6134. State forester and forest wardens.—The forester of the Department of Conservation and Development, who shall be state forester, and shall be ex officio state forest warden, may appoint, with the approval of the Board of Conservation and Development, one county forest warden and one or more deputy forest wardens in each county of the state in which after careful investigation the amount of forest land and the risks from forest fires shall, in his judgment, warrant the establishment of a forest fire organization. (1915, c. 243, s. 2; 1925, c. 106, s. 1, c. 122, s. 22; 1927, c. 150, s. 1; 1935, c. 178, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 inserts the words "after careful investigation" and substitutes the words "warrant the establishment of a forest fire organization" for the words "make it advisable and necessary."

§ 6135. Duties of state forester. — The state forester, as the state forest warden, shall have supervision of forest wardens, shall instruct them in their duties, issue such regulations and instructions to all forest wardens as he may deem necessary for the purposes of this article, and cause violations of the laws regarding forest fires to be prosecuted. (1915, c. 243, s. 3; 1925, c. 106, s. 1; 1927, c. 150, s. 2.)

§ 6136. Duties of forest wardens; payment of expenses. — Forest wardens shall have charge of measures for controlling forest fires; shall make arrests for violation of forest laws; shall post along highways and in other conspicuous places copies of the forest fire laws and warnings against fires, which shall be supplied by the state forester; shall patrol and man lookout towers and other points during dry and dangerous seasons under the direction of the state forester, and shall perform such other acts and duties as shall be considered necessary by the state forester for the protection of the forested area of the counties from fire. The warden shall keep an itemized account of all expenses thus incurred and send such accounts, verified by affidavit, to the state forester monthly, for his examination. Upon approval by the state forester such accounts shall be sent by the state forester to the board of county commissioners of the county in which such expenses have been incurred, and upon approval by the board of the correctness of such accounts, the county commissioners shall issue or cause to have issued a warrant on the county treasury for the payment of one-half of such account, said payments of counties' share of such expenditures to be made within one month after receipt of such statements from the state forester, provided that the total payments by the county shall not exceed five (5) mills per acre of total woodland area in said county in any one calendar year, unless specifically authorized by the county commissioners to meet an emergency; appropriations for meeting the counties' share of the fire control costs to be set up annually by the commissioners in the county budget. (1915, c. 243, s. 4; 1925, c. 106, s. 1; 1927, c. 150, s. 3; 1935, c. 178, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 made many changes in this section. The provision for manning lookout towers and other points is new as is the latter part of the section relating to payment of expenses.

§ 6137. Powers of forest wardens to prevent and extinguish fires.—Forest wardens shall prevent and extinguish forest fires and enforce all statutes of this state now in force or that hereafter may be enacted for the protection of forests and woodlands from fire, and they shall have control and direction of all persons and apparatus while engaged in extinguishing forest fires. Any forest warden may arrest, without a warrant, any person or persons taken by him in the act of violating any of the laws for the protection of forests and woodlands, and bring such person or persons forthwith before a justice of the peace or other officer having jurisdiction, who shall proceed without delay to hear, try, and determine the matter. During a season of drouth the state forester may establish a fire patrol in any district, and in case of fire in or threatening any forest or woodland the forest warden shall attend forthwith and use all necessary means to confine and extinguish such fire. The forest warden or his deputies may summon any male resident between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years to assist in extinguishing fires, and may require the use of horses and other property needed for such purpose; any person so summoned, and who is physically able, who refuses or neglects to assist or to allow the use of horses, wagons, or other material required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be subject to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars. No action for trespass shall lie against any forest warden or person summoned by him for crossing or working upon lands of another in connection with his duties as forest warden. (1915, c. 243, s. 6; 1925, c. 106, ss. 1, 2; 1925, c. 240; 1927, c. 150, s. 4.)

A forest warden of a county is given authority by this section to appoint persons between certain ages to assist him in fighting forest fires with pain of penalty upon refusal, and a person so appointed is entitled to receive a small hourly compensation for the services so rendered, and one so appointed is an employee of the state within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, and is entitled to compensation thereunder for an injury received in the course of and arising out of his duties imposed by such appointment. Moore v. State, 200 N. C. 300, 156 S. E. 806.

§ 6138. Compensation of forest wardens.—Forest wardens shall receive compensation from the Board of Conservation and Development at a reasonable rate to be fixed by said board not to exceed the sum of thirty cents per hour for the time actually engaged in the performance of their duties; and reasonable expenses for equipment, transportation, or food supplies incurred in fighting or extinguishing any fire, according to an itemized statement to be rendered the state forester every month, and approved by him. Forest wardens shall render to the state forester a statement of the services rendered by the men employed by them or their deputy wardens, as provided in this article, within one month of the date of service, which bill shall show in detail the amount and character of the service performed, the exact duration thereof, the name of each person employed, and any other information required by the state forester. If said bill be duly approved by the state forester, it shall be paid by direction of the Board of Conservation and Development out of any funds provided for that purpose. (1915, c. 243, s. 7; 1924, c. 60; 1925, c. 106, ss. 1, 3; c. 122, s. 22.)

§ 6139. Woodland defined. — For the purposes of this article, woodland is taken to include all forest areas, both timber and cut-over land, and all second-growth stands on areas that have at one time been cultivated. (1915, c. 243, s. 11.)

§ 6140. Misdemeanor to destroy posted forestry notice.—Any person who shall maliciously or wilfully destroy, deface, remove, or disfigure any sign, poster, or warning notice, posted by order of the state forester, under the provisions of this article, or any other act which may be passed for the purpose of protecting the forests in this state from fire, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (1915, c. 243, s. 5.)

§ 6140(a). Coöperation between counties and state in forest fire protection.—The board of county commissioners of any county are hereby authorized and empowered, in their discretion, to coöperate with the Department of Conservation and Development in the protection from fire of the forests within their respective counties, and to appropriate and pay out of the funds under their control for such protection an amount not to exceed one-half of the total expended by said survey in such county during any one year for such protection: Provided, that said board of county commissioners may in addition agree with the Department of Conservation and Development to pay any part of or all the expenses incurred in extinguishing forest fires within said county after satisfying themselves that such expenses were legitimate and proper. (1921, c. 26; 1925, c. 122, s. 22.)

§ 6140(b). Instructions on forest preservation.—It shall be the duty of all district, county, township wardens, and all deputy wardens provided for in this chapter to distribute in all of the public schools and high schools of the county in which they are serving as such fire wardens all such tracts, books, periodicals and other literature that may, from time to time, be sent out to such wardens by the State and Federal forestry agencies touching or dealing with forest fires and forest preservation.

It shall be the duty of the various wardens herein mentioned under the direction of the State Forester, and the duty of the teachers of the various schools, both public and high schools, to keep posted at some conspicuous place in the various classrooms of the school buildings such appropriate bulletins and posters as may be sent out from the forestry agencies herein named for that purpose and keep the same constantly before their pupils; and said teachers and wardens shall prepare lectures or talks to be made to the pupils of the various schools on the subject of forest fires, their origin and their destructive effect on the plant life and tree life of the forests of the State, and shall be prepared to give practical instruction to their pupils from time to time and as often as they shall find it possible so to do. (1925, c. 61, s. 3.)

Art. 6. Corporations for Protection and Development of Forests

§ 6140(c). Private limited dividend corporations may be thus formed. — Three or more persons, who associate themselves by an agreement in writing for the purpose, may become a private limited dividend corporation to finance and carry out projects for the protection and development of forests and for such other related purposes as the director of the department of conservation and development shall approve, subject to all the duties, restrictions and liabilities, and possessing all the rights, powers, and privileges, of corporations organized under the general corporation laws of state of North Carolina, except where such provisions are in conflict with this article. (1933, c. 178, s. 1.)

§ 6140(d). Manner of organizing.—A corporation formed under this article shall be organized and incorporated in the manner provided for organization of corporations under the general corporation laws of state of North Carolina, except where such provisions are in conflict with this article. The certificate of organization of any such corporation shall contain a statement that it is organized under the provisions of this article and that it consents to be and shall be at all times subject to the rules, regulations and supervision of the director of the department of conservation and development, and shall set forth as or among its purposes the protection and development of forests and the purchase, acquisition, sale, conveyance and other dealing in the same and the products therefrom, subject to the rules and regulations from time to time imposed by the director of the department of conservation and development. (1933, c. 178, s. 2.)

§ 6140(e). Directors. — There shall not be less than three directors, one of whom shall always be a person designated by the director of the department of conservation and development, which one need not be a stockholder. (1933, c. 178, s. 3.)

§ 6140(f). Duties of supervision by director of department of conservation and development. — Corporations formed under this article shall be regulated by the director of the department of conservation and development in the manner provided in this article. Traveling and other expenses incurred by him in the discharge of the duties imposed upon him by this article shall be charged to, and paid by, the particular corporation or corporations on account of which such expenses are incurred. His general expenses incurred in the discharge of such duties, which cannot be fairly charged to any particular corporation or corporations, shall be charged to and paid by, all the corporations then organized and existing under this article pro-rata according to their respective stock capitalizations. The director of the department of conservation and development shall:

(a) From time to time make, amend, and repeal rules and regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this article and for the protection and development of forests subject to its jurisdiction.

(b) Order all corporations organized under this article to do such acts as may be necessary to comply with the provisions of law and the rules and regulations adopted by the director of the department of conservation and development, or to refrain from doing any acts in violation thereof.

(c) Keep informed as to the general condition of all such corporations, their capitalization and the manner in which their property is permitted, operated or managed with respect to their compliance with all provisions of law and orders of the director of the department of conservation and development.

(d) Require every such corporation to file with the director of the department of conservation and development annual reports and, if the director of the department of conservation and development shall consider it advisable, other periodic and special reports, setting forth such information as to its affairs as the director of the department of conservation and development may require. (1933, c. 178, s. 4.)

§ 6140(g). Powers of director. — The director of the department of conservation and development may

(a) Examine at any time all books, contracts, records, documents and papers of any such corporation.

(b) In his discretion prescribe uniform methods and forms of keeping accounts, records and books to be observed by such corporation, and prescribe by order accounts in which particular outlays and receipts are to be entered, charged or credited. The director of the department of conservation and development shall not, however, have authority to require any revaluation of the real property or other fixed assets of such corporations, but he shall allow proper charges for the depletion of timber due to cutting or destruction.

(c) Enforce the provisions of this article and his orders, rules and regulations thereunder by filing a petition for a writ of mandamus or application for an injunction in the superior court of the county in which the respondent corporation has its principal place of business. The final judgment in any such proceeding shall either dismiss the proceeding or direct that a writ of mandamus or an injunction, or both, issue as prayed for in the petition or in such modified or other form as the court may determine will afford appropriate relief. (1933, c. 178, s. 5.)

§ 6140(h). Provision for appeal by corporations to governor.—If any corporation organized under this article is dissatisfied with or aggrieved at any regulation, rule or order imposed upon it by the director of the department of conservation and development, or any valuation or appraisal of any of its property made by the director of the department of conservation and development, or any failure of or refusal by the director of the department of conservation and development to approve of or consent to any action which it can take only with such approval or consent, it may appeal to the governor by filing with him a claim of appeal upon which the decision of the governor shall be final. Such determination, if other than a dismissal of the appeal, shall be set forth by the governor in a written mandate to the director of the department of conservation and development, who shall abide thereby and take such action as the same may direct. (1933, c. 178, s. 6.)

§ 6140(i). Limitations as to dividends. — The shares of stock of corporations organized under this article shall have a par value and, except as provided in section 6140(k) in respect to distributions in kind upon dissolution, no dividend shall be paid thereon at a rate in excess of six per centum per annum on stock having a preference as to dividends, or eight per centum per annum on stock not having a preference as to dividends, except that any such dividends may be cumulative without interest. (1933, c. 178, s. 7.)

§ 6140(j). Issuance of securities prohibited. — No such corporation shall issue stock, bonds or other securities except for money, timberlands, or interests therein, located in the state of North Carolina or other property, actually received, or services rendered, for its use and its lawful purposes. Timberlands, or interests therein, and other property or services so accepted therefor, shall be upon a valuation approved by the director of the department of conservation and development. (1933, c. 178, s. 8.)

§ 6140(k). Limitation on bounties to stockholders.—Stockholders shall at no time receive or accept from any such corporation in repayment of their investment in its stock any sums in excess of the par value of the stock together with cumulative dividends at the rate set forth in section 6140(i) except that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to prohibit the distribution of the assets of such corporation in kind to its stockholders upon dissolution thereof. (1933, c. 178, s. 9.)

§ 6140(l). Earnings above dividend requirements payable to state. — Any earnings of such corporation in excess of the amounts necessary to pay dividends to stockholders at the rate set forth in section 6140(i) shall be paid over to the state of North Carolina prior to the dissolution of such corporation. Net income or net losses (determined in such manner as the director of the department of conservation and development shall consider properly to show such income or losses) from the sale of the capital assets of such corporation, whether such sale be upon dissolution or otherwise, shall be considered in determining the earnings of such corporation for the purposes of this section. In determining such earnings unrealized appreciation or depreciation of real estate or other fixed assets shall not be considered. (1933, c. 178, s. 10.)

§ 6140(m). Dissolution of corporation. — Any such corporation may be dissolved at any time in the manner provided by and under the provisions of the general corporation laws of the state of North Carolina, except that the court shall dismiss any petition for dissolution of any such corporation filed within twenty years of the date of its organization unless the same is accompanied by a certificate of the director of the department of conservation and development consenting to such dissolution. (1933, c. 178, s. 11.)

§ 6140(n). Cutting and sale of timber. — Any such corporation may cut and sell the timber on its lands or permit the cutting thereof, but all such cuttings shall be in accordance with the regulations, restrictions and limitations imposed by the director of the department of conservation and development, who shall impose such regulations, restrictions and limitations with respect thereto as may reasonably conform to the accepted custom and usage of good forestry and forest economy, taking into consideration the situation, nature and condition of the tract so cut or to be cut, and the financial needs of such corporation from time to time. (1933, c. 178, s. 12.)

§ 6140(o). Corporation may not sell or convey without consent of director, or pay higher interest rate than 6%.—No such corporation shall:

(a) Sell, assign or convey any real property owned by it or any right, title or interest therein, except upon notice to the director of the department of conservation and development of the terms of such sale, transfer or assignment, and unless the director of the department of conservation and development shall consent thereto, and if the director of the department of conservation and development shall require it, unless the purchaser thereof shall agree that such real estate shall remain subject to the regulations and supervision of the director of the department of conservation and development for such period as the latter may require;

(b) Pay interest returns on its mortgage indebtedness at a higher rate than six per centum per annum without the consent of the director of the department of conservation and development.

(c) Mortgage any real property without first having obtained the consent of the director of the department of conservation and development. (1933, c. 178, s. 13.)

§ 6140(p). Power to borrow money limited. — Any such corporation formed under this article may, subject to the approval of the director of the department of conservation and development, borrow funds and secure their payment thereof by note or notes and mortgage or by the issue of bonds under a trust indenture. The notes or bonds so issued and secured and the mortgage or trust indenture relating thereto may contain such clauses and provisions as shall be approved by the director of the department of conservation and development, including the right to enter into possession in case of default; but the operations of the mortgagee or receiver entering in such event or of the purchaser of the property upon foreclosure shall be subject to the regulations of the director of the department of conservation and development for such period as the mortgage or trust indenture may specify. (1933, c. 178, s. 14.)

§ 6140(q). Director to approve development of forests. — No project for the protection and development of forests proposed by any such corporation shall be undertaken without the approval of the director of the department of conservation and development, and such approval shall not be given unless:

(1) The director of the department of conservation and development shall have received a statement duly executed and acknowledged on behalf of the corporation proposing such project, in such adequate detail as the director of the department of conservation and development shall require of the activities to be included in the project, such statement to set forth the proposals as to (a) fire prevention and protection, (b) protection against insects and tree diseases, (c) protection against damage by livestock and game, (d) means, methods and rate of, and restrictions upon cutting, and other utilization of the forests, and (e) planting and spacing of trees.

(2) There shall be submitted to the director of the department of conservation and development a financial plan satisfactory to him setting forth in detail the amount of money needed to carry out the entire project, and how such sums are to be allocated, with adequate assurances to the director of the department of conservation and development as to where such funds are to be secured.

(3) The director of the department of conservation and development shall be satisfied that the project gives reasonable assurance of the operation of the forests involved on a sustained yield basis except in so far as the director of the department of conservation and development shall consider the same impracticable.

(4) The corporation proposing such project shall agree that the project shall at all times be subject to the supervision and inspection of the director of the department of conservation and development, and that it will at all times comply with such rules and regulations concerning the project as the director of the department of conservation and development shall from time to time impose. (1933, c. 178, s. 15.)

§ 6140(r). Application of corporate income. — The gross annual income of any such corporation, where received from sales of timber, timber operations, stumpage permits or other sources shall be applied as follows: first, to the payment of all fixed charges, and all operating and maintenance charges and expenses including taxes, assessments, insurances, amortization charges in amounts approved by the director of the department of conservation and development to amortize mortgage or other indebtedness and reserves essential to operation, second, to surplus and/or to the payment of dividends not exceeding the maximum fixed by this act, third, the balance, if any, in reduction of debts. (1933, c. 178, s. 16.)

§ 6140(s). Reorganization of corporations. — Reorganization of corporations organized under this article shall be subject to the supervision of the director of the department of conservation and development and no such reorganization shall be had without the authorization of the director of the department of conservation and development. (1933, c. 178, s. 17.)

CHAPTER 102
HISTORICAL COMMISSION

Art. 1. Creation and General Powers

§ 6141. Appointment; term of office; compensation.—The historical commission shall consist of not more than five persons, of whom three shall constitute a quorum. They shall be appointed by the governor on the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and seven, who shall designate one member to serve for a term of two years, two members to serve for a term of four years, and two members to serve for a term of six years from the date of their appointments, and their successors shall be appointed by the governor and shall serve for a term of six years and until their successors are appointed and qualified. In case of a vacancy in any of the above terms the persons appointed to fill such vacancies shall be appointed only for the unexpired term. They shall serve without salary, but shall be allowed their actual expenses when attending to their official duties, to be paid out of any funds hereinafter appropriated for the maintenance of the commission: Provided, that such expenses shall not be allowed for more than four meetings annually nor for more than four days at each meeting. (Rev., s. 4539; 1903, c. 767, s. 2; 1907, c. 714, s. 1.)

§ 6142. Duties of commission.—It is the duty of the commission to have collected from the files of old newspapers, court records, church records, private collections, and elsewhere, historical data pertaining to the history of North Carolina and the territory included therein from the earliest times; to have such material properly edited, published by the state printer as other state printing, and distributed under the direction of the commission; to care for the proper marking and preservation of battlefields, houses, and other places celebrated in the history of the state; to diffuse knowledge in reference to the history and resources of North Carolina; to encourage the study of North Carolina history in the schools of the state, and to stimulate and encourage historical investigation and research among the people of the state; to make a biennial report of its receipts and disbursements, its work and needs, to the governor, to be by him transmitted to the general assembly. (Rev., ss. 4540, 4541; 1907, c. 714, s. 2; 1911, c. 211, s. 6; 1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

§ 6142(a). Markers on highway; coöperation of highway commission. — The State Highway Commission is hereby authorized to co-operate with the North Carolina Historical Commission in marking historic spots along the State highways. (1927, c. 226, s. 1.)

§ 6143. Powers of commission. — The commission shall have power to adopt a seal for use and official business; to adopt rules for its own government not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter; to fix a reasonable price for its publications and to devote the revenue arising from such sales to extending the work of the commission; to employ a secretary; to control the expenditure of such funds as may be appropriated for its maintenance: Provided, that at least one copy of its publications shall be furnished free of charge to any public school library or public library in North Carolina, state officers, and members of the general assembly making application for the same through its properly constituted authorities.

The historical commission shall have power to accept gifts, bequests, and endowments for purposes which fall within the general legal powers and duties of the commission. The funds, if given as an endowment, shall be invested in such securities as those in which the state sinking fund may be invested. All such gifts and bequests and all of the proceeds of such invested endowments shall be used by the commission for carrying out the purposes for which the gift, bequest, or endowment was made. (1907, c. 714, s. 3; 1935, c. 40.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last paragraph of this section.

§ 6144. Office provided.—The second floor of the state administration building shall be occupied by the North Carolina historical commission. (1913, c. 99, s. 1.)

§ 6145. Preservation of documents; copies furnished.—Any state, county, town, or other public official in custody of public documents is hereby authorized and empowered in his discretion to turn over to the commission for preservation any official books, records, documents, original papers, newspapers, files, printed books or portraits, not in current use in his office, and the commission shall provide for their permanent preservation, and when so surrendered copies therefrom shall be made and certified under the seal of the commission upon application of any person, which certification shall have the same force and effect as if made by the officer originally in charge of them, and the commission shall charge for such copies the same fees as such officer is by law allowed to charge, to be collected in advance. (1907, c. 714, s. 5.)

§ 6146. Repealed: (1925, c. 275, s. 5.)

Art. 2. Legislative Reference Library

§ 6147. Appointment and duties of librarian.—The North Carolina historical commission is authorized and required to appoint a properly qualified person to be known as a legislative reference librarian, whose duty it shall be to collect, tabulate, annotate, and digest information for the use of members and committees of the general assembly, and other officials of the state and of the various counties and cities included therein, upon all questions of state, county, and municipal legislation; to make references and analytical comparisons of legislation upon similar questions in other states and nations; and to have at hand for the use of the members of the general assembly the laws of other states and nations as well as those of North Carolina, and such other books, papers, and articles as may throw light upon questions of consideration. It shall be his duty also to keep the compilations of the public laws of the state revised to date.

It shall also be the duty of the librarian to classify and arrange by proper indexes, so as to make them accessible, all public bills relating to the aforesaid matters heretofore introduced in the general assembly, and he shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by the North Carolina historical commission. He shall also, upon request by members of the general assembly, secure all available information on any particular subject named. (1915, c. 202, s. 1.)

§ 6148. Reports and publications for exchange.—The several departments of the state government shall, upon request of the historical commission, supply the commission with such copies of their reports and other publications as may be necessary to effect exchanges with other states for their publications of a similar character, for use of the legislative reference library. (1915, c. 202, s. 2.)

§ 6149. Reports and bulletins printed.—The reports, bulletins, and other publications of the legislative reference librarian shall be printed under the direction of the historical commission as other state printing. (1915, c. 202, s. 2.)

§ 6150. Repealed: (1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

§ 6150(a). Legislative reference librarian transferred to attorney-general's department; duties as assistant.—The department and office of the legislative reference librarian heretofore existing as a part of the historical commission shall be and the same is hereby transferred to the department of the attorney-general with all the duties and functions prescribed by section six thousand one hundred and forty-seven (6147) of the consolidated statutes.

In addition to the duties prescribed by section six thousand one hundred and forty-seven (6147) of the consolidated statutes for the legislative reference librarian, the said officer shall act as assistant in the office of the attorney-general and in addition to the duties required by section six thousand one hundred and forty-seven (6147) of the consolidated statutes, shall render to the attorney-general such assistance as he may be able to give in the conduct and administration of the office and duties of the said attorney-general, and shall perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the attorney-general consistent with and not to interfere with the duties now required of him by law. (1933, c. 21, ss. 1, 2.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 251.

CHAPTER 103

HOSPITALS FOR THE INSANE

Art. 1. Organization and Management

§ 6151. Incorporation and names. — The hospital for the insane, located near Morganton, shall be and remain a corporation under this name: The State Hospital at Morganton. The hospital for the insane, located near Raleigh, shall be and remain a corporation under this name: The State Hospital at Raleigh. The hospital for the insane, located near Goldsboro, shall be and remain a corporation under this name: The State Hospital at Goldsboro. Under their respective names each corporation is invested with all the property and rights heretofore held by each, under whatsoever name called or incorporated, and all other corporate names are hereby abolished. Hereafter in this chapter, when the above names are used, they shall be deemed to relate back to and include the corporation under whatsoever name it might heretofore have had. (Rev., s. 4542; Code, ss. 2227, 2240; 1899, c. 1, s. 1.)

§ 6152. Power to acquire and hold property.—The state hospital at Morganton, and the state hospital at Raleigh, and the state hospital at Goldsboro, may each acquire and hold, for the purpose of its institution, real and personal property, by devise, bequest, or by any manner of gift, purchase, or conveyance whatsoever. (Rev., s. 4543; 1899, c. 1, s. 2.)

§ 6153. Division of territory; Goldsboro for colored insane.—The state hospital at Morganton and the state hospital at Raleigh shall be exclusively for the accommodation, maintenance, care and treatment of the white insane of this state, and the state hospital at Goldsboro shall be exclusively for the accommodation, maintenance, care and treatment of the colored insane and inebriates of this state. The line heretofore agreed upon by the directors of the state hospital at Morganton and the state hospital at Raleigh shall be the line of division between the territories of the said hospitals, and white insane persons and inebriates settled in counties west of said line shall be admitted only into the state hospital at Morganton, and white insane persons and inebriates settled in counties to the east of said line shall be admitted only into the state hospital at Raleigh. The board of directors hereinafter provided for may change said line from time to time whenever in their opinion such change may be proper, and they may transfer patients from one hospital to the other when such transfer may be deemed advantageous. That portion of the state which is or may hereafter be west of said division line shall be known as the western hospital district, and that portion of the state which is or may hereafter be east of said line shall be known as the eastern hospital district. (Rev., s. 4544; 1899, c. 1, ss. 3, 4; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws, 1929, c. 265 this section is repealed, insofar as it conflicts therewith. See §§ 6153(a), 6153(b).

§ 6153(a). Same; Raleigh and Morganton for white insane.—The state hospital at Raleigh and the state hospital at Morganton shall be exclusively for the accommodation, maintenance, care and treatment of the white insane of the state, and the state hospital at Goldsboro shall be exclusively for the accommodation, maintenance, care and treatment of the colored insane, epileptics, feebleminded and inebriates of the state. The line heretofore agreed upon by the directors of the state hospital at Raleigh and the state hospital at Morganton shall be the line of division between the territories of said hospitals, and white insane persons settled in counties east of said line shall be admitted to the state hospital at Raleigh, and white insane persons settled in counties west of said line shall be admitted to the state hospital at Morganton; epileptics shall be admitted as now provided by law. White inebriates shall be admitted to the state hospital at Raleigh. (1929, c. 265, s. 1; 1933, c. 342, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 342, places epileptic and feebleminded under the jurisdiction of the State Hospital at Goldsboro.

§ 6153(b). Same—Change of line.—A committee made up of two members, selected by the respective boards, from each Board of Directors of the State Hospital at Raleigh and the State Hospital at Morganton and the Governor may change said line from time to time whenever in their opinion such damage may be desirable and proper. The committee, or the Governor, may have patients transferred from and/or to the State Hospital at Raleigh and the State Hospital at Morganton when such transfer may be deemed advantageous. (1929, c. 265, s. 2.)

§ 6154. Cherokee Indians of Robeson county and Croatan Indians of other counties.—All the insane and inebriate Cherokee indians of Robeson county, and all the insane and inebriate Croatan indians of the other counties of the state, shall be cared for in the hospital for the insane at Raleigh in wards separate and apart from the white patients in said hospital, and all such Cherokee indians of Robeson county and Croatan indians of the other counties of the state shall be cared for and receive the same treatment as other patients in said hospital receive. (1919, c. 211.)

§ 6155. Epileptics cared for at Raleigh. — Whenever it becomes necessary for any white person of this state, afflicted with the disease known as epilepsy, to be confined or to receive hospital treatment, such person shall be accommodated, maintained, cared for, and treated at the state hospital at Raleigh. Such epileptics shall be committed by the clerks of the superior courts of the several counties to the state hospital at Raleigh in the manner now provided by law for the commitment of insane persons to the several hospitals for the insane; and when such persons shall be committed it shall be the duty of the superintendent of the state hospital at Raleigh, and he is required, to receive such persons and care for, maintain, and treat them at the hospital at Raleigh, if the superintendent shall find such persons to be afflicted to such extent as properly to become a public charge: Provided, that any person so committed who is able to pay shall be charged actual cost of maintenance.

All epileptics confined, cared for, and maintained at the state hospital at Morganton shall be transferred to the state hospital at Raleigh. (1909, c. 910, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6159(a). Management of certain charitable institutions by boards of trustees; appointment; quorum; term of office.—Each of the following charitable institutions of the State, to wit: The State Hospital at Morganton; the State Hospital at Raleigh; the State Hospital at Goldsboro, and the Caswell Training School at Kinston shall be under the management of a board of nine (9) directors or trustees to be appointed by the Governor, no two (2) of whom shall be residents of the same county. Within thirty days from March 10, 1925, the Governor shall appoint five (5) directors and within six months from March 10, 1925, the Governor shall appoint four (4) directors. At the time of making the appointment, the Governor shall designate which members of the present board are to be succeeded by his appointees. The term of office of said directors or trustees shall be four years from the date of appointment. All vacancies shall be filled by the Governor. The Governor shall transmit to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly the names of the persons appointed by him for confirmation. Five directors shall constitute a quorum, except when three are by law empowered to act for special purposes. (1921, c. 183, s. 2; 1925, c. 306, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—The 1925 amendment revised this section. Formerly the appointment was by and with the consent of the senators elect.

The directors were divided into three classes appointed at intervals of two years, for a term of six years, prior to the Act of 1925. They are all appointed for four years now and are appointed during the same year. For removal of the officers provided for in this section see section 5912(h).

For additional directors, see sections 5896, 6159.

Consent of Senate to Fill Unexpired as Well as Full Terms.—It was the design and purpose of the Legislature that the consent and approval of the Senate, as stated, be required for a valid appointment by the Governor to fill unexpired terms as well as full terms, and the sole power of appointment of the Governor is derived under section 7636, par. 3, to fill vacancies when the Senate was not in session, and until it met and concurred in his appointment. Boynton v. Heartt, 158 N. C. 488, 74 S. E. 470, cited and distinguished; State Prison v. Day, 124 N. C. 362, 32 S. E. 748, overruled. State v. Croom, 167 N. C. 223, 83 S. E. 354.

§ 6159(b). Powers and duties; former boards.—Wherever in any of the sections of this chapter, and in the sections under article twelve, chapter ninety-six of the Consolidated Statutes, the said board of directors or board of trustees is referred to, it shall be construed that the board of trustees of each of said institutions herein in the preceding section mentioned, and that all the powers and duties imposed upon the consolidated boards of directors of the several respective institutions herein in the preceding section mentioned shall be performed and discharged as to each of the institutions by the separate boards appointed for said institutions, and the said board shall be held responsible for the management of the said institution and the disbursement of appropriations made for the maintenance and permanent enlargement and repairs of the said institution, and each of the said boards shall make annual reports to the governor of the state, and oftener if called for by him, of the condition of the said institution, and shall make biennial reports to the governor, to be transmitted by him to the general assembly of the state, of all moneys received and disbursed by said institution. Each of the boards of directors of the several institutions shall file with the governor, at least once every two months, a statement showing prices paid by the said institution for all classes of articles purchased by the said institution, and from whom purchased. (1921, c. 183, s. 3.)

§ 6159(c). Building committee; selection; duties.—It shall be the duty of each of the boards of directors or trustees of the institutions in the two preceding sections mentioned to select and appoint from their number a building committee, who shall be specially charged with the duty of the supervision of the buildings to be built or repaired from appropriations made to said institutions by the general assembly of this state. (1921, c. 183, s. 4.)

An architect selected by the building committee under the authority conferred by this section, and who is to bear all the expenses incidental to carrying out his work, being paid on the basis of a percentage of the moneys expended, is an independent contractor and not a state employee. Underwood v. Com'r of Internal Revenue, 56 F. (2d) 67.

§ 6160. A garden provided for the executive mansion.—The board of directors is authorized and directed to set apart two acres of land belonging to the state hospital at Raleigh to be used as a garden for the executive mansion. They are further authorized to have such garden cultivated, the actual expense of cultivation to be paid by the governor. (1917, c. 171.)

§ 6161. Meetings of directors.—The board of directors shall convene at each of the several hospitals herein named during the month of April in each year, at a time to be fixed by such board and at such other times as they shall appoint, and investigate the administration of its affairs, and report on the same to the general assembly, with such remarks and recommendations as to them shall seem expedient. (Rev., s. 4550; 1899, c. 1, s. 8; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6162. By-laws and rules made by directors.—The board of directors shall make all such by-laws and regulations for the government of these institutions as shall be necessary, among which regulations shall be such as shall make the institutions as nearly self-supporting as is consistent with the purpose of their creation. (Rev., s. 4551; 1899, c. 1, s. 14; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

This section declares the policy of the State with respect to the operation of the State Hospital for the Insane at Raleigh as well as for the operation of similar institutions. State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 703, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 6163. Transfer of patients from one hospital to another; transfer of funds.—The board of directors are authorized to make such rules and regulations as in their discretion may seem best for the transfer of patients from one state hospital for the insane to another state hospital for the insane; and they are further authorized to transfer from one hospital for the insane to another hospital for the insane any funds appropriated for permanent improvement or maintenance if in their discretion and judgment it may become advisable or necessary. (1919, c. 330.)

§ 6163(a.) Delivery of inmates to Federal agencies.—The directors and superintendents of the State Hospital at Raleigh and the State Hospital at Goldsboro are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to transfer and deliver to the United States Veterans Bureau or other appropriate department or bureau of the United States Government or to the representatives or agents of such Veterans Bureau or other department or bureau of said government, all insane inmates or prisoners, being soldiers or sailors who have served at any time in any branch of the military or naval forces of the United States, who are now in or may hereafter be committed to said hospitals. And said directors and superintendents shall take from such Veterans Bureau or other department or bureau of said government, or its duly accredited representatives or agents, receipts of acknowledgments showing the delivery of such inmates or prisoners so transferred to the United States Government for the purpose of treatment under the laws and regulations of said government with respect to insane persons who have served in the military or naval forces of the United States. (1925, c. 51, s. 1.)

Cited in State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 702, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 6163(b). Transfer of inmates to general wards.—The directors and superintendents of the State Hospital at Raleigh and the State Hospital at Goldsboro are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to transfer from the wards in said hospitals set apart for the dangerous insane to the general wards any of the inmates or prisoners therein who, in the judgment of said directors and superintendents, have reached such a state of improvement in their mental condition as to justify such transfer. (1925, c. 51, s. 2.)

§ 6164. Board may make ordinances; penalties for violation.—Authority is hereby conferred upon the board of directors of the state hospitals for the insane and upon the board of directors and superintendent of the North Carolina school for the deaf to enact ordinances for the regulation and deportment of persons in the buildings and grounds of the institutions, and for the suppression of nuisances and disorder, and when adopted the ordinances shall be recorded in the proceedings of the said board and printed, and a copy posted at the entrance to the grounds, and not less than three copies posted at different places within the grounds, and when so adopted and printed, and posted up, the ordinances shall be binding upon all persons coming within the grounds. Such boards are empowered and directed to prescribe penalties for the violation of each section of the ordinances so adopted, and if any person violates a section of the ordinances, the penalty prescribed may be recovered in a civil action instituted in the name of the hospital against the person offending, before any justice of the peace in the county in which the hospital is situated, and the sum so recovered shall be used as the board of directors shall direct. Violation of any ordinances so made shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., ss. 3695, 4559; 1899, c. 1, s. 54; 1901, c. 627; 1915, c. 14, s. 2; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6165. Executive committee appointed.—The board of directors shall, out of their number, appoint three members as an executive committee, who shall hold their respective offices as such for one year, and shall have such powers and be subject to such duties as the board of directors may delegate to them. (Rev., s. 4548; 1899, c. 1, s. 6; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6166. State treasurer to act as treasurer; payment of funds.—The state treasurer shall be treasurer of said corporations. The state treasurer shall keep all accounts of the institutions, and shall pay out all moneys upon the warrant of the respective superintendents, counter-signed by two members of the board of directors, under such rules and regulations as the board of directors may establish. (Rev., s. 4553; 1899, c. 1, s. 11; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

State treasurer is ex officio treasurer of certain institutions, see sec. 7689.

§ 6167. Application of funds belonging to hospitals.—All moneys and proceeds of property given to any hospitals, and all moneys arising from the sale of any real estate which may be owned by such hospital, shall be paid into the state treasury, and all donations in which there shall be special directions for their application shall be kept as a distinct fund and faithfully applied, as the donor may have directed; and the same hospital shall be supported by appropriations from the state treasury. But the proceeds arising from the sale of personal property belonging to a hospital, the board paid by private patients, rentals from real estate, and money from any other sources, except the sale of real estate, shall remain with the hospital and be used as the board of directors may determine. An account of the proceeds of all such income and its expenditure shall be carefully kept and published in the report to the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4552; 1899, c. 1, s. 34.)

§ 6168. Board of charities and general assembly, visitors; superintendent reports, to whom. — The state board of charities and public welfare and the members of the general assembly shall be ex officio visitors of all hospitals for the insane. It shall be the duty of the state board of charities to visit the hospitals from time to time, as they may deem expedient, to examine into their condition, and make report thereon to the general assembly, with such suggestions and remarks as they may think proper. (Rev., s. 4554; 1899, c. 1, s. 37; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6169. Fiscal year.—The close of the fiscal year shall be the thirtieth day of November in each year, and all accounts and estimates shall be made with reference thereto. (Rev., s. 4558; 1899, c. 1, s. 38.)

§ 6170. Court may remit penalties given under this chapter. — Whenever suit shall be brought against a sheriff or board of county commissioners for the recovery of a penalty prescribed for doing an act forbidden, or failure to do any act required by this chapter, the judge or justice of the peace before whom the action is tried may order so much of said penalty to be remitted as in his judgment should be remitted to meet the ends of justice, and he shall enter up judgment for the amount of the penalty, to be discharged by the payment of such a sum as he may think just, and the costs of the action. In fixing the amount to be remitted (if the judge or justice should think the remission of any part proper), he shall consider the costs and expenses that the plaintiff may have been put to, and he should also consider the conduct of the defendants; and there ought to be no remission when the act of the defendants is wanton or contumacious, or is grossly negligent. (Rev., s. 4557; 1899, c. 1, s. 57.)

§ 6171. Assisting inmates to escape misdemeanor.—If any person shall assist any inmate of any state hospital to escape therefrom he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3694; 1899, c. 1, s. 53.)

Art. 2. Officers and Employees

§ 6172. Directors and superintendent not personally liable.—No director or superintendent of any state hospital shall be personally liable for any act or thing done under or in pursuance of any of the provisions of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4560; 1899, c. 1, s. 31.)

Liability of Directors, etc., for Wrongful Acts of Discharged Patient.—The directors and superintendent of a hospital for the insane acting under the provisions of section 6214, in discharging or releasing a patient therefrom, cannot be held responsible in damages by the subsequent killing by such patient of another under a charge of negligence. Bollinger v. Rader, 151 N. C. 383, 66 S. E. 314.

§ 6173. Superintendent; appointment, term of office, qualifications, and removal.—The board of directors shall appoint a superintendent of each of said institutions and prescribe his duties. He shall be a skilled physician, educated to his profession, of good moral character, of prompt business habits, and of kindly disposition. He shall hold office for six years from and after his appointment, unless sooner removed by said board, who may, for infidelity to his trust, gross immorality, or incompetency to discharge the duties of his office, fully proved and declared, and the proofs thereof recorded in the book of their proceedings, remove him and appoint another in his place. (Rev., s. 4561; 1899, c. 1, s. 69; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6174. Powers of superintendent.—The superintendent of each hospital shall exercise exclusive direction and control over all the subordinate officers and employees engaged in the service and labors of his hospital, and he may discharge such as have been employed by himself or his predecessors, and shall report to the board of directors the misconduct of all subordinates. (Rev., s. 4562; 1899, c. 1, s. 13; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6175. Superintendent to notify sheriff of escape.—Any superintendent may notify the sheriff within whose county any person sent from his hospital on probation, or escaped therefrom, may be found, and thereupon it shall be the duty of such sheriff forthwith to take such person and return him to such hospital at the expense of the county of the settlement of the patient. This section shall apply in cases of escape from Caswell training school. (Rev., s. 4563; 1899, c. 1, s. 27; 1927, c. 114.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1927 the superintendent of Caswell Training School may require the sheriff of the county to apprehend and return fugitives from that school.

§ 6176. Assistant physicians; appointment and removal.—Each superintendent shall appoint one or more assistant physicians, the number to be fixed by the board of directors. The superintendent shall have the power to prescribe the duties of each assistant physician, and may suspend him, or any employee, for thirty days, for insubordination, immorality, neglect of duty, or incompetence, and, by and with the advice of the executive committee of the board of directors, may remove such assistant physician, or employee, for like cause. Each assistant physician shall hold his office for two years, unless removed for cause, which shall be specified and the action of the superintendent and executive committee reported to the board of directors, which shall record the same on its minutes. (Rev., s. 4564; 1899, c. 1, s. 10.)

§ 6177. Steward and matron; appointment and removal.—Each superintendent shall appoint a steward, and if he shall think proper to do so, a matron also, who shall hold their places for one year, unless sooner suspended or removed by the superintendent or board of directors for good cause, in which case their successors shall be appointed for the unexpired terms of those removed. The method of procedure for the suspension and removal of assistant physicians, contained in the preceding section, shall be followed in the suspension and removal of any steward or matron. (Rev., s. 4565; 1899, c. 1, s. 11.)

§ 6178. Steward to give bond.—The steward, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall execute to the hospital a bond in the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, with sureties, to be approved by the board of directors, conditioned for the faithful administration of his duties and the proper accounting for and disbursement of all money and property coming into his hands. (Rev., s. 4566; 1899, c. 1, s. 11.)

§ 6179. Salaries of employees fixed by directors.—The board of directors shall fix the salaries and compensation of the superintendent, and the officers and employees whose services may be necessary for the management of the hospitals under charge of said board. The salaries shall not be diminished during the term of the incumbents. The salary of the superintendent shall be a sum certain, without other compensation or allowance, except such rooms in the hospital for the use of his family, and such articles of food produced on the premises, as said board of directors may permit. (Rev., s. 4567; 1899, c. 1, s. 12; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6180. Directors to keep record of proceedings; clerk.—The board of directors shall cause all their proceedings to be faithfully and carefully written and recorded in books, and to this end may employ a clerk, and pay him a reasonable compensation for his services. The books shall, at all times, be open to the inspection of the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4568; 1899, c. 1, s. 36; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6181. Superintendent may appoint employees as policemen, who may arrest without warrant.—The superintendent of each hospital, the superintendent of the North Carolina School for the deaf and dumb, and the superintendent of the Caswell training school, in each hereby empowered to appoint such number of discreet employees of his hospital or school as he may think proper, special policemen, and within the grounds of such hospital or school the said employees so appointed policemen shall have all the powers of policemen of incorporated towns. They shall have the right to arrest without warrant persons committing violations of the state law or the ordinances of that hospital or school, in their presence, and within the grounds of their hospital or school, and carry the offenders before some justice of the peace for trial. The justice of the peace shall issue a warrant and proceed as in other criminal cases before him. (Rev., s. 4569; 1899, c. 1, s. 55; 1901, c. 627; 1921, c. 207.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1921 the superintendent of Caswell training school also was authorized to appoint persons whose appointment is authorized by this section, to act within the grounds of his school.

§ 6182. Oath of special policemen. — Before exercising the duties of a special policeman, the employees appointed, as in the preceding section, shall take an oath of office before some justice of the peace of the county, or other officer empowered to administer oaths, and the same shall be filed with the records of the board of directors. The oath of office shall be as follows:

State of North Carolina, ... County.

I, ..., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly execute the duties of office of special policeman in and for the state hospital at ....., according to the best of my skill and ability and according to law; and that I will use my best endeavors to enforce all the ordinances of said hospital, and to suppress nuisances, and to suppress and prevent disorderly conduct within said grounds. So help me, God.

Sworn and subscribed before me, this ..... day of ....., A. D. ..... (Rev., s. 4570; 1899, c. 1, s. 56; 1901, c. 627.)

§ 6183. Volunteer firemen among employees rewarded.—The board of directors shall have power to provide benefits, to be paid to any employee of the hospital who shall be injured while discharging the duties of a volunteer fireman. And the board may inaugurate a system by which a fund is raised to provide suitable benefits for said firemen, and may contribute from the funds of the hospital for that purpose. The volunteer firemen at the various hospitals shall not share in the state firemen's relief fund. (Rev., s. 4571; 1899, c. 1, s. 59; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

Art. 3. Admission of Patients

§ 6184. Persons adjudged insane entitled to immediate admission. — Any resident of North Carolina who has been legally adjudged to be insane by the clerk of the court or other properly authorized person, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall be entitled to immediate admission into the state hospital at Morganton, the state hospital at Raleigh, or the state hospital at Goldsboro, in accordance with the principles of division as to race and residence prescribed in this chapter; and no resident of the state who has been legally adjudged insane and who has been presented to the superintendent of the proper state hospital for the insane as provided in this article shall be refused admission thereto; but nothing in this article shall be construed to affect the discharge or transfer of patients as now provided by law. (1919, c. 326, ss. 1, 6.)

§ 6185. Idiots not admitted.—No idiot shall be admitted to any hospital, and for the purpose of this chapter an idiot is defined to be a person born deficient in mind, with the exception that the state hospital at Goldsboro shall admit feebleminded negroes, under such rules and regulations as the hospital board and the superintendent may prescribe, in such numbers as the capacity and the appropriations to the hospital will permit. (Rev., s. 4572; 1899, c. 1, s. 18; 1933, c. 342, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 342, added the exception appearing at the end of this section.

§ 6186. Priority given to indigent patients; payment required from others.—In the admission of patients to any state hospital, priority of admission shall be given to the indigent insane; but the board of directors may regulate admissions, having in view the curability of patients, the welfare of the institutions, and the exigencies of particular cases. The board of directors may, if there be sufficient room, admit other than indigent patients upon the payment of proper compensation. If any inmate of any state hospital shall require private apartments, extras, or private nurses, the directors, if practicable, shall provide the same at a fair price to be paid by such patient. Upon the death of any nonindigent patient, the state hospital may maintain an action against his estate for his support and maintenance for a period of five years prior to his death. (Rev., s. 4573; 1899, c. 1, s. 44; 1915, c. 254; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

The term "indigent insane," within the meaning of this section, includes all those who have no income over and above what is sufficient to support those who may be legally dependent on the estate. In re Hybart, 119 N. C. 359, 25 S. E. 963.

Free Admission of Person Able to Pay Expenses.—Under this section an insane person able to pay expenses at the state hospital is not entitled to free admission. Hospital v. Fountain, 128 N. C. 23, 38 S. E. 34.

Financial Status at Time of Admission Need Not Be Determined.—It is not required under this section that the directors of the hospital finally determine the status of a patient at the time of his admission, the financial status of the patient being subject to the vicissitudes of fortune. State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 6187. Only bona fide residents admitted to hospitals.—No clerk of the court or justice of the peace shall commit to a hospital any person who is not a bona fide citizen and resident of this state; and no person who shall have removed into this state from another state while insane shall be deemed a resident or citizen of this state, and no length of residence in this state of a person who was insane at the time he moved into this state shall be sufficient to make that person or citizen or resident of North Carolina within the meaning of this chapter. If any clerk or justice of the peace shall knowingly commit to any hospital a person who is not a bona fide citizen and resident of the state, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (Rev., ss. 3591, 4587; 1899, c. 1, s. 18.)

§ 6188. Findings as to residence in examination reported.—In every examination of an alleged insane person it shall be the duty of the clerk or justice of the peace to particularly inquire whether the alleged insane person is a resident of this state, as hereinbefore set forth, and he shall state his findings upon the subject in his report to the superintendent of the hospital. If it is not possible to ascertain the legal residence of the alleged insane person, and the clerk or justice of the peace shall be of the opinion that the insane person is a resident of this state, within the meaning of this law, he shall state that he was unable to ascertain the legal residence of the insane person, and shall commit him to the hospital of his district. (Rev., s. 4588; 1899, c. 1, s. 18.)

§ 6189. Settlement of patient determined. — For the purposes of this chapter the settlement of every person admitted to a state hospital as insane shall be in the county where the actual place of residence at his admission may be situated, when such settlement comes in question, but no person can have a settlement in any county in this state unless he is a bona fide citizen and resident of this state, and was so before mental disease became manifest. (Rev., s. 4574; 1899, c. 1, s. 28.)

§ 6190. Affidavit of insanity to procure admission.—For admission into a state hospital the following proceedings shall be had: Some respectable citizen, residing in the county of the alleged insane person, shall make before and file with the clerk of the superior court of the county an affidavit in writing, which shall be substantially in the following form:

State of North Carolina, ...County.

The undersigned, residing in said county, makes oath that he has carefully examined ..... and believes him to be an insane person, and to be, in the opinion of the undersigned, a fit subject for admission into a hospital for the insane.

Dated .... day of ..... A. D. ....

....., Affiant.

Sworn and subscribed before me.

.....,

Clerk Superior Court.

(Rev., s. 4575; 1899, c. 1, s. 15.)

§ 6191. Clerk to issue order for examination.—Whereupon, unless the person in whose care or custody the insane person is will agree to bring him before the clerk without a warrant, or unless the clerk shall be of the opinion that it will be injurious to the insane person to be brought before him, the clerk shall issue a precept, directed to the sheriff or other lawful officer, substantially in the following form:

State of North Carolina,

To the Sheriff or Other Lawful Officer of .... County—Greeting:

Whereas information, on oath, has been laid before me that ..... is insane, you are hereby commanded to bring him before me within the next ten days, that necessary proceedings may be had thereon.

Given under my hand, ... day of ....., A. D. .....

.....,

Clerk Superior Court.

(Rev., s. 4576; 1899, c. 1, s. 15.)

§ 6192. Clerk and physician to make examination.—If the alleged insane person be confined in jail otherwise than for crime, the sheriff shall remove him from the jail upon the order from the clerk. Upon the bringing of the alleged insane person before the clerk by his friends, or upon the return of the precept with the body of the insane person, the clerk shall call to his assistance the county physician of the county, or some other licensed and reputable physician, resident of this state, and shall proceed to examine into the condition of mind of the alleged insane person. He shall take testimony of at least one licensed physician, resident of this state, and, if possible, a member of the family, or some friend or person acquainted with the alleged insane person, who has had opportunities to observe him after such insanity is said to have begun. (Rev., s. 4577; 1899, c. 1, s. 15.)

§ 6193. Clerk may discharge person, require bond, or commit to hospital.—If the clerk, after his examination of the alleged insane person, and the hearing of the testimony as aforesaid, shall decide that such person is sane, he shall forthwith discharge him. If he shall decide that such person is insane, and some friend, as he may do, will not become bound with good security in an amount to be fixed by the clerk to retain him from committing injuries, and to keep, support, and take care of him until the cause for confinement shall cease, he shall direct such insane person to be removed to the proper hospital as a patient, and to that end he shall transmit to the proper board of directors the examination of the witnesses, and the statement of such facts as he shall deem pertinent to the subject-matter. If the clerk (or justice under section six thousand one hundred and ninety-five) is satisfied, after the examination herein provided, that the person is insane or an inebriate within the definition of section 2304(a), he shall make the following order and commitment to the proper state hospital in substantially the following form:

State of North Carolina .....County.

State of North Carolina,

To the State Hospital at ..... N. C.—Greeting:

Whereas it has been made satisfactorily to appear to me, ..., Clerk of the Superior Court of said county, after a proper examination of.... ....., a person having his legal settlement in this county, that he is insane, epileptic or addicted to the use of drugs or alcohol (draw a pen through terms not applying), that he is a bona fide citizen of the state, and that he has a legal settlement in said county and is a fit subject for care and treatment in the state hospital at ....., and that he, being at large, is injurious to himself and disadvantageous if not dangerous to the community:

These are, therefore, to command you to receive said ..... into the State Hospital at .. .... for care and treatment as provided for by the laws of this State.

Given under my hand and official seal, this.... day of ....., 19....

.....

Clerk Superior Court .... County.

If the proceedings are to be before a justice of the peace under section six thousand one hundred and ninety-five, the following certificate shall be appended to the commitment by said justice of the peace:

I have examined the testimony as herein set forth, and am satisfied that..... is a fit subject for treatment in the State Hospital, and I hereby approve the foregoing commitment to the State Hospital at....., N. C.

Given under my hand and official seal, this.... day of ....., 19.....

.....

Clerk Superior Court.

If the patient is a pauper, the following shall be filled out and accompany the commitment:

State of North Carolina, ...County.

I, ..., Clerk of the Superior Court of the above county, do hereby certify that ..... is a poor person and has no estate or property except .....

.....
.....
.....
nor has any one such property who is liable for his maintenance under article 5 of chapter 43.

Given under my hand and official seal, this.... day of ....., 19 ....
.....
Clerk Superior Court.

If the patient is not a pauper, the following shall be filled out and accompany the commitment of the patient:

State of North Carolina, ...County.

I, ..., Clerk of the Superior Court of said county, do hereby certify that ..... has property of his own and is financially able to pay for his maintenance, or has relatives who under chapter one hundred and fifty-six of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one are liable for his maintenance, who have adequate property to pay for the same in the State Hospital at ....., N. C.

Given under my hand and official seal, this.... day of...., 19.....
Clerk Superior Court.

The application for admission and commitment to a particular hospital shall be forwarded to such hospital, and immediately upon receipt of said application, if there shall be room for said patient in said hospital, the superintendent shall immediately notify the clerk of the court that the patient will be admitted at once. The receipt of said notice by said clerk of the court, shall constitute his authority to convey said patient to said hospital for immediate admission: Provided, however, nothing herein shall prevent the superintendent of said hospital from sending immediately a representative of said hospital to convey said patient thereto. (Rev., s. 4578; 1899, c. 1, s. 15; 1915, c. 204, s. 1; 1923, c. 144, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—That sentence of this section which authorized the clerk or justice to make an order of commitment, and the forms prescribing such order, and the last paragraph with respect to the admission of patients to the insane hospital, were added by the amendment of 1923.

§ 6194. Examination at home of patient. — If the clerk of the court shall be of the opinion that it will be injurious to the alleged insane person to be brought before him, the clerk shall proceed to the residence or habitation of said person and take the examination there. (Rev., s. 4579; 1899, c. 1, s. 15.)

§ 6195. When justice of the peace may make examination.—In case of emergency, when for any reason the clerk of the court cannot go or is absent from the county, then any justice of the peace is authorized to proceed in like manner by taking the testimony of the physician and other witnesses, as is before provided for in this chapter, and report the same to the clerk. If the clerk is satisfied that the alleged insane person is a fit subject for a hospital for the insane, he shall issue an order for his commitment. In cases of great emergency or inconvenience, the said justice may commit a patient to a hospital, and the superintendent is authorized to receive him, but the justice shall procure an order from the clerk to be forwarded to the superintendent within thirty days. (Rev., s. 4580; 1899, c. 1, s. 15.)

§ 6196. Questions to be answered and certified to superintendent.—The following questions, with their respective answers by at least one licensed physician, resident of this state, and such other competent witnesses as the clerk or justice shall determine, duly sworn and subscribed by them, and so certified by the clerk or justice, shall be transmitted with the other papers to the superintendent of the proper hospital, to be reported as soon as practicable to the board of directors. Pending the consideration of the application by the board of directors, the patient shall remain in the custody of the officer of such person as the clerk may designate until it can be ascertained if there is room for the patient at the hospital:

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1923 certain alterations were made in the form and nature of questionnaire appearing at the end of this section.

§ 6197. Clerk to keep record of examinations and discharges.—The clerk will keep a record of all examinations of persons alleged to be insane, and he shall record in such record a brief summary of the proceedings and of his findings, and whenever a justice of the peace shall transmit to the clerk a report of his proceedings when he shall have examined a person under the powers granted under this chapter, the clerk shall make a record of his proceedings, and for recording the justice's proceedings he shall be entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents, to be paid by the county aforesaid, and he shall keep a record of all probations and discharges provided for in article four of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4586; 1899, c. 1, s. 17.)

§ 6198. Fees for examination.—The fees shall be allowed to the officers who make the examination, and they shall be paid by the county in which the alleged insane person is settled: To the clerk or justice who makes the examination, two dollars, and if the clerk goes to the home of the insane person he shall be entitled, in addition to this sum, to five cents a mile each way. This shall cover his entire costs in taking the examination and making out the necessary papers.

The physician called, in the absence of the county physician, shall be entitled to two dollars with mileage. The county physician, being a salaried officer, is not allowed any fee for his services in this examination. The sheriff shall be entitled to such fees as are now allowed by law for the service of process of similar character. (Rev., ss. 4580, 4581; 1899, c. 1, s. 15.)

§ 6199. Superintendent of hospital notified; attendant to convey patient.—Whenever any insane person shall be entitled to admission in any one of the hospitals of the state as prescribed by law, and the clerk of the superior court or other officer authorized by law to find such person insane has so found, it shall be the duty of the clerk or other officer forthwith to notify the superintendent of the proper hospital, giving the name, race, sex and age of patient; and it shall be the duty of such superintendent, unless said patient has been exposed to a contagious disease as hereinafter mentioned in this article, to send an attendant to bring such insane person to the hospital. Such attendant shall have all such rights as the sheriff or other officer has heretofore, and to convey such insane person to the hospital. (1919, c. 326, s. 2.)

§ 6200. Bill of expense sent to county commissioners.—Upon the arrival of such insane person at the hospital, the superintendent shall send to the board of commissioners of the county in which such insane person had a settlement a bill covering the costs of conveying such insane person to the hospital, including any fees that would now be allowed an officer, and it shall be the duty of the board of commissioners forthwith to repay to such hospital the amount of such bill. (1915, c. 204, s. 2; 1919, c. 326, s. 3.)

§ 6201. Failure of superintendent to send attendant; sheriff to act.—If the superintendent of any hospital for the insane in this state shall, for ten days after receiving a notice as prescribed in section 6199, fail and neglect to send an attendant, as is prescribed by section 6199, to bring such insane person to the hospital, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county from which the notice was sent to bring at the expense of the county such insane person to the state hospital, whereupon it shall be the duty of the said superintendent to receive said insane person and relieve said sheriff of his care. (1919, c. 326, s. 4.)

§ 6202. Costs of conveying patients to and from hospital; how paid.—Cost and expenses of conveying every insane person to any hospital from any county, or of removing him from the hospital to his county, or of the return to the county, of his settlement, as sane, shall be paid by the treasurer of such county, upon the order of its board of county commissioners. Whenever the board of commissioners shall be satisfied that such person has property sufficient to pay such cost and expenses, or that some other person liable for his support and maintenance has property sufficient to pay such costs and expenses as aforesaid, they shall bring an action and recover the amount paid from the said person, or from the other person liable for his support and maintenance. (Rev., s. 4555; 1899, c. 1, s. 32.)

§ 6203. Preparation of patient for admission to hospital.—Every sheriff or other person bringing to a hospital a patient shall see that the patient is clean, free from contagious disease and vermin, and that he has clothing proper for the season of the year, and in all cases two full suits of underclothing. (Rev., s. 4556; 1899, c. 1, s. 24.)

§ 6204. Commitment in case of sudden or violent insanity.—Whenever any citizen or resident of this state becomes suddenly or violently insane, in some county other than that of his settlement, the proper authorities, as hereinbefore provided, of any county in which he shall be, shall have authority to examine him, and if necessary commit him to the hospital to which he would be sent had he been committed from the county of his own settlement. (Rev., s. 4582; 1899, c. 1, s. 16.)

§ 6205. Expense paid by county of settlement; penalty.—Immediately upon the commitment to a hospital of any such person, a transcript of the proceedings shall be sent to the clerk of the county in which he is settled, and that county shall pay over to that county from which he was committed all the cost of the examination and commitment, and if the board of commissioners of the county of the settlement shall fail to pay all proper expense of said proceedings within sixty days after the claim shall have been presented, they shall forfeit and pay to the county which committed the insane person the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be recovered by the commissioners of that county in a civil action brought in the superior court of that county from which the patient was committed to the hospital, against the commissioners of the county. (Rev., s. 4583; 1899, c. 1, s. 16.)

§ 6206. Person conveying patient to hospital without authority.—No sheriff or other person shall convey a patient to any hospital without having ascertained that the patient will be admitted, and if any sheriff or other person shall carry a patient to a hospital without having ascertained that the patient will be admitted, and the patient it not admitted, he shall be required to convey the patient back to the county of his settlement, and he shall not be repaid by the county or hospital for the expenses incurred in carrying the patient to and from the hospital. (Rev., s. 4546; 1899, c. 1, s. 25.)

§ 6207. How admission determined, when superintendent is in doubt.—Whenever any insane person shall be conveyed to any hospital, and the superintendent is in doubt as to the propriety of his admission, he may convene any three of the board of directors, who shall constitute a board for the purpose of examining and deciding if such person is a proper subject for admission; and if a majority of such board so decide, such person shall be received into said hospital; but if a like board may at any time thereafter deliver such insane person to any friend who will become bound with good surety to restrain him from committing injuries, and to keep, maintain, and take care of him, in the same manner as he might have become bound under the authority of the clerk of the court. (Rev., s. 4590; 1899, c. 1, s. 21; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6208. Admission refused, if patient exposed to contagious disease. — The superintendent of the hospital may refuse to receive into his institution a patient when he shall have reliable information that the patient has recently been exposed to infectious or contagious disease, and there is danger of contagion and infection being conveyed by the patient, or where the patient comes from a quarantined community. Whenever a patient is rejected because of any of these reasons the superintendent shall make a record of the application and as soon as, in his opinion, the danger shall have been removed, he shall notify the sheriff of the county, and admit the patient into his hospital. (Rev., s. 4591; 1899, c. 1, s. 26.)

§ 6209. Commitment upon patient's own application.—Any person believing himself to be of unsound mind, or threatened with insanity, may voluntarily commit himself to the proper hospital. The application for commitment shall be in the form following:

State of North Carolina, County of .....

I, ..., a resident of ..... county,

North Carolina, being of mind capable of signifying my wishes, do hereby solicit admission as a patient in the state hospital at ..... for such a period of time as the board of directors and the superintendent may deem necessary. And I agree in all respects to conform to the rules and regulations of said institution during the period which shall be prescribed by the superintendent and board of directors. .....

Attest: .....

This application shall be accompanied by the certificate of a licensed physician, which certificate shall state that in the opinion of the physician the applicant is a fit subject for admission into a hospital, and that he recommends his admission. The certificate of the clerk of the superior court need not accompany this application. The superintendent may, if he think it a proper application, receive the patient thus voluntarily committed, and treat him until the next meeting of the board of directors or of the executive committee, and shall report the application and admission to the first meeting of said board, and if said board approve such admission, the patient shall be considered as having been regularly committed, and shall in all respects be treated as such. But no report need be made to the clerk of the court of his county of settlement. The superintendent and board of directors shall have the same control over patients who commit themselves voluntarily as they have over those committed under the regular proceedings hereinbefore provided and no voluntary patient shall be entitled to a discharge until he shall have given the superintendent ten days notice of his desire to be discharged. (Rev., s. 4593; 1899, c. 1, s. 49; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

§ 6210. Proceedings in case of insanity of citizen of another state.—If any person not a citizen or resident of this state, but a citizen and resident of another state of the United States, shall be ascertained to be insane, the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the governor of the state of which the insane person is a citizen of the facts and circumstances by letter (or telegraphic message if he think proper), and for a reasonable length of time the insane person shall be kept confined or restrained in said county, but shall not be committed to any state hospital, and if the state of his citizenship shall not provide for the removal from this state to his proper state of the insane person within a reasonable time, the county commissioners of the county in which he shall have been ascertained to be an insane person shall cause him to be conveyed to the state of which he is a citizen and delivered there to the sheriff of his county or to the superintendent of any state hospital. The cost of such proceedings and conveyance away from this state shall be borne by the county in which the person shall have been adjudged to be insane. (Rev., s. 4584; 1899, c. 1, s. 16.)

§ 6211. Proceedings in case of insanity of alien.—If any person, not a citizen of the United States, shall be ascertained to be insane, the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the governor of this state of the name of the insane person, the country of which he is a citizen, and his place of residence in said country if the same can be ascertained, and such other facts in the case as he may obtain, together with a copy of the examination taken; and the governor shall transmit such information and examination to the secretary of the state at Washington, D. C., with the request that he inform the minister resident or plenipotentiary of the country on which the insane person is supposed to be a citizen. (Rev., s. 4585; 1899, c. 1, s. 16.)

§ 6212. Insane person temporarily committed to jail.—When any person is found to be insane under any of the provisions of this chapter, and he cannot be immediately admitted to the proper hospital, and such person is also found to be subject to such acts of violence as threaten injury to himself and danger to the community, and he cannot otherwise be properly retained, he may be temporarily committed to the county jail until a more suitable provision can be made for his case. (Rev., s. 4594; 1899, c. 1, s. 45.)

Art. 4. Discharge of Patients

§ 6213. County commissioners may discharge insane person in county.—It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners, by proper order to that effect, to discharge any ascertained insane person in their county, not admitted to the appropriate hospital, and not committed for crime, when it shall appear upon the certificate of two respectable physicians, and the chairman of their board, that such insane person ought to be discharged if in a hospital. (Rev., s. 4595; 1899, c. 1, s. 20.)

be advanced by the sheriff and repaid to him by the county of insane person's settlement; and if any sheriff, after having been notified by the superintendent to remove any insane person, as aforesaid, shall fail to do so within fifteen days from the time of the receipt of the letter of notice, he shall forfeit and pay to the hospital the sum of fifty dollars, to be collected in the manner provided for the collection of penalties given in this chapter; and if the commissioners of any county shall fail to repay to the hospital the money disbursed in paying for the necessary clothes and traveling expenses of any person discharged as cured from said hospital, within sixty days after the presentation of a claim therefor, the commissioners shall forfeit and pay to the hospital the sum of fifty dollars, to be collected in the manner provided for the collection of penalties in this chapter. (Rev., s. 4596; 1899, c. 1, s. 22; 1917, c. 150, s. 1.)

Liability of Directors for Torts Committed by Discharged Inmate.—See annotations 6172.

Discharge as Evidence of Sanity in Will Case.—Upon the issue of testamentary capacity an instruction that "a will duly probated in accordance with the formalities of law is presumed to be valid" is not objectionable, there being no presumption of mental incapacity by reason of commitment in an asylum when it has been shown that the testator had been discharged as restored or cured by a certificate issued in accordance with the provisions of this section. In re Crabtree, 200 N. C. 4, 156 S. E. 98.

§ 6215. Superintendent may discharge patient temporarily.—Each superintendent may, for the space of thirty days, or until the next meeting of the board of three directors provided for in the preceding section, discharge upon probation any patient, when in his opinion the same would not prove injurious to the patient or dangerous to the community. A report of all such probations shall be rendered to the said board of three directors at their first ensuing meeting. (Rev., s. 4597; 1899, c. 1, s. 23.)

§ 6217. Form of bond for safe-keeping of insane.—The form of bond mentioned in the preceding section shall be as follows:

State of North Carolina, County of .....

Know all men by these presents, that we, A.. .... B ....., principal, and C ..... D. ....., and E ..... F ....., sureties, are held and firmly bound unto the State of North Carolina in the sum of ..... dollars, for the payment whereof we bind ourselves and each of us.

Witness our hands and seals, this ..... day of ....., 19....

The condition of the above obligation is this:

Whereas, the said A ..... B ....., with the view of hindering G ..... H ....., an insane person resident in the county aforesaid, from being sent to ..... insane hospital (or to effect his release from the said hospital, as the case may be), hath undertaken to restrain him from committing injuries and to keep, maintain, support, and take care of the said G ..... H ..... Now, if the said A ..... B ..... shall faithfully comply with the conditions of this obligation, then the same shall be void, otherwise it shall be in full force.

A ..... B ..... (Seal)
C ..... D ..... (Seal)
E ..... F ..... (Seal)

(Rev., s. 4599; 1899, c. 1, s. 30.)

§ 6218. Patient returned, if condition of bond not complied with.—Whenever it shall be made to appear to the clerk of the superior court of the county of settlement of an insane person released on bond that the conditions of the bond are not faithfully complied with, said insane person shall be sent back to the proper hospital by him, unless some other responsible and discreet friend will undertake to fulfill the duties of said obligation; and whenever said insane person shall be sent back, he shall not be delivered on any new bond of the defaulting obligor. (Rev., s. 4592; 1899, c. 1, s. 33.)

Art. 5. Private Hospitals for the Insane

§ 6219. Established under license and subject to control of board of charities.—It shall be lawful for any person or corporation to establish private hospitals, homes, or schools for the cure and treatment of insane persons, idiots, and feeble-minded persons and inebriates; but license to establish such hospitals, homes, or schools must, before the same are opened for patronage, be obtained from the state board of charities and public welfare, and such hospitals, homes, or schools shall at all times be subject to the visitation of the said board or any member thereof, and each hospital, home, or school shall make to the board a semiannual report on the first days of January and July of each year. In said report shall be stated the number and residence of all patients admitted, the number discharged during the six months preceding, and the officers of the hospital, home, or school. Each hospital, home, or school shall file with the board a copy of its by-laws, rules, and regulations, and rates of charges. The books of each hospital, home, or school shall at all times be open to the inspection of the board or any member thereof. The state board of charities and public welfare is hereby given the authority to supervise and regulate all private hospitals, homes, and schools established hereafter in this state for the treatment of the above classes of people, and the board shall have power to prescribe all such rules and regulations as they may deem necessary, and shall exercise the power of visitation, and for that purpose may depute any number of their board to visit and supervise any private hospital, home, or school hereafter established under this article. The state board of charities may bring an action in the superior court of Wake county to vacate and annul any license granted by the board, when it shall appear to the satisfaction of the board that the managers of any private hospital, home, or school have been guilty of gross neglect, cruelty, or immorality. (Rev., s. 4600; 1899, c. 1, s. 60.)

Demurrer.—Where an action is brought by the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare under this section to vacate and annul a license it had issued for the maintenance and operation of a private hospital for the insane, on the ground of immorality and cruelty of its principal owner or manager, in which the manager is joined, a demurrer of the individual is properly sustained. Board of Public Welfare v. Hospital, 196 N. C. 752, 147 S. E. 288.

Evidence.—Where there is allegation and evidence, in an action to annul and revoke the license of a private hospital for the insane, that immorality had been practiced among its employees by the manager and principal owner, and also cruel treatment had been used towards the patients by him, with separate issues as to each class of offense submitted to the jury, and the jury renders a partial verdict by leaving unanswered the issue as to gross immorality, the action of the court in directing a mistrial and refusing to sign judgment for defendant is not erroneous. Board of Public Welfare v. Hospital, 196 N. C. 752, 147 S. E. 288.

§ 6220. Counties and towns may establish hospitals.—Any county, city, or town may establish a hospital for the maintenance, care, and treatment of such insane persons as cannot be admitted into a state hospital, and of idiots and feeble-minded persons upon like conditions and requirements as are above prescribed for the institution of private hospitals; and the state board of charities and public welfare is given the same authority over such hospitals as is given them by the preceding section for private hospitals. (Rev., s. 4601; 1899, c. 1, s. 61.)

§ 6221. Private hospitals part of public charities.—All hospitals, homes, or schools for the care and treatment of insane persons, idiots, and feeble-minded persons and inebriates, formed in compliance with the two preceding sections and duly licensed by the board of public charities as in this article provided, shall, during the continuance of such license, become and be a part of the system of public charities of the state of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 4602; 1903, c. 329, s. 1.)

§ 6222. Insane persons placed in private hospital.—Whenever any person shall be found to be insane in the mode hereinbefore prescribed, and such person shall be possessed of an income sufficient to support those who may be legally dependent for support on the estate of such insane person, and, moreover, to support and maintain such insane person in any named hospital without the state, or any private hospital within the state, and such insane person, if of capable mind to signify such preference, shall, in writing, declare his wish to be placed in such hospital instead of being in a state hospital (or in case such insane person is incapable of declaring such preference, then the same may be declared by his guardian), and two respectable physicians who shall have examined such insane person, with the clerk of the court or justice of the peace who made the examination, shall deem it proper, then it may be lawful for the clerk or justice, together with said physicians, to recommend in writing that such insane person shall be placed in the hospital so chosen, as a patient thereof. (Rev., s. 4603; 1899, c. 1, s. 39.)

§ 6224. Clerk to report proceedings to judge.—The clerk of the court shall lay the proceedings before the judge of the superior court of the district in which such insane person may reside or be domiciled, and if he approve them, he shall so declare in writing, and such proceedings, with the approval thereof, shall be recorded by the clerk. (Rev., s. 4605; 1899, c. 1, s. 42.)

§ 6225. Certified copy and approval of judge sufficient authority.—A certified copy of such proceedings, with the approval of a judge, shall be sufficient warrant to authorize any friend of such insane person appointed by the judge to remove him to the hospital designated. (Rev., s. 4606; 1899, c. 1, s. 43.)

§ 6226. Examination and commitment to private hospital.—When it is deemed advisable that any person, a citizen of the state of North Carolina, or a citizen of another state or country temporarily sojourning in North Carolina, should be detained in any private hospital within the state, two persons, one of whom must be a physician, not connected with any private hospital, shall make affidavit before a justice of the peace or a clerk of the superior court of this state that they have carefully examined the alleged insane person; that they believe him to be a fit subject for commitment to a hospital for the insane, and that his detention and treatment will be for his advantage and benefit. This certificate shall be filed with and approved by the clerk of the superior court in the county in which the examination is held, or in the county in which the private hospital is located, and a certified copy of this certificate and approval of the clerk shall be deposited with the superintendent of the private hospital as his authority for holding the insane person. The clerk of the court may, if he sees fit, issue warrants and have the alleged insane person before him in manner prescribed in article three of this chapter for the examination and admission to state hospitals, and he may, if he see fit, order any insane person brought before him to be taken to a private hospital within the state instead of one of the state hospitals, and his warrant shall be sufficient authority for holding such insane person in such private hospital. Idiots, feeble-minded persons, and inebriates may be committed to and held in private hospitals or homes in this state in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for insane persons: Provided, that a period of detention in a private hospital or home of not less than one month and not more than six months shall be prescribed for inebriates, at the discretion of the clerk of the superior court approving the commitment. (Rev., s. 4607; 1903, c. 329, s. 2.)

§ 6227. Patients transferred from state hospital to private hospital.—When it is deemed desirable that any inmate of any state hospital be transferred to any licensed private hospital within the state, the executive committee may so order, and a certified copy of the commitment on file at the state hospital and the order of the executive committee shall be sufficient warrant for holding the insane person, idiot, or inebriate by the officers of the private hospital. (Rev., s. 4608; 1903, c. 329, s. 3.)

§ 6228. Guardian of insane person to pay expenses out of estate.—It shall be the duty of any person having legal custody of the estate of an insane person, idiot, or inebriate legally held in a private hospital to supply funds for his support in the hospital during his stay therein and so long as there may be sufficient funds for that purpose over and beyond maintaining and supporting those persons who may be legally dependent on the estate. (Rev., s. 4610; 1899, c. 1, s. 40; 1903, c. 329, s. 4.)

§ 6229. Fees and charges for examinations.—The fees and charges for examination for admission to private hospitals shall be the same as for examinations for admission to the state hospitals. (Rev., s. 4611; 1903, c. 329, s. 5.)

Art. 6. Hospital for Dangerous Insane

§ 6236. Insane persons charged with crime to be committed to hospital.—All persons who may hereafter commit crime while insane, and all persons who, being charged with crime, and are adjudged to be insane at the time of their arraignment, and for that reason cannot be put on trial for the crimes alleged against them, shall be sent by the court before whom they are or may be arraigned for trial, when it shall be ascertained by due course of law that such person is insane and cannot plead, to the state hospital at Raleigh, if the alleged criminal is white, or to the state hospital at Goldsboro if the alleged criminal is colored, and if the alleged criminal is an Indian from Robeson county, to the state hospital at Raleigh, as provided for insane Indians from Robeson county, and they shall be confined therein under the rules and regulations prescribed by the board of directors under the authority of this article, and they shall be treated, cared for, and maintained in said hospital. As a means of such care and treatment, the said boards of directors may make rules and regulations under which the persons so committed to said institutions may be employed in labor upon the farms of said institutions under such supervision as said boards of directors may direct: Provided, that the superintendent and medical director of the hospital shall determine, in each case, that such employment is advantageous in the physical or mental treatment of the particular inmate to be so employed. Their confinement in said hospital shall not be regarded as punishment for any offense. (Rev., s. 4617; 1899, c. 1, s. 63; 1923, c. 165, ss. 2, 3; 1927, c. 228.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1923 an insane person who fell within the terms of this section was to be committed to the hospital for the dangerous insane. In lieu of this provision the amended section specifies the different hospitals to which such insane person shall be committed according to his race. A proviso, which originally appeared at the end of the section, that no insane person committed to the State hospitals at Morgantown, Raleigh or Goldsboro shall be transferred to the hospital for dangerous insanes, were stricken by the same amendment.

The laws of 1927 further amended the section by authorizing the board of directors to make rules and regulations with respect to the labor of inmates and by adding the proviso which qualifies that authorization.

§ 6237. Persons acquitted of certain crimes or incapable of being tried, on account of insanity, committed to hospital.—When a person accused of the crime of murder, attempt at murder, rape, assault with the intent to commit rape, highway robbery, train wrecking, arson, or other crime, shall have escaped indictment or shall have been acquitted upon trial upon the ground of insanity, or shall be found by the court to be without sufficient mental capacity to undertake his defense or to receive sentence after conviction, the court before which such proceedings are had shall detain such person in custody until an inquisition shall be had in regard to his mental condition. The judge shall, at the term of court at which such person is acquitted, cause notice to be given in writing to such person and his attorney, and, if in his good judgment it be necessary, to his nearest relative, naming the day upon which he shall proceed to make an inquisition in regard to the mental condition of such person. The judge shall cause such witness to be summoned and examined as he may deem proper or as the person so acquitted or his counsel may desire. At such inquisition the judge shall cause the testimony to be taken in writing and be preserved, and a copy of which shall be sent to the superintendent of the hospital designated in section 6236. If upon such inquisition the judge shall find that the mental condition or disease of such person is such as to render him dangerous either to himself or other persons, and that his confinement for care, treatment, and security demands it, he shall commit such persons to the hospital designated in section 6236, to be kept in custody therein for treatment and care as herein provided. Such person shall be kept therein, unless transferred under the previous provisions of this chapter, until restored to his right mind, in which event it shall be the duty of the authorities having the care of such person to notify the sheriff of the county from which he came, who shall order that he appear before the judge of the superior court of the district, to be dealt with according to law. The expense incident to such commitment and removal shall be paid by the county authorities from which such patient was sent. (Rev., s. 4618; 1899, c. 1, s. 65; 1923, c. 165, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923 so amended this section as to conform it to the change affected by amendment of the preceding section, by making a reference to the hospitals designated in that section.

Constitutionality — Strict Construction. — This section is within the Legislature's constitutional authority, but, being a restraint upon the liberty of the prisoner within the constitutional guarantee for his protection, should be strictly construed in his favor. State v. Craig, 176 N. C. 740, 97 S. E. 400.

High Degree Crimes Contemplated by Section.—This section specifies a high degree of crime, such as murder, rape, and the like, indicating a class of criminals who may be dangerous to the public or individuals, if left at ward, and by the addition thereto of the words, "or other crimes," did not include the offense of resisting an officer when arrested, especially, the resistance was only by words, in the nature of a threat that the officer could not take him alive. State v. Craig, 176 N. C. 740, 97 S. E. 400.

Section Penal in Character.—This section is penal in its character. State v. Craig, 176 N. C. 740, 97 S. E. 400.

Release on Habeas Corpus.—A person illegally detained in a hospital for the dangerous insane cannot be released on habeas corpus if he is insane at the time of the return of the writ. In re Boyett, 136 N. C. 415, 48 S. E. 789.

Court May Bring Prisoner Back from Asylum to Examine Him.—See State v. Pritchett, 106 N. C. 667, 11 S. E. 357.

§ 6238. Convicts becoming insane committed to hospital.—All convicts becoming insane after commitment to the state prison, and the fact being certified as now required by law in the case of other insane persons, shall be admitted to the hospital designated in section 6236. In case of the expiration of the sentence of any convict, insane person, while such person is confined to the said hospital, such person shall be kept until restored to his right mind or such time as he may be considered harmless and incurable. (Rev., s. 4619; 1899, c. 1, s. 66; 1923, c. 165, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1923 insane convicts are to be committed to the hospitals designated in section 6236.

§ 6239. Persons acquitted of crime on account of insanity; how discharged from hospital.—No person acquitted of a capital felony on the ground of insanity, and committed to the hospital designated in section 6236 shall be discharged therefrom unless an act authorizing his discharge be passed by the general assembly. No person acquitted of a crime of a less degree than a capital felony and committed to the hospital designated in section 6236 shall be discharged therefrom except upon an order from the governor. No person convicted of a crime, and upon whom judgment was suspended by the judge on account of insanity, shall be discharged from said hospital except upon the order of the judge of the district or of the judge holding the courts of the district in which he was tried: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent such person so confined in the hospitals designated in section 6236 from applying to any judge having jurisdiction for a writ of habeas corpus. No judge issuing a writ of habeas corpus upon the application of such person shall order his discharge until the superintendents of the several state hospitals shall certify that they have examined such person and find him to be sane, and that his detention is no longer necessary for his own safety or the safety of the public. (Rev., s. 4620; 1899, c. 1, s. 67; 1923, c. 165, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923 amended this section so as to conform it to the changes effected by the amendment of the same year in section 6236.

§ 6240. Proceedings in case of recovery of patient charged with crime.—Whenever a person confined in any hospital for the insane, and against whom an indictment for crime is pending, has recovered or been restored to normal health and sanity, the superintendent of such hospital shall notify the clerk of the court of the county from which said person was sent, and the clerk will place the case against said person upon the docket of the superior or criminal court of his county for trial, and the person shall not be discharged without an order from said court. In all cases where such person confined in said hospital shall have recovered his mind, the clerk of the court of the county from which he was committed shall fix the amount of bail required for his appearance at the next term of the superior or criminal court of the county for trial, except in cases where the offense charged is a capital felony, and in this case only the judge of the superior court residing within or holding the courts of said district shall have the power to fix bail. If the person confined in the hospital, and reported sane as aforesaid, shall give the bond fixed by the clerk or judge as above provided for, he shall be discharged by the superintendent, and if he does not give the bond, he shall be transferred to the jail of the county from which he was committed. The superintendent will notify the sheriff of said county, and the sheriff will remove the person to the jail of his county. The sheriff will pay the expenses of such removal, and the county of the person's settlement will repay the sheriff for his expenses and services. (Rev., s. 4621; 1899, c. 1, s. 64; 1923, c. 165, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923 amended this section so as to conform it to the changes effected by the amendment of the same year in section 6236.

§ 6241. Ex-convicts with homicidal mania committed to hospital.—Whenever any person who has been confined in the state prison under sentence for the felonious killing of another person, and who has been discharged therefrom at the expiration of his term of sentence, or as the result of executive clemency, shall thereafter so act as to justify the belief that he is possessed of a homicidal mania, and shall be duly adjudged insane, in accordance with the provisions of article three of this chapter, the clerk of the superior court or other officer having jurisdiction of the proceedings in which such person shall be adjudged insane may, in his discretion, commit such person to the state hospital designated in section 6236, as authorized and provided in this chapter. (1911, c. 169, s. 1; 1923, c. 165, s. 8.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923 amended this section so as to conform it to the changes effected by the amendment of the same year in section 6236.

§ 6242. Hospital authorities to receive and treat such patients.—It shall be the duty of the duly constituted authorities of the state hospitals designated in this act for the insane to receive all such insane persons as shall be committed to said institutions in accordance with the provisions of this law, and to treat and care properly for the same until discharged in accordance with the provisions of the law. (1911, c. 169, s. 2; 1923, c. 165, s. 9.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1923 amended this section so as to conform it to the changes effected by the amendment of the same year in section 6236.

§ 6243. Annual appropriation for maintenance.—(Repealed by Public Laws 1923, Chapter 165, Section 10.)

As to appropriation for state hospitals for two fiscal years ending June 30, 1936 and June 30, 1937, see Public Laws 1935, chapter 306, section 1. As to supplementary appropriation for state hospital at Goldsboro, see Public Laws 1935, chapter 389.

§ 6243(a). Distribution of patients.—As soon as it may be, after March 6, 1923, all the dangerous insane now confined in the state hospital for dangerous insane at Raleigh shall be distributed to the hospitals designated in section 6236. The patients confined in the state hospital for the dangerous insane shall not, however, be transferred as herein provided from such hospital to the other hospitals until the superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at Raleigh and the superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at Goldsboro notifies the superintendent of the state prison that they are ready to receive such patients. (1923, c. 165, ss. 11, 12.)

§ 6243(b). Readiness of hospitals.—Until said state hospitals for the insane at Raleigh and Goldsboro are ready to receive the dangerous insane, as defined in article six of chapter one hundred and three of the Consolidated Statutes, said dangerous insane shall continue to be subject to the rules and regulations as now contained in said article six, and the various courts in the state in a proper case shall continue to use the machinery provided in said article six in dealing with said dangerous insane. (1923, c. 165, s. 13.)

CHAPTER 103A

HOUSING AUTHORITIES AND PROJECTS

Art. 1. Housing Authorities Law

§ 6243(1). Title of article. — This article may be referred to as the housing authorities law. (1935, c. 456, s. 1.)

§ 6243(2). Finding and declaration of necessity. — It is hereby declared that unsanitary or unsafe dwelling accommodations exist in various cities and towns of the State having a population of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants and that such unsafe or unsanitary conditions arise from overcrowding and concentration of population, the obsolete and poor condition of the buildings, improper planning, excessive land coverage, lack of proper light, air and space, unsanitary design and arrangement, lack of proper sanitary facilities, and the existence of conditions which endanger life or property by fire and other causes; that in all such cities and towns many persons of low income are forced to reside in unsanitary or unsafe dwelling accommodations; that in various cities and towns of the State having a population of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants there is a lack of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations available to all the inhabitants thereof and that consequently many persons of low income are forced to occupy overcrowded and congested dwelling accommodations; that these conditions cause an increase in and spread of disease and crime and constitute a menace to the health, safety, morals and welfare of the citizens of the State and impair economic values; that the aforesaid conditions also exist in certain areas surrounding such cities and towns; that these conditions cannot be remedied by the ordinary operations of private enterprises; that the clearance, replanning and reconstruction of the areas in which unsanitary or unsafe housing conditions exist and the providing of safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income are public uses and purposes for which public money may be spent and private property acquired; that it is in the public interest that work on such projects be instituted as soon as possible in order to relieve unemployment which now constitutes an emergency; and the necessity in the public interest for the provision hereinafter enacted is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination. (1935, c. 456, s. 2.)

§ 6243(3). Definitions.—The following terms, wherever used or referred to in this article shall have the following respective meanings, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(1) "Authority" or "housing authority" shall mean a public body and a body corporate and politic organized in accordance with the provisions of this article for the purposes, with the powers and subject to the restrictions hereinafter set forth.

(2) "City" shall mean the city or town having a population of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants (according to the last federal census) which is, or is about to be, included in the territorial boundaries of an authority when created hereunder.

(3) "Council" shall mean the legislative body, council, board of commissioners, board of trustees, or other body charged with governing the city.

(4) "City clerk" and "mayor" shall mean the clerk and mayor, respectively, of the city or the officers thereof charged with the duties customarily imposed on the clerk and mayor respectively.

(5) "Municipality" shall mean any city, town or incorporated village, other than the city as defined above, which is located within the territorial boundaries of an authority.

(6) "Commissioner" shall mean one of the members of an authority appointed in accordance with the provisions of this article.

(7) "Government" shall include the state and federal governments and any subdivision, agency or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of either of them.

(8) "State" shall mean the State of North Carolina.

(9) "Federal government" shall include the United States of America, the federal emergency administration of public works or any agency, instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States of America.

(10) "Housing project" shall include all real and personal property, buildings and improvements, stores, offices, lands for farming and gardening, and community facilities acquired or constructed or to be acquired or constructed pursuant to a single plan or undertaking (a) to demolish, clear, remove, alter or repair unsanitary or unsafe housing, and/or (b) to provide safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income. The term "housing project" may also be applied to the planning of the buildings and improvements, the acquisition of property, the demolition of existing structures, the construction, reconstruction, alteration and repair of the improvements and all other work in connection therewith.

(11) "Community facilities" shall include real and personal property, and buildings and equipment for recreational or social assemblies, for educational, health or welfare purposes and necessary utilities, when designed primarily for the benefit and use of the housing authority and/or the occupants of the dwelling accommodation.

(12) "Bonds" shall mean any bonds, interim certificates, notes, debentures, or other obligations of the authority issued pursuant to this article.

(13) "Mortgage" shall include deeds of trust, mortgages, building and loan contracts or other instruments conveying real or personal property as security for bonds and conferring a right to foreclose and cause a sale thereof.

(14) "Trust indenture" shall include instruments pledging the revenues of real or personal properties but not conveying such properties or conferring a right to foreclose and cause a sale thereof.

(15) "Contract" shall mean any agreement of an authority with or for the benefit of an obligee whether contained in a resolution, trust indenture, mortgage, lease, bond or other instrument.

(16) "Real property" shall include lands, lands under water, structures, and any and all easements, franchises and incorporeal hereditaments and every estate and right therein, legal and equitable, including terms for years and liens by way of judgment, mortgage or otherwise.

(17) "Obligee of the authority" or "obligee" shall include any bondholder, trustee or trustees for any bondholders, any lessor demising property to the authority used in connection with a housing project or any assignee or assignees of such lessor's interest or any part thereof, and the United States of America, when it is a party to any contract with the authority. (1935, c. 456, s. 3.)

§ 6243(4). Notice, hearing and creation of authority.—Any twenty-five residents of a city and of the area within ten miles from the territorial boundaries thereof may file a petition with the city clerk setting forth that there is a need for an authority to function in the city and said surrounding area. Upon the filing of such a petition the city clerk shall give notice of the time, place and purposes of a public hearing at which the council will determine the need for an authority in the city and said surrounding area. Such notice shall be given at the city's expense by publishing a notice, at least ten days preceding the day on which the hearing is to be held, in a newspaper having a general circulation in the city and said surrounding area, or, if there be no such newspaper, by posting such notice in at least three public places within the city, at least ten days preceding the day on which the hearing is to be held.

Upon the date fixed for said hearing held upon notice as provided herein, an opportunity to be heard shall be granted to all residents and taxpayers of the city and said surrounding area and to all other interested persons. After such a hearing, the council shall determine:

(1) whether unsanitary or unsafe inhabited dwelling accommodations exist in the city and said surrounding area, and/or

(2) whether there is a lack of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations in the city and said surrounding area available for all the inhabitants thereof.

In determining whether dwelling accommodations are unsafe or unsanitary, the council shall take into consideration the following: the physical condition and age of the buildings; the degree of over-crowding, the percentage of land coverage; the light and air available to the inhabitants of such dwelling accommodations; the size and arrangement of the rooms; the sanitary facilities; and the extent to which conditions exist in such buildings which endanger life or property by fire or other causes.

If it shall determine that either or both of the above enumerated conditions exist, the council shall adopt a resolution so finding (which need not go into any detail other than the mere finding) and shall cause notice of such determination to be given to the Mayor who shall thereupon appoint, as hereinafter provided, five commissioners to act as an authority. Said commission shall be a public body and a body corporate and politic upon the completion of the taking of the following proceedings:

The commissioners shall present to the secretary of state an application signed by them, which shall set forth (without any detail other than the mere recital) (1) that a notice has been given and public hearing has been held as aforesaid, that the council made the aforesaid determination after such hearing, and that the mayor has appointed them as commissioners; (2) the name, and official residence of each of the commissioners, together with a certified copy of the appointment evidencing their right to office, the date and place of induction into and taking oath of office, and that they desire the housing authority to become a public body and a body corporate and politic under this article; (3) the term of office of each of the commissioners; (4) the name which is proposed for the corporation; and, (5) the location of the principal office of the proposed corporation. The application shall be subscribed and sworn to by each of said commissioners before an officer authorized by the laws of the State to take and certify oaths, who shall certify upon the application that he personally knows the commissioners and knows them to be the officers as asserted in the application, and that each subscribed and swore thereto in the officer's presence. The secretary of state shall examine the application and if he finds that the name proposed for the corporation is not identical with that of a person or of any other corporation of this state or so nearly similar as to lead to confusion and uncertainty he shall receive and file it and shall record it in an appropriate book of record in his office.

When the application has been made, filed and recorded, as herein provided, the authority shall constitute a public body and a body corporate and politic under the name proposed in the application; the secretary of state shall make and issue to the said commissioners a certificate of incorporation pursuant to this article, under the seal of the state, and shall record the same with the application.

The boundaries of such authority shall include said city and the area within ten miles from the territorial boundaries of said city but in no event shall it include the whole or a part of any other city nor any area included within the boundaries of another authority. In case an area lies within ten miles of the boundaries of more than one city, such area shall be deemed to be within the boundaries of the authority embracing such area which was first established, all priorities to be determined on the basis of the time of the issuance of the aforesaid certificates by the secretary of state. After the creation of an authority, the subsequent existence within its territorial boundaries of more than one city shall in no way affect the territorial boundaries of such authority.

If the council, after a hearing as aforesaid, shall determine that neither of the above enumerated conditions exist, it shall adopt a resolution denying the petition. After three months shall have expired from the date of the denial of any such petitions, subsequent petitions may be filed as aforesaid and new hearings and determinations made thereon.

In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of or relating to any contract of the authority, the authority shall be conclusively deemed to have been established in accordance with the provisions of this article upon proof of the issuance of the aforesaid certificate by the secretary of state. A copy of such certificate, duly certified by the secretary of state, shall be admissible in evidence in any such suit, action or proceeding, and shall be conclusive proof of the filing and contents thereof. (1935, c. 456, s. 4.)

§ 6243(5). Appointment, qualifications and tenure of commissioners.—An authority shall consist of five commissioners appointed by the mayor and he shall designate the first chairman. No commissioner may be a city official.

The commissioners who are first appointed shall be designated by the mayor to serve for terms of one, two, three, four and five years respectively from the date of their appointment. Thereafter, the term of office shall be five years. A commissioner shall hold office until his successor has been appointed and has qualified. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term. Three commissioners shall constitute a quorum. The mayor shall file with the city clerk a certificate of the appointment or reappointment of any commissioner and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the due and proper appointment of such commissioner. A commissioner shall receive no compensation for his services but he shall be entitled to the necessary expenses including traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties.

When the office of the first chairman of the authority becomes vacant, the authority shall select a chairman from among its members. An authority shall select from among its members a vice-chairman, and it may employ a secretary (who shall be executive director), technical experts and such other officers, agents and employees, permanent and temporary, as it may require, and shall determine their qualifications, duties and compensation. An authority may call upon the corporation counsel or chief law officer of the city for such legal services as it may require or it may employ its own counsel and legal staff. An authority may delegate to one or more of its agents or employees such powers or duties as it may deem proper. (1935, c. 456, s. 5.)

§ 6243(6). Duty of authority and commissioners.—The authority and its commissioners shall be under a statutory duty to comply or to cause compliance strictly with all provisions of this article and the laws of the State and in addition thereto, with each and every term, provision and covenant in any contract of the authority on its part to be kept or performed. (1935, c. 456, s. 6.)

§ 6243(7). Interested commissioners or employees. — No commissioner or employee of an authority shall acquire any interest direct or indirect in any housing project or in any property included or planned to be included in any project, nor shall he have any interest direct or indirect in any contract or proposed contract for materials or services to be furnished or used in connection with any housing project. If any commissioner or employee of an authority owns or controls an interest direct or indirect in any property included or planned to be included in any housing project, he shall immediately disclose the same in writing to the authority and such disclosure shall be entered upon the minutes of the authority. Failure to so disclose such interest shall constitute misconduct in office. (1935, c. 456, s. 7.)

§ 6243(8). Removal of commissioners. — The mayor may remove a commissioner for inefficiency or neglect of duty or misconduct in office, but only after the commissioner shall have been given a copy of the charges against him (which may be made by the mayor) at least ten days prior to the hearing thereon and had an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel.

Any obligee of the authority may file with the mayor written charges that the authority is violating wilfully any law of the State or any term, provision or covenant in any contract to which the authority is a party. The mayor shall give each of the commissioners a copy of such charges at least ten days prior to the hearing thereon and an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel and shall within fifteen days after receipt of such charges remove any commissioners of the authority who shall have been found to have acquiesced in any such wilful violation.

A commissioner shall be deemed to have acquiesced in a wilful violation by the authority of a law of this State or of any term, provision or covenant contained in a contract to which the authority is a party, if, before a hearing is held on the charges against him, he shall not have filed a written statement with the authority of his objections to, or lack of participation in, such violation.

In the event of the removal of any commissioner, the mayor shall file in the office of the city clerk a record of the proceedings together with the charges made against the commissioners and the findings thereon. (1935, c. 456, s. 8.)

§ 6243(9). Powers of authority.—An authority shall constitute a public body and a body corporate and politic, exercising public powers, and having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this article, including the following powers in addition to others herein granted:

To investigate into living, dwelling and housing conditions and into the means and methods of improving such conditions; to determine where unsafe, or unsanitary dwelling or housing conditions exist; to study and make recommendations concerning the plan of any city or municipality located within its boundaries in relation to the problem of clearing, replanning and reconstruction of areas in which unsafe, or unsanitary dwelling or housing conditions exist, and the providing of dwelling accommodations for persons of low income, and to coöperate with any city municipal or regional planning agency; to prepare, carry out and operate housing projects; to provide for the construction, reconstruction, improvement, alteration or repair of any housing project or any part thereof; to take over by purchase, lease or otherwise any housing project located within its boundaries undertaken by any government, or by any city or municipality located in whole or in part within its boundaries; to manage as agent of any city or municipality located in whole or in part within its boundaries any housing project constructed or owned by such city; to act as agent for the federal government in connection with the acquisition, construction, operation and/or management of a housing project or any part thereof; to arrange with any city or municipality located in whole or in part within its boundaries or with a government for the furnishing, planning, replanning, installing, opening or closing of streets, roads, roadways, alleys, sidewalks or other places or facilities or for the acquisition by such city, municipality, or a government of property, options or property rights or for the furnishing of property or services in connection with a project; to arrange with the State, its subdivisions and agencies, and any county, city or municipality of the State to the extent that it is within the scope of each of their respective functions, (a) to cause the services customarily provided by each of them to be rendered for the benefit of such housing authority and/or the occupants of any housing projects and (b) to provide and maintain parks and sewage, water and other facilities adjacent to or in connection with housing projects and (c) to change the city or municipality map, to plan, replan, zone or rezone any part of the city or municipality; to lease or rent any of the dwelling or other accommodations or any of the lands, buildings, structures or facilities embraced in any housing project and to establish and revise the rents or charges therefor; to enter upon any building or property in order to conduct investigations or to make surveys or soundings; to purchase, lease, obtain options upon, acquire by gift, grant, bequest, devise, or otherwise any property real or personal or any interest therein from any person, firm, corporation, city, municipality, or government; to acquire by eminent domain any real property, including improvements and fixtures thereon; to sell, exchange, transfer, assign, or pledge any property real or personal or any interest therein to any person, firm, corporation, municipality, city, or government; to own, hold, clear and improve property; to insure or provide for the insurance of the property or operations of the authority against such risks as the authority may deem advisable; to procure insurance or guarantees from a federal government of the payment of any debts or parts thereof secured by mortgages made or held by the authority on any property included in any housing project; to borrow money upon its bonds, notes, debentures or other evidences of indebtedness and to secure the same by pledges of its revenues, and (subject to the limitations hereinafter imposed) by mortgages upon property held or to be held by it, or in any other manner; in connection with any loan, to agree to limitations upon its right to dispose of any housing project or part thereof or to undertake additional housing projects; in connection with any loan by a government, to agree to limitations upon the exercise of any powers conferred upon the authority by this article; to invest any funds held in reserves or sinking funds, or any funds not required for immediate disbursement, in property or securities in which savings banks may legally invest funds subject to their control; to sue and be sued; to have a seal and to alter the same at pleasure; to have perpetual succession; to make and execute contracts and other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers of the authority; to make and from time to time amend and repeal by-laws, rules and regulations not inconsistent with this article, to carry into effect the powers and purposes of the authority; to conduct examinations and investigations and to hear testimony and take proof under oath at public or private hearings on any matter material for its information; to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the production of books and papers and to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses who are out of the State or unable to attend before the authority, or excused from attendance; and to make available to such agencies, boards or commissions as are charged with the duty of abating or requiring the correction of nuisances or like conditions, or of demolishing unsafe or unsanitary structures within its territorial limits, its findings and recommendations with regard to any building or property where conditions exist which are dangerous to the public health, morals, safety or welfare. Any of the investigations or examinations provided for in this article may be conducted by the authority or by a committee appointed by it, consisting of one or more commissioners, or by counsel, or by an officer or employee specially authorized by the authority to conduct it. Any commissioner, counsel for the authority, or any person designated by it to conduct an investigation or examination shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas or commissions. An authority may exercise any or all of the powers herein conferred upon it, either generally or with respect to any specific housing project or projects, through or by an agent or agents which it may designate, including any corporation or corporations which are or shall be formed under the laws of this State, and for such purposes an authority may cause one or more corporations to be formed under the laws of this State or may acquire the capital stock of any corporation or corporations. Any corporate agent, all of the stock of which shall be owned by the authority or its nominee or nominees, may to the extent permitted by law exercise any of the powers conferred upon the authority herein. In addition to all of the other powers herein conferred upon it, an authority may do all things necessary and convenient to carry out the powers expressly given in this article. No provisions with respect to the acquisition, operation or disposition of property by other public bodies shall be applicable to an authority unless the legislature shall specifically so state. (1935, c. 456, s. 9.)

§ 6243(10). Coöperation between authorities.—Any two or more authorities may coöperate with one another in the exercise of any or all of the powers conferred hereby for the purpose of financing, planning, constructing or operating a housing project or projects located partly within the boundaries of each of said authorities. Any housing authority may construct and operate a housing project within the boundaries of any other housing authority provided that (1) such other housing authority consents thereto, and (2) said housing project is located within ten miles of the city which is included in the boundaries of the housing authority desiring to construct and operate such project. (1935, c. 456, s. 10.)

§ 6243(11). Eminent domain.—The authority shall have the right to acquire by eminent domain any real property, including fixtures and improvements, which it may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this article after the adoption by it of a resolution declaring that the acquisition of the property described therein is in the public interest and necessary for public use. The authority may exercise the power of eminent domain pursuant to the provisions of either:

(a) Consolidated Statutes, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, sections 1715-1733, both inclusive.

(b) Any other applicable statutory provisions now in force or hereafter enacted for the exercise of the power of eminent domain.

Property already devoted to a public use may be acquired, provided, that no property belonging to any city or municipality or to any government may be acquired without its consent and that no property belonging to a public utility corporation may be acquired without the approval of the commission or other officer or tribunal, if any there be, having regulatory power over such corporation. (1935, c. 456, s. 11.)

§ 6243(12). Acquisition of land for government.—The authority may acquire by purchase or by the exercise of its power of eminent domain, as aforesaid, any property real or personal for any housing project being constructed or operated by a government. The authority upon such terms and conditions, with or without consideration, as it shall determine, may convey title or deliver possession of such property so acquired or purchased to such government for use in connection with such housing project. (1935, c. 456, s. 12.)

§ 6243(14). Types of bonds authority may issue.—The authority shall have power and is hereby authorized from time to time in its discretion to issue for any of its corporate purposes:

(a) Bonds on which the principal and interest are payable (1) exclusively from the income and revenues of the housing project financed with the proceeds of such bonds or with such proceeds together with the proceeds of a grant from the federal government to aid in financing the construction thereof, or (2) exclusively from the income and revenues of certain designated housing projects whether or not they were financed in whole or in part with the proceeds of such bonds; provided, however, that the credit of the authority shall not be pledged to the payment of such bonds, but such bonds shall be payable only (and the bonds shall so state on their face) from the revenues of the designated housing project or projects and the funds received from the sale or disposal thereof and, if the authority so determines, shall be additionally secured by a trust indenture pledging such revenues or, in certain instances as hereinafter provided, by a mortgage of the property comprising such designated housing project or projects and the revenues therefrom.

(b) Bonds for the payment of the principal and interest of which the credit of the authority is pledged and which may be additionally secured by a pledge of the revenues of the authority or any part thereof pursuant to a resolution or trust indenture of the authority or, in certain instances as hereinafter provided, may be additionally secured by a mortgage of the property and revenues of the authority or any part thereof.

Neither the commissioners of the authority nor any person executing the bonds shall be liable personally on the bonds by reason of the issuance thereof.

The bonds and other obligations of the authority (and such bonds and obligations shall so state on their face) shall not be a debt of any city or municipality located within its boundaries or of the State and neither the State nor any such city or municipality shall be liable thereon, nor in any event shall they be payable out of any funds or properties other than those of the authority. The bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation of the laws of the State. Bonds may be issued under this article notwithstanding any debt or other limitation prescribed in any statute. (1935, c. 456, s. 14.)

§ 6243(15). Form and sale of bonds.—The bonds of the authority shall be authorized by its resolution and shall be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, mature at such time or times, not exceeding sixty years from their respective dates, bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding six per centum (6%) per annum payable semi-annually, be in such denominations (which may be made interchangeable) be in such form, either coupon or registered, carry such registration privileges, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium) as such resolution or its trust indenture or mortgage may provide.

The bonds may be sold at public sale held after notice published once at least ten days prior to such sale in a newspaper having a general circulation in the city and in a financial newspaper published in the city of New York, New York or in the city of Chicago, Illinois, provided, however, that such bonds may be sold to the federal government at private sale without any public advertisement. The bonds may be sold at such price or prices as the authority shall determine provided that the interest cost to maturity of the money received for any issue of said bonds shall not exceed six per centum (6%) per annum.

Pending the authorization, preparation, execution or delivery of definitive bonds, the authority may issue interim certificates, or other temporary obligations to the purchaser of such bonds. Such interim certificates, or other temporary obligations, shall be in such form, contain such terms, conditions and provisions, bear such date or dates, and evidence such agreements relating to their discharge or payment or the delivery of definitive bonds as the authority may by resolution, trust indenture or mortgage determine.

In case any of the officers whose signatures appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officers before the delivery of such bonds, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until such delivery.

The authority shall have power out of any funds available therefor to purchase any bonds issued by it at a price not more than the principal amount thereof and the accrued interest; provided, however, that bonds payable exclusively from the revenues of a designated project or projects shall be purchased out of any such revenues available therefor. All bonds so purchased shall be cancelled. This paragraph shall not apply to the redemption of bonds.

Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds, interim certificates, or other obligations issued pursuant to this article shall be fully negotiable. (1935, c. 456, s. 15.)

§ 6243(16). Provisions of bonds, trust indentures, and mortgages.—In connection with the issuance of bonds and/or the incurring of any obligation under a lease and in order to secure the payment of such bonds and/or obligations, the authority shall have power:

(1) To pledge by resolution, trust indenture, mortgage (subject to the limitations hereinafter imposed), or other contract all or any part of its rents, fees, or revenues.

(2) To covenant against mortgaging all or any part of its property, real or personal, then owned or thereafter acquired, or against permitting or suffering any lien thereon.

(3) To covenant with respect to limitations on its right to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any housing project or any part thereof, or with respect to limitations on its right to undertake additional housing projects.

(4) To covenant against pledging all or any part of its rents, fees and revenues to which its right then exists or the right to which may thereafter come into existence or against permitting or suffering any lien thereon.

(5) To provide for the release of property, rents, fees and revenues from any pledge or mortgage, and to reserve rights and powers in, or the right to dispose of, property which is subject to a pledge or mortgage.

(6) To covenant as to the bonds to be issued pursuant to any resolution, trust indenture, mortgage or other instrument and as to the issuance of such bonds in escrow or otherwise, and as to the use and disposition of the proceeds thereof.

(7) To covenant as to what other, or additional debt, may be incurred by it.

(8) To provide for the terms, form, registration, exchange, execution and authentication of bonds.

(9) To provide for the replacement of lost, destroyed or mutilated bonds.

(10) To covenant that the authority warrants the title to the premises.

(11) To covenant as to the rents and fees to be charged, the amount (calculated as may be determined) to be raised each year or other period of time by rents, fees, and other revenues and as to the use and disposition to be made thereof.

(12) To covenant as to the use of any or all of its property, real or personal.

(13) To create or to authorize the creation of special funds in which there shall be segregated (a) the proceeds of any loan and/or grant; (b) all of the rents, fees and revenues of any housing project or projects or parts thereof; (c) any monies held for the payment of the costs of operation and maintenance of any such housing projects or as a reserve for the meeting of contingencies in the operation and maintenance thereof; (d) any monies held for the payment of the principal and interest on its bonds or the sums due under its leases and/or as a reserve for such payments; and (e) any moneys held for any other reserves or contingencies; and to covenant as to the use and disposal of the monies held in such funds.

(14) To redeem the bonds, and to covenant for their redemption and to provide the terms and conditions thereof.

(15) To covenant against extending the time for the payment of its bonds or interest thereon, directly or indirectly, by any means or in any manner.

(16) To prescribe the procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bond holders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of bonds the holders of which must consent thereto and the manner in which such consent may be given.

(17) To covenant as to the maintenance of its property, the replacement thereof, the insurance to be carried thereon and the use and disposition of insurance moneys.

(18) To vest in an obligee of the authority the right, in the event of the failure of the authority to observe or perform any covenant on its part to be kept or performed, to cure any such default and to advance any moneys necessary for such purpose, and the moneys so advanced may be made an additional obligation of the authority with such interest, security and priority as may be provided in any trust indenture, mortgage, lease or contract of the authority with reference thereto.

(19) To covenant and prescribe as to the events of default and terms and conditions upon which any or all of its bonds shall become or may be declared due before maturity and as to the terms and conditions upon which such declaration and its consequences may be waived.

(20) To covenant as to the rights, liabilities, powers and duties arising upon the breach by it of any covenant, condition, or obligation.

(21) To covenant to surrender possession of all or any part of any housing project or projects upon the happening of an event of default (as defined in the contract) and to vest in an obligee the right without judicial proceedings to take possession and to use, operate, manage and control such housing projects or any part thereof, and to collect and receive all rents, fees and revenues arising therefrom in the same manner as the authority itself might do and to dispose of the monies collected in accordance with the agreement of the authority with such obligee.

(22) To vest in a trustee or trustees the right to enforce any covenant made to secure, to pay, or in relation to the bonds, to provide for the powers and duties of such trustee or trustees, to limit liabilities thereof and to provide the terms and conditions upon which the trustee or trustees or the holders of bonds or any proportion of them may enforce any such covenant.

(23) To make covenants other than in addition to the covenants herein expressly authorized, of like or different character.

(24) To execute all instruments necessary or convenient in the exercise of the powers herein granted or in the performance of its covenants or duties, which may contain such covenants and provisions, in addition to those above specified as the government or any purchaser of the bonds of the authority may reasonably require.

(25) To make such covenants and to do any and all such acts and things as may be necessary or convenient or desirable in order to secure its bonds, or in the absolute discretion of the authority tend to make the bonds more marketable; notwithstanding that such covenants, acts or things may not be enumerated herein; it being the intention hereof to give the authority power to do all things in the issuance of bonds, in the provisions for their security that are not inconsistent with the constitution of the State and no consent or approval of any judge or court shall be required thereof; provided, however, that the authority shall have no power to mortgage all or any part of its property, real or personal, except as provided in section 6243(17). (1935, c. 456, s. 16.)

§ 6243(17). Power to mortgage when project financed with governmental aid.—In connection with any project financed in whole or in part by a government, the authority shall also have power to mortgage all or any part of its property, real or personal, then owned or thereafter acquired, and thereby:

(a) To vest in a government the right, upon the happening of an event of default (as defined in such mortgage), to foreclose such mortgage through judicial proceedings or through the exercise of a power of sale without judicial proceedings, so long as a government shall be the holder of any of the bonds secured by such mortgage.

(b) To vest in a trustee or trustees the right, upon the happening of an event of default (as defined in such mortgage), to foreclose such mortgage through judicial proceedings or through the exercise of a power of sale without judicial proceedings, but only with the consent of the government which aided in financing the housing project involved.

(c) To vest in other obligees the right to foreclose such mortgage by judicial proceedings, but only with the consent of the government which aided in financing the project involved.

(d) To vest in an obligee, including a government, the right in foreclosing any mortgage as aforesaid, to foreclose such mortgage as to all or such part or parts of the property covered thereby as such obligee (in its absolute discretion) shall elect; the institution, prosecution and conclusion of any such foreclosure proceedings and/or the sale of any such parts of the mortgaged property shall not affect in any manner or to any extent the lien of the mortgage on the parts of the mortgaged property not included in such proceedings or not sold as aforesaid. (1935, c. 456, s. 17.)

§ 6243(18). Remedies of an obligee of authority.—An obligee of the authority shall have the right in addition to all other rights which may be conferred on such obligee subject only to any contractual restrictions binding upon such obligee:

(a) By mandamus, suit, action or proceeding in law or equity (all of which may be joined in one action) to compel the authority, and the commissioners, officers, agents or employees thereof to perform each and every term, provision and covenant contained in any contract of the authority, and to require the carrying out of any or all covenants and agreements of the authority and the fulfillment of all duties imposed upon the authority by this article.

(b) By suit, action or proceeding in equity to enjoin any acts or things which may be unlawful, or the violation of any of the rights of such obligee of the authority.

(c) By suit, action or proceeding in any court of competent jurisdiction to cause possession of any housing project or any part thereof to be surrendered to any obligee having the right to such possession pursuant to any contract of the authority. (1935, c. 456, s. 18.)

§ 6243(19). Additional remedies conferrable by mortgage or trust indenture.—Any authority shall have power by its trust indenture, mortgage, lease or other contract to confer upon any obligee holding or representing a specified amount in bonds, lease or other obligations the right upon the happening of an "event of default" as defined in such instrument:

(a) By suit, action or proceeding in any court of competent jurisdiction to obtain the appointment of a receiver of any housing project of the authority or any part or parts thereof. If such receiver be appointed, he may enter and take possession of such housing project or any part or parts thereof and operate and maintain same, and collect and receive all fees, rents, revenues, or other charges thereafter arising therefrom in the same manner as the authority itself might do and shall keep such moneys in a separate account or accounts and apply the same in accordance with the obligations of the authority as the court shall direct.

(b) By suit, action or proceeding in any court of competent jurisdiction to require the authority and the commissioners thereof to account as if it and they were the trustees of an express trust. (1935, c. 456, s. 19.)

§ 6243(20). Remedies cumulative. — All the rights and remedies hereinabove conferred shall be cumulative and in addition to all other rights and remedies that may be conferred upon such obligee of the authority by law or by any contract with the authority. (1935, c. 456, s. 20.)

§ 6243(23). Contracts with federal government.—In addition to the powers conferred upon the authority by other provisions of this article, the authority is empowered to borrow money and/or accept grants from the federal government for or in aid of the construction of any housing project which such authority is authorized by this article to undertake, to take over any land acquired by the federal government for the construction of a housing project, to take over or lease or manage any housing project constructed or owned by the federal government, and to these ends, to enter into such contracts, mortgages, trust indentures, leases or other agreements as the federal government may require including agreements that the federal government shall have the right to supervise and approve the construction, maintenance and operation of such housing project. It is the purpose and intent of this article to authorize every authority to do any and all things necessary to secure the financial aid and the co-operation of the federal government in the construction, maintenance and operation of any housing project which the authority is empowered by this article to undertake. (1935, c. 456, s. 23.)

§ 6243(24). Security for funds deposited by authorities. — The authority may by resolution provide that (1) all moneys deposited by it shall be secured by obligations of the United States or of the State of a market value equal at all times to the amount of such deposits or (2) by any securities in which savings banks may legally invest funds within their control or (3) by an undertaking with such sureties as shall be approved by the authority faithfully to keep and pay over upon the order of the authority any such deposits and agreed interest thereon, and all banks and trust companies are authorized to give any such security for such deposits. (1935, c. 456, s. 24.)

§ 6243(25). Bonds are legal investments.—Any and all bonds of an authority are hereby declared to be securities in which the city, any municipality, or the state may invest. Bonds of the authority, when they are secured by a first pledge of the revenues of, or a first mortgage lien on, property, which pledge or lien does not exceed sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of the value of such property, are hereby declared to be securities in which all public officers and bodies of the State, other municipal corporations, municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations, all savings banks and savings institutions, including savings and loan associations, all executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and all other fiduciaries in the State may legally invest funds within their control. (1935, c. 456, s. 25.)

§ 6243(26). Tax exemptions. — The authority shall be exempt from the payment of any taxes or fees to the State or any subdivision thereof, or to any officer or employee of the State or any subdivision thereof. The property of an authority shall be exempt from all local and municipal taxes and for the purposes of such tax exemption, it is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination that an authority is and shall be deemed to be a municipal corporation. Bonds, notes, debentures and other evidences of indebtedness of an authority are declared to be issued for a public purpose and to be public instrumentalities and, together with interest thereon, shall be exempt from taxes when same are held by the federal government or by any purchaser from the federal government or anyone acquiring title from or through such purchaser. (1935, c. 456, s. 26.)

§ 6243(27). Reports. — The authority shall at least once a year file with the mayor of the city a report of its activities for the preceding year, and shall make any recommendations with reference to any additional legislation or other action that may be necessary in order to carry out the purposes of this article. (1935, c. 456, s. 27.)

§ 6243(28). Restriction on right of eminent domain; right of appeal preserved; investigation by utilities commission. — Notwithstanding any finding of public convenience and necessity, either in general or specific, by the terms of this article, the right of eminent domain shall not be exercised unless and until a certificate of public convenience and necessity for such project has been issued by the utilities commission of North Carolina, and the proceedings leading up to the issuing of such certificate of public convenience and necessity, and the right to appeal therefrom shall be as now provided by law and said rights are hereby expressly reserved to all interested parties in said proceedings. That in addition to the powers now granted by law to the utilities commission of North Carolina, the said utilities commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to investigate and examine all projects set up or attempted to be set up under the provisions of this article and determine the question of the public convenience and necessity for said project. (1935, c. 456, s. 28.)

§ 6243(29). Article controlling.—In so far as the provisions of this article are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, the provisions of this article shall be controlling. (1935, c. 456, s. 30.)

Art. 2. Municipal Coöperation and Aid

§ 6243(30). Finding and declaration of necessity. — It is hereby declared that unsanitary or unsafe dwelling accommodations exist in various areas of the State, and that consequently many persons of low income are forced to reside in such dwelling accommodations; that these conditions cause an increase in and spread of disease and crime and constitute a menace to the health, safety, morals and welfare of the citizens of the State and impair economic values; that the clearance, replanning and reconstruction of the areas in which unsanitary or unsafe housing conditions exist and the providing of safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income are public uses and purposes for which private property may be acquired; that it is in the public interest that work on such projects be instituted as soon as possible in order to relieve unemployment which now constitutes an emergency; and the necessity in the public interest for the provisions hereinafter enacted, is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination. (1935, c. 408, s. 1.)

§ 6243(31). Definitions.—The following terms, whenever used or referred to in this article shall have the following respective meanings, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(1) "Housing authority" shall mean any housing authority organized pursuant to the housing authorities law of this State.

(2) "City" shall mean any city of the State having a population of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants (according to the last federal census) which is, or is about to be, included in the territorial boundaries of a housing authority.

(3) "Municipality" shall mean any city, town or incorporated village of the State.

(4) "Housing project" shall mean any undertaking (a) to demolish, clear, remove, alter or repair unsafe or unsanitary housing, and/or (b) to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income, and said term may also include such buildings and equipment for recreational or social assemblies for educational, health or welfare purposes, and such necessary utilities as are designed primarily for the benefit and use of the housing authority and/or the occupants of such dwelling accommodations. (1935, c. 408, s. 2.)

§ 6243(32). Conveyance, lease or agreement in aid of housing project.—For the purpose of aiding and coöperating in the planning, construction and operation of housing projects located within their respective territorial boundaries, the State, its subdivisions and agencies, and any county, city, or municipality of the State may, upon such terms, with or without consideration, as it may determine:

(a) grant, sell, convey or lease any of its property to a housing authority or the United States of America or any agency thereof; and

(b) to the extent that it is within the scope of each of their respective functions, (1) cause the services customarily provided by each of them to be rendered for the benefit of the housing authority and/or the occupants of such housing projects, and (2) provide and maintain parks and sewerage, water and others facilities adjacent to or in connection with housing projects, and (3) enter into any agreement to open, close, pave, install, or change the grade of streets, roads, roadways, alleys, sidewalks, or other such facilities, to change the city or municipality map, to plan, replan, zone or rezone any part of the city or municipality.

In connection with the exercise of this power, any city or municipality may incur the entire expense of any such public improvements located within its territorial boundaries without assessment against abutting property owners. Any law or statute to the contrary notwithstanding, any gift, grant, sale, conveyance, lease or agreement provided for in this section may be made by the State, its subdivisions and agencies, and any county, city, or municipality of the State without appraisal, public notice, advertisement or public bidding. (1935, c. 408, s. 3.)

§ 6243(33). Advances and donations by the city and municipality.—The council or other governing body of the city included within the territorial boundaries of such authority is authorized to make an estimate of the amount of money necessary for the administrative expenses and overhead of the housing authority during the first year following the incorporation of such housing authority, and to appropriate such amount to the authority out of any moneys in the city treasury not appropriated to some other purposes, and to cause the moneys so appropriated to be paid the authority as a donation, and moneys so appropriated and paid to a housing authority by a city shall be deemed to be a necessary expense of such city. In addition thereto, the city and any municipality located in whole or in part within the boundaries of a housing authority shall have the power annually and from time to time to make donations or advances to the authority of such sums as the city or municipality in its discretion may determine. The authority, when it has money available therefor, shall reimburse the city or municipality for all advances by way of loan made to it. (1935, c. 408, s. 5.)

§ 6243(34). Action of city or municipality by resolution.—Except as otherwise provided in this article or by the constitution of the State, all action authorized to be taken under this article by the council or other governing body of any city or of any municipality may be by resolution adopted by a majority of all the members of its council or other governing body, which resolution may be adopted at the meeting of the council or other governing body at which such resolution is introduced and shall take effect immediately upon such adoption, and no such resolution need be published or posted. (1935, c. 408, s. 5.)

§ 6243(36). Purpose of article.—It is the purpose and intent of this article that the State, its subdivisions and agencies, and any county, city or municipality of the State shall be authorized, and are hereby authorized, to do any and all things necessary to aid and coöperate in the planning, construction and operation of housing projects by the United States of America and by housing authorities. (1935, c. 408, s. 7.)

§ 6243(37). Supplemental nature of article. — The powers conferred by this article shall be in addition and supplemental to the powers conferred by any other law. (1935, c. 408, s. 8.)

Art. 3. Eminent Domain

§ 6243(38). Finding and declaration of necessity.—It is hereby declared that unsanitary or unsafe dwelling accommodations exist in various areas of the State and that consequently many persons of low income are forced to reside in such dwelling accommodations; that these conditions cause an increase in and spread of disease and crime and constitute a menace to the health, safety, morals and welfare of the citizens of the State and impair economic values; that the clearance, replanning and reconstruction of the areas in which unsanitary or unsafe housing conditions exist and the providing of safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income are public uses and purposes for which private property may be acquired; that it is in the public interest that work on such projects be instituted as soon as possible in order to relieve unemployment which now constitutes an emergency; and the necessity in the public interest for the provision hereinafter enacted, is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination. (1935, c. 409, s. 1.)

§ 6243(39). Housing project.—The term "housing project" whenever used in this article shall mean any undertaking (a) to demolish, clear, remove, alter or repair unsafe or unsanitary housing and/or (b) to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income, and said term may also include such buiidings and equipment for recreational or social assemblies for educational, health or welfare purposes, and such necessary utilities as are designed primarily for the benefit and use of the occupants of such dwelling accommodations. (1935, c. 409, s. 2.)

§ 6243(40). Eminent domain for housing projects.—Any corporation, which is an agency of the United States of America, shall have the right to acquire by eminent domain any real property, including improvements and fixtures thereon, which it may deem necessary for a housing project being constructed, operated or aided by it or the United States of America. Any corporation borrowing money or receiving other financial assistance from the United States of America or any agency thereof for the purpose of financing the construction or operation of any housing project or projects, the operation of which will be subject to public supervision or regulation, shall have the right to acquire by eminent domain any real property, including fixtures and improvements thereon, which it may deem necessary for such project. A housing project shall be deemed to be subject to public supervision or regulation within the meaning of this article if the rents to be charged by it are in any way subject to the supervision, regulation or approval of the United States of America, the State or any of their subdivisions or agencies, or by a housing authority, city, municipality or county, whether such right to supervise, regulate or approve be by virtue of any law, statute, contract or otherwise.

Any such corporate agency of the United States of America or any such corporation, upon the adoption of a resolution declaring that the acquisition of the property described therein is in the public interest and necessary for public use, may exercise the power of eminent domain pursuant to the provisions of either: (a) Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, section 1715-1733, both inclusive, (b) Any other applicable statutory provisions, now in force or hereafter enacted for the exercise of the power of eminent domain. (1935, c. 409, s. 3.)

ercised unless and until a certificate of public convenience and necessity for such project has been issued by the utilities commission of North Carolina, and the proceedings leading up to the issuing of such certificate of public convenience and necessity, and the right to appeal therefrom shall be as now provided by law and said rights are hereby expressly reserved to all interested parties in said proceedings. That in addition to the powers now granted by law to the utilities commission of North Carolina, the said utilities commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to investigate and examine all projects set up or attempted to be set up under the provisions of this article and determine the question of the public convenience and necessity for said project. (1935, c. 409, s. 4.)

IMPEACHMENT

Art. 1. The Court

§ 6244. Senate is court of impeachment; quorum.—The court for the trial of impeachments shall be the senate. A majority of the members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum. (Rev., s. 4623; Const., Art. IV, s. 3; Code, ss. 2923, 2924; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 1.)

§ 6245. Chief justice presides in impeachment of governor.—When the governor of the state, or lieutenant-governor, upon whom the powers and duties of the office of governor have devolved, is impeached, the chief justice of the supreme court shall preside; and in a case requiring the chief justice to preside, notice shall be given him by order of the senate, of the time and place fixed for the consideration of the articles of impeachment, with a request to attend; and the chief justice shall preside over the senate during the consideration of said articles upon the trial of the person impeached. But the chief justice shall not vote on any question during the trial, and shall pronounce decision only as the organ of the senate with its assent. (Rev., s. 4624; Const., Art. IV, s. 4; Code, s. 2927; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 6.)

§ 6246. Power of the senate as a court.—The senate, as a court, shall have power to compel the attendance of parties and witnesses, to enforce obedience to its orders, mandates, writs, precepts, and judgments, to preserve order, to punish, in a summary way, contempts of its authority, orders, mandates, writs, precepts, or judgments, to adjourn from time to time, and to make all lawful rules and regulations which it may deem essential or conducive to the ends of justice. (Rev., s. 4626; Code, s. 2926; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 4.)

§ 6247. Power of presiding officer.—The presiding officer of the senate shall have power—

1. To direct all necessary preparations in the senate chamber.
2. To make and issue by himself or by the clerk of the senate all orders, mandates, writs, and precepts authorized by law or by the senate.
3. To direct all forms of procedure during the trial not otherwise specially provided for.
4. To decide in the first instance, without a division, all questions of evidence and incidental questions; but the same shall, on demand of one-fifth of the members present, be decided by yeas and nays. (Rev., s. 4627; Code, s. 2927; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 5.)

§ 6248. Causes for impeachment.—Every officer in this state shall be liable to impeachment for—

1. Corruption or other misconduct in his official capacity.
2. Habitual drunkenness.
3. Intoxication while engaged in the exercise of his office.
4. Drunkenness in any public place.
5. Mental and physical incompetence to discharge the duties of his office.
6. Any criminal matter, the conviction whereof would tend to bring his office into public contempt. (Rev., s. 4628; Code, s. 2937; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 16.)

A judge of probate is not subject to impeachment under this section. People v. Heaton, 77 N. C. 18.

Art. 2. Procedure in Impeachment

§ 6249. Articles of impeachment preferred.—All impeachments must be delivered by the house of representatives to the presiding officer of the senate, who shall thereupon cause proclamation to be made in the following words:

All persons are commanded to keep silence, on pain of imprisonment, while the house of representatives is exhibiting to the senate of North Carolina articles of impeachment against.....

After which the articles shall be exhibited, and then the presiding officer of the senate shall inform the house of representatives that the senate will take proper order on the subject of impeachment, of which due notice shall be given to the house of representatives. (Rev., s. 4630; Code, s. 2925; 1868-9, c. 168, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 6250. When president of senate impeached, another officer chosen.—If the president of the senate be impeached, notice thereof shall immediately be given to the senate by the house of representatives, in order that another president may be chosen. (Rev., s. 4631; Code, s. 2935; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 14.)

§ 6251. Notice given to the accused.—The senate, upon the presentation of articles of impeachment and its organization as a court, shall forthwith cause the person impeached to appear and answer the articles exhibited, either in person or by attorney. He shall be entitled to a copy of the impeachment and have a reasonable time to answer the same. (Rev., s. 4632; Code, s. 2928; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 7.)

§ 6252. Accused entitled to counsel.—The person accused is entitled on the trial of impeachment to the aid of counsel. (Rev., s. 4629; Code, s. 2929; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 8.)

§ 6253. Time of hearing fixed.—When issue is joined in the trial of an impeachment the court shall fix a time and place for the trial thereof. (Rev., s. 4633; Code, s. 2930; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 9.)

§ 6254. Oath administered to members.—At the time and place appointed, and before the commencement of the trial, the presiding officer of the senate shall administer to each member of the court then present, and to other members as they appear, an oath or affirmation truly and impartially to try and determine the charge in question, under the constitution and laws, according to the evidence. No member of the court shall sit or give his vote upon the trial until he shall have taken such oath or affirmation. (Rev., s. 4625; Code, s. 2931; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 10.)

Art. 3. Effect of Impeachment

§ 6255. Accused suspended during trial.—Every officer impeached shall be suspended from the exercise of his office until his acquittal. (Rev., s. 4634; Code, s. 2934; 1868-9, c. 168, s. 13.)

§ 6256. Manner of conviction; judgment; indictment.—No person shall be convicted on an impeachment without the concurrence of two-thirds of the senators present. Upon a conviction of the person impeached, judgment may be given that he be removed from office, or that he be disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit under this state, or both. Every person convicted on impeachment shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment and punishment according to law. (Rev., s. 4635; Code, ss. 2932, 2933, 2936; 1868-9, c. 168, ss. 11, 12, 15; see Const., Art. IV, ss. 3, 4.)

INDIANS

§ 6257. Cherokee Indians of Robeson County; rights and privileges.—The persons residing in Robeson, Richmond, and Sampson counties, who have heretofore been known as "Croatan Indians" or "Indians of Robeson County," together with their descendants, shall hereafter be known and designated as "Cherokee Indians of Robeson County," and by that name shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges heretofore or hereafter conferred, by any law or laws of the state of North Carolina, upon the indians heretofore known as the "Croatan Indians" or "Indians of Robeson County." In all laws enacted by the General Assembly of North Carolina relating to said indians subsequent to the enactment of said chapter fifty-one of the Laws of eighteen hundred and eighty-five, the words "Croatan Indians" and "Indians of Robeson County" are stricken out and the words "Cherokee Indians of Robeson County" inserted in lieu thereof. (Rev., s. 4168; 1885, c. 51, s. 2; 1911, c. 215; P. L. 1911, c. 263; 1913, c. 123.)

See annotations to section 5847.

§ 6258. Separate privileges in schools and institutions.—Such Cherokee indians of Robeson county and the indians of Person county, defined in the chapter Education, section 5546, shall be entitled to the following rights and privileges:

1. Separate schools, with the educational privileges provided in the chapter Education.

2. Suitable accommodations in the state hospital for the insane at Raleigh, as provided in the chapter Hospitals for the Insane, in the article entitled Organization and Management.

3. That the sheriffs, jailers, or other properties of Robeson and Person counties shall provide in the common jails of said counties, and in the homes for the aged and infirm thereof, separate cells, wards, or apartments for such indians in all cases where it shall be necessary under the laws of this state to commit any of said indians to such jails or county homes. (1911, c. 215, s. 6; 1913, c. 123; P. L. 1913, c. 22.)

Cross References. — See annotations to section 5847. For separate schools in certain counties, see section 5546-5551; for care of insane, see section 6154.

§ 6259. Chapter not applicable to certain bands of Cherokees.—Neither this chapter nor any other act relating to said "Cherokee Indians of Robeson County" shall be construed so as to impose on said indians any powers, privileges, rights, or immunities, or any limitations on their power to contract, heretofore enacted with reference to the eastern band of Cherokee indians residing in Cherokee, Graham, Swain, Jackson, and other adjoining counties in North Carolina, or any other band or tribe of Cherokee indians other than those now residing, or who have since the Revolutionary War resided, in Robeson county, nor shall said "Cherokee Indians of Robeson County," as herein designated, be subject to the limitations provided in the chapter Contracts Requiring Writing, in section 989, entitled Contracts with Cherokee Indians. (1913, c. 123, s. 5.)

CHAPTER 105A
INDIAN ANTIQUITIES

§ 6259(1). Private landowners urged to refrain from destruction.—Private owners of lands containing Indian relics, artifacts, mounds or burial grounds are urged to refrain from the excavation or destruction thereof and to forbid such conduct by others, without the cooperation of the director of the state museum and the secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission or without the assistance or supervision of some person designated by either as qualified to make scientific archaeological explorations. (1935, c. 198, s. 1.)

§ 6259(2). Possessors of relics urged to commit them to custody of state agencies.—All persons having in their possession collections of Indian relics, artifacts, and antiquities which are in danger of being lost, destroyed or scattered are urged to commit them to the custody of the North Carolina state museum, the North Carolina Historical Commission, or some other public agency or institution within the State which is qualified to preserve and exhibit them for their historic, scientific and educational value to the people of the State. (1935, c. 198, s. 2.)

§ 6259(3). Preservation of relics on public lands. — It shall be the duty of any person in charge of any construction or excavation on any lands owned by the State, by any public agency or institution, by any county, or by any municipal corporation, to report promptly to and preserve for the director of the state museum or the secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission any Indian relic, artifact, mound, or burial ground discovered in the course of such construction or excavation. (1935, c. 198, s. 3.)

§ 6259(4). Destruction or sale of relic from public lands made misdemeanor. — Any person who shall excavate, disturb, remove, destroy or sell any Indian relic or artifact, or any of the contents of any mound or burial ground, on or from any lands owned by the State, by any public agency or institution, by any county, or by any municipal corporation, except with the written approval of the director of the state museum or the secretary of the North Carolina Historical Commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1935, c. 198, s. 4.)

CHAPTER 106
INSURANCE

SUBCHAPTER I. INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

Art. 1. Title and Definitions

§ 6260. Title of the chapter.—This chapter may be cited and shall be known as the Insurance Law. (Rev., s. 4677; 1890, c. 54.)

For full treatment of insurance see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig 765.

Purpose of Chapter. — Our statute-law makes elaborate and minute provisions for the protection of its people from imposition under the guise of insurance, and our insurance department is created and charged with the special duty of seeing that these provisions are complied with. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 73 S. E. 122.

§ 6261. Terms defined.—When consistent with the context and not obviously used in a different sense, the term "company" or "insurance company", as used in this chapter, includes all corporations, associations, partnerships, or individuals engaged as principals in the business of insurance; the word "'domestic" designates those companies incorporated or formed, and with home office, in this state; and the word "foreign," when used without limitation, includes all those formed by authority of any other state government, and whose home office is not located in this state. (Rev., s. 4678; 1899, c. 54, s. 1.)

Insurances Contemplated. — The insurance law clearly contemplates both incorporated and unincorporated companies. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 73 S. E. 122.

§ 6262. Contract of insurance.—A contract of insurance is an agreement by which one party for a consideration promises to pay money or its equivalent or to do some act of value to the insured upon, and as an indemnity for, the destruction, loss, or injury of something in which the other party has an interest. (Rev., s. 4679; 1899, c. 54, s. 2.)

Cited in Charleston, etc., Ry. Co. v. Lassiter & Co., 207 N. C. 408, 413, 177 S. E. 9.

Art. 2. Insurance Commissioner

§ 6263. Department established.—The insurance department is hereby established as a separate and distinct department, which is charged with the execution of laws relating to insurance and other subjects placed under the department. (Rev., s. 4680; 1899, c. 54, s. 3; 1901, c. 391, s. 1.)

Cited in O'Neal v. Wake County, 196 N. C. 184, 189, 145 S. E. 28.

§ 6264. Commissioner's election and term of office.—The chief officer at the insurance department shall be called the insurance commissioner. He shall be elected by the people in the manner prescribed for the election of members of the general assembly and state officers, and the result of the election shall be declared in the same manner and at the same time as the election of state officers is now declared. His term of office begins on the first day of January next after his election, and is for four years or until his successor is elected and qualified. If a vacancy occurs during the term, it shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term. (Rev., ss. 4680, 4681; 1907, c. 868.)

§ 6265. Bond of commissioner.—The insurance commissioner, before he enters upon the execution of his official duties, must give a bond to the state in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the state treasurer, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office during his term of office; this bond extends to the faithful execution of the office of insurance commissioner by the person elected or appointed thereto until a new election or appointment of insurance commissioner is made and a new bond given. (Rev., s. 293; 1899, c. 54, s. 55; 1905, c. 430, s. 2.)

§ 6266. Seal of department.—The insurance commissioner, with the approval of the governor, shall devise a seal, with suitable inscription, for his office, a description of which, with the certificate of approval by the governor, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, with an impression thereof, which seal shall thereupon become the seal of office of the commissioner of the insurance department. The seal may be renewed whenever necessary. (Rev., s. 4682; 1899, c. 54, s. 11.)

§§ 6267, 6268. Repealed by 1925, c. 275, s. 6.

§ 6269. Duties of commissioner.—The insurance commisssioner shall:

(1) See that all laws relating to the companies, associations, and orders under the insurance department are faithfully executed.

(2) Furnish to each of the companies incorporated by this state and to the attorneys or general agents of companies and associations incorporated by other states and foreign governments, doing business in this state, printed forms for all statements required by law.

(3) On or before the tenth day of each month, and oftener should the sum to the credit of the state exceed $20,000, pay over all taxes, licenses, and fees received during the previous month to the state treasurer.

(4) Perform all duties now imposed upon him by law in regard to the examination, supervision, and conduct of companies and associations and orders.

(5) Upon a proper application by any citizen of this state, give a statement or synopsis of the provisions of any insurance contract offered or issued to such citizen.

He may administer the oaths in the discharge of his official duty. (Rev., s. 4689; 1899, c. 54, s. 8; 1905, c. 430, s. 3.)

§ 6270. Commissioner to provide books; make inspection; compensation.—The insurance commissioner shall provide all books and blanks of every kind required to carry out the provisions of the law for inspection of buildings in towns and cities, and he or his deputy shall make inspections of the cities and towns of the state. Whenever the commissioner has reason to believe that the local inspectors are not doing their duty he or his deputy shall make special trips of inspection and take proper steps to have all the provisions of law relative to the investigation of fires and the prevention of fire waste enforced. Out of the amount collected from fire waste insurance companies for the investigation of fires and the prevention of fire waste one-twentieth of one per cent on the premium receipts is allowed the commissioner for the extra duties required by this section. (Rev., s. 4690; 1905, c. 506, s. 6.)

§ 6271. Reports and records kept for public inspection.—The insurance commissioner shall keep on file in his office, for the inspection of the public, all the reports received by him in obedience to law. He shall keep and preserve in a permanent form a record of his proceedings, including a concise statement of the result of all official examinations of companies, a report of the condition of receiverships of insolvent companies, an exhibit of the financial condition and business methods as disclosed by the official examinations of the same, or by their several statements; and such other information and comments in relation to insurance and the public interest therein as he deems fit and proper to preserve. He shall keep the records of fires and matters connected therewith as required by section 6074 of the chapter on Fire Protection, a record of the policies insuring property of the state, as required by section 6449 of this chapter, and a record of the proceedings attending the service of process on him as agent for a foreign insurance company, as required by section 6415 of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4683; 1899, c. 54, ss. 9, 77; 1907, c. 1000, s. 1.)

§ 6272. Original documents and certified copies as evidence.—Every certificate, assignment, or conveyance executed by the commissioner, in pursuance of any authority conferred on him by law and sealed with his seal of office, may be used as evidence and may be recorded in the proper recording offices, in the same manner and with like effect as a deed regularly acknowledged or proved before an officer authorized by law to take the probate of deeds; and all copies of papers in the office of the commissioner, certified by him and authenticated by his official seal, shall be evidence as the original. (Rev., s. 4684; 1899, c. 54, s. 11.)

§ 6272(a). Admissibility as evidence of agent's authority. — In any case or controversy arising in any court of original jurisdiction within this State wherein it is necessary to establish the question as to whether any insurance or other corporation or agent thereof is or has been licensed by the State Insurance Department to do business in this State, the certificate of the Insurance Commissioner under the seal of his office shall be admissible in evidence as proof of such corporation or agent's authority as conferred by the State Insurance Department. (1929, c. 289, s. 1.)

§ 6273. Reports of commissioner to the governor and general assembly.—The commissioner shall biennially submit to the general assembly, thereof [through] the governor a report of his official act. The commissioner shall, from time to time, report to the general assembly any change which in his opinion should be made in the laws relating to insurance and other subjects pertaining to his department. On or before the first day of February of each year in which the general assembly is in session he shall make to the governor the recommendations called for in this section, to be transmitted to the general assembly, with the last annual report of this department, including receipts and disbursements; and there shall be printed by the public printer five hundred copies for the use of the commissioner and the usual number for the use of the general assembly. (Rev., ss. 4687, 4688; 1899, c. 54, ss. 6, 7, 10; 1901, c. 391, s. 2; 1927, c. 217, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—Before the amendment of 1927 the commissioners by this section were required to submit annually to the governor a report of their official acts, etc.

§ 6274. Authority over all insurance companies; no exemptions from license.—Every insurance company, association or order, as well as every bond, investment, dividend, guarantee, registry, title guarantee, debenture, or such other like company (not strictly an insurance company, as defined in the general insurance laws), must be licensed and supervised by the insurance commissioner, and must pay all licenses, taxes, and fees as prescribed in the insurance laws of the state for the class of company, association, or order to which it belongs. No provision in any statute, public or private, may relieve any company, association, or order from the supervision prescribed for the class of companies, associations, or orders of like character, or release it from the payment of the licenses, taxes, and fees prescribed for companies, associations, and orders of the same class; and all such special provisions or exemptions are hereby repealed. It is unlawful for the insurance commissioner to grant or issue a license to any company, association, or order, or agent for them, claiming such exemption from supervision by his department and release for the payment of license, fees, and taxes. (Rev., s. 4691; 1903, c. 594, ss. 1, 2, 3.)

A fraternal insurance order incorporated under the laws of another state, but with branch offices, comes within the meaning of this section and must be licensed and supervised by the insurance commissioner. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 73 S. E. 122.

§ 6275. Examinations to be made.—Before granting certificates of authority to an insurance company to issue policies or make contracts of insurance the commissioner shall be satisfied, by such examination and evidence as he sees fit to make and require, that the company is otherwise duly qualified under the laws of the state to transact business therein. As often as once in three years he shall personally or by his deputy visit each domestic insurance company and thoroughly inspect and examine its affairs, especially as to its financial condition and ability to fulfill its obligations and whether it has complied with the laws. He shall also make an examination of any such company whenever he deems it prudent to do so, or upon the request of five or more of the stockholders, creditors, policyholders, or persons pecuniarily interested therein, who shall make affidavit of their belief, with specifications of their reasons therefor, that the company is in an unsound condition. Whenever the commissioner deems it prudent for the protection of policyholders in this state he shall in like manner visit and examine, or cause to be visited and examined by some competent person appointed by him for that purpose, any foreign insurance company applying for admission or already admitted to do business in this state, and such company shall pay the proper charges incurred in this examination, including the expenses of the commissioner or his deputy and the expenses and compensation of his assistants employed therein. For these purposes the commissioner or his deputy or persons making the examination shall have free access to all the books and papers of the insurance company that relate to its business, and to the books and papers kept by any of its agents, and may summon, administer oaths to, and examine as witnesses, directors, officers, agents, and trustees of any such company, and any other person, in relation to its affairs, transactions, and condition. (Rev., s. 4692; 1899, c. 54, s. 13.)

§ 6276. Oath required for compliance with law.—Before issuing license to any insurance company to transact the business of insurance in this state, the insurance commissioner shall require, in every case, in addition to the other requirements provided for by law, that the company file with him the affidavit of its president or other chief officer that it has not violated any of the provisions of this chapter for the space of twelve months last past, and that it accepts the terms and obligations of this chapter as a part of the consideration of the license. (Rev., s. 4693; 1899, c. 54, s. 110; 1901, c. 391, s. 8.)

§ 6277. Investigation of charges.—Upon complaint being filed by a citizen of this state that a company authorized to do business in the state has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, the insurance commissioner shall diligently investigate the matter, and, if necessary, examine, under oath, by himself or his accredited representatives, at the head office located in the United States, the president and such other officer or agents of such companies as may be deemed proper; also all books, records, and papers of the same. He or his deputies shall have power to summon witnesses, and to compel them to appear before him, or either of them, and to testify under oath in relation to any matter which is, by the provisions of this law, a subject of inquiry and investigation, and may require the production of any book, paper, document, or other matter whatsoever deemed pertinent or necessary to such inquiry with the same force and effect as is possessed by courts of record in this state. (Rev., s. 4694; 1899, c. 54, s. 111; 1903, c. 438, s. 11; 1921, c. 136, s. 4; 1925, c. 275 s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1921 this section provided that a bond to secure expense or cost could be required by the commissioner from the complaining party. By the amendment of 1921, $5000 was appropriated to carry out this section. By the amendment of 1925 the provisions for a bond and for an appropriation were omitted.

§ 6278. Collection of expenses of examination.—If any company, authorized to do business in this state under this chapter, fails or refuses to pay the expenses of examination upon the presentation of a bill therefor by the insurance commissioner, the commissioner shall at once institute appropriate action against the company for the recovery of the same. (Rev., s. 4695; 1899, c. 54, s. 113.)

§ 6279. Commissioner to prescribe forms and furnish blanks for returns.—It is the duty of the insurance commissioner to furnish blank forms for statements, which forms may be changed by him from time to time when necessary to secure full information as to the standing, condition, and such other information desired of companies under his department. The following, or such other forms as he prescribes, shall be used:

1. Return of Stock Companies, Other than Life Companies.—1. State the name of company. 2. Where located. 3. When incorporated, and for what period. 4. Amount of capital. 5. Amount of capital actually paid in. 6. Cash value of real estate owned. 7. Amount loaned on mortgage on real estate. 8. Forfeitures and surplus accrued, held for and to be divided to any special class of policyholders; surplus accrued in policies in force not yet distributed. 16. All other liabilities and claims against the company. 17. Cash received for premiums. 18. Cash received for interest and rents. 19. Income from all other sources. 20. Amount paid for losses and claims. 21. Dividends of surplus to policyholders. 22. Amount paid for expenses. 23. All other expenditures. 24. Number, date, amount, and kind of each outstanding policy not heretofore returned, gross premium thereon, and age of the insured. 25. Number, date, and amount of each policy which has within the year ceased to be in force, now terminated, what has been paid to the legal holder of the policy, and the age of the insured. (Rev., s. 4708; 1899, c. 54, s. 104.)

§ 6280. Annual statements to be filed with commissioner.—Every insurance company, association, or order—domestic, through its officers, and foreign, through its general agent—shall file in the office of the insurance commissioner, on or before the first day of March in each year, in form and detail as the insurance commissioner prescribes, a statement showing the business standing and financial condition of such company, association, or order on the preceding thirty-first day of December, signed and sworn to by the chief managing agent or officer thereof, before the insurance commissioner or some officer authorized by law to administer oaths. The insurance commissioner shall, in December of each year, furnish to each of the insurance companies authorized to do business in the state two or more blanks adapted for their annual statements. (Rev., s. 4698; 1899, c. 54, ss. 72, 73, 83, 97, 90; 1901, c. 706, s. 2; 1903, c. 438, s. 9.)

§ 6281. Punishment for making false statement.—If any insurance company in its annual or other statement required by law shall wilfully misstate the facts, the insurance company and the person making oath to or subscribing the same shall severally be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 3493; 1899, c. 54, s. 97.)

§ 6282. Commissioner to examine statements and publish abstracts.—It is the duty of the insurance commissioner to receive and thoroughly examine each annual statement required by this chapter, and, if made in compliance with the laws of this state, to publish, at the expense of the company, an abstract of the same in one of the newspapers of the state, which newspaper may be selected by the general agent making the statement, if within thirty days after the filing of the statement he notifies the insurance commissioner, in writing, of the name of the paper selected by him. (Rev., s. 4699; 1899, c. 54, s. 74; 1901, c. 391, s. 6.)

§ 6283. Certificate and reports sent to superior court clerks.—The insurance commissioner shall keep on file in his office, for the inspection of the public, all the reports received by him in obedience to this chapter, and shall certify to the clerk of the superior court of each county an abstract of each annual statement at the expense of the company making the same, and receive therefor from each company the sum of four dollars: Provided, the insurance commissioner may, in lieu of said abstract, file with the clerks of the courts a copy of the advance sheets of his report or the full report, or both; and he shall also certify, at like expense, to such clerks, on the first day of May each year, a list of the licenses in force at such dates and those that have expired without renewal or that have been revoked, and each clerk shall file such certified abstracts and lists in stub books, to be kept for that purpose, furnished by the insurance commissioner, which books shall be open for the inspection of the public. There shall be no tax for any seal on the certificates required by this section. (Rev., s. 4700; 1899, c. 54, s. 77; 1901, c. 391, s. 6; 1903, c. 438; s. 7; 1915, c. 166, s. 9; 1931, c. 74.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the words "each alternate month" formerly appearing in lines fourteen and fifteen of this section and inserted in lieu thereof "May each year."

§ 6284. Record of business kept by companies and agents; commissioner may inspect.—All companies, agents, or brokers doing any kind of insurance business in this state must make and keep a full and correct record of the business done by them, showing the number, date, term, amount insured, premiums, and the persons to whom issued, of every policy or certificate or renewal. Information from these records must be furnished to the insurance commissioner on demand, and the original books of records shall be open to the inspection of the commissioner, his deputy or clerk, when demanded. (Rev., s. 4696; 1899, c. 54, s. 108; 1903, c. 438, s. 11.)

§ 6285. Commissioner may employ actuary or accountant.—It is the duty of the insurance commissioner, when in his judgment it is necessary in order that he may be fully advised as to the exact financial condition of any insurance company and the manner in which its business has been or is being conducted, to employ an independent actuary to make a technical calculation of the business and policies of the company, or a skilled accountant to examine and check up the books of the company and the services shall be paid for as other bills against the state, out of the treasury, where payment is not otherwise provided for. (1907, c. 1000, s. 2.)

sioner to more effectually carry out the laws providing for the triennial examination of insurance companies, for the valuation of insurance policies, and the examination of other corporations under the supervision of the insurance department, he is hereby authorized to employ two examiners or accountants at a salary not to exceed twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500) each, to be paid out of the general fund as other salaries are now paid, the traveling and other expenses of such examiners or accountants when engaged in the work of examination to be paid by the companies, associations, or orders under investigation. (1921, c. 218.)

§ 6286. Books and papers required to be exhibited.—It is the duty of any person having in his possession or control any books, accounts, or papers of any company, order, or person licensed under this chapter, to exhibit the same to the insurance commissioner or to any deputy, actuary, accountant, or person acting with or for the insurance commissioner. Any person who shall refuse, on demand, to exhibit the books, accounts, or papers, as above provided, or who shall knowingly or wilfully make any false statement in regard to the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., ss. 3494, 4697; 1899, c. 54, s. 76; 1907, c. 1000, s. 3.)

Art. 3. General Regulations for Insurance

§ 6287. State law governs insurance contracts.—All contracts of insurance on property, lives, or interests in this state shall be deemed to be made therein; and all contracts of insurance the applications for which are taken within the state shall be deemed to have been made within this state and are subject to the laws thereof. (Rev., s. 4806; 1899, c. 54, s. 2; 1901, c. 705, s. 1.)

See 13 N. C. Law Rev., 213, for note on "Validity of Statutes Localizing Insurance Contracts." See also page 41 for the law of contracts in general.

General Consideration. — The section is constitutional. Williams v. Life Ass'n, 145 N. C. 128, 28 S. E. 802. It did not have a retroactive effect. Id.

Application Taken out of State.—When neither party was a resident of the state at the time of the contract of insurance and the application was taken out of the state the rule of lex loci contractu will apply. Keesler v. Mutual Ben. Life Ins. Co., 177 N. C. 394, 99 S. E. 97.

Place Determined by Application. — Policies of insurance issued by foreign companies, the applications for which are taken in this State, are to be construed in accordance with the laws of this State. Horton v. Life Ins. Co., 122 N. C. 498, 29 S. E. 944. Although the Insurance Company may under its charter be allowed privileges which are contrary to statutes of this state. Wilson v. Supreme Conclave, 174 N. C. 628, 94 S. E. 443.

Effect of Stipulation Making Policy a Foreign Contract.—A provision in a contract of insurance that, "This contract shall be governed by, subject to, and construed only according to the laws of the State of New York, the home office of said association," is void in so far as the courts of this State are concerned. Blackwell v. Life Ass'n, 141 N. C. 117, 53 S. E. 833.

Applied in Fountain v. Mutual Life Ins. Co., 55 F. (2d) 120.

§ 6288. No insurance contracts except under this chapter.—It is unlawful for any company to make any contract of insurance upon or concerning any property or interest or lives in this state, or with any resident thereof, or for any person as insurance agent or insurance broker to make, negotiate, solicit, or in any manner aid in the transaction of such insurance, unless and except as authorized under the provisions of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4807; 1899, c. 54, s. 2.)

Application to Foreign Contract Insuring Local Property.—The issuance of one or more policies of fire insurance, by a corporation, created and existing under the laws of another State, not by or through any agent does not constitute "doing business" in the State of North Carolina, so as to require a resident process agent under section 1137. Ivy River Land, etc., Co. v. National Fire, etc., Co., 192 N. C. 115, 119, 133 S. E. 424.

Contract Valid as to Insured.—When a statute or valid regulation in restraint only of the company's action is made for protection of the policy holder, a recovery may ordinarily be had, though the contract is in breach of the regulation. Robinson v. Life, etc., Co., 163 N. C. 415, 79 S. E. 681; Blount v. Fraternal Ass'n, 163 N. C. 167, 79 S. E. 299; Morgan v. Fraternal Ass'n, 170 N. C. 75, 86 S. E. 975.

The statute does not impose on the insured the duty of showing the authority of the company or its agent, as the statute is for the protection of the policy holder, and a recovery can be had by the insured although as to the insurer the contract may be void. Gazzans v. Ins. Co., 155 N. C. 330, 71 S. E. 434.

Cited in Charleston, etc., Ry. Co. v. Lassiter & Co., 207 N. C. 408, 413, 177 S. E. 9.

§ 6289. Statements in application not warranties.—All statements or descriptions in any application for a policy of insurance, or in the policy itself, shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and a representation, unless material or fraudulent, will not prevent a recovery on the policy. (Rev., s. 4808; 1901, c. 705, s. 2.)

Cross References. — For full treatment of avoidance of policy for misrepresentation and fraud, see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 822; 14 N. C. Enc. Dig. 460.

Purpose.—The purpose of the statute is to prevent insurance companies from escaping the payment of honest losses upon technicalities and strict construction of contracts. Cottingham v. Maryland Motor Car Ins. Co., 168 N. C. 259, 261, 84 S. E. 274.

Material Representations.—In an application for a policy of life insurance every fact stated will be deemed material, which would materially influence the judgment of the insurance company either in accepting the risk or in fixing the premium rate. Bryant v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 147 N. C. 181, 60 S. E. 983; Gardner v. North State Mut. Life Ins. Co., 163 N. C. 367, 79 S. E. 806.

"The company is entitled to have the policy canceled on bringing suit within the proper time, especially where, even if the misrepresentations are not intentional, the policy, when delivered, plainly discloses the untruthfulness of the representations." Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Leaksville Woolen Mills, 172 N. C. 534, 90 S. E. 574, 576, citing Hancock Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Houpt, (C. C.) 113 Fed. 572; New York Life Ins. Co. v. Fletcher, 117 U. S. 519, 6 Sup. Ct. 837, 29 L. Ed. 934.

It is not necessary, to defeat a recovery, that a material misrepresentation by the applicant must contribute in some way to the loss for which indemnity is claimed. Bryant v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 147 N. C. 181, 60 S. E. 963.

The false representation of the relationship between insured and beneficiary is, as a matter of law, immaterial. Howell v. American Nat. Ins. Co., 189 N. C. 212, 218, 126 S. E. 605.

Where the application declares that the statements the applicant makes below are true and there is no evidence that the company or its agents were aware of any facts to the contrary, all of the misrepresentations made as to the prior attendance of physicians, disease, surgical operations, and the like, are deemed material. Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Leaksville Woolen Mills, 172 N. C. 534, 90 S. E. 574; Alexander v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 150 N. C. 536, 64 S. E. 432.

Answers made in response to questions in the application as to applications for other insurance, where the applicant declares that they are true and offers them as an inducement to the issuance of the policy, are deemed material as a matter of law. Fountain v. Mutual Life Ins. Co., 55 F. (2d) 120, 123.

A representation by insured that he had never consulted a physician or been in a hospital is material, and testimony of physicians that insured was not in sound health at the date of the delivery of the policy is competent on the issue of fraud. Potts v. Life Ins. Co., 206 N. C. 257, 174 S. E. 123.

Misrepresentations admitted, of which the court will take judicial notice, must be deemed material as a matter of law; and their making is sufficient ground for canceling of the policy, whatever may be proved in extenuation of the conduct of insured in making them. Jeffress v. New York Life Ins. Co., 74 F. (2d) 874, 876.

A treatment for a mere temporary indisposition may well be regarded as immaterial where an applicant fully discloses medical treatment for a serious ailment administered at or about the same time. Id.

Same—Question for Jury.—Where the insured had hernia at the time of his application, and, without specific question as to this, stated he was in sound physical and mental condition, "no exceptions," and there is evidence tending to show that the hernia did not affect the soundness of his health, it was for the jury to determine whether his representation was false and material. Hines v. New England Casualty Co., 172 N. C. 225, 90 S. E. 131.

Whether a misrepresentation is made with fraudulent intent by insured, or whether it is material, so that insurer would not have issued the policy had it known the truth, are ordinarily questions for the jury. Harrison v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 207 N. C. 487, 177 S. E. 423.

Sufficiency of Evidence.—Where the evidence shows that insured was suffering with an incurable disease, but the uncontradicted evidence shows he was ignorant of this fact, and that he had been assured by a physician whom he had consulted, that there was nothing the matter with him at the date of application, there is no evidence from which the jury could find that the statement made by the applicant in the application was fraudulent and this section is applicable. Missouri State Life Ins. Co. v. Hardin, 208 N. C. 22, 179 S. E. 2.

False Representations Known to Insurer.—If the insurance company knew that the representations made by the insured were false, it cannot take advantage of the misrepresentations and set this policy aside on the grounds that the representations were material or fraudulent. Gardner v. North State Mut. Life Ins. Co., 163 N. C. 367, 368, 79 S. E. 806.

Suppression of Material Facts.—Where insured, in her application failed to disclose that she had been treated within five years prior to the application by a physician, and the policy provided that insurer might cancel same for misleading statements in the application, the failure of plaintiff to disclose the treatment by the physician on the application was not a suppression of material fact in light of the evidence, and was not adequate cause for cancellation of the policy. Anthony v. Teachers' Protective Union, 206 N. C. 7, 173 S. E. 6.

Fraudulent Representations. — A material representation shall avoid the policy if it is also false and calculated to influence the company, if without notice of its falsity, in making the contract at all, or in estimating the degree and character of the risk, or in fixing the premiums. Gardner v. North State Mut. Life Ins. Co., 163 N. C. 367, 375, 79 S. E. 806.

After a contract of life insurance has become effective, its terms may not be contradicted so as to affect its continued validity; but it may be shown that the delivery of the policy was made upon false representations in the application therefor, as to the health of the insured and as to his not having been subjected to contagious diseases for a prior period of one year, and the like, for such matters bear upon the question as to whether the policy had ever taken effect as a contract of insurance. Gardner v. North State Mut. Life Ins. Co., 163 N. C. 367, 79 S. E. 806.

Same—Effect on Binding Slips.—Where an insurance company has given a "binding slip" to an applicant for insurance, it only protects the applicant against the contingency of his sickness intervening its date and the delivery of the policy, if the application for insurance is accepted, and as such slip does not insure of itself, it does not effect the right of the insurer to avail itself of all defenses it may have, under the policy, after its delivery, to avoid payment thereof by reason of material misrepresentations made in the application for it. Gardner v. North State Mut. Life Ins. Co., 163 N. C. 367, 79 S. E. 806.

Fraternal Benefit Associations.—Fraternal benefit associations fall within the provision of this section as to representations. Gray v. Woodmen of the World, 179 N. C. 210, 102 S. E. 195.

§ 6290. Stipulations as to jurisdiction and limitation of actions.—No company or order, domestic or foreign, authorized to do business in this state under this chapter, may make any condition or stipulation in its insurance contracts concerning the court or jurisdiction wherein any suit or action thereon may be brought, nor may it limit the time within which such suit or action may be commenced to less than one year after the cause of action accrues or to less than six months from any time at which a plaintiff takes a nonsuit to an action begun within the legal time. All conditions and stipulations forbidden by this section are void. (Rev., s. 4809; 1899, c. 54, ss. 23, 106, 1901, c. 391, s. 8.)

As to limitation of time in which action must be brought, see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 870.

Editor's Note.—The provision that limits the time to not less than one year after the cause of action accrues is construed by the court to mean not twelve months after loss but twelve months after all restriction preventing suit are removed. If sixty days are allowed for proof of loss the insured would have twelve months after the expiration of the sixty days in which to bring suit. Any restriction in the policy preventing the insured from bringing action prevents the twelve month limit in which action must be brought, from running against him.

Limitations Not in Conflict.—A stipulation in a policy as to time of bringing action is a contractual limitation, and has been held by the Supreme Court to be valid when it does not conflict with any provision of the statute. Parker v. Insurance Co., 143 N. C. 339, 344, 55 S. E. 717.

Construed with Standard Fire Insurance Policy.—The provisions of a standard fire insurance policy, as set out in section 6437, must be construed with the provision of this section, and when the action is brought within the time herein prescribed it will not be barred. Modlin v. Atlantic Fire Ins. Co., 151 N. C. 35, 45, 65 S. E. 605. Under this policy the insured has sixty days to file his proof of loss and then, according to the provisions of this section and section 6437, he has twelve months within which to commence his suit. Muse v. London Ins. Co., 108 N. C. 240; Dibbrell v. Georgia Home Ins. Co., 110 N. C. 193, 14 S. E. 783; Lowe v. United States Mut. Acci. Ass'n, 115 N. C. 18, 20 S. E. 169; Gerringer v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 133 N. C. 407, 414, 45 S. E. 773.

Not Construed as a Statute of Limitations.—The standard policy is not regulated by the statute of limitations, and the disabilities which stop the running of the statute, have no effect upon it. Hence, the imprisonment of the insured will not give him right to recover when he has delayed his action for more than a year. This rule applies likewise to minors. Holly v. London Assur. Co., 170 N. C. 4, 86 S. E. 694.

As the stipulation of the standard policy is a contract, and not a statute of limitations, it may be waived, or the party for whose benefit it was provided may be estopped by his conduct from insisting upon its enforcement. Dibrell v. Georgia Home Ins. Co., 110 N. C. 193, 14 S. E. 783.

Construed with Accident Policies. — The stipulations in accident insurance policies that proceedings shall not be begun until ninety days after proof of loss do not contravene this section, when the policy also states that the insured may bring his action within 12 months after the accident. This being construed to mean that he will have twelve months after the cause of action accrues. Heiling v. Aetna Life Ins. Co., 152 N. C. 358, 67 S. E. 927.

Fraternal Orders.—Provisions of the constitution and by-laws of a fraternal order of insurance, that suits shall not be brought or maintained for any cause or claim arising out of the benefit certificate of a member unless within one year from the time the right of action accrues, are valid. Faulk v. Fraternal Mystic Circle, 171 N. C. 301, 88 S. E. 431.

Surety Bond.—Contracts of indemnity against loss, or surety bonds for the faithful performance of a building contract are regarded in the nature of contracts of insurance and any conflicting restriction in such contract as to the time of bringing an action to recover damages for the breach of the contract is void. Guilford Lumber Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 177 N. C. 44, 97 S. E. 732.

Limitation Must Be Plead.—A limitation in a surety bond as to the time in which an action may be maintained against the surety thereon, after notice of default, is contractual, and affects the remedy, and it is necessary that the surety plead it in the action for it to be available as a defense. Ideal Brick Co. v. Gentry, 191 N. C. 636, 132 S. E. 800.

Nonsuit.—In case a nonsuit is entered and it does not appear on record when the nonsuit was entered it will be presumed that it was within six months prior to the date on which action was commenced. Parker v. Insurance Co., 143 N. C. 339, 55 S. E. 717.

Bond and Investment Companies. — As to applicable to bond and investment companies, see sec. 6363.

§ 6291. Insurance as security for a loan by the company. — Where an insurance company, as a condition for a loan by such company, of money upon mortgage or other security, requires that the borrower insure either his life or that of another, or his property, or the title to his property, with the company, and assign or cause to be assigned to it a policy of insurance as security for the loan, and agree to pay premiums thereon during the continuance of the loan, whether the premium is paid annually, semiannually, quarterly, or monthly, such premiums shall not be considered as interest on such loans, nor will any loan be rendered usurious by reason of any such requirements, where the rate of interest charged for the loan does not exceed the legal rate and where the premiums charged for the insurance do not exceed the premiums charged to other persons for similar policies who do not obtain loans. (1915, c. 8; 1917, c. 61.)

§ 6292. Companies must do business in own name.—Every insurance company, foreign or domestic, must conduct its business in the state in, and the policies and contracts of insurance issued by it shall be headed or entitled only by, its proper or corporate name. (Rev., s. 4811; 1899, c. 54, s. 18.)

§ 6293. Publication of assets and liabilities; penalty for failure.—When any company publishes its assets it must in the same connection and with equal conspicuousness publish its liabilities computed on the basis allowed for its annual statements; and any publications purporting to show its capital must exhibit only the amount of such capital as has been actually paid in cash. Any company or agent thereof violating the provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars. (Rev., ss. 3492, 4812; 1899, c. 54, ss. 18, 96.)

§ 6294. Liabilities and reserve fund determined.—To determine the liability of an insurance company, other than life and real estate title insurance, upon its contracts, and thence the amount such company must hold as a reserve for reinsurance, the insurance commissioner shall take the actual unearned portion of the premiums written in its policies. In case of the insolvency of any company, the reserve on outstanding policies may, with the consent of the commissioner, be used for the reinsurance of its policies to the extent of their pro rata part thereof. (Rev., s. 4704; 1899, c. 54, s. 67; 1901, c. 391, s. 5; 1907, c. 1000, s. 4.)

§ 6295. Revocation of license of foreign company; publication of notice.—If the insurance commissioner is of the opinion, upon examination or other evidence, that a foreign insurance company is in an unsound condition, or, if a life insurance company, that its actual funds, exclusive of its capital, are less than its liabilities; or that it has failed to comply with the law, or if it, its officers or agents, refuse to submit to examination or to perform any legal obligation in relation thereto, or if any foreign insurance company applies to have removed from the superior court of any county of this State to the United States circuit or district court any action instituted against it, or institutes any action at law or suit in equity in a United States court against any citizen of this state, growing out of or in any way connected with any policy of insurance issued by such insurance company, he shall revoke or suspend all certificates of authority granted to it or its agents, and shall cause notification thereof to be published in one or more newspapers published in this state; and no new business may thereafter be done by it or its agents in this state while such default or disability continues, or until its authority to do business is restored by the commissioner. (Rev., s. 4701; 1899, c. 54, s. 14; 1901, c. 176, s. 1.)

As to making the corporation domestic and revocation of license, see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 778.

Editor's Note.—In the case of Pacific Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Insurance Dept., 144 N. C. 442, 57 S. E. 120, it was held that this section is applicable only to suits growing out of or in some way connected with policies of insurance, and is not applicable to quarrels between an insurance company and its agent. It was conceded in the case that the statute was constitutional, citing Security Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Previtt, 202 U. S. 246, 26 S. Ct. 619 (Ky.) This case holds that a statute prohibiting the removal of a case from the State Court to the Federal Court is constitutional. But in the case of Terral v. Burk Constr. Co., 257 U. S. 529, 66 L. Ed. 223, 42 S. Ct. 188 (Ark.) the case of Security Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Prewitt is overruled and the court holds that the withdrawal of the privilege of doing business because of the exercise of the right to remove from the State to the Federal Court is unconstitutional.

In the case of Southern R. Co. v. Allison, 190 U. S. 326, 23 S. Ct. 713 (N. C.) the rule is laid down that a foreign railroad corporation has a right to remove from the State to the Federal Court although it is provided by statute that such corporation shall become a domestic corporation. It is further held that it does not become a domestic corporation.

Constitutionality of Restraint on Right to Removal.—A nonresident insurance company has the right to remove a suit brought against it from the State to the Federal Court under the Federal removal statute, and this section providing that upon its attempt to do so the insurance commissioner shall revoke its right to do business in this State is unconstitutional in this respect, and the right to removal obtains notwithstanding that under the statute the company has filed an application to do business in the State waiving its right to removal. Rhodes v. New York Life Insurance Co., 197 N. C. 337, 148 S. E. 439. See also note in 8 N. C. Law Rev. 218.

§ 6296. Revocation of license of domestic company; injunction and receiver.—If, upon examination, the insurance commissioner is of the opinion that any domestic insurance company is insolvent or has exceeded its powers, or failed to comply with any provision of law, or that its condition is such as to render its further proceeding hazardous to the public or to its policyholders, he shall revoke its license, and, if he deems it necessary, shall apply to a judge of the superior court to issue an injunction restraining it in whole or in part from further proceeding with its business. The judge may issue the injunction forthwith, or upon notice and hearing thereon, and after a full hearing of the matter may dissolve or modify the injunction or make it permanent, and may make all orders and judgments needful in the matter, and may appoint agents or a receiver to take possession of the property and effects of the company and to settle its affairs, subject to such rules and orders as the court from time to time prescribes. (Rev., s. 4702; 1899, c. 54, s. 14.)

§ 6297. Revocation of license for violation of law or impaired assets.—1. The authority of a domestic or foreign insurance company may be revoked if it violates or neglects to comply with any provision of law obligatory upon it, and whenever in the opinion of the insurance commissioner its condition is unsound, or its assets above its liabilities, exclusive of capital and inclusive of reserve or unearned premiums estimated as provided by this chapter, are less than the amount of its original capital or required unimpaired funds.

2. If the insurance commissioner is satisfied at any time that any statements made by any company licensed under this chapter are untrue, or if a general agent fails or refuses to obey the provisions of this chapter, the insurance commissioner may revoke and cancel such license.

An insurance company violating any provision of this chapter, or refusing to submit to the examination provided for in section eighteen of this chapter, when requested, forfeits its rights to do business in this state for twelve months thereafter, and the insurance commissioner shall immediately revoke the license issued to such insurance company to do business in this state. (Rev., ss. 4703, 4705; 1899, c. 54, ss. 66, 75, 1, 12; 1901; c. 391, s. 5.)

§ 6298. Agents and adjusters must procure license.—Every agent or adjuster of any insurance company authorized to do business in this state shall be required to obtain annually from the insurance commissioner a license under the seal of his office, showing that the company for which he is agent or proposes to adjust is licensed to do business in this state, and that he is an agent of such company and duly authorized to do business for it. And every such agent or adjuster, on demand, shall exhibit his license to any officer or to any person from whom he shall solicit insurance. (Rev., s. 4706; 1899, c. 54, s. 81; 1901, c. 391, s. 7; 1903, c. 438, s. 8, c. 774; 1915, c. 109, s. 7, c. 166, s. 1.)

As to punishment for violation of this section, see section 6305.

Validity of Contract When Agent Not Licensed.—Where a foreign insurance company, authorized to do business here under our laws, issues its policy on property situated within the State, but through an agency in another State which is unauthorized to write it here, because of not having obtained the license required by law the policy is valid as to the right of action of the insured thereon. Hay v. Union Fire Ins. Co., 167 N. C. 82, 83 S. E. 241.

Agent of Fraternal Insurance Order.—This section is applicable to all agents including an organizer of a fraternal insurance order operating in North Carolina. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 643, 73 S. E. 122.

Cited in Charleston, etc., Ry. Co. v. Lassiter & Co., 207 N. C. 408, 413, 177 S. E. 9.

§ 6299. Application for license.—Before a license is issued to an insurance agent or adjuster in this state, the agent or adjuster and the company for which he desires to act shall apply for the license on forms to be prescribed by the insurance commissioner; and before he issues a license to such agent or adjuster, the insurance commissioner shall satisfy himself that the person applying for license as an agent or adjuster is a person of good moral character, that he intends to hold himself out in good faith as an insurance agent or adjuster, and has sufficient knowledge of the business proposed to be done, that he has not willfully violated any of the insurance laws of the state, and that he is a proper person for such position, and that such license, if issued, shall serve the public's interests. (1913, c. 79, s. 1; 1915, c. 109, ss. 6, 7, c. 166, s. 7; 1931, c. 185.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added at the end of this section the following: "and that such license, if issued, shall serve the public's interests."

§ 6300. Power of commissioner to revoke license.—When the insurance commissioner is satisfied that any insurance agent or adjuster licensed by this state has wilfully violated any of the insurance laws of this state, or has wilfully overinsured property of any of the citizens of the state or has wilfully misrepresented any policy of insurance or has dealt unjustly with or wilfully deceived any citizen of this state in regard to any insurance policies, or has failed or refused to pay over to the company which he represents, or has represented, any money or property in the hands of such agent or adjuster belonging to the company, when demanded, or has become in any way disqualified according to any of the provisions necessary for obtaining or holding such license as set out in the next preceding section, or has in any other way become unfit for such position, the commissioner may revoke, and it shall be his duty to revoke, the license of such agent or adjuster for all the companies which he represents in this state for such length of time as he may decide, not exceeding one year. The insurance commissioner shall give to the agent or adjuster ten days notice of the revocation of such license, and shall give the reasons therefor; and the agent or adjuster shall have the right to have such revocation reviewed by any judge of the superior court of Wake county upon appeal. For the purpose of investigation under this section, the insurance commissioner shall have all the power conferred upon him by section 6431 of this chapter. (1913, c. 79, ss. 2, 3; 1915, c. 166, s. 7; 1929, c. 301, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1929 added disqualification because of nonresidence as set out in section 6301, to the grounds for revocation.

§ 6301. Nonresident agents forbidden; exception.—No nonresident of the state shall be licensed to do business in the state, except as a special agent or organizer, and then only when he reports his business for record as North Carolina business to some general or district agent of his company in the state, or having territory within the state. (Rev., s. 4707; 1899, c. 54, s. 108; 1903, c. 438; s. 11.)

§ 6302. Resident agents required; discrimination.—All business done in this state by steam-boiler, liability, accident, health, live-stock marine, leakage, credit, plate-glass, and fidelity insurance companies shall be by their regularly authorized agents residing in the state, or transacted through applications of such agents; and all policies so issued must be countersigned by such agents, who may pay not exceeding fifty per centum of the regular commissions allowed on the premiums collected on such business to a licensed nonresident broker. It shall be unlawful for any salaried officer, manager, or other representative of any company, unless a bona fide resident agent, to do or perform for or on behalf of his company any act which by the insurance laws of this State is required to be performed by a licensed resident agent. It shall be unlawful for the Insurance Commissioner to license as a resident agent any person unless he is fully satisfied that such a person is a bona fide resident of this State, and is not being licensed for the purpose of evading the resident agent's law. No such companies nor their agents may make any discrimination in favor of individuals or insurance, and the provisions hereafter set forth in this chapter with respect to discrimination by life insurance companies shall apply to the companies above named and their agents. (Rev., s. 4810; 1899, c. 54, ss. 107, 108; 1903, c. 438, s. 11; 1911, c. 196, s. 5; 1913, c. 140, s. 3; 1921, c. 136, s. 3; 1925, c. 70, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to amendment of 1921, Public Laws, c. 136, section 3, no provision was made as to what brokerage fee should be paid by a resident agent. By amendment of 1921 five per cent was allowed for such fee.

The Public Laws of 1925 in amending this statute states that the section as amended by section 3 shall be changed without further designation of the amending act. Obviously this refers to section 3 of the Act of 1921, supra. This later amendment allows fifty per cent commission as brokage fee, and required that the local agent be a resident of the state, making it unlawful for the insurance commissioner to license as a resident agent anyone unless he is fully satisfied that such person is a bona fide resident of the state.

§ 6303. Agents personally liable, when.—An insurance agent is personally liable on all contracts of insurance unlawfully made by or through him, directly or indirectly, for any company not authorized to do business in the state. A person or citizen of the state who fills up or signs any open policy, certificate, blank or coupon of, or furnished by, an unlicensed company, agent, or broker, the effect of which is to bind any insurance in an unlicensed company on property in this state, is the agent of such company, and personally liable for all licenses and taxes due on account of such transaction. (Rev., s. 4813; 1899, c. 54, s. 70; 1903, c. 438, s. 7.)

§ 6304. Payment of premium to agent valid; obtaining by fraud a crime.—An insurance agent or broker who acts for a person other than himself negotiating a contract of insurance is, for the purpose of receiving the premium therefor, the company's agent, whatever conditions or stipulations may be contained in the policy or contract. Such agent or broker knowingly procuring by fraudulent representations payment, or the obligation for the payment, of a premium of insurance, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned for not more than one year. (Rev., ss. 3486, 4814; 1899, c. 54, s. 69.)

Where the insurer has credited the amount of the unearned premium to its broker's account, who in turn has credited the amount to account of the broker who has procured the employer's application for the insurance, the insurer is liable to the employer for the amount of the unearned premium not actually paid to the employer by the broker. Hughes v. Lewis, 203 N. C. 775, 166 S. E. 909.

§ 6305. Punishment for agent acting without license or violating law.—If any person shall assume to act as an insurance agent or broker without license therefor as required by law, or shall act in any manner in the negotiation or transaction of unlawful insurance with a foreign insurance company not admitted to do business in this state, or as principal or agent shall violate any provisions of law contained in this chapter, the punishment for which is not provided for elsewhere, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars for each offense. (Rev., s. 3484; 1899, c. 54, s. 94; 1907, c. 1000, s. 8.)

Purpose of Section.—The entire, certainly the chief, purpose of this legislation is to protect people from harmful imposition in contracts and dealings of this character, and the evil which the statute is designated to prevent is as threatening in the case of a bogus as a real company, perhaps more so. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 646, 73 S. E. 122.

Applicability to Fraternal Insurance Agents.—The agent of a fraternal insurance order is punishable under this section. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 643, 73 S. E. 122.

Same—Acts Constituting Violation.—The conduct of a person in publishing advertisements circulating his cards, taking money, issuing receipts, assuming to represent a fraternal insurance order, comes within the permissible and proper meaning of the words used in the statute and clearly within the mischief contemplated. State v. Leeper, 146 N. C. 655, 61 S. E. 585; State v. Harrison, 145 N. C. 408, 417, 59 S. E. 867; State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 646, 73 S. E. 122.

Same—Indictment.—A bill of indictment for the offence provided for by this section will not be held fatally defective because it contains no direct averment that a fraternal order for which the business has been solicited is a company subject to the insurance regulations, when otherwise sufficient. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 641, 73 S. E. 122.

§ 6306. Agent failing to exhibit license.—If any agent of any insurance company shall, on demand of any person from whom he shall solicit insurance, fail to exhibit a certificate from the insurance commissioner bearing the seal of his office, and dated within one year from such demand, he shall be fined five dollars or imprisoned ten days for each offense. (Rev., s. 3485; 1899, c. 54, s. 81.)

§ 6307. Agents making false statements.—If any solicitor, agent, examining physician, or other person shall knowingly or wilfully make any false or fraudulent statement or representation in or with reference to any publication for insurance, or, shall make any such statement for the purpose of obtaining fee, commission, money, or benefit in any corporation transacting business in this state, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3487; 1899, c. 54, s. 60.)

§ 6308. Agents signing certain blank policies.—If any agent, commissioned or otherwise, of any fire marine, health, live-stock, leakage, credit, steam-boiler, liability, accident, plate-glass, or fidelity insurance company shall sign any blank contract or policy of insurance, upon conviction thereof he shall be fined for each offense not less than one hundrd dollars nor more than two hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 3488; 1899, c. 54, ss. 108, 109; 1911, c. 196, s. 6.)

§ 6309. Adjuster acting for unauthorized company.—If any person shall act as adjuster on a contract made otherwise than authorized by the laws of this state, or by any insurance company or other person not regularly licensed to do business in the state, or shall adjust or aid in the adjustment, either directly or indirectly, of a loss by fire on property located in this state, incurred on a contract not authorized by the laws of the state, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years, or both, in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3482; 1899, c. 54, s. 114.)

§ 6310. Agent violating insurance law.—If any person, either as principal or agent, or pretending to be such, shall solicit, examine, or inspect any risk, or shall examine into, adjust, or aid in adjusting any loss, or shall receive, collect, or transmit any premium of insurance, or shall do any other act in the soliciting, making, or executing any contract of insurance of any kind otherwise than the law permits, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall pay a fine of not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not less than one nor more than two years, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3490; 1899, c. 54, s. 115.)

§ 6311. Informer to receive half of penalty.—The person, if other than the insurance commissioner or his deputy, upon whose complaint a conviction is had for violation of the law prohibiting insurance in or by foreign companies not authorized to do business in the state or for soliciting, examining, inspecting any risk, or receiving, collecting, or transmitting any premium, or adjusting or aiding in the adjustment of a loss, under a contract made otherwise than authorized by the laws of this state, is entitled to one-half of the penalty recovered therefor. (Rev., s. 4831; 1899, c. 54, s. 93.)

§ 6312. Forms to be approved by insurance commissioner.—It is unlawful for any insurance company, association, order or society doing business in this state, to issue, sell, or dispose of any policy, contract, or certificate, or use applications in connection therewith, until the forms of the same have been submitted to and approved by the insurance commissioner of North Carolina, and copies filed in the insurance department. (1907, c. 879; 1913, c. 139.)

Validity of Unapproved Policy.—The statute does not purport to deal with the validity of the contract of insurance, but with the insurance company. It does not say a policy shall be void unless approved by the Insurance Commissioner, but that it shall be unlawful for the company to issue such policy, and the reason for the language used is obvious. Blount v. Royal Fraternal Ass'n, 163 N. C. 167, 170, 79 S. E. 299.

Art. 4. Deposit of Securities

§ 6313. Deposits held in trust by commissioner or treasurer. — 1. Deposits by domestic company. — The insurance commissioner or the treasurer, in their official capacity, shall take and hold in trust deposits made by any domestic insurance company for the purpose of complying with the laws of any other state to enable the company to do business in that state. The company making the deposits is entitled to the income thereof, and may, from time to time, with the consent of the insurance commissioner or treasurer, and when not forbidden by the law under which the deposit was made, change in whole or in part the securities which compose the deposit for other solvent securities of equal par value. Upon request of any domestic insurance company such officer may return to the company the whole or any portion of the securities of the company held by him on deposit, when he is satisfied that they are subject to no liability and are not required to be longer held by any provision of law or purpose of the original deposit.

2. Deposits by foreign company.—The commissioner or treasurer may return to the trustees or other representatives authorized for that purpose any deposit made by a foreign insurance company, when it appears that the company has ceased to do business in the state and is under no obligation to policyholders or other persons in the state for whose benefit the deposit was made.

3. Action to enforce or terminate the trust.—An insurance company which has made a deposit in this state pursuant to this chapter, or its trustees or resident managers in the United States, or the insurance commissioner, or any creditor of any company, may at any time bring an action in the superior court of Wake county against the state and other parties properly joined therein, to enforce, administer, or terminate the trust created by the deposit. The process in this action shall be served on the officer of the state having the deposit, who shall appear and answer in behalf of the state and perform such orders and judgments as the court may make in such action. (Rev., s. 4709; 1899, c. 54, s. 17; 1901, c. 391, s. 2; 1903, c. 438, s. 1; 1903, c. 536, s. 4.)

§ 6314. Deposits subject to approval and control of commissioner.—The deposits of securities required to be made by any insurance company of this state shall be approved by the insurance commissioner of the state, and he may examine them at all times, and may order all or any part thereof changed for better security, and no change or transfer of the same may be made without his assent. (Rev., s. 4710; 1903, c. 536, s. 5.)

§ 6315. Deposits by foreign companies required and regulated.—A foreign company, if incorporated or associated under the laws of any government or state other than the United States or one of the United States, shall not be admitted to do business in this state until, in addition to complying with the conditions by law prescribed for the licensing and admission of such companies to do business in this state, it has made a deposit with the treasurer or insurance commissioner of this state, or with the financial officer of some other state of the United States, of a sum not less than the capital required of like companies under this chapter. This deposit must be in exclusive trust for the benefit and security of all the company's policyholders and creditors in the United States, and may be made in the securities, but subject to the limitations, specified in this chapter with regard to the investment of the capital of domestic companies formed and organized under the provisions of this chapter. The deposit shall be deemed for all purposes of the insurance law the capital of the company making it. (Rev., s. 4711; 1899, c. 54, s. 64; 1903, c. 438, s. 6.)

§ 6316. Deposits by life companies not chartered in United States.—Every life insurance company organized under the laws of any other country than the United States must have and keep on deposit with some state insurance department or in the hands of trustees, in exclusive trust for the security of its contracts with policyholders in the United States, funds of an amount equal to the net value of all its policies in the United States and not less than two hundred thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 4712; 1899, c. 54, s. 56.)

§ 6316(a). Registration of bonds deposited in name of treasurer.—The Insurance Commissioner is hereby empowered, upon the written consent of any insurance company depositing with the Insurance Commissioner or the State Treasurer under any law of this State, any state, county, city or town bonds or notes which are payable to bearer, to cause such bonds or notes to be registered as to the principal thereof in lawful books of registry kept by or in behalf of the issuing state, county, city or town, such registration to be in the name of the Treasurer of North Carolina in trust for the company depositing the notes or bonds and the State of North Carolina, as their respective interest may appear, and is further empowered to require of any and all such companies the filing of written consent to such registration as a condition precedent to the right of making any such deposit or right to continue any such deposit heretofore made. (1925, c. 145, s. 2.)

§ 6316(b). Notation of registration; release.—Bonds or notes so registered shall bear notation of such registration on the reverse thereof, signed by the registering officer or agent, and may be released from such registration and may be transferred on such books of registry by the signature of the State Treasurer. (1925, c. 145, s. 3.)

§ 6316(c). Expenses of registration.—The necessary expenses of procuring such registration and any transfer thereof shall be paid by the company making the deposits. (1925, c. 145, s. 4.)

Art. 5. License Fees and Taxes

§ 6317. Commissioner to report and pay monthly. — On or before the tenth day of each month the insurance commissioner shall furnish to the auditor a statement in detail of the taxes and license fees received by him under this chapter during the previous month, and shall pay to the treasurer the amount in full of such taxes and fees. The auditor may examine the accounts of the insurance commissioner and check them up with said statement. (Rev., s. 4714; 1899, c. 54, s. 82; 1901, c. 391, s. 7; 1905, c. 430, s. 4.)

§ 6318. Schedule of license fees, taxes, and charges.—The insurance commissioner shall collect and pay into the state treasury fees, taxes, and charges as follows:

1. For each license issued to: a life insurance company or association, two hundred and fifty dollars; a fire insurance company or association, or to any company or association of companies operating a separate or distinct plant of agencies, two hundred dollars; an accident insurance company or association, two hundred dollars; a marine insurance company or association, two hundred dollars; a surety insurance company or association or mutual fire insurance company doing only one class of fire insurance business, one hundred dollars; a plate-glass insurance company or association, one hundred dollars; a boiler insurance company or association, one hundred dollars; a domestic mutual insurance company, fifty dollars; a domestic mutual insurance company, operating in not more than two counties, ten dollars; reciprocals or inter-insurers, fifty dollars; to a fraternal order, twenty-five dollars; a bond, investment, dividend, guarantee registry title guarantee or debenture company, one hundred dollars; all other insurance companies or associations, one hundred dollars. An underwriters agency, composed of two or more companies, proposing to do a reinsurance business only in the state may be licensed without a separate license for each company, upon filing with the insurance commissioner a statement of each company, the amount proposed to be assumed by them, and such other information as he may call for, showing that the companies are solvent and purpose to conduct the business in a way that would be safe and fair to the citizens of the state.

2. All of said companies shall pay a tax of two and one-half per centum upon the amount of their gross receipts in this state. But if any general agent files with the insurance commissioner a sworn statement showing that at least one-fourth of the entire assets of his company are invested and maintained in bonds of this state, or of any county, city, or town of this state, or any property situate in this state and taxable therein, the tax is one per centum upon the gross receipts aforesaid, and the license fee is one-half that named above, and if the amount so invested is three-fourths of the total assets, the tax is one-fourth of one per centum and the license fee one-fourth of that named above. Companies paying the taxes levied in this section are not liable for tax on their capital stock, and no county or corporation may impose any additional tax, license, or fee. The license fees and taxes imposed in this section must be paid to the insurance commissioner, and by him paid into the state treasury, as provided by law.

3. Annually for license issued to each general agent, five dollars; to each special or district agent or manager or organizer (including seal), three dollars; to each local or canvassing agent (including seal), one dollar; but any such company having assets invested and maintained in bonds of this state or of any county, city, or town of this state, or in any property situated in this state and taxable therein, amounting to three-fourths of its total assets, shall be charged only fifty cents for such license. In case of loss or destruction of the license the insurance commissioner, for a fee of fifty cents may certify to its issuance giving number, date, and form, which may be used by the original party named therein in lieu of the original license. There shall be no charge for the seal affixed to such certificate of said license.

4. Annually twenty dollars for each license issued to a resident broker, authorized to procure insurance in nonadmitted companies, and also a tax of five per centum on his gross premium receipts.

5. For filing and examining statement preliminary to admission, twenty dollars; for filing and auditing annual statement, ten dollars; for filing any other papers required by law, one dollar; for each certificate of examination, condition or qualification of company or association, two dollars; for each seal when required, one dollar; for each examination of domestic company, twenty-five dollars; for each examination of foreign company, fifty dollars; for filing charter and other papers of a fraternal order, preliminary to admission, twenty-five dollars.

6. To be paid to the publisher, for the publication of each financial statement, nine dollars.

7. The commissioner shall receive for copy of any record or paper in his office ten cents per copy sheet and one dollar for certifying same, or any fact or data from the records of his office; for making and mailing abstracts to the clerks of the superior courts in the counties of the state, four dollars; for examination of any foreign company, twenty-five dollars per diem and all expenses, and for examining any domestic company, actual expenses incurred; for the examination and approval of charters of companies, five dollars; also, to defray the expense of computing the value of the policies of domestic life insurance companies, one cent for every thousand dollars of the whole amount insured by its policies so valued. For the investigation of tax returns and the collection of any delinquent taxes disclosed by such investigation, the commissioner may, in lieu of the above per diem charge, assess against any such delinquent company the expense of the investigation and collection of such delinquent tax, a reasonable percentage of such delinquent tax, not to exceed ten per centum (10%) of such delinquency, and in addition thereto.

8. He shall collect all other fees and charges due and payable into the state treasury by any company, association, order, or individual under his department. (Rev., s. 4715; 1899, c. 54, ss. 50, 68, 80, 81, 82, 87, 90, 92; 1901, c. 391, s. 7, 706, s. 2; 1903, c. 438, ss. 7, 8; 1903, c. 536, s. 4; 1903, cc. 680, 774; 1905, c. 588, s. 68; 1913, c. 140, s. 1; 1919, c. 186, s. 6; 1935, c. 334.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last sentence of subsection 7 of this section.

Constitutionality.—Foreign corporations do business here by comity of the State, and the latter may impose a license tax as a condition upon which such corporation may do business here under the protection of our laws, where such is not an interference with interstate commerce, or the tax otherwise invalid. Pittsburg Life, etc., Co. v. Young, 172 N. C. 470, 90 S. E. 568.

Fraternal Insurance Orders.—Subdivision (3) of this section is applicable to fraternal insurance companies organized under the laws of another state which is attempting to do business in this state. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 73 S. E. 122.

§ 6319. No additional charge by counties or towns.—No county or municipality may impose an additional tax, license, or fee upon any insurance company or agent. (Rev., s. 4716; 1899, c. 54, s. 79; 1901, c. 391, s. 7; 1903, c. 438, s. 8.)

§ 6320. License fees for more than one class of insurance.—No insurance company admitted to do business in the state shall be authorized to transact more than one class or kind of insurance therein, unless it pays the license fees for each class. But upon the payment of the largest license fees provided in this chapter for any one business done a life insurance company may do a health business, and a fire insurance company may insure against loss or damage to property by lightning, wind, hail, or tornado, use and occupancy, and for nonoccupancy, and may insure vessels, freights, goods, money, effects, and money lent on bottomry or respondentia against the perils of the sea and other perils usually insured against by marine insurance, including risks of inland navigation and transportation; and may also insure against loss or damage by water to any goods or premises arising from leakage of sprinklers and water pipes. No insurance company may be required to pay license fees amounting in the aggregate to more than three hundred and fifty dollars per annum. (Rev., s. 4717; 1899, c. 54, s. 65; 1901, c. 391, s. 5; 1903, c. 438, s. 6.)

§ 6321. Licenses run from April first; pro rata payment.—The license required by this chapter shall continue for the next ensuing twelve months after April first of each year, unless revoked as provided in this chapter; but the insurance commissioner may, when the annual license tax exceeds twenty-five dollars, receive from applicants after April first so much of the license fee required by law as may be due pro rata for the remainder of the year, beginning with the first day of the current month. (Rev., s. 4718; 1899, c. 54, s. 78.)

§ 6322. Statements of gross receipts filed and tax paid.—Every general agent shall, within the first thirty days of January and July of each year, make a full and correct statement, under oath of himself and of the president, secretary, or some officer at the home or head office of the company in this country, of the amount of the gross receipts derived from the insurance business under this chapter obtained from residents of this state, or on property located therein during the preceding six months, and shall within the first fifteen days of February and August of each year, pay to the insurance commissioner the tax imposed by this chapter upon such gross receipts. (Rev., s. 4719; 1899, c. 54, s. 79; 1901, c. 391, s. 7; 1903, c. 438; s. 8.)

§ 6323. Policyholders to furnish information. — To enable the insurance commissioner the better to enforce the payment of the taxes imposed by this chapter, every corporation, firm, or individual doing business in the state shall, upon demand of the commissioner, furnish to him, upon blanks to be provided by him, a statement of the amount of all insurance held by them, giving the name of the company, number, and amount of policies and the premiums paid on each, and such other information as the commissioner calls for, or shall file an affidavit with the commissioner that all their insurance is placed in companies licensed to do business in this state. (Rev., s. 4720; 1899, c. 54, s. 79; 1901, c. 391, s. 7; 1903, c. 438, s. 8.)

SUBCHAPTER II. INSURANCE COMPANIES

Art. 6. General Domestic Companies

§ 6324. Application of this chapter and general laws.—The general provisions of law relative to the powers, duties, and liabilities of corporations apply to all incorporated domestic insurance companies where pertinent and not in conflict with other provisions of law relative to such companies or with their charters. All insurance companies of this state shall be governed by this chapter, notwithstanding anything in their special charters to the contrary, provided notice of the acceptance of this chapter is filed with the insurance commissioner. (Rev., s. 4721, 1899, c. 54, s. 19.)

§ 6325. Extension of existing charters.—Domestic insurance companies incorporated by special acts, whose charters are subject to limitation of time, shall, after the limitation expires, and upon filing statement and paying the taxes and fees required for an amendment of the charter, continue to be bodies corporate, subject to all general laws applicable to such companies. (Rev., s. 4722; 1899, c. 54, s. 20.)

§ 6326. Certificate required before issuing policies.—No domestic insurance company may issue policies until upon examination of the insurance commissioner, his deputy or examiner, it is found to have complied with the laws of the state, and until it has obtained from the insurance commissioner a certificate setting forth that fact and authorizing it to issue policies. The issuing of policies in violation of this section renders the company liable for the forfeiture prescribed by law, but such policies are binding upon the company. (Rev., s. 4723; 1899, c. 54, ss. 21, 99; 1903, c. 438, s. 10.)

§ 6327. Purposes of organization. — Insurance companies, associations, or orders may be formed as provided in the two next succeeding sections for any one of the following purposes:

1. Fire and Storm.—To insure against loss or damage to property by fire, lightning, wind, hail or tornado, use and occupancy, and for nonoccupancy, upon the stock or mutual plan.

2. Marine.—To insure, upon the stock or mutual plan, vessel, freight, goods, money, effects and money lent on bottomry or respondentia against the perils of the sea and other perils usually insured against by marine insurance, including risks of inland navigation and transportation.

3. Life.—To carry on the business commonly known as the life insurance on the stock or mutual plan, contract for the payment of endowments or annuities, or make and enter into such other contracts conditioned upon the continuance or cessation of human life.

4. Sickness. — Against disablement resulting from sickness and every insurance appertaining thereto.

5. Accident. — Against injury, disablement, or death resulting from traveling or general accident and every insurance appertaining thereto.

6. Fidelity and Surety.—Guaranteeing the fidelity of persons holding places of public or private trust, and guaranteeing the performance of contracts other than insurance policies, and guaranteeing and executing all bonds, undertakings, and contracts of suretyship. And a company is authorized to execute such bonds, undertakings, and contracts of suretyship by itself, though a statute requires two or more sureties.

7. Plate-glass.—Upon glass against breakage.

8. Liability.—Insuring any one against loss or damage resulting from accident to or injury, fatal or nonfatal, suffered by an employee or other person, for and which the person insured is liable.

9. Boiler and Machinery.—Upon steam boilers and upon pipes, engines, and machinery connected therewith or operated thereby, against explosion and accident and against loss or damage to life, person, or property resulting therefrom. And a company is authorized to make inspection of and to issue certificate of inspection upon such boilers, pipes, engines, and machinery.

10. Burglary.—Against loss by burglary or theft, or both.

11. Credit.—To carry on the business commonly known as credit insurance or guaranty, either by agreeing to purchase uncollectible debts or otherwise to insure against loss or damage from the failure of persons indebted to the insured to meet their liabilities.

12. Sprinkler.—To insure against loss or damage by water to any goods or premises arising from the breakage or leakage of sprinklers and water-pipes. And a company is authorized to make inspection of and to issue certificates of inspection upon such sprinklers and pipes.

13. Accidents to Vehicles.—To insure against loss or damage to property arising from accidents to elevators, automobiles, bicycles, and vehicles, except rolling stock of railways.

14. Live-stock. — To insure horses and other live-stock against death and damage.

15. Real estate title.—For the purpose of examining titles to real estate and furnishing information in relation thereto, and of insuring owners and others interested therein against loss by reason of encumbrances and defective title.

16. Miscellaneous.—Against any other casualty authorized by the charter of the company, not included under the heads of life, fire, marine, or title insurance, which is a proper subject of insurance. No corporation so formed may transact any other business than that specified in its charter and articles of association. (Rev., s. 4726; 1899, c. 54, ss. 24, 26; 1903, c. 438, s. 1; 1911, c. 111, s. 1.)

§ 6328. Manner of creating such corporations.—The procedure for organizing such corporations is as follows: The proposed incorporators, not less than ten in number, a majority of whom must be resident of the state, shall subscribe articles of association setting forth their intention to form a corporation; its proposed name, which must not so closely resemble the name of an existing corporation doing business under the laws of this state as to be likely to mislead the public, and must be approved by the insurance commissioner; the class of insurance it proposes to transact and on what business plan or principle; the place of its location within the state, and if on the stock plan, the amount of its capital stock. The words "insurance company," "insurance association," or "insurance society" must be a part of the title of any such corporation, and also the word "mutual," if it is organized upon the mutual principle. The certificate of incorporation must be subscribed and sworn to by the incorporators before an officer authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds, who shall forthwith certify the certificate of incorporation, as so made out and signed, to the insurance commissioner of the state at his office in the city of Raleigh. The insurance commissioner shall examine the certificate, and if he approves of it and finds that the requirements of the law have been complied with, shall certify such facts, by certificate on such articles, to the secretary of state. Upon the filing in the office of the secretary of state of the certificate of incorporation and attached certificates, and the payment of a charter fee in the amount required for private corporations, and the same fees to the secretary of state, the secretary of state shall cause the certificate and accompanying certificates to be recorded in his office, and shall issue a certificate in the following form:

Be it known that, whereas (here the names of the subscribers to the articles of association shall be inserted) have associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of (here the name of the corporation shall be inserted), for the purpose (here the purpose declared in the articles of association shall be inserted), with a capital (or with a permanent fund) of (here the amount of capital or permanent fund fixed in the articles of association shall be inserted), and have complied with the provisions of the statute of this state in such case made and provided, as appears from the following certified articles of association: (Here copy articles of association and accompanying certificates). Now, therefore, I (here the name of the secretary shall be inserted), secretary of state, hereby certify that (here the names of the subscribers to the articles of association shall be inserted), their associates and successors, are legally organized and established as, and are hereby made, an existing corporation under the name of (here the name of the corporation shall be inserted), with such articles of association, and have all the powers, rights, and privileges and subject to the duties, liabilities, and restrictions which by law appertain thereto.

Witness my official signature hereunto subscribed, and the seal of the state of North Carolina hereunto affixed, this the ..... day of ....., in the year ..... (in these blanks the day, month, and year of execution of this certificate shall be inserted; and in the case of purely mutual companies, so much as relates to capital stock shall be omitted).

The secretary of state shall sign the certificate and cause the seal of the state to be affixed to it, and such certificate of incorporation and certificate of the secretary of state has the effect of a special charter and is conclusive evidence of the organization and establishment of the corporation. The secretary of state shall also cause a record of his certificate to be made, and a certified copy of this record may be given in evidence with the same effect as the original certificate. (Rev., s. 4727; 1899, c. 54, s. 25; 1903, c. 438, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 6329. First meeting; organization; license.—The first meeting for the purpose of organization under such charter shall be called by a notice signed by one or more of the subscribers to the certificate of incorporation, stating the time, place, and purpose of the meeting; and at least seven days before the appointed time a copy of this notice shall be given to each subscriber, left at his usual place of business or residence, or duly mailed to his postoffice address, unless the signers waive notice in writing. Whoever gives the notice must make affidavit thereof, which affidavit shall include a copy of the notice and be entered upon the records of the corporation. At the first meeting, or any adjournment thereof, an organization shall be effected by the choice of a temporary clerk, who shall be sworn; by the adoption of by-laws; and by the election of directors and such other officers as the by-laws required; but at this meeting no person may be elected director who has not signed the certificate of incorporation. The temporary clerk shall record the proceedings until the election and qualification of the secretary. The directors so chosen shall elect a president, secretary, and other officers which under the by-laws they are so authorized to choose. The president, secretary, and a majority of the directors shall forthwith make, sign, and swear to a certificate setting forth a copy of the certificate of incorporation, with the names of the subscribers thereto, the date of the first meeting and of any adjournments thereof, and shall submit such certificate and the records of the corporation to the insurance commissioner, who shall examine the same, and who may require such other evidence as he deems necessary. If upon his examination the insurance commissioner approves of the by-laws and finds that the requirements of the law have been complied with, he shall issue a license to the company to do business in the state, as is provided for in this chapter. (Rev., s. 4728; 1899, c. 54, s. 25; 1903, c. 438, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 6330. By-laws; classification and election of directors.—A domestic company may adopt by-laws for the conduct of its business not repugnant to law or its charter, and therein provide for the division of its board of directors into two, three, or four classes, and the election thereof at its annual meetings so that the members of one class only shall retire and their successors be chosen each year. Vacancies in any such class may be filled by election by the board for the unexpired term. (Rev., s. 4724; 1899, c. 54, s. 22.)

§ 6331. Power to purchase, hold, and convey real estate.—Any company organized by special charter or under the provisions of the general insurance laws of this state may purchase, hold, convey real estate for the sole purposes and in the manner herein set forth:

1. Such as is necessary for its immediate use in the transaction of its business.

2. Property mortgaged to it in good faith as security for loans previously contracted or for money due.

3. Property conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its dealings, or purchased at sales upon judgments, decrees, or mortgages obtained or made for such debts.

4. It is unlawful for any such incorporated company to purchase or hold real estate in any other case or for any other purpose; and such real estate acquired, and not necessary for the accommodation of the company in the convenient transaction of its business, shall be sold and disposed of within five years after the company has acquired title, and it is not lawful for it to hold the real estate for a longer period than that mentioned, unless it acquired such real estate prior to March sixth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, or procures a certificate from the insurance commissioner that the interest of the company will suffer materially by a forced sale of such real estate, in which event the time for the sale may be extended to such a time as the insurance commissioner directs in the certificate. Nothing contained herein prevents any insurance company from improving and conveying its real estate, notwithstanding the lapse of five years from its acquisition thereof, without having procured such certificate from the insurance commissioner. (Rev., s. 4725; 1899, c. 54, s. 22; 1903, c. 536, s. 2.)

§ 6332. Amount of capital required.—The amount of capital requisite to the formation and organization of companies under the provisions of this subchapter is as follows: Companies to insure plate-glass, not less than twenty-five thousand dollars. Companies issuing health policies, policies against damage by hail, or insuring marine risks or inland risks upon the stock plan, or insuring live-stock, not less than fifty thousand dollars. Companies for the purpose of transacting life or fire insurance on the stock plan, fidelity insurance, accident insurance, steamboiler insurance, credit insurance, sprinkler insurance, and insurance against loss by accident to vehicles, not less than one hundred thousand dollars; but life or accident companies on the industrial plan, issuing policies not over five hundred dollars, may be allowed to transact business with as little capital as fifty thousand dollars. Companies may be so formed to insure mechanics' tools and apparatus against loss by fire for an amount not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars in a single risk, with a capital of not less than ten thousand dollars, divided into shares of the par value of ten dollars each. (Rev., s. 4729; 1899, c. 54, s. 26; 1903, c. 438, s. 4; 1907, c. 1000, s. 5; 1913, c. 140, s. 2; 1929, c. 284, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1929 the capital stock required was materially increased.

§ 6333. Capital stock fully paid in cash.—The capital stock shall be paid in cash within twelve months from the date of the charter or certificate of organization, and no certificate of full shares and no policies may be issued until the whole capital is paid in. A majority of the directors shall certify on oath that the money has been paid by the stockholders for their respective shares and is held as the capital of the company invested or to be invested as required by the next succeeding section. (Rev., s. 4730; 1899, c. 54, s. 27.)

§ 6334. Investment of capital.—Such capital shall be invested only as follows:

1. In first mortgage of real estate in this state.

2. In bonds of the United States or of any of the states whose bonds do not sell for less than par.

3. In the bonds or notes of any city, county, or town of this state whose net indebtedness does not exceed five per centum of the last preceding valuation of the property therein for purposes of taxation. The term "net indebtedness" excludes any debt created to provide an electric light plant and equipment, sewerage system, and a supply of water for general domestic use, and allows credit for the sinking fund of a county, city, town, or district available for the payment of its indebtedness.

4. Any insurance company having a capital stock of more than one hundred thousand dollars may, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, after investing one hundred thousand dollars of the capital as provided in this section, invest the balance in such other securities or in such safe manner as may be approved by the commissioner.

5. Any real-estate title insurance company organized for any of the purposes set forth in article fourteen of this chapter, and having a capital stock of more than fifty thousand dollars, may, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, after investing fifty thousand dollars of the capital, as provided in this section, invest the balance thereof in any such other securities including preferred stock in solvent corporations and including a reasonable investment not to exceed one-fourth of the total capital stock in abstract or title plants and no such company shall guarantee or insure in any one risk more than forty per cent of its combined capital and surplus without first having the approval of the insurance commissioner of North Carolina, which approval shall be endorsed upon the policy. If the capital stock of such company does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, it may, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, after having invested three-fourths of its capital stock as now provided by law, invest the balance hereof in abstracts of titles of property situated in one or more of the cities or counties of this state. (Rev., s. 4731; 1899, c. 54, s. 27; 1907, c. 798; 1907, c. 998; 1911, c. 32; 1913, c. 200; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 54; 1923, c. 73; 1925, c. 187.)

§ 6334(a). Valuation of bonds and other evidences of debt; discretion of insurance commissioner.—All bonds or other evidences of debt having a fixed term and rate held by any life insurance company, assessment life association, or fraternal beneficiary association authorized to do business in this state may, if amply secured and not in default as to principal and interest, be valued as follows: If purchased at par, at the par value; if purchased above or below par, on the basis of the purchase price adjusted so as to bring the value to par at maturity, and so as to yield in the meantime the effective rate of interest at which the purchase was made: Provided, that the purchase price shall in no case be taken at a higher figure than the actual market value at the time of purchase; and provided further, that the insurance commissioner shall have full discretion in determining the method of calculating values according to the foreign rule. (1921, c. 220.)

§ 6335. Authority to increase or reduce capital stock.—The insurance commissioner shall, upon application, examine the proceedings of domestic companies to increase or reduce their capital stock, and when found conformable to law shall issue certificates of authority to such companies to transact business upon such increased or reduced capital. He shall not allow stockholders' obligations of any description as part of the assets or capital of any stock insurance company unless the same are secured by competent collateral. (Rev., s. 4732; 1899, c. 54, s. 15.)

§ 6336. Assessment of shares; revocation of license.—When the net assets of a company organized under this article do not amount to more than three-fourths of its original capital, it may make good its capital to the original amount by assessment of its stock. Shares on which such an assessment is not paid within sixty days and after demand shall be forfeitable and may be canceled by vote of the directors and new shares issued to make up the deficiency. If such company does not, within three months after notice from the insurance commissioner to that effect, make good its capital or reduce the same, as allowed by this article, its authority to transact new business of insurance shall be revoked by the commissioner. (Rev., s. 4733; 1899, c. 54, s. 28; 1903, c. 438, s. 4.)

§ 6337. Increase of capital stock.—Any company organized under this article may issue pro rata to its stockholders certificates of any portion of its actual net surplus it deems fit to divide, which shall be considered an increase of its capital to the amount of such certificates. The company may, at a meeting called for the purpose, vote to increase the amount and number of shares of its capital stock, and to issue certificates therefor when paid for in full. In whichever method the increase is made, the company shall, within thirty days after the issue of such certificates, submit to the insurance commissioner a certificate setting forth the amount of the increase and the facts of the transaction, signed and sworn to by its president and secretary and a majority of its directors. If the insurance commissioner finds that the facts conform to the law, he shall endorse his approval thereof; and upon filing such certificate so endorsed with the secretary of state, and the payment of a fee of five dollars for filing the same, the company may transact business upon the capital as increased, and the insurance commissioner shall issue his certificate to that effect. (Rev., s. 4734; 1899, c. 54, s. 29.)

§ 6338. Reduction of capital stock.—When the capital stock of a company organized under this article is impaired, the company may, upon a vote of the majority of the stock represented at a meeting legally called for that purpose, reduce its capital stock and the number of shares thereof to an amount not less than the minimum sum required by law, but no part of its assets and property shall be distributed to its stockholders. Within ten days after such meeting the company must submit to the insurance commissioner a certificate setting forth the proceedings thereof and the amount of the reduction and the assets and liabilities of the company, signed and sworn to by its president, secretary, and a majority of its directors. The insurance commissioner shall examine the facts in the case, and if they conform to law, and in his judgment the proposed reduction may be made without prejudice to the public, he shall endorse his approval upon the certificate. Upon filing the certificate so endorsed with the secretary of state and paying a filing fee of five dollars, the company may transact business upon the basis of the reduced capital as though it were original capital, and its charter shall be deemed to be amended to conform thereto, and the insurance commissioner shall issue his certificate to that effect. The company may, by a majority vote of its directors, after the reduction, require the return of the original certificate of stock held by each stockholder in exchange for new certificates it may issue in lieu thereof for such number of shares as each stockholder is entitled to in the proportion that the reduced capital bears to the original capital. (Rev., s. 4735; 1899, c. 54, s. 30.)

§ 6339. Dividends declared; liability of stockholders for unlawful dividends.—No stock company organized under this article may pay a cash or stock dividend except from its actual net surplus computed as required by law in its annual statements, nor may any such company which has ceased to do new business of insurance divide any portion of its assets, except surplus, to its stockholders, until it has performed or canceled its policy obligations. No dividend shall be paid by any company incorporated in this state when its capital stock is impaired, or when such payment would have the effect of impairing its capital stock; and any dividend so paid subjects the stockholders receiving it to a joint and several liability to the creditors of said company to the extent of the dividend so paid. (Rev., s. 4736; 1899, c. 54, s. 31; 1903, c. 536, s. 3.)

§ 6340. Loans insufficiently secured.—Whenever it appears by examination, as authorized by law, that an insurance company, organized under the laws of this state, holds, as collateral security for the payment of any loan, any stock, bond, or security of whatever description, which has not a cash market value of at least twenty-five per centum more than the amount of such loan, the insurance commissioner may require the reduction of the loan or an increase of the collateral security, so that the security shall be at least twenty-five per centum in excess of the amount loaned. If the company fail to comply with this requirement within ten days after receiving written notice thereof from the commissioner, it is the duty of the commissioner to disallow the loan and to deduct the amount thereof from the assets of the company. If it appears, upon examination, that any such insurance company holds, as security for any loan, a mortgage upon real estate which is not a first lien or that the value of the real estate is less than fifty per centum in excess of the loan which it is mortgaged to secure, the insurance commissioner may disallow the loan and deduct the amount thereof from the assets of the company holding it, after having given the company at least twenty days notice, in writing, to change or conform the loan to the requirements of this section. (Rev., s. 4737; 1903, c. 536, ss. 6, 7, 8.)

Art. 7. Guaranty Fund for Domestic Companies

§ 6341. Guaranty fund established.—Any insurance company formed as provided in the preceding article, or now existing by virtue of any of the laws of North Carolina, may establish a guaranty fund of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars nor more than two hundred thousand dollars, in the following manner: The company may receive from any person, firm, or corporation, money, bonds, or other securities, in such amount as may be agreed upon, for the purpose of providing a guaranty fund, to be used as hereinafter provided, for payment of the claims of policyholders. Upon the receipt of such bonds, money or other securities by an insurance company, it shall issue its certificate, in writing, authenticated as required by law for certificates of stock, stating the amount, terms, and conditions of repayment of such money or the return of such bonds or other securities, the name of the payee or depositor, and the certificate shall also state upon its face that it is issued under the provisions of this section. The money, bonds, or other securities, when so paid to or deposited with such insurance company, becomes a part of the guaranty fund of the company, and are liable for all the claims of policyholders after the general assets of the company have been exhausted. This guaranty fund is not liable for the claims or debts due to stockholders or the general creditors of such insurance company. No insurance company shall create a guaranty fund, as provided in this article, except upon the approval of a majority of its stockholders authorized at any regular or special meeting called for the purpose. (1909, c. 922, s. 1.)

§ 6342. Separate accounts; application of fund.—Every insurance company which establishes a guaranty fund under the provisions of this article must keep a separate account of the same on its books, together with a full and true list of any securities held therefor. The money and securities belonging to the guaranty fund must be invested in the same manner as is now provided by law for the investment of other assets of insurance companies; but any bond or other securities received by any such insurance company as a part of its guaranty fund may be deposited with the insurance commissioner, as is now allowed by law, subject to the further provisions of this article. An insurance company receiving said money or securities as a part of its guaranty fund, as herein provided, may pay to the person, firm, or corporation from whom the same is received a semi-annual dividend of not more than three and one-half per cent on the amount of said money or securities. The guaranty fund herein provided for shall be applied to the payment of claims of policyholders only when the insurance company has exhausted its cash on hand and the invested assets, exclusive of uncollected premium; and when the guarantee is in any way impaired the directors may make good the whole or any part of such impairment, by assessment upon the contingent funds of the company at the date of such impairment if any are available. (1909, c. 922, s. 1.)

§ 6343. Reduction or retirement of fund.—The guarantee fund shall be retired when the permanent fund of the company equals two per centum of the amount insured upon all policies in force and such guarantee fund may be reduced or retired by vote of the directors of the company and the assent of the insurance commissioner, if the net assets of the company above the reinsurance reserve and all other claims and obligations exclusive of the guaranty fund, for two years immediately preceding and including the date of its last annual statement, are not less than twenty-five per centum of the fund. Due notice of this proposed action on the part of the directors of the company must be mailed to each director of the company not less than thirty days before the meeting when such action may be taken, and must also be advertised in two newspapers of general circulation, to be approved by the insurance commissioner, not less than twice a week for a period of not less than four weeks before the meeting. No insurance company with a guaranty fund, as hereinbefore provided, which has ceased to do new business, may return or retire any part of the guaranty fund or divide to its stockholders any part of its general assets, except incomes from its investments, until it shall have performed, reinsured, or canceled its policy obligations. (1909, c. 922, s. 1.)

§ 6344. Insolvency; return of fund.—In the event of insolvency or voluntary liquidation of any such insurance company, the amount of the guaranty fund shall be returned to the persons, firms, or corporations, their heirs, executors, administrators, successors, or assigns, from which the same was received, in full or pro rata, as the case may be, before any amount shall be paid from the assets of said company to its stockholders. The intention of this section is that the liability of the company for the repayment or the return of its guaranty fund, as evidenced by its certificates therefor, as hereinbefore provided, shall be preferred in the distribution of its assets to the stockholders and general creditors of the company, other than its policy obligations. (1909, c. 922, s. 1.)

§ 6345. Conversion to guaranty fund.—Any insurance company now doing business as a domestic insurance company under the laws of this state which has received any money or securities to be held as a guaranty capital, guaranty surplus, or guaranty fund, may convert the same into a guaranty fund, as hereinbefore provided, by mutual agreement between the board of directors of the insurance company and the parties from whom the money or securities have been received, subject, however, to the approval of the insurance commissioner, and thereupon certificates shall be issued therefor, as hereinbefore provided, and the same shall thereafter be held subject to the rights and liabilities provided in this article. (1909, c. 922, s. 2.)

Art. 8. Mutual Insurance Companies

§ 6346. Mutual fire insurance companies organized; requisites for doing business.—Mutual fire insurance companies may be formed under this article, but no policy may be issued by a purely mutual fire insurance company, or by a mutual fire insurance company with a guaranty capital of less than fifty thousand dollars, until not less than two hundred thousand dollars of insurance, in not less than two hundred separate risks upon property located in North Carolina, has been subscribed for and entered on its books; but in the formation of mutual fire insurance companies to operate in no more than two counties of this state, whether town or farmers' mutuals, the requirement as to amount of insurance shall be twenty-five thousand dollars in risks owned by at least twenty-five adult residents of such towns or counties; but where there is an association or corporation for the purpose of interinsurance or mutual protection between members of said association or corporation, which members or stockholders are engaged in the same line of business, the requirement shall be fifty instead of two hundred separate risks. No policy may be issued under this section until the president and the secretary of the company have certified under oath that every subscription for insurance in the list presented to the insurance commissioner for approval is genuine, and made with an agreement with every subscriber for insurance that he will take the policies subscribed for by him within thirty days after the granting of a license to the company by the insurance commissioner to issue policies. (Rev., s. 4738; 1899, c. 54, ss. 25, 32, 34; 1901, c. 391, s. 3; 1903, c. 438, s. 4; 1911, c. 93.)

§ 6347. Assessments kept in treasury; certain officers debarred from commissions.—Every mutual or assessment company or association organized or doing business in the state on the assessment plan shall keep in its treasury at least one assessment sufficient to pay one average loss. No officer or other person whose duty it is to determine the character of the risk, and upon whose decision the application shall be accepted or rejected by a mutual fire insurance company, shall receive as any part of his compensation a commission upon the premiums, but his compensation shall be a fixed salary and such share in the net profits as the directors may determine. Nor shall such officer or person be an employee of any officer or agent of the company. (Rev., s. 4738; 1899, c. 54, s. 32; 1903, c. 438, s. 4.)

§ 6348. Policyholders are members of mutual fire companies.—Every person insured by a mutual fire insurance company is a member while his policy is in force, entitled to one vote for each policy he holds, and must be notified of the time and place of holding its meetings by a written notice or by an imprint upon the bank of each policy, receipt, or certificate of renewal, as follows:

The insured is hereby notified that by virtue of this policy he is a member of the ..... insurance company, and that the annual meetings of the company are held at its home office on the ..... day of ....., in each year, at ..... o'clock.

The blanks shall be duly filled in print and are a sufficient notice. A corporation which becomes a member of such company may authorize any person to represent it, and this representative has all the rights of an individual member. A person holding property in trust may insure it in such company, and as trustee assume the liability and be entitled to the rights of a member, but is not personally liable upon the contract of insurance. Members may vote by proxies, dated and executed within three months, and returned and recorded on the books of the company three days or more before the meeting at which they are to be used; but no person as proxy or otherwise may cast more than twenty votes. (Rev., s. 4739; 1899, c. 54, s. 33.)

§ 6349. Directors in mutual fire companies.—Every mutual fire insurance company shall elect by ballot a board of not less than seven directors, who shall manage and conduct its business and hold office for one year or for such term as the by-laws provide and until their successors are qualified. Two-thirds at least of the directors must be citizens of the state, and after the first election members only are eligible, but no director is disqualified from serving the term he was chosen for by reason of the expiration or cancellation of his policy. In companies with a guaranty capital, one-half of the directors shall be chosen by and from the stockholders. (Rev., s. 4739; 1899, c. 54, s. 33.)

§ 6350. Mutual fire companies with a guaranty capital.—A mutual fire insurance company formed as provided in this article, or a mutual fire insurance company now existing, may establish a guaranty capital or surplus of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars nor more than two hundred thousand dollars, divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, which shall be invested in the same manner as is provided in this subchapter for the investment of the capital stock of certain insurance companies. The stockholders of the guaranty capital of a company or owners of guaranty surplus are entitled to a semiannual dividend of not more than three and one-half per centum on their respective shares, if the net profits or unused premiums left after all expenses, losses, and liabilities then incurred, together with the reserve for reinsurance, as provided for, are sufficient to pay the same. The guaranty capital or surplus shall be applied to the payment of losses only when the company has exhausted its cash in hand and the invested assets, exclusive of uncollected premiums, and when thus impaired, the directors may make good the whole or any part of it by assessments upon the contingent funds of the company at the date of such impairment. Shareholders and members of such companies are subject to the same provisions of law in respect to their right to vote as apply respectively to shareholders in stock companies and policyholders in purely mutual companies. This guaranty capital or surplus shall be retired when the permanent fund of the company equals two per centum of the amount insured upon all policies in force, and may be reduced or retired by vote of the policyholders of the company and the assent of the insurance commissioner, if the net assets of the company above its reinsurance reserve and all other claims and obligations, exclusive of guaranty capital or surplus, for two years immediately preceding and including the date of its last annual statement, is not less than twenty-five per centum of the guaranty capital or surplus. Due notice of such proposed action on the part of the company must be mailed to each policyholder of the company not less than thirty days before the meeting when the action may be taken, and must also be advertised in two papers of general circulation, approved by the insurance commissioner, not less than three times a week for a period of not less than four weeks before such meeting. No insurance company with a guaranty capital or surplus, which has ceased to do new business, shall divide to its stockholders any part of its assets or guaranty capital or surplus except income from investments, until it has performed or canceled its policy obligations. (Rev., s. 4740; 1899, c. 54, s. 34; 1911, c. 196, s. 3.)

§ 6351. Dividends and assessments; liability of policyholders.—The directors of a mutual fire insurance company may from time to time, by vote, fix and determine the amount to be paid as a dividend upon policies expiring during each year. Each policyholder is liable to pay his proportional share of any assessments which are made by the company in accordance with law and his contract on account of losses incurred while he was a member, if he is notified of such assessments within one year after the expiration of his policy. Any mutual fire insurance company doing business with a fixed annual premium may in its by-laws and policies fix the contingent liability of its members for the payment of losses and expenses not provided for by its cash funds, which contingent liability must not be less than a sum equal to the cash premium written in his policy and in addition thereto. The by-laws may also provide for policies to be issued for cash premiums without contingent liability of policyholders; provided, that no mutual fire insurance company shall issue any policy without contingent liability until and unless it possesses a surplus of at least one hundred thousand dollars. The total amount of the liability of the policyholder must be plainly and legibly stated upon the back of each policy. Whenever any reduction is made in the contingent liability of members, it applies proportionally to all policies in force: Provided this section shall not apply to farmers mutual fire insurance companies. (Rev., s. 4741; 1899, c. 54, s. 35; 1935, c. 89.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment the contingent liability was required to be not less than a sum equal to five times the cash written in its policy. The third from the last sentence of this section relating to provisions in by-laws was added by the amendment. The proviso at the end of the section was also added.

§ 6351(a). Waiver of forfeiture in policies assigned or pledged; notice of assignment; payment of assessment or premium by assignee or mortgagee.—When any policy of insurance is issued by any mutual insurance company or association organized under the laws of this state and such policy is assigned or pledged as collateral security for the payment of a debt, such company or association, by its president and secretary or other managing officers, may insert in such policy so assigned or pledged, or attached thereto as a rider thereupon, a provision or provisions to be approved by the insurance commissioner, whereby any or all conditions of the policy which work a suspension or forfeiture and especially the provisions of the statute which limits such corporation to insure only property of its members, may be waived in such case for the benefit of the assignee or mortgagee. In case any such company or association shall consent to such assignment of any policy or policies, or the proceeds thereof, it may nevertheless at any time thereafter, by its president and secretary or such other officer as may be authorized by the board of directors, cancel such policy by giving the assignee or mortgagee not less than ten days notice in writing: Provided, however, a longer period may be agreed upon by the company or association and such assignee or mortgagee. And the president and secretary of such company or association, with the approval of the insurance commissioner, may agree with the assignee or mortgagee upon an assignment or premium to be paid to the insurer in case the insured shall not pay the same, which shall not be less than such a rate or sum of money as may be produced by the average assessments or premiums made or charged by like company or association during a period of five years next preceding the year of such agreement and assignment. When an assignment is made as herein provided the policy or policies so assigned or pledged, subject to the conditions herein, shall remain in full force and effect for the benefit of the assignee or mortgagee, notwithstanding the title or ownership of the assured to the property insured, or to any interest therein, shall be in any manner changed, transferred or encumbered. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 79.)

§ 6352. Guaranty against assessments prohibited.—If any director or other officer of a mutual fire insurance company, either officially or privately, shall give a guarantee to a policyholder thereof against an assessment to which such policyholder would otherwise be liable, he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense. (Rev., s. 3496; 1899, c. 54, s. 100.)

Cited in Paramore v. Farmers' Mut. Fire Ins. Ass'n, 207 N. C. 300, 306, 176 S. E. 585.

§ 6353. Manner of making assessments; rights and liabilties of policyholders.—When a mutual fire insurance company is not possessed of cash funds above its reinsurance reserve sufficient for the payment of insured losses and expenses, it must make an assessment for the amount needed to pay such losses and expenses upon its members liable to assessment therefor in proportion to their several liabilities. The company shall cause to be recorded in a book kept for that purpose the order for the assessment, together with a statement which must set forth the condition of the company at the date of the order, the amount of its cash assets and deposits, notes, or other contingent funds liable to the assessment, the amount the assessment calls for, and the particular losses or liabilities it is made to provide for. This record must be made and signed by the directors who voted for the order before any part of the assessment is collected, and any person liable to the assessment may inspect and take a copy of the same. When, by reason of depreciation or loss of its funds or otherwise, the cash assets of such company, after providing for its other debts, are less than the required premium reserve upon its policies, it must make good the deficiency by assessment in the manner above provided. If the directors are of the opinion that the company is liable to become insolvent they may, instead of such assessment, make two assessments, the first determining what each policyholder must equitably pay or receive in case of withdrawal from the company and having his policy canceled; the second, what further sum each must pay in order to reinsure the unexpired term of his policy at the same rate as the whole was insured at first. Each policyholder must pay or receive according to the first assessment, and his policy shall be canceled unless he pays the sum further determined by the second assessment, in which case his policy continues in force; but in neither case may a policyholder receive or have credited to him more than he would have received on having his policy canceled by a vote of the directors under the by-laws. (Rev., s. 4742; 1899, c. 54, ss. 36, 37.)

Forfeiture and Waiver.—It is clear that failure to pay assessments, in accordance with the terms of a contract works a forfeiture of the policy. It is equally well settled that a company may by acts of unequivocal character waive such forfeiture. Perry v. Farmers Mut. Life Ins. Co., 132 N. C. 283, 287, 43 S. E. 837.

An acceptance of an overdue assessment by a fire insurance company, after the property is burned, the company having notice thereof, is a waiver of the forfeiture of the policy. Perry v. Farmers Mut. Life Ins. Co., 132 N. C. 283, 43 S. E. 837.

Right of Insured to Withdraw.—Where the members of mutual insurance companies have enjoyed the protection which membership affords, they cannot, after a loss has been sustained, withdraw and refuse to pay their portion of the loss. Perry v. Farmers Mut. Fire Ass'n, 139 N. C. 374, 51 S. E. 1025.

Payments of Claims.—The right of each policyholder in the defendant company is to have an assessment made to pay his loss, and he has no claim upon an amount paid to another policyholder. Perry v. Farmers Mut. Fire Ass'n, 139 N. C. 374, 51 S. E. 1025.

§ 6354. Mutual life and health companies.—Life and health insurance companies and associations organized in this state to do business on the mutual plan shall be governed as to the commencement of business, election of members, guaranty capital, dividends, and assessments as provided in this article for mutual fire insurance companies, where applicable. (Rev., s. 4743; 1903, c. 536, s. 1.)

§ 6355. Dividends on, and redemption of, guaranty capital of life companies.—The stockholders of the guaranty capital of any domestic life insurance company are entitled to such annual dividends not exceeding eight per centum, payable from the net surplus, as have been agreed upon in the subscription thereof. Such company may redeem its guaranty capital by appropriation of net surplus for that purpose whenever its members so vote. (Rev., s. 4744; 1899, c. 54, s. 58; 1903, c. 338, s. 5.)

Art. 9. Assessment Companies

§ 6356. Copies of charter and by-laws filed.—Every corporation, society, or organization of this or any other state or country, transacting business under this department upon the coöperative or assessment plan, must file with the insurance commissioner, before beginning to do business in this state, a copy of its charter or articles of association, and the by-laws, rules, or regulations referred to in its policies or certificates and made a part of such contract. By-laws or regulations not so filed with the insurance commissioner will not avoid or affect any policy or certificate issued by such company or association. (Rev., s. 4790; 1899, c. 54, s. 86.)

§ 6357. Contracts must accord with charter and by-laws.—Every policy or certificate or renewal receipts issued to a resident of this state by any corporation, association, or order transacting therein the business of insurance upon the assessment plan must be in accord with the provisions of the charter and by-laws of such corporation, association, or order, as filed with the insurance commissioner. It is unlawful for any such domestic or foreign insurance company or fraternal order to transact or offer to transact any business not authorized by the provisions of its charter and the terms of its by-laws, or, through an agent or otherwise, to offer or issue any policy, renewal certificate, or other contract whose terms are not in clear accord with the powers, terms, and stipulations of its charter and by-laws. (Rev., s. 4791; 1899, c. 54, s. 84; 1903, c. 438, s. 9.)

Duty and Liability under By-laws.—The by-laws of an assessment association when assented to by the members, as provided in this chapter, constitute the measure of duty and liability of the parties, provided they are reasonable and not in violation of any principle of public law. Duffy v. Fidelity Mut. Life Ins. Co., 142 N. C. 103, 55 S. E. 79.

Duty and Liability under Charter.—The contract of insurance must conform to the charter and by-laws, and these are as authorized by the state of its origin. Hollingsworth v. Supreme Council, 175 N. C. 615, 96 S. E. 81; Caldwell Land, etc., Co. v. Board, 174 N. C. 634, 94 S. E. 406, cited and distinguished.

Assessment companies are prohibited from issuing policies or transacting business not authorized by its charter. Brenizer v. Royal Arcanum, 141 N. C. 409, 418, 53 S. E. 835.

§ 6358. "Assessment plan" printed on application and policy; waiver by commissioner. — Every policy or certificate issued to a resident of the state by any corporation transacting in the state the business of life insurance upon the assessment plan, or admitted to do business in this state on the assessment plan, shall print in bold type and red ink, near the top of the front page of the policy, upon every policy, or certificate issued upon the life of any such resident of the state, the words "issued upon the assessment plan"; and the words "assessment plan" shall be printed conspicuously in red ink in and upon every application, circular card, and any and all printed documents issued, circulated or caused to be circulated by such corporation within the state, save and except, however, in advertising in newspapers within the state, in which case the words may be printed in black. The insurance commissioner may waive the provisions of this section as to assessment companies or associations who conduct their business on an annual premium basis and maintain a full reserve of at least four per cent, based on any recognized table of mortality, and at all times maintain a net surplus over and above all liabilities and available for the payment of claims, sufficient to preclude the possibility of an extra assessment being levied against policyholders. Said waiver must be in writing and the insurance commissioner may revoke it at any time for cause. (1913, c. 159, s. 1; 1929, c. 93, s. 1; 1933, c. 34.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1929 added the last sentence of this section.

Public Laws 1933, c. 34, changes the waiver provision of this section to apply to associations maintaining a reserve of four per cent., rather than three and one-half per cent., based on any recognized Mortality Table, rather than the American Experience Mortality Table.

§ 6359. Revocation for noncompliance.—If any corporation or association transacting insurance business in this state on the assessment plan or issuing any policy upon the life of a resident of North Carolina upon the assessment plan shall fail or refuse to comply with the foregoing section, the insurance commissioner shall forthwith suspend or revoke all authority of such corporation or association and of its agents to do business in this state. (1913, c. 159, s. 2.)

§ 6360. Deposits and advance assessments required.—Every domestic insurance company, association, order, or fraternal benefit society doing business on the assessment plan shall collect and keep at all times in its treasury one regular loss assessment sufficient to pay one regular average loss; and no such company, association, order, or fraternal benefit society shall be licensed by the insurance commissioner unless it makes and maintains with him for the protection of its obligations at least five thousand dollars in United States or North Carolina bonds, in farm loan bonds issued by federal loan banks, or in the bonds of some city, county, or town of North Carolina to be approved by the insurance commissioner, or deposit with him a good and sufficient bond, secured by a deed of trust on real estate situated in North Carolina and approved by him, or by depositing with the insurance commissioner a bond in an amount of not less than five thousand ($5,000) dollars, issued by any corporate surety company authorized to do business in this state. Such companies, association, orders, or societies now doing business in this state and not issuing policies or certificates for more than two hundred dollars, shall be permitted to deposit five hundred dollars on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and five hundred dollars each six months thereafter until the required amount is deposited; and the last named association when hereafter organized may be allowed by the insurance commissioner to make such deposit in like installments. The insurance commissioner may increase the amount of deposit to the amount of reserve on the contracts of the association or society. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the farmers mutual fire insurance associations now doing business in the state and restricting their activities to not more than two adjacent counties. (Rev. s. 4792; 1913, c. 119, s. 1; 1917, c. 191, s. 2; 1933, c. 47.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 47, inserted the clause at the end of the first sentence of the section and also added the sentence appearing at the end of the section.

§ 6361. Deposits by foreign assessment companies or order.—Each foreign insurance company, association, order, or fraternal benefit society doing business in this state on the assessment plan shall keep at all times deposited with the insurance commissioner or in its head office in this state, or in some responsible banking or trust company, one regular assessment sufficient to pay the average loss or losses occurring among its members in this state during the time allowed by it for the collection of assessments and payment of losses. It shall notify the insurance commissioner of the place of deposit and furnish him at all times such information as he requires in regard thereto; and no such company, association, order, or fraternal benefit society shall be licensed by the commissioner unless it makes and maintains with him for the protection of its obligations at least five thousand dollars in United States or North Carolina bonds, in farm loan bonds issued by federal land banks, or in the bonds of some county, city, or town in North Carolina to be approved by the insurance commissioner, or a good and sufficient bond or note, secured by deed of trust on real estate situate in North Carolina, and approved by the commissioner. The provisions of this section do not apply to associations, orders, or fraternal benefit societies operating in not more than two adjacent counties in the state and paying a benefit of not exceeding two hundred dollars, but the amount to be deposited by said societies is within the discretion of the insurance commissioner, but must be not less than one-hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 4713; 1899, c. 54, s. 84; 1903, c. 438; s. 9; 1913, c. 119, ss. 2, 3; 1917, c. 191, s. 2.)

§ 6362. Revocation of license.—If any such corporation, association, or order at any time fails to comply with the provisions of the two next preceding sections or shall issue policies or certificates not in accord with its charter and by-laws, as provided in this article, the insurance commissioner shall forthwith suspend or revoke all authority to it, and of all its agents or officers, to do business in this state, and shall publish such revocation in some newspaper published in this state. (Rev., s. 4793; 1899, c. 54, s. 85.)

Art. 10. Bond and Investment Companies

§§ 6363 to 6375. Repealed by Laws 1925 and 1927. See §§ 3924(a) to 3924(z).

II. Note to Section 6367.
III. Note to Section 6372.

I. NOTE TO SECTION 6363.

As to limitation of suit, see sec. 6290.

Constitutionality.—It is within the police powers of a state to pass a statute for the protection of its citizens against the sale to them of worthless shares of stock in speculative companies in the exercise of a reserved power in the state from that granted to the general government, and does not contravene either the State of Federal Constitution. State v. Fidelity, etc., Co., 191 N. C. 634, 132 S. E. 792.

The purpose is to protect the general public from "wild cat" organizers, promoters and their agents, whether foreign or domestic, preying upon an unsuspecting and confiding public by selling "blue-sky stock," without obtaining license and giving bond. State v. Fidelity, etc., Co., 191 N. C. 643, 645, 132 S. E. 792.

"The laws of Massachusetts on the subject have been copied with few exceptions throughout the county. This class of legislation has come to be known as the 'Blue Sky Laws.' The object, of course, of the 'Blue Sky Laws' is not only to keep worthless stock off the market but to make actual values and par values correspond. Thus, if the par value of a share of stock is one hundred dollars, the part of the assets of the corporation represented by a share of stock must be worth one hundred dollars." N. C. Law Rev. 1, 27.

Scope of Section.—It is an "investment company" offering to the public an investment in lands and fig orchards in Georgia. It is also offering the "obligation of said corporation" to cultivate said land, and giving its contract to make title in compliance with certain terms; and, lastly, it is offering for sale, such "evidences of property." Under all three of these provisions it is within the scope of this section. State v. Agey, 171 N. C. 831, 833, 88 S. E. 726.

Limitations of Suit. — Contracts of indemnity against loss, or surety bonds, for the faithful performance of a building contract are regarded in the nature of contracts of insurance coming under the provisions of this section and any conflicting restriction in such contract as to the time of bringing an action to recover damages for the breach of the contract is void. Guilford Lumber Mfg. Co. v. Johnson, 177 N. C. 44, 45, 97 S. E. 732.

Process and Service.—This section does not require service of process upon the insurance commissioner, in cases of bonding companies, although license is issued by the insurance commissioner service on local agent is sufficient. Pardue v. Absher, 174 N. C. 676, 678, 94 S. E. 414.

Agent's Liability for Violation.—The failure or refusal of the corporation to comply with the requirements of our statutes to obtain license makes the defendant, its agent, guilty of the offense charged. State v. Agey, 171 N. C. 831, 88 S. E. 726.

One who sells certificates of shares of stock in a corporation upon a commission basis without having obtained a license to do so, comes within the inhibition of this statute, though the sale may have been effected by another acting through such solicitor without compensation. Burlington Hotel Corp. v. Bell, 192 N. C. 620, 621, 135 S. E. 616.

Enforcement of Contract.—Where a subscription contract for purchase of shares of stock in a corporation was procured by one who has not obtained a license from the Insurance Commissioner, the contract is not enforcible against such subscriber. Burlington Hotel Corp. v. Bell, 192 N. C. 620, 621, 135 S. E. 616.

Contracts To Be Executed Out of State.—Where a foreign corporation has issued a bond indemnifying a North Carolina concern against loss under a contract with an agency, located in another State, established to collect moneys, etc., for insurance premiums, which bond was delivered to the agent to be sent to the indemnified here for approval and acceptance, the contract of indemnity is to be construed and enforced in accordance with our own laws. Dixie Fire Ins. Co. v. American Bonding Co., 162 N. C. 384, 385, 78 S. E. 430.

Domestic Corporations.—This section applies to sales of stock in a domestic corporation as well as a foreign one, irrespective of whether the same was either fraudulently procured or falls within the intent and meaning of the "Blue-Sky" law. Burlington Hotel Corp. v. Bell, 192 N. C. 620, 135 S. E. 616.

Notes given for the purchase of shares of stock in a corporation being organized are not void for noncompliance with the provisions of sections 6363 and 6367, when the shares were not put upon the market by agents, or commissions paid to anyone for procuring subscriptions thereto. Hotel Corporation v. Bell, 192 N. C. 620, cited and distinguished. Durham Citizens Hotel Corp. v. Dennis, 195 N. C. 420, 142 S. E. 578.

Cited in Hotel Corporation v. Dixon, 196 N. C. 265, 145 S. E. 244.

II. NOTE TO SECTION 6367.

See note to § 6363.

Fraudulent Representations. — If the agent selling the stock represents to the plaintiff that certain parties would devote their time to the business, and that the statute has been complied with, and that the stock would not be sold below a certain price, such representation if false within the knowledge of the defendant constitutes actionable fraud. McNair v. Southern States Finance Co., 191 N. C. 710, 133 S. E. 85.

Knowledge of the Plaintiff.—When plaintiff did not know, and was not in a position to know of the falsity of the representations as made to him the parties will not be considered in pari delicto. McNair v. Southern States Finance Co., 191 N. C. 710, 133 S. E. 85.

Recovery of Damages.—A purchaser of shares of stock may recover damages upon the false representations of the seller that all of the provisions of the Blue-Sky Law, this section, had been complied with, with the burden of proof on the purchaser, the plaintiff in the action, to show his damages arising therefrom. McNair v. Southern Finance Co., 191 N. C. 710, 711, 133 S. E. 85.

Domestic Corporations.—This law was at first applied only to foreign corporations but by chapter 121, Public Laws 1919, it was made to apply as well to domestic corporations. The law appears in toto in 6363-6375, and the provision which in itself is known as the "Blue-Sky" law, is section 6367. 3 N. C. Law Rev. 151.

The requirements of this section as to soliciting the purchase of shares of stock in a certain corporation in accordance with certain conditions, applies by statutory amendment of 1919, not only to corporations formed in other states, but also to domestic corporations. Seminole Phosphate Co. v. Johnson, 188 N. C. 419, 124 S. E. 859. See also Burlington Hotel Corp. v. Bell, 192 N. C. 620, 135 S. E. 616.

Notes Given for Stock.—Where a negotiable note is given for shares of stock in a corporation, solicited in violation of the Blue-Sky Law, the note is voidable against a holder who has acquired it with notice of the illegality or fraud in the procurement of the instrument. Planters Bank, etc., Co. v. Felton, 188 N. C. 384, 124 S. E. 849.

III. NOTE TO SECTION 6372.

Liability for Principal's Act.—The State has a right to require evidence of good faith, of assets, and of responsibility from nonresident parties offering to sell to our people "investments" or "evidences of property" on contracts. An agent of a company who fails to do this, in defiance of our laws, is properly found guilty. State v. Agey, 171 N. C. 831, 836, 88 S. E. 726.

Art. 11. Fidelity Insurance Companies

§ 6376. May act as fiduciaries.—Any corporation licensed by the insurance commissioner, where such powers or privileges are granted it in its charter, may be guardian, trustee, assignee, receiver, executor or administrator in this state without giving any bond; and the clerks of the superior courts or other officers charged with the duty, or clothed with the power of making such appointments, are authorized to appoint such corporation to any such office, whether the corporation is a resident of this state or not. (Rev., s. 4799; 1899, c. 54, s. 47; 1903, c. 438, s. 5.)

See § 6379 and note.

Applied in Quinton v. Cain, 203 N. C. 162, 165 S. E. 543.

§ 6377. License to do business.—Before any such corporation is authorized to execute any bond, obligation, or undertaking, or act in any fiduciary capacity without bond, it must be licensed by the insurance commissioner of the state, which the commissioner is authorized to do when satisfied that such company or corporation is safe and solvent and has complied with the laws of this state applicable to such companies, and if a foreign company, that it has also complied with the conditions, rules, and regulations governing the admission of foreign insurance companies to do business in this state; but if such corporation be engaged in the business of commercial banking then such license shall be issued by the Commissioner of Banks and all other provisions of this article pertaining to corporations engaged in the business of banking shall apply to such corporations but shall be exercised and enforced by the Commissioner of Banks. For such license the licensee shall pay to the Banking Commission an annual license fee of two hundred ($200.00) dollars, which shall be remitted to the State Treasurer for the use of the Commissioner of Banks in the supervision of banks acting in a fiduciary capacity in so far as it may be necessary and the surplus, if any, shall remain in the State treasury for the use of the general fund of the State. (Rev., s. 4800; 1899, c. 54, s. 46; 1901, c. 706, s. 1; 1931, c. 387.)

See § 6379 and note.

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added all of this section beginning with the word "but" in line thirteen.

Applied in Quinton v. Cain, 203 N. C. 162, 165 S. E. 543.

§ 6378. Examination as to solvency.—The commissioner shall examine into the solvency of such corporation, and shall, if he deem it necessary, at the expense of the corporation, make or cause to be made an examination at its home office of its assets and liabilities. (Rev., s. 4801; 1899, c. 54, s. 46; 1901, c. 706.)

See § 6379 and note.

§ 6379. Certificate of solvency equivalent to justification. — After any such corporation has been licensed by the commissioner, the certificate of the commissioner that it has been admitted to do business in the state and is licensed by the insurance commissioner and is solvent to an amount not less than one hundred thousand dollars, shall be, until revoked by him, equivalent to the justification of sureties, and full evidence of its authority to give such bonds or undertakings. There shall be no charge for the seal of this certificate. (Rev., s. 4802; 1899, c. 54, s. 46; 1901, c. 706.)

There is a presumption that the Insurance Commissioner has complied with the law in licensing a bank to act as administrator, and where there is evidence that a bank, on the date it was appointed administrator, was solvent in an amount in excess of $100,000, the contention of an administrator d. b. n. appointed upon the bank's insolvency that the bank had not complied with the provisions of this section and those preceding it cannot be sustained. Security Nat. Bank v. Bridgers, 207 N. C. 91, 176 S. E. 295.

§ 6380. Clerk of superior court notified of license and revocation.—The insurance commissioner, upon granting license to any such corporation, shall immediately notify the clerk of the superior court of each county in the state that such corporation has been licensed under this chapter; and whenever the commissioner is satisfied that any corporation licensed by him has become insolvent, or is in imminent danger of insolvency, he shall revoke the license granted to it, and notify the clerk of the superior court of each county of such revocation; and after such notification the right of such corporation to hold any office, or be surety on any bond, as permitted by this chapter, ceases. (Rev., s. 4803; 1899, c. 54, s. 50.)

§ 6381. Resident agents required.—All business done in this state by any fidelity insurance company must be done through regularly authorized agents residing in this state, or through applications of such agents; and all policies so issued must be countersigned by such agents. (Rev., s. 4804; 1899, c. 54, s. 108; 1903, c. 438, s. 11.)

§ 6382. Limitation of liability assumed. — No stock corporation transacting fidelity or surety business in this State shall expose itself to any loss on any one fidelity or surety risk or hazard in an amount exceeding ten per centum of its capital and surplus, unless it shall be protected in excess of that amount by

(a) Reinsurance in a corporation authorized to transact a fidelity and surety business in this State: Provided, that such reinsurance is in such form as to enable the obligee or beneficiary to maintain an action thereon against the company reinsured jointly with such reinsurer and, upon recovering judgment against such reinsured, to have recovery against such reinsurer for payment to the extent in which it may be liable under such reinsurance and in discharge thereof; or

(b) The co-suretyship of such a corporation similarly authorized; or

(c) By deposit with it in pledge or conveyance to it in trust for its protection of property; or

(d) By conveyance or mortgage for its protection; or

(e) In case a suretyship obligation was made on behalf or on account of a fiduciary holding property in a trust capacity, by deposit or other disposition of a portion of the property so held in trust that no future sale, mortgage, pledge or other disposition can be made thereof without the consent of such corporation; except by decree or order of a court of competent jurisdiction;

Provided: (1) That such corporation may execute what are known as transportation or warehousing bonds for United States Internal Revenue taxes to an amount equal to fifty per centum of its capital and surplus; (2) that, when the penalty of the suretyship obligation exceeds the amount of a judgment described therein as appealed from and thereby secured, or exceeds the amount of the subject matter in controversy or of the estate in the hands of the fiduciary for the performance of whose duties it is conditioned, the bond may be executed if the actual amount of the judgment or the subject matter in controversy or estate not subject to supervision or control of the surety is not in excess of such limitation; and (3) that, when the penalty of the suretyship obligation executed for the performance of a contract exceeds the contract price, the latter shall be taken as the basis for estimating the limit of risk within the meaning of this section.

No such corporation shall, anything to the contrary in this section notwithstanding, execute suretyship obligations guaranteeing the deposits of any single financial institution in an aggregate amount in excess of ten per centum of the capital and surplus of such corporate surety, unless it shall be protected in excess of that amount by credits in accordance with sub-division (a), (b), (c) or (d) of this section: Provided, nothing in this section shall be construed to make invalid any contract entered into by such corporation with another person, firm, corporation or municipal corporation notwithstanding any provisions of this section. (1911, c. 28; 1931, c. 285.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the former section and substituted in lieu thereof the above. That Act, which was ratified April 16, 1931, provided that nothing therein should affect, modify or qualify the liability of any such Fidelity or Surety Company with respect to any contract of such company in force at the time of its ratification. The old statute placed the limit at ten per centum of the capital and surplus of the surety company, unless "suitable and sufficient collateral agreements of indemnity" were made, mentioning ostensibly as such "suitable agreements" a pledge deposit or conveyances in trust. The new enactment provides the same per centum limit, but makes specific the necessary protective arrangement for a liability in excess of said per centum: reinsurance, co-suretyship, pledge deposits, or conveyance in trust on mortgage. It also provides that the actual amount involved in three types of secured transactions—appeal bond, executor's bond, and bond for performance contract—shall be the basis for estimating the risk, for the purpose of the statutory limitation, although the professed penalty of the suretyship obligation exceeds such actual amount. Depository bonds are specifically mentioned as coming within the limits set down. It seems advisable to have cleared up the ambiguity of the loose phrase in the old statute describing the conditions under which the limited liability could be exceeded and to have furnished a test for determining the amount of the risk in at least three transactions. But as to the test for the risk assumed in other types quaere. 9 N. C. Law Rev. 394.

Joint-Control Agreements.—It would seem that in cases coming within the purview of this section, and perforce to the extent thereof, joint-control agreements between fiduciaries and their sureties are sanctioned in this State by act of Assembly. Pierce v. Pierce, 197 N. C. 348, 148 S. E. 438; Leonard v. York, 202 N. C. 704, 706, 163 S. E. 878.

Art. 12. Promoting and Holding Companies

§ 6383. Terms defined.—As the terms are used in this article, "promoting corporation" means a corporation or joint-stock association, engaged in the business of organizing or promoting or endeavoring to organize or promote the organization of an insurance corporation or corporations, or in any way assisting therein; "holding corporation" means a corporation or joint-stock association, which holds or is engaged in the acquisition of the capital stock or a major portion thereof of one or more insurance corporations for the purpose of controlling the management thereof, as voting trustees or otherwise; and "securities" means the shares of capital stock, subscription, certificates, debenture bonds, and any and all other contracts or evidences of ownership of or interest in insurance corporations, or in promoting or holding corporations. (1913, c. 182, s. 1.)

§ 6384. Certificate required. — No individual, partnership, association, or corporation, as the agent of another or as a broker, shall sell or offer for sale, or in any way assist in the sale in this state of the securities of any promoting or holding corporation, or of any insurance corporation, which is not at that time lawfully engaged or authorized to engage in the transaction of the business of insurance in this state, without first procuring, as hereinafter provided, a certificate of authority from the insurance department to sell such securities; nor shall any individual, partnership, association, or corporation sell or offer for sale in this state the securities of any promoting or holding corporation, or of any insurance corporation which is not at the time of such sale or offer of sale lawfully engaged or authorized to engage in the transaction of the business of insurance in the state, unless such corporation has first procured from the insurance commissioner as hereinafter provided, a certificate that the corporation has fully complied with the provisions of this article, and is authorized to sell the securities. Every certificate issued by the insurance commissioner pursuant to the provisions of this article shall state in bold type that the commissioner in no way recommends the securities thereby authorized to be sold, and shall be renewable annually, upon written application, filed on or before the first day of April of each year, and may be revoked for cause at any time by the commissioner. The commissioner shall prepare and furnish upon request suitable blank forms of application for the certificates required by this article. (1913, c. 182, s. 2.)

§ 6385. Application for certificate by agent. — Every individual, partnership, association, or corporation desiring or intending to sell or to offer for sale in this state the securities of insurance corporations or of any holding or promoting corporation shall file with the insurance commissioner an application for a certificate of such authority. This application must contain a statement, verified by oath, setting forth the name and address of the applicant's previous business experience, date and place of birth or organization, and such other information as the commissioner requires. It is the duty of the commissioner to examine the application and to make any further inquiry or examination of the applicant as he deems advisable. If upon examination the commissioner finds the applicant, or if a corporation, the officers and directors thereof, to be trustworthy persons of good business credit, he may issue to the applicant a certificate of authority to sell or offer for sale in this state the securities of any insurance corporation, and of any promoting or holding corporation previously authorized under this article, which shall be mentioned therein. (1913, c. 182, s. 3.)

§ 6386. Application for certificate by corporation.—Every such unauthorized insurance corporation, and every promoting or holding corporation, whose securities are offered for sale in this state, must file with the insurance commissioner copies of all securities to be offered for sale, and an application for certificate of authority under this article which shall contain a statement in detail of the plans and purposes of such corporation, the amount and par value of the securities to be offered for sale, and the selling price thereof, the manner in which the money paid in therefor is to be spent or employed, the rate of commission to be paid for the sale of such securities, the salaries to be paid to the officers of such corporation, and such other information as the insurance commissioner requires. No change shall thereafter be made in the form or character of the securities to be offered for sale, or in the plans or purposes of any such corporation, without the approval thereof in writing by the commissioner. It is the duty of the commissioner to examine the application and other documents filed, and to make any further inquiry or examination of the corporation as he deems advisable. If upon examination the commissioner finds that the plans and purposes of the corporation are proper, that its condition is satisfactory, that the amount of its securities is reasonable, that the price at which such securities are to be sold is adequate, and that the manner in which the money paid in therefor, the rate of commissions to be paid and the salaries of officers are fair, he may issue a certificate that the corporation has complied with all the provisions of this article, and is authorized to sell or offer its securities for sale in this state. (1913, c. 182, s. 4.)

§ 6387. Approval of advertising matter; misrepresentation.—No printed matter may be used in connection with the sale of securities of any such promoting, holding, or insurance corporation, for advertising purposes, or in the dissemination of information with reference thereto, unless it is first submitted to the insurance commissioner and approved by him in writing. No such corporation, and no officer, director, or agent thereof, or any other person, copartnership, association, or corporation may issue, circulate, or employ or cause or permit to be used, issued, circulated, or employed any circular or statement, whether printed or oral, misrepresenting or exaggerating the earnings of insurance corporations or the value of their corporate stock or other securities, or the profits to be derived either directly or indirectly from the organization and management of insurance corporations, or of organizing or holding corporations. No insurance or other corporation, and no individual, copartnership, or association transacting business in this state shall place or offer to place insurance in any corporation in connection with the sale or purchase of the securities of any insurance corporation or of any promoting or holding corporation. (1913, c. 182, s. 5.)

Art. 13. Rate-Making Companies

§ 6388. Information to be filed with insurance commissioner. — Every corporation, association, board, or bureau which now exists or hereafter may be formed, and every person who maintains, or hereafter may maintain, a bureau or office for the purpose of suggesting, approving or making rates to be used by more than one underwriter for insurance, including surety bonds, on property or risks of any kind located in this state, shall file with the insurance commissioner a copy of the articles of agreement, association or incorporation and the by-laws and all amendments thereto under which such person, association, or bureau operates or proposes to operate, together with his or its business address and a list of the members or insurance corporations represented or to be represented by him or it, as well as such other information concerning such rating organization and its operations as may be required by the insurance commissioner. (1913, c. 145, s. 1; 1915, c. 166, s. 8.)

§ 6389. Examination by insurance commissioner; reports.—Every such person, corporation, association, or bureau, whether before or after the filing of the information specified in the preceding section, shall be subject to the visitation, supervision, and examination of the insurance commissioner, who shall cause to be made an examination thereof as often as he deems it expedient, and at least once in three years. For such purpose he may appoint as examiners one or more competent persons, and upon such examination he, his deputy, or any examiner authorized by him shall have all the powers given to the insurance commissioner, his deputy, or any examiner authorized by him by law, including the power to examine under oath the officers and agents and all persons deemed to have material information regarding the business or manner of operation by every such person, corporation, association, bureau, or board. The insurance commissioner shall make public the results of such examination, and shall report to the legislature in his annual report on the methods of such rating organization and the manner of its operation. (1913, c. 145, s. 2.)

§ 6390. Schedule of rates filed.—Every such person, corporation, association, or bureau, as well as every insurance company doing business in the state, shall file with the insurance commissioner, whenever he may call therefor, any and every schedule of rates or such other information concerning such rates as may be suggested, approved, or made by any such rating organization for the purposes specified in section 6388, or by such company for its own use. (1913, c. 145, s. 3; 1915, c. 166, s. 8.)

§ 6391. Certain conditions forbidden; no discrimination.—No such person, corporation, association, or bureau shall fix or make any rate or schedule of rates which is to or may apply to any risk within this state, on the condition that the whole amount of insurance on such risk or any specified part thereof shall be placed at such rates, or with the members of or subscribers to such rating organization; nor shall any such person, association, or corporation authorized to transact the business of insurance within this state, fix or make any rate or schedule of rates or charge a rate which discriminates unfairly between risks within this state of essentially the same hazard, or if such rate be a fire insurance rate, which discriminates unfairly between the risks in the application of like charges or credits or which discriminates unfairly between risks of essentially the same hazards and having substantially the same degree of public protection against fire. Whenever it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the insurance commissioner that such discrimination exists, he may, after a full hearing, either before himself or before any salaried employee of the insurance department whose report he may adopt, order such discrimination removed; and all such persons, corporations, associations, or bureaus affected thereby shall immediately comply therewith; nor shall such persons, corporations, associations, or bureaus remove such discrimination by increasing the rates on any risk or class of risks affected by such order unless it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the insurance commissioner that such increase is justifiable. (1913, c. 145, s. 4.)

§ 6392. Record to be kept; hearing on rates.—Every such rating organization shall keep a careful record of its proceedings and shall furnish upon demand to any person upon whose property or risk a rate has been made, or to his authorized agent, full information as to such rate, and if such property or risk be rated by schedule, a copy of such schedule; it shall also provide such means as may be approved by the insurance commissioner whereby any person affected by such rate may be heard, either in person or by agent, before the governing or rating committee or other proper executive of such rating organization on an application for a change in such rate. (1913, c. 145, s. 5.)

§ 6393. Hearing on rates before insurance commissioner.—Any person, firm, or corporation aggrieved by any rating of a fire insurance company, bureau, or board, may file a complaint in writing with the insurance commissioner stating in detail the grounds upon which the complainant asks relief. The commissioner shall set a time, not earlier than seven days after the date of the notice, and a place for a hearing upon the complaint. After due hearing the commissioner shall make a finding as to whether the established rate is excessive or unfair and shall make such recommendations as he deems advisable. The finding and recommendations in each case shall be made a matter of record, and shall be open to public inspection. (1915, c. 166, s. 8.)

§ 6394. Certain insurance contracts excepted.—This article shall not apply to any contract of life insurance, nor to any contract of insurance upon or in connection with marine or transportation risks or hazards other than contracts for automobile insurance, nor to contracts of insurance upon property or risks located without this state, nor title and credit insurance. (1913, c. 145, s. 6; 1935, c. 152.)

Editor's Note. — Prior to the amendment this section excepted contracts made on a mutual or coöperative plan. The act further provides that nothing therein shall authorize the insurance commissioners to raise the rates of any mutual insurance company doing business in North Carolina, and that farmers mutual fire insurance companies shall not be required to file such rates.

Art. 14. Real-estate Title Insurance Companies

§ 6395. Purpose of organization.—Companies may be formed in the manner provided in this subchapter, with a capital of not less than fifty thousand dollars, for the purpose of examining titles to real estate, of furnishing information in relation thereto, and of insuring owners and others interested therein against loss by reason of encumbrance and defective title. Such companies shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter except as regards the manner of their formation and as provided in this article. (Rev., s. 4745; 1899, c. 54, s. 38; 1901, c. 391, s. 3; 1923, c. 71.)

As to investment in bonds guaranteed by United States, see § 220(a) 1.

Where the agent for the insurer was notified prior to the issuance of the renewal policy sued on that the property had been sold by the former owner to another and was requested to issue the renewal policy in the name of the new owner, the policy containing a standard loss payable clause in favor of the holder of the mortgage on the property, the mortgagee was not required to notify the insurer of the change in ownership, it appearing to the mortgagee that such notice had been given the insurer's agent prior to the inception of the policy, the agent in such case being the insurer's alter ego. Mahler v. Milwaukee Mechanics' Ins. Co., 205 N. C. 692, 172 S. E. 204.

§ 6396. Certificate of authority to do business.—Before any such company may issue any policy or make any contract or guarantee of insurance, it shall file with the insurance commissioner a certified copy of the record or the certificate of its organization in the office of the secretary of state, and obtain from the insurance commissioner his certificate that it has complied with the laws applicable to it and that it is authorized to do business. (Rev., s. 4745; 1899, c. 54, s. 38; 1901, c. 391, s. 3.)

§ 6397. Annual statement and license required.—Every such corporation shall, on or before the thirtieth day of January of each year, file in the office of the insurance commissioner a statement, such as he may require, showing its condition and its affairs for the year ending on the preceding thirty-first day of December, signed and sworn to by its president or secretary or treasurer and one of its directors. For neglect to file such annual statement or for making a wilfully false statement it shall be liable to the same penalties imposed upon other insurance companies. The insurance commissioner shall annually license such companies and their agents, and have the same power and authority to visit and examine such corporations as he has in the case of other domestic insurance companies; and the duties and liabilities of such corporations and their agents in reference to such examinations are the same as those of other domestic insurance companies. (Rev., s. 4745; 1899, c. 54, s. 38; 1901, c. 391, s. 3.)

Art. 14A. Title Insurance Companies and Land Mortgage Companies Issuing Collateral Loan Certificates

§ 6397(a). Supervision and control of insurance commissioner.—Any domestic land mortgage company or title insurance company having a paid in capital and surplus of at least two hundred thousand ($200,000.00) dollars, may, under the supervision and control of the Insurance Commissioner, issue collateral loan certificates, or other certificates of indebtedness secured by the deposit of first mortgages on real estate with the commissioner, or under his direction, or secured by the deposit with the commissioner, or under his direction, of collateral trust bonds secured by first mortgages, the principal and interest of which said mortgages is guaranteed by a surety company having assets of at least ten million ($10,000,000-.00) dollars, upon a basis not to exceed one hundred ($100.00) dollars for each one hundred ($100-.00) dollars of liability under the collateral loan certificates or other certificates of indebtedness outstanding and secured by such first mortgages or collateral trust bonds. (1927, c. 204, s. 1.)

§ 6397(b). License granted.—Any domestic land mortgage company, or title insurance company, wishing to do business under the provisions of this article upon making written application and submitting proof satisfactory to the Insurance Commissioner that its business, capital and other qualifications comply with the provisions of this article, upon paying to the Insurance Commissioner, the sum of two hundred dollars as a license fee and all other fees assessed against such company may be licensed to do business in this State under the provisions of this article until the first day of the following April and may have its license renewed for each year thereafter so long as it complies with the provisions of this article and such rules and regulations as may be promulgated by the Insurance Commissioner. For each such renewal such company shall pay to the Insurance Commissioner the sum of two hundred dollars and all other fees assessed against such company and such renewal shall continue in force and effect until a new license be issued or specifically refused unless revoked for good cause. The Insurance Commissioner, or any person appointed by him, shall have the power and authority to make such rules and regulations and examinations not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, as may be in his discretion necessary or proper to enforce the provisions hereof and secure compliance with the terms of this article. For any examination made hereunder the Insurance Commissioner shall charge the land mortgage companies or title insurance companies examined with the actual expense of such examination. (1927, c. 204, s. 2.)

§ 6397(c). Annual statements furnished.—Every such domestic land mortgage company or title insurance company doing business in this State under this article shall annually file with the Insurance Commissioner on or before the first day of March in each year a full and complete sworn statement of its financial condition on the thirty-first day of December next preceding. Such statement shall plainly exhibit all real and contingent assets and liabilities and a complete account of its income and disbursements during the year and shall also exhibit the amount of real estate mortgages deposited by such land mortgage company or title insurance company for the protection of the certificates issued under this article. The Insurance Commissioner is hereby empowered to require such further information as may be reasonably necessary to satisfy him that the statements contained in the sworn statements are true and correct. (1927, c. 204, s. 3.)

Art. 15. Reciprocal or Inter-Insurance Exchanges

§ 6398. Exchange of insurance contracts authorized.—Individuals, partnerships, and corporations of this state hereby designated as subscribers, are authorized to exchange reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts with each other, or with individuals, partnerships, and corporations of other states and countries, providing indemnity among themselves from any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of the laws, excepting life insurance. Such contracts may be executed by an attorney, agent, or other representative, herein designated attorney, duly authorized and acting for such subscribers. (1913, c. 183, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6399. Statement to be filed with insurance commissioner.—The subscribers, so contracting among themselves, shall, through their attorney, file with the insurance commissioner of this state a declaration verified by oath of such attorney, setting forth:

1. The name or title of the office at which such subscribers propose to exchange such indemnity contracts. This name or title shall not be so similar to any other name or title previously adopted by a similar organization, or by any insurance corporation or association, as in the opinion of the insurance commissioner is calculated to result in confusion or deception. The office or offices through which such indemnity contracts shall be exchanged shall be classified as reciprocal or inter-insurance exchanges.

2. The kind or kinds of insurance to be effected or exchanged.

3. A copy of the form of policy, contract, or agreement under or by which the insurance is to be effected or exchanged.

4. A copy of the form of power of attorney or other authority of such attorney under which the insurance is to be effected or exchanged.

5. The location of the office or offices from which such contracts or agreements are to be issued.

6. That applications have been made for indemnity upon at least one hundred separate risks aggregating not less than one and one-half million dollars as represented by executed contracts or bona fide applications, to become concurrently effective, or, in case of liability or compensation insurance, covering a total pay roll of not less than one and one-half million dollars: Provided, that when the attorney maintains the central office in this state the insurance commissioner may authorize an exchange with a less number of risks and a smaller amount of indemnity to be exchanged and an amount of cash deposits less than twenty-five thousand dollars.

7. That there is on deposit with such attorney and available for payment of losses a sum of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars. (1913, c. 183, s. 3.)

§ 6400. Agreement for service of process. — At the time of filing the declaration provided for by the preceding section, the attorney shall file with the insurance commissioner an instrument in writing, executed by him for the subscribers, conditioned that upon the issuance of certificate of authority provided for in this article, service of process may be had upon the insurance commissioner in all suits in this state arising out of such policies, contracts, or agreements, which service shall be valid and binding upon all subscribers exchanging at any time reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts through such attorney. Three copies of such process shall be served, and the insurance commissioner shall file one copy, forward one copy to the attorney, and return one copy with his admission of service. (1913, c. 183, s. 4.)

§ 6401. Statement as to amount of risks. — There shall be filed with the insurance commissioner of this state by such attorney a statement under his oath showing the maximum amount of indemnity upon any single risk, and the attorney shall, whenever and as often as the same shall be required, file with the insurance commissioner a statement verified by his oath to the effect that he has examined the commercial rating of such subscribers as shown by the reference book of a commercial agency having at least one hundred thousand subscribers, and that from such examination or from other information in his possession it appears that no subscriber has assumed on any single risk an amount greater than ten per cent of the net worth of such subscriber. (1913, c. 183, s. 5.)

§ 6402. Certificate issued by commissioner. — Upon the filing of the foregoing papers, and upon the payment of fees as provided for in this article, the insurance commissioner shall examine and pass upon the same, and if found correct, and in accordance with this article, issue a certificate of authority, which shall expire on the first day of April next succeeding. (1913, c. 183, s. 6.)

§ 6403. Reserve fund.—There shall at all times be maintained as a reserve a sum in cash or convertible securities equal to fifty per centum of the aggregate net annual deposits collected and credited to the accounts of the subscribers on policies having one year or less to run and pro rata on those for longer periods. For the purpose of said reserve, net annual deposits shall be construed to mean the advance payments of subscribers after deducting therefrom the amounts specifically provided in the subscribers' agreements, for expenses. Said sum shall at no time be less than twenty-five thousand dollars, and if at any time fifty per cent of the aggregate deposits so collected and credited shall not equal that amount, then the subscribers, or their attorney for them, shall make up any deficiency. (1913, c. 183, s. 7.)

§ 6404. Annual reports; examination by commissioner.—The attorney shall make an annual report to the insurance commissioner for each calendar year, showing the financial condition of affairs at that office where such contracts are issued, and shall furnish such additional information and reports as may be required; but the attorney shall not be required to furnish the names and addresses of any subscribers. The business affairs and assets of the reciprocal or inter-insurance exchanges shall be subject to examination by the insurance commissioner. (1913, c. 183, s. 8.)

§ 6405. Exchange insurance in other companies.—Any corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state shall, in addition to the rights, powers, and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, have full power and authority to exchange insurance contracts of the kind and character herein mentioned through exchanges complying with this article. (1913, c. 183, s. 9.)

§ 6406. Punishment for failing to comply with law.—Any attorney or representative who shall, except for the purpose of applying for certificate of authority as herein provided, exchange any contracts of indemnity of the kind and character specified in this article, or directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate any applications for same without first complying with the foregoing provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. (1913, c. 183, s. 10.)

§ 6407. Certificate to attorney; revocation.—Each attorney by or through whom are issued any policies or contracts for indemnity of the character referred to in this article shall procure from the insurance commissioner annually a certificate of authority, stating that all the requirements of this article have been complied with, and upon such compliance and the payment of the fees and taxes required by this article, the insurance commissioner shall issue such certificate of authority. The insurance commissioner may revoke or suspend any certificate of authority issued hereunder in case of breach of any of the conditions imposed by this article after reasonable notice has been given the attorney in writing so that he may appear and show cause why such action should not be taken. (1913, c. 183, s. 11.)

§ 6408. License fee and tax. — Individuals, firms, and corporations exchanging reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts as provided herein shall pay through their attorney an annual license of fifty dollars, and two and one-half per centum of the gross premium deposits, reduced by all sums distributed among the subscribers or credited to their accounts, and also other regular fees. (1914, c. 183, s. 12.)

§ 6409. Application of general insurance law.—Nothing in the general insurance laws, except as herein provided and as may specifically apply to such contracts and exchanges, shall be construed to extend to inter-insurance or reciprocal exchanges licensed under this article. (1913, c. 183, s. 13.)

Art. 16. Foreign Insurance Companies

§ 6410. Admitted to do business.—Foreign insurance companies, upon complying with the conditions herein set forth applicable to them, may be admitted to transact in this state, by constituted agents resident herein, any class of insurance authorized by the laws in force relative to the duties, obligations, prohibitions, and penalties of insurance companies, and subject to all laws applicable to the transaction of such business by foreign insurance companies, and their agents. (Rev., s. 4746; 1899, c. 54, s. 61.)

Rights of Insurer after Admission.—When a foreign insurance company has complied with all the laws of the state the courts of this state are open to it for the purpose of enforcing liabilities of policy holders. Commonwealth Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. Edwards, 124 N. C. 116, 32 S. E. 404.

§ 6411. Conditions of admission. — A foreign insurance company may be admitted and authorized to do business when it:

1. Deposits with the insurance commissioner a certified copy of its charter or certificate of organization and a statement of its financial condition and business, in such form and detail as he requires, signed and sworn to by its president and secretary or other proper officer, and pays for the filing of this statement the sum required by law.

2. Satisfies the insurance commissioner that it is fully and legally organized under the laws of its state or government to do the business it proposes to transact; that it has, if a stock company, a fully paid-up and unimpaired capital, exclusive of stockholders' obligations of any description, of an amount not less than $100,000 (but nothing in this subsection applies to companies now authorized to do business in this state); and if a mutual company, other than life, that its net cash assets are equal to the capital required of like companies on the stock plan or that it possesses net cash assets of not less than $100,000 or net cash assets of not less than $50,000, with, also, invested assets of not less than $100,000, and in each case with additional contingent assets of not less than $300,000, and that such capital or net assets are well invested and immediately available for the payment of losses in this state; and that it insures on any single hazard a sum no larger than one-tenth of its net assets.

3. By a duly executed instrument filed in his office constitutes and appoints the insurance commissioner and his successor its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all lawful processes in any action or legal proceeding against it may be served, and therein agrees that any lawful process against it which may be served upon such attorney shall be of the same force and validity as if served on the company, and that it will not have removed from any court of this state to the United States circuit or district court any action instituted against it, and that it will not institute any action or suit in equity in the United States courts against any citizen of this state growing out of, or in any way connected with, any policy of insurance issued by it; and the authority thereof shall continue in force irrevocable as long as any liability of the company remains outstanding in this state. Copies of this instrument, certified by the insurance commissioner, are sufficient evidence thereof, and service upon such attorney is sufficient service upon the principal.

4. Appoints as its agent or agents in this state some resident or residents thereof.

5. Obtains from the insurance commissioner a certificate that it has complied with the laws of the state and is authorized to make contracts of insurance. If a fire insurance company, it must also comply with the provisions of this chapter as to deposits and reinsurance by such companies. (Rev., s. 4747; 1899, c. 54, s. 62; 1901, c. 391, s. 5; 1903, c. 438, s. 6.)

Subsection 3—Power of Attorney Is Irrevocable.—The statute requires the power of attorney executed to the State Insurance Commissioner appointing him attorney upon whom process may be served to be irrevocable not "as long as the company continues to do business" in this State, but as long as "any liability of the company remains outstanding" in this State, and the contract with the State as expressed in the power of attorney filed by the company so specifies. No amount of authorities having a more or less fancied analogy can overcome these plain words of the statute and of the power of attorney drawn and filed in conformity thereto. Biggs v. Life Ass'n, 128 N. C. 7, 37 S. E. 955; Insurance Co. v. Scott, 136 N. C. 157, 48 S. E. 581.

Service of process upon State Commissioner is valid notwithstanding the insurance company attempted to annul the power of attorney conferred upon him under this section. Biggs v. Life Ass'n, 128 N. C. 5, 37 S. E. 955.

Same—Non-Resident Insured.—This section was intended to protect residents of this state and does not apply to policies issued before the statute and transferred to a resident of another state. The service on the commissioner is not valid when the insurance company has ceased doing business in the state and had no further liabilities therein. Williams v. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ins. Ass'n, 145 N. C. 128, 58 S. E. 802.

Subsection 4—Brokerage Makes Agency.—Where a citizen of this State applies for a policy in a foreign company through a broker here, and the application is accepted and the policy is delivered, the broker will be deemed to be the agent of the company, and the contract to be made here, subject to the laws of this State. Commonwealth Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. Edwards, 124 N. C. 116, 32 S. E. 404.

Subsection 5.—As to deposits required of a fire insurance company, see sec. 6442.

Power of Corporation to Sue and Be Sued.—Where a foreign insurance corporation has fully complied with the provisions of this section, and has moved its head office to this State and has domesticated here, it acquires the right to sue and be sued in the courts of this State as a domestic corporation. Occidental Life Ins. Co. v. Lawrence, 204 N. C. 707, 169 S. E. 636.

§ 6412. Limitation as to classes of business.—No insurance company admitted to do business in the state may be authorized to transact more than one class or kind of insurance therein, unless it has the requisite capital for such business engaged in, and such a company may undertake two or more of the classes of insurance set out in article six, section 6327, of this chapter, upon providing for each additional kind at least fifty thousand dollars additional capital. But if life, fire, and credit insurance is added to any other line or lines, the additional capital shall be one hundred thousand dollars each, and the company shall pay the license taxes and fees for each class or kind of insurance provided by this chapter. (Rev., s. 4748; 1899, c. 54, s. 65; 1901, c. 391, s. 5; 1903, c. 438, s. 6; 1911, c. 111, s. 2.)

§ 6413. Reciprocal laws.—When, by the laws of any other state or nation, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions are imposed upon insurance companies of this state doing business in such other state or nation or upon their agents therein greater than those imposed by this state upon insurance companies of such other state, then, so long as such laws continue in force, the same taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits, obligations and prohibitions, of whatever kind, shall be imposed upon all such insurance companies of such other state or nation doing business within this state and upon their agents here. Nothing herein repeals or reduces the license, fees, taxes, and other obligations now imposed by the laws of this state or to go into effect with the companies of any other state or nation unless some company of this state is actually doing or seeking to do business in such state or nation. When an insurance company organized under the laws of any state or country is prohibited by the laws of such state or country or by its charter from investing its assets other than capital stock in the bonds of this state, then and in such case the insurance commissioner is authorized and directed to refuse to grant a license to transact business in this state to such insurance company. (Rev., s. 4749; 1899, c. 54, s. 71; 1903, c. 536, s. 11; 1927, c. 32.)

Editor's Note.—The Public Laws of 1927 inserted in the first sentence of this section the clause reading: "greater than those imposed by this state upon insurance companies of such other state."

Not Repealed by Implication. — This section was not impliedly repealed by the Revenue Acts of 1923 or 1925 (Pub. Laws 1923, c. 4, § 903; 1925 c. 101, § 903). The amendment of the section by Pub. Laws 1927, c. 32 was legislative recognition that it is still in force. Atlantic Life Ins. Co. v. Wade, 195 N. C. 424, 142 S. E. 474.

§ 6414. Service of legal process upon insurance commissioner.—The service of legal process upon any insurance, bonding and/or surety company, admitted and authorized to do business in this state under the provisions of this chapter, shall be made by leaving the same in the hands or office of the insurance commissioner, and no service upon a company that is licensed to do business in this state is valid unless made upon the insurance commissioner, the general agent for service, or some officer of the company. As a condition precedent to a valid service of process and of the duty of the commissioner in the premises, the plaintiff shall pay to the insurance commissioner at the time of service the sum of one dollar, which the plaintiff shall recover as taxable costs if he prevails in his action. In any action of which a justice of the peace has jurisdiction, summons may be served on any licensed agent of such company, returnable in not less than ten days from date of service; if there is no such agent in the county, then the summons may be served as provided for in other actions against foreign corporations in a court of a justice of the peace. (Rev., s. 4750; 1899, c. 54, ss. 16, 62; 1903, c. 438, s. 6; 1927, c. 168; 1931, c. 287.)

As to appointment of local agent for service, see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 779.

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1927 this section applied only to foreign insurance companies. By this amendment the word "foreign" was struck out.

There are three ways in which a foreign insurance corporation may be served with a copy of process. Sections 483, 1137 and 6414. The cases which follow in this note indicate when the method provided by the particular section shall be employed. Reference should be made to secs. 483 and 1137 and the annotations thereto.

The Act of 1931 inserted the words "bonding and/or surety" in line three of this section.

Conditions Precedent to Doing Business in the State.—One of the conditions precedent upon which a foreign insurance company is authorized to do business in this State is that such company will file a duly executed instrument with the Insurance Commissioner, appointing him its attorney, upon whom all lawful process against said company can be served. Biggs v. Life Ass'n, 128 N. C. 5, 6, 37 S. E. 955.

Annullment of Power of Attorney.—The service of a licensed insurance company made upon the commissioner is valid although the insurance company may have attempted to annul the power of attorney, for the statute requires power of attorney to be irrevocable so long as the insurance company has any liabilities in the state. Biggs v. Life Ass'n, 128 N. C. 5, 37 S. E. 955; Moore v. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ass'n, 129 N. C. 31, 39 S. E. 637; Hinton v. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ass'n, 135 N. C. 314, 47 S. E. 474.

Section Provides Cumulative Method.—Service of summons on a foreign insurance company doing business in this State is not restricted to the method prescribed by this section but may be made in the manner stated in section 1137 or section 483. Pardue v. Absher, 174 N. C. 676, 94 S. E. 414.

Unlicensed Companies.—Service can be made under this section only on licensed insurance companies. If it does not affirmatively appear that the insurance company is licensed service under section 483 may be made. Parker v. Insurance Co., 143 N. C. 339, 55 S. E. 717. And service under section 1137 or section 483 will not be invalid because of this section. Fisher v. Traders Mut. Life Ins. Co., 136 N. C. 217, 48 S. E. 667.

However, a foreign insurance company that has no agent in this state and is not licensed or transacting business here cannot be served with process either under this section or 1137; Ivy River Land, etc., Co. v. National Fire, etc., 192 N. C. 115, 116, 133 S. E. 424. For this section only provides for service on licensed companies doing business in the state and sec. 1137 only provides for unlicensed companies doing business in the state.

Service on Fraternal Society.—In an action against a foreign fraternal insurance society doing business in this state, service of summons on the commissioner of insurance brings the corporation into court. Brenizer v. Royal Arcanum, 141 N. C. 409, 53 S. E. 835.

Bonding Companies Not Included. — Service of summons upon the Commissioner of Insurance under this section, does not apply to bonding companies authorized under section 6363. Pardue v. Absher, 174 N. C. 676, 677, 94 S. E. 414.

§ 6415. Commissioner to notify company of service of process.—When legal process is served upon the insurance commissioner as attorney for an insurance company under the provisions of this chapter, he shall immediately notify the company of such service by registered letter directed to its secretary and shall state whether or not complaint was served with the process, or, in case of a foreign country, to its resident manager, if any in the United States; and must within two days after such service forward in the same manner a copy of the process, together with copy of complaint, if any, served on him to such secretary or manager designated by the company by written notice filed in the office of the Commissioner: Provided, that the thirty days fixed by statute within which to file answer when complaint is served with summons shall not begin to run until ten days after such service on the Insurance Commissioner. The Commissioner must keep a record of all such proceedings which shall show the day and hour of such service of process on such Commissioner, and whether complaint was served with such process. (Rev., s. 4751; 1899, c. 54, s. 16; 1927, c. 167, s. 1.)

§ 6416. Action to enforce compliance with this chapter.—Compliance with the provisions of this chapter as to deposits, obligations, and prohibitions, and the payment of taxes, fines, fees, and penalties by foreign insurance companies, may be enforced in the ordinary course of legal procedure by action brought in the superior court of Wake county by the attorney-general in the name of the state upon the relation of the insurance commissioner. (Rev., s. 4752; 1899, c. 54, s. 102; 1903, c. 438, s. 10.)

SUBCHAPTER III. FIRE INSURANCE

Art. 17. General Regulations of Business

§ 6417. Risks carried as incidental to fire protection.—All insurance companies authorized to transact fire insurance business in this state may, in addition to the business which they are now authorized by law to do, insure sprinklers, pumps, and other apparatus erected or put in position for the purpose of extinguishing fires, against damage, loss, or injury resulting from accidental causes other than fire; and may also insure any property which such companies are authorized to insure against loss or damage by fire, against damage, loss, or injury by water or otherwise, resulting from the accidental breaking of or injury to such sprinklers, pumps, or other apparatus, arising from causes other than fire. Contracts of insurance of this kind, provided for in this section, shall not be incorporated in any contract of insurance against loss or damage by fire, but may be contained in riders attached thereto, the conditions of which shall be prescribed by the insurance commissioner. (Rev., s. 4754; 1899, c. 54, s. 24; 1907, c. 1000, s. 6.)

§ 6417(a). Performance of contracts as to devices not prohibited.—Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as prohibiting the performance of any contract hereafter made for the introduction or installation of automatic sprinklers or other betterments or improvements for reducing the risk by fire or water on any property located in this State, and containing provisions for obtaining insurance against loss or damage by fire or water, for a specified time at a fixed rate; provided, every policy issued under such contract shall be as provided by law. (1929, ch. 145, s. 1.)

§ 6418. Policies limited as to amount and term.—No insurance company or agent shall knowingly issue any fire insurance policy upon property within this state for an amount which, together with any existing insurance thereon, exceeds the fair value of the property, nor for a longer term than seven years. Policies issued in violation of this section are binding upon the company issuing them, but the company is liable for the forfeitures by law prescribed for such violation. (Rev., s. 4755; 1899, c. 54, ss. 39, 99; 1903, c. 438, s. 10.)

As to forfeiture prescribed see sec. 6433.

Determining Amount of Loss.—A statement of an agent acting for his company in writing fire insurance, made after an inspection of the property to be insured, is competent upon the question of the amount of the loss, in the action of the insured to recover upon the policy issued, especially as this section requires that the insurer should know the true value of the property, etc., to be insured before issuing the policy thereon. Queen v. Dixie Fire Ins. Co., 177 N. C. 34, 97 S. E. 741.

§ 6419. Limit of liability on total loss.—When buildings insured against loss by fire and situated within the state are totally destroyed by fire, the company is not liable beyond the actual cash value of the insured property at the time of the loss or damage; and if it appears that the insured has paid a premium on a sum in excess of the actual value, he shall be reimbursed the proportionate excess of premium paid on the difference between the amount named in the policy and the ascertained values, with interest at six per centum per annum from the date of issue. (Rev., s. 4756; 1899, c. 54, s. 40.)

§ 6420. Policies for the benefit of mortgagees. —Where by an agreement with the insured, or by the terms of a fire insurance policy taken out by a mortgagor, the whole or any part of the loss thereon is payable to a mortgagee of the property for his benefit, the company shall, upon satisfactory proof of the rights and title of the parties, in accordance with such terms or agreement, pay all mortgagees protected by such policy in the order of their priority of claim, as their claims appear, not beyond the amount for which the company is liable, and such payments are, to the extent thereof, payment and satisfaction of the liabilities of the company under the policy. (Rev., s. 4757; 1899, c. 54, s. 41.)

See 13 N. C. Law Rev., 98.

Two or More Mortgages. — Where the owner of lands borrows money thereon under two separate mortgages from different persons, one registered prior to the other, and the mortgagor contracts with each to take out certain policies of fire insurance for their benefit, the rights of the mortgagees to the proceeds under the policies will be determined by the contracts as executed in the loss payable clauses in the policies, and where they are of the New York standard form, and made payable to the mortgagees "as interest may appear," the mortgagee under the prior registered mortgage has a superior lien on the proceeds to the one having the later registered security. Wayne Nat. Bank v. National Bank, 197 N. C. 68, 147 S. E. 691.

Where mortgagor procured insurance for benefit of mortgagee, whose mortgage was registered December 14, 1920, and for the benefit of subsequent mortgagee whose mortgage was not executed until May 11, 1925, claim of first mortgagee should first be paid out of funds derived from policy under this section, providing that where, by terms of fire policy taken out by mortgagor, loss is payable to mortgagee for his benefit, company shall pay all mortgages in order of their priority of claim, and in view of section 3311, by which priority is given to mortgage which was first recorded. Wayne Nat. Bank v. National Bank, 197 N. C. 68, 147 S. E. 691.

Where Neither Mortgagee Has Claim to Priority.—If neither of two mortgagees, for whom insurance has been procured, has any priority of claim or of liens, the proceeds of the policies will ordinarily be divided between them in proportion to their respective claims. Wayne Nat. Bank v. National Bank, 197 N. C. 68, 147 S. E. 691.

Cited in Peeler v. United States Casualty Co., 197 N. C. 286, 291, 148 S. E. 261.

§ 6421. Fire loss reported to commissioner before payment.—Every insurance company transacting business in this state shall, upon receiving notice of loss by fire of property in North Carolina, on which it is liable under a policy of insurance, notify the insurance commissioner thereof, either directly or through some bureau or association approved by the commissioner, and no insurance upon any such property shall be paid by any company until one week after this notification. A company violating this section may be fined by the insurance commissioner the sum of ten dollars for each offense, and for refusal to comply with its provisions its license may be canceled by the commissioner. (Rev., s. 4822; 1899, c. 54, s. 40; 1903, c. 438, s. 4; 1915, c. 166, s. 4.)

§ 6422. Reinsurance restricted and regulated. —When an application for license, renewal of license, or for admission to this state, is made by a company, whether of this state, of another state of the United States, or of a foreign country, for the transaction of business of fire insurance herein, the company shall, as one of the prerequisites of license and admission, file a sworn declaration signed by its president and secretary, or officers corresponding thereto, that it will not reinsure any risk or part thereof taken by it on any property located in this state with any company not authorized to transact the business of fire insurance in the state. Every fire insurance company admitted shall annually and at such other times as the insurance commissioner requires, in addition to all returns now required by law of it or its agents or managers, make a return to the insurance commissioner, in such form and detail as is prescribed by him, of all reinsurance contracted for or effected by it directly or indirectly upon property located in this state, this return to be certified by the oath of its president and secretary, if a company of one of the United States, and if a company of a foreign country, by its president and secretary or by officers corresponding thereto, as to such reinsurance contracted for or effected through the foreign office, and by the United States manager as to such reinsurance effected by the United States branch. If any company, domestic or foreign, directly or indirectly, reinsure any risk taken by it on any property located in this state in any company not duly authorized to transact business herein, or if it refuses or neglects to make the returns required by this section, the insurance commissioner shall revoke its authority to transact business in this state. The provisions of this section also apply to companies licensed to do reinsurance business only. It is unlawful for any company reinsuring risks on property located in this state to reinsure such risks or parts thereof except in companies authorized by the laws of this state to do such business. (Rev., s. 4770; 1899, c. 54, s. 63; 1901, c. 391, s. 5.)

§ 6423. Penalty for reinsuring in unauthorized company.—If any fire insurance company shall, directly or indirectly, reinsure any risk taken by it on any property located in North Carolina in any company not duly authorized to transact business herein, the insurance agent and the company effecting or acting in the negotiation of such reinsurance shall severally be punished by a fine of five hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 3495; 1899, c. 54, ss. 63, 98.)

§ 6424. No action lies on policy of unlicensed company.—No action may be maintained in any court in the state upon a policy or contract of fire insurance issued upon property situated in the state by any company, association, partnership, individual, or individuals that have not been authorized by the insurance commissioner to transact such business. (Rev., s. 4763; 1899, c. 54, s. 105.)

Action by the Insured.—"The statute does not make the policy void in the hands of the assured. The defendant company could not take advantage of its own wrong by receiving the premium and not being responsible." Hay & Bro. v. Union Fire Ins. Co., 167 N. C. 82, 83, 85 S. E. 241.

Action by Licensed Companies.—When such foreign corporation has complied with our laws, our courts are open to it for the enforcement of its rights—and should it become insolvent and pass into the hands of a receiver—he, by comity, will be allowed to sue here to enforce the liability of a policy holder. Commonwealth Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. Edwards, 124 N. C. 116, 32 S. E. 404.

Policies Issued by Brokers.—This section allows an outside company, that is, one that has not complied with our laws, to be sued but not to sue. Its evident purpose was to allow such companies to adjust their fire losses without thereby making themselves liable for penalties or taxes. It certainly never intended to permit such companies to practically nullify our insurance laws by the legal fiction of doing business through a broker instead of an agent. Our insurance laws, applicable equally to domestic and to foreign corporations, are intended not simply for purposes of revenue, but primarily for the protection of our people. Commonwealth Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. Edwards, 124 N. C. 116, 119, 32 S. E. 404.

§ 6425. Citizens authorized to procure policies in unlicensed foreign companies.

1. What applicant must show.—The insurance commissioner, upon the annual payment of a fee of twenty dollars, may issue licenses to citizens of this state, subject to revocation at any time, permitting the person named therein to procure policies of fire insurance on property in this state in foreign insurance companies not authorized to transact business in the state. Before the person named in such a license may procure any insurance in such companies or on any property in this state, he must execute and file with the insurance commissioner an affidavit that he is unable to procure in companies admitted to do business in the state the amount of insurance necessary to protect such property, and may only procure insurance under such license after he has procured insurance in companies admitted to do business in this state to the full amount which those companies are willing to write on the property; but such licensed person shall not be required to offer any portion of such insurance to any company which is not possessed of cash assets amounting to at least twenty-five thousand dollars, or one which has, within the preceding twelve months, been in an impaired condition.

2. Account and report.—Each person so licensed must keep a separate account of the business done under the license, a certified copy of which account he shall forthwith file with the insurance commissioner, showing the exact amount of such insurance placed by any person, firm, or corporation, the gross premium charged thereon, the companies in which the same is placed, the date and terms of the policies, and also a report in the same detail of all such policies canceled and the gross return premium thereon.

3. Bond filed.—Before receiving such license the applicant therefor shall execute and deliver to the insurance commissioner a bond in the penal sum of one thousand dollars, with such sureties as the insurance commissioner may approve, with a condition that the licensee will faithfully comply with all the requirements of this section, and will file with the insurance commissioner, in January of each year, a sworn statement of the gross premiums charged for insurance procured or placed, and the gross returned premiums on such insurance canceled under such license during the year ending on the thirty-first day of December next preceding, and at the time of filing such statement will pay into the treasury of the state a sum equal to five per centum of such gross premiums, less return premiums, so reported, or pay such tax at the time of taking out and delivering such policy or policies.

4. Broker may obtain license.—Any broker licensed under this section may, upon application to the insurance commissioner, be allowed to place policies of insurance with any mutual fire insurance company not doing or licensed to do business in this state, not paying commissions upon business, not having agents to solicit business, and doing only one class of fire insurance business, if he files with the insurance department a certified copy of the charter of each such company, a statement of its financial condition on a blank of the department, and certificate of its authority to do business at its home office, and also receives from the insurance commissioner a license for each company to do business through him on the payment by him of the license, taxes, and fees required by law. All such contracts of insurance placed through any such broker are valid and legal, and the risks upon which such policies are placed may be examined and inspected by regular agents or inspectors licensed by the insurance department upon the application of the broker writing the insurance. (Rev., s. 4769; 1899, c. 54, ss. 68, 95; 1903, c. 438, s. 7, c. 680.)

Liability of the Insurer.—Where a citizen of this State applies for a policy in a foreign company through a broker here, and the application is accepted and the policy is delivered, the broker will be deemed to be the agent of the company, and the contract to be made here, subject to the laws of this State. Commonwealth Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. Edwards, 124 N. C. 116, 32 S. E. 404.

An insurance company that issues policies to residents of this state, but does not issue them through a broker in this state is not subject to an action under this section. Ivy River Land, etc., Co. v. National Fire, etc. Co., 192 N. C. 115, 133 S. E 424.

§ 6426. Punishment for failure to file affidavit and statements.—If any person licensed to procure insurance in an unauthorized foreign company shall procure, or act in any manner in the procurement or negotiation of, insurance in any unauthorized foreign company, and shall neglect to make and file the affidavit and statements required by the preceding section, he shall forfeit his license and be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both. (Rev., ss. 3483, 4769; 1899, c. 54, ss. 68, 95.)

Referred to in Ivy River Land, etc., Co. v. National Fire Ins. Co., 192 N. C. 115, 133 S. E. 424.

§ 6427. Tax deducted from premium; reports filed.—When any person or corporation shall insure any property located in this state with an insurance company not licensed to do business in this state, it shall be the duty of such person or corporation to deduct from the premium charged on the policy or policies issued for such insurance five per centum of the premium and remit the same to the insurance commissioner of the state, at the same time reporting to the insurance commissioner the name of the company or companies issuing the policy or policies, the location of the property insured, and the premium charged. The insurance commissioner shall pay the said amounts to the treasurer of the state. If such report is not made on or before the thirtieth days of July and January of each year for the business done prior to July first and January first preceding, there shall be added to the amount of taxes thereon the sum of one per centum on the first day of each month thereafter. (1915, c. 109, s. 8.)

Referred to in Ivy River Land, etc., Co. v. National Fire, etc., Co., 192 N. C. 115, 133 S. E. 424.

§ 6428. Resident agents required.—Foreign fire insurance companies legally authorized to do business in this state through regularly commissioned and licensed agents located in the state shall not make contracts of fire insurance on property herein, except through such resident agents as are regularly commissioned by them and licensed to write policies of fire insurance in this state. This section does not apply to direct insurance covering the rolling stock of railroad corporations or property in transit while in the possession and custody of railroad corporations or other common carriers. (Rev., s. 4764; 1899, c. 54, s. 107; 1901, c. 391, s. 8.)

§ 6429. Policies through nonresident agent prohibited.—Every fire insurance company authorized to do business in the state is prohibited from authorizing or allowing any person, agent, firm, or corporation who is a nonresident of this state, to issue or cause to be issued, except through a licensed agent, any policy of insurance on property located in the state. (Rev., s. 4765; 1903, c. 488, s. 1; 1905, c. 170.)

As to appointment and regulation of agents see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 779.

Validity as to Insured.—Where a foreign insurance company, authorized to do business here under our laws, issues its policy on property situated within the State, but through an agency in another State which is unauthorized to write it here, because of this section, the policy is valid as to the right of action of the insured thereon. Hay & Bros. v. Union Fire Ins. Co., 167 N. C. 82, 83 S. E. 241.

§ 6430. Licensed agents not to pay commissions to nonresident or unlicensed persons.—Any person, firm, or corporation licensed by the insurance commissioner to act as a fire insurance agent in this state is prohibited from paying directly or indirectly any commission, brokerage, or other valuable consideration on account of any policy covering property in this state, to any person, firm, or corporation who is a nonresident of the state, or to any person, firm, or corporation not duly licensed by the insurance commissioner as a fire insurance agent; but a fire insurance agent licensed in the state may pay a commission not exceeding fifty per centum of the regular commissions allowed upon the issuance of such policies to a licensed nonresident broker. The insurance commissioner is authorized to license a non-resident as a broker, when he applies therefor on a proper blank of the department and makes affidavit that he will not during the fiscal year place directly or indirectly any fire insurance on any property located in North Carolina except through licensed resident agents of the state, that he is a broker in good faith and proposes to hold himself out as such. The fee for this license and seal is ten dollars. (Rev., s. 4766; 1903, c. 488, s. 2; 1905, c. 170, s. 2; 1923, c. 4, s. 70; 1925, c. 70, s. 6.)

§ 6431. Revocation of license for violation; power of commissioner.—When the insurance commissioner has information of a violation of any of the provisions of the next two preceding sections, he shall immediately investigate or cause to be investigated such violation, and if a fire insurance company has violated any of such provisions he shall immediately revoke its license for not less than three nor more than six months for a first offense, and for each offense thereafter for not less than one year. If a person, firm, or corporation licensed by the insurance commissioner as a fire insurance agent violates or causes to be violated any of the provisions of those sections, he shall for the first offense have his license revoked for all companies for which he has been licensed for not less than three nor more than six months, and for the second offense he shall have his license revoked for all companies for which he is licensed, and he shall not thereafter be licensed for any company for one year from the date of the revocation. For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of those sections the insurance commissioner is authorized and empowered to examine persons, administer oaths, and send for papers and records. A failure or refusal on the part of any fire insurance company, person, firm, or corporation licensed to do business in this state, to appear before the insurance commissioner when requested to do so, or to produce records and papers, or answer under oath subjects such company, person, firm or corporation to the penalties of this section. (Rev., s. 4767; 1903, c. 488, ss. 3, 4.)

§ 6432. Agreements restricting agent's compensation; penalty.—It is unlawful for any fire insurance company, association, or partnership doing business in this state employing an agent who is employed by another fire insurance company, association, or partnership, either directly or through any organization or association, to enter into, make or maintain any stipulation or agreement in restraint of or limiting the compensation which said agent may receive from any other fire insurance company, association, or partnership, or forbidding or prohibiting reinsurance of the risks of a domestic fire insurance company in whole or in part by any company holding membership in or coöperating with such bureau or board. The penalty for any violation of this section shall be a fine of not less than two hundred and fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars and the forfeiture of license to do business in this state for a period of twelve months thereafter. (Rev., ss. 3491, 4768; 1905, c. 424; 1915, c. 166, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 6433. Punishment for issuing fire policies contrary to law.—Any insurance company or agent who makes, issues, or delivers a policy of fire insurance in wilful violation of the provisions of this chapter which prohibit a domestic insurance company from issuing policies before obtaining certificate and authority from the insurance commissioner; or which prohibit the issuing of a fire insurance policy for more than the fair value of the property or for a longer term than seven years; or which prohibit stipulations in insurance contracts restricting the jurisdiction of courts, or limiting the time within which an action may be brought to less than one year after the cause of action accrues or to less than six months after a nonsuit by the plaintiff, shall forfeit for each offense not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars; but the policy shall be binding upon the company issuing it. (Rev., s. 4832; 1899, c. 54, s. 99; 1903, c. 438, s. 10.)

Art. 18. Fire Insurance Policies

§ 6434. Terms and conditions must be set out in policy.—In all insurance against loss by fire the conditions of insurance must be stated in full, and the rules and by-laws of the company are not a warranty or a part of the contract, except as incorporated in full into the policy. (Rev., s. 4758; 1899, c. 54, s. 42.)

§ 6435. Items to be expressed in policies; agent to inspect risks. — Upon request there shall be printed, stamped, or written on each fire policy issued in this state the basis rate, deficiency charge, the credit for improvements, and the rate at which written, and whenever a rate is made or changed on any property situated in this state upon request a full statement thereof showing in detail the basis rate, deficiency charges and credits, as well as rate proposed to be made, shall be delivered to the owner or his representative having the insurance on the property in charge, by the company, association, their agent or representative, with a notice to the effect that the rate is promulgated and filed with the insurance department. Every agent of a fire insurance company shall, before issuing a policy of insurance on property situated in a city or town, inspect the same, in forming as to its value and insurable condition. (1915, c. 109, s. 3; 1925, c. 70, s. 3.)

§ 6436. Standard policy adopted.—No fire insurance company shall issue fire insurance policies on property in this state other than those of the standard form filed in the office of the insurance commissioner of the state, known and designated as the standard fire insurance policy of the state of North Carolina, except as follows: (a) A company may print on or in its policies its name, location, and date of incorporation, the amount of its paid-up capital stock, the names of its officers and agents, the number and date of the policy, and if it is issued through an agent, the words: "This policy shall not be valid until countersigned by the duly authorized manager or agent of the company at ....," and after the words "Standard Fire Insurance Policy of the State of North Carolina," on the back of the form, the names of such other states as have adopted this standard form. (b) A company may use in its policies written or printed forms of description and specification of the property insured. (c) A company insuring against damage by lightning may print in the clause enumerating the perils insured against, the additional words, "also any damage by lightning, whether fire ensues or not," and in the clause providing for an apportionment of loss in case of other insurance, the words, "whether by fire, lightning, or both." (c-1) A company insuring against damage by windstorm, cyclones and tornadoes may print in the clause enumerating the perils insured against, the additional words, 'also any damage by windstorm, cyclones and tornadoes, whether fire ensues or not,' and in the clause providing for apportionment of loss in case of other insurance, the words, 'whether by fire, windstorm, cyclones, tornadoes or all.' Such company may also print after the other conditions of the standard fire policy such provisions and conditions especially applicable to windstorms, cyclones, and tornadoes. The company may also make such change in the heading and preliminary statements of such combined policy form as may be necessary, all in such form as may be approved by the Insurance Commissioner. (d) A company may write or print upon the margin or across the face of a policy, or write or print in type not smaller than primer or ten point Roman-faced, upon separate slips or riders to be attached thereto, provisions adding to or modifying those contained in the standard form, and all such slips, riders, and provisions must be signed by the officers or agents of the company so using them. The iron safe or any similar clause requiring the taking of inventories, the keeping of books and producing the same in the adjustment of any loss, shall not be used or operative in the settlement of losses on buildings, furniture and fixtures, or any property not subject to any change in bulk and value. (e) Every mutual company shall cause to appear in the body of its policy the total amount for which the assured may be liable under the charter of the company. (f) The company may print on or in its policy, with the approval of the insurance commissioner, if the same is not already included in such standard form, any provision which any such corporation is required by law to insert in its policies not in conflict with the provisions of such standard form. Such provisions shall be printed apart from the other provisions, agreements, or conditions of the policy, under a separate title, as follows: "Provisions Required by Law to be Inserted in This Policy." (Rev., s. 4759; 1899, c. 54, s. 43; 1901, c. 391, s. 4; 1907, c. 800, s. 1; 1915, c. 109, s. 10; 1925, c. 70, s. 5.)

See notes to sec. 6437.

Validity and Binding Effect.—The terms and conditions of the standard form of a fire insurance policy, as provided for in this section and the section following, and the stipulations as to a valid waiver thereof, are valid and binding on the parties. Midkiff v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 197 N. C. 139, 147 S. E. 812.

§ 6437. Form of standard policy.—The standard form of policy must be plainly printed, no part of it may be in type smaller than that used in printing the form on file in the office of the insurance commissioner, and shall be as follows:

[Space for insertion of name of company or companies issuing the policy and other matter permitted to be stated at the head of the policy.]

Amount $.... Rate .... Premium $ ....

In consideration of the stipulations herein named and of .... dollars premium does insure .... and legal representatives, to the extent of the actual cash value (ascertained with proper deductions for depreciation) of the property at the time of loss or damage, but not exceeding the amount which it would cost to repair or replace the same with material of like kind and quality within a reasonable time after such loss or damage, without allowance for any increased cost of repair or reconstruction by reason of any ordinance or law regulating construction or repair and without compensation for loss resulting from interruption of business or manufacture, for the term of ..... from the ..... day of ....., 19 ...., at noon, to the ..... day of ....., 19 ...., at noon, against all direct loss and damage by fire and by removal from premises endangered by fire except as herein provided, to an amount not exceeding ..... dollars to the following described property while located and contained as described herein, or pro rata for five days at each proper place to which any of the property shall necessarily be removed for preservation from fire, but not elsewhere, to wit:

[Space for description of property.]

This policy is made and accepted subject to the foregoing stipulations and conditions, and to the stipulations and conditions printed on the back hereof, which are hereby made a part of the policy, together with such other provisions, stipulations, and conditions as may be endorsed hereon or added hereto as herein provided.

In witness whereof, this company has executed and attested these presents.

[Space for date and for signatures and titles of officers and agent.]

Fraud, misrepresentation, etc.—This entire policy is void if the insured has concealed or misrepresented any material fact or circumstance concerning this insurance or the subject thereof; or in case of any fraud or false swearing by the insured touching any matter relating to this insurance or the subject thereof, whether before or after a loss.

Property which cannot be insured.—This policy shall not cover accounts, bills, currency, deeds, evidences of debt, money, notes or securities.

Hazards not covered.—This company shall not be liable for loss or damage caused directly or indirectly by invasion, insurrection, riot, civil war, or commotion, or military or usurped power, or by order of any civil authority; or by theft; or by neglect of the insured to use all reasonable means to save and preserve the property at and after a fire or when the property is endangered by fire in neighboring premises.

This entire policy is void, unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing added hereto—

Ownership, etc.—(a) if the interest of the insured is other than unconditional and sole ownership; or (b) if the subject of insurance is a building on ground not owned by the insured in fee simple; or (c) if, with the knowledge of the insured, foreclosure proceedings are commenced or notice given of sale of any property insured hereunder by reason of any mortgage or trust deed; or (d) if any change, other than by the death of an insured, takes place in the interest, title, or possession of the subject of insurance (except change of occupants without increase of hazard); or (e) if this policy is assigned before a loss.

Unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing added hereto, this company is not liable for loss or damage occurring—

Other insurance.—(a) while the insured has any other contract of insurance, whether valid or not, on property covered in whole or in part by this policy; or

Increase of hazard.—(b) while the hazard is increased by any means within the control or knowledge of the insured; or

Repairs, etc.—(c) while mechanics are employed in building, altering, or repairing the described premises beyond a period of fifteen days; or

Explosives, gas, etc.—(d) while illuminating gas or vapor is generated on the described premises; or while (any usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding) there is kept, used, or allowed on the described premises fireworks, greek fire, phosphorus, explosives, benzine, gasoline, naphtha, or any other product of petroleum of greater inflammability than kerosene oil, gunpowder exceeding twenty-five pounds, or kerosene oil exceeding five barrels; or

Factories.—(e) if the subject of insurance is a manufacturing establishment while operated in whole or in part between the hours of ten p. m. and five a. m., or while it ceases to be operated beyond a period of ten days; or

Unoccupancy.—(f) while a described building, whether intended for occupancy by owner or tenant, is vacant or unoccupied beyond a period of ten days; or

Excepted property.—(g) to bullion, manuscripts, mechanical drawings, dyes, or patterns; or

Explosion, lightning.—(h) by explosion or lightning, unless fire ensues, and, in that event, for loss or damage by fire only.

Chattel mortgage.—Unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing added hereto this company is not liable for loss or damage to any property insured hereunder while encumbered by a chattel mortgage, and during the time of such encumbrance this company is liable only for loss or damage to any other property insured hereunder.

Fall of building.—If a building, or any material part thereof, falls, except as the result of fire, all insurance by this policy on such building or its contents immediately ceases.

Added clauses.—The extent of the application of insurance under this policy and of the contribution to be made by this company in case of loss or damage, and any other agreement not inconsistent with or a waiver of any of the conditions or provisions of the policy, may be provided for by rider added hereto.

Waiver.—No one has power to waive any provision or condition of this policy except such as by the terms of the policy is the subject of agreement added hereto, nor shall any such provision or condition be waived unless the waiver is in writing added hereto, nor shall any provision or condition of this policy or any forfeiture be waived by any requirement, act, or proceeding on the part of this company relating to appraisal or to any examination herein provided for; nor shall any privilege or permission affecting the insurance hereunder exist or be claimed by the insured unless granted herein or by rider added hereto.

Cancellation of policy.—This policy will be canceled at any time at the request of the insured, in which case the company shall, upon demand and surrender of the policy, refund the excess of paid premium above the customary short rates for the expired time. The policy may be canceled at any time by the company by giving to the insured a five days written notice of cancellation with or without tender of the excess of paid premium above the pro rata premium for the expired time, which excess, if not tendered, shall be refunded on demand. Notice of cancellation must state that the excess premium (if not tendered) will be refunded on demand.

Pro rata liability.—This company will not be liable for a greater proportion of any loss or damage than the amount hereby insured bears to the whole insurance covering the property, whether valid or not and whether collectible or not.

Noon.—The word "noon" herein means noon of standard time at the place of loss or damage.

Mortgagee.—If loss or damage is made payable, in whole or in part, to a mortgagee, this policy may be canceled as to such interest by giving to the mortgagee a ten days written notice of cancellation. Upon failure of the insured to render proof of loss, such mortgagee shall, as if named as insured hereunder, but within sixty days after such failure, render proof of loss and be subject to the provisions hereof as to appraisal and time of payment. On payment to a mortgagee of any sum for loss or damage hereunder, if this company claims that as to the mortgagor or owner no liability existed, it shall, to the extent of such payment, be subrogated to the mortgagee's right of recovery and claim upon the collateral to the mortgage debt, but without impairing the mortgagee's right to sue; or it may pay the mortgage debt and require an assignment thereof and of the mortgage. Except as stated in this paragraph, the agreement between a mortgagee and this company shall be only as stated by rider added hereto.

Requirements in case of loss.—The insured shall give immediate notice, in writing, to this company, of any loss or damage, protect the property from further damage, forthwith separate the damaged and undamaged personal property, put it in the best possible order, furnish a complete inventory of the destroyed, damaged and undamaged property, stating the quantity and cost of each article and the amount claimed thereon; and the insured shall, within sixty days after the fire, unless such time is extended in writing by this company, render to this company a proof of loss, signed and sworn to by the insured, stating the knowledge and belief of the insured as to the time and origin of the fire; the interest of the insured and of all others in the property; the cash value of each item thereof, and the amount of loss or damage thereto; all encumbrances thereon; all other contracts of insurance, whether valid or not, covering any of said property; and a copy of all the descriptions and schedules in all policies; any changes in the title, use, occupation, location, possession, or exposures of said property since the issuing of this policy; and by whom and for what purpose any building herein described and the several parts thereof were occupied at the time of fire; and shall furnish, if required, verified plans and specifications of any building, fixtures, or machinery destroyed or damaged. The insured, as often as is reasonably required, shall exhibit to any person designated by this company all that remains of any property herein described, and submit to examinations under oath by any person named by this company, and subscribe the same; and, as often as is reasonably required, shall produce for examination all books of account, bills, invoices, and other vouchers, or certified copies thereof, if originals are lost, at such reasonable time and place as is designated by this company or its representative, and shall permit extracts and copies thereof to be made.

Appraisal.—In case the insured and this company fail to agree as to the amount of loss or damage, each shall, on the written demand of either, select a competent and disinterested appraiser. The appraisers shall first select a competent and disinterested umpire; and failing for fifteen days to agree upon such umpire, then, on request of the insured or this company, the umpire shall be selected by a judge of a court of record in the state in which the property insured is located. The appraisers shall then appraise the loss and damage, stating separately sound value and loss or damage to each item; and failing to agree, shall submit their differences only to the umpire. An award in writing, so itemized, of any two, when filed with this company, shall determine the amount of sound value and loss or damage. Each appraiser shall be paid by the party selecting him, and the expenses of appraisal and umpire shall be paid by the parties equally.

Company's options.—It is optional with this company to take all, or any part, of the articles at the agreed or appraised value, and also to repair, rebuild, or replace the property lost or damaged with other of the like kind and quality within a reasonable time, on giving notice of its intention so to do within thirty days after the receipt of the proof of loss herein required; but Abandonment.—There can be no abandonment to this company of any property.

When loss payable.—The amount of loss or damage for which this company may be liable shall be payable sixty days after proof of loss, as herein provided, is received by this company and ascertainment of the loss or damage is made either by agreement between the insured and this company expressed in writing or by the filing with this company of an award as herein provided.

Suit.—No suit or action on this policy, for the recovery of any claim, shall be sustainable in any court of law or equity unless the insured has complied with all the requirements of this policy, nor unless commenced within twelve months next after the fire.

Subrogation. — This company may require from the insured an assignment of all right of recovery against any party for loss or damage to the extent that payment therefor is made by this company.

I. THE APPLICATION AND CONTRACT IN GENERAL.

Part of Law.—The material provisions of the standard form of a fire insurance policy written in accordance with this section are those of the law. Greene v. Insurance Co., 196 N. C. 335, 145 S. E. 616.

Rights of Parties Determined from Instrument.—When a policy of insurance, in the form prescribed by this section, has been issued by an insurance company and accepted by the insured, and has thereby become effective for all purposes as their contract, the rights and liabilities of both the insurer and the insured, under the policy, must be ascertained and determined in accordance with its terms and provisions. These terms and provisions have been prescribed by statute, and are valid in all respects; they are just both to the insurer and to the insured. Each is presumed to know all the terms, provisions and conditions which are included in the policy. Both are ordinarily bound by them. Lancaster v. Ins. Co., 135 N. C. 285, 69 S. E. 214; Midkiff v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 197 N. C. 139, 141, 147 S. E. 812.

Binder Slips Not Contrary to Law.—Our statute, by establishing a standard form of fire insurance, does not prevent the binding effect of a parol agreement of insurance, looking to the delivery of the policy according to the form prescribed and evidenced by a written memorandum thereof, called a binder; and when such is shown to have been made in a manner to bind the company, it is in force from that time, and thereafter the insured is responsible for the loss in accordance with the terms of the statutory form of policy. Lea v. Atlantic Fire Ins. Co., 168 N. C. 478, 84 S. E. 813.

Oral Contract with Agent.—In the absence of fraud an insurance company cannot be held liable upon a parol contract alleged to have been made by its agent, which is contradictory of and totally inconsistent with the standard form prescribed by statute. Hardin v. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 189 N. C. 423, 127 S. E. 353.

Right to Cancel.—Either party to the contract may cancel the standard form policies without the consent of the other, by following the provisions of the policy applicable; the expression in other forms of policies that the policy "may be canceled" is construed as reading, "shall be canceled." Roberta Mfg. Co. v. Royal Exch. Assur. Co., 161 N. C. 88, 76 S. E. 865.

The provision in this section is for the protection of the insured, and the insurer cannot effect cancellation until the expiration of five days from the receipt of the written notice by plaintiff, and whether plaintiff intends to waive this provision and does waive it by returning the policy as requested is for the determination of the jury. Wilson v. National Union Fire Ins. Co., 206 N. C. 635, 174 S. E. 745.

II. TITLE OR INTEREST OF INSURED.

Unconditional Ownership.—The provision in a policy of fire insurance written in accordance with the standard statutory form, that the policy should be void if the insured was not the unconditional owner of the property in fee simple is not waived by a written agreement providing that the agreement was solely for the purpose of determining the loss and to save time to the parties and that it should not operate as a waiver of any conditions or provisions of the policy. Sasser v. Pilot Fire Ins. Co., 203 N. C. 232, 165 S. E. 684.

Right of Insurer to Know of Encumbrances.—"In referring to this principle of law in Weddington v. Piedmont Fire Ins. Co., 141 N. C. 234, 54 S. E. 271, Mr. Justice Walker says: 'The validity of a provision in a policy of insurance against the creating of encumbrances without the consent of the insurer can hardly be contested at this late day. It has now become the settled doctrine of the courts that the facts in regard to title, ownership, encumbrances, and possession of the insured property are all important to be known by the insurer, as the character of the hazard is often affected by these circumstances.'" Watson v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 159 N. C. 638, 640, 75 S. E. 1105.

Misrepresentations as to Title.—Misrepresentations as to title of part of the premises insured avoids the entire contract of insurance. Cuthberton v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 96 N. C. 480, 2 S. E. 258, citing note in 19 L. R. A. 212.

Existing Lien Will Not Violate Provision.—The stipulation in a fire policy for sale and unconditional ownership is not violated by the existence of a lien on the property. Lancaster v. Southern Ins. Co., 153 N. C. 285, 69 S. E. 214.

Mortgagee Not Liable for Premiums.—The provision in the loss payable clause of a fire insurance policy taken out by the mortgagor that the mortgagee will pay the premium on demand should the mortgagor not do so, is held to be a condition upon which the mortgagee may receive the benefit of the protection afforded by the policy as a special contract made in his favor, and not as a covenant that he will pay the premium on demand of the insurer, upon the mortgagor's default; and upon the mortgagee's refusal or neglect to pay the premiums in default upon the insurer's demand, the latter may after ten days' written notice cancel the policy. Whitehead v. Knitting Mills, 194 N. C. 281, and cases there cited.

Title under Executory Contract.—A vendee of land occupying it under an executory contract, on which he has paid a portion of the price, and on which he has erected a building is an "unconditional and sole owner" in fee simple within the conditions of a fire policy providing that it shall be void if the interest of the insured is other than sole ownership of fee title. Jordan v. Hanover Fire Ins. Co., 151 N. C. 341, 66 S. E. 206.

Mortgage Invalidates Policy.—Where the insured fails to state that the property was mortgaged, when in fact it was mortgaged, the policy providing that the contract of insurance would be void if the insured property was mortgaged, invalidates the policy, though the omission was made without the intent to deceive. Hayes v. United States Fire Ins. Co., 132 N. C. 702, 44 S. E. 404.

Execution of a mortgage on the insured property so affects title, as will avoid an insurance policy then existing thereon and forfeit its benefit, if made without the knowledge or consent of the insurance company, and not attested as prescribed by the policy contract, unless the company thereafter, by its acts, conduct and statements has waived the effect of the mortgage and is estopped to assert its forfeiture. Modlin v. Atlantic Fire Ins. Co., 151 N. C. 35, 65 S. E. 605.

Assignment for Creditors.—Making an assignment for creditors avoids a policy containing an unconditional ownership clause. Roper v. National Fire Ins. Co., 161 N. C. 151, 76 S. E. 869.

The commencement of foreclosure against insured property terminates the policy, there being in the policy a provision to that effect. Hayes v. United States Fire Ins. Co., 132 N. C. 702, 44 S. E. 404.

Vesting Corporate Property in Receiver's Hands.—See note to § 1210.

Removal of Encumbrance before Loss.—Where the owner of an unencumbered automobile insures it under a statutory form of policy, stipulating, among other things, that the policy would be void if the interest of the assured be other than unconditional or sole ownership, or if the property be or become encumbered by a chattel mortgage, and thereafter gives a mortgage thereon which is canceled four days before the destruction of the machine by fire, this loss coming within the terms of the policy, the cancellation of the mortgage revives the original status of the policy, the temporary violation of the stipulation being immaterial, and puts the policy again in force, the effect of the mortgage being to invalidate the policy during the continuance of the lien, or to suspend the obligation of the insurance company during the violation of the stipulation. Cottingham v. Maryland Motor Car Ins. Co., 168 N. C. 259, 84 S. E. 274.

Waiver.—Where a policy of fire insurance has been issued under the statutory standard form, the condition therein of sole and unconditional ownership of the insured cannot be held to have been waived by the insurer or its agent in the absence of knowledge that the insured's ownership was otherwise than stated in the policy contract. Hardin v. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 189 N. C. 423, 127 S. E. 353. But where the agent issues the policy with full knowledge of the state of the title the condition is waived. Gerringer North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 133 N. C. 407, 45 S. E. 773. As to waiver of other conditions, see the next succeeding analysis line of this note.

A breach of the condition that the policy is void if the insured has not the sole and unconditional title is valid and enforceable by the company without the necessity of disclaiming liability upon notice or knowledge of its infraction, and inaction on its part in this respect is not a waiver thereof. Smith v. National Ben Franklin Fire Ins. Co., 193 N. C. 446, 137 S. E. 310.

III. CERTAIN OTHER CONDITIONS.

Additional Insurance—In General.—The condition against additional insurance on the property is valid and enforceable. Black v. Atlantic Home Ins. Co., 148 N. C. 169, 61 S. E. 672.

And when under a fire insurance policy the insured has violated the provision of the policy by placing more concurrent insurance on the property than the policy permits, the policy is invalid in accordance with the statutory form. Roper v. National Fire Ins. Co., 161 N. C. 151, 76 S. E. 869.

Where a standard fire insurance policy under this section, provides that the policy should be void if the insured procures other contemporaneous insurance on the same property during the term covered, unless the insurer agrees thereto and a writing to that effect is attached to the policy contract, the provision is valid and binding. Johnson v. Aetna Ins. Co., 201 N. C. 362, 160 S. E. 454.

Same—Waiver of Condition by Agent.—Where the insured before taking out additional insurance mentioned his intention to the companies' subagent who had issued its policy to the insured, and was told that it was all right, this constituted a waiver of the condition. Grubbs v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 108 N. C. 472, 13 S. E. 236.

The Iron-Safe Clause.—The "iron-safe clause" in policies of insurance is upheld by the courts as a reasonable contract limitation upon the insurer's risk. Coggins v. Aetna Ins. Co., 144 N. C. 7, 56 S. E. 506.

A substantial compliance with this provision will suffice. Arnold v. Indemnity Fire Ins. Co., 152 N. C. 232, 67 S. E. 574. And an inventory of a stock of general merchandise containing the number of articles and cost of each class at a date made about one month before the fire, and testified to as being practically the same as on the date of the fire, is a substantial compliance with the inventory provision in the standard form of a fire insurance policy, and is competent as evidence upon the trial. Mortt v. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 192 N. C. 8, 133 S. E. 337. See also, Coggins v. Aetna Ins. Co., 144 N. C. 7, 56 S. E. 506.

Same—Waiver.—If the company, knowing the insured has not complied with this provision, collects the premiums and recognizes the validity and binding force and effect of the policy it has issued, it should not be heard to insist upon the introduction of records, the keeping of which it has thus tacitly waived. Bullard v. Pilot Fire Ins. Co., 189 N. C. 34, 37, 126 S. E. 179.

Proof of Loss.—A clause in a policy requiring proof of loss and forbidding the bringing of any suit upon the policy until sixty days thereafter is a continuing one, and does not mean that failure to file proof within sixty days of the fire works a forfeiture of the policy. Higson v. North River Ins. Co., 152 N. C. 206, 209, 67 S. E. 509.

The insurer's denial of liability upon its fire insurance policy is a waiver of its right to require the proof of loss therein specified. Profitt Mercantile Co. v. State Mut. Fire Ins. Co., 176 N. C. 545, 97 S. E. 476.

As to limitations, see post, this note, "Liability of Company in Case of Loss," IV.

Operating Mill at Night.—Where an insured mill was operated at night, in violation of a policy, but under a permit from the insurance agent, such operation was no defense to an action on the policy, for a loss happening three months after the violation had ceased. Strause v. Palatine Ins. Co., 128 N. C. 64, 38 S. E. 256, cited in note in 45 L. R. A., N. S., 126.

Permit When House Unoccupied.—The statutory form of a standard fire insurance policy requiring a permit to be issued for the house insured when unoccupied for more than ten days is a provision materially affecting the risk, and must be obtained in accordance with the requirements of the policy to make the insurer liable for damages by fire occurring after ten days vacancy, and after the policy has been issued and is in binding effect, the local agent of the insurer is without authority to bind his principal by acts and parol representations made contrary to the terms of the written instrument. Greene v. Insurance Co., 196 N. C. 335, 145 S. E. 616.

Waiver of Stipulations.—Argall v. Old North State Ins. Co., 84 N. C. 355, holds that a breach of a condition in the policy will not avoid it, if the insurer has knowledge thereof, and does not object, in which case the breach is considered as waived. Scottish Fire Ins. Co. v. Stuyvesant Ins. Co., 161 N. C. 485, 489, 76 S. E. 728.

An agent of a fire insurance company whether general or local, cannot waive the requirements of a standard policy except in the form prescribed by the statute. Roper v. National Fire Ins. Co., 161 N. C. 151, 76 S. E. 869.

"The rule applying to a state of facts is thus stated in Bullard v. Pilot Fire Ins. Co., 189 N. C. 34, 126 S. E. 179: 'The provision restricting the agent's power to waive conditions does not, as a general rule, refer to or include conditions existing at the inception of the contract, but to those arising after the policy is issued. Conditions which form a part of the contract of insurance at its inception may be waived by the agent of the insurer, although they are embraced in the policy when it is delivered; and the local agent's knowledge of such conditions is deemed to be in the knowledge of his principal.' Hayes v. United States Fire Ins. Co., 132 N. C. 702, 44 S. E. 404; Weddington v. Piedmont Fire Ins. Co., 141 N. C. 234, 54 S. E. 271; Johnson v. Rhode Island Ins. Co., 172 N. C. 142, 90 S. E. 124; Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. v. Rowland Lumber Co., 186 N. C. 269, 119 S. E. 362." Smith v. National Ben Franklin Fire Ins. Co., 193 N. C. 446, 448, 137 S. E. 310.

Sending a check in payment of the claim may constitute a waiver, whether received or not, of unfulfilled conditions. Roper v. National Fire Ins. Co., 161 N. C. 151, 76 S. E. 869. As to waiver of stipulations as to title of property insured, see ante, this note, "Title or Interest of Insured," II.

The terms and conditions of standard form of a fire insurance policy and the stipulations as to a valid waiver thereof are valid and binding on the parties. Midkiff v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 197 N. C. 139, 147 S. E. 812.

IV. LIABILITY OF COMPANY IN CASE OF LOSS.

Companies Option.—A provision in a policy of fire insurance, by which, in case of loss, it is made optional with the insurer to repair, rebuild, or replace the property destroyed, by giving notice within a certain time, constitutes a contract exclusively between insurer and insured; and neither a judgment creditor nor a mortgagee can interpose to prevent its performance; and if the insurer has not given notice of an intention to repair, etc., within the time specified, no one but the insured can take advantage of it and require the payment of the insurance money instead. Stamps v. Commercial Fire Ins. Co., 77 N. C. 209, 24 Am. Rep. 443, cited in note in 26 L. R. A. 857.

Damage by Water—An insurance company is liable on a fire insurance policy for damages done to goods by water used in saving them from destruction by fire. Whitehurst v. Fayetteville Mut. Ins. Co., 51 N. C. 352.

Loss by Theft.—Losses by theft consequent on the removal of goods are fairly within the contract to insure against fire. Whitehurst v. Fayetteville Mut. Ins. Co., 51 N. C. 352, cited in note in 35 L. R. A., N. S., 892.

Amount Recoverable.—In an action on a policy of insurance, the measure of the amount the insured is entitled to recover is the fair cash value of the property at the time and place of the loss. Fowler v. Old North State Ins. Co., 74 N. C. 89; Grubbs v. North Carolina Home Ins. Co., 108 N. C. 472, 13 S. E. 236, 23 Am. St. Rep. 62; Boyd v. Royal Ins. Co., 111 N. C. 372, 16 S. E. 389.

Limitations.—Under the valid provision of a standard fire insurance policy, approved by statute, the period limited to twelve months from the time of loss by fire in which an action may be maintained is not waived by the time taken under an agreement for an appraisal and award for the damage sustained by the insured. Tatham & Co. v. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 181 N. C. 434, 107 S. E. 450.

Same—Construed with Section 6290.—See notes to section 6290.

Subrogation.—"It is held in Phoenix Ins. Co. v. Erie, etc., Transp. Co., 117 U. S. 312, 6 Sup. Ct. 750, 1176, that when goods injured are totally lost, actually, or constructively, by perils insured against, the insurer, upon payment of the loss, doubtless becomes subrogated to all the assured's rights of action against third persons who have caused or are responsible for the loss. No express stipulation in the policy of insurance, or abandonment by the assured, is necessary to perfect the title of the insurer. From the very nature of the contract of insurance as a contract of indemnity, the insurer, when he has paid to the assured the amount of the indemnity agreed on between them, is entitled, by law of salvage, to the benefit of anything that may be received, either from the remnants of the goods, or from damages paid by third persons for the same loss. But the insurer stands in no relation of contract or privity with such person. His title arises out of the contract of insurance, and is derived from the assured alone, and can only be enforced in the right of the latter. In the court of common law, it can only be asserted in his name; and even in a court of equity, or of admiralty, it can only be asserted in his right. In any form of remedy, the insurer can take nothing by subrogation but the rights of the assured." Lumberman's Mut. Ins. Co. v.

Southern R. Co., 179 N. C. 255, 262, 102 S. E. 417; Cunningham v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 139 N. C. 427, 51 S. E. 1029; Fidelity Ins. Co. v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 165 N. C. 136, 80 S. E. 1069; Powell v. Wake Water Co., 171 N. C. 290, 88 S. E. 426.

Where the mortgagee has insured the mortgaged property, and where the mortgagor has assumed the risk of loss under his contract of purchase, the insurer having paid the loss is subrogated to the rights of the mortgagee. Stuyvesant Ins. Co. v. Reid, 171 N. C. 513, 88 S. E. 779.

V. LIABILITY OF AGENT.

Where the general agent of a fire insurance company for a limited territory, through the negligence of an employee, fails to write into the policy a statement required to make it valid, the agents are liable in damages to the insured for loss by fire, in an action based solely on that ground, and not upon the invalid contract of insurance negligently issued by them. Case v. Ewbanks, Ewbanks & Co., 194 N. C. 775, 140 S. E. 709.

Where a nonresident defendant fire insurance company has upon petition removed a cause from the State to the Federal Court upon a policy of insurance that was void in that jurisdiction, but not in the jurisdiction of the court of this State, and the Federal Court has adjudicated that the plaintiff could not recover under the contract for a loss by fire, the plaintiff may thereafter bring action in the State court against the agents and recover damages from them occasioned by their own neglect in not inserting a provision in the policy that would have rendered it valid, the subject-matter of the latter action being based upon negligence and not on the policy contract, and the application of the doctrine of the election of remedies has no force. Case v. Ewbanks, Ewbanks & Co., 194 N. C. 775, 140 S. E. 709.

§ 6438. Size of policy; notice; umpire; statement and blanks; policy issued to husband or wife on joint property.—No provisions of this chapter limit insurance companies to use of any particular size or manner of folding the paper upon which their policies are issued. If notice in writing signed by the insured, or his agent, is given before loss or damage by fire to the agent of the company of any fact or condition stated in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), of the foregoing form of policy, it is equivalent to an agreement in writing added thereto, and has the force of the agreement in writing referred to in the foregoing form of policy with respect to the liability of the company and the waiver; but this notice does not affect the right of the company to cancel the policy as herein stipulated.

The resident judge of the superior court of the district in which the property insured is located is designated as the judge of the court of record to select the umpire referred to in the foregoing form of policy. When any company demands or requires the insured, under any fire insurance policy, to furnish a statement in writing as prescribed in the standard policy form, after a fire or loss occurs, the company or its representative shall furnish to the insured a blank or blanks in duplicate to be used for the purpose, which blanks shall be of standard form such as the insurance commissioner has approved. The failure to furnish these blanks is a waiver of the provision requiring such statement. Any policy of fire insurance issued to husband or wife, on buildings and household furniture owned by the husband and wife, either by entirety, in common, or jointly, either name of one of the parties in interest named as the assured or beneficiary therein, shall be sufficient and the policy shall not be void for failure to disclose the interest of the other, unless it appears that in the procuring of the issuance of such policy, fraudulent means or methods were used by the insured or owner thereof. (Rev. c. 54, s. 43; 1907, c. 575, s. 1; 1915, c. 109, s. 11; 1929, c. 60, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1929 added the last sentence to this section.

§ 6439. Penalty for issuing policy not of standard form.—Any insurance company which causes to be issued, and any agent who makes, issues, or delivers a policy of fire insurance other than of the standard form, in wilful violation of this chapter, shall forfeit for each offense not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars; but the policy shall be binding upon the company issuing it. (Rev., ss. 4762, 4833; 1899, c. 54, s. 44.)

§ 6440. Effect of failure to give notice of encumbrance.—No policy of insurance issued upon any property shall be held void because of the failure to give notice to the company of a mortgage or deed of trust existing thereon or thereafter placed thereon, except during the life of the mortgage or deed of trust. (1915, c. 109, s. 4.)

See notes to sec. 6437, analysis line II.

§ 6441. Additional or coinsurance clause.—No fire insurance company licensed to do business in this state may issue any policy or contract of insurance covering property in this state which shall contain any clause or provision requiring the insured to take out or maintain a larger amount of insurance than that expressed in such policy, nor in any way provide that the insured shall be liable as a co-insurer with the company issuing the policy for any part of the loss or damage which may be caused by fire to the property described in such policy, and any such clause or provision shall be null and void, and of no effect: Provided, the coinsurance clause or provision may be written in or attached to a policy or policies issued when there is stamped on the face of such policy the words "coinsurance contract." The rate for the insurance with and without the coinsurance clause shall be furnished the owner upon request. (1915, c. 109, s. 5; 1925, c. 70, s. 4.)

See notes to sec. 6437, analysis line, III.

Art. 19. Deposits by Foreign Fire Insurance Companies

§ 6442. Amount and nature of deposits required.—Unless otherwise provided in this article, every fire insurance company chartered by any other state or foreign government shall, by their general agent or through some authorized officer, deliver under oath to the insurance commissioner of this state a statement of the amount of capital stock of the company, and deposit with him bonds of the United States, or of the state of North Carolina, or of the cities or counties of this state, or first mortgages on real estate situated in this state to be approved by the insurance commissioner, as follows: Companies whose capital stock is five hundred thousand dollars or less, ten thousand dollars; companies whose capital stock is more than five hundred thousand dollars and not over one million dollars, twenty thousand dollars; companies whose capital stock is in excess of one million dollars, twenty-five thousand dollars, and every insurance company writing a fidelity, surety or casualty business in this state shall be required to deposit with the state securities of the same class enumerated above in the following amounts: Companies whose premium income derived from this state is less than $100,000.00 per annum, $25,000.00; companies whose premium income is in excess of $100,000.00 per annum, $50,000.00; and the insurance commissioner shall thereupon give the agent a receipt for the same. With securities so deposited the company shall at the same time deliver to the insurance commissioner a power of attorney authorizing him to transfer said securities or any part thereof for the purpose of paying any of the liabilities provided for in this article. The insurance commissioner shall require each company to make good any depreciation or reduction in value of the securities. The securities required to be deposited by each insurance company in this article shall be delivered for safekeeping by the insurance commissioner to the treasurer of the state, who shall receipt him therefor. For securities so deposited the faith of the state is pledged that they shall be returned to the parties entitled to receive them or disposed of as hereinafter provided for. The securities deposited by any company under this article shall not, on account of such securities being in this state, be subjected to taxation, but shall be held exclusively and solely for the protection of contract holders. (1909, c. 923, s. 1; 1911, c. 164, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 62, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1915, c. 166, s. 6; 1933, c. 60.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 234, for brief review of this section as amended in 1933.

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 60, inserted the clause, about the middle of the section, requiring special deposits from casualty and surety companies.

§ 6443. Right of company to receive interest on deposits.—The insurance commissioner, at the time of receiving the securities, shall give to the company authority to draw the interest thereon, as the same may become due and payable, for the use of the company, and this authority shall continue in force until the company fails to pay any liability arising upon any policy made in favor of any person, firm, or corporation which shall be, at the time the liability arises, a resident of this state, or which shall own property in the state covered by policies issued. In case of such failure the corporation charged with the payment of such interest shall be forthwith notified, and thereafter the interest, so long as the liability exists, shall be payable to the insurance commissioner, to be applied, if necessary, to the payment of such liability. (1909, c. 923, s. 2.)

§ 6444. Sale of deposits for payment of liabilities.—If the company fails to pay any of its liabilities on its contracts according to the terms thereof, after the liabilities have been adjusted between the parties in the manner prescribed by the contracts, if any manner is prescribed thereby, or after the same have been ascertained in any manner agreed upon by the parties or by the judgment, order, or decree of the court having jurisdiction of the subject, the insurance commissioner shall, upon application of the party to whom the debt or money is due, and upon satisfactory proof that the notice herein required has been given to the company, proceed to sell at public auction such an amount of the securities as, with the interest in his hands, will pay the sum due and expenses of sale, and out of the proceeds of sale pay said sums and expenses; and the company shall be required forthwith to make good any deficit in the amount of the deposit caused by such sale. The party making application shall give to the company or to its agent in this state twenty days notice of his intention to apply to the insurance commissioner for the sale of securities. The insurance commissioner shall advertise the sale of the securities for thirty days prior to the day of the sale in some daily newspaper published in the city of Raleigh, and shall state in the advertisement the securities to be sold and the company depositing them, and shall mail a copy to the company. (1909, c. 923, s. 3.)

§ 6445. Lien of policyholders; action to enforce.—Upon the securities deposited with the insurance commissioner by any such insurance company, the holders of all contracts of the company who are citizens or residents of this state at such time, or who hold policies issued upon property in the state, shall have a lien for the amounts due them, respectively, under or in consequence of such contracts for losses, equitable values, return premiums, or otherwise, and shall be entitled to be paid ratably out of the proceeds of said securities, if such proceeds be not sufficient to pay all of said contract holders. When any company depositing securities as aforesaid becomes insolvent or bankrupt or makes an assignment for the benefit of its creditors, any holder of such contract may begin an action in the superior court of the county of Wake to enforce the lien for the benefit of all the holders of such contracts. The insurance commissioner shall be a party to the suit, and the funds shall be distributed by the court, but no cost of such action shall be adjudged against the insurance commissioner. (1909, c. 923, s. 4.)

§ 6446. Substitution for securities paid. — Where the principal of any of the securities so deposited is paid to the insurance commissioner, he shall notify the company or its agent in this state, and pay the money so received to the company upon receiving other securities of the character named in this article to an equal amount, or, upon the failure of the company for thirty days after receiving notice to deliver such securities to an equal amount to the insurance commissioner, he may invest the money in any such securities and hold the same as he held those which were paid. (1909, c. 923, s. 5.)

§ 6447. Return of deposits.—If such company ceases to do business in this state, and its liabilities, whether fixed or contingent upon its contracts, to persons residing in this state or having policies upon property situated in this state have been satisfied or have been terminated, upon satisfactory evidence of this fact to the insurance commissioner the state treasurer shall deliver to such company, upon the order of the insurance commissioner, the securities in his possession belonging to it, or such of them as remain after paying the liabilities aforesaid. (1909, c. 923, s. 6.)

§ 6448. Deposit required before license granted; exception.—When any fire insurance company files an application with the insurance commissioner to be admitted to do business in this state, he shall require of it a compliance with the provisions of this article before issuing a license to such company; but this article shall not apply to companies licensed to do a reinsurance business only. (1909, c. 923, s. 7; 1915, c. 166, s. 6.)

Art. 20. Insuring State Property

§ 6449. Insurance commissioner to procure insurance.—It is the duty of the insurance commissioner to prepare a schedule of the different properties of the state and to procure policies of insurance thereon according to these schedules for such amounts as he is able to provide for with the provisions and appropriations for the insurance of state property, and to inspect and pass upon all policies of insurance issued upon the public buildings or other property belonging to the state, as regards the form of contract, rate, description, and such other things as are necessary to have the policies in proper form. He shall keep a record in his department, showing the number and date of policy, the name of company, the amount insured, the amount of premium, date of expiration, the property insured, and its location. (Rev., s. 4825; 1901, c. 710, ss. 1, 2; 1903, c. 771, s. 1; 1905, c. 441.)

§ 6450. Payment of premiums by state treasurer.—When the insurance commissioner has placed the insurance on state property as provided for in this article and approved the bill for the same, the auditor shall issue his warrant on the state treasurer for the bill, and it is the duty of the treasurer to pay the same out of funds not otherwise appropriated to an amount as is necessary to insure said property to an amount equal to fifty per centum of the scheduled value of such property, but this shall not apply to insurance on property of, or in charge of, the agricultural department and state prison. (Rev., s. 4827; 1905, c. 441, s. 2; 1919, c. 155; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 61; 1923, c. 248.)

§ 6451. Payment of premiums by officers in charge.—The insurance on the property of, or in charge of, the agricultural department and the state's prison shall be for the amount agreed upon by the insurance commissioner and the officer or officers having such property in charge, and the premiums shall be paid out of the special funds of the agricultural department and state's prison on the order of the insurance commissioner. Before such board, public officer, or other person charged with the custody or safekeeping of any public building or other property of the state may pay any sum of money as premium for a policy of insurance thereon, they shall receive and file among their records a certificate of the insurance commissioner that he has examined and approved of the policies of insurance, giving the number, amount, date, and term of such policies, the property covered, and the names of the companies in which they are written. (Rev., ss. 4826, 4827; 1901, c. 710, ss. 1, 2; 1903, c. 771, ss. 2, 3; 1905, c. 441, s. 2.)

§ 6452. Information furnished commissioner by officers in charge.—It is the duty of the different officers or boards having in their custody any property belonging to the state to inform the commissioner, giving him in detail a full description of same, and to keep him informed of any changes in such property or its location or surroundings. (Rev., s. 4828; 1901, c. 710, ss. 1, 2; 1903, c. 771, s. 2.)

§ 6453. Commissioner to inspect state property; plans submitted.—It is the duty of the commissioner at least once in each year, or oftener, if deemed necessary, to visit, inspect, and thoroughly examine each state institution or other state property with a view to its protection from fire, as well as to the safety of its inmates or the property therein in case of fire, and call to the attention of the board or officer having the same in charge any defect noted by him or any improvement deemed necessary. No board, commission, superintendent, or other person or persons authorized and directed by law to select plans and erect buildings for the use of the state of North Carolina or any institution thereof or for the use of any county, city, or incorporated town or school district shall receive and approve of any plans until they are submitted to and approved by the insurance commissioner of the state as to the safety of the proposed buildings from fire, as well as the protection of the inmates in case of fire. (Rev., s. 4829; 1901, c. 710, ss. 1, 2; 1903, c. 771, s. 3; 1909, c. 880; 1919, c. 186, s. 3.)

§ 6454. Report required of commissioner.—The insurance commissioner must submit annually to the governor a full report of his official action under this article, with such recommendations as commend themselves to him, and it shall be embodied in or attached to his biennial report to the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4830; 1901, c. 710, ss. 1, 2; 1903, c. 771, s. 4.)

SUBCHAPTER IV. LIFE INSURANCE

Art. 21. General Regulations of Business

§ 6455. Life insurance company defined; requisites of contract.—All corporations, associations, partnerships, or individuals doing business in this state, under any charter, compact, agreement, or statute of this or any other state, involving the payment of money or other thing of value to families or representatives of policy and certificate holders or members, conditioned upon the continuance or cessation of human life, or involving an insurance, guaranty, contract, or pledge for the payment of endowments or annuities, or who employ agents to solicit business, are life insurance companies, in all respects subject to the laws herein made and provided for the government of life insurance companies, and shall not make any such insurance, guaranty, contract, or pledge in this state with any citizen, or resident thereof, which does not distinctly state the amount of benefits payable, the manner of payment, and the consideration therefor. (Rev., s. 4773; 1899, c. 54, s. 55.)

Editor's Note.—Many of the decided cases pertaining to life insurance are necessarily determined by construing the particular policy issued in a given case, others depend upon the adjudication of certain principles of the law of contracts and agency. None of these cases directly construes any provision of this code and are consequently not set out here. The searcher will find a complete and comprehensive treatment of the subject in the digests. See 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 765, 14 N. C. Enc. Dig. 443.

§ 6456. Foreign companies; requirements for admission.—A company organized under the laws of any other of these United States for the transaction of life insurance may be admitted to do business in this state if it complies with the other provisions of this chapter regulating the terms and conditions upon which foreign life insurance companies may be admitted and authorized to do business in this state, and, in the opinion of the insurance commissioner, is in sound financial condition and has policies in force upon not less than five hundred lives for an aggregate amount of not less than five hundred thousand dollars. Any life company organized under the laws of any other country than the United States, in addition to the above requirements, must make and maintain the deposits required of such companies by article four of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4774; 1899, c. 54, s. 56.)

§ 6457. Soliciting agent represents the company.—A person who solicits an application for insurance upon the life of another, in any controversy relating thereto between the insured or his beneficiary and the company is suing a policy upon such application, is the agent of the company and not of the insured. (1907, c. 958, s. 1.)

This section does not attempt to prescribe the extent of the agent's authority or to convert a special or limited agency into one with general powers. Fountain v. Mutual Life Ins. Co., 55 F. (2d) 120, 125. See also Provident Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Parsons, 70 F. (2d) 863.

Insurer Liable for Delay of Agent.—"If the defendant's agent wrongfully failed to deliver the policy within a reasonably short time after its receipt, during which time the plaintiff's intestate was in good health and ready, able, and willing to pay the premium on delivery, as stipulated, and plaintiff's intestate having thereafter become ill, the defendant could not withhold the delivery so as to release it from responsibility. American Trust Co. v. Life Ins. Co., 173 N. C. 558, 563, 92 S. E. 706." Fox v. Volunteer State Life Ins. Co., 185 N. C. 121, 124, 116 S. E. 266.

§ 6458. Discrimination between insurants forbidden.—A life insurance company doing business in this state shall not make any distinction or discrimination in favor of individuals between insurants of the same class and equal expectation of life in the amount of payment of premiums or rates charged for policies of life or endowment insurance, or in the dividends or other benefits payable thereon, or in any of the terms and conditions of the contracts it makes; nor shall any such company or any agent thereof make any contract of insurance or agreement as to such contract other than as plainly expressed in the policy issued thereon, nor pay or allow as inducement to insurance any rebate of premium payable on the policy, or any special favor or advantage in the dividends or other benefit to accrue thereon, or any valuable consideration or inducement whatever not specified in the policy contract of insurance or in connection therewith any stocks, bonds, or other securities of any insurance company or other corporation, association, or partnership, or any dividends or profits to accrue therein, or anything of value whatsoever not specified in the policy. (Rev., s. 4775; 1899, c. 54, s. 57; 1903, c. 438, ss. 5, 10; 1911, c. 196, s. 7.)

Purpose of Section.—"The express provision and obvious purpose and policy of the statute are to prevent discrimination among policy holders of like class and expectancy, and, in aid and furtherance of this desirable purpose, to secure publicity by requiring that all the stipulations of the contract and all agreements between the insurant and the company in reference thereto shall be plainly expressed in the policy." Smathers v. Bankers Life Ins. Co., 151 N. C. 98, 102, 65 S. E. 746.

Collateral Agreements with Agents of Insurer.—Transactions up to the issuance of a policy of life insurance merge therein upon its issuance and acceptance by the insured, and, under this section, the terms and conditions of the insurance must be plainly expressed in the policy as issued, and collateral agreements with local agents are not binding unless included in the policy. Graham v. Mutual Life Ins. Co., 176 N. C. 313, 97 S. E. 6.

A valid contract or policy of life insurance is severable from an invalid collateral agreement made at one and the same time, respecting a benefit prohibited by statute. Security Life, etc., Co. v. Costner, 149 N. C. 293, 63 S. E. 304.

When a collateral agreement delivered to insured with his policy of life insurance provided for the reduction of his premiums to be paid thereon, and is claimed to be the sole inducement moving him to take the policy, it is necessary for these inducements so claimed to be specified in the policy contract. Otherwise the collateral agreement is prohibited by the statute and not enforceable. Smathers v. Bankers Life Ins. Co., 151 N. C. 98, 65 S. E. 746.

Same—Effect on Note Given in Payment of Policy.—When the insured has given his note for the premiums on his life insurance policy, and has received for one year, in this manner, the benefits of the insurance, he cannot avoid paying his note upon the ground of his having collaterally contracted with the company for deduction of certain amount by way or renewal commissions in violation of the provisions of this section. Security Life, etc., Co. v. Costner, 149 N. C. 293, 63 S. E. 304.

Contract Not Void under Statute.—This section does not declare that contracts, made in violation of its provisions, shall be void. Security Life, etc., Co. v. Costner, 149 N. C. 293, 297, 63 S. E. 304.

"It would seem that the insured has a right to presume that the insurer has complied with all the requirements of law. Accordingly, it is held by the great weight of authority that when the insured attempts to enforce such a contract, made in good faith, against the unlicensed insurer, the latter will be estopped to escape liability under the contract by pleading his own infraction of law." Robinson v. Security Life, etc., Co., 163 N. C. 415, 421, 79 S. E. 681.

But a policyholder cannot enforce against the insurance company a severable collateral agreement to his policy contract of life insurance which is prohibited by this statute, upon the principle that the law was not passed for the benefit of the company resisting recovery, but for the protection of the policyholders when it appears that the agreement is executory in character and gives him a preference over the general body of policyholders for whose benefit the statute was passed. In such cases, the parties are in pari delicto. Smathers v. Bankers Life Ins. Co., 151 N. C. 98, 65 S. E. 746.

"In Security Life, etc., Co. v. Costner, 149 N. C. 293, 63 S. E. 304, the Court held that when a policy had been issued in connection with a contract of this character and retained by the beneficiary for a year, an action by the company on the notes executed for the annual premiums could be sustained, and this on the ground that, on the facts there appearing, the policy and the contract, which it was claimed conferred illegal benefits, were severable, and that defendant, having received the benefits of the policy as an executed consideration, could be made to pay the stipulated price." Smathers v. Bankers Life Ins. Co., 151 N. C. 98, 102, 65 S. E. 746.

The exercise of an option given by a mutual life insurance company to one of its policyholders of greater value than that given to the others is an illegal and void discrimination, prohibited by our statute and general principles of law. Graham v. Mutual Life Ins. Co., 176 N. C. 313, 97 S. E. 6.

§ 6459. Misrepresentations of policy forbidden.—No life insurance company doing business in this state, and no officer, director, solicitor, or other agent thereof, shall make, issue or circulate, or cause to be made, issued, or circulated any estimate, illustration, circular, or statement of any sort misrepresenting the terms of the policy issued by it or the dividends or share of surplus to be received thereon, or shall use any name or title of any policy or class of policies misrepresenting the true nature thereof. Nor shall any such company, agent, or broker make any misrepresentation to any person insured in said company or in any other company for the purpose of inducing or tending to induce such person to lapse, forfeit, or surrender his said insurance. (1913, c. 95.)

§ 6460. Medical examination required.—No life insurance company organized under the laws of or doing business in this State shall enter into any contract of insurance in any twelve months' period in an amount in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000) upon any one life within this State without having previously made or caused to be made a prescribed medical examination of the insured by a registered medical practitioner; and provided further, that where there has been no medical examination the policy shall not be rendered void nor shall payment be resisted on account of any misrepresentation as to the physical condition of the applicant, except in cases of fraud; and provided further, that this section shall not apply to contracts of insurance issued under the group plan. (Rev., s. 4779; 1899, c. 54, s. 58; 1903, c. 438, s. 5; 1919, c. 186, s. 5; 1925 c. 82; 1927, c. 13, s. 1.)

It was not the purpose of this section to permit a recovery on an insurance policy issued without medical examination irrespective of the facts surrounding the transaction; otherwise the expression "except in cases of fraud" would have neither meaning nor significance. Potts v. Life Ins. Co., 206 N. C. 257, 260, 174 S. E. 123.

"In cases of fraud" a policy issued without medical examination stands upon the same footing as policies issued upon such examination. Id.

Statute a Part of Contract.—The provisions of this section, that where a policy of life insurance in a sum less than $5,000 is issued without a medical examination, insurer may not avoid same for insured's misrepresentations as to health except in cases of fraud, enter into and become a part of all such policies written in this State after the enactment of the statute. Headen v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 206 N. C. 270, 173 S. E. 349.

Policy Not Void.—The law is thus declared by Justice Hoke in Morgan v. Royal Fraternal Ass'n, 170 N. C. 75, 86 S. E. 975; "But the authorities are to the effect that, when a statute or valid regulation in restraint only of the company's action is made for the protection of the policyholder, a recovery may ordinarily be had, though the contract is in breach of the regulation."

In Blount v. Royal Fraternal Ass'n, 163 N. C. 167, 79 S. E. 299, Justice Allen says, referring to section 6312: "The statute does not purport to deal with the validity of the contract of insurance, but with the insurance company." This section does not purport to invalidate the policy, but is a regulation of law imposed upon the insurance company. If it had been the intention of the Legislature, in enacting this section, to invalidate the contract and to deny recovery thereon, it would have so enacted. Ober v. Katzenstein, 160 N. C. 439, 440, 76 S. E. 476; Tobacco Co. v. American Tobacco Co., 144 N. C. 352, 57 S. E. 5; Robinson v. Security Life, etc., Co., 163 N. C. 415, 79 S. E. 681; McNeal v. Life, etc., Ins. Co., 192 N. C. 450, 452, 135 S. E. 300.

The fact that the insured was not in sound health at the time the policy was issued (without medical examination) contrary to a provision in the policy is insufficient, to avoid the policy under this section. Holbrook v. Insurance Co., 196 N. C. 333, 145 S. E. 609.

Except in cases of fraud, the insurer may not declare a forfeiture under the provisions of a policy that the insurer should not be liable if insured was not in sound health at the time of the delivery of the policy, or had not been in good health for two years prior thereto, etc., since such provisions of the policy are in conflict with this section and therefore void. Headen v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 206 N. C. 270, 173 S. E. 349.

Death by Apoplexy within One Year.—A provision in a policy of life insurance that the insurer would not be liable except for the return of the premium paid in case the insured died from apoplexy within one year from the date of the issuance of the policy is valid and enforceable in the insurer's favor, this section not being applicable to the facts of this case. Holbrook v. American Nat. Ins. Co., 196 N. C. 333, 145 S. E. 609, cited and distinguished. Gilmore v. Imperial Life Ins. Co., 199 N. C. 632, 155 S. E. 566.

Applied in Missouri State Life Ins. Co. v. Hardin, 208 N. C. 22, 179 S. E. 2.

Cited in Headen v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 206 N. C. 860, 861, 175 S. E. 282.

§ 6461. Domestic companies to report outstanding policies; reinsurance fund calculated.—It is the duty of every life insurance company incorporated by the laws of this state to make returns in January of each year to the insurance commissioner, showing all its policies and annuity bonds in force on the first day of that month, with such particulars of the same as are necessary for the valuation thereof as hereinafer directed. The insurance commissioner shall thereupon compute, or cause to be computed, the value of such policies and bonds, or what is known as the reinsurance fund therefor, according to the American experience table of mortality and interest at the rate of four and a half per centum, or according to the actuaries' mortality and four per centum interest, or according to any other recognized standard of valuation as he deems best for the security of the business and the safety of the persons insured. Upon this valuation being made and a certificate thereof furnished by the insurance commissioner, each company shall pay to such officer, to defray the expenses thereof, the sum of one cent for every thousand dollars of the whole amount insured by its policies so valued. The reserve fund hereinbefore provided for shall not be available for or used for any other purpose than the discharge of policy obligations, but is a trust fund to be held and expended only for the benefit of policyholders. In case of the insolvency of the company, the reserve on outstanding policies may, with the consent of the insurance commissioner, be used for the reinsurance of its policies to the extent of their pro rata part thereof. (Rev., s. 4777; 1903, c. 536, s. 4; 1905, c. 410; 1907, c. 1000, s. 7.)

§ 6462. Reinsurance of risks regulated.—No domestic life insurance company may reinsure its risks without the permission of the insurance commissioner, except to the extent of one-half of any individual risk. The receiver of any life insurance company organized under the laws of this state, when the assets of the company are sufficient for that purpose, and the consent of two thirds of its policyholders has been secured in writing, may reinsure all the policy obligations of such company in some other solvent life insurance company, or, when the assets are insufficient to secure the reinsurance of all the policies in full, he may reinsure such a percentage of each and every policy outstanding as the assets will secure; but there must be no preference or discrimination as against any policyholder, and the contract for such reinsurance by the receiver must be approved by the insurance commissioner of this state before it has effect. (Rev., s. 4778; 1899, c. 54, s. 58; 1903, c. 536, s. 9.)

§ 6463. Punishment for violation of law as to reinsurance and medical examination.—If any domestic life insurance company shall reinsure its risks, except by permission of the insurance commissioner, exceeding one-half of any individual risk, or if any life insurance company organized under the laws of, or doing business in, this state shall enter into any contract of insurance upon lives within this state without having previously made or caused to be made a prescribed medical examination of the insured by a registered medical practitioner, such insurance company or any officer, agent or other person soliciting or attempting to effect, a contract of insurance contrary to this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense. (Rev., s. 3497; 1899, c. 54, s. 58.)

§ 6464. Rights of beneficiaries.—When a policy of insurance is affected by any person on his own life, or on another life in favor of some person other than himself having an insurable interest therein, the lawful beneficiary thereof, other than himself or his legal representatives, are entitled to its proceeds against the creditors and representatives of the person affecting the insurance. The person to whom a policy of life insurance is made payable may maintain an action thereon in his own name. Every policy of life insurance made payable to or for the benefit of a married woman, or after its issue assigned, transferred, or in any way made payable to a married woman, or to any person in trust for her or for her benefit, whether procured by herself, her husband, or by any other person, and whether the assignment or transfer is made by her husband or by any other person, inures to her separate use and benefit and to that of her children if she dies in his lifetime. (Rev., ss. 4771, 4772; Const., Art. X, s. 7; 1899, c. 54, s. 59.)

See § 6464(a) and note thereto.

As to insurable interest, see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 791.

See 13 N. C. Law Rev., 95.

Change of Beneficiary by Insolvent Insured. — While formerly an insolvent insured could not change, according to a provision in his policy, the beneficiary of his policy of life insurance from his estate to his wife, without consideration, against the rights of his creditors, this is now changed by this section. Pearsall v. Bloodworth, 194 N. C. 628, 140 S. E. 303; Meadows Fert. Co. v. Godley, 204 N. C. 243, 167 S. E. 816.

A beneficiary in a policy of life insurance has only a contingent interest therein, and where the insured retains the right to change the beneficiary by the terms of the policy, he may do so, and where upon the death of the beneficiary the insured changes the beneficiary, in accordance with the terms of the policy, to a trustee for the use of certain creditors and heirs at law of the insured, the other creditors may not claim that the change in the beneficiary was void as being fraudulent as to them. Teague v. Pilot Life Ins. Co., 200 N. C. 450, 157 S. E. 421.

Rights Vest on Delivery of Policy.—"A policy of insurance is essentially like a gift by will, the only difference being that in the case of a policy of insurance the beneficiary acquires a vested interest when the policy is delivered, which becomes vested in possession or enjoyment at the death of the assured; while in the case of a gift by will the interest does not vest until the death of the testator. In other respects, and for all practical purposes, they are alike. If a bequest is made to A. for life, with remainder to his children, those in esse at the death of the testator take a vested estate, which will open, however, and let in any after-born child during the life of A; and so it is with a policy of insurance payable to children: the interests of the beneficiaries become vested at the time of the delivery of the policy or when it takes effect, as a contract between the company and the assured, as to those then in esse, but will open and let in any after-born children, and, in this case, whether of the first or second marriage. If they come within the general description, they will share under the policy." And in case of death of one of the children his or her share will go to the personal representative of that child. Scull v. Aetna Life Ins. Co., 132 N. C. 30, 31, 43 S. E. 504.

Same—Beneficiary Dead.—When A. insured his life for the benefit of "his wife and children," and at the time the policy was issued he had no wife, but did have two children, one of whom died before A.: Held, that upon A.'s death the money due on the policy should be divided between the surviving child and the administrator of the dead child. The insertion of "his wife" as a beneficiary, when he had no wife living, was a nullity. Hooker v. Sugg, 102 N. C. 115, 8 S. E. 919.

Relation of Beneficiary to Insurer.—The terms of the policy constitute a contract of the company to pay the specified amount to the beneficiary, and create direct legal relations between them. Hooker v. Sugg, 102 N. C. 115, 8 S. E. 919; Simmons v. Biggs, 99 N. C. 236.

Under an ordinary policy the beneficiary has such an interest as entitled her to recover upon the death of the insured if the premiums has been paid and the policy is otherwise in force, unless the insurance company can show it had been lawfully surrendered by her consent, or that the insured had duly and legally exercised the power reserved in the clause quoted, entitled to "Change of Beneficairy." Lanier v. Eastern Life Ins. Co., 142 N. C. 14, 18, 54 S. E. 786.

Applied in Russell v. Owen, 203 N. C. 262, 165 S. E. 687.

§ 6464(a). Creditors deprived of benefits of life insurance policies except in cases of fraud.—If a policy of insurance, whether heretofore or hereafter issued, is effected by any person on his own life or on another life, in favor of a person other than himself, or, except in cases of transfer with intent to defraud creditors, if a policy of life insurance is assigned or in any way made payable to any such person, the lawful beneficiary or assignee thereof, other than the insured or the person so effecting such insurance, or his executors or administrators, shall be entitled to its proceeds and avails against creditors and representatives of the insured and of the person effecting same, whether or not the right to change the beneficiary is reserved or permitted, and whether or not the policy is made payable to the person whose life is insured if the beneficiary or assignee shall predecease such person: Provided, that subject to the statute of limitations, the amount of any premiums for said insurance paid with the intent to defraud creditors, with interest thereon, shall inure to their benefit from the proceeds of the policy; but the company issuing the policy shall be discharged of all liability thereon by payment of its proceeds in accordance with its terms unless, before such payment, the company shall have written notice by or in behalf of the creditor, of a claim to recover for transfer made or premiums paid with intent to defraud creditors, with specifications of the amount claimed. (1931, c. 179, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This section, in form an independent statute, is actually an amendment of § 6464. It makes six changes in the statutory exemption of the beneficiary of a life insurance policy from the claims of creditors of the insured. It leaves out the requirement of § 6464 that the beneficiary to be so protected must have an insurable interest. This is undesirable in the case where the insurance is effected by one on the life of another for a third person. Vance, Insurance, (2d ed.) p. 154, n. 1. It extends the exemption to include beneficiaries made such by a change of beneficiaries (compare Pearsall v. Bloodworth, 194 N. C. 628, 140 S. E. 303, change of beneficiary from estate to wife while insolvent), and to include assignees of the policy. Compare, as to the need for an insurable interest in the assignee, Powell v. Dewey, 123 N. C. 103, 31 S. E. 381 (partnership); Hinton v. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Assn., 135 N. C. 314, 47 S. E. 474 (wife assigned insurance payable to her estate to her husband's creditors); Hardy v. Aetna Life Ins. Co., 152 N. C. 286, 67 S. E. 767; s. c., 154 N. C. 430, 70 S. E. 828 (uncle assigned insurance payable to his estate to nephew); Johnson v. Mutual Benefit & Ins. Co., 157 N. C. 106, 72 S. E. 847 (bona fide sale); McNeal v. Life & Cas. Ins. Co. of Tenn., 192 N. C. 450, 135 S. E. 300. The creditors, where there has been an attempt to defraud them, may recover the premiums with interest, out of the proceeds of the policy. As to the confused state of the decisions, clarified by this clause, see Vance, note 1, at 621. The statute does not of course deal with the case where the premiums have been paid out of stolen funds and the victim of the theft seeks to reach the entire proceeds of the policy. As to that, see Vance, note 1, 618-621. The new statute expressly applies to policies of insurance heretofore or hereafter written. The courts, however, will not permit it to prejudice the rights of existing creditors in previously issued policies. Bank of Minden v. Clement, 256 U. S. 126, 41 Sup. Ct. 408, 65 L. Ed. 857, 9 N. C. Law Rev. 377.

Statute Not Retroactive.—This section cannot affect policies written before the effective date of the statute. Com'r of Banks v. Yelverton, 204 N. C. 441, 168 S. E. 505.

§ 6465. Notice of nonpayment of premium required before forfeiture.—No life insurance corporation doing business in this state shall, within one year after the default in payment of any premium, installment, or interest, declare forfeited or lapsed any policy hereafter issued or renewed and not issued upon the payment of monthly or weekly premiums, or unless the same is a term insurance contract for one year or less, nor shall any such policy be forfeited or lapsed by reason of nonpayment, when due, of any premium, interest, or installment or any portion thereof required by the terms of the policy to be paid, within one year from the failure to pay such premium, interest, or installment, unless a written or printed notice stating the amount of such premium, interest, installment, or portion thereof due on such policy, the place where it shall be paid, and the person to whom the same is payable has been duly addressed and mailed, postage paid, to the person whose life is insured or the assignee of the policy, if notice of the assignment has been given to the corporation, at his other last known postoffice address in this state, by the corporation, or by any officer thereof or person appointed by it to collect such premium, at least fifteen and not more than forty-five days prior to the day when the same is payable, as regards policies which do not contain a provision for grace or are not entitled to grace in the payment of premiums and at least five and not more than forty-five days prior to the day when the same is payable as regards policies which do contain a provision for grace or are entitled to grace in the payment of premiums. The notice shall also state that unless such premium, interest, installment, or portion thereof then due shall be paid to the corporation or to the duly appointed agent or person authorized to collect such premium, by or before the day it falls due, the policy and all payments thereon will become forfeited and void, except as to the right to a surrender value or paid-up policy, as in the contract provided. If the payment demanded by such notice shall be made within its time limit therefor, it shall be taken to be in full compliance with the requirements of the policy in respect to the time of such payment; and no such policy shall in any case be forfeited or declared forfeited or lapsed until the expiration of thirty days after the mailing of such notice. The affidavit of any officer, clerk, or agent of the corporation, or of any one authorized to mail such notice, that the notice required by this section has been duly addressed and mailed by the corporation issuing such policy, shall be presumptive evidence that such notice has been duly given. No action shall be maintained to recover under a forfeited policy unless the same is instituted within three years from the day upon which default was made in paying the premium, installment, interest, or portion thereof for which it is claimed that forfeiture ensued.

No insurance company doing business in this State and issuing health and/or accident insurance policies, other than contracts of group insurance or disability and/or accidental death benefits in connection with policies of life insurance, the premium for which is to be collected in weekly, monthly, or other periodical installments by authority of a payroll deduction order executed by the assured and delivered to such insurance company or the assured's employer authorizing the deduction of such premium installments from the assured's salary or wages, shall, during the period for which such policy is issued, declare forfeited or lapsed any such policy hereafter issued or renewed until and unless a written or printed notice of the failure of the employer to remit said premium or installment thereof stating the amount or portion thereof due on such policy and to whom it must be paid, has been duly addressed and mailed to the person who is insured under such policy at least fifteen days before said policy is cancelled or lapsed. (1909, c. 884; 1929, c. 305, s. 1; 1931, c. 317.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1929 added the last two sentences to the first paragraph of this section. The Act of 1931 added the second paragraph.

Construction of Provision for Forfeiture.—If there is any real ambiguity in the provisions of a policy for forfeiture for nonpayment of premiums, they will be resolved against the insurer; but, if their meaning to the ordinary reader is plain, there is no reason why they should not be enforced. Philadelphia Life Ins. Co. v. Hayworth, 296 Fed. 339.

Forfeiture by Unpaid Check.—"An agreement that a check is received in satisfaction of a note is not implied from the surrender or cancellation of the note. Until the check was paid the note was in force, and unless it was paid at the time to which it was extended, the policy was by its terms forfeited. Forfeitures, it is true, are not favored in the law, but promptness of payment is essential in the business of life insurance." Philadelphia Life Ins. Co. v. Hayworth, 296 Fed. 339, 343.

Notice of Forfeiture.—It is incumbent upon the insurance company to give notice that the premiums are due and the policy is not subject to forfeiture until 30 days after such notice is given. Aiken v. Atlantic Life Ins. Co., 173 N. C. 400, 92 S. E. 184.

Same—Policy Issued before Statute.—Where an old policy issued before this statute was withdrawn and a new policy issued after this statute, notice must be given in accordance with the statute in order to have a legal forfeiture. Garland v. Jefferson Standard Life Ins. Co., 179 N. C. 67, 101 S. E. 616.

Same—After Reinstatement.—Where there has been a default and forfeiture and the insured was furnished a health certificate and secured a reinstatement and an extension of time for payment, it is not necessary to again give the statutory notice of the time when the extension notes will become due. Philadelphia Life Ins. Co. v. Hayworth, 296 Fed. 339.

Waiver of Forfeiture.—Where a policy of life insurance is forfeited for failure to pay at maturity a note given for extension of payment of premium, the mailing of notice of the next regular quarterly premium by the insurer in compliance with this section, which notice does not demand payment of the balance due on the extended premium, is not a waiver by the insurer of forfeiture. Sellers v. Life Ins. Co., 205 N. C. 355, 171 S. E. 328.

Making Sufficient Tender.—After tender and failure of insurer to accept the tender the insured does not have to keep the tender open. An application for reinstatement does not alter the insured's rights, if the policy has not been forfeited. Aken v. Atlantic Life Ins. Co., 173 N. C. 400, 92 S. E. 184.

§ 6466. Distribution of surplus in mutual companies.—Every life insurance company doing business in this state upon the principle of mutual insurance, or the members of which are entitled to share in the surplus funds thereof, may distribute the surplus annually, or once in two, three, four, or five years, as its directors determine. In determining the amount of the surplus to be distributed there shall be reserved an amount not less than the aggregate net value of all the outstanding policies, this value to be computed by the American experience table of mortality with interest not exceeding four and one-half per cent. (Rev., s. 4776; 1903, c. 536, s. 10.)

§ 6466(a). Definition of group life insurance.—Group life insurance is hereby declared to be that form of life insurance covering not less than fifty employees with or without medical examination, written under a policy issued to the employer, the premium on which is to be paid by the employer or by the employer and employees jointly, and insuring only all of his employees, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to the employment, for amounts of insurance based upon some plan which will preclude individual selection, for the benefit of persons other than the employer: Provided, however, that when the premium is to be paid by the employer and employees jointly and the benefits of the policy are offered to all eligible employees, not less than seventy-five per centum of such employees may be so insured. Such group policy may provide that the term 'employees' shall include the officers, managers and employees of subsidiary or affiliated corporations and the individual proprietors, partners and employees of affiliated individuals and firms, when the business of such subsidiary or affiliated corporations, firms or individuals is controlled by the common employer through stock ownership, contract or otherwise. (1925, c. 58, s. 1; 1931, c. 328.)

See 12 N. C. Law Rev., 167, for note "Recent Trends in Group Insurance."

Editor's Note.—Group life insurance is comparatively new, but seems to be increasing in favor. Its attractiveness lies largely in the fact that no medical examination is necessary. This is because the mortality rate in any given homogeneous group is only the average mortality rate as shown by the mortality tables. If the ordinary life insurance were issued without physical examination, the sickly and feeble would apply in great numbers, thus raising the death rate, as based on experience. This would not be so in a selected group and this is what group insurance does. For instance the University of North Carolina might take out a group life insurance policy on all its employees, insuring them against death, total and partial disability and old age. The average in this group would be about the same as the general average and, therefore, no unusual losses would result to the Company, even though they had required no medical examination.

This idea embodied in the New York Law in 1918 and Massachusetts in 1921, now appears in the North Carolina Law.

This section is copied verbatim from the New York Law requiring the group to include not less than fifty employees and that 75 per cent of them shall be insured where they pay the premium jointly with the insurer. See 3 N. C. Law Rev. 145.

The Act of 1931 added the last sentence to this section.

§ 6466(b). Standard provisions for policies of group life insurance.—No policy of group life insurance shall be issued or delivered in this State unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been filed with the Insurance Commissioner and formally approved by him; nor shall such policy be so issued or delivered unless it contains in substance the following provisions:

(a) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after two years from its date of issue, except for nonpayment of premium and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war.

(b) A provision that the policy, the application of the employer and the individual applicants, if any, of the employees insured, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and that all statements made by the employer or by the individual employees shall, in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and that no such statement shall be used in defense to a claim under the policy, unless it is contained in a written application.

(c) A provision for the equitable adjustment of the premiums or the amount of insurance payable in the event of a misstatement in the age of the employee.

(d) A provision that the company will issue to the employer for the delivery to the employee, whose life is insured under such policy, an individual certificate setting forth a statement as to the insurance protection to which he is entitled, to whom payable, together with provision to the effect that in case of the termination of the employment for any reason whatsoever the employee shall be entitled to have issued to him by the company, without evidence of insurability, and upon application made to the company within thirty-one days after such termination, and upon the payment of the premium applicable to the class of risk to which he belongs and to the form and amount of the policy at his then attained age, a policy of life insurance in any one of the forms customarily issued by the company, except term insurance, in an amount equal to the amount of his protection under such group insurance policy at the time of such termination.

(e) A provision that to the group or class thereof originally insured shall be added from time to time all new employees of the employer eligible to insurance in such group or class.

Except as provided in this chapter it shall be unlawful to make a contract of life insurance covering a group in this State. Policies of group life insurance, when issued in this State by any company not organized under the laws of this State, may contain, when issued, any provision required by the law of the state territory, or district of the United States under which the company is organized; and policies issued in other states or countries by companies organized in this State, may contain any provision required by the laws of the State, territory, district or county in which the same are issued, anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding. Any such policy may be issued or delivered in this State which in the opinion of the Insurance Commissioner contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the employer or to the employee than hereinbefore required. (1925, c. 58, s. 2.)

§ 6466(c). Voting power under policies of group life insurance.—In every group policy issued by a domestic life insurance company, the employer shall be deemed to be the policyholder for all purposes within the meaning of this chapter, and, if entitled to vote at meetings of the company, shall be entitled to one vote thereat. (1925, c. 58, s. 3.)

§ 6466(d). Exemption from execution.—No policy of group insurance, nor the proceeds thereof, when paid to any employee or employees thereunder, shall be liable to attachment, garnishment, or other process, or to be seized, taken, appropriated or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law, to pay any debt or liability of such employee, or his beneficiary, or any other who may have a right thereunder, either before or after payment; nor shall the proceeds thereof, when not made payable to a named beneficiary, constitute a part of the estate of the employee for the payment of his debts. (1925, c. 58, s. 4.)

Art. 22. Registered Policies

§ 6467. Deposits to secure registered policies.—Any life insurance company, incorporated under the laws of this state, may deposit with the insurance commissioner securities of the kind described in article six of this chapter, for the investment of the capital of insurance companies, or farm loan bonds issued by the federal land banks, or notes secured by real estate situated in another state approved by the committee hereinafter designated, to any amount not less than ten thousand dollars, which shall be legally transferred by it to him as insurance commissioner and his successors for the common benefit of all the holders of its "registered" policies and annuity bonds issued under the provisions of this article; and these securities shall be held by him and his successors in office in trust for the purposes and objects specified herein.

All securities offered to the insurance commissioner for deposit under its section shall, before acceptance by him, be approved by a committee, composed of the commissioner, the state treasurer, and the attorney-general; and when the securities are of the character prescribed by law and approved by a majority of the committee, the insurance commissioner shall list them in a book of records kept in his department for that purpose. The committee shall endorse on the record, at the end of the list of the securities, its approval of the securities named in the list. The record shall contain a separate list or account of the securities deposited by each insurance company, so kept as to show at all times the total value of all securities on deposit for each company. No security may be withdrawn or substituted except upon the approval of the committee. All the securities, after being approved and listed, shall be deposited with the state treasurer, who shall give his receipt to the insurance commissioner for them. The committee shall, twice a year, in the months of June and December, review and assess the value of all securities on deposit under this section. (Rev., s. 4780; 1905, c. 504, s. 12; 1009, c. 920, ss. 1, 2; 1911, c. 140, s. 1; 1917, c. 191, s. 2.)

§ 6468. Additional deposits may be required.—Each company which has made deposits herein provided for shall make additional deposits from time to time, as the insurance commissioner prescribes, in amounts of not less than five thousand dollars and of such securities as are described in the preceding section, so that the market value of the securities deposited shall always equal the net value of the registered policies and annuity bonds issued by the company, less such liens not exceeding such value as the company has against it. No company organized under this chapter shall be required to make such deposit until the net value of the policies in force, as ascertained by the insurance commissioner, exceeds the amount deposited by said company under the preceding section. As long as any licensed company maintains its deposits as herein prescribed at an amount equal to or in excess of the net value of its registered policies and annuity bonds, as aforesaid, it is the duty of the insurance commissioner to sign and affix his seal to the certificates, as required in this article, on every policy and annuity bond presented to him for that purpose by any company so depositing. (Rev., s. 4781; 1905, c. 504, s. 15; 1909, c. 920, s. 3; 1911, c. 140, s. 2; 1917, c. 191, s. 3.)

§ 6469. Withdrawal of deposits.—Any such company whose deposits exceed the net value of all registered policies and annuity bonds it has in force, less such liens not exceeding such value as the company holds against them, may withdraw such excess or it may withdraw any of such securities at any time by depositing in their place others of equal value and of the character authorized by law; and as long as such company remains solvent and keeps up its deposits, as herein required, it may collect the interest and coupons on the securities deposited as they accrue; and any life insurance company may withdraw such securities by and with the consent of the policyholder only; and in case of such withdrawal, the certificate of registration in each case must be surrendered for cancellation, or a receipt from the policyholder, satisfactory to the insurance commissioner, must be produced before such withdrawal of deposits shall be allowed. (Rev., s. 4782; 1905, c. 504, s. 18.; 1911, c. 134.)

§ 6470. Manner of keeping deposits. — The securities deposited under this article shall be deposited and kept in the manner required by law for the keeping of other deposits of insurance companies, but separate from other deposits of the company. (Rev., s. 4783; 1905, c. 504, s. 19.)

§ 6471. Record of securities kept by commissioner; deficit made good.—The insurance commissioner shall keep a careful record of the securities deposited by each company, and when furnishing the annual certificates of value hereafter required in this article, he may enter thereon the face and market value of the securities deposited by such company. If at any time it appears from such certificate or otherwise that the value of securities held on deposit is less than the net value of the registered policies and annuity bonds issued by such companies, it is not lawful for the insurance commissioner to execute the certificate on any additional policies or annuity bonds of such company until it has made good the deficit. If any company fails or neglects to make such deposits for sixty days it shall be deemed to be insolvent and shall be proceeded against in the manner provided by law in such cases. (Rev., s. 4784; 1905, c. 504, s. 16.)

§ 6472. Registered policies certified. — After making the deposits provided for in this article no company may issue a policy of insurance or endowment or an annuity bond known or designated as "registered" unless it has upon its face a certificate in the following words: "This policy or annuity bond is registered and secured by pledge of bond, stocks, or securities deposited with the department as provided by law," which certificate shall be signed by the insurance commissioner and sealed with the seal of his office. Such policies and bonds shall be known as "registered" policies and annuity bonds, and a sample copy of such kind, class, and issue shall be kept in the office of the insurance commissioner. All policies and bonds of each kind and class issued, and the copies thereof, filed in the office of the insurance commissioner must have imprinted thereon some appropriate designating letter, combination of letters or terms identifying the special forms of contract, together with the year of adoption of tracts, policy, or bond, the designating letters or terms and year of adoption thereon shall be changed accordingly. (Rev., s. 4785; 1905, c. 504, s. 13.)

§ 6473. Deposit for, and registration of, unregistered policies.—Every company which has made the deposit herein provided for may, at any time after the date on which it was made, deposit with the insurance commissioner securities of the kind herein mentioned and in accordance with the provisions hereof, in an amount, inclusive of any amount deposited under the provisions of this law equal to the net value of any nonregistered policies and annuity bonds which it has in force at that time, less such liens not exceeding such actual cash value as the company has against them, and the insurance commissioner shall when requested so to do, furnish such company with a certificate of the description mentioned in the preceding section, to be attached to each of said policies and annuity bonds. The insurance commissioner shall enter upon each of such certificates the number of the policy or annuity bond to which it belongs and make a record of the same in his department. (Rev., s. 4786; 1905, c. 504, s. 17.)

§ 6474. Record to be kept by commissioner; valuation; mutilated policies.—The insurance commissioner shall prepare and keep such registers thereof as will enable him to compute their value at any time. Upon sufficient proof, attested by the president or vice-president and secretary of the company which has issued such policies or annuity bonds, that any of them have been commuted or terminated, the insurance commissioner shall commute or cancel them upon such register. The net present value of every policy or annuity bond according to the standard prescribed in the laws of this state for the valuation of policies of life insurance companies when the first premium shall have been paid thereon, less the amount of such liens, not exceeding such value as the company has against it, shall be entered opposite the record of said policy or annuity bond in the register aforesaid at the time the record is made. On the thirty-first day of December of each year or within sixty days thereafter the insurance commissioner shall cause the registered policies and annuity bonds of each company to be carefully revalued, and the net present value thereof at the time fixed for such valuation, less such liens, not exceeding such value as the company has against it, shall be entered upon the register opposite the record of such policy or bond, and the insurance commissioner shall furnish a certificate of the aggregate of such value to the company. For the purpose of making this valuation the insurance commissioner may employ a competent actuary, who shall be paid by the company for which the services are rendered, but nothing herein shall prevent any company from having made such valuation herein contemplated, which may be received by the insurance commissioner upon such proof as he determines. Upon application of an insurance company, subject to the provisions of this article, it is the duty of the insurance commissioner to receive mutilated policies and annuity bonds issued by said companies and certify in lieu thereof other policies or bonds of like tenor and date. (Rev., s. 4787; 1905, c. 504, s. 14.)

§ 6475. Power of commissioner in case of insolvency.—If at any time the affairs of a life insurance company which has deposited securities under the provisions of this article, in the opinion of the insurance commissioner, appear in such condition as to render the issuing of additional policies and annuity bonds by such company injurious to the public interest, the insurance commissioner may take such proceedings against the company as are authorized by law to be taken against other insolvent companies, and said companies are in all respects subject to the provisions of law affecting other companies. (Rev., s. 4788; 1905, c. 504, s. 20.)

§ 6476. Fees for registering policies.—Every company making deposits under the provisions of this article must pay to the insurance commissioner for each certificate on registered policies or annuity bonds, including seal, a fee of fifty cents for those exceeding ten thousand dollars in amount and twenty-five cents for all under ten thousand dollars in amount, except policies for one hundred dollars and not exceeding five hundred dollars the fee shall be fifteen cents; for policies of one hundred dollars or less the fee shall be ten cents; for each certificate including seal, for nonregistered policies issued in accordance with the provisions of such constitution, laws and/or twenty-five cents. (Rev., s. 4789; 1905, c. 504, s. 21.)

Art. 22A. Non-Profit Life Benefit Association

§ 6476(a). Cooperative non-profit life benefit association defined.—Any corporation or association, domestic or foreign, issuing benefit certificates or policies of life, health or accident insurance upon the lives or health of its members, having a representative form of government without capital stock and conducting its business without profit and for the sole benefit of its members and their beneficiaries and maintaining the reserves as herein provided and all contracts issued by it, which shall make acceptable written application to become such and shall comply with the provisions of this article is defined as a "Cooperative Nonprofit Life Benefit Association." (1927, c. 30, s. 1.)

§ 6476(b). Form of corporate government.—Such association shall have a constitution, laws and/or by-laws providing for a representative form of government for the management of the association; providing for a legislative or governing body composed of its officers and representatives to be elected either by the adult members or by delegates elected directly or indirectly by the adult members and providing for the manner of selecting representatives of the members for membership in its legislative body. The elected members of the governing body shall have not less than two-thirds of the votes of said body, nor less than the votes required to amend its constitution, laws and by-laws, and the governing body shall meet as often as once in four years (or any time during the fourth year after a meeting). Meetings of its governing body may be held in any state, province or country where such association is authorized to do business. The members of the governing body shall not vote by proxy.

Officers to conduct the business of the association shall be elected by such body, but not for a longer period than four years or/and until the subsequent quadrennial meeting of said body. Such officers, by whatever name known, shall constitute the Board of Directors. (1927, c. 30, s. 2.)

§ 6476(c). Basis upon which insurance contracts may be issued.—Any such association maintaining reserves based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with an interest assumption of not more than 4% or some higher standard, or upon any minimum standard hereafter allowed by law in this State for legal reserve life insurance companies, may issue contracts of insurance, life, health, accident, annuities and endowments or all of them combined or separately, upon the health and lives of children and adults.

Any association licensed to do business under the provisions of this act, which has theretofore enacted a provision in its constitution, laws and /or by-laws in relation to the rates to be paid by its members, or lien and interest charges in lieu of such rates, or any part thereof, shall maintain the provisions of this article, the fee shall be by-laws in full force and effect or the equivalent thereof in all particulars as to such members.

Any such association desiring to do business in this State under the provisions of this article, which has all or any portion of its membership upon a rate or premium basis not producing the reserves herein required under the American Experience Table of Mortality with an interest assumption of not more than 4% and which also possesses the power to increase the rates or call extra assessments upon said membership, may be permitted to do business in this State as such association defined in this article if it shall, as to all business hereafter acquired by it, maintain reserves on such business based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with an interest assumption of not more than four per cent, or upon any minimum standard allowed by law for legal reserve life insurance companies in this State or the state of its domicile; and the contracts of members theretofore admitted to membership shall be forever subject to increased rates or extra assessments and the association shall maintain the reserves on all of its prior business on a basis not less than the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality with an interest assumption of not more than four (4) per cent, or upon a table of mortality not less than that derived from its own experience covering a period of not less than twenty years and involving not less than one hundred thousand lives, with an interest assumption of not more than four per cent.; and the officers of such association shall provide for such increased rates or extra assessments as shall be necessary to maintain such reserves. (1927, c. 30, s. 3; 1927, c. 252.)

Editor's Note.—The 1927 amendment ch. 252, substituted four percent for three and one-half percent.

§ 6476(d). Contracts in writing; policy fee forbidden.—All contracts for insurance or benefits shall be in writing. It shall be unlawful for any such association or any officer or any agent to include in the sum charged a member, any fee, compensation, charge or perquisite whatsoever; not specified in the policy or certificate except that a local medical examiner's fee may be charged. (1927, c. 30, s. 4.)

§ 6476(e). All policies mutual and participating.—All beneficiary certificates or policies issued by such association on said American Experience Table of Mortality with said interest assumption or any higher standard, shall be mutual and participating, and the association may provide for automatic paid up or extended insurance for an amount not to exceed the amount the reserve to the credit of such member will purchase in the event of suspension after said certificate shall have been in force for not less than two full years or more from date of issue, and shall carry such liability on its books. (1927, c. 30, s. 5.)

§ 6476(f). Benefit not subject to seizure under process.—No money or other benefit, charity or relief or aid to be paid, provided or rendered by any such association, shall be liable to attachment, garnishment or other process, or be seized, taken, appropriated or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of a member, or his beneficiary, or any other person who may have a right thereunder, either before or after payment. (1927, c. 30, s. 6.)

§ 6476(g). Officers and members not personally liable.—Officers and members of the supreme, grand or any subordinate body of such association, by whatever name known, shall not be individually liable for the payment of any disability or death or other benefits provided for in the laws and contracts of such association, but such benefits shall be payable out of the funds of such association and in the manner provided by its laws. (1927, c. 30, s. 7.)

§ 6476(h). Authority to make laws.—Every such association shall have the power to make a constitution, laws and / or by-laws for the government of the association, the admission of its members, the management of its affairs and the fixing and readjustment of the rates of contribution of its members from time to time, and it shall have the power to change, add to or amend such constitution, laws or by-laws and shall have such other powers as are necessary to carry into effect the objects and purposes of the association; it may make refunds to its members equitably of any surplus funds of the association. (1927, c. 30, s. 8.)

§ 6476(i). Constitution, laws and by-laws must be filed.—Every such association transacting business under this act shall file with the Insurance Commissioner of this State, a duly certified copy of its constitution, laws or by-laws and all amendments or additions thereto. Copies of the same, certified to by the secretary or corresponding officer of the association, shall be prima facie evidence of the legal adoption and filing thereof. (1927, c. 30, s. 9.)

§ 6476(j). Benefits, loan values and dividends.—Such association may provide for stipulated premiums and death, annuity, endowment and disability benefits, and for cash surrender and loan values to an amount not exceeding the reserve or the equivalent thereof, in paid up or extended term insurance, based upon the mortality standards set forth in this article. (1927, c. 30, s. 10.)

§ 6476(k). May maintain hospitals and homes.—Such association may maintain homes for aged members, or children's homes, hospitals or recreational centers, or any or all of said features, or any other charitable institution, and may provide for the erection of monuments or memorials to deceased members: Provided, any such expenses may not be paid from the mortuary fund or reserves herein required. (1927, c. 30. s. 11.)

§ 6476(l). Organization of coöperative non-profit life benefit association.—When ten or more citizens of the United States, a majority of whom are citizens of this State, desire to form an association under the provisions of this article, they shall adopt articles of incorporation and a constitution, laws or by-laws and file the same with the Insurance Commissioner of this State who shall grant them temporary permission to solicit members and collect premiums therefrom, but without the right to issue contracts until licensed to do business; and when such incorporators have presented to the Insurance Commissioner proof that they have five hundred members or more, and have collected from them assessments or premiums sufficient to pay the maximum amount of any proposed policy to be issued, and upon depositing with the Insurance Commissioner ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in securities to be approved by him, then said Insurance Commissioner may grant to said association a certificate of authority and permission to do business under this article. (1927, c. 30. s. 12.)

§ 6476(m). Corporation now doing business in this State may qualify under this article.—Any association, domestic or foreign, now engaged in transacting business in this State, which can qualify under the provisions of this article as a "Coöperative Non-profit Life Benefit Association," may, upon making application therefor, be granted a license by the Insurance Commissioner to do business as such under this article, provided, it has accumulated reserves on its policies in force in a sum of not less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), properly invested. (1927, c. 30, s. 13.)

§ 6476(n). License granted.—Any domestic or foreign association wishing to do business under the provisions of this article under whatever name it may conduct its business, upon making a written application and submitting proof satisfactory to the Insurance Commissioner of this State that its business, as conducted, and its reserves on hand comply with the provisions of this article upon paying to the Insurance Commissioner the sum of two hundred dollars ($200) as license fee and all other fees assessed against such company shall be licensed to do business in this State as such association until the first day of the following April. Any such association, admitted to do business under this article in this State, which shall fail to comply with the provisions of this article, may have its license revoked, and upon failing to maintain its reserves as herein required, may be liquidated by the courts or by the Insurance Commissioner as may be provided by law for the liquidation of legal reserve life insurance companies. (1927, c. 30, s. 14.)

§ 6476(o). Annual statement and license.—Every such association doing business in this State shall annually file with the Insurance Commissioner on or before the first day of March in each year a full and complete sworn statement of its financial condition on the thirty-first day of December next preceding. Such statement shall plainly exhibit all real and contingent assets and liabilities and a complete account of its income and disbursements during the year. The Insurance Commissioner is hereby empowered to require such further information as may be reasonably necessary to satisfy him that the statements contained in the sworn statement are true, and he may thereupon grant a renewal of such license to such association to do business in this State which shall continue in full force and effect until a new license be issued or specificially refused unless revoked for good cause. For each such license, or annual renewal thereof, the association shall pay the Insurance Commissioner two hundred ($200). Such license or a duplicate thereof shall be prima facie evidence that such association is a Coöperative Non-Profit Life Benefit Association within the meaning of this act. When the Insurance Commissioner refuses to license any such association or revokes its authority to do business in this State, he shall reduce his ruling, order or decision to writing and file the same in his office and furnish a copy thereof, together with a statement of his reasons for his ruling to the officers of the association upon request, and the action of the Insurance Commissioner shall be reviewable by proper proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction within the State. Except as herein provided, such association shall be governed by the laws of this State relative to or affecting life insurance companies. (1927, c. 30, s. 15.)

§ 6476(p). Examination of association.—The Insurance Commissioner or any person he may appoint shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any such association. He may employ assistants for such purpose and they shall have free access to all the books, papers and documents that relate to the business of the association, and may summon and qualify as witnesses under oath and examine its officers, agents and employees or other persons in relation to the condition of its business. The expenses of such examination shall be paid by the association examined upon a statement furnished by the Insurance Commissioner. As to all such foreign associations doing business in this State, the Insurance Commissioner, in his discretion, may accept in lieu of such examination the report of the examination of the Insurance Commissioner of the State, territory, district, province or country where such association is organized or a report of an examination made of such association by the Insurance Commissioner of any State. (1927, c. 30, s. 16.)

§ 6476(q). Investment. — The funds of such association shall be invested in the same securities as provided by law for other domestic companies, and if a foreign association, in such securities as may be provided by the laws of its domicile. (1927, c. 30, s. 17.)

§ 6476(r). Premium tax.—The officers of such association shall file the reports required by section six thousand three hundred and twenty-two of chapter one hundred and six, Consolidated Statutes, and shall pay the same premium tax as is now or shall hereafter be provided for other life insurance companies. (1927, c. 30, s. 18.)

§ 6476(s). Foreign association may incorporate under this article.—Any foreign association, now or hereafter doing business in this State or conducting a business enabling it to qualify to do business under this act in this State, may become incorporated in such state as such association under whatever name it shall select: Provided, it does not conflict with the name of some other organization doing business therein so as to cause confusion, upon filing with the Insurance Commissioner a resolution of its Board of Directors or of a similar body by whatever name known, or of its legislative body, requesting to be incorporated as such association of this State, and submitting proof of its financial qualifications under this article; and its officers shall thereupon retain their respective offices for the terms for which they were elected. Such association so reincorporated in this State shall maintain a general office within the State. (1927, c. 30, s. 19.)

§ 6476(t). To become a legal reserve life company.—Any such association filing with the Insurance Commissioner a resolution of its board of directors or similar body, by whatever name known, or of its legislative body, making a request to become a legal reserve life insurance company, upon submitting proof satisfactory to the Insurance Commissioner that the condition of its business qualifies it under the laws of this State, to be classed as a legal reserve life insurance company, shall thereupon become a legal reserve life insurance company under such name and such plan as may be approved by the Insurance Commissioner. (1927, c. 30, s. 20.)

§ 6476(u). Election of corporation to accept article.—This article shall not apply to any corporation, domestic or foreign, now or hereafter doing business in this State, unless said corporation, by action of its board of directors or other properly constituted body, elects to have said corporation come under the provisions hereof. (1927, c. 30, s. 21.)

§ 6476(v). Suit against association; where instituted.—Suit may be instituted against said association in any county in this State in any court having jurisdiction. (1927, c. 30, s. 22.)

§ 6476(w). Service of process on Insurance Commissioner.—Every coöperative non-profit life benefit association, whether domestic or foreign, before it shall be permitted to transact business in this State, shall appoint in writing the Insurance Commissioner and his successor in office to be its true and lawful attorney on whom all legal process and legal notices in any action or proceeding against it in this State shall be served, and in such writing shall agree that any lawful process against it which is served upon such attorney shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served upon said association, and that the authority of such Insurance Commissioner shall continue in force so long as any liability remains outstanding in this State. (1927, c. 30, s. 23.)

§ 6476(x). Mode of service; time to file answer.—Copies of such appointment, certified by said Insurance Commissioner, shall be deemed sufficient evidence thereof and shall be admitted in evidence with the same force and effect as the original. Service of process in all suits and proceedings against such association shall be made only upon such attorney and must be made in duplicate upon him, or in his absence upon the person in charge of his office, and shall be deemed sufficient service upon such association: Provided, however, that no such service shall be deemed valid or binding against such association when it is required thereunder to file its answer, pleading or defense in less than thirty days from the date of service upon such attorney. When legal process against such association is served upon said Insurance Commissioner, he shall forthwith forward by mail one of the duplicate copies, directed to its secretary or corresponding officer at the home office of the association. Legal process shall not be served upon any such association except in the manner herein provided. (1927, c. 30, s. 24.)

§ 6476(y). Insurance Commission defined.—The term "Insurance Commissioner," as used in this article, shall include the person, board or department of this State, under whatever name known, supervising the granting of licenses to insurance organizations to do business in this State. (1927, c. 30, s. 25.)

Art. 22B. Mutual Burial or Assessment Insurance Associations

§ 6476(z). Must pay death benefits in coin instead of services.—No corporation, society, or organization now doing business in this state or that may hereafter be authorized to do business in this state upon a mutual or assessment insurance plan and issuing contracts to its members providing benefits in excess of one hundred ($100) dollars in the event of death of its members or policy holders shall issue any contract to such members providing for the payment of benefits in merchandise or service to be rendered to such member or his beneficiary; but all contracts hereafter issued by any such corporation, society, or organization, shall provide by the terms of its contract for the payment of such benefits only in lawful currency or coin.

All funeral or burial associations, heretofore or hereafter organized, operating under what is known as the assessment plan, shall in their contracts, by-laws or other provisions provide:

(a) That in the event a member of such funeral or burial association, in good standing, shall die at a place so far removed from the home of such funeral or burial association that it is not deemed practicable by said association or its officers to provide a burial or funeral in services and merchandise, the said association shall cause to be paid in cash for the burial of such member the amount contracted for and stipulated in the rules, contracts or by-laws of such association not exceeding one hundred ($100.00) dollars, as provided for in said chapter, or cause such member to receive a funeral or burial equal to that agreed in such contracts, rules or by-laws of said association.

(b) If the membership of any association providing benefits of one hundred ($100.00) dollars or less, in funerals or burials, as permitted by chapter seventy-one of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, shall not prove sufficient at any time to yield the benefit contracted for, then such benefits as the amount of the assessment, according to such rules and by-laws made or levied on the total assessable membership, shall be paid or provided.

(c) That each contract shall contain a schedule of the merchandise and services to be supplied under the said contract.

(d) That such mutual burial association shall file semiannually on the first days of July and January of each year, beginning July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, with the insurance commissioner, a sworn statement of the number of its membership, and no funeral or burial association shall be permitted or allowed to continue in operation if its membership shall continue for three months to be below the number of eight hundred. (This shall not apply to burial associations operated for people of the colored race, but such association shall file with the commissioner of insurance a statement of its membership and assessments, and if in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance such association becomes at any time in such condition as to render it probably unable to carry out its provisions the commissioner of insurance is authorized to discontinue the operation of such association.)

(e) That in the report to be filed semi-annually with the insurance commissioner each mutual burial association providing benefits to its members of one hundred ($100.00) dollars or less shall embrace in its report the amount of assessments levied per member and a statement of each person buried last prior to such report wherever funeral or burial benefits were rendered by such association.

(f) If the insurance commissioner shall find at any time that any statements made by an association are untrue and falsely made or in case the association shall fail or refuse to obey the provisions of this said chapter, or if upon examination the insurance commissioner finds that such association is insolvent, that it has failed to or become unable to carry out its contract with its members, or has exceeded its powers, or has failed to comply with any provisions of law, or its mode of business is not feasible for the purposes of carrying out successfully its plans, or that its condition is such as to render its further proceedings hazardous to the members, he shall thereupon have power to revoke and cancel such license. The said association shall have the right to appeal from such revocation or cancellation by the insurance commissioner to the superior court of the county in which such association has its principal office. (1931, c. 71; 1933, c. 222, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 222, added the last paragraphs, numbered (a) to (f) to this section.

It is noteworthy that the commissioner may cancel the license of the organization if "its mode of business is not feasible for the purpose of carrying out successfully its plans, or its condition is such as to render its further proceedings hazardous to the members." Such broad provisions give the commissioner wide authority. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 234.

SUBCHAPTER V. ACCIDENT AND HEALTH INSURANCE

Art. 23. Nature of Policies

§ 6477. Form, classification, and rates to be approved by insurance commissioner.—No policy of insurance against loss or damage from the sickness or the bodily injury or death of the insured by accident shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state until a copy of the form thereof and of the classification of risks and the premium rates pertaining thereto have been filed with the commissioner of insurance; nor shall it be so issued or delivered until the expiration of thirty days after it has been so filed unless the commissioner shall sooner give his written approval thereto. If the commissioner shall notify, in writing, the company, society, or other insurer which has filed such form that it does not comply with the requirements of law, specifying the reasons for his opinion, it shall be unlawful thereafter for any such insurer to issue any policy in such form. The action of the commissioner in this regard shall be subject to review by any court of competent jurisdiction; but nothing in this article shall be construed to give jurisdiction to any court not already having jurisdiction. (1911, c. 209, s. 1; 1913, c. 91, s. 1.)

§ 6478. Specifications as to form of policy.—No such policy shall be so issued or delivered (1) unless the entire money and other considerations therefor are expressed in the policy; nor (2) unless the time at which the insurance thereunder takes effect and terminates is stated in a portion of the policy preceding its execution by the insurer; nor (3) if the policy purports to insure more than one person; nor (4) unless every printed portion thereof and of any endorsements or attached papers shall be plainly printed in type of which the face shall be not smaller than ten point; nor (5) unless a brief description thereof be printed on its first page, and on its filing back in type of which the face shall not be smaller than fourteen point; nor (6) unless the exceptions of the policy be printed with the same prominence as the benefits to which they apply: Provided, however, that any portion of such policy which purports, by reason of the circumstances under which a loss is incurred, to reduce any indemnity promised therein to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances under which loss is incurred, to reduce any indemnity promised therein to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances, shall be printed in bold-face type and with greater prominence than any other portion of the text of the policy. (1913, c. 91, s. 2.)

For treatment of subject see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 853.

§ 6479. Standard provisions in policy.—Every such policy so issued shall contain certain standard provisions, which shall be in the words and in the order hereinafter set forth and be preceded in every policy by the caption "Standard Provisions." In each standard provision, wherever the the word "insurer" is used, there shall be substituted therefor "company" or "corporation" or "association" or "society" or such other word as will properly designate the insurer.

1. Provisions Relative to Contract.—A standard provision relative to the contract may be in either of the following two forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide for reduction of indemnity on account of change of occupation, and Form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide. If Form (B) is used and the policy provides indemnity against loss from sickness, the words "or contracts sickness" may be inserted therein immediately after the words "in the event that the insured is injured."

(A) This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance. No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation.

(B) This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance except as it may be modified by the insurer's classification of risks and premium rates in the event that the insured is injured after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in the policy, or while he is doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified, except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation, in which event the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits so fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation.

If the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued requires that prior to its issue a statement of the premium rates and classification of risks pertaining to it shall be filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in such state, then the premium rates and classification of risks mentioned in this policy shall mean only such as have been last filed by the insurer in accordance with such law; but if such filing is not required by such law then they shall mean the insurer's premium rates and classification of risks last made effective by it in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable.

2. Changes in the Contract.—A standard provision relative to changes in the contract shall be in the following form: No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the insurer and such approval be endorsed hereon.

3. Reinstatement of Policy.—A standard provision relative to reinstatement of policy after lapse may be in either of the three following forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; Form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness; and Form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness.

(A) If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover loss resulting from accidental injury thereafter sustained.

(B) If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(C) If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover accidental injury thereafter sustained and such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

4. Time of Notice of Claim.—A standard provision relative to time of notice of claim may be in either of the three following forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident, Form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness, and Form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness. If Form (A) or Form (C) is used the insurer may at its option add thereto the following sentence: "In event of accidental death immediate notice thereof must be given to the insurer."

(A) Written notice of injury on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury.

(B) Written notice of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within ten days after the commencement of the disability from such sickness.

(C) Written notice of injury or of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury or within ten days after the commencement of disability from such sickness.

5. Sufficient Notice of Claim.—A standard provision relative to sufficiency of notice of claim shall be in the following form, and the insurer shall insert in the blank space such office and its location as it may desire to designate for the purpose of notice:

Such notice given by or in behalf of the insured or beneficiary, as the case may be, to the insurer at ..... or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with particulars sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed notice to the insurer. Failure to give notice within the time provided in this policy shall not invalidate any claim, if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

6. Furnishing Forms for Proof of Loss.—A standard provision relative to furnishing forms for the convenience of the insured in submitting proof of loss shall be as follows:

The insurer, upon receipt of such notice, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not so furnished within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character, and extent of the loss for which claim is made.

7. Filing Proof of Loss.—A standard provision relative to filing proof of loss which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided:

(A) Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the date of the loss for which claim is made.

(B) Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the termination of the period of disability for which the company is liable.

(C) Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss of time from disability within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable, and in case of claim for any other loss within ninety days after the date of such loss.

8. Examination of Person and Autopsy. — A standard provision relative to examination of the person of the insured and relative to autopsy shall be in the following form: The insurer shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and so often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of claim hereunder, and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

9. Time of Payments.—A standard provision relative to the time within which payments other than those for loss of time on account of disability shall be made may be in either of the following two forms, and which may be omitted from any policy providing only indemnity for loss of time on account of disability. The insurer shall insert in the blank space either word "immediately" or appropriate language to designate such period of time, not more than sixty days, as it may desire: Form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide indemnity for loss of time on account of disability, and Form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide.

(A) All indemnities provided in this policy will be paid ..... after receipt of due proof.

(B) All indemnities provided in this policy for loss other than that of time on account of disability will be paid ..... after receipt of due proof.

10. Periodical Payments.—A standard provision relative to periodical payments of indemnity for loss of time on account of disability shall be in the following form, and may be omitted from any policy not providing for such indemnity. The insurer shall insert in the first blank space of the form appropriate language to designate the proportion of accrued indemnity it may desire to pay, which proportion may be all or any part not less than one-half, and in the second blank space shall insert any period of time not exceeding sixty days:

Upon request of the insured and subject to due proof of loss ..... accrued indemnity for loss of time on account of disability will be paid at the expiration of each ..... during the continuance of the period for which the insurer is liable, and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof.

11. Indemnity Payments.—A standard provision relative to indemnity payments may be in either of the two following forms: Form (A) to be used in policies which designate a beneficiary, and Form (B) to be used in policies which do not designate any beneficiary other than the insured:

(A) Indemnity for loss of life of the insured is payable to the beneficiary, if surviving the insured, and otherwise to the estate of the insured. All other indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(B) All the indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

12. Cancellation of Policy by Insured.—A standard provision providing for cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insured shall be in the following form: If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in the policy, the insurer, upon written request of the insured, and surrender of the policy, will cancel the same and return to the insured the unearned premium.

13. Rights of Beneficiary.—A standard provision relative to the rights of the beneficiary under the policy shall be in the following form and may be omitted from any policy not designating a beneficiary: Consent of the beneficiary shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy, or to change of beneficiary, or to any other changes in the policy.

14. Limiting Time of Action.—A standard provision limiting the time within which suit may be brought upon the policy shall be as follows: No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy, nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy.

15. Time Limitations.—A standard provision relative to time limitations of the policy shall be as follows: If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permitted by the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law. (1911, c. 209, s. 1; 1913, c. 91, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Section 11 (A) provides that if beneficiary is dead the indemnity is to be paid to the estate of the insured. This provision is different from provisions in regard to beneficiaries in straight life policies, for in the latter case the rights of the beneficiary go to his or her heirs. See note to sec. 6464.

Action on Policy Not Delivered.—Where a policy of accident insurance has been issued before the accident in suit, and its delivery by error or oversight of the insurer has been delayed beyond that time, and the premiums have been paid, the action thereon may be maintained. Clark v. Federal Life Ins. Co., 193 N. C. 166, 136 S. E. 291.

Amputation—Time Limit.—Where among other things in a policy of accident insurance, that to recover for the loss of a foot, it is provided that the foot must have been amputated within thirty days from the date of the accident: Held, the stipulation is a valid and enforceable one, whatever the insured's reason for a delay in amputating the foot may have been, when not consented to by the insurer. Cark v. Federal Life Ins. Co., 193 N. C. 166, 136 S. E. 291.

Same—Loss of Time.—Where an accident insurance policy creates a liability for loss of time and a foot, but restricts the right of the insured to recover loss on only one of them: Held, the provision is valid, and he may not recover for both in his action. Clark v. Federal Life Ins. Co., 193 N. C. 166, 136 S. E. 291.

Waiver of Strict Performance.—If the insured is not required to pay his premiums promptly, and is injured when the premiums are not paid he can recover for injuries received for the act of the insurer in allowing the payments to get behind amount to a waiver. Moore v. General Accident, etc., Corp., 173 N. C. 532, 92 S. E. 362.

Waiver of Proof of Loss.—Where an insurer denies all liability under its policy of accident insurance, covering the death of the insured, and refuses to proceed with the investigation respecting it, its action is a waiver of its requirements as to the proof of death and the clause in the policy forbidding the bringing of any suit upon it until after the three months from the filing of the proofs. Moore v. General Accident, etc., Corp., 173 N. C. 432, 92 S. E. 362.

Subsection 5.—In Nelson v. Jefferson Standard Life Ins. Co., 199 N. C. 443, 154 S. E. 752, it was said that the General Assembly realizing that a hard and fast rule should not always be applied, put in the provision in this section, subsec. 5, relative to reasonable notice, to meet varying contingencies that might arise. Rand v. Home Ins. Co., 206 N. C. 760, 767, 174 S. E. 749.

Notice to Be Given by Beneficiary.—Where under the provisions of a policy of accident insurance certain benefits are to be paid to the insured, with distinct provision that in case of accident resulting in death a certain sum is to be paid a beneficiary, the latter, during the lifetime of the insured, is not required to give the ten days notice of the injury which resulted in his death, but only the notice provided for from the time of the latter event; the interpretation of the policy being that the assured and the beneficiary shall each be given notice of the event upon which his claim depends. Moore v. General Accident, etc., Corp., 173 N. C. 532, 92 S. E. 362.

Double Indemnity—Fault of Insured.—Where a policy of life insurance gives double indemnity if the death of the insured has been caused by "external, violent, and accidental means," no recovery can be had of the extra indemnity when such death is caused by the killing of the insured by a third person, and the insured was in the wrong in commencing the fight, and the aggressor, under such circumstances as would render a homicide likely as a result of his own misconduct. Clay v. State Ins. Co., 174 N. C. 642, 94 S. E. 289.

What Amounts to Total Disability.—A provision in an insurance policy that the insurer will pay a certain sum when the insured has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries and permanently, continuously, and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, will be construed as expressed, and the liability of the insurer thereunder will not be extended so as to include a total disability of the insured to perform his trade or vocation when other gainful occupations are still open to him. Buckner v. Jefferson Standard Life Ins. Co., 172 N. C. 762, 90 S. E. 897.

Cited in Nelson v. Jefferson Standard Life Ins. Co., 199 N. C. 443, 447, 154 S. E. 752.

§ 6480. Certain provisions forbidden in policy.—No such policy shall be issued or delivered which contains any provision (1) relative to cancellation at the instance of the insurer; or (2) limiting the amount of indemnity to a sum less than the amount stated in the policy and for which the premium has been paid; or, (3) providing for the deduction of any premium from the amount paid in settlement of claim; or, (4) relative to other insurance by the same insurer; or, (5) relative to the age limits of the policy; unless such provisions, which are hereby designated as optional standard provisions, shall be in the words and in the order in which they are set forth in the next section, but the insurer may at its option omit from the policy any such optional standard provisions. Such optional standard provisions if inserted in the policy shall immediately succeed the standard provisions named in this article. (1911, c. 209, s. 2; 1913, c. 91, s. 4.)

§ 6481. Optional standard provisions.—The optional standard provisions which may be used in the policy are as follows:

1. Cancellation of Policy by Insurer.—The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer, together with cash or the insurer's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured, and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto.

2. Reduction of Indemnity.—If the insured shall carry with another company, corporation, association, or society other insurance covering the same loss without giving written notice to the insurer, then in that case the insurer shall be liable only for such portion of the indemnity promised as the said indemnity bears to the total amount of like indemnity in all policies covering such loss, and for the return of such part of the premiums paid as shall exceed the pro rata for the indemnity thus determined.

3. Deduction of Premium.—Upon the payment of claim hereunder any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

4. Other Insurance.—An optional standard provision relative to other insurance by the same insurer which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided, and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such upward limits of indemnity as are specified by the insurer's classification of risks, filed as required by this article:

(A) If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity in excess of $--------, the excess insurance shall be void, and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(B) If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured, be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $-------- weekly, the excess insurance shall be void, and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(C) If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured, be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss other than that of time on account of disability in excess of $--------, or the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $-------- weekly, the excess insurance of either kind shall be void, and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

5. Age Limits.—An optional standard provision relative to the age limits of the policy, which shall be in the following form and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such number of years as it may elect: The insurance under this policy shall not cover any person under the age of .....years nor over the age of..... years. Any premium paid to the insurer for any period not covered by this policy will be returned upon request. (1911, c. 209, s. 2; 1913, c. 91, s. 4.)

§ 6482. Conflicting provisions forbidden; terms in policy.—No such policy shall be issued or delivered if it contains any provision contradictory, in whole or part, of any provisions hereinbefore in this article designated as "Standard Provisions" or as "Optional Standard Provisions"; nor shall any endorsements or attached papers vary, alter, extend, be used as a substitute for, or in any way conflict with any of the "Standard Provisions" or the "Optional Standard Provisions"; nor shall such policy be issued or delivered if it contains any provision purporting to make any portion of the charter, constitution, or by-laws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion of the charter, constitution, or by-laws shall be set forth in full in the policy, but this prohibition shall not be deemed to apply to any statement of rates or classification of risks filed with the commissioner of insurance in accordance with the provisions of this article. (1911, c. 209, s. 3; 1913, c. 91, s. 5.)

Art. 24. General Regulations

§ 6483. False statement in application.—The falsity of any statement in the application for any policy covered by this subchapter shall not bar the right to recovery thereunder unless such false statement was made with actual intent to deceive or unless it materially affected either the acceptance of the risk or the hazard assumed by the insurer. (1913, c. 91, s. 6.)

§ 6484. Waiver by insurer.—The acknowledgment by any insurer of the receipt of notice given under any policy covered by this subchapter, or the furnishing of forms for filing proofs of loss, or the acceptance of such proofs, or the investigation of any claim thereunder, shall not operate as a waiver of any of the rights of the insurer in defense of any claim arising under such policy. (1913, c. 91, s. 7.)

§ 6485. Alteration of application.—No alteration of any written application for insurance by erasure, insertion, or otherwise, shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, and the making of any such alteration without the consent of the applicant shall be a misdemeanor. If such alteration shall be made by any officer of the insurer, or by any employee of the insurer, with the insurer's knowledge or consent, then such act shall be deemed to have been performed by the insurer thereafter issuing the policy upon such altered application. (1913, c. 91, s. 8.)

§ 6486. Construction of policy.—A policy issued in violation of this subchapter shall be held valid, but shall be construed as provided in this subchapter, and when any provision in such a policy is in conflict with any provision of this subchapter, the rights, duties, and obligations of the insurer, the policyholder, and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this subchapter. (1913, c. 91, s. 9.)

§ 6487. Provisions of laws of other states.—The policies of insurance against accidental bodily injury or sickness issued by an insurer not organized under the laws of this state may contain, when issued in this state, any provision which the law of state, territory, or district of the United States under which the insurer is organized, prescribed for insertion in such policies; and the policies of insurance against accidental bodily injury or sickness issued by an insurer organized under the laws of the state may contain, when issued or delivered in any other state, territory, district, or country, any provisions required by the laws of the state, territory, district, or country in which the same are issued, anything in this subchapter to the contrary notwithstanding. (1911, c. 209, s. 4; 1913, c. 91, s. 10.)

§ 6488. Discrimination forbidden.—Discrimination between individuals of the same class in the amount of premiums or rates charged for any policy of insurance covered by this subchapter, or in the benefits payable thereon, or in any of the terms or conditions of such policy, or any other manner whatsoever, is prohibited. (1913, c. 91, s. 11.)

§ 6489. Certain policies of insurance not affected.—1. Nothing in this subchapter shall apply to or affect any policy of liability or workmen's compensation insurance or any general or blanket policy of insurance issued to any municipal corporation or department thereof, or to any corporation, copartnership, association, or individual employer, police or fire department, underwriters' corps, salvage bureau, or like associations or organizations, where the officers, members, or employees or classes or departments thereof are insured for their individual benefit against specified accidental bodily injuries or sickness while exposed to the hazards of the occupation or otherwise, in consideration of a premium intended to cover the risks of all the persons insured under such policy.

2. Nothing in this subchapter shall apply to or in any way affect contracts supplemental to contracts of life or endowment insurance where such supplemental contracts contain no provisions except such as to operate to safeguard such insurance against lapse or to provide a special surrender value therefor in the event that the insured shall be totally and permanently disabled by reason of accidental bodily injury or by sickness, nor to contracts issued as supplements to life insurance contracts or contracts of endowment insurance, and intended to increase the amount insured by such life or endowment contracts in the event that the death of the insured shall result from accidental bodily injuries: Provided, that no such supplemental contracts shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been submitted to and approved by the insurance commissioner under such reasonable rules and regulations as he shall make concerning the provisions in such contracts, and their submission to an approval by him.

3. Nothing in this subchapter shall apply to or in any way affect fraternal benefit societies.

4. The provisions of this subchapter contained in clause (5) of section 6478, and clauses two, three, eight, and twelve of section 6479, may be omitted from railroad ticket policies sold only at railroad stations or at railroad ticket offices by railroad employees. (1911, c. 209, s. 5; 1913, c. 91, s. 12; 1921, c. 136, s. 5.)

§ 6490. Punishment for violation.—Any company, association, society, or other insurer or any officer or agent thereof, which or who issues or delivers to any person in this state any policy in wilful violation of the provisions of this subchapter shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars for each offense, and the commissioner of insurance may revoke the license of any company, corporation, association, society, or other insurer of another state or country, or of the agent thereof, which or who wilfully violates any provision of this subchapter. (1911, c. 209, s. 6; 1913, c. 91, s. 13.)

SUBCHAPTER VI. FRATERNAL ORDERS AND SOCIETIES

Art. 25. Fraternal Orders

§ 6491. General insurance law not applicable.—Nothing in the general insurance laws, except such as apply to fraternal orders or fraternal societies, shall be construed to extend to benevolent associations, incorporated under the laws of this state that only levy an assessment on the members to create a fund to pay the family of a deceased member and make no profit therefrom, and do not solicit business through agents. Such benevolent associations providing death benefits in excess of three hundred dollars to any one person, or disability benefits not exceeding three hundred dollars in any one year to any one person, or both, shall be known as "fraternal benefit societies"; and those providing benefits of three hundred dollars or less shall be known as "fraternal orders." (Rev., s. 4794; 1899, c. 54, s. 87; 1901, c. 706, s. 2; 1913, c. 46.)

See 12 N. C. Law Rev., 374.

Laws Governing.—Williams v. Supreme Conclave, 172 N. C. 787, 90 S. E. 888, and Wilson v. Supreme Conclave, 174 N. C. 628, 94 S. E. 443, were decided in regard to policies issued before this act. This statute makes it clear that fraternal and assessment orders shall be governed by their own rules and regulations as authorized by the state of their origin. Hollingsworth v. Supreme Council, 175 N. C. 615, 96 S. E. 81. This case gives a long discussion of the application of this law and alters the rule as applied in former cases.

Same—Fraternal Benefit Associations.—This section groups benevolent life insurance companies providing death benefits in excess of $300, in any year to any one person, as fraternal benefit associations, and those of $300 or less, as fraternal orders, and sec. 6492, relating to fraternal orders, does not apply, and hence fraternal benefit associations fall within the provision of sec. 6389, that statements or descriptions in the application for the policy are deemed representations and not warranties, which will not avoid a recovery, when untrue, unless material. Gay v. Woodmen of the World, 179 N. C. 210, 102 S. E. 195.

§ 6492. Fraternal orders defined.—Every incorporated association, order, or society doing business in this state on the lodge system, with ritualistic form of work and representative form of government, for the purpose of making provision for the payment of benefits of three hundred dollars or less in case of death, sickness, temporary or permanent physical disability, either as the result of disease, accident, or old age, formed and organized for the sole benefit of its members and their beneficiaries, and not for profit, is hereby declared to be a "fraternal order." Societies and orders which do not make insurance contracts or collect dues or assessments therefor, but simply pay burial or other benefits out of the treasury of their orders, and use their funds for the purpose of building homes or asylums for the purpose of caring for and educating orphan children and aged and infirm people in this state, shall not be considered as "fraternal orders" or "fraternal benefit societies" under this subchapter; and such order or association paying death or disability benefits may also create, maintain, apply, or disburse among its membership a reserve or emergency fund as may be provided in its constitution or by-laws; but no profit or gain may be added to the payments made by a member. (Rev., s. 4795; 1899, c. 54, s. 88; 1901, c. 706, s. 3; 1907, c. 936; 1913, c. 46.)

See note to § 6491; as to other assessment insurance, see §§ 6356 et seq.

§ 6493. Funds derived from assessments and dues.—The fund from which the payment of benefits, as provided for in the next preceding section, shall be made, and the fund from which the expenses of such association, order or society shall be defrayed, shall be derived from assessments or dues collected from its members. Such societies or associations shall be governed by the laws of the state governing fraternal orders or societies, and are exempt from the provisions of all general insurance laws of this state, and no law hereafter passed shall apply to such societies unless fraternal orders or societies are designated herein. (Rev., s. 4796; 1899, c. 54, s. 89; 1901, c. 706, s. 2; 1913, c. 46.)

Use of Funds Received.—The funds received from assessment are trust funds for orphans and widows and are not subject to use for any other purpose, therefore attachment will not lie. Brenizer v. Royal Arcanum, 141 N. C. 409, 53 S. E. 835.

Assessments Not Governed by Insurance Law.—A fraternal society or association is governed by its own charter and by-laws and an assessment in accordance with its own laws is valid. Hollingsworth v. Supreme Council, 175 N. C. 615, 96 S. E. 81.

§ 6493(a). Appointment of member as receiver or collector; appointee as agent for order or society; rights of members.—Assessments and dues referred to in the two preceding sections may be collected, receipted, and remitted by a member or officer of any local or subordinate lodge of any fraternal order or society when so appointed or designated by any grand, district, or subordinate lodge or officer, deputy, or representative of the same, there being no regular licensed agent or deputy of said grand lodge charged with said duties; but any person so collecting said dues or assessments shall be the agent or representative of such fraternal order or society, or any department thereof, and shall bind them by their acts in collecting and remitting said amount so collected. Under no circumstances, regardless of any agreement, by-laws, contract, or notice shall said officer or collector be the agent or representative of the individual member from whom any such collection is made; nor shall said member be responsible for the failure of such officer or collector to safely keep, handle, or remit said dues or assessments so collected, in accordance with the rules, regulations, or by-laws of said society; nor shall said member, regardless of any rules, regulations, or by-laws to the contrary, forfeit any rights under his certificate of membership in said fraternal benefit society by reason of any default or misconduct of any said officer or member so acting. (1921, c. 139.)

§ 6494. Meetings of governing body; principal office; separation of races.—Any such society or order incorporated and organized under the laws of this state may provide for the meeting of its supreme legislative or governing body in any other state, province, or territory wherein such society has subordinate lodges, and all business transacted at such meetings is as valid in all respects as if the meetings were held in this state; but the principal business office of such society shall always be kept in this state. No fraternal order or society or beneficiary association shall be authorized to do business in this state under the provisions of this article, whether incorporated under the laws of this or any other state, province, or territory, which associates with, or seeks in this state to associate with, as members of the same lodge, fraternity, society, association, the white and colored races with the objects and purposes provided in this article. (Rev., s. 4797; 1899, c. 54, s. 91; 1913, c. 46.)

§ 6495. Conditions precedent to doing business.—Any such fraternal, beneficiary order, society, or association as defined by this chapter, chartered and organized in this state or organized and doing business under the laws of any other state, district, province, or territory, having the qualifications required of domestic societies of like character, upon satisfying the insurance commissioner that its business is proper and legitimate and so conducted, may be admitted to transact business in this state upon the same conditions as are prescribed by this chapter for admitting and authorizing foreign insurance companies to do business in this state, except that such fraternal orders shall not be required to have the capital required of such insurance companies. (Rev., s. 4798; 1899, c. 54, s. 92; 1901, c. 706, s. 2; 1903, c. 439, s. 9; 1913, c. 46.)

Requirements for Admission to Do Business.—Fraternal insurance orders are subject to the same rules, regulations, and supervision as foreign insurance companies, when operated from beyond the State, except that they are not required to make the deposit or have the paid up capital required of other companies. State v. Arlington, 157 N. C. 640, 73 S. E. 122.

Attachment of Funds.—Assessments received are impressed with a trust for widows and orphans and cannot be reached by attachment. Brenizer v. Royal Arcanum, 141 N. C. 409, 53 S. E. 835; Blackwell v. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ass'n, 141 N. C. 117, 53 S. E. 833.

§ 6496. Certain lodge systems exempt.—Beneficial fraternal orders, or societies incorporated under the laws of this state which are conducted under the lodge system, having the supreme lodge or governing body located in this state, and so organized that the membership consists of members of subordinate lodges, and the subordinate lodges accept for membership none but residents of the county in which such subordinate lodge is located, and each subordinate lodge issues certificates, makes assessments, and collects a fund to pay benefits to the widows and orphans of its own deceased members and their families, each lodge, independently of the other, for itself, and independently of the supreme lodge, each lodge controlling the fund for this purpose, and in addition to the benefits paid by each subordinate lodge to its own members, the supreme lodge provides for an additional benefit for such of the members of the subordinate lodges as are qualified, at the option of the subordinate lodge member, and such organization is not conducted for profit, has no capital stock, and has been in operation for ten years in this state, such beneficial orders or societies shall be exempt from the requirements of this chapter, and shall not be required to pay any license tax or fees nor make any report to the insurance commissioner, unless the assessments collected for death benefits by the supreme lodge amount to at least three hundred dollars in one year. The insurance commissioner may require the chief or presiding officer, or the secretary, to file annually an affidavit that such organization is entitled to this exemption. (1911, c. 199.)

§ 6497. Fraternal benefit society defined.—Any corporation, society, order, or voluntary association, without capital stock, organized and carried on solely for the mutual benefit of its members and their beneficiaries, and not for profit, and having a lodge system with ritualistic form of work and representative form of government, and which makes provision for the payment of benefits as hereafter prescribed in this article, is declared to be a fraternal benefit society. (1913, c. 89, s. 1.)

Applied in Equitable Trust Co. v. Widows' Fund of Oasis, etc., Temples, 207 N. C. 534, 537, 177 S. E. 799.

§ 6498. Lodge system defined.—A society having a supreme governing or legislative body and subordinate lodges or branches, by whatever name known, into which members are elected, initiated, and admitted in accordance with its constitution, laws, rules, regulations, and prescribed ritualistic ceremonies, which subordinate lodges or branches are required by the laws of such society to hold regular or stated meetings at least once in each month, is deemed to be operating on the lodge system. (1913, c. 89, s. 2.)

§ 6499. Representative form of government defined.—A society is deemed to have a representative form of government when it provides in its constitution and laws for a supreme legislative or governing body, composed of representatives elected either by the members or by delegates elected directly or indirectly by the members, together with such other members as may be prescribed by its constitution and laws: Provided, that the elective members constitute a majority in number and have not less than two-thirds of the votes, nor less than the votes required to amend its constitution and laws; and Provided further, that the meetings of the supreme or governing body, and the election of officers, representatives, or delegates, are held as often as once in four years. The members, officers, representatives or delegates of a fraternal benefit society shall not vote by proxy. (1913, c. 89, s. 3.)

§ 6500. Organization.—1. Application.—Ten or more persons, citizens of the United States, and a majority of whom are citizens of this state, who desire to form a fraternal benefit society, as defined by this article, may make and sign (giving their addresses) and acknowledge before some officer competent to take acknowledgment of deeds, articles of incorporation in which shall be stated:

a. The proposed corporate name of the society, which shall not so closely resemble the name of any society or insurance company already transacting business in this state as to mislead the public or lead to confusion.

b. The purpose for which it is formed—which shall not include more liberal powers than are granted by this article: Provided, that any lawful, social, intellectual, educational, charitable, benevolent, moral, or religious advantages may be set forth among the purposes of the society—and the mode in which its corporate powers are to be exercised.

c. The names, residences, and official titles of all the officers, trustees, directors, or other persons who are to have and exercise the general control and management of the affairs and funds of the society for the first year or until the ensuing election at which all such officers shall be elected by the supreme legislative or governing body, which election shall be held not later than one year from the date of the issuance of the permanent certificate.

2. Papers and Bond Filed.—Such articles of incorporation and duly certified copies of the constitution and laws, rules and regulations, and copies of all proposed forms of benefit certificates, applications therefor, and circulars to be issued by such society, and a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with sureties approved by the insurance commissioner, conditioned upon the return of the advance payments, as provided in this section, to applicants, if the organization is not completed within one year, shall be filed with the insurance commissioner, who may require such further information as he deems necessary.

3. Preliminary License.—If the purpose of the society conform to the requirements of this article, and all provisions of law have been complied with, the insurance commissioner shall so certify to the secretary of state, and upon his issuing the articles of incorporation shall furnish the incorporators a preliminary license authorizing the society to solicit members as hereinafter provided.

4. Completion of Organization.—Upon receipt of such license from the insurance commissioner the society may solicit members for the purpose of completing its organization, and shall collect from each applicant the amount of not less than one regular monthly payment, in accordance with its table of rates as provided by its constitution and laws, and shall issue to each applicant a receipt for the amount so collected. But no such society shall incur any liability other than for such advanced payments, nor issue any benefit certificate nor pay or allow, or offer or promise to pay or allow, to any person any death or disability benefit until actual bona fide applications for death benefit certificates have been secured upon at least five hundred lives for at least one thousand dollars each, or the largest amount written on any one person, and all such applicants for death benefits shall have been regularly examined by legally qualified practicing physicians, and certificates of such examinations have been duly filed and approved by the chief medical examiner of such society; nor until there shall be established ten subordinate lodges or branches into which said five hundred applicants have been initiated; nor until there has been submitted to the insurance commissioner under oath of the president and secretary, or corresponding officers of such society, a list of such applicants, giving their names, addresses, date examined, date approved, date initiated, name and number of the subordinate branch of which each applicant is a member, amount of benefits to be granted, rate of stated periodical contributions, which shall be sufficient to provide for meeting the mortuary obligation contracted, when valued for death benefits upon the basis of the national fraternal congress table of mortality, as adopted by the national fraternal congress, August twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, or any higher standard, at the option of the society, and for disability benefits by tables based upon reliable experience, and for combined death and permanent total disability benefits by tables based upon reliable experience, with an interest assumption not higher than four per cent per annum; nor until it shall be shown to the insurance commissioner by the sworn statement of the treasurer, or corresponding officer of such society, that at least five hundred applicants have each paid in cash at least one regular monthly payment as herein provided per one thousand dollars of indemnity to be effected, which payments in the aggregate shall amount to at least twenty-five hundred dollars. Such advanced payments shall be credited to the mortuary or disability fund on account of such applicants, and no part thereof may be used for expenses, but such payments shall be held in trust and returned to the applicants if the organization is not completed within one year as hereinafter provided.

5. License Issued.—The insurance commissioner may make such examination and require such further information as he deems advisable, and, upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that the society has complied with all the provisions of law, he shall issue to such society a certificate or license to that effect. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of such society at the date of such certificate.

6. One-year Limit.—No preliminary certificate or license granted under the provisions of this section shall be valid after one year from its date, or after such further period, not exceeding one year, as may be authorized by the insurance commissioner, upon cause shown, unless the five hundred applicants herein required have been secured and the organization has been completed as herein provided; and the articles of incorporation and all proceedings thereunder shall become null and void in one year from the date of such preliminary certificate, or at the expiration of such extended period, unless the society shall have completed its organization and commenced business as herein provided.

7. Discontinuance. — When any domestic society shall have discontinued business for the period of one year, or has less than four hundred members, its charter shall become null and void. (1913, c. 89, s. 11.)

§ 6501. Constitution and by-laws.—Each society shall have power to make a constitution and by-laws for the government of the society, the admission of its members, the management of its affairs, and the fixing and readjusting of the rates of contribution of its members from time to time; it shall have the power to change or amend such constitution and by-laws, and it shall have such other powers as are necessary and incidental to carrying into effect the objects and purposes of the society. (1913, c. 89, s. 11.)

§ 6502. Amendments to constitution and by-laws.—Every society transacting business under this article shall file with the insurance commissioner a duly certified copy of all amendments of or additions to its constitution and laws within ninety days after the enactment of the same. Printed copies of the constitution and laws as amended, changed or added to, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society, shall be prima facie evidence of the legal adoption thereof. (1913, c. 89, s. 19.)

§ 6503. Waiver of the provisions of the laws.—The constitution and laws of the society may provide that no subordinate body, nor any of its subordinate officers or members, shall have the power or authority to waive any of the provisions of the laws and constitution of the society, and the same shall be binding on the society and each and every member thereof, and on all beneficiaries of members. (1913, c. 89, s. 17.)

§ 6504. Place of meeting; location of office.—Any domestic society may provide that the meetings of its legislative or governing body may be held in any state, district, province, or territory wherein such society has subordinate branches, and all business transacted at such meetings shall be as valid in all respects as if such meetings were held in this state; but its principal office shall be located in this state. (1913, c. 89, s. 15.)

§ 6505. No personal liability for benefits. — Officers and members of the supreme, grand, or any subordinate body of any such incorporated society shall not be individually liable for the payment of any disability or death benefit provided for in the laws and agreements of such society; but the same shall be payable only out of the funds of such society and in the manner provided by its laws. (1913, c. 89, s. 16.)

§ 6506. Qualifications for membership.—Any society may admit to beneficial membership any person not less than sixteen and not more than sixty years of age, who has been examined by a legally qualified physician, and whose examination has been supervised and approved in accordance with the laws of the society: Provided, that any beneficiary member of such society who shall apply for a certificate providing for disability benefits need not be required to pass an additional medical examination therefor. Nothing herein contained shall prevent such society from accepting general or social members. (1913, c. 89, s. 6.)

§ 6507. Benefits.—1. Every society transacting business under this article shall provide for the payment of death benefits, and may provide for the payment of benefits in case of temporary or permanent physical disability, either as the result of disease, accident, or old age: Provided, the period of life at which the payment of benefits for disability on account of old age shall commence shall not be under seventy years, and may provide for monuments or tombstones to the memory of its deceased members, and for the payment of funeral benefits. Such society shall have the power to give a member, when permanently disabled or on attaining the age of seventy, all or such portion of the face value of his certificate as the laws of the society may provide; but nothing contained in this article shall be so construed as to prevent the issuing of benefit certificates for a term of years less than the whole of life, which are payable upon the death or disability of the member occurring within the term for which the benefit certificate may be issued. Such society shall, upon written application of the member, have the power to accept a part of the periodical contributions in cash, and charge the remainder, not exceeding one-half of the periodical contribution, against the certificate, with interest payable or compounded annually at a rate not lower than four per cent per annum; but this privilege shall not be granted except to societies which have readjusted or may hereafter readjust their rates of contributions, and to contracts affected by such readjustment.

2. Any society which shall show by the annual valuation hereinafter provided for that it is accumulating and maintaining the reserve not lower than the usual reserve computed by the American experience table and four per cent interest, may grant to its members extended and paid-up protection, or such withdrawal equities as its constitution and laws may provide; but such grants shall in no case exceed in value the portion of the reserve to the credit of such members to whom they are made. (1913, c. 89, s. 4.)

§ 6508. Beneficiaries.—The payment of death benefits shall be confined to wife, husband, relative by blood to the fourth degree, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, step-children, children by legal adoption, or to a person or persons dependent upon the member, or, with the consent of the society, any charitable institution maintained by the society; and if after the issuance of the original certificate the member shall become dependent upon an incorporated charitable institution, he shall have the privilege, with the consent of the society, to make such institution his beneficiary. Within the above restrictions each member shall have the right to designate his beneficiary, and, from time to time, have the same changed in accordance with the laws, rules and regulations of the society, and no beneficiary shall have or obtain any vested interest in such benefit until the same has become due and payable upon the death of the member. Any society may, by its laws, limit the scope of beneficiaries within the above classes. (1913, c. 89, s. 5; 1931, c. 161.)

See 13 N. C. Law Rev., 95.

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 inserted the words "or with the consent of the society, any charitable institution maintained by the society," beginning in line seven of this section.

A contract in the form of a life insurance policy with a mutual benefit society, which contract stipulates that insured agrees that the society is a Fraternal Benefit Society as defined by § 6497, is a Fraternal Benefit Contract, not an insurance policy, and governed by this section. Equitable Trust Co. v. Widows' Fund of Oasis, etc., Temples, 207 N. C. 534, 177 S. E. 799.

Right to Change Beneficiary.—The doctrine was fully set forth by the Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey, where the court said: "By the terms of such contracts (those of benefit societies) the beneficiary may be changed by the mere will of the member and without the beneficiary's consent. In such case the right of the beneficiary is not property, but a mere expectancy, dependant on the will of the member to whom the certificate is issued. For this reason the beneficiary's interest in the certificate and contract evidenced thereby differs totally from the interest of a beneficiary named in an ordinary life insurance policy containing no provision for the designation of a new beneficiary. The cases, so far as I can discover, are agreed upon this doctrine. This principle is now so well settled that no further authorities need be cited." Pollock v. Hardy, 150 N. C. 211, 214, 63 S. E. 940.

Same—One Disqualified to Take.—A policy of life insurance of a fraternal order is limited to the wife, certain relations and dependents by this statute, with the right of the assured to change the beneficiary at any time, and where he has named his wife as beneficiary and afterwards substitutes the name of another, disqualified to take under the statute, such attempted change is not a revocation of the provisions of the policy first issued and leaves it in force. Andrews v. Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, 189 N. C. 697, 128 S. E. 4.

Bigamous Wife's Right to Recover.—A fraternal assessment benefit association having a representative form of government may, by its contract and constitution, confine the beneficiaries to certain blood relatives, wife, affianced wife, persons dependent upon the member, etc., in conformity with the laws of the State wherein it has its head organization; and where such beneficiary sues upon a policy, claiming as the wife of the deceased member, and it appears that in fact the marriage was bigamous, she may not recover, though the certificate states she was his wife. Applebaum v. United Commercial Travelers, 171 N. C. 435, 88 S. E. 722.

An incorporated trust company, authorized by a trust agreement to collect the proceeds of life insurance policies on the life of the trustor upon his death, may not be named beneficiary in a Fraternal Benefit Contract on the trustor's life, the trustee not being a natural person nor a charitable institution as defined by this section, and being empowered to use the funds for purposes other than for the benefit of the trustor's kindred. Equitable Trust Co. v. Widows' Fund of Oasis, etc., Temples, 207 N. C. 534, 177 S. E. 799.

§ 6509. Benefit certificates.—Every certificate issued by any such society shall specify the amount of benefit provided thereby, and shall provide that the certificate, the charter, or articles of incorporation or, if a voluntary association, the articles of association, the constitution and laws of the society, and the application for membership and medical examination, signed by the applicant and all amendments to each thereof, shall constitute the agreement between the society and the member; and copies of the same certified by the secretary of the society, or corresponding officer, shall be received in evidence of the terms and conditions thereof. Any changes, additions, or amendments to the charter or articles of incorporation, or articles of association if a voluntary association, constitution or laws duly made or enacted subsequent to the issuance of the benefit certificate, shall bind the member and his beneficiaries, and shall govern and control the agreement in all respects the same as though such changes, additions, or amendments had been made prior to and were in force at the time of the application for membership. (1913, c. 89, s. 7.)

Recovery of Policy Holder When Policy Cancelled.—Where a fraternal benefit society has issued a policy of life insurance to a member, and has changed its plan of business so as to impair the vested rights of the insured under his contract, and refuses to accept the proper premium, and declares the policy void, the insured may maintain his action to recover of the insurer the principal sum of money he has paid on his policy, and simple interest thereon. Wilson v. Supreme Conclave, 174 N. C. 628, 94 S. E. 443.

Altering Constitution or By-Laws.—A general consent of a policy-holder in an assessment fraternal benefit society that the company may thereafter alter or amend its constitution or by-laws does not authorize the society to make such changes therein as will impair the vested right of its members and policy-holders arising under their contract of insurance with the company. Wilson v. Supreme Conclave, 174 N. C. 628, 94 S. E. 443.

Same—Suspension of Members.—Where fraternal benefit insurance societies are required to file certified copy of changes made in their constitution and by-laws with the Insurance Commission within 90 days, and fail to do so, they may not, while thus in default, suspend a member for noncompliance therewith. Wilson v. Supreme Conclave, 174 N. C. 628, 94 S. E. 443.

Proof of Forfeiture of Benefits.—A stipulation in a policy of endowment in a fraternal order requiring the member to be in good standing at the time of his death, and that "the records of the Grand Lodge shall sustain the same," must be construed in reference to provisions in the charter and by-laws of the order, that the member can only be suspended for failure to pay his dues for six months, of which notice shall be given him; and an order or suspension made in his absence will not have the effect of suspending him from benefits when there is no evidence that he had failed to pay his dues for the stated period or that notice had been given in accordance with the constitution and by-laws. Wilkie v. National Council J. O. U. A. M., 151 N. C. 527, cited and distinguished. Lyons v. Knights of Pythias, 172 N. C. 408, 90 S. E. 423.

False Representations of Insured.—Where an insurance policy in a fraternal order is issued in violation of certain restrictions contained in the constitution and by-laws of the company, and there is evidence tending to show that this fact was known at the time to the applicant, and the policy was issued by reason of false and material statements on the part of the applicant, the company is not estopped, as a conclusion of law, from resisting payment of the policy because of the fact that the agent of the company also knew that the applicant's statements were false. Robinson v. Brotherhood, 170 N. C. 545, 87 S. E. 537.

Nonpayment of Dues.—"It is well settled that in an action upon a life insurance policy the burden of proof is upon the insurance company to show nonpayment of dues or other matters to avoid the policy, when the certificate of insurance has been put in evidence and the death has been shown. Wilkie v. National Council, J. O. U. A. M., 147 N. C. 637, 61 S. E. 580;" Harris v. National Council, J. O. U. A. M., 168 N. C. 357, 359, 84 S. E. 405.

Waiver of Defects in Policy.—A policy in the insurance department of a fraternal order cannot be recovered on when issued by a local agent contrary to its rules and regulations as contained in its constitution and by-laws, unless the defect has been waived by the company or it is in some way estopped from insisting on the forfeiture. Robinson v. Brotherhood, 170 N. C. 545, 87 S. E. 537.

§ 6510. Benefits not subject to debts.—No money or other benefit, charity or relief or aid to be paid, provided, or rendered by any such society or society or association for the relief of employees including railroad and other relief association shall be liable to attachment, garnishment, or other process, or be seized, taken, appropriated, or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of a member or beneficiary or any other person who may have a right, thereunder, either before or after payment. (1913, c. 89, s. 18; 1925, c. 83.)

Funds Become Trust Funds.—Where the constitution of a foreign fraternal insurance society provided for the creation of a fund to be raised from assessments upon its members for the benefit of widows and orphans of deceased members, any money paid to such fund is impressed with the qualities of a trust for the special purposes expressed, and such fund in the hands of a local collector, which he was bound to pay over to the society's treasurer, is not subject to an attachment by a creditor of the society. Brenizer v. Royal Arcanum, 141 N. C. 409, 53 S. E. 835.

In 3 N. C. Law Rev. at p. 130 in considering this section it is said: it "provides that in the case of fraternal benefit societies, no money or other relief furnished by such societies shall be liable to attachment, garnishment, or other process, to pay any debt or liability of a member or beneficiary, 'either before or after payment.'" Chapter 83 extends this exemption so as to apply to any "society or association for the relief of employees, including railroad and other relief associations."

§ 6511. Funds provided.—1. Any society may create, maintain, invest, disburse and apply an emergency, surplus, or other similar fund in accordance with its laws. Unless otherwise provided in the contract, such funds shall be held, invested and disbursed for the use and benefit of the society and no member or beneficiary shall have or acquire individual rights therein or become entitled to any apportionment or the surrender of any part thereof, except as provided in subsection two of section 6507. The funds from which benefits shall be paid and the funds from which the expenses of the society shall be defrayed shall be derived from periodical or other payments by the members of the society and accretions of said funds. But no society, domestic or foreign, shall hereafter be incorporated or admitted to transact business in this state which does not provide for stated periodical contributions sufficient to provide for meeting the mortuary obligations contracted, when valued upon the basis of the national fraternal congress table of mortality as adopted by the national fraternal congress, August twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, or any higher standard, with interest assumption not more than four per cent per annum, nor write or accept members for temporary or permanent disability benefits except upon tables based upon reliable experience, with an interest assumption not higher than four per cent per annum.

2. Deferred payments or installments of claims shall be considered as fixed liabilities on the happening of the contingency upon which such payments or installments are thereafter to be paid. Such liability shall be the present value of such future payments or installments upon the rate of interest and mortality assumed by the society for valuation, and every society shall maintain a fund sufficient to meet such liability regardless of proposed future collections to meet any such liabilities. (1913, c. 89, s. 8.)

§ 6512. Investment of funds.—Every society shall invest its funds only in securities permitted by the laws of this state for the investment of the assets of life insurance companies: Provided, that any foreign society permitted or seeking to do business in this state which invests its funds in accordance with the laws of the state in which it is incorporated where it has such laws, shall be held to meet the requirements of this article for the investment of funds. (1913, c. 89, s. 9.)

As to investment in bonds guaranteed by United States, see § 220(a) 1.

§ 6513. Application of funds.—Every provision of the laws of the society for payment by its members, in whatever form made, shall distinctly state the purpose of the same and the proportion thereof which may be used for expenses, and no part of the money collected for mortuary or disability purposes or the net accretions of either or any of said funds shall be used for expenses. (1913, c. 89, s. 10.)

§ 6514. Powers of existing societies retained; reincorporation.—Any society now engaged in transacting business in this state may exercise, after the passage of this article, all of the rights conferred thereby, and all the rights, powers, and privileges now exercised or possessed by it under its charter or articles of incorporation not inconsistent with this article, if incorporated; or, if it be a voluntary association, it may incorporate hereunder. But no society already organized shall be required to reincorporate hereunder, and any such society may amend its articles of incorporation from time to time in the manner provided by law. (1913, c. 89, s. 12.)

§ 6515. Mergers and transfers.—No domestic society shall merge with or accept the transfer of the membership or funds of any other society unless such merger or transfer is evidenced by a contract in writing, setting out in full the terms and conditions of such merger or transfer, and is filed with the insurance commissioner of this state, together with a sworn statement of the financial condition of each of the societies, by its president and secretary or corresponding officers, and a certificate duly verified under oath of said officers of each of the contracting societies that such merger or transfer has been approved by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the supreme legislative or governing body of each of the societies.

Upon the submission of such contract, financial statements, and certificates, the insurance commissioner shall examine the same, and if he shall find such financial statements to be correct and the contract to be in conformity with the provisions of this section, and that such merger or transfer is just and equitable to the members of each of the societies, he shall approve the merger or transfer, issue his certificate to that effect, and thereupon the contract of merger or transfer shall be of full force and effect.

In case such contact is not approved, the fact of its submission and its contents shall not be disclosed by the insurance commissioner. (1913, c. 89, s. 13.)

§ 6516. Annual license.—Societies authorized to transact business in this state may have their authority renewed annually, but in all cases to terminate on the first day of the succeeding April; and the license shall, upon payment of license fee, continue in full force and effect until the new license is issued or specifically refused. For each license or renewal the society shall pay the insurance commissioner twenty-five dollars. A duly certified copy or duplicate of such license shall be prima facie evidence that the licensee is a fraternal benefit society within the meaning of this article. (1913, c. 89, s. 14.)

§ 6517. Accident societies may be licensed.—Any fraternal benefit society heretofore organized and incorporated, and operating within the definition set forth in this article, providing for benefits in case of death or disability resulting solely from accidents, but which does not obligate itself to pay death or sick benefits, may be licensed under the provisions of this article, and shall have all the privileges and be subject to all the provisions and regulations of this article, except the provisions requiring medical examinations, valuations of benefit certificates, and that the certificate shall specify the amount of benefits. (1913, c. 89, s. 27.)

§ 6518. Certain societies not included.—Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to affect or apply to societies which limit their membership to any hazardous occupation, nor to an association of local lodges of a society now doing business in this state which provided death benefits not exceeding five hundred dollars to any one person or disability benefits not exceeding three hundred dollars in any one year to any one person, or both, nor to any contracts or reinsurance business on such plan in this state, nor to domestic societies which limit their membership to the employees of a particular city or town, designated firm, business house, or corporation, nor to domestic lodges, orders, or associations of a purely religious, charitable, and benevolent description, which do not provide for a death benefit of more than one hundred dollars, or for disability benefits of more than one hundred and fifty dollars to any one person in any one year. The insurance commissioner may require from any society such information as will enable him to determine whether such society is exempt from the provisions of this article. (1913, c. 89, s. 26; 1925, c. 70, s. 2.)

Personal service on resident secretary of fraternal insurance association allowed to do business in the State without a license under this section and §§ 6274, 6474, and 6479, held valid service on the association in action on policy. Winchester v. Grand Lodge of Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, 203 N. C. 735, 167 S. E. 49.

§ 6519. Reports to insurance commissioner.

1. Annual Report.—Every society transacting business in this state shall annually, on or before the first day of March, file with the insurance commissioner, in such form as he may require, a statement, under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers, of its condition and standing on the thirty-first day of December next preceding, and of its transactions for the year ending on that date, and also shall furnish such other information as the commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working. The commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such society.

2. Valuation of Certificates.—In addition to the annual report herein required, each society shall annually report to the commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on December thirty-first, last preceding, excluding those issued within the year for which the report is filed, in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current mortality and expenses: Provided, the first report of valuation shall be made as of December thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and twelve. Such report of valuation shall show, as contingent liabilities, the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation; and as contingent assets, the present mid-year value of the future net contributions provided in the constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected. At the option of any society in lieu of the above, the valuation may show the net value of the certificates subject to valuation hereinbefore provided, and the net value when computed in case of monthly contributions, may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years.

3. Valuation Ascertained.—Such valuation shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary, or, at the request and expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home state of the society, and shall be filed with the commissioner within ninety days after the submission of the last preceding annual report. The legal minimum standard of valuation for all certificates, except for disability benefits, shall be the national fraternal congress table of mortality as adopted by the national fraternal congress, August twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, or at the option of the society, any higher table; or, at its option, it may use a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with interest assumption not more than four per centum per annum. Each such valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation. Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep the net contributions for such benefits in a fund separate and apart from all other benefit and expense funds and the valuation of all other business of the society: Provided, that where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent total disability benefits, the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience, and in such case a separation of the funds shall not be required.

4. Test of Solvency.—The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the society, but each society shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities.

5. Report Mailed to Members.—A report of such valuation and an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society thereby disclosed shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the society not later than June first of each year; or, in lieu thereof, such report of valuation and showing of the society's condition as thereby disclosed may be published in the society's official paper, and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficiary member of the society. (1913, c. 99, s. 20.)

§ 6520. Additional or increased rates.—The laws of such society shall provide that if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full, and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws, additional, increased or extra rates of contribution shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency; and such laws may provide that, upon the written application or consent of the member, his certificate may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by valuation, with interest not exceeding five per cent per annum. (1913, c. 89, s. 20.)

§ 6521. Provisions to insure future security.—If the valuation of the certificates, as hereinbefore provided, on December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, shall show that the present value of future net contributions, together with the admitted assets, is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities such society shall thereafter maintain said financial condition at each succeeding triennial valuation in respect of the degree of efficiency as shown in the valuation as of December thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen. If at any succeeding triennial valuation such society does not show at least the same condition, the commissioner shall direct that it thereafter comply with the requirements herein specified. If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shall show that the society has failed to maintain the condition required herein the commissioner may, in the absence of good cause shown for such failure, institute proceedings for the dissolution of such society, in accordance with the provisions of this article, or in case of a foreign society, its license may be canceled in the manner provided in this article.

Any such society, shown by any triennial valuation, subsequent to December thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, not to have maintained the condition herein required, shall, within two years thereafter, make such improvement as to show a percentage of deficiency not greater than as of December thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, or thereafter, as to all new members admitted, to be subject so far as stated rates of contributions are concerned, to the provisions of this article, applicable in the organization of new societies: Provided, that the net mortuary or beneficiary contributions and funds of such new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the society. If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation, then the new members may be placed in a separate class and their certificates valued as an independent society in respect of contributions and funds. (1913, c. 89, s. 20(a).)

§ 6522. Valuation on accumulation basis; tabular basis.—In lieu of the requirements of the two preceding sections, any society accepting in its laws the provisions of this section may value its certificates on a basis herein designated "accumulation basis," by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year, and with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his shares of the losses for each year, herein designated "cost of insurance," and carrying the balance, if any to his credit. The charge for the cost of insurance may be according to the actual experience of the society applied to a table of mortality recognized by the law of this state, and shall take into consideration the amount at risk during each year, which shall be the amount payable at death, less the credit to the member. Except as specifically provided in its articles or laws or contracts, no charge shall be carried forward from the first valuation hereunder against any member of any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit. If, after the first valuation, any member's share of losses for any year exceeds his credit, including the contribution for the year, the contribution shall be increased to cover his share of the losses. Any such excess share of losses chargeable to any member may be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose.

Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society with the net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained, and on such transfer shall be entitled to make such application of his credit as provided in the laws of the society.

Certificates issued, rerated, or readjusted on a basis providing for adequate rates with adequate reserves to mature such certificates upon assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this state, shall be valued on such basis, herein designated the "Tabular Basis": Provided, that if on the first valuation under this section a deficiency in reserve shall be shown for any such certificate the same shall be valued on the accumulation basis.

Whenever, in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis, the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year, the deficiency shall be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve; or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied to the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws. Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws.

If the laws of the society so provide, the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if in an independent society, and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be mingled with the assets of other classes of the society.

A table showing the credits to individual members for each age and year of entry and showing opposite each credit the tabular reserve required on the whole life or other plan of insurance specified in the contract, according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this state and adopted by the society, shall be filed by the society with each annual report, and also be furnished to each member before July first of each year.

In lieu of the aforesaid statement there may be furnished to each member within the same time a statement giving the credit for such member and giving the tabular reserve and level rate required for a transfer carrying out the plan of insurance specified in the contract. No table or statement need be made or furnished where the reserves are maintained on the tabular basis.

For this purpose individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required, and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis pursuant to its laws; nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than in manner as expressed in the contract and its laws; nor as making any such reserve or credits a liability in determining the legal solvency of the society. (1913, c. 89, s. 20(b).)

§ 6523. Examination of domestic societies.—The insurance commissioner, or any person he may appoint, shall have power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any domestic society. He may employ assistants for the purpose of such examination, and he, or any person he may appoint, shall have free access to all the books, papers, and documents that relate to the business of the society, and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers, agents and employees or other persons in relation to the affairs, transactions, and condition of the society.

The expense of such examination shall be paid by the society examined upon statement furnished by the insurance commissioner, and the examination shall be made at least once in three years. (1913, c. 89, s. 21.)

§ 6524. Proceedings for dissolution.—When after examination the insurance commissioner is satisfied that any domestic society has failed to comply with any provision of this article, or is exceeding its powers, or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith, or is transacting business fraudulently; or whenever any domestic society, after the existence of one year or more, shall have a membership of less than four hundred (or shall determine to discontinue business), the insurance commissioner may present the facts relating thereto to the attorney-general, who shall, if he deem the circumstances warrant, commence an action in quo warranto in a court of competent jurisdiction, and such court shall thereupon notify the officers of such society of a hearing, and if it shall then appear that such society should be closed, it shall be enjoined from carrying on any further business, and a receiver shall be appointed to take possession of its books, papers, moneys, and other assets and immediately, under the direction of the court, proceed to close its affairs and distribute its funds to those entitled thereto.

No such proceedings shall be commenced by the attorney-general against any such society until after notice has been duly served on its chief executive officers and a reasonable opportunity given to it, on a date to be named in the notice, to show cause why such proceedings should not be commenced. (1913, c. 89, s. 21.)

§ 6525. Proceedings only by attorney-general.—No application for injunction against or proceedings for the dissolution of or the appointment of a receiver for any such domestic society or branch thereof shall be entertained by any court in this state unless the same is made by the attorney-general. (1913, c. 89, s. 22.)

§ 6526. Examination of foreign societies.—The insurance commissioner or any person whom he may appoint may examine any foreign society transacting or applying for admission to transact business in this state. The commissioner may employ assistants, and he or any person he may appoint, shall have free access to all the books, papers, and documents that relate to the business of the society, and may summon and qualify as witness under oath and examine its officers, agents, and employees and other persons in relation to the affairs, transactions, and condition of the society. He may, in his discretion, accept in lieu of such examination the examination of the insurance department of the state, territory, district, province, or country where such society is organized. The actual expenses of examiners making any such examination shall be paid by the society upon statement furnished by the insurance commissioner.

If any such society or its officers refuse to submit to such examination or to comply with the provisions of the section relative thereto, its authority to write new business in this state shall be suspended or license refused until satisfactory evidence is furnished the commissioner relating to its condition and affairs, and during such suspension the society shall not write new business in this state. (1913, c. 89, s. 23.)

§ 6527. No adverse publications.—Pending, during, or after an examination or investigation of any such society, either domestic or foreign, the insurance commissioner shall make public no financial statement, report, or finding, nor shall he knowingly permit to become public any financial statement, report, or findng affecting the status, standing, or rights of any such society, until a copy thereof has been served upon the society, at its home office, nor until the society has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to answer any such financial statement, report, or finding, and to make such showing in connection therewith as it may desire. (1913, c. 89, s. 24.)

§ 6528. Revocation of license.—When the insurance commissioner on investigation is satisfied that any foreign society transacting business under this article has exceeded its powers, or has failed to comply wth any provisions of this article, or is conducting business fraudulently, or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith, he shall notify the society of his findings, and state in writing the grounds of his dissatisfaction, and after reasonable notice require the society, on a date named, to show cause why its license should not be revoked. If on the date named in the notice such objections have not been removed to the satisfaction of the commissioner, or the society does not present good and sufficient reasons why its authority to transact business in this state should not at that time be revoked, he may revoke the authority to continue business in this state. All decisions and findings of the commissioner made under the provisions of this section may be reviewed by proper proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction, as provided in this article. (1913, c. 89, s. 25.)

§ 6529. Criminal offenses.—Any person, officer, member, or examining physician of any society authorized to do business under this article who shall knowingly or wilfully make any false or fraudulent statement or representation in or with reference to any application for membership, or for the purpose of obtaining money from or benefit in any society transacting business under this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Any person who shall solicit membership for, or in any manner assist in procuring membership in any fraternal benefit society not licensed to do business in this state, or who shall solicit membership for, or in any manner assist in procuring membership in any such society not authorized as herein provided, to do business as herein defined in this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars.

Any society, or any officer, agent, or employee thereof, neglecting or refusing to comply with, or violating, any of the provisions of this article, the penalty for which neglect, refusal, or violation is not specified in this section, shall be fined not exceeding two hundred dollars upon conviction thereof. (1913, c. 89, s. 28.)

§ 6529(a). Merger, consolidation, or reinsurance of risks, with other fraternal benefit societies.—No fraternal benefit society organized under the laws of this state to do the business of life, accident, or health insurance, shall consolidate or merge with any other fraternal benefit society, or reinsurance risks, or any part thereof with any other fraternal benefit society, or assume or reinsure the whole or any portion of the risks of any other fraternal benefit society, except as herein provided. No fraternal benefit society or subordinate body thereof shall merge, consolidate with, or be reinsured by any company or association not licensed to transact business as a fraternal beneficiary society. (1921, c. 60, s. 1.)

§ 6529(b). Contract approved by governing bodies of parties to same; approval by insurance commissioner.—When any such fraternal benefit society shall propose to consolidate or merge its business or to enter into any contract of reinsurance, or to assume or reinsure the whole or any portion of risks of any other fraternal benefit society, the proposed contract in writing setting forth the terms and conditions of such proposed consolidations, merger, or reinsurance shall be submitted to the legislative or governing bodies of each of said parties to said contract after due notice, and if approved, such contract as so approved, shall be submitted to the insurance commissioner of this state for his approval, and the parties to said contract shall at the same time submit a sworn statement showing the financial condition of each of such fraternal benefit societies as of the thirty-first day of December preceding the date of such contract: Provided, that such insurance commissioner may, within his discretion, require such financial statement to be submitted as of the last day of the month preceding the date of such contract. The insurance commissioner shall thereupon consider such contract of consolidation, merger, or reinsurance, and if satisfied that the interests of the certificate holders of such fraternal benefit societies are properly protected, and that such contract is just and equitable to the members of each of such societies, and that no reasonable objection exists thereto, shall approve said contract as submitted. In case the parties corporate to such a contract shall have been incorporated in separate states, or territories, such contract shall be submitted as herein provided to the insurance commissioner of each of such incorporating states, or territories, to be considered and approved separately by each of such insurance commissioners. When said contract of consolidation, merger, or reinsurance shall have been approved as hereinabove provided, such insurance commissioner shall issue a certificate to that effect, and thereupon the said contract of consolidation, merger, or reinsurance shall be in full force and effect. In case such contract is not approved, the fact of its submission and its contents shall not be disclosed by the insurance commissioner. (1921, c. 60, s. 2.)

§ 6529(c). Expenses; compensation to officers or employees of contracting parties and state employees.—All necessary and actual expenses and compensation incident to the proceedings provided in this law shall be paid as provided by such contract of consolidation, merger, or reinsurance: Provided, however, that no brokerage or commission shall be included in such expenses and compensation or shall be paid to any person by either of the parties to any such contract in connection with the negotiation therefor or execution thereof, nor shall any compensation be paid to any officer or employee of either of the parties to such contract for directly or indirectly aiding in effecting such contract of consolidation, merger, or reinsurance. An itemized statement of all such expenses shall be filed with the insurance commissioner, or commissioners, as the case may be, subject to approval, and when approved the same shall be binding on the parties thereto. Except as fully expressed in the contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance, or itemized statement of expenses, as approved by the insurance commissioner, or commissioners, as the case may be, no compensation shall be paid to any person or persons, and no officer or employee of the state shall receive any compensation, directly or indirectly, for in any manner aiding, promoting, or assisting any such consolidation, merger, or reinsurance. (1921, c. 60, s. 3.)

§ 6529(d). Violation of law a felony.—Any person violating the provisions of the three preceding sections shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be liable to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or to both fine and imprisonment. (1921, c. 60, s. 4.)

Art. 27. Whole Family Protection

§ 6530. Insurance on children.—Any fraternal order or fraternal benefit society authorized to do business in this State and operating on the lodge plan may provide in its constitution and by-laws, in addition to other benefits provided for therein, for the payment of death or annuity benefits upon the lives of children between the ages of one and sixteen years at next birthday, for whose support and maintenance a member of such society is responsible. The society may at its option organize and operate branches for such children and membership in local lodges, and initiation therein shall not be required of such children, nor shall they have any voice in the management of the society. The total benefits payable as above provided shall in no case exceed the following amounts at ages at next birthday at time of death, respectively, as follows: one year, twenty dollars; two years, fifty dollars; three years, seventy-five dollars; four years, one hundred dollars; five years, one hundred twenty-five dollars; six years, one hundred fifty dollars; seven years, two hundred dollars; eight years, two hundred fifty dollars; nine years, three hundred dollars; ten years, four hundred dollars; eleven years, five hundred dollars; twelve years, six hundred dollars; thirteen years, seven hundred dollars; fourteen years, eight hundred dollars; fifteen years, nine hundred dollars; sixteen years, one thousand dollars. (1917, c. 239, s. 1; 1931, c. 38.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 repealed the former section and substituted the above in lieu thereof. Formerly the ages were set at from two to eighteen and the amounts from $34 to $600.

§ 6531. Medical examination; certificates and contributions.—No benefit certificate as to any child shall take effect until after medical examination or inspection by a licensed medical practitioner, in accordance with the laws of the society, nor shall any such benefit certificate be issued unless the society shall simultaneously put in force at least five hundred such certificates, on each of which at least one assessment has been paid, nor where the number of lives represented by such certificate falls below five hundred. The death benefit contributions to be made upon such certificate shall be based upon the "Standard Mortality Table" or the "English Life Table Number Six," and rate of interest not greater than four per cent per annum, or upon a higher standard; but contributions may be waived or returns may be made from any surplus held in excess of reserve and other liabilities, as provided in the by-laws; and extra contributions shall be made if the reserves hereafter provided for become impaired. (1917, c. 239, s. 2.)

§ 6532. Reserve fund; exchange of certificates.—Any society entering into such insurance agreements shall maintain on all such contracts the reserve required by the standard of mortality and interest adopted by the society for computing contributions as provided in the preceding section, and the funds representing the benefit contributions and all accretions thereon shall be kept as separate and distinct funds, independent of the other funds of the society, and shall not be liable for nor used for the payment of the debts and obligations of the society other than the benefits herein authorized. A society may provide that when a child reaches the minimum age for initiation into membership in such society, any benefit certificate issued hereunder may be surrendered for cancellation and exchanged for any other form of certificate issued by the society: Provided, that such surrender will not reduce the number of lives insured in the branch below five hundred; and upon the issuance of such new certificate any reserve upon the original certificate herein provided for shall be transferred to the credit of the new certificate. Neither the person who originally made application for benefits on account of such child, nor the beneficiary named in such original certificate, nor the person who paid the contributions, shall have any vested right in such new certificate, the free nomination of a beneficiary under the new certificate being left to the child so admitted to benefit membership. (1917, c. 239, s. 3.)

§ 6533. Separation of funds.—An entirely separate financial statement of the business transactions and of assets and liabilities arising therefrom shall be made in its annual report to the insurance commissioner by any society availing itself of the provisions hereof. The separation of assets, funds, and liabilities required hereby shall not be terminated, rescinded, or modified, nor shall the funds be diverted for any use other than as specified in the preceding section, as long as any certificates issued hereunder remain in force, and this requirement shall be recognized and enforced in any liquidation, reinsurance, merger, or other change in the condition or the status of the society. (1917, c. 239, s. 4.)

§ 6534. Payments to expense or general fund.—Any society shall have the right to provide in its laws and the certificate issued hereunder for specified payments on account of the expense or general fund, which payments shall or shall not be mingled with the general fund of the society, as its constitution and by-laws may provide. (1917, c. 239, s. 5.)

§ 6535. Continuation of certificates.—In the event of the termination of membership in the society by the person responsible for the support of any child on whose account a certificate may have been issued as provided herein, the certificate may be continued, or for the benefit of the estate of the child, provided the contributions are continued, or for the benefit of any other person responsible for the support and maintenance of such child who shall assume the payment of the required contributions. (1917, c. 239, s. 6.)

Art. 28. General Provisions for Societies

§ 6536. Appointment of trustees to hold property. — The lodges of Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, camps of Woodmen of the World, councils of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, orders of the Elks, Young Men's Christian Associations, Young Women's Christian Associations, societies for the care of orphans and indigent children, societies for the rescue of fallen women, and any other benevolent or fraternal orders and societies, may appoint from time to time suitable persons trustees of their bodies or societies, in such manner as they deem proper, which trustees, and their successors, shall have power to receive, purchase, take, and hold property, real and personal, in trust for such society or body. The trustees shall have power, when instructed so to do by resolution adopted by the society or body which they represent, to mortgage or sell and convey in fee simple any real or personal property owned by the society or body; and the conveyances so made by the trustees shall be effective to pass the property in fee simple to the purchaser or to the mortgagee or trustee for the purposes in such conveyance or mortgage expressed. If there shall be no trustee, then any real or personal property which could be held by such trustees shall vest in and be held by such charitable, benevolent, religious, or fraternal orders and societies, respectively, according to such intent. This shall not affect vested rights nor apply to suits pending on the ninth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen. (1907, c. 22; 1915, cc. 149, 186; 1923, c. 257.)

Suspension of Members.—Where a local fraternal and benevolent lodge has existed under the constitution and by-laws of the supreme lodge requiring written notice to be given to its members before suspension as a financial member, etc., for nonpayment of dues, etc., and such notice has not been given accordingly: Held, a resolution passed at a meeting of the local lodge authorizing a sale and conveyance of its property by trustees without complying with this requirement, is valid, and at the suit of such wrongfully suspended members, an injunction will lie. Tyler v. Howell, 192 N. C. 433, 135 S. E. 133.

§ 6537. Unauthorized wearing of badges, etc. —Any person who fraudulently and wilfully wears the badge or button of any secret or fraternal organization or society, either in the identical form or in such near resemblance thereto as to be a colorable imitation thereof, or who fraudulently and wilfully uses the name of any such order or organization, the titles of its officers, or its insignia, ritual, or ceremonies, unless entitled to wear or use the same under the constitution and by-laws, rules and regulations of such secret or fraternal organization or society, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of fifty dollars or imprisonment for thirty days, in the discretion of the court. (1907, c. 968; 1911, c. 37; 1915, c. 252.)

CHAPTER 107

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS

§§ 6538-6553. Board of internal improvements; duties and powers.—(Repealed: Public Laws 1925, c. 89, s. 23.)

§ 6553(a). Governor and council to control internal improvements.—The Governor and Council of State shall have charge of all the State's interest in all railroads, canals and other works of internal improvements. (1925, c. 157, s. 1.)

§ 6553(b). State deemed shareholder in corporation accepting appropriation.—When an appropriation is made by the State to any work of internal improvement conducted by a corporation, the State shall be considered, unless otherwise directed, a stockholder in such corporation, and shall have as many shares as may correspond with the amount of money appropriated; and the acceptance of such money shall be deemed to be a consent of the corporation to the terms herein expressed. (1925, c. 157, s. 2.)

§ 6553(c). Report of railroad; contents.—The president or other chief officer of every railroad, canal, or other public work of internal improvement in which the State owns an interest, shall, when required to do so by the Governor, make or cause to be made to the Governor and Council of State a written report of its affairs. This report shall show:

1. Number of shares owned by the State.
2. Number of shares owned otherwise.
3. Face value of such shares.
4. Market value of each of such shares.
5. Amount of bonded debt, and for what purpose contracted.
6. Amount of other debt, and how incurred.
7. If interest on bonded debt has been punctually paid as agreed; if not, how much in arrears.
8. Amount of gross receipts for past year, and from what sources derived.
9. An itemized account of expenditures for past year.
10. Any lease or sale of said property, or any part thereof, to whom made, for what consideration, and for what length of time.
11. Suits at law pending against his company concerning its bonded debt, or in which title to all or any part of such road or canal is concerned.
12. Any sales of stock owned by the State, by whose order made, and disposition of the proceeds.

Any person failing to report as required by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (1925, c. 157, s. 3.)

§ 6553(d). Report to general assembly; contents.—The Governor and Council of State shall biennially report to the General Assembly.

1. The condition of all railroads, canals, or other works of internal improvement in which the State has an interest, and they shall at the same time suggest such improvement, enlargement, or extension of such work as they shall deem proper, and such new works of similar nature as shall seem to them to be demanded by the growth of trade or the general prosperity of the State.

2. The amount, condition, and character of the State's interest in other railroads, roads, canals, or other works of internal improvement in which the State has taken stock, to which she has loaned money, or whose bonds she holds as security.

3. The condition of such roads or other corporate bodies, in detail, as are referred to in the previous section, giving their entire financial condition, the amount and market value of the stock, receipts and disbursements for the previous year or since the last report; the amount of real and personal property of such corporations, its estimated value, and such suggestions with regard to the State's interest in the same as may to them seem warranted by the status of the roads or corporations.

4. The names of all persons failing or refusing to report as is required by law. (1925, c. 157, s. 4.)

§ 6553(e). Approval of encumbrance on state's interest in corporations. — No corporation or company in which the State has or owns any stock or any interest shall sell, lease, mortgage, or otherwise encumber its franchise, right of way, or other property, except by and with the approval and consent of the Governor and Council of State. (1925, c. 157, s. 5.)

§ 6553(f). Appointment of proxies, etc.—The Governor shall appoint on behalf of the State all such officers or agents as, by any act, incorporating a company for the purpose of internal improvement, are allowed to represent the stock or other interests which the State may have in such company; and such person or persons shall cast the vote to which the State may be entitled in all the meetings of the stockholders of such company under the direction of said Governor; and the said Governor may, if in his opinion the public interest so requires, remove or suspend such persons, officers, agents, proxies, or directors in his discretion. (1925, c. 157, s. 6.)

§ 6553(g). Power of investigation of corporations.—The Governor and Council of State shall have the power to investigate the affairs of any corporation or association described in section three of this act, and may require the Attorney-General or the Corporation Commission to assist in making such investigation under the rules and regulations prescribed in chapter twenty-two of the Consolidated Statutes of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen. (1925, c. 157, s. 7.)

CHAPTER 108

LABOR REGULATIONS

Art. 1. Various Regulations

§ 6554. Week's work of women to be fifty-five hours.—Not more than fifty-five hours shall constitute a week's work for women over sixteen in any laundry, dry-cleaning establishment, pressing club, work-shop, factory, manufacturing establishment, mill, of the State, and no woman over sixteen employed in any of the above-named places shall be worked exceeding eleven hours in any one day or over fifty-five hours in any one week. Any employer of labor violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, and each day's work exceeding the said hours shall constitute a separate offense. Provided, further, that this section shall not apply to those employed in the operation of seasonal industries in their process of conditioning and of preserving perishable or semi-perishable commodities, or to those engaged in agricultural work. (1915, c. 148, s. 2; 1931, c. 289; 1935, c. 406.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the former section which provided a sixty hour week for men and women, permitting the men to exceed it under special contract for overtime, and substituted the above therefor, making no provision for male workers.

The amendment of 1935 made this section applicable to laundries, dry-cleaning establishments, pressing clubs and work-shops.

§ 6554(a). Hours of work for women in industry.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation, proprietor or owner of any retail, or wholesale mercantile establishment or other business where any female help is employed for the purpose of serving the public in the capacity of clerks, salesladies or waitresses and other employees of public eating places to employ or permit to work any female longer than ten hours in any one day or over fifty-five hours in any one week; nor shall any female be employed or permitted to work for more than six hours continuously at any one time without an interval of at least half an hour except where the terms of employment do not call for more than six and a half hours in any one day or period.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to females whose full time is employed as bookkeepers, cashiers or office assistants or to any establishment that does not have in it employment three or more persons at any one time.

Every employer shall post in a conspicuous place in every room of the establishment in which females are employed a printed notice stating the provisions of this section and the hours of labor. The printed form of such notice shall be furnished, upon request, by the commissioner of labor.

Any employer of labor violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding sixty days and each day's work exceeding the said hours shall constitute a separate offense. (1933, c. 35; 1935, c. 407.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 omitted a proviso, which formerly appeared in the second paragraph, stating that the section should not apply to establishments in towns of less than five thousand inhabitants.

§ 6554(b). Working hours of employees in state institutions.—It shall be unlawful for any person or official or foreman or other person in authority in the state hospital at Raleigh, the state hospital at Morganton, the state hospital at Goldsboro, or any penal or correctional institution of the State of North Carolina, excepting the state prison and institutions under the control of the state commission of highways and public works, to require of any employee to work for a greater number of hours than twelve (12) during any twenty-four (24) hour period, or not more than eighty-four (84) hours during any one one week, or permit the same, during which period the said employee shall be permitted to take one continuous hour off duty; except in case of an emergency as determined by the superintendent, in which case the limitation of twelve (12) hours in any consecutive twenty-four (24) shall not apply. Nothing in this section shall be construed to effect the hours of doctors and superintendents in these hospitals. Any violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor, punishable within the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 136.)

§ 6555. Seats for women employees; failure to provide a misdemeanor.—All persons, firms, or corporations who employ females in a store, shop, office, or manufacturing establishment, as clerks, operatives, or helpers in any business, trade, or occupation carried on or operated in the state of North Carolina, shall be required to procure and provide proper and suitable seats for all such females, and shall permit the use of such seats, rests, or stools as may be necessary, and shall not make any rules, regulations, or orders preventing the use of such seats, stools, or rests when any such female employee or employees are not actively employed or engaged in their work in such business or employment.

If any employer of female help in the state of North Carolina shall fail, neglect, or refuse to provide seats, as provided in this article, on or before the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nine, or shall make any rules, orders, or regulations in his or its shop, store, or other place of business requiring females to remain standing when not necessarily employed or engaged in service or labor therein, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, in the discretion of the court. (1909, c. 857, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6556. Medical chests in factories; failure to provide a misdemeanor.—Every person, firm, or corporation operating a factory or shop employing over twenty-five laborers, in which machinery is used for any manufacturing purpose, or for any purpose except for elevation or for heating or hoisting apparatus, shall at all times keep and maintain free of expense to the employees a medical or surgical chest which shall contain two porcelain pans, two tourniquets, gauze, absorbent cotton, adhesive plasters, bandages, antiseptic soap, one bottle of carbolic acid with directions on bottle, one bottle antiseptic tablets, one pair scissors, one folding stretcher, all of which shall not cost to exceed ten dollars, for the treatment of persons injured or taken ill upon the premises.

Any person, firm, or corporation violating this section shall be subject to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars for every week during which such violation continues. (1911, c. 57.)

§ 6557. Shelter at railroad division points required; failure to provide a misdemeanor.—It shall be the duty of every person, firm, or corporation that may now or hereafter own, control, or operate any line of railroad in the state of North Carolina, to erect and maintain at every division point where cars are regularly taken out of trains for repairs or construction work, or where other railroad equipment is regularly made, repaired, or constructed, a building or shed with a suitable and sufficient roof over the repair and construction track or tracks so as to provide that all men or employees permanently employed in the construction and repair of cars, trucks, or other railroad equipment of whatever description shall be under shelter and protected during snows, rains, sleets, hot sunshine, and other inclement weather: Provided, the corporation commission shall have the power to direct the points at which sheds shall be erected, and the character of the sheds: Provided further, that such order shall only be made after a hearing of which public notice shall have been given.

On and after the first day of December, nineteen hundred and thirteen, any person, firm, or corporation failing to comply with the requirements of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and for each offense shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. Each day of such failure shall constitute a separate offense. (1913, c. 65; 1913, c. 117.)

§ 6558. Railroad employees to be paid twice a month.—All persons, firms, companies, corporations, or associations owning, leasing, or operating any railroad or railroads, wholly or partially within this state, shall pay and settle with their employees engaged or employed, in shops, round-houses, or repair shops within this state at least twice in each month, which settlements shall not be less than two weeks nor more than three weeks apart, and shall, in such settlements, pay such employees the full amounts due them for their work and services up to the date of the preceding settlement, and such payment shall be made in lawful money of the United States, or by check or cash order redeemable by the maker thereof for its face value in lawful money of the United States upon demand of or presentation by the lawful holder thereof: Provided, this section shall not apply to repair shops where less than ten employees are engaged. (1915, c. 92.)

§ 6558(a). Acceptance by employer of assignment of wages; counties excepted.—No employer of labor shall be responsible for any assignment of wages to be earned in the future, executed by an employee, unless and until such assignment of wages is accepted by the employer in a written agreement to pay same: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to Rowan, Iredell, Rockingham and Cabarrus counties, except as to assignments given to secure usurious loans. (1935, c. 410.)

Art. 2. Separate Toilets for Sexes and Races

§ 6559. When separate toilets required.—All persons and corporations employing males and females in any manufacturing industry, or other business employing more than two males and females in towns and cities having a population of one thousand persons or more and where such employees are required to do indoor work chiefly, shall provide and keep in a cleanly condition separate and distinct toilet rooms for such employees, said toilets to be lettered and marked in a distinct manner, so as to separate the white and colored males and females of both sexes: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to cases where toilet arrangements or facilities are furnished by said employer off the premises occupied by him. (1913, c. 83, s. 1.)

§ 6560. Location; intruding on toilets misdemeanor.—It shall be the duty of the persons or corporation mentioned under this article to locate their toilets for males and females, white and colored, in separate parts of their buildings or grounds, in buildings hereafter erected, and in those now erected all closets shall be separated by substantial walls of brick or timber, and any employee who shall wilfully intrude or use any toilet not intended for his or her sex or color shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined five dollars. (1913, c. 83, s. 4.)

§ 6561. Failure to provide toilets a misdemeanor.—Any person or corporation refusing to comply with the provisions of the second preceding section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction fined five dollars for the first offense and five dollars for each day they shall fail to make the provisions required under this article. (1913, c. 83, s. 2.)

§ 6562. Police in towns to enforce article.—It shall be the duty of the police officers of any town or city to investigate the places of business of any person or corporation employing males and females and see that the provisions of this article are put in force, and it shall be their duty to swear out a warrant before the mayor or other proper officer of any town or city and prosecute all persons, corporations, and managers of corporations violating any of the provisions of this article. (1913, c. 83, s. 3.)

§ 6563. Sheriff in county to enforce article.—When any persons or corporations locate outside of any city or town, its manufacturing plant or other business, it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county to make investigation of the condition of the toilets used by such manufacturing plant or business and see that the provisions of this article are complied with, and it shall be his duty to swear out a warrant before a justice of the peace and prosecute any one violating the provisions of this article. (1913, c. 83, s. 5.)

§ 6564. Counties exempted from article.—This article shall not apply to Sampson, Harnett, Lee, Johnston, Northampton, Cleveland, Rutherford, Polk, and Henderson counties. (1913, c. 83, s. 6.)

Art. 3. Hours of Service for Employees of Carriers

§ 6565. Maximum continuous service.—It shall be unlawful for any common carrier, its officers or agents, subject to this article, to require or permit any employee, subject to this article, to be or remain on duty for a longer period than sixteen consecutive hours, and whenever any such employee of such common carrier shall have been continuously on duty for sixteen hours he shall be relieved and not required or permitted again to go on duty until he has had at least ten consecutive hours off duty; and no such employee who has been on duty sixteen hours in the aggregate in any twenty-four-hour period shall be required or permitted to continue or again go on duty without having had at least eight consecutive hours off duty: Provided, that no operator, train dispatcher, or other employee who by the use of the telegraph or telephone dispatches, reports, transmits, receives, or delivers orders pertaining to or affecting train movements shall be required or permitted to be or remain on duty for a period longer than nine hours in any twenty-four-hour period in all towers, offices, places, and stations continuously operated night and day, nor for a longer period than thirteen hours in all towers, offices, places, and stations operated only during the daytime, except in case of emergency, when the employees named in this proviso may be permitted to be and remain on duty for four additional hours in a twenty-four-hour period on not exceeding three days in any week: Provided further, the corporation commission may, after a full hearing in a particular case and for good cause shown, extend the period within which a common carrier shall comply with the provisions of this proviso as to such case. (1911, c. 112, s. 2.)

§ 6566. Penalty for violation.—Any such common carrier, or any officer or agent thereof, requiring or permitting any employee to go, be or remain on duty in violation of the last preceding section shall be liable to a penalty of not to exceed five hundred dollars for each and every violation, to be recovered in suit or suits to be brought in the name of the state of North Carolina on relation of the corporation commission in the superior court of Wake county or of the county in which the violation of this article occurred; and it shall be the duty of the said corporation commission to bring such suits upon satisfactory information lodged with it; but no such suit shall be brought after the expiration of one year from the state, assign, or transfer the same, for value or otherwise, with intent to mission to lodge with the proper solicitor's information of any such violations as may come to its knowledge. In all prosecutions under this article the common carrier shall be deemed to have had knowledge of all acts of all its officers and agents: Provided, that the provisions of this article shall not apply to any case of casualty or unavoidable accident or the act of God; nor where the delay was the result of a cause not known to the carrier or its officer or agent in charge of such employee at the time the said employee left a terminal, and which could not have been foreseen: Provided further, that the provisions of this article shall not apply to the crews of wrecking or relief trains: Provided further, this article shall not be construed to impose a penalty upon any common carrier for any act done in violation of the act of congress, ratified March the fourth, one thousand nine hundred and seven, and entitled "An act to promote the safety of employees and travelers upon railroads by limiting the hours of service of employees thereon," or any acts amendatory thereof. (1911, c. 112, s. 3.)

§ 6567. Corporation commission's power. — It shall be the duty of the corporation commission to execute and enforce the provisions of this article, and all powers granted to the corporation commission are extended to it in the execution thereof. (1911, c. 112, s. 4.)

Art. 4. Earnings of Employees in Interstate Commerce

§ 6568. Collections out of state to avoid exemptions forbidden.—No resident creditor or other holder of any book account, negotiable instrument, duebill or other monetary demand arising out of contract, due by or chargeable against any resident wage-earner or other salaried employee of any railway corporation or other corporation, firm, or individual engaged in interstate business shall send out of the state, assign, or transfer the same, for value or otherwise, with intent to thereby deprive such debtor of his personal earnings and property exempt by law from application to the payment of his debts under the laws of the state of North Carolina, by instituting or causing to be instituted thereon against such debtor, in any court outside of this state, in such creditor's own name or in the name of any other person, any action, suit, or proceeding for the attachment or garnishment of such debtor's earnings in the hands of his employer, when such creditor and debtor and the railway corporation or other corporation, firm, or individual owing the wages or salary intended to be reached are under the jurisdiction of the courts of this state. (1909, c. 504, s. 1.)

§ 6569. Resident not to abet collection out of state.—No person residing or sojourning in this state shall counsel, aid, or abet any violation of the provisions of section 6568. (1909, c. 504, s. 2.)

§ 6570. Remedies for violation of two preceding sections; damages; indictment.—Any person violating any provision of the last two sections shall be answerable in damages to any debtor from whom any book account, negotiable instrument, duebill, or other monetary demand arising out of contract shall be collected, or against whose earnings any warrant of attachment or notice of garnishment shall be issued, in violation of the provisions of section 6568, to the full amount of the debt thus collected, attached, or garnisheed, to be recovered by civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state; and any person so offending shall likewise be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars. (1909, c. 504, s. 3.)

§ 6571. Institution of foreign suit, etc., evidence of intent to violate.—In any civil or criminal action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state for any violation of the provisions of sections 6568 and 6569, proof of the institution or prosecution of any action, suit, or proceeding in violation of the provisions of section 6568, or the issuance of service therein of any warrant of attachment, notice, or garnishment or other like writ for the garnishment of earnings of the defendant therein, or of the payment by the garnishee therein of any final judgment rendered in any such action, suit, or proceeding shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the intent of the creditor or other holder of the debt sued upon to deprive such debtor of his personal earnings and property exempt from application to the payment of his debts under the laws of this state, in violation of the provisions of this article. (1909, c. 504, s. 4.)

§ 6572. Construction of article. — No provision of this article shall be so construed as to deprive any person entitled to its benefits of any legal or equitable remedy already possessed under the laws of this state. (1909, c. 504, s. 5.)

CHAPTER 109

LIBRARIES

Art. 1. State Library

§ 6573. Location.—The state library shall occupy the rooms set apart for it in the state administration building. (Rev., s. 5068; 1885, c. 121, s. 7; 1913, c. 99, s. 1.)

§ 6574. Trustees; duties and powers. — The governor, superintendent of public instruction, and secretary of state, and their respective successors in office, are appointed trustees of the state and document libraries. The board of trustees shall make rules and regulations by which the librarian shall be governed for the protection and preservation of the books and library; and may make such distribution of the books, reports, and publications belonging to the state as in the judgment of the board is advisable and proper. (Rev., s. 5069; Code, s. 3612; 1871-2, c. 169, s. 3; 1903, cc. 104, 133.)

§ 6575. Librarian's seal; certified copies of documents as evidence.—It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to furnish the state librarian with a seal of office. The state librarian is authorized to certify to the authenticity and genuineness of any document, paper, or extract from any document, paper, or book or other writing which may be on file in his office. When the certificate is made under his hand and attested by his official seal, it shall be received as prima facie evidence of the correctness of the matters therein contained, and as such shall receive full faith and credit. (Rev., s. 5070; 1905, c. 537.)

§ 6576. Records procured and published. — The trustees of the state library are directed to procure such of the records of this state, or copies of the same, or of other unpublished material illustrative of the history of the state down to January first, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-one, as may be missing from the archives of the state, and to publish the same in such number of volumes of suitable size as they may deem proper. The trustees of the state library shall cause an index of these records, from the first volume of the colonial records down to January first, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-one, to be prepared and printed in the volume which shall embrace the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty-nine, and in case the library fund shall prove to be insufficient to meet the expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this section, the auditor is directed to draw his warrant for such sums as the trustees aforesaid shall certify to him to be needed in said work. (Rev., s. 5071; Code, ss. 3609, 3610; 1881, c. 88; 1883, pub. res., p. 619; 1895, c. 464; 1901, c. 632.)

§ 6577. Trustees may sell publications.—The trustees of the state library are authorized to sell, on such terms as they may deem proper, any volume printed under the provisions of this chapter that may not be reserved for the use of the public libraries. (Rev., s. 5072; Code, s. 3611; 1881, c. 88, s. 2.)

§ 6578. Colonial records sent to certain states.—The board of trustees are requested to have forwarded the colonial records of North Carolina to such states as may hereafter supply similar documents to this state. (Rev., s. 5073; 1893, pub. res., p. 489.)

§ 6579. Governor to designate documents to be preserved; books bound and labeled.—The governor shall designate such portions of the documents, journals, and acts of congress of the United States as he may deem proper to be preserved in the library; may designate which of them are to to be bound, of such pamphlets, acts, and journals of the general assembly, and works of periodical literature, laws of other states, and documents of the general assembly that may be added to the library; and the librarian shall have them bound. And all the books belonging to the library, or which may be added thereto, shall be labeled in gilt letters with the words "State Library." (Rev., s. 5074; Code, s. 3614; R. C., c. 92, s. 4; 1840, c. 46, s. 6; 1842, c. 68, s. 3.)

§ 6580. Penalty for injury to books. — Any person who shall damage, deface, or mutilate any book which he may be allowed to withdraw from the library, or who shall return any book so damaged, defaced, or mutilated while in his possession, shall forfeit and pay the full amount of the damage, which amount shall be determined by the librarian, but in no case to exceed double the value of the book; and the penalties and forfeitures accruing under this section shall be sued for and recovered by the librarian in the name of the state, before any justice of the peace, and shall be added to the fund for the increase of the library. (Rev., s. 5075; Code, s. 3615; R. C., c. 92, s. 5; 1842, c. 68, s. 1.)

§ 6581. Committee to purchase books.—The state librarian, superintendent of public instruction, together with three other persons to be selected by the trustees, shall constitute a committee to purchase books for the state library, and they are to serve without compensation in the matter of selecting and buying books. (Rev., s. 5076; 1901, c. 503, s. 3.)

§ 6582. Librarian; election and bond.—A librarian shall be elected quadrennially by the trustees of the state library, and shall give bond with security in such sum as the trustees may determine, payable to the state of North Carolina, conditioned for the safe-keeping of the books and the faithful discharge of his duties, and he shall hold his place till his successor shall be appointed and qualified. (Rev., s. 5077; Code, s. 3604; 1870-1, c. 70, s. 1; 1883, c. 216, s. 1; 1895, c. 351; 1903, c. 727.)

§ 6583. Assistant librarian.—The state librarian is authorized to employ an assistant in his office. (Rev., s. 5078; 1901, c. 503, s. 1.)

§ 6584. Librarian to receipt for laws of other states.—The state librarian is directed to keep a record of the published laws, reports, documents, etc., received from other states and territories by exchange for like documents from this state; to receipt for the same and to distribute them to the different departments to which they belong immediately on receipt. All states and territories exchanging such documents with this state are requested to forward all documents direct to the state librarian. (Rev., s. 5079; 1889, c. 535.)

§ 6585. Separate reading-room for colored people.—The state librarian is directed to fit up and maintain a separate place for the use of the colored people who may come to the library for the purpose of reading books or periodicals. (Rev., s. 5080; 1901, c. 503, s. 2.)

§ 6586. Open hours for library.—The library shall be kept open during the day for such time as the trustees may prescribe; and from seven to nine o'clock each evening, if the necessary expense of keeping the same open be voluntarily paid by the citizens of the city of Raleigh. (Rev., s. 5082; Code, s. 3605; 1870-1, c. 70, s. 2; 1881, c. 352; 1889, pub. res., p. 530.)

§ 6587. Appropriation. — Repealed: (Public Laws 1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

§ 6587(a). Members of state boards and commissions to use books.—Any member of a State board or commission residing in Raleigh shall be allowed the privilege of borrowing from the State Library, material, books or other publications, except reference books, and enjoy the same privileges in respect thereto as is allowed State officials. (1925, c. 115.)

Art. 2. Law Library

§ 6588. Location. — The law library shall occupy the rooms set apart for it in the state administration building. (Rev., s. 5083; 1885, c. 121, s. 7; 1913, c. 99, s. 1.)

§ 6589. Trustees; powers and duties. — The justices of the supreme court are appointed trustees of the law library, and all moneys appropriated for its increase shall be paid out under their direction and supervision. They shall have charge of the law library and may, in their discretion, employ a librarian, who shall perform his duties under such rules and regulations as they may prescribe. (Rev., s. 5084; Code, s. 3606; 1883, c. 100, ss. 1, 2; 1889, c. 482.)

§ 6590. Open hours for library.—The librarian of the law library shall keep it open during such hours as the trustees may prescribe; and he shall, upon application, admit attorneys to the library at night while they are in attendance upon the supreme court. (Rev., s. 5085; 1889, c. 482.)

Editor's Note.—By the act of 1925 a provision for the expenditure of $200 for the binding of books was omitted.

§ 6591. Appropriation.—The clerk of the supreme court, under the direction of the justices of that court, is authorized and directed to expend annually the amount paid in by applicants for license to practice law, who are examined by the court, in the purchase of such books as may be necessary to keep the law library well appointed, and no other appropriation shall be allowed for that purpose. (Rev., s. 5086; Code, s. 3613; res., 1872-3; 1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

Art. 3. Document Library

§ 6593. Librarian.—The librarian of the state library shall be the custodian of the document library. (Rev., s. 5088; 1887, c. 258, s. 3.)

§ 6594. Assistant librarian.—The librarian is authorized to employ an assistant in the document library during the sessions of the general assembly at a cost not exceeding one dollar per day. (Rev., s. 5089; 1891, pub. res., p. 652.)

§ 6595. Librarian to procure books.—It shall be the duty of the librarian to procure two copies each of the laws and journals of the general assembly, which shall be furnished to him by the secretary of the state, and to arrange them on shelves in chronological order for the use of the two houses of the general assembly respectively. (Rev., s. 5090; 1887, c. 258, s. 2.)

§ 6596. Library open, when.—The librarian shall keep the document library open during the sessions of the general assembly, in order that members may have access to records, and for use of committees of either house. At all other times the doors shall be kept securely locked, but the librarian shall, upon application, admit persons who wish to examine any of the books and records therein. (Rev., s. 5091; 1891, pub. res., p. 652.)

Art. 4. Library Commission

§ 6597. Commission established; members appointed.—There is hereby created a library commission to be known as the Library Commission of North Carolina, which shall consist of the superintendent of public instruction, the state librarian, two other persons who shall be appointed by the North Carolina library association, and one other person who shall be appointed by the governor, all of whom shall serve without compensation. After the ninth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and nine, the governor shall appoint at once one person to serve one year and the North Carolina library association one person to serve two years and one person to serve three years; and as these terms expire, annually thereafter one person shall be appointed for three years by the governor and by the North Carolina library association, according to the vacancy to be filled. The library commission may accept resignations and fill vacancies for unexpired terms. The term of office of the members of the commission shall begin April first. (1909, c. 873, s. 1.)

§ 6598. Election of officers. — The commission shall annually elect its own officers, who shall perform all the duties usually pertaining to such offices. (1909, c. 873, s. 2.)

§ 6599. Duties of commission; secretary employed.—The commission shall give assistance, advice, and counsel to all libraries in the state, to all communities which may propose to establish libraries and to all persons interested, as to the best means of establishing and administering such libraries, as to the selection of books, cataloguing, maintenance, and other details of library management as may be practicable. The commission may aid in organizing new libraries or in improving those already organized, and may establish and maintain traveling or other libraries, as may be practicable. The commission shall employ a secretary, not a member of the commission, who shall be a person trained in modern library methods, and who shall receive such compensation as the commission may decide, and who shall perform the usual duties of a secretary and such other duties as may be assigned by the commission, and who shall serve at the will of the commission. (1909, c. 973, s. 3.)

§ 6600. Public libraries to report to commission.—Every public library in the state shall make an annual report to the commission, in such form as may be prescribed by the commission. The term "public library" shall, for the purpose of this article, include free public libraries, subscription libraries, school, college, and university libraries, young men's christian association, legal association, medical association, supreme court, and state libraries. (1909, c. 873, s. 4.)

§ 6601. Commission to report to general assembly.—The commission shall make a biennial report to the governor, covering its work up to January first preceding each session of the general assembly. Five hundred copies of this report shall be published by the state printer, as other state official reports are published. (1909, c. 873, s. 5.)

§ 6602. Expenses of commission paid.—No member of the commission shall ever receive any compensation for service as a member, but the actual traveling expenses of members in attendance at meetings of the commission or in visiting or establishing libraries and other incidental and necessary expenses connected with the work of the commission may be paid. (1909, c. 873, s. 6.)

§ 6603. Appropriation.—There is annually appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of eight thousand dollars, to be paid to the treasurer of the commission for the use of the commission in carrying into effect the provisions of this article, and any balance not expended in any year may be used by the commission in any subsequent year. (1909, c. 873, s. 7; 1913, c. 175; 1915, c. 161; 1917, c. 221.)

§ 6604. Offices provided.—The board of public buildings and grounds may allow suitable offices and equipment in the capitol, the state library, or other state buildings, for the use of the library commission. (1909, c. 873, s. 8.)

CHAPTER 110
MEDICINE AND ALLIED OCCUPATIONS

Art. 1. Practice of Medicine

§ 6605. North Carolina medical society incorporated.—The association of regularly graduated physicians, calling themselves the state medical society, is hereby declared to be a body politic and corporate, to be known and distinguished by the name of The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 4491; Code, s. 3121; 1858-9, c. 258, s. 1.)

§ 6606. Board of examiners.—In order to properly regulate the practice of medicine and surgery, there shall be established a board of regularly graduated physicians, to be known by the title of The Board of Medical Examiners of the State of North Carolina, which shall consist of seven regularly graduated physicians. (Rev. s. 4492; Code, s. 3123; 1858-9, c. 258, ss. 3, 4; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 1.)

§ 6607. Medical society appoints board.—The medical society shall have power to appoint the board of medical examiners. (Rev. s. 4493; Code s. 3126; 1858-9, c. 258, s. 9.)

§ 6608. Board elects officers and fills vacancies.—The board of medical examiners are authorized to elect all such officers and to frame all such by-laws as may be necessary, and in the event of any vacancy by death, resignation, or otherwise, of any member of said board, the board, or a quorum thereof, is empowered to fill such vacancy. (Rev., s. 4494; Code, s. 3128; 1858-9, c. 258, s. 11.)

§ 6609. Meetings of board.—The board of medical examiners may assemble once in every year in the city of Raleigh, and shall remain in session from day to day until all applicants who may present themselves for examination within the first two days of this meeting have been examined and disposed of; other meetings in each year may be held at some suitable point in the state if deemed advisable. (Rev., s. 4495; 1915, c. 220, s. 1; 1935, c. 363.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 substituted the word "may" for the word "shall" near the beginning of this section.

§ 6610. Regulations governing applicants for license, examinations, etc.—The board of medical examiners is empowered to prescribe such regulations as it may deem proper, governing applicants for license, admission to examinations, the conduct of applicants during examinations, and the conduct of examinations proper. (1921, c. 47, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 2.)

§ 6611. Bond of secretary.—The secretary of the board of medical examiners shall give bond with good surety, to the president of the board, for the safe-keeping and proper payment of all moneys that may come into his hands. (Rev., s. 4497; Code, 3134; s. 1858-9, c. 258, s. 17.)

§ 6612. Officers may swear applicants.—The president and secretary of the board of medical examiners of this state shall have power to administer oaths to all persons who may apply for examination before the board, or to any other persons deemed necessary in connection with performing the duties of the board as imposed by law. The board shall have power to summon any witnesses deemed necessary to testify under oath in connection with any cause to be heard before it; or to summon any licentiate against whom charges are preferred in writing, and the failure of the licentiate, against whom charges are preferred, to appear at the stated time and place to answer to the charges, after due notice or summons has been served in writing, shall be deemed a waiver of his right to said hearing, as provided in section six thousand six hundred and eighteen. (1913, c. 20, s. 7; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 3.)

§ 6613. Examination for license; scope; conditions and prerequisites.—It shall be the duty of the board of medical examiners to examine for license to practice medicine or surgery, or any of the branches thereof, every applicant who complies with the following provisions: He shall, before he is admitted to examination, satisfy the board that he has an academic education equal to the entrance requirements of the university of North Carolina, or furnish a certificate from the superintendent of public instruction of the county that he has passed an examination upon his literary attainments to meet the requirements of entrance in the regular course of the state university. He shall exhibit a diploma or furnish satisfactory proof of graduation from a medical college in good standing requiring an attendance of not less than four years, and supplying such facilities for clinical and scientific instruction as shall meet the approval of the board; but the requirement of four years attendance at a school shall not apply to those graduating prior to January the first, nineteen hundred.

The examination shall cover the following branches of medical science: anatomy, embryology, histology, physiology, pathology, bacteriology, surgery, pediatrics, medical hygiene, chemistry, pharmacy, materia medica, therapeutics, obstetrics, gynecology, and the practice of medicine.

If on such examination the applicant is found competent, the board shall grant him a license authorizing him to practice medicine or surgery or any of the branches thereof.

Five members of the board shall constitute a quorum, and four of those present shall be agreed as to the qualification of the applicant. (Rev., s. 4498; 1913, c. 20, ss. 2, 3, 6; 1921, c. 47, s. 1.)

Constitutional Discrimination.—"That the statute is not in violation of the State Constitution is thoroughly discussed and held in State v. Vandoran, 109 N. C. 864, 14 S. E. 32. It is not to be questioned that the law making power of the State has the right to require an examination and certificate as to the competency of persons desiring to practice law or medicine." State v. Call, 121 N. C. 643, 645, 28 S. E. 517; State v. Siler, 169 N. C. 314, 84 S. E. 1015.

§ 6614. Two examinations, preliminary and final, allowed.—It shall be the duty of the state board of medical examiners to examine any applicant for license to practice medicine on the subjects of anatomy, histology, physiology, bacteriology, embryology, pathology, medical hygiene, and chemistry, upon his furnishing satisfactory evidence from a medical school in good standing and supplying such facilities for anatomical and laboratory instruction as shall meet with the approval of the board, that he has completed the course of study in the school upon the subjects mentioned. The board shall set to the credit of such applicant upon its record books the grade made by him upon the examination, which shall stand to the credit of such applicant; and when he has subsequently completed the full course in medicine and presents a diploma of graduation from a medical college in good standing, requiring a four years course of study of medicine for graduation and when he has completed the examination upon the further branches of medicine, to wit, pharmacy, materia medica, therapeutics, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, practice of medicine and surgery, he shall have accounted to his credit the grade made upon the former examination, and if then upon such completed examination he be found competent, said board shall grant him a license to practice medicine and surgery, and any of the branches thereof. (1921, c. 47, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 4.)

§ 6615. Qualifications of applicant for license.—Every person making application for a license to practice medicine or surgery in the state shall be not less than twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character, before any license can be granted by the board of medical examiners: Provided, that the age requirement shall not apply to students taking the examinations of the first two years in medicine. (1921, c. 47, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 5.)

§ 6616. Limited license.—The board may, whenever in its opinion the conditions of the locality where the applicant resides are such as to render it advisable, make such modifications of the requirements of the preceding sections, both as to application for examination and examination for license, as in its judgment the interests of the people living in that locality may demand, and may issue to such applicant a special license, to be entitled a "Limited License", authorizing the holder thereof to practice medicine and surgery within the limits only of the districts specifically described therein. The holder of the limited license practicing medicine or surgery beyond the boundaries of the district as laid down in said license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each and every offense; and the board is empowered to revoke such limited license, in its discretion, after due notice. The clerk of the superior court, in registering the holder of a limited license, shall copy upon the certificate of registration and upon his record the description of the district given in the license. (1909, c. 218, s. 1.)

§ 6617. When license without examination allowed.—The board of medical examiners shall in their discretion issue a license to any applicant to practice medicine and surgery in this state without examination if said applicant exhibits a diploma or satisfactory proof of graduation from a medical college in good standing, requiring an attendance of not less than four years and a license issued to him to practice medicine and surgery by the board of medical examiners of another state. (1907, c. 890; 1913, c. 20, s. 3.)

§ 6618. Board may rescind license.—The board shall have the power to revoke and rescind any license granted by it, when, after due notice and hearing, it shall find that any physician licensed by it has been guilty of grossly immoral conduct, or of producing or attempting to produce a criminal abortion, or, by false and fraudulent representations, has obtained or attempted to obtain, practice in his profession, or is habitually addicted to the use of morphine, cocaine or other narcotic drugs, or has by false or fraudulent representations of his professional skill obtained, or attempted to obtain, money or anything of value, or has advertised or held himself out under a name other than his own, or has advertised or publicly professed to treat human ailments under a system or school of treatment or practice other than that for which he holds a license, or is guilty of any fraud or deceit by which he was admitted to practice, or has been guilty of any unprofessional or dishonorable conduct unworthy of, and affecting, the practice of his profession, or has been convicted in any court, state or federal, of any felony or other criminal offense involving moral turpitude. Upon the hearing before said board of any charge involving a conviction of such felony or other criminal offense, a transcript of the record thereof certified by the clerk of the court in which such conviction is had, shall be sufficient evidence to justify the revocation or rescinding of such license. The findings and action of said board shall, in all such cases and hearings, be final and conclusive. And, for any of the above reasons, the said board of medical examiners may refuse to issue a license to an applicant. The said board of medical examiners may, in its discretion, restore a license so revoked and rescinded, upon due notice being given and hearing had, and satisfactory evidence produced of reformation of the licentiate. (1921, c. 47, s. 4; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 6; 1933, c. 32.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 32, substituted the above section for the former reading. A comparison of the two sections is necessary to determine the changes.

Unprofessional Conduct. — While the board does not have the power to revoke a license on the sole ground that the holder thereof has been convicted of the violation of a criminal statute in force in the State or in the United States, the board has the power to revoke a license upon a finding that the holder thereof was guilty of unprofessional conduct in that he had violated the provisions of the act. Board of Medical Examiners v. Gardner, 201 N. C. 123, 159 S. E. 8.

Appeal.—The appeal from the State Board of Medical Examiners allowed to a physician whose license has been revoked for immoral conduct in the practice of his profession, follows the procedure allowed in analogous cases, and the intent of the Legislature is interpreted to give a trial de novo in the Superior Court wherein the jury are to decide upon the evidence adduced before them the facts involved in the issue. State v. Carroll, 194 N. C. 37, 138 S. E. 339.

§ 6619. License fee; salaries, fees, and expenses of board.—Each applicant for examinations shall pay to the treasurer of the board of medical examiners of the state of North Carolina a fee of fifteen dollars ($15) before being admitted to the examination: Provided, however, that in the case of applicants taking the examinations in two halves, as provided in section six thousand six hundred and fourteen, the fee shall be seven and one-half dollars ($7.50) for each of the two half examinations. Whenever any license is granted without examination, as authorized in section six thousand six hundred and seventeen, the applicant shall pay to the treasurer of the board a fee of fifty dollars ($50). Whenever a limited license is granted, as provided in section six thousand six hundred and sixteen, the person shall pay to the treasurer of the board a fee of fifteen dollars ($15). A fee of five dollars ($5) shall be paid for each duplicate license. All fees shall be paid in advance to the treasurer of the board of medical examiners of the state of North Carolina, to be by him held as a fund for the use of said board. The compensation and expenses of the members and officers of said board, and all expenses proper and necessary in the opinion of said board, to the discharge of its duties under and to enforce the laws regulating the practice of medicine or surgery shall be paid out of such funds, upon the warrant of the president and secretary of said board. The salaries and fees of the officers and members of the said board shall be fixed by the board, but shall not exceed ten dollars ($10) per day per member, and railroad fare and hotel expenses; and no expense shall be created to exceed the income from fees herein provided. Any unexpended sum or sums of money remaining in the treasury of the said board at the expiration of the terms of office of the members thereof, shall be paid over to their successors after their election and qualifications as such. (Rev., s. 4501; Code, s. 3130; 1858-9, c. 258, s. 13; 1913, c. 20, ss. 4, 5; 1921, c. 47, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 7.)

§ 6620. Board to keep record; publication of names of licentiates; transcript as evidence.—The board of examiners shall keep a regular record of its proceedings in a book kept for that purpose, together with the names of the members of the board present, the names of the applicants for license, and other information as to its actions. The board of examiners shall cause to be entered in a separate book the name of each applicant to whom a license is issued to practice medicine or surgery, along with any information pertinent to such issuance. The board of examiners shall publish the names of those licensed in three daily newspapers published in the state of North Carolina within thirty days after granting the same. A transcript of any such entry in the record books, or a certificate that there is not entered therein the name and proficiency or date of granting such license of a person charged with the violation of the provisions of this article, certified under the hand of the secretary and the seals of the board of medical examiners of the state of North Carolina, shall be admitted as evidence in any court of this state when it is otherwise competent. (Rev., s. 4500; Code, s. 3129; 1858-9, c. 258, s. 12; 1921, c. 47, s. 6.)

§ 6621. Blanks furnished clerk.—It shall be the duty of the medical society of the state of North Carolina to prescribe proper forms of certificate required by this article and all such blanks and forms as the clerk may need to enable him to perform his duties under this chapter. (Rev., s. 4505; 1899, c. 181, s. 7; 1899, c. 94, s. 4.)

§ 6622. Practicing without license; practicing defined; penalties.—No person shall practice medicine or surgery, or any of the branches thereof, nor in any case prescribe for the cure of diseases unless he shall have been first licensed and registered so to do in the manner provided in this article, and if any person shall practice medicine or surgery without being duly licensed and registered, as provided in this article, he shall not be allowed to maintain any action to collect any fee for such services. The person so practicing without license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than one hundred ($100), or imprisoned at the discretion of the court for each and every offense.

Any person shall be regarded as practicing medicine or surgery within the meaning of this act who shall diagnose or attempt to diagnose, treat or attempt to treat, operate or attempt to operate on, or prescribe for or administer to, or profess to treat any human ailment, physical or mental, or any physical injury to or deformity of another person: Provided, that the following cases shall not come within the definition above recited:

1. The administration of domestic or family remedies in cases of emergency.

2. The practice of dentistry by any legally licensed dentist engaged in the practice of dentistry and dental surgery.

3. The practice of pharmacy by any legally licensed pharmacist engaged in the practice of pharmacy.

4. The practice of medicine and surgery by any surgeon or physician of the United States army, navy, or public health service in the discharge of his official duties.

5. The treatment of the sick or suffering by mental or spiritual means without the use of any drugs or other material means.

6. The practice of optometry by any legally licensed optometrist engaged in the practice of optometry.

7. The practice of midwifery by any woman who pursues the vocation of midwife.

8. The practice of chiropody by any legally licensed chiropodist when engaged in the practice of chiropody, and without the use of any drug.

9. The practice of osteopathy by any legally licensed osteopath when engaged in the practice of osteopathy as defined by law, and especially six thousand seven hundred of the consolidated statutes.

10. The practice of chiropractic by any legally licensed chiropractor when engaged in the manual adjustment of the twenty-four spinal vertebrae of the human body and without the use of drugs.

11. The practice of medicine or surgery by any reputable physician or surgeon in a neighboring state coming into this state for consultation with a resident registered physician. This proviso shall not apply to physicians resident in a neighboring state and regularly practicing in this state.

12. Physicians who have a diploma from a regular medical college or were practicing medicine and surgery in this state prior to the seventh day of March, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, and who are properly registered as required by law. (Rev., ss. 3645, 4502; Code, s. 3122; 1858-9, c. 258, s. 2; 1885, c. 117, s. 2; 1885, c. 261; 1889, c. 181, ss. 1, 2; 1921, c. 47, s. 7; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 8.)

For full treatment of physicians and surgeons, see 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 137, 15 N. C. Enc. Dig. 199.

Editor's Note.—This section was amended in 1921. Before these changes it provided against practice without license, and that an unlicensed practitioner could not maintain an action to collect fees for service, $25 was the minimum fine for practicing without license. The section was not applicable to mid-wives, physicians with diplomas granted before March 7, 1883, and reputable physicians from out of the state called in for consultation only. Puckett v. Alexander, 102 N. C. 95, 8 S. E. 767 holds that one not licensed to practice cannot collect for service. The contract was entered into before the act of 1885 which allowed one who graduated from a medical college before 1880 to practice.

Constitutionality.—This statute is not invalid, as it is the exercise of police power to protect the public, and is not the creation of a monopoly. State v. Call, 121 N. C. 643, 28 S. E. 517.

Nonmedicine Physicians.—The statute is applicable only to one holding himself out as a medical physician. If one cures by other means he is not subject to this statute. State v. Biggs, 133 N. C. 729, 46 S. E. 401.

A patent medicine vendor cannot hold himself out as a physician, and then avoid the statute by only prescribing his own products. State v. Van Doran, 109 N. C. 864, 14 S. E. 32.

§ 6623. Practicing without registration; penalties.—Any person desiring to engage in the practice of medicine or surgery shall personally appear before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he resides or practices, for registration as a physician or surgeon. The person so applying shall produce and exhibit before the clerk of the superior court a license obtained from the board of medical examiners of the state. The clerk shall thereupon register the date of registration, with the name and residence of such applicant, in a book to be kept for this purpose in his office marked "Register of Physicians and Surgeons," and shall issue to him a certificate of registration under the seal of the superior court of the county upon the form furnished him by the medical society of North Carolina, for which the clerk shall be entitled to collect from said applicant a fee of twenty-five cents. The person obtaining such certificate shall be entitled to practice medicine or surgery, or both, in the county where the same was obtained and in any other county in this state; but if he shall remove his residence to another county he shall exhibit said certificate to the clerk of such other county and be registered, which registration shall be made by said clerk without fee or charge.

Any person who practices or attempts to practice medicine or surgery in this state without first having registered and obtained the certificate required in this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned at the discretion of the court, for each and every offense: Provided, this section shall not apply to women pursuing the vocation of midwife, nor to reputable physicians or surgeons resident in a neighboring state coming into this state for consultation with a registered physician of this state. (Rev., ss. 3646, 4504; 1889, c. 181, ss. 4, 5; 1891, c. 420; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 9.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment Ex. Sess. 1921 the part of this section allowing registration upon presentment of a diploma issued by a regular medical college prior to March 7, 1885 or making oath that he was practicing medicine or surgery in this state prior to the last mentioned date, was omitted.

What Constitutes Practicing.—To constitute the offense of practicing medicine without registration, etc., it is not necessary to allege or prove the person practiced upon; it is sufficient if the defendant held himself out to the public as a physician. State v. Van Doran, 109 N. C. 894, 14 S. E. 32.

§ 6624. Clerk punishable for illegally registering physician.—If any clerk of the superior court shall register, or issue a certificate to, any person practicing medicine or surgery in any other manner than that prescribed by law, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred dollars and shall be removed from office. (Rev., s. 3647; 1889, c. 181, s. 6.)

§ 6625. Certain offenses prosecuted in superior court; duties of attorney-general.—In case of the violation of the criminal provisions of the last three sections preceding, the attorney-general of the state of North Carolina, upon complaint of the board of medical examiners of the state of North Carolina, shall investigate the charges preferred, and if in his judgment the law has been violated, he shall direct the solicitor of the district in which the offense was committed to institute a criminal action against the offending persons. For his services in conducting such a prosecution the solicitor shall be allowed a fee of five dollars. The board of medical examiners may also employ, at their own expense, special counsel to assist the attorney-general or the solicitor.

Exclusive original jurisdiction of all criminal actions instituted for the violations of the last three sections preceding shall be in the superior court, the provisions of any special or local act to the contrary notwithstanding. (1915, c. 202, s. 2.)

§ 6625(a) Clerks of court to furnish lists; time of mailing; failure to send blank or return lists a misdemeanor. — In order to provide for the compilation of a complete list of all physicians which have been or are qualified by law to practice medicine and surgery in this state, either by virtue of license and registration, or registration on presentation of diploma, or after oath of practice prior to March the seventh, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, the clerk of the superior court in every county in the state is hereby required to furnish to the board of medical examiners of the state of North Carolina a complete list of all persons registered in his office to practice medicine and surgery from February twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, to January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, on blank forms to be supplied to him by the secretary of the board of medical examiners. Such lists shall be mailed to the office of the secretary of the board of medical examiners not later than thirty days after the receipt of the blanks upon which the names are to be entered. Failure of the secretary or the board to furnish the blank forms to the clerks, and failure of any clerk of superior court to furnish a complete list of the registered practitioners of medicine and surgery in his county, shall constitute a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable as such. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 44, s. 10.)

Art. 2. Dentistry

§§ 6626-6649. Superseded by Public Laws of 1935, c. 66, codified as §§ 6649(1)-6649(28).

§ 6649(1). Board of dental examiners continued; membership; term of office; vacancies; present members hold over.—The North Carolina state board of dental examiners heretofore created by chapter one hundred and thirty-nine, Public Laws, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine and by chapter one hundred and seventy-eight, Public Laws one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (former sections 6626-6649 of Code), is hereby continued as the agency of the State for the regulation of the practice of dentistry in this State, said board to consist of six (6) members of the North Carolina dental society, to be elected by the said society at its annual meeting; said members so elected to be commissioned by the governor for a period of three years or until his successor is elected, commissioned and qualified. Any vacancy in the said board shall be filled by a member of the North Carolina dental society to be elected by said board by and with the consent and approval of the executive committee of the North Carolina dental society, and commissioned by the governor to hold office for the unexpired term to which elected. Nothing in this article and no provision of this section shall in any way change the terms of office of the members of the North Carolina state board of dental examiners as now constituted, and said members of said board shall hold their office for the term to which they have been elected. (1935, c. 66, s. 1.)

§ 6649(2). Officers; common seal.—The North Carolina state board of dental examiners shall, at each annual meeting thereof, elect one of its members president and one secretary-treasurer. The common seal which has already been adopted by said board, pursuant to law, shall be continued as the seal of said board. (1935, c. 66. s. 2.)

§ 6649(3). Quorum; adjourned meetings. — Four (4) members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business and at any meeting of the board, if four (4) members are not present at the time and the place appointed for the meeting, those members of the board present may adjourn from day to day until a quorum is present, and the action of the board taken at any adjourned meeting thus had shall have the same force and effect as if had upon the day and at the hour of the meeting called and adjourned from day to day. (1935, c. 66, s. 2.)

§ 6649(4). Records and transcripts.—The said board shall keep a record of its transactions at all annual or special meetings and shall provide a record book in which shall be entered the names and proficiency of all persons to whom licenses may be granted under the provisions of law. The said book shall show, also, the license number and the date upon which such license was issued and shall show such other matters as in the opinion of the board may be necessary or proper. Said book shall be deemed a book of record of said board and a transcript of any entry therein or a certification that there is not entered therein the name, proficiency and license number or date of granting such license, certified under the hand of the secretary-treasurer, attested by the seal of the North Carolina state board of dental examiners, shall be admitted as evidence in any court of this State when the same shall otherwise be competent. (1935, c. 66, s. 2.)

§ 6649(5). Annual and special meetings.—The North Carolina state board of dental examiners shall meet annually on the fourth Monday in June of each year at such place as may be determined by the board, and at such other times and places as may be determined by action of the board or by any four (4) members thereof. Notice of the place of the annual meeting and of the time and place of any special or called meeting shall be given by advertising a copy of said notice in at least three daily newspapers published in this State at least ten days prior to said meeting. At the annual meeting or at any special or called meeting, the said board shall have the power to conduct examination of applicants and to transact such other business as may come before it, provided that in case of a special meeting, the purpose for which said meeting is called shall be stated in the notice. (1935, c. 66, s. 3.)

§ 6649(6). Judicial powers; additional data for records. — The president of the North Carolina state board of dental examiners, and/or the secretary-treasurer of said board, shall have the power to administer oaths, issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of persons and the production of papers and records before said board in any hearing, investigation or proceeding conducted by it. The sheriff or other proper official of any county of the State shall serve the process issued by said president or secretary-treasurer of said board pursuant to its requirements and in the same manner as process issued by any court of record. The said board shall pay for the service of all process, such fees as are provided by law for the service of like process in other cases.

Any person who shall neglect or refuse to obey any subpoena requiring him to attend and testify before said board or to produce books, records or documents shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

The board shall have the power, upon the production of any papers, records or data, to authorize certified copies thereof to be substituted in the permanent record of the matter in which such books, records or data shall have been introduced in evidence. (1935, c. 66, s. 4.)

§ 6649(7). By-laws and regulations. — The North Carolina state board of dental examiners shall have the power to make necessary by-laws and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, regarding any matter referred to in this article and for the purpose of facilitating the transaction of business by the said board. (1935, c. 66, s. 5.)

§ 6649(8). Necessity for license; dentistry defined; certain practices exempted. — No person shall engage in the practice of dentistry in this State or attempt to do so without first having applied for and obtained a license for such purpose from the said North Carolina state board of dental examiners, or without first having obtained from said board a certificate of renewal of license for the calendar year in which such person proposes to practice dentistry.

A person shall be deemed to practice dentistry in this State within the meaning of this article and this section of this article, who represents himself as being able to remove stains and accretions from teeth, diagnose, treat, operate or prescribe for any disease, pain, injury, deficiency, deformity or physical condition of the human teeth, alveolar process, gums or maxillary bones and associated tissues or parts and/or who offers or undertakes by any means or methods to remove stains or accretions from teeth, diagnose, treat, operate or prescribe for any disease, pain, injury, deficiency, deformity or physical condition of the same, or to take impressions of the teeth or jaws and/or who owns, maintains or operates an office for the practice of dentistry, and/or who engages in any of the practices included in the curricular of recognized and approved dental schools or colleges.

The fact that a person uses any dental degree or designation or any card, device, directory, poster, sign or other media whereby he represents himself to be a dentist practicing in the State, shall constitute prima facie evidence that such person is engaged in the practice of dentistry.

The following practices, acts, and operations, however, shall be exempt from the provisions of this article:

(a) Any act in the practice of his profession by a duly licensed physician or surgeon.

(b) The rendering of dental relief in emergency cases in the practice of his profession by a physician or surgeon licensed as such and registered under the laws of this State, unless he undertakes to reproduce or reproduces lost parts of the human teeth in the mouth, or to restore or replace in the human mouth, lost or missing teeth.

(c) The practice of dentistry in the discharge of their official duties by dentists in the United States army, the United States navy, the United States public health service, the United States veterans bureau, or other federal agency.

(d) The teaching of dentistry in dental schools or colleges as may be conducted in the State of North Carolina and approved by the said North Carolina state board of dental examiners, and the practice of dentistry by students in dental schools or colleges so approved when such students are acting under the direction and supervision of registered and licensed dentists acting as instructors.

(e) The practice of dentistry by licensed dentists of another state, territory or country at meetings of the North Carolina dental society, or component parts thereof, meetings of dental colleges or other like dental organizations while appearing as clinicians, or when appearing in emergency cases upon the specific call of dentist duly licensed under the provisions of this article.

(f) The making, either upon written orders, prescriptions, casts, models or impressions furnished by a duly licensed dentist of artificial restorations, substitutes, appliances or materials for the correction of disease, loss, deformity, malposition, discoloration, fracture, injury to the jaws, teeth, lips, gums, cheeks, palate or associated tissues or parts. (1935, c. 66, s. 6.)

§ 6649(9). Examination and licensing applicants; qualifications; causes for refusal to grant license; void licenses. — The North Carolina state board of dental examiners shall grant license to practice dentistry to such applicants who are graduates of a reputable dental institution, who, in the opinion of a majority of the board, shall undergo a satisfactory examination of proficiency in the knowledge and practice of dentistry, subject, however, to the further provisions of this section and of the provisions of this article.

The applicant shall be of good moral character, at least twenty-one years of age at the time the application for examination is filed. The application shall be made to the said board in writing and shall be accompanied by evidence satisfactory to said board that the applicant is a person of good moral character, has an academic education, the standard of which shall be determined by the said board; that he is a graduate of and has a diploma from a reputable dental college or the dental department of a reputable university or college recognized, accredited and approved as such by the said board.

The North Carolina state board of dental examiners is authorized to conduct both written or oral and clinical examinations of such character as to thoroughly test the qualifications of the applicant, and may refuse to grant license to any person who, in its discretion, is found deficient in said examination, or to any person guilty of cheating, deception or fraud during such examination, or whose examination discloses to the satisfaction of the board, a deficiency in academic education.

The North Carolina state board of dental examiners may refuse to grant a license to any person guilty of a crime involving moral turpitude, or gross immorality, or to any person addicted to the use of alcoholic liquors or narcotic drugs to such an extent as, in the opinion of the board, renders the applicant unfit to practice dentistry.

Any license obtained through fraud or by any false representation shall be void ab initio and of no effect. (1935, c. 66, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—The following cases were decided under section 6631, now repealed. However, these cases seem equally applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 6631 are substantially set forth in the instant section.

Mandamus to Procure License.—The courts cannot by a mandamus compel the board of dental examiners to certify contrary to what they have declared to be truth. If the board refused to examine an applicant, upon his compliance with the regulations, the court could by mandamus compel them to examine him, but not to issue him a certificate, when the preliminary qualification required by law, that the applicant shall be found proficient and competent by the examining board, is lacking. Burton v. Furman, 115 N. C. 166, 20 S. E. 443; Loughran v. Hickory, 129 N. C. 281, 40 S. E. 46; Ewbank v. Turner, 134 N. C. 77, 83, 46 S. E. 508.

Failure of Clerk to Furnish Blanks.—A defendant, under an indictment for practicing dentistry without complying with the statute, is not excused because the designated officers had not furnished, as required of them, blanks upon which to make the statement. State v. Hicks, 143 N. C. 689, 57 S. E. 441.

Delay in Filing Verified Statement.—Time for filing the statement to practice dentistry is not of the essence of the enactment; by a compliance therewith a person will be entitled to a certificate to be registered. State v. Hicks, 143 N. C. 689, 57 S. E. 441.

Burden of Proof.—Under an indictment the burden of proof is upon the defendant to show he comes under the provision of this section and that he practiced dentistry in the State before the specified time, or has filed the required statement. State v. Hicks, 143 N. C. 689, 57 S. E. 441.

§ 6649(10). Annual renewal of licenses. — The laws of North Carolina now in force, having provided for the annual renewal of any license issued by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners, it is hereby declared to be the policy of this State, that all licenses heretofore issued by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners or hereafter issued by said board are subject to annual renewal and the exercise of any privilege granted by any license heretofore issued or hereafter issued by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners is subject to the issuance on or before the first day of January of each year of a certificate of renewal of license.

On or before the first day of January of each year, each dentist engaged in the practice of dentistry in North Carolina shall make application to the North Carolina state board of dental examiners and receive from said board, subject to the further provisions of this section and of this article, a certificate of renewal of said license.

The application shall show the serial number of the applicant's license, his full name, address and the county in which he has practiced during the preceding year, the date of the original issuance of license to said applicant and such other information as the said board from time to time may prescribe, at least six months prior to January first of any year. (1935, c. 66, s. 8.)

§ 6649(12). Displaying license and current certificate of renewal.—The license and the current certificate of renewal of license to practice dentistry issued, as herein provided, shall at all times be displayed in a conspicuous place in the office of the holder thereof and whenever requested the license and the current certificate of renewal shall be exhibited to or produced before the North Carolina state board of dental examiners or to its authorized agents. (1935, c. 66, s. 8.)

§ 6649(13). Refusal to grant renewal license. — For cause satisfactory to it or to a majority thereof, the North Carolina state board of dental examiners may refuse to issue a certificate of renewal of license upon any application made to it therefor, and the applicant whose certificate of renewal of license is refused, for cause by said board, shall not be authorized to practice dentistry in North Carolina until said board shall, in its discretion, renew the license of the applicant. (1935, c. 66, s. 8.)

§ 6649(14). Duplicate licenses.—When a person is a holder of a license to practice dentistry in North Carolina or the holder of a certificate of renewal of license, he may make application to the North Carolina state board of dental examiners for the issuance of a copy or a duplicate thereof accompanied by a fee of two dollars. Upon the filing of the application and the payment of the fee, the said board shall issue a copy or duplicate. (1935, c. 66, s. 8.)

§ 6649(15). Licensing practitioners of other states.—The North Carolina state board of dental examiners may, in its discretion, issue a license to practice dentistry in this State without an examination other than clinical to a legal and ethical practitioner of dentistry who moves into North Carolina from another state or territory of the United States, whose standard of requirements is equal to that of the State of North Carolina and in which such applicant has conducted a legal and ethical practice of dentistry for at least five (5) years, next preceding his or her removal and who has not, during his period of practice, been charged with violation of the ethics of his profession, nor with the violation of the laws of the state which issued license to him, or of the criminal laws of the United States, nor whose license to practice dentistry has been revoked or suspended by a duly constituted authority.

Application for license to be issued under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by a certificate from the dental board or like board of the State from which said applicant removed, certifying that the applicant is the legal holder of a license to practice dentistry in that State, and for a period of five (5) years immediately preceding the application has engaged in the practice of dentistry; is of good moral character and that during the period of his practice no charges have been filed with said board against the applicant for the violation of the laws of the State or of the United States, or for the violation of the ethics of the profession of dentistry.

Application for a license under this section shall be made to the North Carolina state board of dental examiners within the six (6) months of the date of the issuance of the certificate hereinbefore required, and said certificate shall be accompanied by the diploma or other evidence of the graduation from a reputable, recognized and approved dental college, school or dental department of a college or university.

Any license issued upon the application of any dentist from any other state or territory shall be subject to all of the provisions of this article with reference to the license issued by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners upon examination of applicants and the rights and privileges to practice the profession of dentistry under any license so issued shall be subject to the same duties, obligations, restrictions and the conditions as imposed by this article on dentists originally examined by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners. (1935, c. 66, s. 9.)

§ 6649(16). Certificate issued to dentist moving out of state.—Any dentist duly licensed by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners, desiring to move from North Carolina to another state, territory or foreign country, if a holder of a certificate of renewal of license from said board, upon application to said board and the payment to it of the fee in this article provided, shall be issued a certificate showing his full name and address, the date of license originally issued to him, the date and number of his renewal of license, and whether any charges have been filed with the board against him. The board may provide forms for such certificate, requiring such additional information as it may determine proper. (1935, c. 66, s. 10.)

§ 6649(17). Licensing former dentists who have moved back into state or resumed practice.—Any person who shall have been licensed by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners to practice dentistry in this State who shall have retired from practice or who shall have moved from the state and shall have returned to the state, may, upon a satisfactory showing to said board of his proficiency in the profession of dentistry and his good moral character during the period of his retirement, be granted by said board a license to resume the practice of dentistry upon making application to the said board in such form as it may require and upon the payment of the fee of ten dollars. The license to resume practice, after issuance thereof, shall be subject to all the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 66, s. 11.)

§ 6649(18). Fees collectible by board.—In order to provide the means of carrying out and enforcing the provisions of this article and the duties devolving upon the North Carolina state board of dental examiners, it shall charge and collect for: (a) each applicant for examination, a fee of twenty dollars; (b) each certificate of renewal of license, a fee of two dollars; (c) each certificate of practice to a resident dentist desiring to change to another state or territory, a fee of five dollars; (d) each license issued to a legal practitioner of another state or territory to practice in this State, a fee of twenty dollars; (e) each license to resume the practice issued to a dentist who has retired from the practice of dentistry, or has removed from and returned to the state, a fee of ten dollars. (1935, c. 66, s. 12.)

§ 6649(19). Practicing without license a misdemeanor. — If any person shall practice or attempt to practice dentistry in this State without first having passed the examination and obtained a license from the North Carolina board of dental examiners; or, if a period of more than one year has elapsed since the issuance of his license, shall practice without first having obtained a certificate of renewal of license; or shall practice or attempt to practice dentistry while his license is revoked, or suspended, or when a certificate of renewal of license has been refused; or shall violate any of the provisions of this article for which no specific penalty has been provided, or shall practice dentistry under any name other than his own name, said person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in the sum of fifty ($50.00) dollars for the first offense.

Whenever any person shall have been convicted once in this State of the violation of chapter one hundred and thirty-nine, Public Laws of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, and/or chapter one hundred and seventy-eight, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (former sections 6626-6649 of Code), and/or amendments to said acts and/or of this article, and shall practice, or attempt to practice, dentistry in violation of the provisions of this article, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 66, s. 13.)

Editor's Note.—The following case was decided under section 6647, now repealed. However, this case seems applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 6647 are substantially set forth in the instant section.

Constitutionality.—The legislature has constitutional authority to regulate the practice of dentistry, and a conviction for violating this section is proper. State v. Hicks, 143 N. C. 689, 57 S. E. 441.

§ 6649(20). Revocation or suspension of license.—Whenever it shall appear to the North Carolina state board of dental examiners that any dentist who has received license to practice dentistry in this State, or who has received from the said board of dental examiners a certificate of renewal of license, has been guilty of fraud, deceit or misrepresentation in obtaining his license, or of gross immorality, or is an habitual user of intoxicants or drugs, rendering him unfit for the practice of dentistry, or has been guilty of malpractice, or is grossly ignorant or incompetent or has been guilty of wilful neglect in the practice of dentistry, or has been employing unlicensed persons to perform work which, under this article, can be legally done or performed only by persons holding a license to practice dentistry in this State, or of practicing deceit or other fraud upon the public or individual patients in obtaining or attempting to obtain practice, or has been guilty of fraudulent and/or misleading statements of his art, skill or knowledge, or of his method of treatment or practice, or any offense involving moral turpitude, or has by himself or another, solicited or advertised in any manner for professional business; or has been guilty of any other unprofessional conduct in the practice of dentistry; or in the procurement of license has filed, as his own, a diploma or license of another, or a forged diploma or a forged or false affidavit of identification or qualification the board may revoke the license of such person, or may suspend the license of such person for such period of time as, in the judgment of said board, will be commensurate with the offense committed; provided, however, it shall not be considered advertising within the meaning of this article for a dentist, duly authorized to practice in this State, to place a card containing his name, telephone number and office address and office hours in a registry or other publication, or to place upon the window or door of his office, his name followed by the word, "dentist."

The North Carolina state board of dental examiners is authorized and empowered to appoint an investigator to ascertain the facts with reference to any information coming to the attention of the said board respecting the violation of any of the provisions of this article, or of any act heretofore in effect in this State.

Such investigator so appointed by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners is thereupon authorized and directed to make an investigation as to any information coming to his attention with reference to the violation of the provisions of this article or any act in force at the time of said violation, and formulate a statement of charges which the said board, upon presentation by the said investigator, shall cause to be served upon the dentist so accused. Said notice shall contain the statement of a time and place at which the charges against the accused shall be heard before the board or a quorum thereof, which time shall not be less then ten (10) days from the date of service of said statement and notice.

At the time and place named in said notice, the said board shall proceed to hear the charges against the accused upon competent evidence, oral or by deposition, and at said hearing said accused shall have the right to be present in person and/or represented by counsel. After hearing all the evidence, including such evidence as the accused may present, the board shall determine its action and announce the same.

From any action of the board depriving the accused of his license, or certificate of renewal of license, the accused shall have the right of appeal to the superior court of the county wherein the hearing was held, upon filing notice of appeal within ten days of the decision of the board. The record of the hearing before the North Carolina state board of dental examiners shall constitute the record upon appeal in the superior court and the same shall be heard in the superior court as in the case of consent references. (1935, c. 66, s. 14.)

Editor's Note.—The case discussed below was decided under section 6649, now repealed. However, this case seems equally applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 6649 are substantially set forth in the instant section.

This section only makes the use of false advertising, or the circulation of fraudulent and misleading statements, unlawful, and the corollary follows that the use of truthful advertising and circulation of truthful statements are not unlawful, solicitation and advertising not being synonymous terms. In re Owen, 207 N. C. 445, 447, 177 S. E. 403.

Advertising, or the circulation of statements, without the taint of falsity or fraud, either by newspaper or sign, although paid for, cannot be construed as a violation of this section. Id.

§ 6649(22). Compensation and expenses of board. — Each member of the North Carolina state board of dental examiners shall receive as compensation for his services in the performance of his duties under this article a sum not exceeding ten dollars for each day actually engaged in the performance of the duties of his office, said per diem to be fixed by said board, and all legitimate and necessary expenses incurred in attending meetings of the said board.

The secretary-treasurer shall, as compensation for his services, both as secretary-treasurer of the board and a member thereof, be allowed a reasonable annual salary to be fixed by the board and shall in addition thereto, receive all legitimate and necessary expenses incurred by him in attending meetings of the board and in the discharge of the duties of his office.

All per diem allowances and all expenses paid as herein provided shall be paid upon voucher drawn by the secretary-treasurer of the board who shall likewise draw voucher payable to himself for the salary fixed for him by the board.

The board is authorized and empowered to expend from funds collected hereunder such additional sum or sums as it may determine necessary in the administration and enforcement of this article. (1935, c. 66, s. 15.)

§ 6649(23). Annual report of board.—Said board, shall, on or before the fifteenth day of February in each year, make an annual report as of the thirty-first day of December of the year preceding, of its proceedings, showing therein the examinations given, the fees received, the expenses incurred, the hearings conducted and the result thereof, which said report shall be filed with the governor of the State of North Carolina. (1935, c. 66, s. 15.)

§ 6649(24). Exemption from jury duty. — All dentists duly licensed by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners and/or the holders of certificate of renewal of license from said board shall be exempt from service as jurors in any of the courts of this State. (1935, c. 66, s. 16.)

§ 6649(25). Filling prescriptions. — Legally licensed druggists of this State may fill prescriptions of dentists duly licensed by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners. (1935, c. 66, s. 17.)

§ 6649(26). Restrictions on lectures and teaching. — Lectures on the science of dentistry shall not be made in North Carolina in connection with the demonstration, promotion or distribution of any product or products used or claimed to be useful in the promotion of the health of the oral cavity, except after specific authority has been granted by the North Carolina state board of dental examiners, nor shall the science of dentistry be taught in North Carolina except by duly licensed dentists acting as teachers in a duly organized school or college of dentistry or a dental department of a college or university. (1935, c. 66, s. 18.)

§ 6649(27). Rules and regulations of board; violation a misdemeanor. — The North Carolina state board of dental examiners shall be and is hereby vested, as an agency of the State, with full power and authority to enact rules and regulations governing the practice of dentistry within the State, provided such rules, and regulations are not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, and such rules and regulations shall become effective thirty days after passage, and the same may be proven, as evidence, by the president and/or the secretary-treasurer of the board, and/or by certified copy under the hand and official seal of the secretary-treasurer. A certified copy of any rule or regulation shall be receivable in all courts as prima facie evidence thereof if otherwise competent, and any person, firm, or corporation violating any such rule, regulation, or by-law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, subject to a fine of not more than fifty ($50.00) dollars or imprisonment for not more than thirty days. (1935, c. 66, s. 19.)

§ 6649(28). Conflicting laws repealed; certain laws preserved.—All clauses and parts of clauses of chapter one hundred thirty-nine, Public Laws of one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine and of chapter one hundred seventy-eight, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (former sections 6626-6649 of Code), and any amendments thereto inconsistent with the provisions of this article are hereby repealed; provided, however, that such clauses and parts of clauses shall remain in force for the prosecution and punishment of any person who, before the effective date of this article, shall have committed any act contrary to the provisions of any law in force at the time such act was done and such person may be prosecuted and punished under the law as it existed when such violation occurred; and provided, further, that any dentist who has committed any act in violation of the laws in force at the time such act was committed shall be subject to be deprived of his license as herein provided, it being hereby declared by the general assembly to be the intent of this article to provide, among other things, a method of procedure under which a licensed dentist charged with violation of this article or any preceding act, may be deprived of his license. (1935, c. 66, s. 21.)

Art. 2(A). The Licensing of Mouth Hygienists, to Teach and Practice Mouth Hygiene in Public Institutions

§ 6649(a). Qualifications and examinations of applicants.—Any person of good moral character who holds a grade "A" teacher's certificate issued by the Department of Education of the State of North Carolina, may be licensed to practice mouth hygiene in conjunction with the teaching of health subjects in the public institutions and public schools of the State as is hereinafter provided in this act.

Such person shall be a graduate in Mouth Hygiene from an approved school for such technical training, said approval to be by the North Carolina State Board of Dental Examiners. Upon the completion of such course or courses and upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars ($10.00), which shall not be returned, the applicant for such license shall apply to the North Carolina State Board of Dental Examiners, at their annual meeting which shall be held on the fourth Monday of June, or at any other such time as they deem necessary, for an examination on such subjects as said Board shall deem essential for the practice of mouth hygiene in this State; and if the examination is satisfactory to said Board of Dental Examiners, shall be registered and licensed by said Board as a mouth hygienist to practice as such only in the public institutions and public schools of the State. (1929, c. 304, s. 1.)

§ 6649(b). By whom employed; duties.—Only public institutions and public school authorities of the State may employ such licensed mouth hygienist, whose clinical work shall be under the direct supervision of the dentist who shall be at the head of the Bureau of Mouth Hygiene of the State Board of Health. The duties of a mouth hygienist shall be to examine mouths of inmates of said institutions and of pupils of said public schools without expense, to make such charts and records as the head of said Bureau shall require, and to furnish copies of the same to the guardians or teachers of those examined.

Such hygienist shall teach mouth hygiene and the proper care of the teeth and may recommend mouth washes, clean stains, remove deposits and accretion from the exposed surfaces of the teeth of said inmates and pupils, but shall not perform any other operation on the teeth or tissues of the mouth or body. Provided that no pupil may be so examined and treated over the written objection of such child's parents or guardian. (1929, c. 304, s. 2.)

§ 6649(c). Revocation or suspension of license.—The State Board of Dental Examiners shall have the power to revoke or suspend the license of any mouth hygienist, who shall violate the provisions of this act, and the proceedings to revoke or suspend said license shall be the same as are provided in the case of suspension or revoking the license of a dentist as set out in chapter one hundred and ten, article two of this Code. (1929, c. 304, s. 3.)

§ 6649(d). Penalty for violation of article.—Any person falsely claiming to have a mouth hygienist's license, or who shall practice or attempt to practice mouth hygiene without first having been duly licensed thereto, as provided in this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined twenty-five dollars for each and every offense; that any person, who, having been so licensed to practice mouth hygiene in said public institutions and public schools, fails to display the said license, or who practices or attempts to practice mouth hygiene elsewhere than in said public institutions and public schools, as hereinbefore provided, in this act, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined twenty-five dollars for each and every offense and, shall also forfeit her license to practice mouth hygiene in the said institutions and schools. (1929, c. 304, s. 4.)

Art. 3. Pharmacy

Part 1. Practice of Pharmacy

§ 6650. North Carolina pharmaceutical association.—The North Carolina pharmaceutical association, and the persons composing the same, shall continue to be a body politic and corporate under the name and style of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, and by said name have the right to sue and be sued, to plead and be impleaded, to purchase and hold real estate and grant the same, to have and to use a common seal, and to do such other things and perform such other acts as appertain to bodies corporate and politic not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the state. (Rev., s. 4471; Code, s. 3135; 1881, c. 355, s. 1.)

§ 6651. Object of pharmaceutical association.—The object of the association is to unite the pharmacists and druggists of this state for mutual aid, encouragement, and improvement; to encourage scientific research, develop pharmaceutical talent, to elevate the standard of professional thought, and ultimately restrict the practice of pharmacy to properly qualified druggists and apothecaries. (Rev., s. 4472; Code, s. 3136; 1881, c. 355, s. 2.)

§ 6652. Board of pharmacy; election; terms; vacancies.—The board of pharmacy shall consist of five persons licensed as pharmacists within this state, who shall be elected and commissioned by the governor as hereinafter provided. The members of the present board of pharmacy shall continue in office until the expiration of their respective terms, and the rules, regulations, and by-laws of said board, so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, shall continue in effect. The North Carolina pharmaceutical association shall annually elect a resident pharmacist from its number to fill the vacancy annually occurring in said board, and the pharmacist so elected shall be commissioned by the governor and shall hold office for the term of five years and until his successor has been duly elected and qualified. In case of death, resignation, or removal from the state of any member of said board of pharmacy, the said board shall elect in his place a pharmacist who is a member of said North Carolina pharmaceutical association, who shall be commissioned by the governor as a member of the said board of pharmacy for the remainder of the term. It shall be the duty of a member of the board of pharmacy, within ten days after receipt of notification of his appointment and commission, to appear before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he resides and take and subscribe an oath to properly and faithfully discharge the duties of his office according to law. (Rev., s. 4473; 1905, c. 108, ss. 5-7.)

§ 6653. Election of officers; bonds; annual meetings.—The board of pharmacy shall organize by the election of a president and a secretary and treasurer, both of whom shall be members of the said board, and they shall hold their offices until their successors shall have been elected and qualified. The secretary and treasurer shall give bond in such sum as may be prescribed by the board, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office according to law, and said bond shall be made payable to the North Carolina board of pharmacy and approved by the president of said board. The said board shall hold an annual meeting at such time and place as it may provide by rule for the examination of candidates and for the discharge of such other business as may legally come before it, and said board may hold such additional meetings as may be necessary for the examination of candidates and for the discharge of any other business. (Rev., s. 4474; 1905, c. 108, s. 8; 1923, c. 82.)

§ 6654. Powers of board; reports; quorum; records.—The board of pharmacy shall have a common seal, and shall have the power and authority to define and designate nonpoisonous domestic remedies, to adopt such rules, regulations, and by-laws, not inconsistent with this article, as may be necessary for the regulation of its proceedings and for the discharge of the duties imposed under this article, and shall have power and authority to employ an attorney to conduct prosecutions and to assist in the conduct of prosecutions under this article, and for any other purposes which said board may deem necessary. The said board of pharmacy shall keep a record of its proceedings and a register of all persons to whom certificates of license as pharmacists and permits have been issued, and of all renewals thereof; and the books and register of the said board, or a copy of any part thereof, certified by the secretary, attested by the seal of said board, shall be taken and accepted as competent evidence in all the courts of the state. The said board of pharmacy shall make annually to the governor and to the North Carolina pharmaceutical association written reports of its proceedings and of its receipts and disbursements under this article, and of all persons licensed to practice as pharmacists in this state. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business. (Rev., s. 4475; 1905, c. 108, s. 9; 1907, c. 113, s. 1.)

§ 6655. Compensation of secretary and board.—The secretary of the board of pharmacy shall receive such salary as may be prescribed by the board, and shall be paid his necessary expenses while engaged in the performance of his official duties. The other members of the said board shall receive the sum of ten dollars for each day actually employed in the discharge of their official duty and their necessary expenses while engaged therein: Provided, that the compensation and expenses of the secretary and members of the said board of pharmacy and all disbursements for expenses incurred by the said board in carrying into effect and executing the provisions of this article shall be paid out of the fees received by the said board. (Rev., s. 4476; 1905, c. 108, s. 10; 1921, c. 57, s. 2.)

§ 6656. Secretary to investigate and prosecute.—Upon information that any provision of this article has been or is being violated by any member, the secretary of the board of pharmacy or any one appointed by the said board of pharmacy shall promptly make investigations of such matters, and, upon probable cause appearing, shall file complaint and prosecute the offender. All fines and penalties prescribed in this article shall be recoverable by suit in the name of the people of the state. In all prosecutions for the violation of any of the provisions of this article, a certificate under oath by the secretary of the board of pharmacy shall be competent and admissible as evidence in any court of the state that the person so charged with the violation of this article is not a registered pharmacist or assistant pharmacist, as required by law. (Rev., s. 4477; 1905, c. 108, s. 11; 1923, c. 74, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment to this section by Public Laws 1923 investigation and prosecution was restricted to the secretary of the board and there was no provision for admission as evidence of a certificate of the secretary under oath. The effect is to make more effective the provisions of this section by directing any member of the Board of Pharmacy, or any person appointed by the Board to investigate and prosecute violations of the aforementioned article, in addition to the Secretary of the Board; and by making a certificate under oath by the secretary of the Board competent and admissible as evidence in any court of the state, a person charged with violation of such law is not duly licensed. See 1 N. C. Law Rev. 300.

§ 6657. Fees collectible by board.—The board of pharmacy shall be entitled to charge and collect the following fees: For the examination of an applicant for license as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist, ten dollars; for renewing the license as a pharmacist an assistant pharmacist, five dollars; for issuing a permit to a physician to conduct a drug store in a village of not more than five hundred inhabitants, ten dollars; for the renewal of permit to a physician to conduct a drug store in a village of not more than five hundred inhabitants, five dollars. All fees shall be paid before any applicant may be admitted to examination or his name placed upon the register of pharmacists and assistant pharmacists, or before any license or permit, or any renewal thereof, may be issued by the board. (Rev., s. 4478; 1905, c. 108, s. 12; 1921, c. 57, s. 3.)

§ 6658. Application and examination for license, prerequisites.—Every person now licensed or registered as a pharmacist under the laws of this state shall be entitled to continue in the practice of his profession until the expiration of the term for which his certificate of registration or license was issued. Every person who shall desire to be licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist shall file with the secretary of the board of pharmacy an application, duly verified under oath, setting forth the name and age of the applicant, the place or places at which and the time he has spent in the study of the science and art of pharmacy, the experience in the compounding of physicians' prescriptions which the applicant has had under the direction of a legally licensed pharmacist, and such applicant shall appear at a time and place designated by the board of pharmacy and submit to an examination as to his qualifications for registration as a licensed pharmacist or assistant pharmacist. The application referred to above shall be prepared and furnished by the board of pharmacy.
